Chapter 291 - Wedding (Part-5)

"Is this true?" Liu Juan asked.

"Absolutely. Come on. Go and get ready. Si Li and Mo Jinnan are waiting for us outside. Go." Mo Jiang gently pushed her towards Aunty Wa.

She was in disbelief but he wouldn't explain her instead let the actions speak up.

"Mrs. Mo, let's go." Aunty Wa took her upstairs.

Mo Jiang also walked away to see the arrangements and then to get ready. After all, he was the groom!

It took a few hours for Liu Juan to get her make-up done.

Meanwhile, Liu Juan was still in disbelief. Her mind was still in the process of understanding the words, 'Our wedding ceremony.' 'Wedding gift.' 'Wedding gown.' 'Her Villa.'

It was an unimaginable reality which only someone who was extremely lucky would get.

She couldn't be one of them.

Perhaps, life had changed its style.

"Mrs. Mo, you are ready. Have a look." Aunty Wa said and Liu Juan snapped back to reality.

Liu Juan nodded and looked up to see herself. Her heart skipped a beat at the sight of herself in the mirror.

'Is this me?' Liu Juan questioned herself.

The wedding gown was very beautiful. Mo Jiang had selected the perfect wedding dress for her.

It was a champagne-colored gown that had a 'V' shape neckline and long sleeves. The work of embroidery with pearls was done on it. It was simple and elegant.

She was looking fairly beautiful in it.

Aunty Wa did the perfect make-up for her such that she looked more beautiful in it.

"You look gorgeous Mrs. Mo." Liu Juan heard Aunty Wa and she turned around to thank her. "Thank you." She whispered and the rim of her eyes turned moist.

"There...There...A bride should not cry on her wedding day. It is a bad sign. Let me help you wipe your tears." Aunty Wa used her handkerchief to wipe her tears so that her hours of work would not be ruined.

"Actually, I still can't believe that it is true." Liu Juan said in a hoarse voice.

"Even if you can't believe it, reality won't change." Aunty Wa said to which Liu Juan nodded.

Aunty Wa said further. "Mr. Mo is lucky to have you. I hope you live happily with him, forever."

"I will." Liu Juan replied with a sweet smile and her heart was filled with warmth.

Mo Jiang did a lot for her and now, it was her time to repay him, by making his life beautiful with love.

"Knock...Knock..." A few consecutive knocks were heard from the door.

Liu Juan turned to look at it, excited and nervous at the same time, thinking that it would be Mo Jiang.

Aunty Wa walked to open the door but found Mo Jinnan there.

He was wearing a black suit and his hair was combed back. His expression was cold like ice, very similar to Mo Jiang.

"I am here to bring out my Sister-in-law. Is she ready?" Mo Jinnan asked.

It was the first time that he was calling Liu Juan as 'Sister-in-Law'. Liu Juan couldn't help but smile more brightly.

"Yes, please come in." Auntie Wa said and led him in.

"I will walk with you down the aisle." Mo Jinnan informed Liu Juan to which she nodded.

It seemed like Mo Jiang had arranged everything.

"Let me just set her veil." Auntie Wa was quick to cover Liu Juan's face under a veil.

Soon, Liu Juan held Mo Jinnan's arms as they walked towards the backside of the villa.

With every step she took, her stomach turned into a knot. Her grip on Mo Jinnan's arms tightened in nervousness. After all, it was her wedding!

She kept biting her lower lips to calm down until she heard Mo Jinnan saying. "Don't be nervous. You will be alright."

"Thank you." Liu Juan whispered.

"Don't thank me. Just make my brother happy. He deserves it." Mo Jinnan said with a slight smile on his face.

Soon, they reached the backside of the villa where the wedding ceremony was going to be held.

Si Li was at the center and Mo Jiang was standing in front of him. Both of them were wearing a black suit like Mo Jinnan.

When Liu Juan's sight fell on Mo Jiang, she gulped air down her stomach in awe.

Mo Jiang was wearing a black suit, with a white rose fixed near his collar. His hair was combed to the side and a bright smile was on his lips and in his eyes, which were glimmering in happiness.

"Let's go." Mo Jinnan said and they walked down the carpet rolled on the ground.

The timing of the wedding was perfect. The sun was ready to set down by turning the sky orange. The evening breeze brushed past the bushes and trees, creating a rhythmic environment.

Mo Jinnan finally reached towards Mo Jiang and handed over his bride as he promised. "Here is your bride. I hope you live a wonderful life with your wife. You have my best wishes, Big Brother."

Mo Jiang took Liu Juan's hand and said to Mo Jinnan. "Thank you, brother. You did a lot for me."

Mo Jinnan shook his head and replied. "No. This is for what I owe you."

On the other hand, Mo Jiang's eyes finally fell on Liu Juan. Although her face was covered, he knew that she was the most beautiful bride in this world.

Whereas, Liu Juan's eyes were glued to Mo Jiang because he was so handsome that she couldn't take her eyes off of him.

Si Li cleared his throat to get the attention of the couple as he started reciting their vows for them to repeat.
