Chapter 571 – Bai Jun Is Out!

Ten days later, Mike came with his entourage to pick Bai Jun up from the prison, amidst the promotion that was going on for FJ's Fashion show that would last for a week.

Bai Jun made him take a few pictures of her next to his cars parked outside the prison, they went to a hotel for her to bathe and change into a new dress.

After stepping out of the room in the dress that was bought for her, Mike passed her a new phone. 'You can use this for now.'

'Shouldn't you gift it to me? Why are you being stingy when you are so rich and powerful?' Bai Jun asked with a frown as she turned on the phone.

'I'm already giving it to you, so how can I take it back? I got you a new line.' Mike said to her.

Bai Jun smiled and said to him, 'Quickly send those pictures to me.'

After saying that, Bai Jun logged into her social media accounts and deleted all the photos she ever posted there. She was lucky to have a backup email address and she went on to change the details for all her accounts.

When Mike sent the photos she took earlier, she selected the most perfect 2, and posted them with a caption, 'It's good to see the sun again.'

‘Let’s go, I will take you out for lunch,’ Mike said to her.

‘No way! We can’t be seen together by the media if you still want Fu FangSu back in your life. If we are photographed together, and she sees it, all our plans will be ruined, so stay here.’ Bai Jun said to him.

Now that FangSu was out from prison and she posted about it on her social media pages, all attention would be on her now, and if photos of her and Mike were taken and FangSu sees it, she will know they are working together before they can even start their plans.

Satisfied with everything that was happening, Bai Jun followed one of Mike’s bodyguards to eat out, and to visit the spa while Mike remained in the hotel room and ordered room service.

Mike’s grandmother was Chinese before migrating, so he looked like a foreign Chinese, and he was bad at speaking the Chinese language.

A few hours later, those that have been expecting Bai Jun’s return since her sentence was due, were the first to see her posts, and immediately, the news spread abroad.

Bloggers carried the news, and the news media and newspapers were not left out. Immediately, Bai Jun became a trending topic.

(‘It’s good to see the sun again’ Bai Jun’s first post in 2 years) A blogger posted along with Bai Jun’s photos from outside the prison, with a few write-ups to remind people of the family she came from, and the reason she was sentenced to 2 years imprisonment.

‘Bai Jun is out from the prison?’

'Is her sentence over already, I thought there was still a long time for her?'

'I feel that something bad is going to happen. We are already dealing with Alix, another one had to stop by?'

'I don't like this, who let her out?'

'I wish I could wish she has repented, but I dare not think too much of her.'

There were so many comments regarding Bai Jun being released from prison, and the cars she stood beside to take those pictures.

Some people wondered if she had a sponsor or if she was just seeking more attention. Someone even said...

'Bai Jun, there is no need trying to get our attention by taking pictures besides those expensive cars. You're being released from prison is enough attention.'

'Why did she have to come out so soon, she would have continued to rest there while we try to be at peace and manage the existence of that gold digger.'

'I feel that life is going to be hard on us.'

'Who dared to help her take those photos?'

'Look at her pictures, it's obvious that she edited them because she can't be looking like this when she just stepped out of the prison after 2 years.'

'If that was her real skin, I would have loved to commit a crime so I can be sent there and come out 2 years later with that kind of skin.'

'Is she trying to tell us that she went for a spa treatment instead of hard labor?'

'Bai Jun, will you reconcile with your mother after she stirred up trouble that implicated you?'

'Fu family, please take note of Bai Jun so she wouldn't cause any harm to your family.'

'What bad luck this year.'

A lot of concern was given to the Fu family as Bai Jun was released from prison.

Bai Jun's release, attracted the attention of FJ staff, since she once worked there, and was sent to prison as punishment.

Zimo was the one that informed Fu Hua of Bai Jun's release from prison. Fu Hua who has long forgotten her existence looked a little surprised with her release.

'Is her time up? When was she released?.' Fu Hua asked and when he heard she was released in the morning, he asked Zimo again...

'If she was sent to prison the evening of today's date 2 years ago, but she was released in the morning of the same date, does that make sense? She still had some hours more. Is this how the rules work over there now?'

Fu Hua asked with a frown.

If this was a laughing matter, Zimo would have loved to laugh, but it's not like he wanted to lose his job.

He confirmed the prison worked that way, and that's the reason Bai Jun was released in the morning.

Fu Hua looked very annoyed with the confirmation. 'Find someone to keep an eye on her.'

Zimo took his instructions and left to follow immediately. Bai Jun did not look like a changed person, and even if she does not act evil, that wouldn't mean that she wouldn't have some tricks up her sleeve.

Right in the Creative Arts department of FJ, everyone was talking about Bai Jun, as long as their superiors were not looking.

Chapter 572 - Fair Enough

'I can't believe Bai Jun is so shameless as I show off right after coming out from the prison? Shouldn't she keep a low profile now?'

'You are already said she was shameless, so how can she keep a low profile?'

'But showing off immediately she left the prison gates, is too much, she is really very shameless!'

During lunch breaks, Jia Li was absent when her colleagues were talking about Bai Jun, she had gone to have lunch with Fu Hua in his office.

'I have ever seen such a bold thief in my life.' One of them said with disgust.

'It looks like she has forgotten the reason she was sent to the prison in the first place.' Another said.

'I love her confidence and I'm not surprised by it.' Marié said with a look of indifference.

The rest glanced at her with a big frown on their faces. 'What do you mean?' Linda asked.

'If she acts weak, she will be cursed at and more so, she will be depressed, so it's better for her to act shamelessly while not caring about the curses laid on her.' Marié said.

'Marié whose side are you on?. One of them asked angrily as she couldn't believe her words would show support to Bai Jun's actions.

'Why do you look like you're about to swallow me up?' Marié inquired. 'I was only making a logical deduction and I'm not supporting anybody.'

'Actually, the right thing to do whether she means it or not is to make a public apology to everybody she offended 2 years ago.' A male colleague said.

One of them scoffed and asked, 'Does it look like we should be expecting one?'

'It's obvious that thought has never crossed her mind, so how can we be expecting an apology from her?' Linda said.

'Nobody should expect that confident thief to change or make an apology.'

Linda glanced at her wristwatch before reminding them, 'We have 5 minutes left to return to our desk.'

With that, all of them stopped talking and began to rush their food.

'Do you have anything to say about Bai Jun being released from the prison today?' Fu Hua asked Jia Li who was busy filling her stomach with food.

Jia Li was surprised by the question as she didn't know if it was necessary to know her thoughts concerning an irrelevant matter.

'Is it important?' She asked with a questionable gaze.

'Mmmm...' Fu Hua nodded with an interesting gaze on her.

Jia Li first swallowed the food in her mouth before speaking, 'Honestly, I am not happy with her return as it spells trouble but I will be at peace if she does her thing and does not cause trouble for our family.'

Fu Hua smiled and said to her, 'I like how honest you were about this matter. I asked Zimo to find someone to follow her, do you want me to go straight to the point and get rid of her?'

'Get rid of her? Do you mean killing her?' Jia Li asked wide-eyed. If that was what Fu Hua meant, then she didn't want that.

Fu Hua nodded in response and even added, 'It would be good to get rid of her for once, rather than being a nuisance in our sight.'

'No, you can't kill someone. Instead, just let her be.' Jia Li said with a big frown.

Since his wife rejected that idea without thinking about it, Fu Hua brought up another idea. 'Then how about we send her away from this country.'

'You mean sending her to another country?' Jia Li asked.

'Yes.' Fu Hua replied.

'Will you do that with your money?' Jia Li asked.

‘Mmm.’ Fu Hua said as he picked some side-dishes with chopsticks and placed them inside her bowl.

Jia Li watched him for a short while before saying, ‘If you are going to waste your money on her, then don’t do it.’

Fu Hua stopped munching on his food and glanced at her in surprise. ‘Is this my wife being jealous?’

Jia Li glanced at him and asked with furrowed brows, ‘How can I be jealous, I just don’t want you to spend your money to make her leave this country, because it’s not worth it. She should be the one spending her money to run away.’

‘I see, so you are protecting my money and what I do with it?’ Fu Hua asked with a smile.

‘I am your wife and it is only right that I help you to be on the lookout.’ Jia Li replied as a slight smile finally showed on her face.

Fu Hua picked a piece of beef and sent it to her mouth. ‘What should I reward you with now? Do you want to go on a weekend trip with your friends, maybe a boat cruise?’

‘Really?’ Jia Li asked, a little excitedly. It has been years since she last got together with her friends and enjoyed the time alone. It was just once that she went on a picnic with her friends back when she was still living in her hometown, and she had fun, so it will be nice if that can happen again.

‘Why not? There will be no me or Jasmine to disturb you.’ Fu Hua said with a smile.

Jia Li chuckled softly and said to him, 'I love this part. I just can't wait to have fun without the two of you.'

'But you will miss us.' Fu Hua said with full confidence. There was a knowing smile playing on his lips as he said that.

'Till that time comes.' Jia Li replied but Fu Hua said immediately, 'No that time won't come until I'm sure you would miss us.'

Jia Li covered her lips as she laughed hysterically. 'You are so petty! I thought you wanted to reward me, now you're talking about me missing you and Jasmine before you can reward me. Don't you think that's a little unfair with your act of shamelessness?'

'That's fair enough. Jasmine and I can't be the only one missing you when you go out to have fun with your friends for a few days.' Fu Hua said.

He has to get something in return for making him leave her sight on a weekend.

Chapter 573 - No Man Wants You

'When I'm ready to take a break, I will let you know.' Jia Li replied and continued eating her lunch with Fu Hua putting food in her bowl till she was satisfied.

When she was ready to leave, Fu Hua made sure to steal a long kiss from her, which almost sucked her breath away.

After kissing her, he gave her wet lips a final lick with his cool tongue before letting her go.

‘Was it your intention to make my lips swollen?’ Jia Li asked as she used her phone as a mirror to glance at her lips.

‘Not actually, I just wanted to have a good taste of you, since there is no time to go through the other way.’ Fu Hua said with a smirk.

Jia Li glanced at him meaningfully and asked, ‘And by the other way, what do you mean?’

‘What do you think I mean?’ Fu Hua asked as he took her hand in his.

Jia Li glanced at his long office table before looking away. ‘Never mind.’ She said and wanted to leave but Fu Hua immediately pulled her to his embrace.

‘What were you thinking about?’ He asked as a smirk turned up on his lips.

Jia Li didn’t shy away, instead, she responded, ‘Exactly what you were thinking about.’

‘I must say that you have a dirty mind.’ Fu Hua said. ‘Whose fault is that?’ Jia Li asked.

‘Nobody’s fault.’ Fu Hua replied and leaned in to kiss her again but Jia Li blocked his lips with her right palm.

‘I will be a minute late if you continue with this and that’s not going to seem right.’

Fu Hua slowly released her from his embrace and responded to her words, ‘Your husband is the owner of FJ.’

‘That’s the very reason I should stick to the rules more than any of your employees. See you after work.’ Jia Li said and left after waving to him.

When Jia Li returned to her small office, she was surrounded by a few of her colleagues who came to inquire if their Big Boss said anything about getting rid of Bai Jun.

It looks like Bai Jun’s sudden appearance was a nuisance to her former colleagues.

That same day, Bai Jun made another post about how she spent her day. She uploaded a short video that covered her activities for the day.

From her having breakfast to going to the spa to receive hours of treatment, to her going shopping in a high-end clothing store. Then went to dine in an expensive restaurant before going to play games before going back to her hotel room.

She didn’t forget to record all the VIP treatment she received throughout the day.

‘No matter how long I disappear from the face of this earth when I come back, it’s always going to be a banger!’

That was Bai Jun’s caption and sure, there were lots of trolls.

‘A banger with someone’s money, who did you steal from this time around?’

'I'm sure she didn't inherit anything from the Bai family, so where did she get that money from?'

'Someone who has criminal records surely is not fit to be someone's mistress.'

'A thief like you have guts to act shamelessly, your face must be as thick as a rock. Why don't you take natural photos of yourself and post them for us to see??'

'Who cares about what kind of activities you had immediately you stepped out of the prison gates?'

'Bai Jun, I think you should tell us the stories about your stay in the cell, surely it was the most wonderful time you have ever spent in your wasteful years.'

While Bai Jun was being trolled, FangSu was not in the best mood.

'Why does that bitch have to start showing off just after stepping out of prison? Where did she get the money from?'

'Look at the kind of human being you had as a friend. You would have been like her if you were not redeemed on time.' Meixu said to her.

'She was not like that all the time we were together, I think the situation changed her.' FangSu argued.

She wasn't saying this in support of Bai Jun but to cover up for being blind for so many years. It wouldn't look good on her image if Bai Jun was painted black right from the start, as that wouldn't make her any different.

'I'm sure you are the situation that changed her.' Meixu retorted.

‘Did you leave your room and come here to taunt me? If that is so, you’d better go back and leave me alone.’ FangSu said in an annoyed tone.

Seeing how pained her cousin was, Meixu chuckled heartily, ‘I like it when you are annoyed, it makes me satisfied.’

FangSu glared at her and said, ‘It must be nice being single or is that no man wants you?’ Immediately Meixu’s facial expression turned sore.

‘Who told you that no man wants me? I have a better character than you. Do you think if you didn’t leave Bai Jun, you would have gotten together with any man?’ Meixu asked curiously.

FangSu smiled proudly and replied, ‘That only shows that I have a good character but was influenced by an enemy. But what about you? There were never any bad influences from a friend but your character has made it possible for you to enjoy love from a man.’

Meixu was so angry that she picked up the throw-pillow from the bed and threw it on FangSu. ‘How dare you insult me?!’

‘If you don’t want to be insulted, how about you respect yourself and not look for trouble?’ FangSu suggested in an angry tone. She was still angry with what Meixu had said to her earlier.

‘Who told you that no man wants me? I have many of them disturbing me but I’m not just interested to settle down yet. I am not in a hurry, unlike someone who had to hug the thigh of the first man that approached her in fear of being left alone because of her best friend’s bad influence!’ Meixu retorted.

‘Who did you call my best friend?!’ FangSu asked as she threw the pillow back to Meixu.

Chapter 574 - Late For Dinner

‘Can you deny that Bai Jun was never your best friend? The record is all over social media?.’ Meixu asked as she threw the pillow back to her.

FangSu was so furious that she asked Meixu to leave her room.

‘How can you come to my room to make fun of me, get out this minute!’ FangSu said while pointing at the door.

‘I’m not going anywhere!’ Meixu said and went to sit at the foot of her bed, much to her annoyance.

FangSu pointed her finger at her and said, ‘If you don’t leave this minute when I’m being nice to you, I’m going to forgo the formalities and push you out!’

None of FangSu’s warnings got to her head, instead, Meixu climbed on her bed and comfortably said from the middle of her bed, ‘I would like to see you try.’

FangSu whose anger was already at the point of no return went to drag her out of her bed, but they ended up chasing each other while trying to catch the other.

This was the scene Fu Hee saw when she went to look for FangSu.

FangSu and Meixu only paused for a minute, but after Fu Hee stared at them in surprise after looking around the room and leaving them to themselves, they continued their drama.

The expression on Jia Li’s face when she saw her sisters-in-law’s looks after their fight was surprising. Her mouth was agape when she caught sight of the two coming down for dinner.

‘You... were you two playing?.’ Jia Li asked as she didn’t want to think they actually got into a fight.

FangSu and Meixu glared at each other before looking away.

‘I suppose you two had a fight.’ Jia Li muttered under her breath before flashing a fake smile at them.

‘You might want to go back to your rooms and clean up a bit. You know, your fathers, and grandfather wouldn’t be comfortable in your current state.’

After giving them that advice, Jia Li turned around, and walked away as quickly as possible, to avoid being present when they would start to banter with each other again. She didn’t need another headache after dealing with Jasmine.

When FangSu and Meixu had finished fighting, they had forgotten to look at themselves in the mirror after a servant had come to notify them of dinner. They had stopped fighting and left the room. Now after being reminded by Jia Li for their looks, they blamed each other.

FangSu and Meixu were the last to appear at the dining table. At last, when they had sat down, Grandfather Fu put down his glass of water and said while staring at them, ‘I heard you two were playing and because of that, you were late for dinner.’

‘Grandfather, we were not...’ Just as FangSu said that Meixu who was sitting beside her, stomped her feet with a fake smile.

‘Grandfather is not bad for adults to have fun once in a while,’ Meixu said immediately after interrupting FangSu who was going to put them in trouble.

Grandfather Fu glared at them before looking away. 'If you want to play next time, do it at the right time and don't keep everybody waiting at the dinner table, otherwise, you won't get to eat at all!'

As Grandfather Fu picked up his tablespoon, everybody started to eat their dinner. Jasmine had no problem, as the little bun was allowed to start eating earlier.

FangSu glared at Meixu before she started to eat. Meixu did the same as well. They haven't fought like this in years, and luckily, it wasn't a serious fight, as they didn't inflict any injury on each other.

The model and Actress sure made a living with their body, so they have to protect it

Jasmine was happily eating on her own. Her best position had changed, and she was now sitting beside her mother and great grandfather.

Grandfather Fu would make sure to put food on her plates before she would finish the one in her mouth.

At times, if she wanted another side dish next to any member of the family, she would ask them for it boldly

Fu Hua who has been picking food for Jia Li suddenly got playful. He slowly reached out his hand to touch Jia Li's thighs. At first, he had placed his left hand on her knee, but with time, he started moving it up and down her things much to Jia Li's discomfort.

When Jia Li glanced at him to know what was wrong with him, he refused to meet her gaze and continued eating as if nothing was happening. At a point, Jia Li had to whisper to him, 'What is wrong with you?'

There was a frown on her face when she said that. Fu Hua smiled a little before saying back to her in a hushed tone. ‘You better eat quickly.’

‘What for?’ Jia Li asked, but she never got a response.

Because his hands wouldn’t stay at a place, and he was lucky that his mother who was sitting next to him, did not catch him, Jia Li ate quickly and was the first to leave the dinner table.

‘Good night Jasmine.’ Jia Li said as she kissed the little girl’s puffy cheeks, and the little bun replied with her mouth full of food, ‘Good night mummy.’

A few minutes later, Fu Hua got up from his seat and said to Fu Hee. ‘Mother, please make sure Jasmine gets into bed early, I have work to review, so I don’t have the time to keep waiting.’

At the surface, nothing was wrong with his request, because Jasmine was still eating, and he had important work to do which he couldn’t delay taking care of, so he had to ask for help.

‘Sure, you can go ahead. Also, take some milk up for Jia Li.’ Fu Hee said to him.

Fu Hee did listen to his mother. After kissing his daughter good night, he left to get the glass of milk.

Taking the glass of milk up to his bedroom, he found the room empty, but when he heard the sound of showering from the bathroom, a smile appeared on his lips.

Chapter 575 - Fu Hua Wants It So Badly

(CHAPTER RATED 18+)

Fu Hua took the glass of milk and went into the walk-in closet. He sat on the red king-sized chair and patiently waited for Jia Li to come out. He had sneaked into the closet actually, instead of getting in the normal way.

When Jia Li finished bathing, she wrapped herself with a big white towel before going into the walk-in closet, only to see Fu Hua sitting there.

‘What are you doing in here?’ Jia Li asked in vigilance.

Fu Hua smiled and said to her, ‘Your mother-in-law cares too much about you that she asked me to bring up a glass of milk for you.’

Glancing at the glass of milk in his hand, Jia Li said to him, ‘You should have left in the room. I want to dress up now.’

‘No, you have to drink it up quickly since already made the effort to bring it in here for you.’ Fu Hua insisted. He had made a special trip in here just to get his business started, so how could he just leave?

Jia Li had no choice but to make her way towards him. Since he was here to make sure she took the milk, she stopped in front of him and took the glass from him before drinking the milk.

She couldn’t finish the milk, so she passed the glass to Fu Hua, ‘Help me to finish it.’

‘How much will you pay?’ Fu Hua asked with a teasing smile.

Jia Li stretched her hand out in a bid to pass the remaining glass of milk back to him. ‘You have a lot of money, do you still need more?’

Fu Hua took a good look at her, from her face to her bare neck, to her wrapped up body, and down to her fair thick thighs that were visible because of how short the towel was.

‘Keep the glass on the stool, I will finish it later.’ Fu Hua said to her.

There was a stool beside him, so Jia Li leaned in close to him, before stretching her hand to keep the glass there. But before she could lean away, Fu Hua pulled her to sit on him.

‘What are you doing?!’ Jia Li asked with a frown, but then she shut up and looked down to his waist area.

She could feel his erection which she was sitting on, and for a moment, she had wanted to glance at it, but just remembered she was sitting on it.

‘Do you still want to know what I’m doing?’ Fu Hua asked as he moved his fingers to her chest area in a bid to lose the towel which was covering her body from him.

Jia Li reached out immediately to hold his hands, so he would not succeed in losing her towel. ‘Darling, I’m so tired, I can’t handle you this night, and I have to be at work by 8 AM.’

‘You know, you don’t have to be at work so early. I’m really horny now, since today, so I need you to quench this fire for me.’ Fu Hua said as he tried to kiss her, but she moved her face away.

‘Go and take a cold shower to quench the burning fire.’ Jia Li said to him.

‘Are you really going to be this heartless to your husband?’ Fu Hua asked as he watched her get off his lap, leaving his huge bulge to their view.

‘Yes, so go and take a shower.’ Jia Li said to him.

Fu Hua was so frustrated that he got up from the seat. But instead of leaving immediately, he stood in front of Jia Li and begged her for a kiss.

‘Please let me get a kiss from you, it will give me a little relieve.’

Without waiting for him to get close to her, Jia Li leaned in, and let him have her lips. Fu Hua was going crazy and really wanted her badly, so he pushed his budge, and made her have contact with it, and that was when she broke the kiss.

‘This should be enough.’ Jia Li said. Fu Hua sighed frustratedly before walking away.

When he left and shut the door, Jia Li smiled to herself before going to find the perfect nightdress for tonight.

After taking a shower after failing to relieve himself, Fu Hua went into the walk-in closet to dress up. And when he returned to the bedroom, the lights were already turned off, only the bed lamp at his side was on.

Jia Li looked to be fast asleep with the duvet covering her entire body up to her neck. Fu Hua who had wanted to ask if she was awake, to know if he could try and convince her again, gave up on the idea.

Fu Hua sat on the bed and heaved a sigh before getting into bed, and covering himself with the duvet while facing the other side.

Jia Li who was pretending to be asleep opened her eyes at this point. She sneakily raised her hand and put it on Fu Hua’s waist.

Fu Hua thought she felt his presence and needed to hold him, so he let her be but the next moment, her hand sneaked into his pajamas to hold his little brother.

Fu Hua was so shocked that he called out to her and turned around after taking her hand away from his trouser. 'Jia Li!'

Jia Li in question, chuckled and said, 'Were you so shocked that you forgot I am your sweetheart and called out my real name?'

'Are you trying to tease me? Remember, I just had a cold shower, but I didn't succeed in relieving myself. I can't handle your jokes right now.' Fu Hua said.

Jia Li moved the duvet from her body so he could catch a good glimpse of her naked body. 'Do you like what you are seeing?.' She asked after she caught him staring hard at her nudity.

Fu Hua stared at her boobs, before slowly glancing at her stomach and then down to that very place he wanted to so badly enter.

'Do you mean business?..' He asked in a low husky voice as he moved his gaze managed to move back to her face.

Chapter 576 - Another Banter

'Why not?.' Jia Li asked as she sat up on the bed before climbing on top of him. Next, she moved her butt on him and leaned in to kiss his lips just before a groan could escape from it.

While kissing him Jia Li kept on grinding her butt against him in a provocative way. She was naked while sitting on him, and he was putting on a thin night outfit while being straddled on, he was bound to feel her skin.

Fu Hua moved his hands from her thighs up to her hips, and then to her back as he kissed her fiercely. Finally, after a deep breath, Jia Li smiled at him before pulling his little brother from his trouser and then guiding it inside of her.

When his full length entered her, both of them let out a moan together. After Jia Li had another deep breath, she began to move her butts against him slowly, before she increased her pace.

As she began to pounce on him, Fu Hua placed his hands on her butt and helped her to move against him. In between, he moved one of his hands to her boobs to stop it from bouncing as a result of her vigorous movement.

That night, Jia Li fulfilled both of their sexual desires before lying on him breathlessly.

After Fu Hua had recovered from the aftermath, he hugged Jia Li close to his body and said, 'I had no idea you planned this kind of surprise for me.'

'A good s*x satisfies you, and I know. It's my job to serve you, and I can't bear to reject you even if I don't want it. I already knew during our lunch break that you were in need of it, but I couldn't talk about it.' Jia Li said with a smile as she caressed his chest.

'You are a good wife for you to know what kind of mood your husband is in.' Fu Hua said in satisfaction. 'But why did you reject me in the walk-in closet?'

If she was going to give him what he wanted, what was her reason for rejecting him earlier ?

‘I wanted you to have a shower first, and then surprise you. Were you pleased with my surprise ?’

Fu Hua kissed the top of her head and said, ‘I loved it. And I wish you would give this to me every day.’

‘Forget that it would be tiring, you will be bored, and too much s*x is not good for the health.’ Jia Li said.

The Jia Li of about 4 to 5 years ago, was not the same Jia Li of today. She could comfortably talk about any sexual matter with her husband.

‘Less of it is not healthy.’ Fu Hua insisted and a low chuckle escaped from Jia Li’s lips.

An hour later they got tired and dozed off. The next morning, they had another battle on the bed, and just as Fu Hua released inside her and laid beside her on the bed, they heard a soft knock on their door. They didn’t need anybody to tell them who was that.

‘Oh my goodness, how could she be awake by this time ?.’ Jia Li said with a hand on her forehead.

‘Just lay back and rest, I will get the door.’ Fu Hua said as he got off the bed and put on his night trousers.

‘If that girl sees me in bed and knows I’m naked, she is going to ask me silly questions. How am I supposed to reply to her ?.’ Jia Li asked as she sat up on the bed.

‘Daddy! Mummy!’ Jasmine called out in a frustrated tone. The little girl has been knocking, but there was no response from her parents. She was already getting annoyed.

‘Put on my shirt,’ Fu Hua said as he gave his pajama shirt to her, before going to open the door for Jasmine.

Jia Li quickly wore the shirt and buttoned it before the little girl could run to her side after hugging her father.

‘Mummy are you tired?’ Jasmine asked after taking a look at her mother. Jia Li looked disheveled after the morning exercise, and her eyes were still deep as a result of the ecstasy.

‘Yes, mummy is tired.’ Jia Li said as she lifted the little girl and placed her on her thighs before kissing her all over her face.

Jasmine giggled and slid down from her lap.

‘Princess, have you brushed your teeth?’ Fu Hua asked with a smiling gaze on the little girl. Jasmine nodded in response.

A few moments later, Jasmine left. She had come to greet her parents, immediately after brushing her teeth. She had refused to have her bath, so her nanny had no choice but to take her to greet her parents.

Jia Li sighed in relief that the little girl didn’t ask her any silly questions she wouldn’t be able to answer.

Meixu was all happy during breakfast. She had refused a call from the agency to sign an endorsement deal. It was not a big deal to her because she was now an A-list actress, which meant that she could easily cliche a deal. Still, Meixu was happy as things were coming so easily to her, without her having to work so hard like before.

Immediately after a light breakfast, Meixu picked up her bag and left the house with a blooming smile. She had just gotten into her car to drive away when FangSu opened the front passenger door of her car and got in.

‘Drop by  restaurant,’ FangSu said while securing her seatbelt. She was looking all dressed up as if she was going on a date.

Meixu found her actions rude after their war last night. ‘When did I say you could enter my car?’

‘You never said I couldn’t enter either,’ FangSu said with her gaze fixed on her.

‘Now I’m telling you that you can’t enter my car, so get out,’ Meixu said to her.. Since she reminded her about what she didn’t say, she had to thank her for it.

Chapter 577 - Manager Shi Qiao

‘I’m not going anywhere!’ FangSu said and folded her arms.

‘If you don’t leave my car, then I won’t drive to any place,’ Meixu said to her.

‘That’s fine, we can both miss our appointments,’ FangSu said before adjusting the seat, so she could rest her back properly, while Meixu looked on in anger.

Yesterday, Meixu first looked for trouble, and today, FangSu was deliberately trying to get even with her.

Meixu was mad and was about to hit FangSu's arm when Jia Li knocked on her side window. Meixu rolled down the window for her and gave off a fake smile and vibe.

Although Meixu tried to look happy as if there was no problem, but Jia Li could immediately tell from her facial expression, and also when she saw FangSu smiling at her from the front passenger seat.

'Is everything okay?.' Jia Li asked.

'It is, except that FangSu doesn't want to get out of my car.' Meixu disclosed.

Jia Li glanced at FangSu who had said to Meixu, 'What's wrong with giving me a lift, haven't I done the same to you?.'

'FangSu, come over, I will give you a lift to where you are going to.' Jia Li said with an inviting smile.

FangSu smiled and said, 'Don't worry sister-in-law, Meixu will take me. I'm going in the opposite direction to FJ, so it would be a hassle for you to drop me off.'

'What's going on there?.' Fu Hua asked with a frown as he started making his way towards them. He had thought the three of them had left already since he was still inside when they came out a few minutes ago, but now he was outside and could see very well that they were still around.

Immediately Meixu heard Fu Hua's voice, she said to Jia Li, 'Sister-in-law, sorry for taking your time, but we will have to leave now. See you later in the evening.'

After saying that, Meixu whined up the car window, while Jia Li stepped back, next, she ignited the car engine and drove off before Fu Hua could get close to them.

'Why did they leave?.' Fu Hua asked with a deep frown.

Jia Li took his arm and dragged him towards his car. 'They were about to leave before I stopped them, and they were ready to leave once again before you appeared.'

'Where is Jasmine, I thought you would be the one to send her to school today.' Jia Li asked as she swiftly changed the topic.

'Grandfather said he would send her today. They will be out soon.' Fu Hua said.

Grandfather Fu wanted to send his Fu family's little princess to school today, and he was not going alone, he was going with his army entourage. He had somewhere to go to after sending Jasmine to school, hence, the reason for the high profile today.

Seeing Grandfather Fu with his army entourage was a reminder for the school staff of Jasmine's family background.

'Bye, great-grandpa.' Jasmine waved to the old man after he walked her to the entrance door.

‘Goodbye.’ Grandfather smiled proudly and waved back to the little girl as her teacher took her hand, while the two bodyguards assigned to protect her, walked in with them.

When Meixu got to the restaurant FangSu was going to, she stopped there and asked her to get off quickly.

‘Take it easy, I am the Fu family’s princess!’ FangSu said to her.

‘And what am I? the servant?’ Meixu retorted.

‘Who knows?.’ FangSu said and picked her bag from the side.

‘It looks like you are not ready for your date.’ Fu Meixu said and locked the car door and got ready to drive away, but FangSu stopped her immediately.

‘What do you think you’re doing? You asked me to step out of your car, and just when I am about to do that, you want to drive away?’ FangSu said.

FangSu and Meixu were arguing when their fans saw them and rushed towards them, then they paid the price of quarreling by taking pictures with their fans, and signing for them.

The two had pretended to be on good terms with each other, but immediately they managed to get away from the sight of their fans, they glared at each other.

FangSu didn’t need to look for more trouble as she was already 3 minutes late to her date time, she couldn’t keep Zhang Junjie waiting, so she left the car immediately and went into the restaurant, while Meixu was already a few minutes late for the appointment, drove away on speed.

On getting to her entertainment company, she took the elevator straight to her manager's office.

'You are late, very late.' Her manager said.

'I encountered a bug. Where is the contract, have you gone through it?.' Meixu asked as she sat on the sofa and crossed her legs.

'Everything is perfect. You can check it yourself before you sign' Her manager said as he handed the contract to her.

'No need, I will sign it,' Meixu said after glancing at the front page of the contract.

Since it was okay by her and she only needed to put down her signature, her manager handed a pen over to her, which she used to sign on the contract.

'How did I get this contract? Did the company allocate it to me?.' Meixu asked.

'Not really, the big company said they only wanted you to take up this role for them, and the company let you have it.' Her manager said.

'I saw the company's signature there, were they here before I came?.' Meixu asked as she returned the contract to him.

'They are here already, and the general manager of the company is also present. They signed the papers before staying back to chat with the director.'

Meixu had no idea who the owner of the company she just signed a deal to collaborate with was until she saw Shi Qiao step into her manager's office.

She had thought he came to see her as a guest, so she was rude to him. She asked him what he was doing in her manager's office before asking him to leave immediately.

It was when her manager immediately ran to pull her aside and respectfully called out Shi Qiao as 'Manager Shi' that she was able to guess what was going on.

Chapter 578 - Meixu Being Rude To Shi Qiao

'The ads I'm shooting, is it for his company?' Meixu asked with an ugly facial expression on her face.

'Yes, didn't you read it from the first page of the contract when you opened it?.' Her manager asked.

There was a smile on Shi Qiao's face when Meixu turned to look at him. 'It looks like you don't read a contract before you sign it, are you not afraid of getting into trouble?.'

Meixu rolled her eyes at him and said, 'My wellbeing is for me to worry about, it has nothing to do with you.'

Shi Qiao shrugged his shoulders and said, 'If you say so.'

Meixu was in regret as she had no idea of the company she just signed a contract with. She had merely glanced at the first page of the contract, and it never dawned on her to at least check the company she would be working for if she was too late to glance at the entire contract.

'Meixu what have you gotten yourself into?' Meixu thought to herself. Now she was in a dilemma and was wondering what was hard to take 2 seconds to glance at the title page of the contract.

There was no remedy to crying over spilled milk, the deed has been done.

‘Manager Shi, please have a copy of the contract.’ Meixu’s manager said as he respectfully handed the original contract to Shi Qiao, who took it from him and began to flip the pages.

When Shi Qiao saw Meixu’s signature, he smiled in satisfaction before closing the contract and passing it to his assistant he walked in with him.

‘Miss Fu, could you please come with me, so we can talk about the details for the ad shoot?’ Shi Qiao asked with a smile, and with his hands in his front trouser pockets.

‘I’m not going anywhere with you,’ Meixu replied and sat back down on the sofa, she didn’t even bother to spare him another glance as she picked up a magazine on the table and began to flip through the pages.

Shi Qiao was not bothered by her rude actions. Instead, he smiled and glanced at her manager to ask, ‘The contract has been signed, and I have a copy of it already, and that means that Miss Fu can start work immediately if she doesn’t have any ongoing projects, right?’

Meixu’s manager glanced at Meixu before glancing back at Shi Qiao to reply with a slight smile, ‘Yes.’

Meixu seemed to know where this was going to, so she immediately said before Shi Qiao could respond.

‘I already have an ongoing project, so wait patiently for your turn.’

Shi Qiao smiled meaningfully. He took his palms out from his trouser pockets and clapped them together.

‘Miss Fu, I checked your work schedule this morning before you arrived. You have no current ongoing work. You have 2 weeks free time till FJ’s fashion show and your next filming project.’

Hearing that he had already checked her schedule, Meixu glanced at her manager and asked, ‘When did my schedule become something you can share with others?’

‘The director let him see it.’ Her manager replied.

This was not Shi Qiao’s first time in the company, and he was very familiar, especially after Zhi Ruo got physical with Meixu.

No outsider knew what kind of relationship truly existed between Shi Qiao and Meixu at that time, and also currently. But the impression they left on them, was that they were on good terms.

But with what was going on in front of Meixu’s manager, he was sure something wrong must have happened in their relationship.

Meixu thought she must correct their thoughts. The director must have thought that her relationship with Shi Qiao now, was still the same as in the past, and that must be the reason he allowed him to see her schedule.

‘From today, nobody can have an access to my schedule apart from the company, and my assistant, no outsider is allowed to see it, because you don’t know what kind of while intention that is going through their mind,’ Meixu said to her manager.

Meixu was very direct with her words, and her manager was afraid she might offend Shi Qiao, but looking at the person who he thought was offended by Meixu’s rudeness, he discovered that there was no need to worry because Shi Qiao didn’t take her words to heart.

‘I will take her with me now.’ Shi Qiao said to her manager before taking her hand and pulling her out, ignoring her protests.

Shi Qiao’s assistant picked up Meixu’s bag and left with them.

‘Where are you taking me to? Let go off me!’ Meixu said in a raised tone.

‘Don’t forget where we are, don’t make a fool of yourself, or you may appear on the news headline.’ Shi Qiao reminded her.

Being reminded of her image, Meixu shrugged her hand out of his grasp. ‘I can walk by myself, as I also don’t want some ugly news to be written about us. I also care about my image.’

Shi Qiao laughed over her actions and led the way. Meixu joined him and his assistant in their car. Expecting them to take her to their company, she was rather taken to a high-end restaurant that had meeting rooms.

‘Is this where we are having the meeting?’ Meixu asked with a frown.

‘Why not? This place is good, and there are private rooms that can be used to have meetings.’ Shi Qiao explained.

After they had settled into the meeting room Shi Qiao reserved, a waiter came to take their order. Meixu ordered so many dishes she knew she could not eat finish. She wanted to waste Shi Qiao’s money, and that led to her action.

‘...and one serving of steak. Also get a bottle of the most expensive wine in your restaurant, that will be all.’ Meixu said and handed the menu back to the waiter.

After watching her order different kinds of dishes, Shi Qiao asked, ‘Can you finish everything you just ordered?’

‘Does it matter? I want to try all the dishes in this restaurant.’ Meixu said.

‘Why do I feel that your interest is to burn a hole in my pocket?’ Shi Qiao asked.

Chapter 579 - Alix Presence In The Event

‘You brought me here to buy lunch for me, and also to have a meeting on the ad shoot, so please Mr. Shi, don’t insult me because I can also foot my bills,’ Meixu said and rolled her eyes at him.

It doesn’t matter if she was seen through, she will still go on and do whatever she wanted.

‘If you have nothing up your sleeves, why did you order the most expensive wine in this restaurant instead of the wine you’d prefer?’ Shi Qiao thought to himself.

‘Sir, what about your order?’ The waiter asked Shi Qiao.

Shi Qiao glanced at him and replied, ‘Just get an extra plate and cutlery.’

The waiter took the menu from him and left, while Shi Qiao’s assistant who had left them all alone in the room, came back.

‘Sir, you have a call from the office.’ He said as he handed the phone to him.

‘Give me a few minutes.’ Shi Qiao said to Meixu and took the phone to answer the call that has already been connected.

The call lasted only for a few minutes before Shi Qiao handed the phone back to his assistant and he left.

Soon, the dishes were served. The entire surface of the round table was covered with different dishes. Meixu immediately picked up her chopsticks and began to eat.

She tasted all the dishes that were appealing to her before putting down her chopsticks.

‘Are you done eating?’ Shi Qiao asked.

‘I’m satisfied, thank you for the treat,’ Meixu said in satisfaction. She had succeeded in accomplishing her task.

Shi Qiao smiled at her and continued to eat, and only stopped when he was satisfied. When the water came back, Shi Qiao asked him to pack the dishes for Meixu.

‘I don’t need it.’ She said.

‘When you go back to your agency, you can give them to your trainees, they would appreciate your effort for remembering them.’ Shi Qiao said.

Since he has said it like that, she didn’t reject him, after all, it was going to be in her favor.

‘I haven’t seen you in a long time, how have you been?’ Shi Qiao asked.

‘Is this part of the ad shoot for your company?’ Meixu asked with a frown. He was asking her personal question, and she wanted to know if she was there for an official reason or a personal one.

If it was for a personal reason, she would leave, but if it was related to the contract she just signed, she would sit there and get it over with.

‘It is part of the work. Your wellbeing is important to us. We need to be sure you are okay before filming the ads.’ Shi Qiao said to her.

Meixu couldn’t believe what she was hearing. She glanced at him strangely and asked, ‘This is the first time I’m learning that some companies actually care for the state of mind of their models.’

‘My company is different.’ Shi Qiao said.

Was it part of his company policy? He knew the answer to that question best.

‘And if I say I’m not fine, what will your company do about it?’ Meixu asked with a stubborn gaze. She was all out to give him a headache since he asked for it.

Shi Qiao smiled and said, ‘We will help you to take care of it.’

Meixu got annoyed and asked him to go straight to the point of their meeting.

When their meeting ended, Shi Qiao took her back to the company after reminding her to be early tomorrow for the first day of the ad shoot, of which she didn’t give any reply.

The next day Meixu arrived at his family company 10 minutes late. It was a deliberate act, and her manager couldn't do much about it.

'You should have eaten on time. This is the first day of the ad shoot, didn't you read the contract properly?' Her manager asked with a frown.

'How many times will you say it already? I don't know how to we will spend there, so of course, I have to take care of myself first.' Meixu said without a care.

Her manager and her assistant didn't know what else to say to her. Whenever she decides to be stubborn, they can't do anything about it.

When Meixu, her manager, and her assistant arrived in the company Van allocated to her, Shi Qiao's assistant was already waiting for them at the entrance.

'Boss was right, she would come late.' Shi Qiao's assistant muttered to himself.

'I hope your Boss wouldn't be present in this shoot?' Meixu asked as they all made their way inside the building.

'No, he won't.' The assistant replied.

'Perfect!' Meixu replied.

As long as Shi Qiao was not present, Meixu would be obedient and film the ads in one take. But if he was present, she would give everyone a headache.

Soon, it was time for FJ's yearly fashion show. All of FJ's staff were very busy for the big event, even till the end of it.

So many important guests graced the event, including the entire Fu family. So many international and national celebrities were in attendance. Ministers and their wives, politicians, businessmen, and men and women that mattered graced the event.

As usual, there was a live broadcast of the event, and only a few media outlets were invited.

Alix did one crazy thing. She came to the event even though she was not invited. The main thing was that she didn't go in, because an invitation card was needed for entrance.

She just came to stir up trouble. She took pictures outside the building when most people had already gone in.

She was in disguise when she arrived. She knew the consequences of using a stir of she allowed her face to be seen in the event she was not invited to.

She would be arrested, or the security there would throw her out, and that would be a big embarrassment to her, so what she did was to disguise herself and took some pictures, then when most people had already gone in, she took off her mask from her face and took two more pictures before leaving immediately.

A few people thought she seemed familiar, but before they could get a good look at her face, she put the mask back on her face and left hurriedly.

Alix did not post those photos immediately, rather she waited till the last day of FJ's Autumn Fashion show before posting them with the caption, 'just passing by' thereby causing a buzz on the internet.

'Was she invited to that event?'

'This must be a lie, I will really lose my faith in FJ if they really invited Alix to their event.'

'Has Alix been forgiven?'

'Why did FJ invite that species of human to such a grand event?'

'I had no idea that Alix was in town, what is she doing here?'

'@FJ_Styles did you really invite Alix to the Autumn Fashion show?'

'What's FJ's Big Boss stand on this?'

'Alix, show us your invitation because I refuse to accept that you were invited to that event?'

'I won't be surprised if those photos were photoshopped.'

'What's wrong with this woman always showing off?'

'Alix, where is your child? Did you abandon that little child to come and seek for public attention?'

'I can't believe this woman wouldn't give herself a break!'

'Attention seeker!!'

'@FJ_Styles did you really invite this kind of person to your show?'

Many people called Fu Hua out to ask him if he actually allowed Alix to his company's event. Some people asked Jia Li if she was in support of it.

When FJ saw the commotion that was going on, online, they immediately released a statement after Fu Hua gave out the instruction.

FJ thanked the netizens for their concern and also revealed that they didn't invite Alix to their event.

'...our doors are still closed and will remain that way till further notice. We have also issued a warning to her through the court for the misleading contents, and we wish for this drama not to have a repeat.'

There were different reactions and responses from the concerned netizens who have been waiting for FJ's response.

'That's what I'm saying, FJ would be crazy to invite Alix to their event!'

'Why do I feel like this woman is using us to play?'

'Wait, I want to understand something, Alix never attended the event?'

'Wow! this woman sure has a lot of guts!'

'FJ, I hope Alix would be asked to pay a fine for the misleading contents?'

'It would be a relief if somehow Alix was imprisoned for a week or two so she could relax.'

Alix didn't want to get into trouble, but waking up the next day to a letter from the court, was a sign of trouble.

It was a final warning from FJ and also from the high court. She was never to mention or make use of tags related to FJ. She also wasn't allowed to take pictures with any FJ products, or near their company and store outlets.

The summary of the whole list of warnings, was for her to stay clear of FJ Styles, and anything relating to it, and failure to do so would attract at least 6 months imprisonment.

Immediately after reading the notice from the Court, Alix shredded the papers with her hands out of anger.

‘What nonsense!’ Alix said while stomping on the pieces of paper.

Carlos looked at her from the side and asked, ‘Do you know you can face charges from deliberately destroying and stepping on the court notice?’

‘Does it look like the law matter to me now?’ Alix shouted back.

‘It will matter to you if this gets out.’ Carlos reminded her, but Alix was still being unreasonable.

‘Who will tell them? You, or the servants in this house?’ Alix asked.

Carlos didn’t reply to her anymore. He was doing and will continue to do her best to protect her as ‘her’ lawyer and friend.

In the building of her company, Alix has been flying in and out of China. And this time around, she brought her child along because she was going to stay for a long time.

The products for her company were currently.

being tasted, and soon, it will be released. This was a crucial time for her, so she had to stay.

Just when Alix was trying to contain her anger, she heard the loud wails of her son. Her face was twisted in an ugly frown as she cursed under her breath, before going to find him in one of the rooms.

‘What did you do to him?’ Alix asked immediately she barged into the room.

The Nanny was scared of Alix hitting her and immediately answered, ‘The noise woke him up’

‘What noise?’ Alix asked with a death glare. That thought that her venting out her anger about the court notice being seen as a reason her son was wailing, didn’t dwell well with her.

‘I’m sorry ma’am.’ The nanny said in fear before lifting the crying child from his cot.

‘Feed him his milk and make him shut up!’ Alix said before walking away.

After she left, the nanny sighed in relief before placating the crying child.

Soon, the content of the notice given to Alix by the court was revealed for everyone to see. Now, most people were hoping for her to make a mistake so FJ will deal with her accordingly.

‘Now one busybody woman will learn to stay at a place.’

‘If I were FJ, I wouldn’t bother to give her a warning, I will just directly surprise her with a prison sentence and a lawsuit as a sugar coating.’

‘FJ is making this easy for Alix, they should give her a heavy punishment.’

‘I’m just wondering what Bai Jun has in store of FJ since she once worked for them, and was sent to prison by them.’

Alix was fuming made reading the comments about her. She broke a glass while drinking fruit juice as a result of it.

‘Next time, don’t go looking for trouble, you really asked for it this time around,’ Carlos said as he walked in and came to sit on the chair opposite hers.

‘If this is your way of placating me, then you can keep it because I don’t need it,’ Alix said while rolling her eyes at him.

Carlos shrugged his shoulders and crossed his legs.

Quickly, a servant came by to clean the mess and to pour another glass of juice for Alix, and also one for Carlos before leaving.
