Chapter 531 – A Fire Burning In His Heart

‘Who was that lady you were speaking with just now, and I saw you take her to Grandfather, is she your ‘girlfriend’? YingPei asked as a mischievous smile played on his face.

Fu Ling put his hands inside his front trouser pockets and replied, ‘Yes.’

‘Where did you pick her up from?’ YingPei asked with interest. He wanted to know his cousin’s tactics with picking up girls in less than 24 hours.

‘She works for me, she is my personal assistant.’ Fu Ling replied.

‘What!’ Fu YingPei exclaimed in surprise before going forward to ask, ‘You are doing office romance now?’

Fu Ling frowned. ‘What office romance? All of this happened on short notice, and it was convenient for me to pick her. She works for me, and she will be able to relate more to my situation.’

YingPei placed his hand on his shoulder and asked, ‘Are you planning to date her?’

‘I don’t like mixing my personal life with my work life, so I can’t date her, it will be bothersome, and she is not really my type.’ Fu Ling replied with furrowed brows.

YingPei nodded and said to him, 'Good luck with deceiving Grandfather till the end.'

When it was time to leave, Fu Hee tried to separate the little girl from her parents, but she refused and began to cry.

The arrangement was that Jia Li and Fu Hua would spend the night together in their home, then the next day, the little bun would be brought to them early in the morning so they can travel together for their honeymoon.

Grandfather Fu walked over and asked the little bun to come to him. Jasmine glanced at her great grandfather and slowly stopped crying, but she didn't stretch out her hands to him, so the old man had to come to her side and lift her in his arms.

'Don't cry, we are going home to see Ocean, Avery, and Archie. Great-grandpa will also give you some strawberries and chocolates. Oh! that's right, we have some Ice cream in the fridge. What would you like?.' Grandfather Fu asked as he carried Jasmine in his arm and walked towards his car, while Fu Lei and Fu Geming followed after him.

As his aged voice faded, Jia Li sighed in relief. The little bun was hard to please especially when you want to talk her out of her plans.

After Jia Li and Fu Hua left in their car, YingPei went to meet Daiyu before sending her and her friends off.

They were going to the hotel rooms that were already booked for them. When they left for the church wedding in the morning, the servants already sent their stuff to their hotel room. As for the properties of the Fu female family members, they had already sent them back to the Fu Mansion, so there was no need for them to return.

Back at home, as the driver carrying Jia Li and Fu was driving in, a van was leaving. Jia Li was surprised and asked Fu Hua about the van.

‘They just delivered our wedding gifts, so they are leaving.’

‘Are you saying that we got so many wedding gifts?’ Jia Li asked with her mouth agape.

Jia Li was already used to the wealth of the Fu family members, but the van that just drove out of their house premises was too big to contain their wedding gifts, so she was surprised.

‘I am the first grandchild of the Fu family from my grandfather’s side to get married, and our family is already very influential, so it is a given that we would receive so many gifts.’ Fu Hua replied.

Now, this was not just about the Fu family being influential. Fu Hua was also influential and had a lot of business partners who would like to curry his favor by sending him so many expensive wedding gifts.

Another reason is that the Fu family had a lot of money, so giving them money as a wedding gift was meaningless. And since that was the case, buying them expensive gifts that were useful, made sense.

When Jia Li and Fu Hua walked into their bedroom and saw the new decorations and set up, they felt warmed up in their hearts.

‘What kind of night are we going to have?’ Fu Hua asked as a playful smile turned up on his lips.

‘A calm and warm night because I’m very tired.’ Jia Li replied with a smile before walking into their walk-in closet.

Fu Hua followed after her and asked, 'Are you for real? This is our wedding night, we can't just get to bed like that.'

'Who says we can't sleep on our wedding night? I'm tired, and I just need a warm bubble bath with rose petals and a bottle of champagne. And after that, I want to lie in your embrace and sleep peacefully.' Jia Li replied as she sat on the stool and took off her jewelry while glancing at the mirror.

Fu Hua smiled and said to her, 'Your idea is not bad. I'm very happy that you would want to sleep in my embrace, but what if a fire begins to burn in my heart?'

Jia Li blushed as she understood what he was talking about, but she still replied to him, 'Then you would have to endure it until we embark on our honeymoon.'

Fu Hua chuckled softly and came behind her to embrace and kiss her neck. 'You are beginning to get naughty.'

'Who taught me that?.' Jia Li asked as she gazed at him with a smile from the mirror.

Fu Hua helped Jia Li to get off her dress and to lose the pins that were used to style her hair. Seeing his wife half-naked, made him smile happily.

The bathroom was close by, so Jia Li didn't bother to put on some clothes before going there, and besides, her bathrobe was in the bathroom.

Without taking much time, Fu Hua undressed and joined her in the bathroom.. When he arrived Jia Li was already running their bath.

Chapter 532 - Bullying Jia Li

There was a bottle of champagne in a bucket of ice with two glasses of Champagne close to the bathtub, just as Jia Li desired.

There were already some rose petals in the basket placed next to the bathtub, so all Jia Li had to do was to put them in the bath and add the special essential oil in the water.

Jia Li's tensed shoulders immediately relaxed after she got into the tub. She inhaled and exhaled beautifully with her eyes closed. And when she opened them, Fu Hua was already in the tub with her.

Pulling her back to rest on his chest, Fu Hua hugged her waist and said to her in a low tone, 'How can you think of bathing comfortably with this thing poking your back?'

'If you have any ideas, let's bath separately, who knows, you might slip in from behind.' Jia Li replied and attempted to leave his arms but he held her tightly and asked her not to move.

'Don't move, just stay here and nothing will happen, I promise you.' Fu Hua said in a low tone.

Jia Li sighed and sat without turning to glance at him because of his warning, 'Are you not torturing the two of us? That thing poking my back it's making me uncomfortable as well. How can we chat in this kind of ambiance?'

'We are not going to have s*x here but we can do other things, don't you agree?' Fu Hua asked.

Jia Li feigned ignorance as she replied, 'I know. We can do other things like chatting. We can chat about the interesting places to visit on our honeymoon. We can talk about FJ's next fashion show and plan Jasmine's next birthday party.'

In order to punish her for pretending not to know what he was talking about, Fu Hua slammed her buttocks against him, so she could feel his arousal.

When Jia Li felt his strong arousal, she dared not move her buttocks at all. 'What are you doing!'

'I told you that you just have to be obedient. Come, let's have a drink.' Fu Hua replied after staying calm for a few minutes, before proceeding to pour some Champagne in their glasses.

After his threat, Jia Li learned to be obedient. She clinked glasses

Back at the hotel, Daiyu did not remain tight-lipped as she was during the wedding reception. After having a bath and changing into a set of comfortable nightdress, DanDan and Chang Chang came into her room.

Daiyu of course knew what they came for after seeing those obvious smiles on their faces. She smiled back at them and let them into her room.

Immediately they all settled on her bed, they began to ask questions concerning YingPei and she spilled the truth to them.

'I still can't believe this. Immediately you said you were ready to date, you got yourself a man, did you plan all of these?' Chang Chang asked with widened eyeballs.

'Do I look like I have any hideous thought? I didn't plan anything.' Daiyu replied.

DanDan said, 'You and young master YingPei doesn't look like a good match but things might work out between you two. Chang Chang and I will be praying you don't beat him up on your first date tomorrow.'

'Am I a tyrant? I have repented long ago and besides, it's not like I want to end up in jail for beating up a member of the Fu family, I can't end my life that way.' Daiyu replied.

Chang Chang looked like she still didn't believe her, so she added, 'I really wish you can remember not to hit him. If he infuriates you, just stand up and leave that place, don't go about pouring drinks on him or breaking a bottle on his head or even kicking him in that area.'

'Enough! I already told the two of you that I have changed. Which man would like to end up with a partner that beats him? It would be weird right?' Daiyu said with a frown.

'Old habits don't die hard.' DanDan said in a low tone and looked away.

'You...you...' Daiyu stammered while pointing fingers at her but Chang Chang hit it away gently with a smile.

'Why don't we think of how to tease Jia Li tomorrow, today is her wedding night and tomorrow morning she is leaving for her honeymoon. I'm sure she would have a pleasant night.'

Daiyu and DanDan suddenly thought of the same thing as Chang Chang. They looked at each other and chuckled hard.

'Thanks to that special essential bath oil we provided, things should be going smoothly on her end.' DanDan said with an ominous smile.

Daiyu crossed her legs and said, 'I just hope she wouldn't be bullied too much tonight, so she won't come after us.'

'Relax, I don't think she will ever find out we are the cause for her beautiful night well spent, after all, it's normal for couples to do that thing on their wedding night.' Chang Chang said with an evil smile.

'It would be nice if she gives us another child after this outcome. The three of us fighting over Jasmine won't do.' Daiyu said with her eyes closed.

DanDan was the first to burst into laughter after they said their evil plans for Jia Li before Chang Chang and Daiyu joined her.

'Somehow, I'm beginning to feel bad that we are bullying Jia Li.' Daiyu said with a small smile.

'We are aware that we are bullying her but it is in a good way. We only make the best plans for her.' Chang Chang said while nodding.

The three friends ended up chatting for a long time before DanDan and Chang Chang retired to their bedrooms.

Out there, the internet was in an uproar and matters became worse after the Fu family released an official statement concerning Jia Li and Fu Hua's wedding and their guests' response to the announcement.

Now, everyone can believe that Jia Li and Fu Hua actually wedded that day.. There were lots of positive comments from fans and a few nasty ones from jealous people.

Chapter 533 - Provocation

You all have to trust Feng Alix for not knowing her place. These days, she cared less about anyone's opinion of her. She didn't care if people thought that she still loved Fu Hua or that she was jealous of Jia Li since she couldn't be with Fu Hua. She just reacts to anything she wants to react to and gives her own opinion without minding.

As everyone was talking about Jia Li and Fu Hua's wedding, she too just learned about it and was provoked in her spirit.

She still liked Fu Hua so of course, she would be jealous of any news that linked him and Jia Li together. Now, something big as a wedding happened between them and it was being talked about by almost everyone.

There was no way Feng Alix would keep her thoughts and her hands to herself after seeing this news trend. She posted something on her social media page which attracted a lot of attention and curses at her.

'Never making a mistake of having a child before a proper wedding but I guess some women are so loose as to open their legs without thinking because of their greed.'

Feng Alix was under attack a few minutes after making that post. She was dragged by her enemies but because she was thick-skinned, she remained unmoved.

Someone who was infuriated by her misconduct made a post and tagged her.

'Some greedy and shameless women who do not know their place, seduce someone's father and grandfather because of wealth and benefits they would rip from the union. Such women are downgraded and a nuisance to the society and should be gotten rid of @AlixFeng don't you agree ?'

Many people who have been annoyed by Feng Alix tongue-lashed her. They made so many nasty comments and tagged her since she turned off her comment section for her current post.

Someone went as far as to call her a coward for not calling her names and also for turning off her comment section.

Feng Alix replied to that person saying that she doesn't want so broke-ass people who are jobless and have nothing better to do, to make any nasty comments on her page.

Feng Alix on the other hand who doesn't have anything better to do, relaxed by the pool area of her house (Mr. Suarez) while drinking a glass of wine.

She looked as if she wasn't bothered by the nasty comments directed towards her. And truly, she wasn't bothered about them. The only thing that was pricking her heart was Jia Li and Fu Hua's wedding pictures which she was currently staring at.

Staring at those pictures provoked her and that led to her next action. She made a post of warning to those abusing her.

She asked those abusing her to be careful and said that she had money and the connection to sue them for verbal abuse. She also asked them to use their heads and also added that she doesn't tag anybody or call out people but those abusing her always call her out and she had the right to sue them.

Many people were angry because they felt that she was oppressing them. After all, she had money but she was right.

Alix was smart enough not to call out names or tag anyone in her post, although she offended a lot of people in the last post about women getting pregnant and giving birth without having a wedding first. Still, she didn't directly call out to anyone. But those abusing her verbally, keep tagging her and dragging her in the mud, which gives them the power to sue some of them.

Someone said, 'Because someone married a wealthy man old enough to be her grandfather, she has forgotten how she fell from grace and has now turned to oppress others with the connection she wouldn't have today if she didn't go all out to disrupt a peaceful wealthy family.'

The person that made this post, didn't tag Alix and now, Alix can't even sue her since she didn't directly call out to her.

Thanks to her warning and idea, the others soon adopted these tactics and scolded her without calling out to her.

Feng Alix was so furious after the hating game refused to die down, as it turned out that a smart woman like her, made a big mistake by letting her enemies know how to abuse her and get away with it.

Since she couldn't smash her phone, Feng Alix smashed the glass of wine by her side just to vent her anger.

After a few more minutes of putting her phone aside and trying to cool off but failed, she jumped into the pool to have a few rounds of swimming before stepping out.

After cooling off for a bit, she wrapped her white robe around her body before taking her phone and walking inside the house.

The mess she caused at the pool has long been cleaned by the servants.

On her way inside the house, she learned that Mr. Suarez had just woken up from a nap. Her mood changed for good. She smiled and opened up her robe to show off her cleavage and long legs before going to find him.

When she saw him eating some fruits in a small sitting room, she smiled and hurried up to sit beside him.

‘Why is your hair wet?’ Mr. Suarez asked as he glanced at her with a frown.

Feng Alix smiled. She crossed her legs in order to show off some skin before holding his left arm and pressing her breasts on it and then, she replied in a soft tone, ‘I was swimming when I heard you have woken up from your nap, so I immediately rushed over to see you. Did you have a good nap?’

‘I had a good nap and there is no need to bother about an old man like me who has so many servants to take care of me. I even have a caretaker, so there is no need to worry so much about me.’ Mr. Suarez said.

Chapter 534 - I Almost Died

(WARNING: Some suggestive words are used in the middle of this chapter)

Feng Alix pretended to be angry and said to him, ‘Are you saying that there is no need to marry me since you have so many servants to take care of you?’

Mr. Suarez chuckled heartily and said to her, ‘How can I mean that. I don’t want you to stress yourself. Your only job is to take care of yourself and go out with me. You are not allowed to do the work of a servant.'

'How can a wife worrying about her husband be a servant's work? Just let me worry about you, as that's the only way I can feel at peace.' Feng Alix said with a smile as she continued to rub her boobs on his arm and with a pout on her lips.

Just to make her happy, Mr. Suarez allowed her to do what she wanted. 'You can go out to party with your friends, just come and take my card if you want to spend some money today.'

'Really, thank you!' Feng Alix said as she smiled even more.

Because he didn't want her to catch a cold, he asked her to go and dry her hair properly and change into better clothes and only then did Alix agree to leave his side.

As she let go of his arm, his phone started to ring, so she picked it up from the table and passed it to him after she managed to catch a glimpse of the caller ID.

After passing the phone to him, she got to her feet and started walking slowly towards the door when she heard the old man say to his lawyer to come over in a few days so they could start making plans for his will.

Feng Alix felt a thump on her chest after learning that her husband wanted to start making plans for it. Now, it looks like she has to work a bit harder to be in his favor these few days so he could add up some things for her.

After the new year celebrations, it wasn't easy winning his favor. She had to turn into a maid just to impress him and get into his good books as well. Not forgetting how she tried to harm herself after he failed to recognize all her sacrifices but he saved her in the end and warned her never to make such mistakes again, which included being careless with his family's traditions and parties and also harming herself of which she agreed to.

Now that she has heard when, where and what time he was going to meet his lawyer, all she had to do was to work hard to meet his demands and also to eavesdrop to hear their discussions.

Fu Hua said he was not going to have s*x with Jia Li, but he couldn't control himself. He felt that she scented nice and her plump body felt so good in his hands.

Even while bathing, he couldn't stop fondling her breasts and touching her all over, until they both couldn't ignore the fire in their body anymore and dived in their desires.

Getting banged from behind was surely a good feeling for Jia Li who wouldn't stop screaming in ecstasy. Fortunately, their bedroom was soundproofed, otherwise, the servants wouldn't know how to face them the next morning.

From the bathroom to the bedroom, Jia Li and Fu Hua engaged in a love fight. And it was today that Jia Li learned that they could do it while standing.

The more Jia Li screamed and moaned, the more blood rushed to Fu Hua's lower part and the harder he banged her.

When Jia Li got exhausted to the point that she couldn't move that was a call for Fu Hua to stop but he couldn't. Instead, he slowed his pace and moved in and out of her slowly, while she lay with her back on the bed.

Finally, Fu Hua stopped when he saw how tired and weak his wife was. He pulled out of her and lay beside her before taking off the 7th condom used for the night and dumped it on the floor where the other 6 were lying.

After breathing heavily, Fu Hua turned to glance at Jia Li who was breathing heavily with her eyes closed and pulled her into his arms after kissing her forehead and lips.

‘I... I... thought, you... you wouldn’t stop. I almost died.’ Jia Li said a little breathlessly. If Fu Hua didn’t stop now, she was sure she would have fainted because she was already very tired from the exercise and also from begging him to stop.

Fu Hua hugged her tightly and kissed her lips softly before replying, ‘I had to stop because I saw you were already too weak to move.’

Jia Li saved her breath and didn’t reply anymore. She laid down peacefully and closed her eyes to sleep in his embrace not minding that their naked skin was touching.

Fu Hua knew that he was very exhausted because his little brother twitched a little when he hugged Jia Li’s naked body and her breasts touched his naked chest. Normally, it would have risen but it just twitched and stayed in place.

The next morning, Jia Li woke up early. Not out of her normal routine because she slept very late last night after an intense exercise but because she was famished.

When she woke up, she discovered that Fu Hua was not in the bedroom but when she saw the food on the table next to the couch, she jumped in joy and totally forgot about him.

Jia Li immediately hurried into the shower to brush her teeth and to have a quick bath before rushing back to the bedroom to sit on the couch and enjoy her piping hot breakfast.

In the middle of eating, Fu Hua walked in his tracksuit and a small towel resting on his shoulder.. It looked like he had gone out early in the morning for a jog.

Chapter 535 - So Good With Words

Fu Hua walked in and saw Jia Li eating quickly and smiled. 'It looks like I did a good thing by ordering your breakfast on time.'

'At least you know the right thing to do. Who brought the food up here?' Jia Li asked after swallowing the food in her mouth.

'The servants did but I clothed you before leaving for my morning run.' Fu Hua replied as he made his way towards the inner room door but Jia Li stopped him with a question.

'Can I ask a question?'

'Yeah, sure.' Fu Hua replied with a smile and walked back to her side to sit next to her on the couch.

'Have you had your breakfast?' Jia Li asked.

Fu Hua was surprised when she asked that question because he thought she had an important question to ask that made him not go directly to have a shower.

'No.' Fu Hua replied.

'You almost killed me last night but here I am eating the moment I got off the bed, while you went for a morning jog. Now, I'm curious on how strong you are and how long you can hold up to in bed.' Jia Li said with furrowed brows as she paused with eating.

Now hearing the question that made her call his attention, Fu Hua chuckled heartily and replied, 'I can last as long as you want me to. Maybe 7 to 10 hours if you can hold up to that.'

'What!' Jia Li exclaimed in shock before adding, 'Is there an end to your insatiable desire?'

Fu Hua chuckled more when he saw the shocked expression on Jia Li's face. He knew that she must have been scared of his response. Being afraid was of him when it comes to bed activities was not a good thing, so he immediately said...

'Don't be deceived by my teasing words. I am very hungry just like you but I have to exercise on an empty stomach before eating.'

Jia Li sighed in relief and hit his arm as she replied, 'You almost scared the shit out of me. Remind me next time to date before getting married before I end up getting killed in bed.'

'How can I kill you in bed? If I do that, who am I going to have s*x with?' Fu Hua teased.

'There are so many women who are ready to jump in your bed without you asking or looking for them.' Jia Li replied and sent food into her mouth without a care.

'You are right but none of them can be compared to you. You are the one I chose to be with till the end.' Fu Hua said to her and kissed her cheeks before standing up and leaving to her amazement.

'Why is he so good with words? Was that how I fell for him?' Jia Li thought with a frown before she turned her gaze back to her food to continue eating.

After breakfast, the maids started to pack their things for them just before Jasmine was brought over by her uncles.

Immediately the little bun saw her parents, she ran towards them with steady steps while calling out to her. She missed both of them, so she was not biased today on who to meet first.

After receiving hugs and kisses from her mother, her father lifted her in his arm and played with her.

Jia Li invited YingPei and Ling to come in for tea and they agreed after they had initially refused and she persuaded them again.

Jasmine couldn't stop talking about her activities after not seeing her parents for less than 24 hours.

When Jia Li asked her what she ate for breakfast, the little girl attempted to describe what she ate after saying just two names of what she could remember. Since she was not that good with describing things, she just went on to say the colors of what she ate.

Thankfully, YingPei and Ling were there to tell her what the little girl was talking about. Jia Li and Fu Hua had a good laugh at the special way their little daughter described things she couldn't comprehend.

YingPei and Ling didn't stay for long. They only spent about half an hour before leaving, since Jia Li, Fu Hua and the little bun had a flight to catch in the next 3 hours.

When Jasmine learned they were going away for a few days, she asked if she could see flowers and water there.

Jia Li knew she was referring to the beach when she mentioned 'Water' so she nodded in response. The little bun screamed happily and even went on to shake her chubby body.

'It looks like my little princess can't wait to have some fun.' Fu Hua said from the side as he watched the little girl jump on their bed.

Jia Li personally packed Jasmine's clothes and toys she can play with when they get over there.

After an hour more of parking their stuff, they were ready to leave for the airport, where the Fu family's private jet was waiting.

When they got to the airport through another entrance in disguise, Fu Hua carried the little bun in his arms, while Jia Li walked beside him and their security team surrounded them at a close range while walking forward with their luggage.

The airport's security team also escorted them till they passed the border and got to their private jet after a few people managed to guess their identities and tried to surround them.

Jia Li and Fu Hua took off their masks and the hoodie they used to cover Jasmine's head and half of her face.

The little girl looked excited to be in the private jet. She walked about for a few minutes before an attendant carried her back to Jia Li when they were about to take off.

Thankfully Fu Hua was there to make sure the little bun didn't cause trouble by insisting on sitting on her own.

Jasmine sat obediently in her father's arms and pointed at the window to the birds she could see for the time being.

Chapter 536 - Strength Test

The evening of the same day in China, YingPei and Daiyu went on a date in a famous restaurant.

Since Daiyu was still staying in a hotel with DanDan and Chang Chang and would be going back to their city the next day, YingPei went to pick her up.

After they had settled down at their reserved table, YingPei called a waiter over so they could place their order.

Going through the menu, Daiyu could not find anything to her taste on it, so she asked YingPei to pick the dishes for her.

Taking the menu from her, YingPei glanced at it with a serious facial expression before asking, 'Do you prefer sweet, spicy or sour dishes?'

'That will depend on the dish but I prefer spicy food. Sour dishes are last on my list.' Daiyu replied. After ascertaining her preferences, YingPei went on to pick a few dishes for her.

When the waiter left to get their order, YingPei faced Daiyu with a smile and then asked a question while rubbing his palms together.

'I heard from my sister-in-law that your hometown is a little far from hers but you all went to the same college. What do you do now?'

'I am an athlete. I run, I swim and most importantly, I beat people up.' Daiyu said the last part in a low tone.

YingPei leaned away and said to her with a frown, 'Why do you keep talking about beating people up? No man will want you if you keep saying that.'

'I was only joking, are you scared of me?' Daiyu asked with a smile.

'Why will I be scared of you?' YingPei said and looked away from her.

Daiyu relaxed comfortably on her seat and said to him, 'Actually, you don't need to be scared of me. I am not thinking of beating you up. But if we engage in a fight, who do you think will win?'

'You are still thinking of fighting? Do you like beating people up that much?' YingPei asked with an ugly gaze directed at her.

Daiyu sighed. 'Why are you so concerned? I already told you that I'm not thinking of beating anybody up. Just answer my question.'

Seeing her expectant gaze, YingPei actually believed that she must enjoy engaging in fights. Nevertheless, he scoffed and replied to her, 'I will for sure. I'm not just a pretty face, I have some good muscles hidden. I exercise daily and I am a male.'

'We can't really tell by mere verbal words, why don't we engage in some activities to test our strength? I want to know who is stronger.' Daiyu suggested.

YingPei's face turned uglier as he asked, 'By engaging in a fight?'

'This woman must have been a warrior or a female general in her past life' He thought as he stared hard at her.

‘No! We are going to do some activities like swimming, running, rock climbing and some other activities.’ Daiyu replied.

She felt that it would be fun engaging in those kinds of activities with YingPei to test their strength and also for fun. She had no intentions of getting into a real fight with him, it’s not like she was crazy.

Which woman asks for a fight just like that from the opposite gender? It’s not like she has nothing better to do.

‘That sounds interesting. But I feel that I’m going to be at a disadvantage because you are an athlete and you must be well vast with a lot of activities. This might be unfair to me.’ YingPei said after much thought.

Her idea was great but he doesn’t engage in most of the activities she mentioned. He only runs daily and hits the gym at least once in 2 weeks or a month. He was afraid that he will lose if he can’t keep up with the activities.

Daiyu chuckled with a hand over her mouth before asking with a taunting gaze, ‘Are you scared that I will beat you? It feels so refreshing to know that you are scared of a girl.’

‘Who says that I’m scared of you because you are a girl? You are an athlete and I am not. It’s obvious that you engage in more of these activities than me, so I wouldn’t take the risk of losing to a professional in the field I don’t know much about.’ YingPei said and threw his face away.

Just then, the waiter came over to serve their dishes.

‘You are right on one thing. You called me a professional and you are right about that. For this sake, I will give you some time to be vast in some of these outdoor activities. Then the next time we meet, we can compete to see who is stronger.' Daiyu said in compromise.

YingPei nodded in agreement before asking her to eat. 'The food is here, so no more talks on violence. Let's eat peacefully.'

'Violence can never go together with food.' Daiyu said in agreement as she picked up her chopsticks and began to pick some side dishes for herself.

After eating a few spoons of food, YingPei picked up a side dish Daiyu might like and put it in her rice bowl.

'Here, try this and you might like it.' He said with a smile and then paused with his eating and gazed at her expectantly. He looked like he couldn't wait for her to try the food and tell him what she thought of it.

Daiyu glanced at the weird-looking side dish in her bowl before picking it up with her chopsticks to have a better view of it. Because of the way it was prepared, it looked weird, so she didn't recognize it until she had a good look at it.

Without asking questions, she put the dish into her mouth to it. 3 seconds into chewing, she realized how delicious the side dish tasted and nodded while smiling happily.

'This is so nice, how did they make it?' Daiyu asked after swallowing the food in her mouth.

'If you like it, you can try it a few more times.' YingPei said while pointing at the plate of the aids dish which was sitting in front of him.. He was happy to share.

Chapter 537 - Jasmine's Demand

YingPei was expecting Daiyu to just eat a little of the side dish but she ended up carrying the plate to her side, much to his surprise.

'I gave you an inch and you took a mile, who asked you to take my food away?' YingPei asked.

Without a care, Daiyu replied and continued to eat. 'I'm sure you have eaten this so many times, so why don't you give it up to me for today?'

'What's the use of asking now after you took it without my permission. You are really something else.' YingPei muttered in a low tone and continued to eat.

When their dinner ended, YingPei drove her back to the hotel.

DanDan and Chang Chang who has been waiting for her arrival, immediately pulled her into their room as she attempted to knock on their door.

'Can you ladies take it easy? If I didn't have stability, I would have fallen from your pulling.' Daiyu said as she sat on the chair in the room.

'How was your date? You didn't show off your strength did you?' DanDan asked.

'Did you offend Jia Li's brother-in-law?' Chang Chang asked.

Daiyu shrugged off their hold on her and replied, 'I was well behaved okay? The date went on well, we chatted and we dined.'

'When next are you two going to meet?' DanDan asked with a smile.

‘I’m not sure but it’s up to him.’ Daiyu replied. Her response was based on when YingPei would be through with his training since they were going to compete in some of the activities she listed for him.

Whenever he was ready to compete with her, that would be the next time they would meet.

‘I just hope that you created a good impression.’ Chang Chang said with a smile.

‘Hey! Don’t you two have faith in me? I created a good impression.’ Daiyu replied. Normally, her personality is not what all men would like and she was aware of that. But she did try to be herself and that should be a good of enough impression.

‘We have to tell Jia Li this good news, she is going to be shocked to learn that you are dating her brother-in-law.’ DanDan said excitedly.

‘No way! We can’t interrupt their honeymoon. When she comes back, we can tell her.’ Daiyu said immediately.

Jia Li whom they were just talking about, was trying to get some sleep when her little bun came to disturb her.

‘Mummy, wake up!’ Jasmine said as she shook her hand vigorously to the best of her strength.

The little girl was standing on the floor while shaking her mother’s hand. Her brows were furrowed just like whenever her father gets annoyed.

Jia Li didn’t bulge. She was tired and needed this rest, so she continued to lay on the bed with her eyes closed.

Seeing that her mother wouldn't move, Jasmine stopped shaking her arms and started to hit her arm. 'Mummy!' she called out again.

Jia Li frowned in her sleep. With the little girl calling for her while hitting her, she couldn't continue sleeping. She slowly opened her eyes to see the annoyed little girl staring at her.

'Jasmine, what do you want?' Jia Li asked in a groggy tone. She seemed displeased for being disturbed while sleeping. If Jasmine had grown to a certain age, Jia Li would have given her a clear warning.

'I want to go outside!' Jasmine said. The little girl still looked annoyed because of the effort it took her to wake her mother up.

'Why do you want to go outside?' Jia Li asked with a frown. 'Why would she want to outside?' Jia Li thought.

Jasmine replied enthusiastically, 'I want to play.'

Jia Li exhaled deeply. She was still laying on the bed without moving while replying, 'Where is your Daddy?'

'Bathroom.' Jasmine replied.

'Then wait for him to come out.' Jia Li replied and closed her eyes.

How could the little girl let her go back to sleep when her request has not been met? Jasmine immediately pulled her arm and called out to her in an annoyed tone, 'Mummy!!'

If the little girl had her way, she would have climbed up the bed and then she can have better access to her mother.

‘Jasmine can you go away, I want to sleep.’ Jia Li said without opening her eyes. At this point, she just wished her daughter would stop disturbing her and allow her to sleep.

‘No! Mummy...’ Jasmine said with scrunched-up brows but Jia Li did not reply to her again, so she attempted to climb up the bed but failed. The little girl was on the verge of crying when Fu Hua came out of the bathroom.

Seeing the little girl trying to climb up the bed in a failed attempt, Fu Hua smiled and called out to her, ‘Princess, what are you doing? I told you not to disturb your mummy.’

Before going into the bathroom, Fu Hua had told the little girl not to disturb her mother who was sleeping. He had told her to wait for him to bathe and come out so he can take her out, but it looks like the girl was not obedient when he went away.

‘Daddy, I want to go outside.’ Jasmine said with a worried gaze while fiddling with her little fingers. She disobeyed her father and now she was worried that he won’t let her go outside again.

Fu Hua sighed and stretched out his hand to her. ‘Come here.’

When Jasmine came to his side and took his hand, he said to her in a gentle tone, ‘I will take you outside.’

Jasmine nodded and then turned to glance at her mother before asking, ‘What of mummy?’

‘Your mummy is tired, let her get some rest but we will buy something for her as we are going back.’ Jia Li replied as he took her to get her boots.

After helping her to put it on, he put her jacket on her before lifting her in his arms.. He picked up his phone and wallet before leaving the room with her.

Chapter 538 - Back To China

When Jia Li woke up from a nap, the father and daughter were not back yet, so she got off the bed and went to the bathroom to wash her face before going back to the bedroom to pick up her phone and dialing Fu Hua's number.

She wanted to know where they were so she called.

'Your daughter is hard to please. We went to a store, we will be right back.' Fu Hua replied over the phone.

'Okay, I will order dinner for us.' Jia Li replied before getting off the phone.

Jia Li communicated with the hotel for their dinner through the intercom before going to have a shower. After her shower, she picked up her sketchbook and a fashion magazine and went to the sitting room to work.

While going through the fashion magazine, she was trying to see if she could get inspiration from looking at the styles there, so she could immediately put down her new idea and concept.

The father and daughter returned half an hour later with two servants carrying their shop bags. And Jasmine had an ice cream cone in her hand.

Immediately the little girl saw her mother, she called out to her happily and showed off her ice cream.

‘Did you have fun outside?’ Jia Li asked with a smile as she stared at the father and daughter from where she was sitting.

Jasmine nodded in response and went on to lick her ice cream. Fu Hua carried the little girl towards the couch Jia Li was sitting and sat there.

‘You were sleeping and we didn’t want to disturb you, so we left.’ Fu Hua explained with a smiling gaze.

‘If I didn’t love that little girl, I would have probably bundled her up and gifted her to someone for disturbing my sleep.’ Jia Li said.

Fu Hua chuckled and said, ‘You don’t have any right to give our child away. Don’t worry, she won’t disturb your sleep next time unless it’s urgent.’

‘I need to change her diaper.’ Jia Li said with her gaze on the little bun who was licking her Ice cream happily from her father’s arms.

Fu Hua glanced at the little girl sitting on his thighs before glancing back at Jia Li to say, ‘You know you are going to cause trouble by asking her to stop licking her Ice cream just to change her diaper.’

Asking Jasmine to put down her ice cream to change her diapers?
Seriously, Jia Li must have forgotten her little bun’s nature but it’s good Fu Hua reminded her of that.

‘I suddenly got an inspiration for my illustration and I hope nothing would distract me once I get back to work.’ Jia Li said.

She wanted to change Jasmine’s diaper before their dinner arrives, so immediately after dinner, she can continue sketching.

Fu Hua glanced at the sketchbook in her hand and asked, 'Have you been drawing?'

'Not really. I just have one dress ready.' Jia Li replied with her gaze on her sketchbook.

Some minutes later, their dinner arrived and was served in the small dining room. Since Jasmine had a lot of fun outside earlier, she didn't eat much because she wasn't hungry.

The little bun greedily finished licking her Ice cream all by herself and now her stomach was protruding.

When the little girl was done eating, Mei took her out to have a bath before she was dressed in her sleeping dress.

After dinner with Fu Hua, Jia Li stayed back in the living room and continued with her illustration, while Fu Hua went to the bedroom to put the little girl to sleep and stay with her.

Jia Li and Fu Hua spent the rest of their honeymoon having a lot of fun with Jasmine interfering in their alone time with her troubles.

The family of three took so many pictures together and Fu Hua shared a picture of the mother and daughter on his social media pages.

Jia Li only posted one picture from their honeymoon and that was a picture of her holding her little girl in her arms and Fu Hua holding her waist. There was a big smile on their faces when the photo was clicked by Mei.

Some of Jia Li's fans asked her why she only posted one picture from her honeymoon while Fu Hua posted so many pictures. But someone else replied that comment saying that Jia Li had a quiet personality and doesn't like to show off if there was no need.

Someone else asked her to make a live video one day so they could interact more with her.

Someone else said that she hoped Jia Li would post pictures of herself from time to time.

In all of her posts, her personal pictures were not more than 5. And because her innocence was loved, people wanted to see more photos of her.

Many people wanted to see more pictures of the family of three and especially pictures of the little bun.

Not long after, the family of three returned to China with their servants and the gifts they brought for each member of the family.

After spending the weekend at home to get over the jet lag, Jia Li and Fu Hua went back to work the next day which was Monday.

It was glad to have Jia Li back to the office for her colleagues swarmed around her immediately she arrived at work in the morning. Jia Li's small office could barely accommodate her colleagues who came to see her all at once.

To Jia Li, this proved that she was loved by her colleagues who have missed her for more than a week now. Most of them have not seen her since her wedding, while a few haven't seen her since the last time came to work before her wedding.

People like Marié who didn't attend Jia Li's wedding haven't seen her since the last time she came to work.

During their lunch break, Jia Li gave a honeymoon souvenir to some of her colleagues who she was close to and also her superior like Sunny.

When Sunny received the wrapped gift, she smiled and said to Jia Li, 'You are so thoughtful, thank you for the gift.'

Chapter 539 - A Chance Encounter

In the sweetest month of the year for some people, Meixu had a chance encounter with Shi Qiao who in a part of her heart, has been regretting dumping him.

Meixu attended Actress Yangmei's birthday party in the middle of May along with other high-profile celebrities and big businessmen.

It turned out that Shi Qiao was a relative of Yangmei which was a shock to Meixu who wouldn't stop gazing at him after Yangmei officially introduced him to some of her friends in the industry after he came up to greet her.

After leaving the circle, Meixu went to have a drink somewhere by herself when Shi Qiao walked up to her.

'You looked shocked to see me here tonight.' Shi Qiao said with a slight smile as he came to stand beside her with his hands in his front trouser pockets.

Meixu heard the familiar voice and turned to glance at him.

'It's nice to see you again.' Meixu said with an ugly smile. She couldn't believe that Shi Qiao would be present at today's party and that he would somehow be related to Yangmei.

Shi Qiao sat on the stool next to her and said, 'Are you sure it's nice to see me again because your countenance says otherwise.'

‘My countenance it’s not for you to mind. I am already shocked learning that you are related to Sister Yangmei.’ Meixu said to him.

‘And does that bother you?’ Shi Qiao quickly asked as he continued to gaze at her.

Meixu scoffed and picked up her wine glass. ‘Why would it bother me, it’s not like there is any relationship between us.’ After saying that, she drank the whole content of her wine glass before placing an order for another one.

‘Meixu, I still don’t understand the reason you dumped me. I mean, I was your friend but you decided to end our friendship after I had already apologized for Zhi Ruo’s ill-treatment against you.’

‘Are you dumb or something? Don’t tell me you had no idea I got close to you to deal with Zhi Ruo?’ Meixu asked with a frown.

Shi Qiao was quiet but he didn’t seem to be surprised by her confession. After studying his unchanging gaze, Meixu’s frown deepened. ‘You already knew?’

‘Is that a surprise to you? Look Meixu, I’m not dumb as you thought. I knew you had discords with Shi Qiao and I guessed that you might want to get close to me in order to get back at my ex. To my surprise, you approached me in a different way. I thought you would try to seduce me so I will dump Zhi Ruo and date you but you approached me as a friend.’ Shi Qiao said with a smile.

Meixu was really surprised by this revelation. She had no idea that he had always known her plans for getting close to him but he chose to remain quiet. His past actions made her look like a fool because he already knew her plans but acted as if he was ignorant of them all. This got Meixu really angry.

With an angry gaze directed at him, Meixu asked, 'Are you saying that you knew my plans all along and kept quiet about it? What did you take me for?'

'Hey... Don't tell me you're angry. When I found out about your intentions, I wasn't angry, I only found it interesting but now, after revealing the truth to you, you are angry? Did you forget I was a human being when you wanted to use me to achieve your goals?' Shi Qiao asked with a frown.

'Still, that doesn't give you the right to make fun of me. You already knew about my intentions when I approached you but you chose not to speak up or expose me and that shows that it was well situated by you.' Meixu said in a raised tone.

Shi Qiao nodded and said, 'I know that your pride would be hurt when you learn of this because after all, you had a well thought out plan there. Actually, I don't hold any grudges against you because I genuinely welcomed your plans and I liked you. I thought you liked me as well but to my surprise, you ended our friendship after your plans worked out. Don't you think that you are in the wrong for using people and dumping them after achieving your goals?'

'Who are you to teach me what is wrong and right?' Meixu asked with an ugly facial expression. Meixu was still angry after finding out that her plans were found out the moment her game started. She thought she was taken as a fool by Shi Qiao because he watched her play by herself even after knowing her intentions.

This situation didn't sit well with her. She didn't even care about the feelings she was starting to develop for him after learning about this. At this moment with the way she was feeling, she didn't want to ever set her eyes on him again.

'I guess your pride must be really hurt. I just wanted to tell you the truth because I don't want to keep secrets from you since I already have in mind of having a fresh start with you.' Shi Qiao said.

Meixu's facial expression turned more ugly when she heard him say he wanted them to have a fresh start. 'Who do you want to have a fresh start with?' She asked with a glare.

'With you of course. I never saw you as a friend the moments we spent together but I respected your decision. It's been a long time since we ended our past relationship, so why don't we start afresh with another relationship? This time around, not as friends but as lovers?' Shi Qiao asked with a serious gaze.

His intentions were pure and clear. He liked Meixu and would like to be together with her but it looks like his intentions didn't sit well with her.

Meixu at the moment, looked as if she would murder him anytime soon.

'Mr. Shi, I think we should stay away from each other from now henceforth. If we are going through the same route, there would be no need for pleasantries..' Fu Meixu said and walked away from his sight.

Chapter 540 - Punishment That You Deserve

Fu Meixu was so pissed off after her encounter with Shi Qiao to the point that she began to wonder if she was crazy to think about missing him.

A few days later in the Suarez family, Mr. Suarez's lawyer came by.

Mr. Suarez was going to talk about his assets and his will with his lawyer and nobody in the family knew about it aside from Feng Alix who overheard his conversation with his lawyer about coming over to talk about it.

For the past few days since Alix overheard that conversation, she has been working really hard to get on her old husband's good books.

Today, the lawyer came by and he was immediately ushered into a smaller sitting room by one of the bodyguards the moment he arrived.

Alix was bothered by the tight security over there. She could see two bodyguards guarding the hallway to that sitting room where the important meeting was going on.

'What secrets plans is he hiding from us?' Feng Alix muttered to herself.

As she couldn't stand being shut outside, Alix went into the kitchen to exercise her authority.

'My husband and his lawyer are in a meeting, why haven't you sent over some snacks and drinks?' Feng Alix asked in an authoritative tone.

The chief servant said in a worried tone, 'The bodyguards won't let us cross that place. They said Master doesn't need our services.'

'Nonsense!' Feng Alix said angrily before continuing... 'I am the mistress of this family and you will only listen to me and my husband. Right now, you need to prepare snacks and tea and get ready to send them over to them.'

The servants were scared of her request. They didn't want to disrespect her, not that they were afraid of her but because she was still favored by their master. Disrespecting her would be a slap to his face and they end up getting punished or sacked and they can't let that happen.

'Ma'am, Master will punish us if we come close, who is going to take responsibility if we are punished?' The chief servant asked.

Feng Alix smiled to herself because this was not a problem for her. In fact, she has been wanting them to ask that question.

Alix feigned a deep annoyance and said to them, 'What are you all afraid of? I will go with you to serve the tea and snacks, hurry up and get them ready, I will be in the dining, call me when they are ready.'

After leaving out that instruction, she walked away and went to the smaller dining room to sit, while the servants got to work.

Most of the family members who had businesses were already out, it was just two or three of her step-grandchildren were around.

Today was Thursday, which was a weekday and not a weekend, so those that have jobs are out.

It was very peaceful for Feng Alix to stay at home during the weekdays when everyone have left the house. Then, she will have the right to fully control the servants and do what she wants to do without anyone interrupting her.

When the snacks and tea were ready, Feng Alix followed the servants to deliver them to her husband.

When they got to the entrance where the two bodyguards were standing, they were stopped, and Feng Alix immediately flared up.

‘How dare you stop me from meeting my husband, are you out of your mind?’ She asked angrily with her gazes on them.

‘I’m sorry Ma’am but we can’t let you or anyone go over there. Masters’ instruction was that no one is allowed entry until the meeting with his lawyer is over.’ One of the bodyguards explained in a strong tone.

‘Do I look like I’m just anyone?’ Feng Alix asked angrily. She felt that she is looked down on. Well, her husband’s bodyguards were always like this when they were on an instruction. They don’t mind if you are a child to Mr. Suarez or a friend, they only listen to him.

The other bodyguards glanced at her and said, ‘I’m sorry Ma’am but we can’t let you go through.’

Feng Alix was pissed off. Forget about trying to eavesdrop on the conversation between her husband and his lawyer, she can’t accept the fact of being shamed in front of the servants that were behind her, Never!

Since they didn’t want her to go through peacefully, then she has no choice that to enter forcefully.

Feng Alix tried to walk past them, but they blocked her with their arms and so she hit them with her hands but she ended getting hurt.

‘Are you not moving?!’ She shouted in Chinese as she glared at them but no reply came from them.

‘Fine! Since you all want to be punished today, then you will receive the punishment that you deserve!’ As Feng Alix said this, she picked up an empty wine glass with her hand, before letting it fall on the floor.

The glass made a shattering sound as it fell on the tiled floor. The bodyguards didn't see this coming. Their brows furrowed in annoyance as they glanced at the shattered time glass on the floor and the smile on Alix's face.

There was a satisfactory smile sitting on Alix's face when Mr. Suarez and his lawyer came out to see what happened.

'What's going on here?!' Mr. Suarez asked angrily. The glass shattering interrupted his conversation with his lawyer. They were having a very important discussion right before they heard the noise.

Seeing that her husband looked angrily, Alix pretended to be scared and harassed by his bodyguards and quickly ran to his side to grab his arm.

'Honey, what kind of people do you allow to be your bodyguards? I brought you some snacks but they wouldn't let me in. If they wouldn't even let me in, does that show that they respect me as your wife?'

Mr. Suarez sighed before explaining to her, 'Actually, I asked them not to let anyone come over because I have an important discussion with my lawyer, I didn't want any distractions.'

Feng Alix already knew about it, but she added, 'Did you also ask them to touch me?'
