

《The Mysterious CEO》

154 Loyal Dog Of Bo Xiao

"Hey...Hey... Are you going to leave me like this?" Mo Jiang shouted. Although, he had forgotten about his pain after seeing how she was killing all these men without blinking her eyes, however, now he was dying because of pain. Or perhaps, he might be wanted her to stay with him here, so that he could know more about her.

She was a very interesting girl.

"What will I get, if I stay with you and take you to the hospital? Huh? You don't even have your money and any valuable item with you, now. So, I won't get anything for helping you Right? It's best you should contact with your team. Okay? Bye then." That girl said as a matter-of-fact and left without looking back.

"Such a money-grubber." Mo Jiang murmured and was staring at her back.

After five minutes, Choi Sun came with the team and worried asked: "Boss, are you alright?"

Mo Jiang came back into his senses from that girl's thought and looked up Choi Sun and asked: "Why did you take so much of the time? Did you catch the rest of the men?"

"Those sons of b*tch trick us and leave from there. However, I have sent the team after them and I have block this area as well. We will find them." Choi Sun reported.

"Hmm, one more thing. Track the GPS of my watch and let me know the exact location of it." Mo Jiang commanded.

Of course, Mo Jiang wouldn't leave that girl. It seemed that she was far more talented and was totally opposite of her appearance. If she would join his team, then it would be best for him.

Choi Sun didn't understand why all of a sudden, Mo Jiang was asking, to track the location of his watch, still, he replied "Okay." and send his team to track the location without asking any further question.

In the dark night, a girl in a pink dress walked into an old building afterwards, she stood in front of an old wooden door, she unlocked the door lock and was about to enter inside the house, then suddenly, bloomed voice came from behind and startled her.

"LIU JUAN, YOU DARE TO COME HERE AGAIN."

"You... Can't you speak in a low voice?" Liu Juan immediately turned around and angrily said while pretending to get scared by patting her chest.

"Low Voice? Stop pretending that you are scared." The man said with a sneer.

"You..." Liu Juan's blood was boiling in an angry that she wanted to strangle him to death.

This man named was Zhang Tao. He was Liu Juan's landlord. This man always looked down on her and entered her house like it was his own house.

Okay...Okay...

It was his house, however, now he had given it to the other party on the rent so he should give some privacy to his tenant.

But No...

"Okay...Okay...Stop fighting, Old Man." Another female voice came from behind.

Both Liu Juan and Zhang Tao looked towards the source of the voice and found a middle-aged woman was standing there.

She was Ou Zia, Zhang Tao's wife.

Liu Juan would have murdered Zhang Tao a long time ago for his behaviour, if Ou Zia wasn't his wife.

Ou Zia was like a mother figure for Liu Juan and Liu Juan didn't want to make Ou Zia a widow. Although, she was constantly trying to convince Ou Zia to give divorce to Zhang Tao, so that Ou Zia could live her life happily.

However, Liu Juan's effects were going to waste in front of their love. She had never understood what Ou Zia had seen in Zhang Tao to fall in love with him.

He was poor and greedy. He was always interfacing in others' life and was always ready to fight and was always cause the problems for Ou Zia.

"Fighting? I am not fighting. Just tell her to give me back my money, otherwise, she can't enter into this house." Zhang Tao said in a high voice.

"Old Man, she has promised to you, so she will give you back your money. Why don't you give her some more time?" Ou Zia softly said.

"More time? How much time does she want more? I have given her enough time. If she is not able to pay me back, then why doesn't she go back to Bo Xiao? I am sure, he will pay on her behalf. After all, he loves..."

"Enough! Here is your money." Liu Juan passed the envelope towards Zhang Tao and then continued "Now, don't you dare to interface in my life, otherwise, I won't think twice before shutting your mouth." Liu Juan angrily said and went inside her house while shutting the door on the face of the old couple.

"You..."

"Enough, Old Man. You made her angry. Why are you keeping praising Bo Xiao in front of her, when you already know all the things?" Ou Zia disappointedly said.

"What? Now, you are accusing me? I am just saying for her own good. Now, look this money. What do you think? From where has she gotten this money? Tell me? The world is very cruel for the girl like her. It is best for her to go back to Bo Xiao?" Zhang Tao lectured.

Ou Zia helplessly shook her head and went back to her house. She knew that it was useless to fight against Zhang Tao because he was a loyal dog of Bo Xiao and he was always trying to sell Liu Juan back to Bo Xiao.
