

《The Mysterious CEO》

207 Two words of Good Night!

"Don't worry. I never break my promises." Bo Xiao assured her.

"Thank you!" Liu Juan faintly smiled and turned back again to look outside.

Bo Xiao looked at her fragile figure and felt some uneasiness in his heart. Liu Juan was staying inside the hospital and didn't know what was happening in the villa, but Bo Xiao knew. Although he was the one who made Liu Ruolan continue to pretend to be Liu Juan, now when he was seeing the real Liu Juan and spending time with her, he felt disgusted whenever he saw Liu Ruolan's face.

Liu Ruolan did nothing except throw a tantrum like a child, whereas, Liu Juan despite being badly injured, spent her time on recovering her original health and was planning a solid plan to get freedom for herself and for her big sister.

No one could say Liu Ruolan was the big sister who should be taking care of her younger sister and Liu Juan was the younger sister who should throw a tantrum sometimes.

Even when Bo Xiao and Liu Juan were discussing the plan, he felt that Liu Juan was far better than him. Her planning showed that she was an experienced person and seemed to be more experienced than him which shocked him to the core. That every time he discussed with her, he found flaws in himself even though, Liu Juan didn't point out his flaws and after discussion, he didn't know why but an anonymous energy ran inside him that he had gone to the practicing area to improve himself rather than to return to his room to get some rest which he usually did many times when Liu Juan wasn't here.

There was a positive spark that arose in him whenever he had a conversation with Liu Juan. In fact, he never felt that Liu Juan was his rival, he felt that she was his team member completely contradictory to what Liu Ruolan was continuously telling him about Liu Juan.

And perhaps because of his positive sparks, he seemed to become closer to Liu Juan as he had at many times accompanied her during the dinner even though they had nothing to discuss about in concern to the plan.

Liu Juan felt strange when she saw him in her room, but he came with an excuse that he was here to monitor her health as this mission was also important for him.

In the end, Liu Juan didn't say anything and ate quietly and let him monitor her health. There was silence between them but both of them never felt awkward as there seemed to be an understanding in this silence between them.

Even now, Liu Juan was in her thoughts, in fact, she wasn't looking at him, but still, Bo Xiao was standing there, staring at her. However, at that moment, maybe he noticed or maybe not, that there was a hint of gentleness in his eyes when he was looking at her.

After half an hour, Liu Juan felt her legs had gotten numb by standing here, so she turned around and found that Bo Xiao was still standing here and was continuously staring at her which she hadn't noticed before.

"Umm...Okay then, be prepared. We will leave at 3:30." Bo Xiao came back to his senses when he saw that Liu Juan was staring at him questioningly.

"Okay!" Liu Juan simply replied.

Bo Xiao frowned as she couldn't even say 'Good night' even to show some formality, but he realized that Liu Juan was always like this. She wouldn't use a single word unnecessarily as if the words were a treasure which she didn't want to waste even a single one to say even two words of 'Good Night'.

"Good Night!" Bo Xiao said.

"Hmmm..." Liu Juan hummed and went to her bed and didn't bother with Bo Xiao.

While Bo Xiao inwardly sighed and left disappointedly for not hearing the words of 'Good Night' from Liu Juan's mouth. He left the room dejectedly and did not turn back. Directly heading to his own room to get some rest.

Again this time, Liu Juan wanted to see Liu Ruolan before going for the mission. Moreover, the man didn't stop her from meeting with her big sister this time, but still, she didn't go to meet Liu Ruolan. As she had a fear that if she saw Liu Ruolan then she might feel weak and she couldn't afford to be weak at this moment, especially when this mission was very crucial for both the sisters' freedom. Regardless of what her sister had done or had tried to do. She still felt it was her own fault and thus she tried, even at the cost of her life if need be, to give her older sister freedom. It was the least she could do.

So again, Liu Juan left without seeing Liu Ruolan with a hope to come back with glory.

"Ready?"

Liu Juan was dressed in a completely black set of clothing with no accessories on her body which could reveal her identity as if during the mission Liu Juan died then nobody would be able to get to know from which team she was a part of. As this was a rule for everyone. This not only prevented a leak of information on the various organizations, but it also provided further safety for each member to not be attacked later on.

"Hmmm!" Liu Juan nodded and covered her face with the black mask and got inside the van.

Bo Xiao again inwardly sighed and got in behind her.

At 3.30 AM sharp, the van slowly drove away and disappeared into the fog of the night without letting anyone know except one person.

"Good Luck Girl. I hope you will have success in this mission and come back to pay for your smartness!" The Man said with a sneer on his face while standing near the window and seeing the van drive away from the villa.