Chapter 201 – Mrs. Lis Worries

As Jia Lis graduation was fast approaching, she didnt have to worry because she had already submitted her project.

Jia Li was eating and sleeping peacefully but some people couldnt.

Since the time that he met Jia Li and found out about her marriage and pregnancy, Li Huan has not been himself.

He has been thinking a lot lately that he didnt bother to tell his mother about his promotion for days until her call came in.

You have been promoted? Thats a relief. You have to come back, mum will cook a lot of food to celebrate and Im sure you havent been eating properly. Mrs. Li said to him happily over the phone.

Mum, Im very busy, it wont be easy to make it. Li Huan replied.

Even if you have other people under you now, your weekends should still be free. Come home next weekend and celebrate with your lonely mother. Mrs. Li said as she tried to persuade him.

Okay, I will come back next weekend. Li Huan replied tiredly.

When last did you speak to Jia Li? Have you told her about your promotion? Mrs. Li asked in a curious tone.

She was very happy that her son was promoted at his workplace, now she was thinking it was time for him to settle down and she found Jia Li to be the perfect wife for her son, and the perfect daughter-in-law for her.

I spoke to Jia Li a few days ago and she knows about my promotion. Li Huan replied.

Good! Ask her to come with you to visit me, you can tell her that I missed her and want to see her. You are not getting younger, you need to start making plans about settling down and Jia Li is the right person to settle down with. Mrs. Li pointed out with an excited tone.

Being reminded of his relationship with Jia Li, Li Huan felt pain in his chest. He had just learned that the woman he has always had his eyes on was already married and pregnant with someone else's baby. This was something demoralizing.

Li Huan felt so angry but he couldn't blame his mother for mentioning it because she was still in the dark about Jia Li's marriage.

Mum, I can't invite Jia Li back home and I can't marry her. Li Huan said to his mother.

The smile on Mrs. Li's face disappeared and she began to lecture him.

Li Huan, what do you mean by you can't invite Jia Li back home and it's not possible to marry her? Did you find another one at that place you went to work? Let me tell you, I will not accept any other daughter-in-law if it's not Jia Li. You have known Jia Li for such a long time and I know you liked her, so what happened now?

Li Huan heaved a sigh as he thought that he should tell his mother the truth, so she would stop blaming and lecturing him.

Mum, things are not the way you are thinking. I don't have a girlfriend here. The reason I can't ask Jia Li to come home with me or marry her is that she is already married. Li Huan revealed.

Mrs. Li was so shocked by the revelation that she blurted out almost immediately, What did you say?!

Mum, it's true, Jia Li is already married. We met some days ago when I asked for us to meet, as she told me about it. Li Huan revealed.

How did this happen? When did she get married? Which family did she get married to? Mrs. Li asked a series of questions because she was still in disbelief.

She told me she got married around September. She married into the Fu family. Li Huan said in a sad tone.

The more he remembered and talked about the reality between him and Jia Li, the more pain he felt.

How come she got married and she didn't let anyone know. Was she forced to get married? Where is the Fu family located, we have to go and confront them in case Jia Li was forced into getting married, at least you have some power now. Mrs. Li said with a frown, while she hoped in her son.

She believed that now her son has been promoted, he would have a bit of power and authority to confront some people.

Li Huan smiled bitterly. He has just made a little investigation on the Fu family two days after meeting with Jia Li and discovered that it wasn't a family to be trifled with.

He wasn't qualified to be near any member of the Fu family because he can never be equal to them or come close to them in the present life

They were so wealthy and powerful than any of them could crush him easily. He couldn't fight for his love because Jia Li was married to that kind of family, and she was already pregnant with the defendant of that kind of family.

Li Huan knew that his fantasies had come to an end after reading the little information he saw about the Fu family.

What right did he have to confront any of them? His life will immediately be over if he dared to do that. He still had a long road ahead of him and he still had his mother, so he couldn't try his luck.

When his mother mentioned confronting the Fu family, he knew that she was unaware of how powerful the Fu family was, so he had to explain things to her.

Mrs. Li was shocked when she heard about the little details of the Fu family from her son. She has no idea that the old man she saw in Jia Li's house during her parents' funeral, was such a big shot.

She felt stupid to have brought up that kind of suggestion. Her little life span will immediately be crushed and sent out of her, but still, she couldn't help but be worried about Jia Li.

Li Huan, how can we leave Jia Li like that? It's obvious that she was forced to get married to one of the sons of the Fu family and I know none of the children of these rich families are of good behavior. Mrs. Li said worriedly.

Chapter 202 – A Call From Li Huan During Dinner With Fu Hua

Li Huan was quiet and let his mother do the talking. The truth is that there was nothing else anyone can do about the situation. He was already depressed thinking about it.

Li Huan, can you hear me? Mrs. Li asked after not hearing any response from him.

Mum, there is nothing we can do about it. The Fu family is not a family to be trifled with. They are far above our reach. Li Huan said tiredly.

Does it mean we have to let Jia Li suffer in that family? I cant believe this. Im sure they are not treating Jia Li well. For such a wealthy family to force that poor child to marry one of their sons, then there must be something fishy. One of their sons likely has an incurable disease or its handicapped, so they forced Jia Li to get married to him. Mrs. Li said.

The more worried she was, the more her imagination ran wild.

Mrs. Li thought that the Fu family which is so wealthy and powerful can not allow an ordinary person to get married into their family. That is, any person getting married into their family must have some background.

For Jia Li to marry into their family, its either the person she was forced to get married to has physical disabilities or was a spoilt brat.

With all these deductions, Mrs. Li concluded that an elite couldnt marry that kind of son, so Jia Li was forced to get married to him instead.

Mum, according to the surface investigations I made on the internet, there is no hidden illness being suffered by any member of the Fu family. Li Huan said to her.

He could tell that his mothers imagination was running wild, so he had to explain things a bit more for her.

What do you know? Those kinds of things can only be known by the members of the Fu family. Do you think they would want to tarnish their image and reputation by baring their dirty linings outside? That is impossible! Li Huan, you have to find a way for me to meet Jia Li. Mrs. Li said in a worried tone.

Li Huan was sick and tired of talking about Jia Lis matter with his mother because his heart was beginning to ache, so he decided to drop the bombshell.

Mum, forget about Jia Li for now. The Fu family will not do anything to her because she is pregnant with their descendant. Li Huan revealed.

What?! Jia Li is pregnant?! Mrs. Li asked in shock.

This was the news that killed the tiniest hope she had about getting Jia Li to be with her son again.

Mum, lets stop talking about this matter. If you still want me to come back home for dinner, dont bring up this matter again. I have to go now. Li Huan said and ended the call.

Mrs. Li was too late to say anything to him because the call had already ended before she could recover from her shock.

Just like the way her son was hurting after losing Jia Li that was the same way she was hurting.

She couldn't believe the daughter-in-law she has always had her eyes on, already belonged to someone else.

She has always liked Jia Li and had wished for her son to get married to her. Now hearing this news about her, Mrs. Li didn't know what to do anymore.

She wanted to blame her son for not making a move quickly but she couldn't find the right words. She also thought about blaming herself for not meeting Jia Li's parents to talk about the possibility of their children getting married before they died but still, she couldn't blame herself.

There were no words left to console herself with. She could only lay on the sofa as she allowed her thoughts to wander.

Li Huan couldn't be blamed for missing the right opportunity to date Jia Li. When he thought about asking her out, her parents died, and he had to give her 1 year's space to get over her parents' death.

After a year passed, he learned from her that she would be graduating soon and because of his tight work schedule, he thought it wasn't the time to ask her out.

He thought he still had a little time unaware of the fact that things were already too late by the time he wanted to ask her out.

To Li Huan, losing Jia Li was the greatest loss he has ever encountered and he doesn't think he would easily forget her.

When the weekend came, Li Huan went back to his hometown to visit his mother. They didn't bring up Jia Li while eating but they walked about some other things. It was a tacit understanding between them.

Some days later, Jia Li's phone rang while she was having dinner with Fu Hua. On seeing the caller ID, Jia Li's heart raced because Li Huan was the person calling her and Fu Hua was present. She had no idea what to do.

Who is that? He asked casually.

Jia Li swiped the red side to end the call before turning her gaze to him.

It's my friend. She replied and immediately sent a mouthful of food into her mouth.

Fu Hua did not ask anymore. But something struck him when he was about to drink some water from his glass.

He remembered that Jia Li gave him a similar response the last time she met up with her childhood friend, so he glanced back at her and asked with furrowed brows, What's the name?

Jia Li felt her heartbeats increase a little. She didn't know what his reaction would be when he finds out about the caller ID.

She didn't want him to be angry and now, she was in a dilemma and didn't know how to reply to him, because she didn't guess that he would ask that question.

When their gazes met, Jia Li became a little scared. She slowly chewed on her food while Fu Hua patiently waited for her response.

Her looks already revealed to Fu Hua that she was guilty.

Chapter 203 – I Can Handle It

Its Li Huan

Jia Li was afraid Fu Hua would be jealous and become angry because he asked her not to get close to Li Huan.

A frown appeared on Fu Huas face as his brows furrowed. He was annoyed that a man was calling his wife so late at night.

Hadnt it been someone Jia Li used to like, he wouldnt be so bothered.

For now put your phone on silent mode, you can return the call after dinner. Fu Hua said to her and continued to eat.

Jia Li did as he said and continued to eat while wondering what his thoughts were.

The two continued their dinner in silence with only their cutlery making some crisp sounds against each other.

After dinner, Jia Li took her drugs but before it Fu Hua had already disappeared because he was avoiding the smell of drugs.

Jia Li thought he was still annoyed with Li Huan calling her and felt a little moody. She didn't like him ignoring her but she misunderstood this time around.

Hello, Brother Huan Jia Li greeted after the call was answered

Jia Li, how are you? Li Huan asked when he heard Jia Li's soft tone.

I'm fine. Jia Li replied.

Did I disturb you? Li Huan asked in a gentle tone. He was calm and composed now.

Not really, I was having dinner when you called earlier. Jia Li replied as she walked towards the couch to go and sit.

Since Fu Hua was not in the bedroom, she could freely answer the call without worrying about his reactions.

I'm sorry about that. I wanted to ask about the date for your graduation. Li Huan said. He knew about Jia Li's graduation and wanted to attend, so he asked for the date.

It's next week Friday. Jia Li replied.

Okay. Sorry for disturbing you, good night. Li Huan said and ended the call after that.

Jia Li glanced at her phone before keeping it aside. Li Huan did not tell her the reason for asking about her graduation date but she guessed he might want to attend it.

Jia Li sighed and kept the phone aside before getting into bed. She was feeling drowsy before dinner but now as she lay in bed, the sleep seems to have disappeared.

She had some thoughts going through her head, while indirectly waiting for Fu Hua to come back to the room.

When Fu Hua went back to the bedroom, he saw Jia Li lying in bed and still wide awake.

You're not sleeping yet? He asked with a frown.

He got into bed and hugged Jia Li from behind. He kisses her neck before keeping his head on the pillow with his hands still wrapped around her.

Why can't you sleep, what are you thinking about? Fu Hua asked in a low tone.

I was waiting for you. Jia Li replied in all honesty as she turned over to glance at him.

A smile appeared on Fu Hua's face and he leaned in to kiss her lips.

I'm here now, you can sleep. Fu Hua said as he brought her into his arms.

Jia Li lay her head on his chest before speaking up slowly, I returned Brother Hua's call. He asked for my graduation date.

Does he want to attend? Fu Hua asked as he caressed her hair.

I think so, but he didn't say anything about it. Jia Li revealed.

It's okay. Fu Hua said to her.

After waiting for a while, Jia Li looked up and asked, Are you not angry?

Fu Hua was taken aback by the sudden question. Why do you think so?

You left immediately after dinner without saying anything, I thought you were angry that he called. Jia Li replied while gazing at him.

Fu Hua chuckled softly and kissed her forehead. Although I wasn't happy your childhood sweetheart called you so late but I didn't leave because of that.

Oh! Why did you leave? Jia Li asked as her gaze became curious, if he didn't leave because of Li Huans call, then what else made him leave?

I don't like the smell of drugs and I hate them. Fu Hua confessed.

Jia Li stared at him wide-eyed. She was stupefied by this revelation. Since those drugs were prescribed for her, she has been taking them during breakfast, lunch, and dinner, and she never noticed he didn't like to see her take them. This was a huge surprise for her.

Why didn't you tell me about it? Jia Li asked worriedly.

There is no need. I can handle it. If I can't, I just have to leave when you're about to take them. Fu Hua said without worries.

Jia Li felt bad and thought she wasn't considerate enough to him.

Fu Hua guessed that she was feeling bad and said to her, Dont think too much about it and sleep on time. If you are still not feeling sleepy, then I will have my way with you. I havent been inside of you for more than a week now and I miss it.

Jia Li who was feeling bad for him almost glared at him. He really knew how to ruin the moments. How could he be thinking of when last they had s*x and he was even keeping counts of it.

She wondered if that was the only thing he always thought about.

Jia Li tried to push him away but she heard him laugh from above her head as he held her in place.

Jia Li, youre still owing me for helping with project work. When will you pay me ? Fu Hua asked with a smile.

Jia Li remembered their deal and asked, What do you want ?

I want you. Fu Hua said directly without hiding his intentions.

My stomach is heavy. Jia Li said as she closed her eyelids. She ate too much during dinner and cant handle him tonight.

The next day, Fu Hua goes to work leaving Jia Li to stay by her side.

Staying alone without much to do, wasnt a problem for Jia Li because she still had Ocean. She went to find her and brought her into the house to keep her company.

The servants in the house were still scared of Ocean and so had to tread carefully especially when they were around Jia Li.

They sighed in relief when Jia Li sent Ocean back to her little house because she wanted to take a nap.

An hour later, Jia Li woke up from her nap and the first thing she did after sitting up on the bed was to pick up her phone.

She turned on her internet connection and received so many notifications especially from her friends and group chats in her fashion school.

She first opened the group chat with her friends because of the tags she got from them. Her three friends asked about her graduation date as they planned to attend.

Jia Li smiled when she saw the message and immediately gave them the date. She didnt have to wait for long before they started replying to her messages.

Her friends sent her congratulatory messages in advance with posts of stickers.

Jia Li: I will arrange a place for you all to stay when you come over, just keep me updated on the day you will come.

DanDan: Okay, we will. We were worried about you.

Jia Li: Why? Jia Li asked not understanding the reason they were worried about her.

Chang-Chang: Youve been offline for a few days.

Daiyu: Yes and it got us all worried. Its everything okay?

Jia Li: Everything is fine. I was busy with my school project and didnt have the time to come online.

Jia Lis friends ask about her baby since she had already told them about her pregnancy. Jia Li tells them the baby is okay before her three friends started fighting for who will be the godmother.

Jia Li had an incoming headache from watching her friends fight over her child. She couldnt watch any longer and threatened to log out, and that was how she ended the fight.

How is the relationship with your husband? DanDan asked worriedly.

Is he treating you well? Chang Chang asked.

Everything is fine and he is treating me so well. Jia texted in reply happily.

If he dares to bully you, you just have to tell me and I will come over to teach him a lesson. Daiyu said.

Daiyu was athletic and was used to showing off her female prowess. She was the strongest of Jia Lis friends, and she always says that no one dares to mess with her friends.

Daiyu, who do you think Fu Hua is? You should be worried about yourself first. DanDan said to her, and the others including Jia Li laughed over it.

Jia Li chatted with her friends for a little while before saying goodbye to them. She was already hungry and had to run off to have lunch.

While at work, Fu Hua called for a short meeting with the heads of departments. FJ Style received an Invitation from Jia Lis school, The Prestigious school of fashion and deigning for their graduation ceremony.

Fu Hua called for the meeting to seek their thoughts about the invitation sent to them.

Fu Huas assistant, Zimo had passed the invitation to him when he arrived at work in the morning.

FJ Styles do not attend that kind of event and this was the first time they were receiving that kind of invitation from Jia Lis school.

Normally, Fu Hua wouldnt bother about such kind of invitation but this was Jia Lis school, and she was amongst the graduating students, so he paid extra attention to it.

When the heads of departments heard the reason he called for the meeting, they were surprised because it was unlike him.

The Chief designer of FJ Styles, Sunny, was interested in the invitation and made a suggestion, asking for other heads of departments to consider it.

I suggest we should send a representative to attend the graduation ceremony since an invitation was sent to us from such a prestigious school. We can also use that opportunity to access the graduating students with the best potential and possibly make an offer to work with us.

FJ doesn't offer an opportunity to newbies so there is no need to consider it. The marketing manager reminded.

We can start it. We need a fresh vibrant feeling. The Chief designer said.

We don't need to go through that way, there are other methods.

We can just go there to take a look, it must not be to contract newbies.

Invitations were sent to other Top designer companies as well, so FJ shouldn't be left out.

Jia Li's school had a reputation already for raising the best fashion designers, so their invitations were well received and this was also the first time they were sending out invitations to Top designer companies like FJ Styles.

Fu Hua listened to them debate and share their views before concluding the meeting. He didn't have all day to listen to them argue about the graduation ceremony they were invited to.

At last, Fu Hua approved of the Chief designer's suggestion and said he would bring it up in the next executive meeting which will be held that same day.

During the executive meeting, Fu Hua brought up that suggestion and gave two major reasons FJ should participate.

Fu Hua made it obvious to the executive members that he wanted FJ to participate in the graduation ceremony.

As not everything catches the CEOs attention, the executive members agreed with him and decided to give it a shot.

So before work closed for the day, Fu Hua asked the Chief Designer to represent FJ on the day of the graduation ceremony, as this was to look out for potential young designers that were capable enough to work for FJ.

Fu Hua did all of these because he had Jia Li in mind.

This would be a great opportunity for the best students to get an offer to work with the Top designers companies in the country, and internationally.

Chapter 205 – Another Opportunity Will Come

When Fu Hua returned home that day, he told Jia Li about the invitation from her school. Jia Li was not surprised like she was earlier when she read her group chat messages from school.

She saw her colleagues talking about their school sending out invitations to Top designer companies in the country.

Her colleagues also talked about how grand their graduation ceremony will be and the awards the best graduating students will receive.

Jia Li was surprised because she had no idea her school was capable of making things this grand. For FJ Styles to be invited, she knew this was serious business but nobody was sure if their invitation would be accepted by them.

Did FJ accept the invitation? Jia Li asked curiously as her gaze rested on his face.

That's a wrong question. You should be asking if I accepted the invitation, remember, I am FJ's Boss. Fu Hua said as she pinched her cheeks.

Sometimes, he didn't understand the way her brain worked.

Oh! So did you accept the invitation? Jia Li asked as she corrected herself after his reminder.

Fu Hua answered as he let go of her chubby cheeks and put his hands inside his trousers front pockets. Yes, I did. This will be an opportunity for the Top students to get into good designing companies.

Jia Li sighed and said, I wish them good luck in advance.

Why are you talking as if you don't believe you can be amongst the recognized students? Fu Hua asked with a frown, he didn't like her response.

There are so many people better than me and I don't know if my designs will be able to get me there. Jia Li said without hope. She didn't believe in herself.

Fu Hua placed his hands on her shoulders and said to her, Don't talk like that, believe in yourself. I believe that you will be amongst the Top students will get opportunities to work with big companies, including FJ.

Jia Li looked more discouraged even after Fu Hua tried to cheer her up, for a reason.

Even if I emerge as one of the Top students and get an opportunity to be signed in, it will be useless.

And why is that? Fu Hua asked immediately with a frown. He didn't understand the reason Jia Li was talking that way.

I am pregnant. If I receive an offer to work with any of the Top designer companies, I can't get signed up immediately till at least 10 months. Jia Li explained the reason for her dilemma.

Jia Li was currently 3 months pregnant, and she had 7 more months before she gives birth and she will need 2-3 more months to rest and take care of her baby before she will be able to start working, so 10 months was the accurate time she needed before she could work anywhere.

Automatically, Jia Li can't get signed in immediately after graduation because no Top designer's company will want to employ a pregnant woman, as that will be a delay to them.

After listening to her speak, Fu Hua was silent for a while. He forgot to consider Jia Li's current condition before trying to help her.

And even as FJ's Boss, he can't help her now because it will be against the company's rules and that the same rules he amended some weeks ago.

He tightened the reins of the company, so no worker will mess up, and now, those same rules have stopped him from helping his wife.

If FJ selected a candidate, at most, they can only give the candidate 2 months to consider their offer. After the time interval expired without any response, the offer will be automatically canceled.

Jia Li saw that Fu Hua was lost in thought as he has been silent for a long while now. She thought he was worried about her and said...

Dont worry about me, another opportunity will come to me after having the baby.

At last, Fu Hua returned his gaze to her. He looked apologetic as he said to her, If you want to work in FJ, tell me after giving birth to the baby and I will create an opportunity for you to get in.

Thank you! Dont feel bad for me, this is not the end of the road for me. Jia Li said as she hugged his arm.

Im not thinking that way, I was only worried you will be sad that you have to wait for such a long time before getting into good company. You are still young and you have so many hidden great potentials, so for now rest and observe. Fu Hua said as he hugged her soft body.

Jia Li and Fu Hua talked about her graduation ceremony before she mentioned her friends coming to the city to attend it.

Fu Hua asks for the date her friends will be arriving, as he will make arrangements for their transportation, accommodation and food.

Jia Li was excited because of his hospitality. She mentioned her friends without having anything in mind, as she just wanted to let him know about it but she didnt expect that he will respond that way.

Thank you! Jia Li said in appreciation as she hugged him.

While Jia Li was happy and grateful for Fu Huas help, Li Huan was speaking to his mother on phone.

Li Huan told his mother about Jia Lis graduation, as he had plans of attending.

I will go with you as well. I am worried about Jia Li and havent seen her for a long time. I am worried she is being bullied by the Fu family. Mrs. Li said to him with a worried tone.

Going to Jia Lis graduation ceremony will be an opportunity for her to speak to Jia Li and confirm if things were okay with her.

Mum, if youre coming with me, then I have to remind you not to cause trouble. This will be a big event as reporters will be present on that day. Li Huan reminded his mother.

Li Huan had just seen the announcement on the news and he could guess it would be a big event. Jia Lis school was capable enough and this event will attract a lot of attention since it was being announced on the TV.

Mrs.. Li agreed to her sons words and they talked about other matters.

Chapter 206 – Grandfather Fus Present To Jia Li

Three days before Jia Li's graduation, Fu Hua takes her shopping to get a new outfit for her graduation ceremony.

He picked an outfit for her and asked her to try it out.

Jia Li has noticed that he liked picking clothes for her, especially for special events and she had no problem with that.

Sometimes she enjoyed it and wondered if he also did the same for his ex-girlfriend. But the truth is that Fu Hua didn't act that way with Feng Alix. He only sent her money to go shopping and nothing else, he never followed her.

After shopping for almost an hour, Jia Li was already famished from trying out different clothes. Fu Hua was very picky. He wanted her to look her best on her graduation day, so he was being very careful with the dress he wanted her to wear on that day, he wanted her looks to be perfect.

I want to eat hot and spicy catfish soup. Jia Li replied as she stared at him.

I am hungry and the baby is very hungry as well plus I feel so exhausted. Jia Li complained with a frown.

Are you blaming your husband for trying to put in efforts to make you look perfect on your graduation day? Fu Hua asked with a smile.

Jia Li looked away as she said in a low tone, Yourself not my husband.

Fu Hua heard her clearly and asked, If Im not your husband, who is ?

I dont know. Jia Li replied and he chuckled softly.

Dont be angry, I will call home to prepare the food for you. What else do you want to eat ? Fu Hua asked.

Jia Li felt much better and listed the foods she wanted to eat, and he made the call and placed her order. He made sure to remind them not to make the soup too spicy.

When they got home, the food was ready and was immediately served. Jia Li was too hungry and forgot to wash her hands, but Fu Hua stopped her in time before she could touch her food.

Be good and wash your hands first. Fu Hua said to her.

Jia Li washed her hands and began to eat immediately. She found todays lunch especially appetizing, and she finished everything on her plate.

Fu Hua thought she needed more soup and put more in her bowl since he noticed that she liked it.

Are you not worried about your weight if you continue to eat this much ? Fu Hua asked as he watched her finish the soup he just put in her bowl.

Jia Li put down her empty bowl and wiped her lips before replying, When Im hungry, I dont think about my weight but now that I have finished eating, I can now worry about it.

If you continue eating like this, you wont just be the only person that will add weight, our baby will be fat, and you may have a difficult childbirth. Fu Hua said to her in concern.

Jia Li was quiet as she thought about it. She didnt want to give a difficult birth but she couldnt stop herself from eating so much when she was famished.

Seeing her worried gaze, Fu Hua said to her, I will ask your doctor to fix you a diet plan. Im sure there are some healthy snacks you can eat when youre hungry that wont make you put on weight.

Jia Li sighed and glanced at him, Can you set an appointment with my doctor after my graduation ceremony, I need to go for another checkup.

Weight checkup? Fu Hua asked as he teased her.

Jia Li frowned as he made fun of her. And in order to get back at him, she took out her drugs but he fled before she could take them out of the packets.

In the evening, Grandfather Fu learned of Jia Lis graduation from the invitation that was sent to him from her school.

He was unhappy that Jia Li did not tell him about it and looking at the date written, Butler Lu reminded him that he had something on that day, but still, he was not happy about Jia Lis acts.

How come Jia Li didnt tell me about her graduation? Does she not want me to attend as her family member? Grandfather Fu asked with a frown.

Grandfather Fu has been looking forward to this day, so he was a bit unhappy Jia Li did not tell him about it.

Sir, Miss Jia Li may have thought that you have a busy schedule. She cares about you, and didnt want to disturb you with her events. Butler Lu said from the side as he tried to speak up for Jia Li.

Well he said the truth, Jia Li didnt want to disturb the old man, so she didnt tell him about it.

Grandfather Fu calms down after listening to him and decides to surprise Jia Li by attending her graduation

Sir, Miss Jia Li will be surprised and excited to see you on that day. Butler Lu said with a smile.

Grandfather Fu smiled and asked, Have you made arrangements for the gift I prepared for her ?

Yes Sir, the documents are ready. Your lawyer will bring it over tomorrow morning. Butler Lu replied.

The gift Grandfather Fu prepared for Jia Li was a property in her name. The property was a block of flats at one of the expensive locations in the City.

The gift was not for her graduation but for the news of her pregnancy. He has been thinking of what to gift to her for a long while before thinking of giving her a property in her name.

Jia Li will surely be shocked when she receives the house under her name.

Chapter 207 – Fu Meixu Taunts Zhi Ruo

As everything was going on well for the Fu family, it was the opposite for Bai Fen.

Bai Fen discovered that Fu Hee blocked her contact after several days of not hearing from her.

Bai Fen checked her chats with Fu Hee 5 days after she sent those pictures from her and discovered that she still hasn't received the message and she tried to reach her.

When she failed to reach Fu Hee through calls and texts, she was mad in anger.

She had thought Fu Hee was only going to ignore her for a few days but after a few days turned to several days and she did not receive any response, she decided to reach out to her and that was when she discovered that it was futile.

Bai Fen went as far as contacting some of their friends to ask about Fu Hee. Most of them said they haven't spoken to her in a while. It was one of them that revealed she spoke to Fu Hee 2 days ago.

This was enough reason for Bai Fen to confirm that Fu Hee blocked her contact. Bai Fen was furious and cursed angrily.

Fu Hee, just you wait, you will regret ignoring me!

Two days before Jia Lis graduation, Fu Meixu goes to hang out with the movie cast and production crew for the latest movie she will be starring in as the female lead, to be familiar with each other.

It was the movie director that organized the dinner so that everyone that would be participating in the movie will be familiar with one another before filming starts. This was to create a harmonious atmosphere while filming.

Trust Fu Meixu to turn up dressed like a rich princess but thankfully she did not overdo it this time around because she had a plot she wanted to execute

She wanted to get in the good books of the cast members and the production crew by dressing properly and coming on time.

Her act of appearing humble and composed paid off because everyone acted friendly towards her.

Before today, everyone thought that it wasnt a good idea for her to play the female lead role since she was a C-list actress while Zhi Ruo played the second female lead.

They nearly made a protest and some of them went to meet the director secretly to talk about it but he remained adamant, so they were unhappy.

Seeing Fu Meixu in a new light today, brightened their mood and the negative opinion they had about her was slowly vanishing.

Unlike Fu Meixu, Zhi Ruo arrived late. She didnt want to go to todays gathering but her manager forced her out of bed, so she had no choice but to come.

But the thought of seeing Fu Meixus face after being cheated by her caused her to be very angry and her mood was currently delicate.

When she arrived, she was punished by being asked to drink a glass of beer

They clapped for her and cheered her on. They couldn't be angry with her because she was a veteran, she dressed beautifully and she didn't act haughtily.

Fu Meixu sneered and looked away as she masked her annoyance with her glass of beer

Fu Meixu was treated specially because she was the female lead and her manner of approach was likable while Zhi Ruo was treated specially because she was a veteran in the film industry.

While they were giving toasts, Fu Meixu raised a glass to the director first before raising her glass to the movie cast and production crew.

And when everyone thought she was through, they saw her raise her glass to Zhi Ruo.

Senior, I will have to plead with you to give me a few pointers during filming.

Zhi Ruo scoffed silently and said to her, Junior, there is no need to give you a few pointers because you are already so capable to get the female lead role for the movie while still being a C-list actress.

Zhi Ruos words implied a hidden implication as this caused the other casts and crew members to speculate its meaning.

The movie director frowned at Zhi Ruos words because it was detrimental and could ruin his career and reputation as it implied that something went underground between him and Fu Meixu which was false.

The person that asked him to change the female lead was not Fu Meixu, but someone from the higher-ups, and with Zhi Ruo talking carelessly, he was unhappy about it.

Luckily, Fu Meixu was quick-witted and intervened before the thoughts of the others will go wild.

Nonsense. I was only picked for the female lead role because a potential was seen in me unlike some people that were suddenly dumped because they were not fit for the role, so senior, I still have to trouble you to give me a few pointers while filming. Fu Meixu said with a taunting smile with her gaze on her.

The smile on Zhi Ruos face froze, as her looks turned ugly. Fu Meixus insult really got to her. Zhi Ruo was the only cast member that knew she was the person that was first considered to play the female lead role before it was given to Fu Meixu.

So, Fu Meixus words were a deep insult to her because her words meant that she didnt have any potential and was unfit to play the female lead role.

The cast members didnt understand the meaning behind Fu Meixus words, so they saw nothing wrong with it, apart from a few of the production crew like the movie director and producer, who were aware of all these.

It took a lot of effort for Zhi Ruo to calm her nerves down. If no one was there with them, she could have killed Fu Meixu instantly.

Zhi Ruo was forced to accept the toast as she noticed that the director had an unhappy gaze directed towards her and all eyes from the movie cast and production crew were on her.

After accepting the toast, Fu Meixu finished the content of her glass and sat down, while Zhi Ruo remained sitting and took a little sip from her glass.

Amidst the cheers and laughter, Zhi Ruo sent out a text to someone.

Are you free to pick me up ?

A reply came in a minute later... No... in a meeting.

Zhi Ruo was disappointed with the response and Fu Meixu smiled when she saw the change in her countenance.

5 minutes later, Zhi Ruo complained of a headache and was allowed to leave. Fu Meixu said she would walk Zhi Ruo out, and the director allowed her while others teased her saying...

Sister Meixu, dont leave from there.

Chapter 208 – Still Innocent Like She Used To Be

Zhi Ruo or is it Senior Zhi Ruo or maybe Sister Zhi Ruo ? Fu Meixu asked with a smile.

Zhi Ruo rolled her eyes at her and said, Cut your crap and go straight to the point!

I saw your disappointed look inside. Your boyfriend refused to come and pick you? Fu Meixu asked with a knowing smile.

How do my affairs concern you? Zhi Ruo asked with an annoyed tone.

Fu Meixu didnt say anything on that. She has already confirmed what she was curious about.

She wanted to confirm from Zhi Ruo if she had a boyfriend and the latters reaction was enough to confirm her guesses. This was indeed helpful for her plans.

Changing the topic Fu Meixu asked, I wanted to ask you what it feels like to have your position snatched?

Zhi Ruo gazed at her angrily and felt like separating her head from her body.

Anyone that dares to snatch what belongs to me will surely bleed to pay for it. Zhi Ruo said with a twisted facial expression.

Oh! Im scared. Fu Meixu said and chuckled with a hand over her mouth.

Do you think Im joking? She asked.

Well, I hope youre not because I will love to enjoy all your reactions when I snatch things that belong to you, one by one. Fu Meixu said words for words so she could hear her clearly.

You dare? Zhi Ruo asked with an angry gaze.

Dont be scared yet because Im only starting to get back at you for what you did. This is the first time Im snatching something from you, so you should relax and wait for the rest. Fu Meixu said before walking back into the building leaving a furious Zhi Ruo behind.

A day before Jia Lis graduation, her three friends came over to the City.

Fu Hua had already left for work and Jia Li was in the workshop trying something new with the idea she had in mind when a servant came and knocked on the door.

Come in. Jia Li said without looking up.

Being granted permission, the servant entered the workshop and announced to Jia Li with a smile, Madam, your friends are here to see you.

Jia Li glanced over in surprise and asked with a confused gaze, Which friends?

She had no idea of what the servant was talking about.

Madam, 3 of your friends are here to see you and I think one of them is called DanDan. The servant deciphered with a smile. She has just remembered that one of Jia Lis friends had introduced herself.

What?! DanDan is here? Jia Li said in surprise as she hurriedly stood to her feet and walked towards the door.

Madam dont run. The servant reminded as she chased after her.

There was a visible excitement on Jia Li's face as she went down the stairs in a hurry. She placed her hand on the rail as she took the stairs, to be careful of slipping.

When Jia Li rushed into the living room, she saw the three familiar faces and rushed towards them.

DanDan, Chang Chang and Daiyu were already sitting on the couch when they heard sounds of hurried footsteps. They 3 glanced over and saw Jia Li approaching them.

They called out to Jia Li with excitement on their face and got up, ready to give her a big hug.

Jia Li hugged them as she said, You girls came to see me thank you!

What are thanking us for? DanDan asked as she released Jia Li from the hug.

How did you 3 get here? Jia Li asked curiously because she knew she was definitely not the one that gave the address to them and this was a private area, so outsiders were not allowed to come in.

Your dear husband arranged this. Daiyu replied.

Fu Hua did this? Jia Li asked as she was amazed by the situation. She couldn't believe that Fu Hua would be so considerate as to invite her friends over to come and see her, she was excited.

Yes. We were surprised as well. It looks like he is taking good care of you. Chang Chang chipped in, in a soft tone.

I have missed you all so much and I'm happy you are here. Jia Li said cheerfully. She was very happy to see friends whom she hasn't seen in a long time.

We are happy to see you as well. DanDan said as she gave Jia Li another hug.

Jia Li look at you, you have indeed put on some weight. Chang Chang said as she stared at Jia Li wide-eyed.

Really, am I fat? Jia Li asked as she checked herself out.

You're not fat but it's very obvious that you put on a little weight. Daiyu said as she emphasized how small it was with her two fingers.

Jia Li had a little hope as she sighed in relief.

Where is the baby, how come I can't see any bump. Chang Chang asked with her gaze on Jia Li's stomach.

I'm just 3 months pregnant. Jia Li said as she chuckled softly. Then she sat on the couch and her friends followed her as well.

Chang Chang, you don't expect to see a baby bump so soon right? Daiyu asked with a smiling gaze.

I was really expecting to see a baby bump. I can't wait for the baby to come out already. Chang Chang said with a little regret in her tone.

Aiyah! You have to quit acting like a child or you will be bullied. Look at Jia Li, she has matured a lot. DanDan pointed out.

Jia Li used to be the cutest and most innocent in their group followed by Chang Chang. But now, her innocent traits were slowly disappearing and it didnt fail to be noticed by DanDan.

Im not mature, Im still innocent like I used to be. Jia Li said with a frown.

Who said you are still innocent? Daiyu asked with a smile.

I dont understand. Jia Li said with a confused gaze. He didnt understand what her words meant.

Can someone innocent be pregnant? DanDan asked. Jia Li was still confused, so Daiyu had to explain.

Its obvious that you are no longer innocent because you have done those things between couples and look you are boldly showing us the result.. Daiyu said while pointing at her abdomen.

Chapter 209 – Improving With Her Kiss

Jia Li understood the meaning of her words and blushed. Her cheeks turned crimson red.

Hey, Jia Li, how was your first night? Was it painful? DanDan asked with a curious gaze.

You... how can you ask that kind of question? Jia Li asked with a blush. That question reminded her of her and Fu Hua's first night together.

She felt shameful just by thinking about it and she couldn't believe how her friends could ask such questions blatantly.

It's enough, let's not bully Jia Li. Daiyu said with a smile. DanDan and Chang Chang agreed with her and changed the topic.

Where is your husband, how come we don't see him? DanDan asked.

He has left for work already. Jia Li replied.

Too bad we won't be seeing the legendary Mr. Fu Hua. Chang Chang said with a little regret. The three of them wanted to see what Jia Li's husband looks like in person, as they didn't trust the photo on the internet.

Although the video that was uploaded of him once by Alix's manager was clear, still, they didn't want to believe it.

Chang Chang, you will still be the one to run away when Mr. Fu comes because you don't have the guts. Daiyu said and DanDan made fun of her.

Chang Chang could not complain because a servant walked over and placed some snacks and drinks before them. Then instead of arguing with them, she started eating.

Jia Li chatted with her friends till it was time for lunch. The four of them had lunch together before they were set out to leave.

Jia Li didn't wish for them to leave yet but they had to, so they could rest in the hotel room arranged for them and wait for the next day to attend her graduation ceremony.

Jia Li followed them outside the house and watched them enter the black car that was parked in front of the house after hugging them again.

When Fu Hua came back home, he had just stepped into the bedroom when a soft figure ran into his arms and hugged him.

Fu Hua smiled and hugged her back.

Did you see your friends? He asked.

Yes, you really gave me a surprise, thank you! Jia Li said with an appreciative smile.

Jia Li glanced at him. She smiled and tip-toed just to reach his height before bringing her lips to meet with his.

Youre improving with your kisses. Fu Hua said to her and she blushed and tried to leave his arms but he held her tight.

Where do you want to run off to? He asked.

You need to change your clothes and freshen up. Jia Li replied.

Alright. Wait here for me, I will be out in a few minutes. Fu Hua said while leaving a kiss on her forehead.

Immediately he went into the inner room, Jia Li escaped. How could she wait to be devoured when he comes out from the bathroom? She went into the workshop to hide away from him.

When Fu Hua came out of the inner room, he didn't see Jia Li in the bedroom and knew that she ran away. He smiled to himself and went to look for her.

He found her in the workshop and dragged her to go and have dinner

Why did you run away? He asked.

I had some unfinished work. Jia Li answered.

Really? Fu Hua asked with a smirk.

Jia Li nodded in response.

After having dinner, Fu Hua didn't allow her to return to the study. He took her straight to the bedroom.

Tomorrow is your day, you need to rest early. Fu Hua said as he covered her with the duvet.

I'm nervous. Jia Li said as he brought her into his embrace.

You don't have to be. Fu Hua said as he gazed at her.

But I am. Jia Li said with a frown.

I've got an idea to help you but if only you will agree to it. Fu Hua said.

Let me hear it. Jia Li said. She was threading carefully as she didn't want to fall into any trap.

If I play with you a little, you will be distracted and sleep on time for tomorrow. Fu Hua whispered as he touched her face.

What kind of play? Jia Li asked with a playful smile. She could guess what he meant but she was pretending to be innocent.

I will show you. Fu Hua said and immediately kissed her lips gently.

Jia Li closed her eyes and accepted his kiss. She was beginning to crave for him. She doesn't want to do this tonight but the temptation that comes from being with a hungry wolf was too much.

Sometimes you have to feed him and also satisfy your hidden desires.

After kissing her for a while, Fu Hua released her lips and breathed heavily. It didn't take up to a minute and Fu Hua's hands started roaming all over her body.

Jia Li was unhappy but she just had to make do with it. He was probably considering that he didn't want her to wake up tired the next morning.

Not long after, Jia Li fell asleep in Fu Hua's arms. Fu Hua made sure she was already deep into sleep before moving her to her side of the bed gently.

He got out of bed and went into the inner room. He only emerged 10 minutes later. He felt a little better as he got into bed. But he was surprised to see Jia Li staring at him.

Where did you go to? She asked in a drowsy tone.

Nowhere, sleep.. Fu Hua said as he brought her into his arms and pat her back rhythmically till they both fell asleep again.

Chapter 210 – Among The Top 5 Best Graduating Students

The next day which was Jia Lis graduation day. She took her bath on time before going down to eat breakfast and take her drugs.

The ceremony was supposed to begin by 10 am so, Fu Hua arranged for a makeup artist and a hairstylist to get Jia Li ready.

When the makeup artist and hairstylist were through with their work, they left the house. But throughout the time they were taking care of Jia Li, they never saw Fu Hua.

They had no idea that they were in the legendary FJs Bosss house and were currently taking care of his wife.

They wouldnt know this because Fu Hua did not contact them directly.

Fu Hua comes from behind and checks her out. His eyes went to her fingers and didn't see the wedding ring on it. He didn't say anything and went straight to hug her from behind.

Thank You. Jia Li said with a smile.

Before Jia Li left the house, Fu Hua wished her success and arranged for a car and a chauffeur.

Jia Li hugged him and felt a little sad because he was not coming for her graduation ceremony. She didn't want to ask for too much, so she didn't say a thing

When Fu Hua released her from the hug, he saw her sad face but she covered it up immediately and said she was leaving before he could say anything to her.

When Jia Li got to her school, she could feel the atmosphere of celebration. A smile appeared on her face as she glanced at the surroundings.

This time around, she didn't need to stop at the gate and walk in, she allowed the chauffeur to drive her inside the school premises, she was no longer afraid.

After stepping out of the car, she met a few of her colleagues and talked to them. All of them were happy they were leaving the school to face a new level of their lives.

At 9:40 am, all the chitchats between the graduating students came to an end. The students, teachers, and guests started making their way into the big auditorium hall.

All the graduating students were given their graduation caps

The ceremony began with a speech from the school Chancellor who was a woman in her early 50s.

While speaking to them, she mentioned the names of the designer companies that were present in their midst and thanked them.

When FJ was mentioned, there were cheers from the crowd as FJ was known to be the biggest and the Top designer company in the country and was amongst the Top 10 in the world, so the students were happy to be honored with their visit.

Jia Lis eyes immediately went to the place the vice-chancellor pointed at to catch a glimpse of the person that was representing FJ, and then, she heard the vice-chancellor add...

FJ is represented by their Chief Designer, Miss Sunny. Thank you for honoring our invitation.

Sunny, who was sitting in a special seat, stood up and waved to the crowd.

Jia Li was a bit disappointed that Fu Hua was not the person that came, but she still clapped along with the others.

She understood that Fu Hua was a big boss and didn't have time to come for events like this.

Jia Li picked interest in FJs Chief Designer. From where she was sitting, she couldn't see her face very well but she could tell she was still young.

Unlike the others, Jia Li did not dare to underestimate her. Although Sunny might look young, it was surely not an easy fit for her to emerge as FJs Chief designer, she must have won a fierce battle to be able to get there.

At different places amongst the crowd about 8 people who knew Jia Li very well had their eyes on her.

Some minutes into the ceremony, it was time for the best graduating students to be called out. Jia Li relaxed and paid attention to the person about to make the announcement.

The person standing on the pulpit was one of the schools directors. He announced that there were only 5 best graduating students and he would call their names out according to alphabetical order.

As the name of the students was being called they stood up and walked to the podium to stand amidst the cheers amidst the applause from the audience.

When it got to the 4th person, Jia Li heard her name, Qin Jia Li. It felt like she was in a trance. She thought she heard wrong until she heard her name again and the student sitting beside her nudged her arm.

Jia Li, your name is being called.

Jia Li quickly got up and walked to the podium to stand with the rest of the other students in a shocking state.

Whatever was happening now was a very big shock to her. How come no one told her about this? Jia Li couldn't believe that she would be among graduating students in her set, so she was still shocked.

Currently, Jia Li was the only female standing with the 3 male students. She could feel all eyes on her and everyone cheered her on.

When the 5th and last best graduating student was called, another male student stood up and joined them on the podium, so that makes Jia Li the only female student in her set to emerge as one of the best graduating students.

Chapter 211 - ... Jia Li Had Such Talents

All the eyes on Jia Li were proud of her, more especially, the 8 people that came to cheer her up.

The next announcement got everyone present, excited. An announcement was made for a small competition that will be taken place in the next few minutes between the best graduating students.

This competition was being held to select the overall best graduating student.

Jia Li was surprised with how fast things were going. She thought an award would be given to them and then they would be asked to leave. But who knew they were going to be asked to participate in a contest.

After the announcement, the project works of the best graduating students were wheeled out in 5 mannequins.

There were gasps of shock and admiration from everyone when they saw the beautiful work of art, designed by the best graduating students.

There were different designs of dresses there but they were of different classes because of the different majors in Jia Lis school.

Jia Li emerged as the best in her class, so she could be said to be the best graduating student in her class.

The eight people that had their eyes on Jia Li were more than happy for her than anyone else.

Jia Lis three friends, Li Huan and his mother, and then three other people had masks on their noses. Amongst them was a female. Her eyes were familiar and that was because it was Fu Meixu.

Next up, a panel of five judges was picked. 3 were picked from the Designers companies that were present while the other 3 were picked from amongst the school directors.

FJ Styles has picked Sunny, went to represent as a judge. Meanwhile, since Jia Lis dress came into the limelight, she had an attraction towards it. When Jia Li came to stand beside the mannequin with her dress on, her attention shifted to Jia Li.

She knew good things when she saw them with her eyes, so she had an interest in Jia Li because of the dress she made.

The school director that made the announcement passed the judging criteria to the panel of judges before leaving the stage.

The 6 judges went to take a look at the dresses of the best students. They went as far as touching the dresses and asking the students questions.

When Sunny came to Jia Lis side, she glanced at her and then looked at her dress.

Did you design this dress? She asked.

Yes, Maam. Jia Li replied politely. She was still a bit nervous.

Jia Li was surprised with the praise and hurriedly thanked her Thank you!

Sunny went on to ask her a few questions before going over to the last student.

When the other judges came to Jia Lis side, they couldnt take their eyes off her dress. They asked different questions as well before going off to the last student.

It was difficult for anyone to take their eyes off her dress

After the judges returned to their seats, the students were asked to explain what inspired their concepts.

Jia Li's concept was given by her teacher, Design a dress with any vegetable or fruits of your choice and make a dress out of it.

Jia Li didn't know the vegetable or fruit to use for her project, so when she walked into the kitchen store and saw the different vegetables there, the purple cabbage caught her eyes and she became inspired when she thought of what it would be like to make a dress out of the beautiful purple cabbage.

Jia Li told her short story and the others did as well. Some random questions about the dress they made such as the kind of stitches they used for some parts in the dress and how they used the dye were asked.

The judges had an interest in Jia Li's dress because of how beautiful it was and they couldn't believe that a young girl like her could make a dress just like any skilled fashion designer/dressmaker.

She was asked about the dye she used and the kind of materials that were used for her dress. Few other random questions were asked and she answered all of them.

She could feel her back was sweating from all the questions that were thrown at her. She wondered if she did wrong with the dress she designed. She was praying in her mind for the unending questions to stop and her silent prayers were answered.

Sunny spoke on her behalf with an alluring tone, so the judges shifted their attention to the other students.

Jia Li could still feel the attention on her from the crowd and she felt like disappearing. She couldn't wait to get off the stage.

At last, when they were allowed to go back to seats, she didn't delay and immediately walked off the stage because the attention was too much.

Somewhere in the crowd, one gentleman in the crowd, had a proud smile on his face as he gazed at Jia Li.

An older man with a nose mask who was sitting on another row also had a proud smile on his face. He was proud of Jia Li. And the person was no other than, Grandfather Fu.

I never knew Jia Li had such talents. Mrs. Li said to Li Huan in amazement. She was really surprised that the girl she had always known was gifted.

She couldn't believe that Jia Li was the person that designed the dress that managed to garner the attention of everyone in the auditorium.

I am surprised as well. Her talents were well hidden. Li Huan said with his gaze on Jia Li.. He was proud of her but he couldn't really smile because she did not belong to him.

Chapter 212 – Two Awards In One Day Plus Surprises

As other entertainment activities were going on, the Judges were compiling the results.

Jia Li was watching a famous girl group perform on stage with her train thoughts of thoughts occasionally shifting to the outcome of the results.

Before she was not bothered about this kind of thing, but since she was amongst the Top 5, she couldn't stop herself from being bothered about the final results.

After the performance from the girl group, it was time to announce the final results.

The best student of 20XX set of The Prestigious school of  goes to Miss Qin Jia Li

This was an earth-shattering announcement. There were loud cheers and applause from everyone in the room including the vice-chancellor.

Jia Li couldn't believe her ears

The students that were sitting beside Jia Li congratulated Jia Li with happy smiles on their faces.

Please Quieten down. The Vice-Chancellor said to them, as she still had another announcement to make.

When everyone was calm, she made another announcement that shocked them.

There were applaud and cheers from everyone, as they were not surprised like the first time, as most of them thought that Jia Li truly deserved that ward.

Whats going on here ? Jia Li thought. Things have taken an unexpected turn. She couldnt believe that she got 2 awards

Without waiting for anyone to calm down, the Vice-Chancellor continued...

With a clapping ovation, lets welcome Miss Qin to the stage to give us a short speech.

Not just a clapping ovation, a standing ovation was given to Jia Li as she made her way to the stage to receive her awards.

She took pictures with the Vice-Chancellor and the panel of judges, and a certificate of honors was given to her.

After taking the pictures with them, It was time for Jia Li to give her speech, so her teacher came and took the awards from her.

When Jia Li came to stand at the podium, she felt a light reflection and she instinctively covered her eyes. And when she felt the light disappear, she glanced into the crowd.

Jia Li could feel someone had her eyes on her, and the gaze was so strong, but not filled with malice.

At last, she managed to catch a glimpse of someone in the crowd, he had a nose mask on, and she felt he was familiar, but didnt know who he was.

Jia Li started her speech with a vote of thanks.

Thank you, Vice-Chancellor for giving me this opportunity. I am very happy... Jia Li went on to give her speech. After that, when she was giving another vote of thanks, she thanked her teachers and the people related to her school, then coming down to her family, she said...

Although my parents are late, I still want to thank them for supporting me when they were alive. I want to thank my new family for supporting me. My old man believed in me the first time he saw my talent, and he sent me to this prestigious institute of learning. I want to thank someone special because he thought me a lot and that knowledge helped me to get my awards today...

Jia Li's speech was touching, she talked about Grandfather Fu and Fu Hua, and then she thanked her friends.

It was not only Grandfather Fu and Fu Hua that understood her words, but Li Huan also did as well, and jealousy burned in him.

Do you know the people Jia Li is talking about?. Mrs. Li whispered to Li Huan. She was very curious to know the special people Jia Li talked about.

Mum, I don't know. Li Huan replied with his gaze on Jia Li.

Jia Li thanked her friends as well, and other people that supported her. Close to the end of her speech, she saw the man with a mask in the crowd, removed the mask.

She was shocked to see that Fu Hua had been around the whole time.

Jia Li was distracted when she saw Fu Hua. She couldn't believe her eyes. A smirk turned up on Fu Hua's lips, and he immediately fixed the mask back on his face.

Jia Li was so happy that she finished her speech immediately, she also saw Fu Hua send her a flying kiss.

When Jia Li got off the podium, her teacher gave her awards back to her and she returned to her seat with them.

From where she was seating, Jia Lis eyes began to wander through the crowd. She saw Fu Hua again, and her gaze rested on him.

The two gazed at each other without giving out signs again.

Are there more people here ?. Jia Li thought.

She was thinking that there may be some other people she didnt know who came to see her, so she glanced around again, and she saw her friends waving at her.

She waved back at them. She continued looking around and saw Li Huan and his mother. She was surprised. Li Huan did not tell her that he would be coming with his mother.

Jia Li saw Fu Meixu and lastly, her old man she just talked about.

Jia Li felt emotional seeing the people close to her come to celebrate and cheer her up.

Fu Hua frowned when Jia Li moved her gaze away from him. But when she saw her look like she was about to cry, he became worried.

He only felt better when he saw her emotions return to normal. Deep down in her heart, he was very proud of her.

Right there, Fu Hua sent a text to Sunny, the Chief Designer of FJ Styles. He asked her to get the rights to Jia Li's dress from the school director immediately.

Sunny who was sitting and watching the Vice-Chancellor give a closing speech, heard her phone vibrate, and checked the text she just received from her Boss.

After reading the contents of the text, she smiled and sighed in relief. She had her eyes on both Jia Li and her dress, but she was thinking of telling Fu Hua about it when he sent the text.

But how does he know about the dress? Sunny thought with suspicion.. She was guessing that he may be around and sitting somewhere in the auditorium.

Chapter 213 – Jia Li Meets Grandfather Fu

Sunny went to speak to the school authorities before other interested companies would request it.

Different questions were thrown at her. Jia Li was really shocked by the attention she was getting from the media. The shutter sounds from their cameras couldn't stop for a minute.

Jia Li was lucky to be saved by her teacher who helped her to get away from them

Thank you, teacher. Jia Li said to her teacher gratefully. She didn't know she would have been able to escape if not for her.

There is no problem. I will see you later, I have something to talk to the Vice-Chancellor about. Her teacher said to her.

Congratulations Jia Li!

You've made us proud!

I was so shocked but we are proud of you!

Her friends congratulated her, they hugged her and took so many pictures. While they were chatting Grandfather Fu was being interviewed by the reporters.

He had just come out of the building without his nose mask when the reporters came to his side. Grandfather Fu was well respected, so the reporters were not rude to him.

Butler Lu came over with a few soldiers to surround the old man. Before the graduation ceremony started, the old man didn't allow them to come in with him, so they had no choice but to wait outside for him.

Questions like, Were you invited for this ceremony, Are you interested in the fashion industry, and what do you have to say about the best graduating student? were asked.

Grandfather Fu was very happy to reply to the third question. He was proud to talk about her beloved granddaughter-in-law.

Grandfather Fu replied to a few of their questions cheerfully before his escorts cleared the path for him.

The reporters didnt chase after him and instead continued standing where they were to interview more people, especially the representatives from the Top designer companies that were in attendance.

They wanted to ask them so many questions like what they thought about the newly awarded best student of the school and the best fashion designer of the school.

Sister Meixu, you left your filming to come here? Jia Li asked as she was touched by the gesture. She knew that the movie she was starring in has begun to film.

Its nothing. I came here to cheer you up as you ended up making all of us proud, its worth the trip. I dont have enough time to stay, I have to travel to the filming location right away, I have a scene to shoot tomorrow morning. Fu Meixu said to her.

Thank you for coming. Jia Li said to her in a grateful tone.

Fu Meixu took a few shots with her before leaving hurriedly, as she didnt want to miss her flight.

Was that your sister-in-law? DanDan asked.

She is my cousin-in-law, I have never met my sister-in-law before. Jia Li revealed.

Why is that? Daiyu asked in surprise.

Oh...

Grandfather!

As she called out to him, lots of attention was attracted to her but Jia Li was too excited to care.

Grandfather Fu smiled brightly when he heard Jia Li call out to him. But he became worried when he saw her running towards him. He was scared she might trip and fall, she was pregnant after all.

When Jia Li came to his side, she wanted to hug him but the things she was holding were too much for her, luckily, Butler Lu helped to hold them for her.

Jia Li gave her old man a side hug with an excited smile. She was very happy to see him and couldnt hide the joy in her heart.

Did you plan on not telling me about your graduation? Grandfather Fu asked with a smile.

No, grandfather, I thought you will be busy and I didnt want to disturb you. Jia Li replied with a smile.

Who says you are disturbing me ? Next time, dont think like that and tell me whatever you have in mind. Grandfather Fu said to her.

Okay, grandfather. Thank you for coming. Jia Li said happily.

Are these your friends ? Grandfather Fu asked when he saw the three young ladies.

Yes, Grandfather. Jia Li replied and went ahead to introduce her friends to him.

Her friends greeted the old man politely and he talked to them for a few seconds before turning to Jia Li to say, Li girl, I have to leave now, go ahead and talk to your friends, your present will be delivered to you when you get home.

Thank you, grandfather. Jia Li said to him joyously. She had no idea the old man would prepare a gift for her and she was grateful to him.

Jia Li ? Mrs. Li called out to Jia Li with a smile.

Jia Li glanced at them and the smile on her face relaxed a bit as she walked to them.

Her friends greeted Li Huan since they recognized him. He was their senior in high school back then. They greeted his mother before moving away to give them space to talk.

Thank you, Auntie! Jia Li said with a polite smile. She felt things were awkward because of Li Huans presence.. He never mentioned bringing his mother to her graduation ceremony and she didnt know how to feel about it.

Chapter 214 – My Husband

Congratulations Jia Li on your graduation! Li Huan said as he handed a fancy bag over to her.

Thank you, brother Huan. Jia Li said as she accepted the gift from him.

Mrs. Li noticed that things were awkward between her son and Jia Li and tried to make things lively.

Jia Li, you made us proud and your parents would be proud they had a daughter like you. Mrs. Li said to her.

Thank you, Auntie! Jia Li said in appreciation.

Being reminded of her late parents was still an emotional struggle to Jia Li. She still felt sad every time she remembered that her parents were no longer with her but she was still happy that she was not alone. She had people like Grandfather Fu and Fu Hua supporting her.

Jia Li, I heard from my son that you are married and you are pregnant? How is the Fu family treating you? Mrs. Li asked.

Jia Li glanced at Li Huan who looked away from her. She was surprised to hear that from his mother. And she glanced at him because she was sure he was the one that told her about it.

Somewhere, Fu Hua was watching them with a mask over half of his face. His gaze was cold as he watched his wife conversing with his childhood crush and his mother.

Fu Hua was still staring at them when his Grandfather came to stand beside him.

If you continue standing here and watching them, your wife will be snatched away from you. Do you know how hard I worked to get her to marry you when I noticed they already had eyes on her? Grandfather Fu asked with his gaze on her, as he recounted how he noticed that Li Huan and his mother had ideas about Jia Li.

Fu Hua looked away from Jia Li and glanced at the old man that was standing beside him. He does not doubt that his old man would be able to recognize him no matter the disguise he used.

You really worked hard to make her my wife. Fu Hua said to him.

No one knew if he was praising or making fun of his old man.

Why are you standing here and looking at me? Hurry up, go and claim your wife. Grandfather Fu said to him before walking away with his entourage.

Butler Lu bowed to him before leaving as well. He was surprised he came for his wife's graduation ceremony and the old man didn't look surprised to see him.

Without wasting time, Fu Hua listened to his grandfather's advice and walked towards Jia Li.

Mrs. Li was still speaking with Jia Li when she noticed Fu Hua's figure approaching them, so she looked over with Li Huan.

Jia Li saw they were distracted and followed their gaze and turned around only to see Fu Hua approaching. A smile bloomed on her face as she stood there and waited for him to arrive.

If there was another reason that made Jia Li happy, then it was Fu Hua's presence in her graduation ceremony.

In the morning, she was sad because she thought he wouldn't come for it. Fu Hua knew the reason she was sad but he pretended not to know as he sent her away.

He wanted to surprise her by coming without notice and his plans worked perfectly without obstruction.

When Fu Hua got to her side, he hugged her shoulder and said to her, Congratulations!

Their interactions were enough to tell Li Huan and his mother that Fu Hua was her husband.

Li Huan and his mother were surprised that they had such a good relationship with each other but still, Mrs. Li was unhappy.

Fu Hua moved his gaze to Li Huan and his mother before asking Jia Li to introduce them. Jia Li was surprised by his request but still went ahead to introduce them.

This is my senior from high school, Brother Li Huan and this is his mother, Mrs. Li. Brother Huan, Auntie, this is my husband.

Although Jia Li did not call his name, Fu Hua was already very much satisfied with the way she introduced him as her husband. He was the only one satisfied, as Li Huan and his mother felt sour in their heart.

Mrs. Li felt that the Fu family did not deserve Jia Li after she saw her potential daughter-in-law receive awards. She felt she was a hidden wife with a hidden talent in fashion and designing.

Mrs. Li thought that way after she heard from her son that he didn't know who Jia Li's husband was from the profile of the Fu family on the internet since their marriage to her was hidden.

Seeing Jia Li's husband standing before her, Mrs. Li knew she was wrong about what she thought of him. Clearly, he was physically alright and nothing seems to be wrong with him.

Seeing the interaction between them, she didn't think they were pretending to be close because Jia Li's facial expression did not lie.

Mrs. Li was dissatisfied that the man Jia Li got married to was so much times better than her son. She glanced at Fu Hua thoroughly but she didnt find any flaw.

This was a disheartening situation for her.

As for Li Huan, he felt bad when he saw how close Jia Li was to Fu Hua. He kept saying that he could have been the one by her side instead of Fu Hua but he was a step too late.

When he saw Fu Hua, he felt Fu Hua was familiar but the mask covering half of his face didnt let him take a proper look. He could only see his eyes, which had a cold gaze directed towards him.

Li Huan was I curious in knowing which grandson he was, so he could tell who he was since he still didnt know what Jia Lis husband looked like.

Li Huan and his mother couldnt continue chatting with Jia Li since Fu Hua was there, so they left after saying a few words to Jia Li.

Chapter 215 – Hot Intimate Exchange

I wanted to surprise you, so I didnt say anything to you! Did you like my surprise? Fu Hua asked with a smiling gaze.

Although Jia Li could not see his facial expressions, she could still tell from his eyes that he was smiling.

Yes, I loved it. Jia Li said while nodding happily.

Congratulations on the awards. Fu Hua said.

Thank you, I couldnt have done this without you. Jia Li said gratefully.

Fu Hua smiled as his gaze turned evil, Since I helped you so much, how do you plan to repay me?

Dont worry, I will surely repay you. Jia Li assured him. She was very grateful to him.

She knew she couldnt have won these awards without him. Because of his pointers and guidance, she was able to make it this far.

Her design was very beautiful but that was not the only criteria for winning. The quality of the material used, the kind of stitches used for different places, plus other things were put into consideration as well.

Fu Hua was satisfied with her response. He was happy that his little wife promised to repay him, so he whispered to her, Im looking forward to it.

Jia Li smiled as he pats her hair gently. Both of them were not afraid of being seen by anyone because Fu Hua had a mask over half of his face but still, they could not act so intimate.

Please can we take pictures together? Jia Li pleaded with him with pouted lips. Apart from the picture on their marriage certificate, they do not have another one taken together.

Because today was a special day for her, Fu Hua didn't want to reject her request. He glanced around and saw that people were busy with different things

Jia Li knew what he was worried about and said, I will take you to a private place for the picture.

Fu Hua wanted to say it was okay since not many people were paying attention to them but he stopped when he heard she was going to take him to a private place.

It wouldn't be difficult to guess the naughty thoughts that were going through his mind but the innocent Jia Li was oblivious to it.

Jia Li called her friends over, so they could help then take the pictures.

Her friends were satisfied when they got to the quiet location with only them there and saw Fu Hua take off his mask.

They were amazed at how handsome Fu Hua was. Chang Chang almost passed out, while DanDan covered her mouth to stop herself from screaming. Daiyu was the only one still rational in their midst.

When Jia Li and Fu Hua posed for the pictures, DanDan handed the awards to Jia Li, so she could still take the pictures with them in her graduation dress.

After taking pictures together, Jia Lis friends took her awards and left, leaving only the two of them there.

Without warning, Fu Hua held Jia Lis face and covered her lips with his mouth in a hot kiss. Jia Li was surprised by his gesture but she was quick to respond to his hot kisses.

As their lips were intertwined, Fu Huas tongue pushed into her mouth and explores it hungrily. His hands moved from her face to her neck and then to her back.

If they were not outside, he would have made out fully with her.

Before they left that place, Fu Hua helped Jia Li to adjust her clothes.

You did very well with your speech. He said to her.

Jia Li knew he was talking about the part where she praised him and grandfather Fu and said a word of thanks.

When they walked out of that place and returned to the place others were standing, Fu Hua noticed Sunny coming with the Vice-Chancellor, a few of the schools directors and Jia Lis teacher and knew it was time for him to leave.

He had his nose mask back on, so anyone that didnt know him well enough will not be able to recognize him.

Jia Li, I have to leave now. I will wait for you in the car, tell your friends they are joining us for lunch. Fu Hua said to Jia Li.

You're leaving already? Jia Li asked with a frown. She did not want him to leave so soon.

For now, yes. I will wait for you in the car. Some people are coming to see you. Fu Hua said to her.

Jia Li turned to look behind and saw the people coming in her direction. She turned back to look at Fu Hua but she discovered that he had left already.

He left so quickly! She thought to herself.

Sunny comes to Jia Li's side with the Vice-Chancellor, Jia Li's teacher and one of the school's directors. She saw Fu Hua walking away and found his back familiar.

She only retracted her suspicious gaze when Jia Li's teacher formally introduced her to Jia Li.

Jia Li, meet the Chief Designer of FJ Styles. We have already signed a deal with them for the exclusive rights to produce your dress. Jia Li's teacher announced immediately she finished introducing them.

Jia Li was amazed and wondered if Fu Hua knew about it without knowing that he was the one that orchestrated the plan.

Miss Qin, FJ found your talents brilliant and they are interested in having a collaboration with you. The vice-chancellor announced to Jia Li.

Jia Li was excited within and couldn't want to tell Fu Hua about it, although she knew the collaboration might not work.

Sunny mentioned the collaboration and talked about FJ Styles. She told her not to be in a hurry to reject her and to think things through.

... You have 2 months to think about it, then you can get back to me with your decision. Sunny said to her with a smile and Jia Li nodded in response.

Chapter 216 – Fu Huas Invitation For Lunch

When the others left, Jia Li was left standing with her teacher. Her teacher spoke to her for a while before other fashion and designer companies came to meet her.

Have you thought of where you want to work? Her teacher asked.

Yes. Jia Li replied. She has had up her mind that she wants to work in FJ.

I hope you make the right decisions because you have a bright future ahead of you. I didnt know you have such talents when you joined newly but as time went by, I discovered your hidden talents. You have improved a lot with your dressmaking, did you receive a private tutor from someone? Her teacher asked curiously.

Teacher you're right, I received guidance from a veteran in the field. Jia Li said with a smile.

Jia Li's teacher didn't ask any more questions and only went ahead to encourage her.

Jia Li took pictures with her classmates and the other students that approached her. She was invited out to celebrate but she rejected their invitation politely. Her friends and Fu Hua were still waiting for her.

Jia Li's friends surrounded her when she approached them. They kept hailing her because of the attention she got. They called her a celebrity and they laughed over it.

Jia Li we have to celebrate today. Do you have any good place we can go to celebrate? Daiyu asked.

There is no need to worry about it, someone's taking us out for lunch. Jia Li replied with a smile.

By someone, do you mean, Your husband? Chang Chang asked as she sent a wink

Jia Li nodded in response as she failed to conceal the blush on her face.

Jia Li chatted with her friends as they made their way to the car park.

Jia Li didn't need to search for Fu Hua because she saw him standing beside his black car with that mask on his face. They quickly made their way towards him.

Are you through? Fu Hua asked with a gentle tone and Jia Li nodded.

Get in the car. Fu Hua said as he opened the front passenger door for her.

Jia Li opened the back door for her friends before getting into the front seat.

In the car, Fu Hua took off his nose mask and ignited the car's engine. The windows of the car were tinted and so no one could see them.

Jia Li's friends sat at the back and remained calm, unlike their usual selves. They were inside the car of a big shot, who would believe if they told them?

Fu Hua drove straight to a high-end restaurant and they were taken to the room he booked.

The manager of the restaurant came with about 4 waiters to take their order. Jia Li was kind of used to this treatment so she wasn't bothered, unlike her friends who were smiling sheepishly.

They were also very happy that they could sit at the same table as the Big Shot and all this was because they were friends with Jia Li.

Jia Li helped her friends to take their order since some of the dishes there had weird names. Her friends have not been to this kind of restaurant before, so they couldn't be blamed.

Fu Hua placed an order for him and Jia Li and he was being very careful with it because Jia Li was pregnant, and so had to be careful with what she eats.

While waiting for their order to arrive, the cake and champagne Fu Hua had ordered while booking a space in the restaurant, arrived.

Jia Li turned to Fu Hua to thank him. She was very happy with the surprise.

Thank you! Jia Li said excitedly.

Jia Lis friends couldnt hide their excitement. All the weird thoughts they had about Fu Hua immediately vanished from their heads.

They could only think that Fu Hua was a good husband to their friend, Jia Li.

Jia Li blew out the candle

There was a waiter around to serve them as well. He carried the cake and left their side.

When their food order arrived, they ate happily and chatted a little bit while eating. Fu Hua was quiet and didnt join in their conversation.

After eating, the cake was brought back to their table. Each of them had a piece of the cake, and the rest was packaged in a beautiful box

While eating the cake, Fu Hua took out 3 movie tickets from his pocket and passed them to Jia Li.

For your friends. He said.

Jia Li was surprised as she took the movie tickets from him and passed them to her friends.

It was difficult for her friends to contain their excitement when they saw the tickets to the movie they have been anticipating to watch.

The only thing that kept them from screaming was because they didnt want to embarrass Jia Li. They quickly thanked Fu Hua with smiles on their faces.

Looking at the time on the movie tickets, they knew they had to leave soon, so they finished their cake and champagne

A man standing outside the door will take you to the cinema and send you back to your hotel. Fu Hua said to them.

They thanked Fu Hua again and said goodbye to Jia Li before rushing out. They couldnt afford to miss their movie.

Chapter 217 – An Expensive Gift

Jia Li would never have known that Fu Hua sent her friends away on purpose, just so he could be alone with her.

You dont want to spend time with me ? Fu Hua asked.

No, I didnt mean that. Jia Li replied as she shook her head with a frantic expression on her face.

Bring your seat closer to my side. Fu Hua said to her as he dipped his hands inside the pockets of his jacket which was hung on his seat.

Jia Li adjusted her seat, so she was not sitting very close to him.

Jia Lis eyes widened in surprise and she took the gift from him. For me ?

Yes, its your graduation gift, open the box and take a look at the gift. Fu Hua said to her.

Jia Li loosens the small ribbon on the box and opened it. There, she saw a beautiful gold necklace sitting inside with a heart-shaped pink Diamond

You... you got such an expensive necklace for me ? Jia Li asked as she stared at the gift wide-eyed. She was shocked to receive such an expensive gift from him.

Why not ? Give it here, I will put it on for you. Fu Hua said as he took the box from her brought you the beautiful necklace.

He proudly put it on her neck and fastened the lock.

Do you like my gift? Fu Hua asked with a smile as he watched her reaction.

I like it and your surprise presence at my graduation was the perfect gift for me. Jia Li replied as she touched the necklace.

Im glad you liked my gifts and surprises. Fu Hua said with a smile as she watched how carefully she caressed the necklace.

How much did you buy this for? Jia Li asked worriedly. She was afraid that the gift was too expensive for her.

Its enough to buy a small country. Fu Hua replied and that scared Jia Li out of her wits.

Jia Li was shocked as she felt her neck was starting to feel heavy because of the exorbitant price of the necklace.

She was afraid that her head would be cut off if any thief knows the worth of the necklace on her neck.

Fu Hua nearly laughed out loud when he saw her reaction. He chuckled softly and said to make her relax, Relax and enjoy wearing the jewelry, I was only joking with you.

Jia Li sighed in relief. She didnt know if Fu Hua said that to make her relax or not but she automatically accepted his words, as she didnt want to always worry about her head rolling off her body.

Jia Li and Fu Hua finished their Champagne before leaving for their home. When they returned to the house, the servants congratulated Jia Li on her graduation.

Where should I keep them? Jia Li asked when they entered their bedroom.

You can keep them in the workshop. Leave them there, I will come and place them properly myself. Fu Hua said to her.

What took you so long? He asked with his gaze on her.

Nothing. Jia Li said and rushed into the inner room to bath. She was embarrassed to tell him she has been admiring her awards and forgot to return to the bedroom.

Jia Li didn't need to say the truth because Fu Hua could already guess what she has been up to.

He smiled and went to lay in bed, and picked up his phone to keep himself busy while waiting for her.

After bathing, Jia Li walked into the closet to pick a nightdress and remembered her promise to Fu Hua.

She blushed when she touched the short skirts he bought for her. Since he bought them, she has never worn them and right now, she wanted to try one of them to repay him.

Jia Li knew what would happen if she seduced Fu Hua. He has been looking for an opportunity to eat her clean and right now, he would have allowed her to rest for the night but she optioned to send herself to him.

Good luck with that Jia Li.

Jia Li dressed in one of the short skirts and picked up a singlet to wear. Next, she let her hair down and walked towards the mirror to take a look at herself.

Seeing her thick thighs and how short the skirt was on her, she blushed. The singlet she wore, had a pad inside, so it lifted her boobs and revealed her cleavage.

Am I going too far? Jia Li asked herself. She couldn't help but feel embarrassed.

Wild thoughts were still running in her head when she heard Fu Hua call her name from right outside the door. She quickly answered and said she was coming, so he didn't have to come in and see her.

Fu Hua went back to the bed to lay down after he was certain that Jia Li was okay. He went back to pressing his phone but when he saw Jia Li's attire after she stepped out a minute later, his phone slipped from his hands.

This was a jaw-dropping scene he saw with his eyes.

Fu Hua stared at her in shock. He was tongue-tied and didn't know what to say to her. His body was starting to become warm as the thing in-between his legs reacted.

You...You... what are you putting on? Don't you want to sleep tonight? Fu Hua asked after he found his voice.

Jia Li was uncomfortable as his gaze roamed all over her body and she tried to drag her skirt down a bit but failed.

When he asked that question, she blushed and felt she was a little too bold.

Chapter 218 – Intimate Night With Fu Hua

Fu Hua stared at her for a short while and no longer felt like having mercy on her because she had already woken the sleeping tiger irresistibly.

Come here. Fu Hua said as he sat up on their bed with his feet touching the rugged floor. Jia Li looked up at him before slowly walking towards him. She felt she was in trouble when she met his gaze.

Jia Li sat on his laps and circled her arms around him. She couldnt look at him in the eyes, his gaze was so strong on her.

Fu Hua pulled her in for a kiss

As he kissed her, his hands reached for boobs, squeezing them as gently as possible, so as not to hurt her. Since she became pregnant, her boobs were sensitive and easily hurt if he wasn't gentle.

Fu Hua moved his hands to touch her thighs. Jia Li shuddered and broke the kiss, gazing at him with her misty eyes that incurred pity, Fu Hua felt more aroused than ever.

He caressed her thighs before slipping his fingers in between her legs. When he touched her there, she moaned softly.

You are not wearing any panties? Fu Hua asked in surprise as he continues to feel her wet milky way.

Jia Li hummed in reply as she had her eyes closed.

I can't wait any longer. Fu Hua said as he pulled her up. Jia Li had no idea of what he wanted to do but she couldn't stand for long because she felt weird inside of her and the place he touched was hot and uncomfortable, she also needed him inside of her.

Fu Hua pulled the waistband of his pajamas down a bit and let his little monster out.

Jia Li blushed when she saw his little brother. She gazed at it intently. This was what was going to enter her and it was so huge.

Fu Hua released his little brother before turning to glance at Jia Li. You want it? He teased.

Jia Li felt her face go red but she still nodded in response. The more she lived with him, the more she felt how dirty-minded he was. He never ceased to find a new way to tease her.

I will give it to you. Fu Hua said as he pulled her to sit on him again. He immediately captured her lips and kissed her till she was still senseless.

Jia Li was already naked underneath, so she kept feeling the skin of his little brother against her and she couldn't stop moaning even with his hands roaming all over her body.

At last, without warning, Fu Hua used his hands to pull her skirt up, exposing her butts to the air. He grabbed her butts and ground her against him.

Jia Li moaned loudly and became distracted. Right now, she didn't hope for any other thing than for him to enter her. He seemed to have heard her secret cries because he lifted her butts a little and without guidance, he slipped inside of her.

Jia Li couldn't stop herself from moaning when he entered her and started moving inside of her. This was the first time they were trying that style and it felt so good.

Jia Li instinctively followed the rhythm, Fu Hua used to move in and out of her. She discovered that she had to be the one moving, so she started moving rhythmically, while his hands kept massaging her ass and guiding her to grind against him.

Fu Hua kissed her lips before moving his lips to her neck and then boobs. He let go of her boobs and pulled her singlet down, so he could have full access to her boobs.

Finally, when her boobs were displayed in front of him, he couldnt help but start sucking her tits as his hands went back to her butts to grab them.

Jia Li couldnt stop herself from moaning as she caressed his hair and shut her eyes. She continued feeling the waves of pleasure till she had her release and Fu Hua came a few seconds later.

As they were breathing heavily, Fu Hua lifted her butts and slipped out of her. He put her on the bed so she could lay with her back on it.

Next, he grabbed her legs

This was an unexpected move to Jia Li. She had to cover her mouth with her hands as her moans got louder. Fu Hua on the other hand, let out a groan while he moved in and out of her at a fast pace.

He had his gaze on her and he liked her reactions to everything he did to her.

After a few minutes, they both found their release. They only rested for a minute or two before Fu Hua turned her to lie on her side as entered her again.

He wasnt lying behind her but was still kneeling on the bed when he entered her.

That night, Fu Hua guided Jia Li and did 2 more different positions before she started pleading with him to let her go.

Jia Li didnt know Fu Hua had so much willpower and energy to continue throughout the night. If she didnt beg him to stop, he might not have ever thought about it.

She was also surprised when he finally let go of her and gave her a deep kiss on the lips and said to her, I wouldnt have let you go if you were not pregnant.

That means if she wasnt pregnant, he would continue going at it even if she pleaded with him.

Jia Li was so exhausted that she couldnt even move a finger.. She was regretting ever provoking him but she couldnt because she decided to take it that she was repaying a debt.

Chapter 219 – I Love You!

Waking up the next morning, Jia Li was too tired to get out of bed. No matter how Fu Hua tried to get her to open her eyes, he failed. She even pushed him away the last time he tried.

Fu Hua saw the time was late as it was already 9 in the morning. He had no choice but to carry her out of bed.

Jia Li didnt bother to open her eyes. She was not afraid he was going to have another go at her because she was ready to bite him if he tried it.

Im bringing you to have a bath. He said to her in a gentle voice as he took her into the inner room as went straight for the bathtub.

Since she was naked, he placed her inside the hot water bath. The water was perfect for her skin.

Are you going to wake up or do you want me to help you have a bath? Fu Hua threatened as he caressed her face with his wet hands.

Jia Li's eyes flew open and the dark circles around her eyes were obvious. Anyone that saw her right now, would know she didn't have a good night's sleep.

Don't you dare! She said in a fierce tone before pushing him away.

Fu Hua chuckled softly when he saw how feisty his little wife was in the morning.

Why are you angry with me? Fu Hua asked with a smile as he touched her cheeks and moved them away as quickly as possible before she could hit him.

I love you! Fu Hua blurted out without thinking.

When he said that, both of them glanced at each other without saying a word. Jia Li was shocked.

Did he just say that he loves me? She asked herself as she gazed at him in search of answers. Too bad that Fu Hua asked her to bath quickly so they could have breakfast together.

After saying that, he placed the anti-slip mat beside the Jacuzzi and left the stunned Jia Li there.

At a point, Jia Li thought she heard wrong but she knew she couldn't have been hearing things.

Jia Li went on to have a bath. She took time herself with getting herself all cleaned up, she also washed her hair.

When she was through, she wrapped herself in a towel before walking inside the closet. There, she saw Fu Hua waiting for her.

I brought your clothes out for you. Fu Hua said when he saw her as he pointed at her inner wears and dress he left on the seat.

He took the hand drier from her and helped her to dry her hair. Fu Hua took his time drying her hair because it was another favorite part of her body he liked.

If not for Jia Li urging him to hurry up because she was hungry, he would have continued to dry her hair for several hours.

Hand in hand, they both went downstairs for breakfast. Jia Li didnt waste time when her food was served. She started eating immediately and hurriedly.

Fu Hua continues reminding her to slow down but she didnt listen. She was so hungry that she could eat him as well.

Not that kind of eating though...

Fu Hua pitied her and started putting more food on her plate. He guessed that she was very hungry after their intense workout at night.

Jia Li ate till she was not able to move again, so she had to remain sitting and rest for a while before she took her drugs.

Fu Hua didnt run away this time around and could only scrunch his nose while she took her drugs.

After taking her drugs, Jia Li went back to the bedroom and laid on the bed to sleep again, while Fu Hua went straight to the workshop to tidy things up.

He arranged Jia Lis awards on her desk before moving them away as he felt that it wasnt good place. He placed the awards

He remembered when he saw them printing her name on the awards right there in front of everyone.

Jia Li, I will be at the top waiting for you to get so many awards and reach my height and then we can climb the ladder together, hand in hand. Fu Hua said with a smile.

While Jia Li was still sleeping, gifts from the Fu family members arrived and Fu Hua ordered them to be kept in the workshop.

When Jia Li woke up, she ordered for her graduation cake to be shared and a greater part of the cake went to the Fu house. The remaining part was shared amongst the people with her.

Jia Li did all these without knowing of the gifts the rest of the Fu family members gave to her. After giving out her instruction, a servant followed her to the workshop with the snacks she asked to be brought to her.

Fu Hua was in the workshop looking through documents when Jia Li stepped in with the servants behind her.

I brought you snacks. Jia Li said as she served him personally.

Fu Hua glanced at the cake and cup of hot steaming coffee she placed on his desk and then glanced at the snacks the servant placed on her desk. He felt that she was cheating on him. But then he thought about the baby and didnt say anything.

He told himself that she was pregnant and had to eat for two.

When the servant left, Fu Hua picked up a file and said to her, Come and take this, I think it belongs to you.

Huh...

Its a gift from grandfather, come and have a look at it. Fu Hua explained. The papers arrived in the morning while she was still sleeping, so he kept them for her after taking a look at them.

Hearing it was a gift from the old man, Jia Li got up and walked to his side and took the file from him.. She was very curious about the old mans gift.

Chapter 220 – Gifts From The Fu Family

As Jia Li was curious to know what was written in the papers, she opened the file and glanced at the papers. The title of the paper shocked her because it was boldy written.

The paper was a title deed in her name. As Jia Li reads the property document grandfather Fu transferred to her and she was shocked.

Jia Li turned to Fu Hua to ask with a surprising glint. Fu Hua, did grandfather send this to me mistakenly?

Your name is right there, so how could he have sent it to the wrong person? Fu Hua asked.

Jia Li was beyond shocked. This was a huge gift to her.

This is nothing compared to what the old man usually gifts. Every member of the Fu family has a few properties and lands in their name. Grandfather must have thought he should give you the gifts bit by bit so you wont be shocked. Fu Hua revealed.

What?!

Come and take a look at the other gifts the rest of the family gave to you. Fu Hua said as he pointed at the gift bags close to the huge shelf.

Jia Li was surprised as she wasnt expecting the members of the Fu family to gift her anything. She felt touched receiving gifts from them for her graduation.

Fu Hua helped her to take out the gifts before displaying them on his desk.

A very expensive graphics tablet came from Fu YingPei. A set of expensive beauty products came from Fu Meixu. Fu ChunHua gave her a set of jewelry. Fu Ling gave her a set of expensive tools to help with her designing. There was a set of glittering pens and so many other things.

There was an emerald green bracelet lying in a red box and Jia Li had no idea who gave the r present until Fu Hua told her who gave it because there was no name on it.

It turned out that Fu Hee gave that gift. Jia Li was surprised that her mother-in-law who did not like her gave her a gift for her graduation.

Fu Hua did not show any emotions as he helped her to unwrap other presents. Butler Lu gave her a gift and the servants of the Fu house contributed to getting her an expensive gift.

Jia Li was surprised by their gesture. Today made her know how loved she was that even the servants of the Fu house could get her a present.

Fu Hua helped her to package the presents before pressing a button fixed on his desk. A servant knocked and came in a few minutes later.

Fu Hua asked her to send the gifts to their bedroom after Jia Li took out the gifts she could use to work on her designs.

I have to call and thank them. Jia Li said with a smile.

You dont have to, they only did what they were supposed to. Fu Hua said to her.

No, that doesnt seem right. As Jia Li thought about calling them, a thought came to her head so she voiced it out because she was worried.

How do I call your mother and thank her? Jia Li asked Fu Hua.

Fu Hua raised his phone and replied, You can use mine.

Jia Li sighed in relief before using her phone to call the members of the Fu family to thank them for their gifts.

This was the first time she was speaking member of the Fu family on phone apart from Fu Hua, Grandfather Fu, and Fu Meixu.

When it was time to call her mother-in-law, Jia Li used Fu Huas phone for it. She was a bit worried because she was not on good terms with Fu Hee and the latter didnt like her.

Dont be nervous, its just a call. Fu Hua said as he encouraged her from the side.

Fu Hee was sitting in the living room upstairs in the Fu house when she received an incoming call from her son.

She was happy to see that he was calling her. She answered the call immediately.

Fu Hua ?

Jia Li glanced at Fu Hua when she heard the excited tone of her mother-in-law. Jia Li felt things were awkward now.

Auntie, its me, Jia Li. Jia Li said over the phone.

The smile on Fu Hees face vanished instantly. She was disappointed to hear Jia Lis voice because she thought it was Fu Hua that was calling.

Oh! How is Fu Hua? Fu Hee asked as she maintained a gentle tone even if it was not filled with excitement like before.

He is fine. Auntie, I called to thank you for your gift, thank you! Jia Li said after replying to her question. She wanted to end the conversation as soon as possible.

That's okay. Don't end the call, pass the phone to Fu Hua.

Jia Li did as instructed. Fu Hua's brows furrowed as he took the phone from her. He placed the phone in his ear and listened to his mother talk.

Their conversation didn't last for more than 30 seconds before Fu Hua put his phone down. And throughout their conversation, Jia Li only heard Fu Hua hum once.

Why are you standing there? Go and sit. Fu Hua said to her. She has been standing in front of his desk for a while now and he thought her legs would be hurting now.

Jia Li picked up her sketchbook and opened it. She wanted to be busy with something, so she picked up a pencil and started scribbling something on it.

When she felt an inspiration was coming, she heard her phone ring and she glanced at her phone with an annoyed gaze.. Fu Hua saw it and couldn't help chuckling within him.

Chapter 221 – Fu Meixus Plan On Snatching

Glancing at the caller ID, Jia did not react because if she does, Fu Hua will see it, so she answered the call.

Brother Huan? Jia Li called out in a calm tone.

Fu Hua glanced over as he immediately stopped laughing. How could he still be in the mood to be happy when a love rival was calling his wife.

Is Fu Hua your husband? Li Huan asked directly without returning her greeting.

Jia Li was surprised by his question but she still replied to him, Yes.

There was a moment of silence before Li Huan spoke again, Take care of yourself.

Jia Li put her phone down before glancing over at Fu Hua to see him looking at the papers before him. Initially, she felt his piercing gaze on her but now, it was gone.

After the call with Jia Li ended, Li Huan covered his face with his palms. The other day at Jia Lis graduation ceremony, he felt Fu Hua looked familiar when he saw him even though half of his face was covered by the mask.

He had just checked the internet again before calling Jia Li to confirm his doubts.

Such a huge figure was Jia Lis husband, how was it possible to compete for her love?

Since it was Sunday today, Fu Hua took Jia Li to the hospital for her doctors appointment in the morning.

Dr. Clinton welcomed the two of them. She checked Jia Li and confirmed that everything was okay with her and the fetus.

The doctor instructed Jia Li to drink up to 7 glasses of water every day. She was to take her weight every morning after using the toilet

The doctor also told her about simple and healthy exercises and Yoga techniques to do every day.

From the hospital, Fu Hua took Jia Li to the store to buy a weighing scale to check her weight every morning. He didnt allow her to follow him into the store.

Stay in the car, I will be back in 5 minutes. Fu Hua said to her just as she was about to take off her seatbelt.

Why? Jia Li asked with a confused gaze.

You may not know it but you are slowly rising to fame. Fu Hua said with a smile before leaving the car.

Jia Li did not understand his words and she could not ask about them.

Fu Hua really came back in five minutes with a brown carton and put it in the cars boot before driving them to another store to get some healthy nuts like Almonds and Walnuts for Jia Li.

After buying those things for her, he drove them back home in time for lunch.

She was supposed to have a scene with the female lead today but she was nowhere to be found. The director called her but couldn't reach her.

If Zhi Ruo is not here in the next 10 minutes, we will postpone this scene. The director announced to everyone.

Fu Meixu was unmoved and had a smile on her face. She was not worried unlike the others.

2 minutes later, a white flashy car

Zhi Ruo who everyone has been waiting for stepped out of the car dressed in casual clothes along with the male that drove her there.

Zhi Ruo walked towards them and apologized. She said she had a little accident before coming out hence the delay.

She never mentioned what the accident was about but her apology was enough. The young man that came with her asked one of the staff to help him to take out the coffee they brought along with them.

Zhi Ruo apologized with the hot cups of coffee and the snacks she bought for them.

The director looked like he was no longer angry as everyone accounted for the coffee she brought with her.

Fu Meixu sneered at her but still accepted the coffee that was given to her.

Her question incurred the curiosity of the others. Even Fu Meixu was interested in her reply. She has seen that man before. He was the same person that came to pick her up when they held a wrap-up party for their last movie together.

Fu Meixu was interested in her reply this time around, she wanted to know what her reply would be.

Zhi Ruo chuckled softly with her hand over her mouth. Then she replied with a smile, You misunderstood, he is my good friend that was kind enough to bring me to the filming site.

Oh! The actress that asks that question said in response and the rest of the crew said it was a pity and didnt disturb her again.

They felt that her good friend was so handsome and looked rich not to be her boyfriend.

Fu Meixu scoffed at Zhi Ruos response because she refused to believe it.

Why would a friend follow you to another city just to bring you to the filming tight? Fu Meixu thought it was a big joke.

As the man that brought her got into the car and left after speaking to Zhi Ruo for a short while and saying goodbye to the crew, an idea came to Fu Meixus head.

She smiled as she thought about it.

Well, since she keeps denying that he is not her boyfriend but deliberately brings him to show off, it wouldnt be wrong if I snatch him from her right ?

That day, the filming went smoothly because Fu Meixu and Zhi Ruo had a tacit understanding not to cause trouble.

Chapter 222 – Media Attention

This morning, Fu Hua left for the company as he had an important meeting to attend.

After the brief meeting, he returned to his office and not long after that, Sunny knocked and came in to his office to talk about the right of Jia Lis project dress he asked her to acquire.

When are you signing the contract with the school? Fu Hua asked.

At noon tomorrow. Sunny replied, then she talked about giving an offer to Jia Li but he didnt say anything against it.

Fu Hua acted as if he had nothing to do with Jia Li. After Sunny left, Fu YingPei came to see him a few minutes later and a visible excitement was seen on his face.

Brother, you need to see this. He said as he approached Fu Huas desk with his phone in hand.

Fu Hua looked up to see Fu YingPei coming to his side happily. He was about to ask what the matter was when he placed his phone in front of him and played a video.

Its all over the internet. Sister-in-law is popular now and the need of her being the best student of  has gone viral, including her project dress. Fu YingPei reported happily.

Fu Hua took a proper look at the video before picking up his phone to dial Jia Lis number.

When Jia Li picked up the phone, he asked her to tune to a TV channel, as she did only to see she was being talked about.

What?! What am I doing on TV? Jia Li asked in surprise. It felt weird seeing herself being talked about on TV as millions of people were watching her.

I have to go back to work now, see you later. Fu Hua said and ended the call.

Brother, what did Sister-in-law say? Fu YingPei asked with a smile.

She is astonished seeing herself on TV. You can go back to work now. Fu Hua said to him.

Brother, why are you not excited? Fu YingPei asked curiously.

All the exposure she is getting is good but its too bad she doesnt need it now. Fu Hua explained.

If Jia Li was not pregnant, this would have been the perfect opportunity to be popular and gain massive recognition.

Why? Fu YingPei asked as he did not understand the situation.

Fu Hua pinched his brows and said to him, You will understand in due time, get back to work.

That same day, Jia Li received a call from her three friends, it was a video call. They were excited as they talked about seeing her on Tv.

Jia Li you have gone viral! Chang Chang said.

Yes, youre a celebrity now, everyone is talking about you. DanDan added.

Why do you not look happy? Daiyu asked as she noticed that Jia Li wasnt excited like them.

Jia Li sighed and explained things about her pregnancy and working now. She didnt want the media to have eyes on her, especially now that she was pregnant.

Although she was happy to be noticed by a lot of people, she didnt need that fame now.

Her friends got her point and felt bad for her but they encouraged her and told her that another opportunity will come.

After the emotional talks, they became chatty and excited again as they informed Jia Li of the number of followers she has now.

Jia Li was unaware of the number of followers and friend requests she had. So, after the call with her friends, she checked it and saw that she had more than five thousand new followers. Before, she had only 100+ followers, but now, they have increased in thousands.

Now that she was reminded about her fame and media attention, Jia Li went through her social media accounts and also checked her E-mails, and saw a lot of offers from different clothing brands.

She couldn't even read through all the E-mails. She saw an E-mail from Sunny and opened it. The message was a reminder to consider working with FJ.

Jia Li felt an oncoming headache and had to keep her phone aside. When Fu Hua came back, she told him about the offers she got as he rubbed her hair listening silently.

You're doing so well. Do you have any place you would like to go to? Fu Hua asked. He felt he should give her a little reward for her hard work.

I don't have anywhere I would like to go. I just want to sit at home and play with Ocean. Jia Li replied.

Are you sure? You don't want to go on a weekend vacation? Fu Hua asked with raised brows.

No, I don't feel like traveling. Jia Li insisted. His offer was tempting but she didn't feel like it.

Fu Hua was surprised that she would rather stay at home and play with Ocean than go on a weekend vacation.

Okay. Do you want anything? Fu Hua asked.

Yes. I'm hungry. Jia Li said as she hugged his arm with a smile.

What do you want to eat? Fu Hua asked. He knew for her to say she was hungry, there was something else she wanted to eat, that he wouldn't approve.

Jia Li went on to mention 10 different dishes which consisted of Italian, Chinese and English cuisines.

Fu Hua sighed and pinched her cheeks and asked, Are you trying to turn into a glutton?

I can't help it, the baby wants to eat them. Jia Li said as she caressed her abdomen.

Fu Hua chuckled softly and caressed her abdomen. He knew she was blaming her cravings on the baby.

Just this once, we have to listen to the doctor. Fu Hua said as he agreed to place the order for the dishes she mentioned.

I know, thank you! You are the best! Jia Li said with a happy smile.

When the food order arrived, Jia Li was so excited and rushed to the dining room to sit.

Chapter 223 - ...How Much I Wanted The Dress

The next morning, Jia Li goes to sign the deal with FJ and her school. She was giving the rights of her dress to FJ.

After signing off the rights to dress, Sunny spoke to her for a few minutes before leaving. She reminded her about the offer and asked her to think about it.

Is there any reason you dont want an interview ? Her teacher asked with an inquisitive gaze. She was very curious because if it was other people that got this kind of opportunity, they would make use of it to become popular but Jia Li was doing the opposite, so she was interested in knowing her reasons.

I dont want the attention of the media. Jia Li replied.

Her teacher could not speak more about it, since Jia Li was no longer her student.

When Jia Li got home, she told Fu Hua about the interview requests that were reached out to her through her school, which she rejected and he asked for the reason.

She gave the same response she gave to her teacher.

Do you ever feel angry with me because of this? Fu Hua asked with his gaze on her. He was worried she would feel bad because of the big opportunities she was going to miss because of the pregnancy.

How can I feel bad when you helped me to get those opportunities and to stand in the limelight? Jia Li said with a smile.

Two days later, FJ announced that they got the rights to Jia Lis dress. The media immediately requested an interview but FJ rejected them, so they went ahead to ask them an important question, publicly.

Do you have plans of working with Miss Qin?

FJ Styles replied, We will all know the answer to that question in the future.

As Christmas day was fast approaching, Jia Li let the servants decorate the house with festive decor.

Fu Hua did not let her go out to shop since she has turned into a mini-celebrity. If she left the house without disguise, she would be recognized and that may not be a good idea, especially now that she was pregnant.

While preparing for the festive period, FJ Styles launches the dress Fu Hua designed, along with Jia Lis school project dress.

All of these were ordered by Fu Hua, as he wanted to give some credit to his wife and quickly the launching of the two dresses gained a lot of attention and popularity.

It was only a few people that knew that both dresses were designed by Fu Hua and his wife, the rest were clueless about it.

Once again, Jia Li comes to the limelight as people began to speculate what FJ was up to by launching a dress made by their boss and the best graduating student of the Prestigious school of xxxxxxxxxxxx.

Many of them thought that FJ was interested in working with the young fashion designer and so were giving her a boost.

FJ made another wave when they returned the original project dress to Jia Li.

When the media asked about it, FJ replied that their Boss, Fu Hua wanted the young fashion designer, Jia Li, to have a copy of her work, as a way of encouraging her hard work.

Many people praised Fu Hua for being so thoughtful towards the young fashion designer, not knowing it was a way for the husband to show love to his wife.

Fu Hua personally returned the dress to Jia Li telling Sunny he would handle it. Normally, it wasn't right for their Boss to do that kind of work but since he wanted to do it himself, she didn't say a word.

Jia Li was so excited when Fu Hua brought the dress home.

She jumped on him out of excitement and Fu Hua caught her as he used his hands to support her.

Thank you so much, you really knew how much I wanted the dress. Jia Li said to him happily.

Of course, I knew! Your facial expression the day we were to send it out, told me how much you wanted the dress, so I had to bring it back and in your size. Fu Hua said to her.

Jia Li kissed his lips and said with her gaze on him, You are such a darling!

Am I? Fu Hua asked.

Yes! Thanks for caring about me. Jia Li said with a grateful smile.

There is no problem. Fu Hua replied as he slowly let her jump off his body.

There is one more thing I need to do. Jia Li said with her gaze on him.

And what is that? Fu Hua asked curiously.

I need your help with composing a message to reject the offers given to me by those companies. I need to send them a mail since Im not interested. Jia Li said to him.

Since she wasnt joining any company yet, she had to reject their offer, as it was the right thing to do.

Over the past several days, she got so many offers from a lot of designer companies, asking her to work with them. She had no idea how most of them got her Email address, later she guessed it may be her school that gave it out.

Fu Hua accepted to help her and so Jia Li passed her phone to him and went to use the restroom.

By the time Jia Li came back to the bedroom, Fu Hua was already through with replying to the mails so, he gave her phone back to her.

Jia Li was curious to know how he replied to the mails, so she opened one to check. Her eyes widened in shock and she proceeded to check the rest of the mails he helped her to reply and discovered it was the same text and format.

She was surprised with how direct and unfeeling his replies were and she made a mental note to ask him for this kind of help again.

Fu Hua noticed the change in her facial expressions and asked about it and Jia Li went on to complain about the replies he sent out.

Its a mature way of rejecting them. Fu Hua said she justified his style of response.

Chapter 224 – You Hit Me?

The next day when Fu Hua came to work, Sunny went to meet him. She was unhappy as she explained that Jia Li rejected their offer.

Fu Hua told her to leave the matter and focus on her job. The way he said it made Sunny think he wasnt bothered or concerned about it.

Being instructed by her Boss, she went back to her office. She felt it was a pity that such talent as Jia Li was wasted.

Seeing how popular she has been for the past several days and the big opportunities she missed, Jia Li promised to get into FJ on her own, without any help from Fu Hua.

After making this decision, she doesn't tell Fu Hua about it.

On Christmas Eve, all the members of the Fu family returned to the Fu House in preparation for the festive day.

Fu Hua's father and Uncle came back for the Christmas celebration and also returned with gifts for Jia Li's graduation because they didn't give anything to her during that period.

Before going back to the Fu House, Fu Hua and Jia Li shopped a lot. They bought new protective clothes because of the freezing weather. They also bought a lot of gifts for everyone and Jia Li bought a special present for the old man.

On the 24th of December when they arrived at the Fu House, there was a feeling of celebration in the air and Jia Li couldn't help but smile.

The entire house was decorated with Christmas decors and it was done in a grand style, as expected from the wealthiest family in Country X.

Christmas tones were playing from the lights used to decorate the Christmas tree

Jia Li fed Ocean with her hand till she was full. Fu Hua was annoyed while watching her and said, Why are you treating it like it's your child?

Ocean has been with me since she was a puppy, so its not wrong that Im attached to her. And also, Im learning and gaining experience on how to treat my child when its born. Jia Li replied as she passes one meatball to Ocean and she ate it from her hand.

Did you say your child? Does the child belong to you alone? Fu Hua asked with a frown.

Fu Hua became more annoyed and said, I feed you and the child but you have never thought about feeding me, I cant be compared to a dog now, is that it?

You are a Big Boss, how can I dare to treat you like a child? Jia Li asked with her gaze on him.

I dont care, you have to treat me well. Its snowing again, we have to go inside the house. Fu Hua said when he saw it was starting to snow.

Already, the compound was filled with snow.

Give me a minute. Jia Li said as she gave Ocean the last meatball, before rubbing her head.

Ocean, Im going back inside the house, I will come to see you tomorrow morning.

The caregiver was trained and used to take care of Ocean right from when it was a puppy, so Ocean wouldn't hurt him.

In the evening, Fu Juan came over with her husband and it was the first time Jia Li was seeing him.

Fu Juan's husband looked calm and composed and overall, he looked like he was very good looking when he was younger.

How can your brain be rotten? I brought you here to sleep for a while because there will be fireworks

Jia Li did not reply, as her eyes became misty with tears threatening to fall from her eyes.

Fu Hua got the shock of his life when he saw that she was about to cry. He immediately asked what was wrong as he placed his hands on her shoulder with a worried gaze on her.

You hit me! Jia Li cried out as tears streamed down her cheeks

You...You... why are you crying? I didnt even go hard on you and I was only joking. Fu Hua said in a dilemma.

He didnt understand how a joke turned to him hitting her and she was seriously crying because of it.

You hit me! You hit me and your child! Jia Li cried out again as she pushed him away and went to sit on the foot of the bed.

Fu Hua felt he was in deep trouble and immediately rushed to her side. He squat before her and started apologizing to her as he dried her tears with the back of his hands.

Jia Li, Im sorry okay? It wont happen again. Stop crying, Im sorry. Fu Hua saw that her tears were falling endless and immediately added...

You can hit me back, so we are even. Please dont cry anymore, I promise not to flick your forehead again. Fu Hua promised.

Jia Li stopped crying and allowed him to wipe her tears. Even she didnt understand why she would burst into tears like that.

When Fu Hua wanted to leave after calming her down, she refused and asked him to stay with her, so he had no choice but to accompany her till she fell asleep, before leaving the bedroom.

Chapter 225 – Block Of Ice

Around 11:40 PM, Fu Hua came back to wake Jia Li up. Jia Li was still sleepy and let Fu Hua help her up.

Is it time already? She asked in a slow tone.

Yeah, everyone is outside, lets get you dresses up! Fu Hua said as he took her inside the inner room and dressed her in warmer clothes before taking her outside to join the rest of the family members.

Jia Li was surprised to see Grandfather Fu outside by that time. The old man was all smiles when he saw her.

Jia Li watched the fireworks ✨ in the sky and smiled she reached for the one Fu Hua was about to light.

No way! Fu Hua said as he raised the fireworks so her hands cant reach them.

Why?! Jia Li asked with a frown.

Youre going to hurt yourself if youre not careful. Fu Hua said to her.

Im not going to hurt myself, Im not a child. Give it to me! Jia Li said as she tried to reach for it again but Fu Hua wouldnt let her.

My name is not beautiful. Jia Li said in a huff.

Whats the meaning of your name ? Fu Hua inquired as he gazed into her eyes. He was sure that he guessed the meaning of her name or is that she had no idea about it ?

Im right after all! Fu Hua said with a proud smile.

Fu Hua, give it to me! Its almost time for the count down. Jia Li said in an annoyed tone. If not for the difference in their height, she would have long snatched the fireworks from him.

What ? Jia Li said a frown.

What kind of request was that ? She thought.

You better hurry up, everyone is looking at us and the countdown is about to begin. Fu Hua said with a threat.

Jia Li glanced around and saw that the family would sometimes turn to glance at them. She felt embarrassed with displaying her childish nature in front of them.

Husband. Jia Li called out of frustration.

Good girl. Fu Hua smiled and handed it to her. Be careful not to scare the child. He reminded her.

It will have fun with mum and dad. Jia Li said as he glanced at her abdomen. Because of the thick clothes she was putting on, her small baby bump cant be seen.

While the countdown started, the fireworks started going off one after the other. And finally, when it was midnight, they screamed, Happy Christmas and released the biggest fireworks with the festive words written.

It was so beautiful seeing the word, Merry Christmas written in the sky.

Fu Hua hugged Jia Li and kissed her forehead.

It may be weird the Fu family was celebrating Christmas like New Year but that's how they run their things.

Grandfather Fu approached Fu Hua and Jia and they wished each other Merry Christmas.

Grandfather Fu said to Jia Li while pointing at Fu Hua, I have never seen my grandson celebrate with us so happily on festive periods, he's always like a block of ice.

Fu YingPei had a bottle of Champagne in his hands as he came over. He popped the champagne right in their presence, before pouring some of its contents into the glasses the servants passed to everyone.

The family made a toast to a Merry Christmas celebration before Fu YingPei brought up Jia Li's success stories.

Sister-in-law has made the Fu family proud by emerging as... and winning 2 awards... These days, she is popular and making waves in the Fashion Industry... Cheers to Jia Li!

Some healthy snacks were served to everyone, so they all ate a little before retiring for the night.

Fu Hua passes his share of snacks to Jia Li and they ate them happily. Fu Hua smiled as he watched her eat.

Jia Li glanced at him before moving close to his ear to whisper in a soft tone, Im eating for two.

Fu Hua chuckled softly and didnt know what to say to her. She was so shameless when it came to food.

Grandfather Fu smiled happily when saw Jia Li eating so well. He even added some of his snacks to her plate.

Thank you, grandfather. Jia Li said with a smile. She didnt reject the old mans goodwill and she appreciated him.

While she was eating, Fu Hua placed his left hand on her lap from under the table.

Jia Li was distracted and glanced at him but he said to her, eat your food and she fixed her gaze back on her snacks and continued munching on them.

It hadn't been up to a few seconds when Fu Hua's hands crept under her dress to caress her thighs. While doing so, he had his gaze on his empty plate while playing innocent.

Jia Li glanced at him and tried to give him a sign to stop but he wasn't looking towards her direction, then she knew that he was doing it on purpose.

She glanced around before staring back at him.. She didn't want it to be obvious that something was going on, so she continued to eat as if nothing was happening but it was kind of difficult as she couldn't ignore that hand that was creeping inside her thighs.

Chapter 226 – Your Cousin Is Heartless!

Fu Hua troubled Jia Li till she gave up on eating. She knew she had to leave the dining room, or he won't let her rest, so she excused herself and left. She said she was going to sleep, so they let her leave.

Fu Hua faked a cough before following after his little wife.

When he got to their bedroom, Jia Li was already lying under the covers. Fu Hua smiled and dimmed the light in the room before getting into bed with her.

Fu Hua chuckled softly and hugged her forcibly. Im not asking you to do anything. Just lie in my arms and sleep. I have to stop you from eating, because of the doctors words. Im only looking out for you.

If you are looking out for me, why then did you give me your share of snacks? Jia Li asked in a confused tone.

You accepted the snacks from grandfather after taking mine when you still had yours, who knew whos own you would have accepted next. Fu Hua said to her.

Jia Li finally understood the reason he distracted her from eating. She stopped throwing tantrums and allowed him to hug her to sleep.

The next morning, the Fu family members, freshened up and came out for breakfast, and at noon, they started the activities they had prepared for the Christmas celebration.

There was a treasure hunt which Fu YingPei won, singing carol sings, plus other fun games. At last, it was time to give gifts and everyone actually prepared a gift from each member of the family.

Jia Li and Fu Hua gave their gifts as one, and try received them as one, and also in singles.

The small family banquet was lively, as they all ate different festive dishes and drank to their satisfaction.

Before going to rest for the night, they opened up the letters that were sent to them from family and friends and read them aloud.

There was a letter from the Bai family, wishing the entire Fu Family a Merry Christmas!

After reading all the well wishes notes they got from others, there was nothing to go against than to retire for the night.

Jia Li was very happy because as at last year's Christmas, she couldn't join in the celebration, and when Grandfather Fu called her out, she didn't want to join them, and could only watch them.

Even Fu Hua didn't join them, as it was not his kind of thing. But since he got married to Jia Li, he has been loosening up a bit, and it looks like he's still unaware of it.

The next day in the Bai family, it looked like Bai Fen had a bad sleep last night. She had dark circles under her eyes.

Well, she hasn't been in the best of mood since she saw Jia Li on the news, so it would be a given that she would have sleepless nights.

She was angry and jealous when she saw Jia Li on the news, and how popular she was. She thought that Fu Hee would have a more profound reason to accept Jia Li since she was doing so well.

The thought of ruining Jia Li's reputation came to her mind, but she couldn't. Although she still had those pictures of Jia Li and Li Huan she took at the cafe, she couldn't use them.

The Fu family will immediately find out she was the one that released the photos to the media since they knew she took them.

She was not about to make a foolish mistake blindly, so she deleted ✕ the pictures from her phone

Bai Fen spent the rest of her day, thinking about how to make a comeback. At the end of the day, she couldn't think of anything new and decided to patiently wait for her daughter to come home.

A patient dog eats the fattest bone Or so she thought.

Bai Fen was not the only person dissatisfied with Jia Li's sudden media attention and success, Jia Li's Auntie, Mu Keer has been unhappy as well.

Since the day Mu Keer saw Jia Li on the news, her mind had not rested. She kept cursing Jia Li, and she told her children that Jia Li was heartless...

Your cousin is heartless! She married a big shot, and she is already so popular, but she doesn't care about us.

My Keer's bitterness was too much that she has no peace. She is lazy and doesn't want to work. She only wants to live off other people's hard work and sweat.

Quickly, A few days passed, and Fu Ling was launching his gaming company, just 5 days before New Year. The entire Fu family went to support him.

Grandfather Fu invited some of his friends for the opening ceremony/launching of the new gaming company.

Jia Li didn't come with them because of the mediation attention she was getting. So, to keep her safe, Fu Hua did not allow her to go with them.

It was now at this game launching that Fu ChunHua was feeling proud of herself. Her son was now the CEO of his company, and there was nothing that could make her prouder than this moment.

She forgot she has been against him playing games and trying to develop his. The only thing she can remember now was that her son was doing well.

Many distinguished guests came for the game launching, and for the first time, Fu Ling was seen in a suit. He looked quite handsome and gentlemanly.

The Bai family were in attendance, and when Bai Fen tried to greet Fu Hee, the latter did not spare her a glance.. Bai Fen was embarrassed but still faked a smile.

Chapter 227 – Escaped Like A Little Kitten

Quickly, New Year came and passed, and the Fu family celebrated it in grand style, with only the extended family members in attendance.

For the family banquet, there was lots of food and drinks for everyone. Jia Li was treated like an egg

Fu Chunhua's sister who was supposed to come after the New Year celebration did not come again. She got a problematic call and had to deal with it.

Jia Li and Fu Hua spent 2 more days at the Fu house before deciding to go back to their home.

Jia Li went to see Ocean, and take her with her since they were already leaving but it looks like Ocean's new friend has bonded with her.

Ocean's new friend was a dog of the same breed that belonged to Grandfather Fu, it was a military male dog. Grandfather decided to bring him home from the camp, after making a decision.

Ocean, you have to say goodbye to your friend, we are leaving. Jia Li said as she rubbed Ocean's head while holding onto the leash with the other hand.

The ferocious-looking military dog that was locked in his cage, started barking when Jia Li and Ocean turned to leave.

Jia Li waved goodbye to Grandfather Fus dog and continued walking with Ocean by her side.

When Jia Li got to their house with Fu Hua, she noticed a total of 4 military men that were outside their house and was surprised.

What are they doing here ? Jia Li whispered to Fu Hua when they stepped out of the car.

Grandfather sent them because of you. If you want to go out alone, at least one of them has to follow you out. Fu Hua explained.

I dont need them, why do they have to follow me out? Jia Li inquired with a frown.

Youre carrying a descendant of the Fu family, so of course you need their protection. Fu Hua said to her as he hugged her shoulder and walked towards the building.

I heard from Grandfather that you once served in the army right? Jia Li asked as they walked inside the building.

Yes, I did, for 5 years. Fu Hua replied.

Wow! You must have suffered a lot back then. Jia Li said to him.

Where do you want us to go for Valentines Day ? Fu Hua asked.

Yes. We at least have to go for one vacation before your stomach wont let you. Fu Hua said with a smile. He was talking about her stomach becoming bigger.

Thinking about their baby that was almost 4 months old, made him feel proud. He couldnt wait for their baby to be born, so he could spoil the child and the mother.

I dont know many places, you can decide. I just want a place to relax, eat good food and look at the beautiful view. Jia Li said with a smile.

Okay, I will look into it. Go on and rest, I have work to do. Fu Hua said to her as he opened the door of their bedroom for her.

I want to accompany you. Jia Li whined

No, you need to get some rest. I will come back in 2 hours. Fu Hua said to her.

But I want to go with you, I promise not to distract you. Jia Li pleaded as she held onto his arm with a cute facial expression. She didnt want to stay alone in the room, she wanted to accompany him to the workshop.

Fu Hua saw how stubborn she was and agreed. Okay, you can come with me.

Yes! Thank you! Jia Li said with a smile as she followed behind him but the next words Fu Hua said caused her to think twice.

Fu Hua put his hands in his pockets and said while walking forward, If you are not scared of being eaten, you can come along?

After Fu Hua said that, he didnt hear the footsteps behind him again, so he turned and was in time to see Jia Li enter the room and close the door with a loud thud.

How could Jia Li allow herself to be eaten in the study again? She was only going there to sit and watch him do his thing because she wanted his company. But she had to run for her poor life.

The way she escaped like a little kitten, was so funny to Fu Hua. Since she didnt want to listen, he had to threaten her with being eaten, and it worked.

By the time Fu Hua finished working and returned to the bedroom, Jia Li was already fast asleep, with a book in her hand. She was reading a book on Health care during pregnancy before she slept off.

Fu Hua took the book away, and put a bookmark on the page she was reading before keeping it on the nightstand. Next, he covered her with the duvet and went into the inner room.

Over the next few days, Fu Hua was working and planning their Valentines Day vacation.. At last, he chose to plan their vacation in Berkeley Springs WV.

Chapter 228 – Why Did You Bring These Type Of Panties?

Fu Hua had Jia Li in mind when he chose Berkeley Springs for their Valentines Day getaway.

Couples could enjoy the decadent sensation of soaking in the water of the warm springs of Berkely Springs, a natural spa that has been around so long that George Washington bathed there.

In Berkeley Springs which is located in California, USA, Couples can share a Roman bath, a 4-foot deep tiled tub in a private bathing chamber at the State Parks lovely bathhouse.

The night before Jia Li and Fu Hua left for California, Fu Hua helped Jia Li to pack thick clothes for their 3 days stay there, as the weather over there will be very cold.

Early in the morning of the next day, they left for California in a private jet. They were not alone, as there were soldiers with them for protection.

Jia Li felt bad leaving Ocean alone but there was nothing she could do since Fu Hua didnt let her take her with them.

Inside the private jet on their way to California, there were so many foods and healthy snacks for Jia Li and Fu Hua to eat and especially Jia Li, since she was pregnant and had a good appetite.

Fu Hua brought some books for her, so she wouldn't be bored to death. All Jia Li did before they got to California was to eat, sleep, read books and converse with Fu Hua, who still had work to do on his laptop.

When they both arrived in California, they lodged in the hotel's private suite they booked before coming.

Jia Li was amazed at how huge and beautiful their suite was but she was not moved by it because she was now used to luxury.

While arranging their clothes in the closet, Fu Hua picked up Jia Li's panties and held them with his two fingers, and asked with a frown, Why did you bring this type of panties?

Jia Li saw her cotton panties in his hands and immediately went over and snatched them from him.

What kind of panties were you expecting me to bring? Jia Li asked. She was the one that packed her inner-wear.

You should have brought something sexy and hot. Fu Hua complained.

Jia Li's face turned red in a blush. She thought that Fu Hua was always thinking of doing bad things to her, what a shameless husband!

The doctor said I should wear cotton panties and clothes to be comfortable during my pregnancy. Jia Li explained and put away her inner-wear.

Fu Hua nodded in understanding and didn't bring up the topic again. He agreed that his wife should receive the best treatment while pregnant, as her body would be very sensitive.

Do you want to eat or sleep first? Fu Hua asked her after arranging their clothes in the wardrobe.

I will take a short nap before eating. Jia Li replied as she walked towards the bedroom.

Okay, sleep then. When you wake up, tell me what you would like to eat. Fu Hua said as he accompanied her to the room and helped her cover her legs with the duvet.

When Jia Li woke up, she placed her food order before going to bathe, by the time she was through, her food order had already arrived. You need to see the joy on her face when she saw the table of dishes.

It's already past 7 PM, are you sure about that? Fu Hua asked.

Jia Li nodded as she pulled his arm. Fu Hua sighed and abandoned his work and went into the room to get more protective clothes for her.

Jia Li had a satisfactory smile when they returned to their room. It was such a lovely atmosphere outside, seeing couples holding hands and kissing.

The next day which was the 14th of February, Fu Hua brought breakfast in bed for Jia Li. He fed her with his hands and Jia Li wondered the reason for the early morning sweetness.

Are we celebrating something today? Jia Li asked as she ate the food in the spoon brought to her mouth.

Today is 14th. Fu Hua said as he blew on the food before sending it inside her mouth.

Oh. Jia Li replied as she finally got the message. Today was Valentines Day, so he was acting extra sweet towards her.

After eating to her satisfaction, Fu Hua set the bath for her and she went in to have a warm bath. She felt so refreshed when she got out of the bath.

She put on the clothes Fu Hua arranged for her, before going to the sitting room to wait for him to shower and come out, so they could go out together as per his arrangement.

Fu Hua took Jia Li to a beauty spa. He was concerned about her and asked the attendants to take good care of her and to take note of the beauty products they would be using on her since she was pregnant.

It would be bad if the wrong cream was applied to her skin since it was very sensitive during this period.

At first, Fu Hua didnt want to get a spa treatment but Jia Li convinced him to get one and he relented. The two enjoyed a body massage before they left that place.

Fu Hua took her out for lunch, before taking her shopping.

Why do we need to get more clothes, I already have enough clothes in my box. Jia Li reminded him.

We are going on a date this evening, so I have to get you something new. Fu Hua responded with a smile.

Jia Li could only agree with him and let him drag her to the boutique to choose some clothes for them both.. After that, Fu Hua took her to have her hair and makeup done.

Chapter 229 – So Much For Her

Jia Li looked like a cute little doll by the time she was all dolled up. Fu Hua was satisfied with her looks and made payments before taking her out.

Jia Li complained that she was hungry after the soldier that came out with them, opened the car door for them and they got inside the back seat.

Fu Hua brought out a packet of Almond nuts from one of the compartments and gave it to her.

When did you put this here? Jia Li asked in surprise as she took the packets of almond nuts from him.

In the morning. Fu Hua replied. Fu Hua saw the surprise sitting on her face and explained further...

I knew you would be hungry and since I didn't want you to eat anything unhealthy, I had to bring it along.

Jia Li was surprised that he came prepared and he has ended up ruining her chances of eating hamburgers. She knew there was no way he would allow her to eat junk food and one with high calories but she was craving a lot of things that were unhealthy, which left her unsatisfied.

Jia Li and Fu Hua went back to their suite and Fu Hua knowing that his little wife was unhappy with his smart moves on her, he orders some food for her to fill her up.

Jia Li felt delighted seeing the food order and ate to her satisfaction. As Fu Hua watched her eat, he reminded her, If you eat too much, I will cancel our date tonight.

His threat worked because Jia Li did not eat too much while thinking she had nothing to lose, since she would still get to eat again during their date.

It was a romantic feeling with the soft love music playing in the background with lovers sitting on a table of 2 and chatting happily with each other.

Fu Hua and Jia Li's coat

After Jia Li and Fu Hua settled down on their table, the order Fu Hua made already while booking the place, arrived.

There was a small red velvet and chocolate cake with Happy Valentines Day written on it.

Seeing the food, wine, chocolates, cake

Thank you! Happy Valentine! Jia Li said with gratitude.

Happy Valentine! Fu Hua said as he raised his wine glass and made a toast to each other.

Jia Li enjoyed their candlelight romantic Valentines dinner with Fu Hua. When they were about to leave, Jia Li ordered for the cake and chocolates to be packed away for her, as she couldn't allow them to waste.

Jia Li didn't keep the cake and chocolates for herself and instead, she gave them to the soldiers that came with them to California.

Fu Hua liked her gesture as he was even worried about her health if she kept them all to herself.

From the restaurant, they went on a movie date. Jia Li felt excited as this was going to be her first cinema experience and that too with Fu Hua.

Fu Hua didnt buy a cup of hot coffee, popcorn, or coke for Jia Li instead, he brought her packets of Almond nuts along, which she didnt even touch because she was full after the dinner.

While watching the movie, Fu Hua would at times, get touchy with her, and Jia Li would be a little distracted and would manage to hit his hands off.

Because the lights in the room were dimmed, Fu Hua wasnt bothered that anyone would see them. Well even if they were seen, he wouldnt bat an eye.

Finally, when the hot movie was over, Jia Li asked him why he purchased tickets for that kind of movie.

Dont you like it? Fu Hua asked.

Its not what I mean. Jia Li said and then stopped talking.

Jia Li took quick steps towards the bed and got a hold of the gift bag that had some weight. She opened the paper bag without thinking and saw a lot of goodies there.

Things like perfume, a box of an expensive pendant customized for her, chocolates, cookies, a limited edition of FJs designer bag and matching shoe, some wads of cash in dollars

Do you like them? Fu Hua asked as he wakes into the room with his hands in his pockets.

This is too much for me, how could you do so much for me? Jia Li asked as she started to tear up.

Dont cry, its nothing. I have lots of money, so I should at least be able to provide the basic things my wife needs. Fu Hua said as he came to her side and helped her up to sit on the bed.

I feel so bad for not preparing anything for you. Jia Li said in a sad tone.

I dont need you to buy things for me, I wont accept it. Fu Hua said. He wouldnt feel happy for Jia Li to spend her money to get him things, he felt it would be like he was bullying her.

What a weird way to think.

Then, tell me what you want as a gift, I cant stand not doing anything for you. Jia Li said while looking him in the eyes.

All I need from you is good s*x. Fu Hua said with a smile as he caressed her soft cheeks.

What a shameless demand from Fu Hua!

Chapter 230 – The Only One That Is Weird

Jia Li instinctively pushed his hands away. Is that all you want? She asked with an unafraid look.

Fu Hua smiled and added, I want you to love me as I do.

But I love you! Jia Li blurted out with her gaze on him. Then she when she recalled that she had confessed her feelings to him, she blushed and looked away from his smiling gaze.

Beautiful, what did you say? Fu Hua asked as he moved her face to face him with a smile. He just heard her confess to him and he wanted to hear that again.

I didnt say anything. Jia Li replied as she avoided eye contact with him. How could she repeat her words, I mean her confession?

But I heard you say, you love me already. Is that true? Fu Hua asked.

You didnt hear well. Jia Li insisted.

That means you said something. Fu Hua said as he chuckled softly. Teasing his wife has always been fun.

Jia Li glared at him as she felt annoyed for teasing her.

I heard you say you love me, I love you too. Fu Hua said as he caressed her face before drawing her face closer to him.

In that kind of ambiance, he was about to kiss her but she didnt let him. She put her hands on his chest to block him.

Freshen up. Jia Li said to him.

You really know how to ruin a good mood. You glare at your husband now, you scold him and you refuse him. Have I been spoiling you too much? Fu Hua said as he let her go and messed her hair up.

The last part is true and I chose it. Continue, don't slow down. Your baby is watching as well. Jia Li said as she caressed her abdomen.

I want to speak to my child tonight, go and wash up. Fu Hua said as he helped her up.

He wants to speak with the child? Jia Li thought while making her way into the bathroom while Fu Hua stayed back to pack up the gifts he got for her.

Jia Li didn't seem to understand Fu Hua's logic of talking to their child when he wanted her to be half-naked.

The baby can feel how intimate we are and grow happily. Fu Hua said while sitting up on the bed. His facial expressions were serious and it was hard for Jia Li to tell if he was lying.

Where did you hear that from? She asked.

Have you forgotten the doctor mentioned that our child can feel our love for it and each other? It is also good for our child to grow happily. Don't you want our child to grow happily? Fu Hua asked as he reached for her clothes.

Jia Li held his hand and said to him, Wait... wait, I feel that you are deceiving. How can I be naked under the covers while you caress my abdomen and talk to our child? Is there no other way?

What are you afraid of, I'm not going to do what you're thinking. Fu Hua tried to convince her as he closed up on her.

Jia Li knew he was lying to her. She had an idea of what he wanted to do but she let him. Today was Valentine's Day she thought. It wouldn't be bad if she shows him a little love.

Under the covers, Fu Hua enjoyed caressing Jia Li's body. He kissed her cheek, arm while putting his hand underneath her nightdress to caress her legs.

Fu Hua chuckled as he could feel how annoyed she was.

Don't think too much, I just want to touch and sleep naked with you. Fu Hua said.

Fu Hua really kept his promise. He only touched her a few times and hugged her to sleep. But the next morning when he woke up, his promise had already expired.

With his little brother troubling him, he needed to find a release after holding in for a long time. He was human, not a robot.

How was it possible to sleep half-naked with his wife under the covers and he won't have an erection? That wasn't possible.

Jia Li woke up to his kisses and touches. She didn't need to ask to know he already wanted her, as she could feel his little brother poking her from behind.

Being the good wife that she was, she complied and gave herself up for sacrifice.

Fu Hua was particularly gentle as he loved her dearly on the bed. When they finished their deed, they rested in each others arms before Jia Li got so pressed that she had to leave the bed.

After breakfast, Fu Hua took Jia Li to soak in Beverly warm Springs. Jia Li felt her muscles relax after soaking for a while. When they went back to their hotel room, Fu Hua helped her to put on some cream on her back, before they got dressed and left again to visit other places.

On their way back to their hotel room, they decided to take a short walk, while the soldiers followed closely behind them.

I dont mind. Jia Li said happily as she took out her phone to take pictures of him. She finally understood his warnings. He stood like a tree and had that cold gaze.

Jia Li tried to make him smile, and he said, Its weird taking photos.

Its not weird, you are the one that is weird. Jia Li said as she glanced through the pictures she took of him to see if there was any one good enough.

Fu Hua snatched her phone from her and glanced at the pictures she just took of him. Ugly. He said with a frown and preceded to delete them.

Jia Li was still in a daze when she felt the pair of strong arms hug her from behind.

If you want beautiful pictures, you have to smile. Fu Hua said as he kissed her ear lobe.

Im smiling, focus. Jia Li said to him immediately. She was embarrassed at how shameless he could be in public.

Im thinking of how much money I will make if I sell these pictures to the media since you banned them from taking pictures of you. Jia Li teased.

You can only do that when youre sure you dont want to get out of bed for at least a week.. Fu Hua said as a smirk slowly turned up his lips.

Chapter 231 – A Good Way To Surprise Them

Jia Li found her life important, so she wouldn't dare that. When she thought about not being able to get out of bed for a week, she thought there was no way she could survive that.

Early in the morning of the next day, Jia Li and Fu Hua left for County X (China). Jia Li was half asleep when they got back home, so Fu Hua had to support her to the bedroom to get more sleep.

A few days later, Jia Li took Fu Hua on a date when she found out it was his birthday, as she almost forgot about it and Fu Hua didn't say anything about it.

Fu Hua was surprised when his little wife asked him out on a date while he was still at work.

Do you know how to reserve a restaurant? He asked over the phone as he smiled.

I asked Brother YingPei for help. Jia Li replied happily.

I will come home on time to go on the date my wife invited me to. Fu Hua said with a smile.

Bye. Jia Li said and ended the call. She chuckled happily and got dressed before leaving the house with her purse.

She wanted to get him a gift, so she shopped with her card and not the one he gave to her. She has lots of money now and a month and some weeks back, FJ transferred her pay for the rights to her dress.

The things Jia Li bought were not cheap but she didn't mind spending a little money on her husband. She only hopes he will accept them and not be annoyed that she got him something.

It's not a special place but you will see once we get there. I want you to have this first, I will wait for you downstairs. Jia Li said as she handed the shop bag that contained the gifts to him, before leaving the bedroom.

She was a bit nervous as she didn't know what his reaction would be like, so she chose to leave.

Fu Hua was surprised by the gifts because they were expensive but more importantly, he could tell she chose the gifts carefully since she chose the style of things he uses.

Fu Hua did not react the way Jia Li was thinking he would react with the gifts. When he met her in the sitting room, he thanked her for the gifts.

The date Jia Li arranged was very simple but at a good restaurant. They had good exotic foods on their table and laughed over a glass of wine.

Jia Li didn't need a reminder not to drink too much because of her baby, she had only a glass of wine.

While chatting, the cake Jia Li ordered arrived and she sang along with the people that brought the cake over.

...Happy Birthday my dearest darling...

When Jia Li finished singing, the staff left, except one of them who was ordered by Jia Li to capture those moments.

Make a wish and cut the cake. Jia Li said as she clapped her hands in excitement.

Fu Hua was happy with the surprise that he listened to what she said. He was satisfied with her surprise.

In the morning before he left the house and when he came back around noon, she didnt say anything to him regarding his birthday until now, so he was quite happy.

Jia Li fed Fu Hua a piece of cake and he did the same as well.

On their way back home, Fu Hua said to her, You have really spent a lot of money today, why didnt you use the card I gave to you?

I wanted to spend my money on you. Jia Li replied.

The money I gave to you, belongs to you. Fu Hua said as he brushed aside a few strands of her hair.

I didnt work for it. Jia Li said with a smile.

She wanted to spend her hard-earned money on him and that was the only way to show her sincerity at this time.

My little wife has grown up, thank you for today. Fu Hua said happily.

On the first week in March, a flight ✈ from a foreign country landed in City Bs airport. Some minutes later, two young ladies were seen stepping out from the arrivals while chatting happily and they both seemed to be good friends from their interactions.

...this will surely be a good way to surprise them. The taller young lady said as a smile spread across her face.

I told you, when you get home, greet Aunty for me. The other young lady said before parting ways with the other one.

The cab the second lady took, drove straight to the Fu Residence. When the security at the gate recognized her, they immediately let the cab drive inside the compound, although it was against the rules.

They havent seen that young miss in a long time and now that she came back after a few years, they just had to let her go in with the cab.

After the cab driver helped the young lady take out her bags from the booth, he drove away immediately. He didnt know whos the house he came to but seeing the security at the gate, plus the soldiers standing close to the magnificent building, he knew it wasnt childs play and left immediately so as not to get into trouble.

One of the soldiers, went to the young ladys side to help her with her bags.

This place hasnt changed a lot.. She said with a smile as she made her way inside the house.

Chapter 232 – Fu FangSu

When the young lady stepped inside the house, a servant was passing by with a duster when she saw the familiar face, and she almost screamed in shock.

Thats right, the young lady that just stepped in is Fu FangSu, Fu Hua, and Fu YingPeis younger sister, the most pampered grandchild of the Fu family, the old mans favorite grandchild.

Hearing that the youngest grandchild of the Fu family was back, the servants came to take a look. They greeted her respectfully and two of them took her bags to her bedroom.

It was a good thing her bedroom was cleaned every week by the servants, so she didnt have to worry about dust.

Where is everybody? Fu FangSu asked as she looked around with a calm demeanor. She looked beautiful and young and seemed to be of Jia Lis age.

What did you say? FangSu is back? Fu Hee asked in shock as she immediately got off the bed.

Yes, Maam. The servant replied with a smile. And before she could blink her eyes, Fu Hee had already rushed out of the room.

Mum, it's me. Fu FangSu said as she embraced her mother with a big smile.

I missed you so much, dear daughter. Fu Hee cried out as she hugged her daughter tightly in her arms.

Fu Hee was already emotional on seeing her daughter and as she hugged her, her eyes became teary.

I missed you so much, mum! FangSu said as she hugged her dearest mother.

After a while, Fu Hee pulled her to sit over on the sofa and immediately grabbed her hand and looked her in the eyes.

SuSu, you are so slim, are you eating properly at all? Fu Hee asked as she sniffed. Seeing how slim her daughter was, she felt like crying.

Maybe all the troubles and difficulties she had been going through for the past few months, overwhelmed her and seeing her daughter, triggered those emotions.

Mum, Im eating fine. Im only on a diet because of the last Fashion Week just before I decided to come back. FangSu explained with a smile.

Still, you look so slim. Im so worried about you. But how come you didnt tell anyone you were coming back home, you gave our old mother a big shock by appearing just like that. Fu Hee said with worry, as her eyes remained teary.

Fu Hee wiped her mothers tear-stained cheeks and said to her, I wanted to surprise all of you and it worked.

You really gave me a shock. You also took a big risk. There are so many cars in the house with security but you took a cab back home after being away for so many years. Fu Hee chided her in a soft tone.

Alright mum, stop complaining! I am here now, it wont happen again. Fu Hee said as she chuckled softly. She thought her mother worried about insignificant matters unnecessarily but it felt good to be basking in her mothers love and concern.

How can it happen again? Im not allowing you to leave next time. Fu Hee said as she embraced her again.

Sir, Miss FangSu is back. Butler Lu announced happily.

Grandfather Fus hand slipped and he made a mistake but he wasnt angry. He put his brush down and glanced at his Butler to confirm the news.

Sir, the young miss is back, she is in the sitting room with her mother. Butler Lu revealed, as he couldnt stop himself from smiling, as this was good news, or so he thought.

This is good... my granddaughter is back, this is a blessing! Grandfather Fu said in an excited tone as he got up and left his study with Butler Lu following closely behind him.

There were only a few things that made the old man of the Fu family so happy and it seems that Fu FangSus return was one of them.

Grandfather Fu was excited that his precious granddaughter was back after a long time. She was the person he doted on the most amongst his grandchildren and she was his favorite.

FangSu was still chatting with her mother when she heard her old mans voice and his footsteps. An exciting look could be seen on her face when she saw her grandfather and she immediately abandoned her mother and ran to hug the old man.

SuSu! Grandfather Fu called out happily as his dearest granddaughter came to embrace him. FangSu was careful not to put her weight on him.

SuSu, if I didnt come out, you wouldnt have come to greet me?
Grandfather Fu asked as he feigned anger.

FangSu released the old man and said while acting like his spoiled little princess, Grandfather, how dare I not come to meet you? Mother saw me first, so I had to greet her and I was about coming to find you when you came over. Forgive me, grandfather.

How can I bear to hold something against you? You are welcome back to your home. Grandfather Fu said to her.

Thank you, grandfather! FangSu said with a smiling gaze.

Now that you are back, you need to freshen up and rest properly, the kitchen will serve you some snacks first while preparing the local dishes for you. Grandfather Fu said.

I can't wait to eat the local dishes, I missed them a lot over there, FangSu said with a pout.

You will enjoy them. Go and relax, I will call everyone back home to celebrate your return. Grandfather Fu said while patting her shoulder, then turning to Fu Hee, he said, Allow SuSu to rest. There is a lot of time for you two to catch up.

Yes, father.. Fu Hee said respectfully.
