

Titan King 79

Chapter 79: Don't pull out, please finish inside me

Succubus Queen Delilah accepted the broken spear with a smile on her face.

Afterward, she invited Orion and his entourage into the palace, hosting a grand banquet in their honor. She even arranged for the most luxurious palace to be cleared out, making it Orion's exclusive residence.

Later that night, Delilah led Orion to the entrance of a treasure vault. She reached into her panties and pulled out a key, unlocking the heavy doors of the vault.

"Orion, behold, this is the treasure of our succubus clan(tribe)!"

"All the crystal cores you wanted are stored here!"

Delilah's voice was gentle, especially now that she was alone with Orion.

Orion nodded, not holding back, and packed all the crystal cores into his Bagbird's stomach.

"We don't need the other supplies, we..."

Orion turned around, his pupils narrowing as he stared blankly at Delilah.

At that moment, Delilah stood before him completely naked, without a hint of modesty.

"Orion, I never believe in oaths!"

"I only believe in mutual satisfaction of interests!"

"Orion, I'm willing to fulfill all your personal desires!"

As she spoke, Delilah began to sway her body, performing a strange dance.

Orion remained silent, watching everything unfold.

Seeing Orion's silence, Delilah's eyes lit up.

In such moments, silence was consent.

Delilah approached him, speaking in a seductive voice.

"Orion, do you desire my body? As a member of the royal succubus, my body is as exquisite as my sister's. Whatever pleasure she can give you, I can too."

Delilah tilted her head back, her face full of allure.

Orion still didn't speak, but his breathing became slightly rapid.

He reached out and grasped Delilah's ample breasts, the sensation indescribably wonderful.

Delilah pressed her body against Orion's, feeling his growing hardness.

She guided his hand to her intimate area with her left hand, while her right hand gently caressed his erection. Blushing, she said, "Orion, even though you're a giant, your size is impressive. This is going to be fun. For the sake of your size, even if the succubi don't submit to giants, I might willingly become your woman."

As she spoke, Delilah used her long, beautiful legs to caress Orion's body. His erection was fully engorged, and he laid Delilah down, spreading her legs and entering her.

Orion held Delilah's delicate feet, thrusting powerfully, making her moan with pleasure.

"Oh, darling, you're so strong, it feels amazing!"

"Oh yes, my god."

"Please, harder, don't be gentle. My pussy can take it, keep going!"

Delilah panted, her pussy stretched by Orion's cock, her breasts flushed.

With each thrust, her vagina filled with her juices, making the experience incredibly pleasurable.

Orion gripped her breasts, using them as leverage to drive into her.

Delilah moaned continuously, though she was a succubus skilled in seduction, this was her first time being taken so roughly by a stranger. Her body was overwhelmed with excitement.

Orion's relentless thrusts brought Delilah to countless climaxes. Her vagina tightened, enhancing the pleasure. Orion neared his own climax, intending to withdraw before releasing.

But Delilah wrapped her legs around his waist, murmuring, "Don't pull out, please finish inside me..."

Orion obliged, releasing a torrent of semen deep inside her.

His release was so copious it overflowed, trickling down her thighs.

Delilah crawled over, cradling his member, licking the remnants of their passion.

Orion stroked her hair, suddenly laughing.

"From today, the succubus tribe will be under my protection!"

"But remember, betrayal will end badly!"

Orion dressed and left the treasure vault alone.

Delilah watched him leave, his words echoing in her mind: 'Betrayal will end badly.'

"Betrayal... does that mean even my body can't betray?"

"If I masturbate, that shouldn't count as betrayal, right?"

The succubus clan was indeed lascivious, as Delilah's actions had shown.

She cleaned herself up, dressed, and left the vault with a satisfied smile.

In the royal succubus palace, Lilith had been waiting for Delilah.

Seeing Delilah's expression and the scent she exuded, Lilith was furious.

"I knew it, you always take what's mine!"

"Delilah, your possessiveness is too much, do you even consider me your sister?"

Delilah glanced at Lilith, a smile playing on her lips, her voice dripping with allure.

"Lilith, my dear sister, you know the rules of the succubus royalty. The defeated cannot continue to exist."

"I saved you by keeping you in the dark hall, don't deny it!"

Delilah's eyes teased, her laughter unrestrained.

"And someone as strong as Orion can't be swayed by seduction alone!"

"The strong have their own will!"

Her voice turned slightly serious.

"Lilith, a word of advice: don't try to manipulate Orion's will."

"Or you'll meet a terrible end!"

Delilah's warning was subtle, hinting at something for her sister.

Lilith wasn't foolish, she stared at her sister, questioning silently.

But Delilah said nothing more.

"Hmph... take care of yourself!"

Seeing Delilah's post-climax state, Lilith felt restless.

In the end, Lilith left the succubus palace.

Before leaving, she reminded her sister, "Orion despises betrayal!"

As Lilith walked away, Delilah leaned back on her throne, lost in thought.

"Despises betrayal?"

"Can the succubus clan not betray?"

"Or is it my body and heart that can't betray?"

Three days later, succubus elder Vespera led half the succubus warriors to accompany Orion to the Buffalofolk territory.

This time, Buffalofolk was the next target for the succubus clan.

Bidding farewell to Delilah, Orion stood on the back of an abyss dragon, holding Lilith with one arm and Lysinthia with the other, feeling quite content.

"Dear Orion, compared to my sister, who is more beautiful? Who feels better?"

Orion smiled awkwardly.

Clearly, Lilith knew about his lovemaking with Delilah.

She was playfully jealous, teasing him.

Orion kissed Lilith's forehead, speaking with affection.

"Of course, my Lilith, who is with me every day, is more beautiful!"

Lilith smiled, satisfied with his answer.

Because she got the answer she wanted.

In the northernmost part of the black forest.

Here lay a series of hills, adjacent to the Abyssal Chasm, one of the four major regions.

These hills were occupied by a group of cave spiders.

"Queen Arachne, have you made your decision?"

"Join us, defeat the giants, and all the resources, equipment, and slaves will be yours!"

A tigerfolk elder stood on a large rock, enticing the cave spider queen Arachne with promises of visible gains.

The sound of scuttling echoed as Arachne, with a human upper body and a spider lower body, emerged from the cave.

"Tigran, what do you want?"

"Moonshadow Valley, a territory, a place for our tiger tribe to dwell!"

"And why should I trust you?"

Queen Arachne wasn't naive, aware of Tigran's temptations.

Defeating the giants of Moonshadow Valley would come at a great cost.

Her spider kin might suffer heavy losses.

"Queen Arachne, I know your concerns!"

"Rest assured, we won't use your kin as cannon fodder!"

"Our tiger tribe has allied with a serpent tribe and controlled eight elite level serpentine beasts. With them leading the charge, you can rest easy!"

Tigran continued to tempt Queen Arachne, his confidence evident.

Winter had just ended, and these spiders were likely starving, needing food and battle.
