

Chapter 33 Another Nightmare

Alyssa Graham looked at Leon Hunter's serious face, pressed her lips, and didn't know where to put her hands.

How could a man look this handsome? How could he be so handsome?

His nose is so straight that it holds up the whole facial features.

Really, really handsome.

And his eyes.

They are brighter than the stars.

The eyes seemed to be filled with water waves, very beautiful.

Creak!

The car stopped.

Alyssa Graham noticed a weird look in Leon Hunter's eyes, and realized that Leon was staring at her.

The look in his eyes was unbearable.

She felt her heart beating faster.

"You feel pain?"

"Hah! Yeah."

Alyssa Graham didn't know what to say to Leon Hunter.

Leon Hunter immediately got out of the car and carried her to the hospital in a hurry.

Watching Leon Hunter running faster and faster, she laughed.

It seemed that he actually cared about her!

Leon Hunter quickly sent Alyssa Graham to the examination room, and she began getting the examination almost without wasting a minute.

An hour later, Alyssa Graham was kept waiting in the seat by Leon Hunter.

There were not many people in the hospital at night, especially in the Department of Orthopedics.

But still, there were a few people passing by.

Whenever someone passed by, he or she would look at Leon Hunter.

Not just women, even men would look at Leon Hunter.

She turned her head and found that Leon Hunter was looking at her.

"The doctor told us to go in. Let's go."

"It's inconvenient with my arm injury. Would you carry me?"

Leon Hunter didn't ask any more questions. He carried her and went inside.

Seeing Leon Hunter's nervousness, Alyssa Graham noticed something wrong. After a while, she realized that her arm had nothing to do with her legs. Her arm injury just made it inconvenient for her to move her upper body. What did it have to do with her legs?

But Leon Hunter seemed not to have any doubt at all. He carried her up and went inside.

"Mrs. Hunter's cervical vertebra has a little problem and this affects her shoulder. I suggest that she go back and rest well. Other than getting good rest, there is no better treatment."

Leon Hunter looked at the doctor, then at Alyssa Graham, "Are you sure?"

"Yes." The doctor looked at the X-ray, which was one of the thousands of reports he had seen. How could there be any mistakes?

Leon Hunter looked at Alyssa Graham, "I'll take you to another hospital."

"What?" Alyssa Graham saw that it was already midnight. "It's late. Let's not go to another doctor. I only felt the pain before. I am fine now."

"Really?"

"Yes." In order to prove that she was fine, Alyssa Graham moved her arm, "It's all right."

"Then let's go back."

Seeing that Alyssa Graham was actually able to move her arm, Leon Hunter turned around and walked away.

Alyssa Graham followed him.

In the black car,

neither of them spoke.

Alyssa Graham looked at Leon Hunter awkwardly, "Well, my arm is OK now, but it really hurt before. Maybe it's because...I was scared. "

"It's late. If you're tired, take some rest."

Alyssa Graham nodded, feeling a bit nervous in front of Leon Hunter. As smart as Leon, how could he not notice that she was lying?

And in his eyes, Alyssa could see that he already knew.

He didn't ask anything and told her to rest because it was late.

Obviously, he didn't want to ask about it.

Alyssa Graham didn't feel good at heart. The less he asked her, the more nervous she got. She didn't know what to do.

It might be better to close the eyes and stop talking.

She closed her eyes and went to sleep.

Alyssa did not know whether she was dreaming. She felt that Leon was driving slower.

She seemed to be sitting in a boat, which was shaking gently like the cradle from her childhood.

Gradually, she fell asleep.

She had a dream that Ryan Young set Graham's house on fire.

The fire spread.

Ryan's face was flushed by the fire.

He was in the fire with a red face and a ferocious smile.

"Ryan Young!" Alyssa Graham struggled. One of her hands clenched, the other firmly grasping a pair of hands.

She opened her eyes and saw Leon Hunter's eyes.

Leon Hunter heard Ryan Young's name from her mouth and was about to push her away. But Alyssa Graham suddenly hugged Leon Hunter. "Leon, don't go. Please don't go."

Leon Hunter stayed there, and was held tightly by Alyssa Graham.

At that moment, he couldn't move.

He didn't expect her to do this.

Alyssa looked into Leon Hunter's eyes and held his hands tightly.

Leon Hunter held her, looked at her eyes which were filled with fear, and did not move.

After a while, Alyssa Graham still didn't move.

"Can you stay with me for a while? I just had a terrifying nightmare. I dreamt that..."

"Did you dream of Ryan Young?"

"Yes, I saw him in my dream."

Bang!

Leon Hunter suddenly pushed Alyssa Graham away.

Alyssa Graham was shocked!

She looked at Leon Hunter in horror, "Leon...Why did you push me away, you... "

"Is Ryan Young the only one you care about?" Leon Hunter grasped Alyssa Graham's neck and pulled her toward him. "What exactly do you want? You are married to me, but you are still thinking of Ryan Young, even in your dreams?"

Alyssa Graham looked at Leon Hunter, who was pushing her away. Knowing that he had misunderstood. She shook her head, "No, I didn't dream about him. I dreamed that he told others that I wanted to kill him. I was taken away to a very dark room. I was terrified and wanted to get out, but I couldn't."

Alyssa Graham had to lie. She hugged Leon again, while he was in a daze.

Leon was held tight by Alyssa Graham. Seeing her nervousness, he suddenly felt very sorry for her.

He could feel her body shaking.

"I am scared to be in a space by myself. Very scared." Alyssa Graham was held tight and she had completely calmed down. She just dreamt about what happened before her rebirth. She hated Ryan Young to death in her dream and wanted to tear him into pieces.

Leon Hunter misunderstood her. She leaned on Leon Hunter like a little bird and looked into his eyes. "Leon, do you think he will identify me? I don't want to go to jail."

"No." Leon Hunter looked into Alyssa Graham's eyes, "Trust me, I've taken care of it."

"Really?"

Leon Hunter did not say anything and just nodded.

Alyssa smiled, showing a sigh of relief. She tightly hugged Leon Hunter's neck, "Leon, can you stay with me tonight? I'm still a little scared."

"I have work to do." Leon Hunter was very nervous when Alyssa held him like this. Looking down into Alyssa Graham's eyes, he felt his heart beating faster.

"What if I have bad dreams again?" Alyssa Graham teared up, holding Leon Hunter with her injured hand.

Her eyes were like a pomegranate, which made Leon Hunter's heart tremble.

Leon Hunter couldn't help but stay.

Alyssa looked at Leon Hunter pitifully, "Can you stay with me? Just for a moment, wait till I fall asleep, then you can go to work? Please, will this be OK? "
