

《The Mysterious CEO》

201 Miracle

Seconds turned into minutes....

Minutes turned into hours...

Hours turned into a whole day...

Inside the operation theater, buckets of sweat were now rolling down from the foreheads of the doctors with every passage of minute. The atmosphere here was very stiff or it could be said in more appropriate term suffocating as no one dared to breathe a sigh of relief at this moment. The situation was getting worse.

The huge amount of blood loss from Liu Juan's body that had caused a lot of issues aside from the tissue and muscle damage that was incurred, moreover, let's not even speak of the internal damage. Five bullets had passed through her body. Many bones had been broken up and let's not talk about the bruises and scratches on her body.

The doctors were wondering how Liu Juan was still able to breathe.

Her vital signs were weak, but still, she was breathing. So she was alive.

The doctors had one word to describe this situation of Liu Juan was simply put a 'Miracle'

However, the doctors didn't know that apart from a miracle, there was also Liu Juan's determination as she couldn't let herself to die this way. Liu Juan could be cripple again that wouldn't be an issue, but she couldn't die. If she died then her big sister would also die.

So Liu Juan had to live anyhow!

Even though Liu Juan was still alive, still the doctors didn't want to take the risk of her life ending here ...oh...no ...no... risking her life meant the risking of their lives as Bo Xiao had already given them a warning.

Since Liu Juan had many injuries and the level of risk was very high, they took extra care which resulted in very long hours to complete the surgery. Due to this, the surgery had completed in the middle of the night around 1 AM. This surgery took more than twenty hours.

Outside the operation theater!

Fifteen minutes after Liu Juan's surgery had started, outside, the man yawned as he felt sleepy. Of course, every maid and the other people who were soundly sleeping in their respective rooms, but because of the chaos in the villa, they had to abruptly wake up. So they would also feel sleepy as they only took a few hours of sleep after a long and exhausting day and now they had once again been required to do work. However, they didn't dare to yawn like their boss.

"It's so boring to sit here that I am feeling tired now. I will go and take some rest. Let me know when the surgery is completed." The man gave the command while he went to rest in his room.

Liu Ruolan saw that their boss had left so there was no need for them to stay as well, right?

Liu Ruolan immediately stood up as soon as their boss left and mustered up her courage and showed her daring once again to go up towards Bo Xiao " Bo Xiao, let's ...let's go and let's take a rest...last month must have been very tiring for you...you should rest!"

Again Liu Ruolan was worried about him and again Bo Xiao disregarded her concern as he stared daggers at her with his cold steely glance and made her shut up.

Liu Ruolan immediately sealed her lips in case she would get another kick.

Bo Xiao remained standing there watching the surgery room door, not once wanting to leave. The other team members felt the same way and refused to budge.

With the passage of time, many nurses ran in and out of the operation theater to get medicine, equipment and many times to get more blood while fighting to keep Liu Juan alive.

Bo Xiao wanted to stop them to ask about the situation inside the theater, but there would be no use as the nurses weren't able to answer him properly given their lack of knowledge on the truth of what was happening as they were only required to follow the doctor's orders at any given point in time and moreover, Bo Xiao interruption would only waste their time as well as put Liu Juan into more danger. So he didn't stop them.

Around 1 AM, the door of the operation theater finally opened.

'Click!'

The sound of the door opening was very low, but everyone heard it and so they swiftly gathered around the operation theater.

The head of the doctors removed his surgical cap and reported to Bo Xiao " Young Master Bo, the surgery was successful and we have saved the patient's life...but ...actually...she..."

The head of the doctors didn't know how to continue.

"But what?" Bo Xiao threateningly asked.

"Shewentintoacoma!" The head of the doctors said in one breathe.

Dead silence filled in the air!

The temperature also dropped several hundred degrees with that one statement or word!

Many cold piercing glances were aimed directly towards the doctor as if their glances could kill someone then the doctors would have died a thousand times.

The atmosphere outside the operation theater was so terrifying that the doctors and nurses weren't able to breathe as it seemed at that moment as if their life was nearing its end. No one dared to make a sound, even Liu Ruolan was quietly standing by despite the bubble of happiness bursting inside her heart as she wanted to shout 'YESSS!!!! THAT W*TCH WENT INTO A COMA! SHE DESERVES IT!

Unfortunately, she wasn't able to make a sound because of the current stiff atmosphere.

Like the saying goes, there are some exceptions!

So, right at that moment, a sarcastic comment brushed passed to everyone's ears.

"Ohhh ...so sad then!"

And the daring person would be the one and only... i.e their boss!

Everyone then made a path for their boss towards the doctors. The man leisurely walked towards the doctors completely unruffled by the stiff atmosphere.

"So doc, tell me her current status!" The man asked.

"Boss...she had taken five bullets as well as her shoulder and a few rib bones are broken... with so many injuries, we have had to remove her right artificial leg for the time being to avoid the risk of infection...but....but she went into a coma...so we don't know when she will wake up!" The head of the doctors stutteringly reported the whole status of Liu Juan.

"Tsk...Tsk... that means, she once again became a cripple. Such a troublesome girl!" The man scornfully commented.

Whereas Bo Xiao and Liu Ruolan were shocked when they heard the man's words 'she once again became a cripple.'

That meant Liu Juan was crippled.

Her right leg was artificial!

Liu Ruolan was shocked into happiness, whereas, Bo Xiao was shocked from shamefulness, Liu Juan was crippled and she walked however while relying on an artificial leg but still, she performed so efficiently in the missions she was assigned and yet here, he...

Moreover, most of the team members also didn't know about Liu Juan's right leg, so they were also shocked and ashamed as well.

However, everyone's (including the doctors') presence outside the operation theater was, even more so now, going into shock when they heard the man's next words.

"Since she once again became a cripple then it would be troublesome for us. So... let's do this...if she doesn't wake up in a week's time then announce her death!"
