Chapter 46: I have better ways to bring our two tribes closer

"Honorable giant knight, the Buffalo Folk never go back on their word. We will keep our promise!" Earthshaker said.

Orion nodded, saying nothing more.

Under Earthshaker's command, the Buffalofolk left behind half of their supplies and withdrew from the succubus territory.

Queen Delilah and the succubus elders, upon receiving the supplies, couldn't hide their smiles of joy.

"Your Majesty, with these supplies, we should have enough to survive this winter!"

"I understand," Delilah replied, her voice filled with satisfaction. However, as she watched Orion preparing to leave, a strange sense of loss crept into her heart.

She approached Orion and sincerely tried to persuade him to stay.

"Strong Orion, why not stay in our succubus territory for a few more days? I promise I will take good care of you!"

Orion shook his head, his gaze briefly sweeping over Queen Delilah's breasts before he calmly replied.

"The Buffalo Folk can be trusted."

"If they were to lose even the quality of honesty, I swear, there would be no place for them in this forest anymore!"

Orion had already seen through Queen Delilah's intentions. She wanted him to stay because she lacked a sense of security and didn't fully trust the Buffalo Folk.

Just as Queen Delilah was about to say more, Orion spoke first.

"My sister told me that this winter will be particularly harsh. Winter is coming, and all the tribes are preparing their supplies for survival. We giants are no exception, Your Majesty."

Queen Delilah wanted to say something else, but in the end, she remained silent.

However, in the next moment, Queen Delilah reached into her panties and pulled out an item, handing it to Orion.

"This is the gift I promised you earlier."

Orion took the gift, feeling a bit puzzled. Since it wasn't the right time to examine it closely, he stored it away and thanked her.

With that, Orion mounted the Abyssal Dragon, pulling Lilith into his arms. His hand couldn't resist giving her nipple a playful squeeze.

"Your Majesty, we bid you farewell!"

"The succubi will always welcome your return!" Queen Delilah called after him.

And so, with the Abyssal Dragon leading the way, the Twilight Viper in the middle, and the four giant warriors following behind, the group disappeared into the dense forest.

"Your Majesty, why didn't you speak with Lilith?" one of the succubus elders asked softly as she approached Queen Delilah, sighing.

"Ever since I ascended the throne, I've kept Lilith imprisoned. There was never much sisterly affection between us, so why bother now?"

"Sigh..."

The elder could only sigh in resignation. She had truly hoped that Delilah and her sister Lilith could improve their relationship, as it would have helped strengthen the ties between the succubi and the Blackstone giants through Lilith.

"Don't worry, Elder. I know what you're thinking."

"If Orion truly grows into an Alpha of the Black Forest, I have better ways to bring our two tribes closer."

After saying this, Queen Delilah glanced at her alluring chest, then turned and led her followers back to the succubus palace, her hips swaying seductively.

Two days later, after traveling at full speed without hunting, Orion and his group finally returned to the Blackstone giants' territory.

"Find a place to rest for the night. Tomorrow, we'll hunt our way back."

The four giant warriors who had accompanied Orion all nodded. By now, their attitude toward Orion had changed significantly.

Though Orion was young, his strength was undeniable.

Orion had earned glory in the succubus territory and in front of the Buffalo Folk, which had instilled a sense of reverence and admiration in the four bloodline warriors.

Soon, a temporary tent was set up for Orion.

Inside the tent, Orion took out the item Queen Delilah had given him. He was curious because he didn't recognize it. The object had been taken from Delilah's panties, yet it had no unpleasant odor—only a faint fragrance.

Orion thought for a moment and then squeezed Lilith's breast, who had been silent the entire time.

"Do you know what this is?"

Lilith looked up, gazing deeply into Orion's eyes, her expression surprisingly tender.

"This is Abyssal Essence."

"It's a rare substance produced by only a few Abyssal beasts, unique to them."

"Any Abyssal beast that possesses Abyssal Essence will develop its own unique Abyssal magic."

Orion was stunned for a moment, and then a realization hit him.

"Are you saying that if I give this to the Abyssal Dragon, it will develop its own Abyssal magic?"

Orion toyed with the gem-like Abyssal Essence in his hand, and his appreciation for Queen Delilah grew beyond mere lust—it reached a deeper, more spiritual level.

Lilith looked up again, gazing at Orion with curiosity.

Lilith was intrigued. Weren't giants supposed to be violent, bloodthirsty brutes? Why was this giant, her future husband, so intelligent? He seemed to grasp things so quickly.

Orion noticed Lilith's gaze and lifted her chin, kissing her directly.

The kiss was through her veil.

Even through the veil, Orion could feel Lilith's heat. Her eyes were filled with desire and lust. Her response was intense—her hand had already moved to Orion's crotch, ready to remove his beast skirt.

However, Orion stopped after just one kiss.

"Lilith, my future wife, don't try to seduce me."

"When we return to the Blackstone tribe, after you've met my sister and the other giants, you will be truly accepted."

"If we were to make love here, would you be willing?"

Lilith shook her head. Of course not. If she were to have sex with Orion here, she wouldn't be recognized as his wife in name.

If that happened, she wouldn't receive the respect or the rights that a wife should have when she moved into Orion's tent.

For example, she wouldn't be able to command Lysinthia, who was currently outside preparing food for Orion. Enjoy more content from MVL

"They say succubi are seductive and revealing, cunning and beautiful."

"But Lilith, I don't see that 'revealing' quality in you or your sister."

Orion pulled Lilith into his arms, genuinely interested in chatting with her.

To be honest, Orion wanted to learn more about the succubi from Lilith.

Though Lilith seemed like a soft, pliable toy in his arms, Orion could clearly sense that she was a true hero-level succubus.

"My future husband, don't compare the royal succubi to ordinary succubi. That would make you seem ignorant."

Lilith's voice was soft and gentle, but there was a unique allure hidden within her tone.

"Oh? Tell me more."

Orion lay back on the animal skins, but his arm around Lilith's waist tightened.

He pulled Lilith closer, pressing her face against his cock.

Lilith lifted her head and smiled.

"My future husband, are you also wondering why I don't have goat horns or bat wings?"

Orion nodded, giving Lilith a knowing look. Although they couldn't have full intercourse yet, there were other ways to relieve the desire that Lilith had stirred in him.

Lilith understood immediately. As she began to remove his beast skirt, she explained.

"Only lower-level succubi have goat horns and bat wings. We, the royal succubi, are higher beings. We've evolved beyond the need for such external features."

"Of course, if necessary, we can transform and regain those features. The royal succubi can even change their body size during sex to accommodate different races. So, when I learned that my husband would be a giant, I wasn't worried at all..."

Lilith continued to chatter until she finally removed Orion's beast skirt and saw the big and hard cock in front of her.

"Oh my god!"
