Time's up...

At that time, the old man opened the door and saw that Si Li was standing behind the door.

Si Li tossed the USB towards the old man and said: "Release it".

Afterwards, he left, without the looking back.

Everyone knew that whatever Si Li had said, he had some the same thing exactly, nothing much, more or less. Since it had been three years that Si Li didn't come here until now. So, obviously, everyone here would have forgotten Si Li's style.

No one from here had heard about Si Li whereabouts during the last three years. So they didn't have any idea that why was Si Li here?

What was more shocking they felt that Si Li came here to go into that room. Where everyone knew that Si Li wasn't allowed to go there after that incident, which had happened three years back.

However, the old man and Choi Sun knew why was Si Li here? So the old man allowed him.

Si Li left the building and was going towards his car, however, a voice had stopped him.

"Mr Si..."

The person who called was Choi Sun.

Si Li turned around and his face was as usual cold and expressionless.

"It would be good if you find the culprit within the three months, otherwise..." Choi Sun stopped the sentence in between...

Indeed, Mo Jun had already told Choi Sun about their deal, which was made few hours before.

Si Li's expression turned darkened and he asked in a cold voice "Otherwise?"

"Otherwise, don't expect you can keep that child with you after that" Choi Sun warned him.

Si Li's expression turned cold and dangerous, even Choi Sun's back was started sweating...

"I dare you to take away my son from me" Si Li challenged him.

Choi Sun chuckled "Your Son? Don't forget, we are the part of his life, he will eventually come here".

"No, he will live his life, like he wants".

Choi Sun started laughing and clapping his hands "Hahaha... like he wants...hahaha...".

After a while, he stopped laughing and his hands on his stomach, as it was hurting because of constant laughing.

Si Li was nonchalantly stood there and didn't give any response.

"Mr Si, we will see if he still wants to live his life when he will meet his father" Choi Sun said and turned around and left.

Si Li's heart sank...

Little Champ's real father...

Would Little Champ leave him and Lu Lan, when his real father would come back?...

How would he handle Lu Lan when Little Champ would leave with his real father?...

What about Elder Si?...

Si Li thought some think and left in his car...

Si Li's penthouse...

When Lu Lan reached home, Little Champ had already eaten his dinner and now he was drawing something. While his nanny was sitting beside him reading a book.

Little Champ was a sincere child. He was not a spoiled brat, who throw tantrum and created unnecessary problems for the people, who were below the rank of him in terms of status.

Although, Little Champ liked to play the football the most, however, recently, his interest was changing very easily and now his interest was in drawing. So apart from studying and playing with Lu Lan, he spent most of his time on drawing.

Initially, Lu Lan was worried about the sudden change of his interest. However, Dr Chen told her that it was normal for children to change their interest. One day they wanted to become a car racer and another day, they wanted to become a pilot.

When Little Champ was in Si Mansion, he only showed his interest in football, as he hadn't had any friend apart from Elder Si.

However, now he was in their penthouse, so he showed some interest like drawing, reading, playing the piano, etc. Even though, he still hadn't had any friend yet.

Still, his bond with Lu Lan was becoming stronger everyday...

Back to the present...

"Hey Baby, have you had dinner?" Lu Lan softly asked.

Little Champ nodded with a big smile.

"Madam, Little Master is waiting for you. He wants to hear a bedtime story" Little Champ's nanny said.

"Baby, do you want Mommy to tell you a bedtime story?" Lu Lan asked Little Champ.

Little Champ nodded repeatedly with a big smile.

Lu Lan let a laugh, Little Champ looked really cute when he nodded with a smile.

His smile was the charm of his face.

Little Champ didn't like the stories of Cinderella or similar girls kind of stories. So, Lu Lan had to do some research on other types of stories for Little Champ, like Peter Pan or The Boy who cried Wolf or many more...

After telling, different kind of stories to Little Champ, finally, Little Champ fell asleep.

Afterwards, Lu Lan had the shower, she went to the living room with some documents related to work. She made a plan so finished her work for tomorrow, as she had to accompany Si Li to the hospital so it would be better if she was already done with her work in advance.

Although, this work was only excused to distract her mind. Si Li hadn't returned yet and she was worried about him, but still, she couldn't stop him from doing his work.
