

《The Mysterious CEO》

Chapter 253 - War (Part-4)

No wonder Markus defeated Michael so easily last time. Still, there was one thing that he wasn't able to understand. How could Michael reach this position with this level of intelligence of his?

People went crazy when their time was near but hearing Markus's laugh, he still seemed to be sane.

This meant the victory was still far away from them.

Immediately, Mo Jiang's eyes narrowed when Michael even didn't look good seeing Markus's smile.

He wanted to see Markus in a miserable state where Markus was begging for his life but the situation didn't look to be aligned with what he had envisioned.

"Why didn't you run away this time?" Mo Jiang asked and in response, Markus just smiled at him.

Outside, Xin Chao and Liu Juan continued to fight against each other. It seemed that he had really underestimated her; otherwise, she would have been defeated under his hands by now.

However, Xin Chao had always learned to win. Since Liu Juan wasn't ready to lose, he would make her.

In the next moment, Liu Juan stood again and strode towards him to kick him down, but he caught her leg at the right moment and slid the knife on her right t.h.i.g.h.

"Ahhh!"

"Thud!"

Immediately, Liu Juan fell down and blood flowed out. Her weakness was her right leg and now that he had deceptively stabbed her, her chance to win was reduced.

"I told you, you will never be able to defeat me." Xin Chao sneered.

"And... I told you, we will see." Liu Juan smiled at him despite being in pain which made him narrow his eyes.

And before he could understand anything, Liu Juan took out her hidden gun and fired at him.

"Bang!"

"Bang!"

"Bang!"

"Bang!"

"Bang!"

"Bang!"

Liu Juan didn't stop firing until all the bullets from the gun didn't slit in his body.

'Thud!'

Xin Chao fell down and his breathing was erratic and his eyes had a disbelieved look. He couldn't believe that in one second, he was about to kill her and in the next second, he was lying here taking his last few breaths.

Liu Juan stood up after a lot of struggle and walked towards Xin Chao cripplingly.

"I win." Liu Juan uttered two words and Xin Chao took in the last breath of his life.

'Pang!'

A gun dropped down from her hand while a tear of sorrow rolled down from her eyes.

Xin Chao was not only her competitor; he was also her mentor who had taught her everything. If it wasn't for the fact that he decided to stand with Markus, he and Liu Juan could have a good relation in the future.

But life had decided something else as always.

She heard Markus reply against Mo Jiang's question 'Why didn't you run away this time?'

"To win this war."

Markus's eyes darted towards Liu Juan and said "I told you it is not easy to get rid of me. Go to Hell!"

In the next moment, Markus stood on the window and pressed a button. Instantly, they saw that he had triggered the safety bag for a safe landing in case of a fall which was tied to his waist and he threw himself out of the window.

"Run..." Mo Jiang immediately held Liu Juan's hand and rushed towards the window but it was too late. A boom sound echoed and the house blasted as the huge wave of smoke spread into the sky.

Country X.

In a certain high-class bar.

The disco music was playing with people moving their h.i.p.s along with the music. Everyone seemed to be enjoying their life being drunk, leaving behind the pain and tension of their life except for one man.

Every night, he came here to forget the pain but now it seemed that this whiskey wouldn't help him much anymore, no matter how many he downed.

At that time, a man, wearing a navy blue coat, entered the bar. His aura was so strong that everyone turned to look at him at once. Some bold girls even walked past in front of him to get his attention.

However, his sharp eyes scared the girls far away. After that, his eyes scanned the entire bar and came to rest on the man whose mission was to down all the bottles of whiskey here to dissipate his pain.

He walked towards the man and hinted at the bartender and the bartender put a glass of whiskey in front of him as well, as he sat beside the man.

"Did you get kicked out again?" Si Li asked as he took the sip.

Hearing his question, Mo Jinnan smiled sarcastically without looking at him. "Like you don't know there is no one to kick me out."

"He went for the mission. Don't worry, he will be back soon." Si Li consoled him while patting his shoulders.

To which, Mo Jinnan scoffed in self-depreciation. "Except worrying, what else do I do?"

"He cares for you that's why..."

"That's why he always puts his life in danger so that I will live a safe life."

Hearing him, Si Li sighed helplessly as he had no word to say anything. If he were in Mo Jinnan's place, his reaction wouldn't be different from Mo Jinnan but Mo Jiang wasn't wrong in his place.

Si Li decided to continue his drinking without agreeing or opposing Mo Jinnan's words.

He always came here to give company to Mo Jinnan on the words of Mo Jiang. Since Mo Jiang had gone out on a mission, knowing Mo Jinnan's worrisome nature, Si Li came here like always.

However, the silence didn't last too long as Mu Che strode towards him and whispered something beside Si Li's ear which made his brow frowned.
