

Chapter 34 Don't Be Scared

Seeing Alyssa's pitiful appearance, Leon Hunter's heart softened and he nodded.

Alyssa Graham ran to Leon Hunter and hugged him, "Come up with me then. I'm scared."

Leon Hunter looked at Alyssa Graham and frowned.

"Come." Alyssa Graham retreated to make way for Leon Hunter.

Seeing that he was moving, she pulled Leon Hunter. Unexpectedly, Leon Hunter didn't reject and he was forced to the bed.

Leon Hunter lay on the bed. Alyssa's thin and white arms wrapped around his neck.

Leon was aroused. He couldn't help getting close to Alyssa.

Her body was very fragrant. It was some kind of light fruity fragrance mixed with the smell of disinfectant. Not bad at all.

Alyssa Graham leaned over and gave him a kiss on the forehead.

He immediately froze. With his body feeling a little stiff, Leon looked at Alyssa Graham.

"I'm scared."

"Don't be scared."

"But I'm still scared that if it's discovered, I'll be arrested! By the way, why were you in that street? "

"I... was just passing by. "

"Thank you, Leon."

Alyssa Graham leaned into Leon Hunter's arms. Suddenly, he didn't want to say anything. He just wanted to kiss her face.

Being kissed, Alyssa Graham immediately responded, and he suddenly felt very satisfied.

A few minutes later, the light dimmed. The man and woman in the room had already been lingering together.

The next morning,

Alyssa Graham moved a bit, but didn't feel anyone next to her.

She immediately got up from the bed. As soon as she got up, she saw Leon Hunter coming out of the bathroom.

Leon Hunter was wearing pajamas and his hair was a little messy. Seeing that Alyssa Graham was staring at him, he said, "What are you looking at? Haven't you seen it?"

Alyssa nodded and suddenly realized that something was wrong. "You know what, I'll cook first. We need food in the morning."

She turned around in a hurry and ran into the distance.

Leon Hunter frowned and looked down at his torn neckline. He saw a scratch on his chest and raised the corner of his mouth. This was the mark left by Alyssa last night, wasn't it?

Now that she saw it, and felt embarrassed?

His eyes softened as he thought of the way she left in a hurry.

Half an hour later,

Leon Hunter sat at the table, eating the rice porridge made by Alyssa Graham. Although the taste was just ok, he felt very warm.

"Try this." Alyssa Graham gave the pickles to Leon Hunter. It was kelp buckle. The dark green kelp buckle was sprinkled with seasoning and minced garlic, looking delicious.

Leon Hunter tried one bite and looked at Alyssa Graham.

Alyssa Graham saw Leon Hunter staring at her. Embarrassed, she also tried some with her chopsticks.

The taste was not bad!

"You don't like it?" Alyssa Graham saw that Leon did not say anything, "What do you like to eat?"

"Did you make it?" He pretended not to care, and occasionally glanced at Alyssa Graham.

She hadn't brushed her teeth or washed her face. Her small face was a mess. There was no sign of having been out. Recently, there were more and more things in the house. Most of them were food. Not snacks, more vegetables, meat and fish.

Leon did not know whether it was his illusion. He got the sense of having a family.

"Ah! I'm not very good at cooking, but I've been trying hard. Wait till I figure out your taste, I'm sure I can do it well. " Alyssa Graham tried the food slowly, thinking which part needed more work so that she could improve later.

Leon Hunter ate another kelp buckle. Although it was not as good as what the cook made, it was eatable.

He finished the porridge in his bowl and pushed the bowl aside.

"Are you full?" Alyssa Graham looked at Leon Hunter, "How about I warm up another glass of milk for you?"

"More porridge!"

"Sure!"

Alyssa Graham took a bowl and hastily filled it with rice porridge for Leon.

He drank the porridge carefully. It tasted pretty good.

Seeing that he was enjoying the food, Alyssa Graham stood up and walked out. She took a shower, put on a light blue skirt and delicate make-up, and happily went to school.

In A University,

Alyssa Graham was doing Maths problems in her seat. She asked Ella Lloyd when she had questions.

"This is easy. You can do it like this." Ella Lloyd wrote down the steps and looked at Alyssa, "You got it?"

"I see."

"Look at this. It's similar to this question. See whether you can do it."

Alyssa Graham followed Ella Lloyd's steps and successfully solved the problem. She gave Ella Lloyd a smile, "Your method is good. See, I made it."

"What happened to your hand? It looked serious."

"It's fine, just a small wound." Alyssa Graham pretended that it was nothing. Thinking that she didn't stab Ryan Young yesterday, she still felt a little upset.

It was such a good opportunity yesterday. Had Leon Hunter not arrived, she would have stabbed him severely.

Thinking of that son of a bitch, Alyssa Graham held the pen even tighter.

When she thought about it, she accidentally touched the wound. Feeling the pain, she tried to calm down by continuing with the Maths problems.

At the end of the day, everything was calm and tranquil.

Alyssa Graham returned home. Leon Hunter was not there and it was quiet.

She thought that Leon Hunter had helped her solve Ryan Young's problem.

He must be in love with her.

With the love buried deeply at heart throughout these years,

Alyssa Graham just wanted to give Leon Hunter the best.

In every way she knows, give him the best.

Thinking of Leon Hunter, Alyssa Graham was a little zoomed out.

When she was cooking, her hand moved carelessly, and the pot slipped. She reflexively pressed the iron pot.

"Ouch..." Alyssa Graham's eyes widened and she quickly flushed her hands under the tap.

Soon, transparent bubbles came out on her hands.

Under the scour of cold water, the bubbles looked like transparent balloons blowing up.

The severe pain made her frown. Noticing that the food was going to be burnt, she scrambled the food a few times.

When the food was ready, the doorbell rang. Alyssa Graham was wondering when Leon Hunter learned to use the doorbell.

Thinking that Leon Hunter was outside, she forgot her pain and hurried to open the door.

To her surprise, it was Ryan Young.

"Alyssa." Ryan Young looked at Alyssa Graham and took a step forward.

Alyssa Graham said coldly, "Was the lesson I gave you yesterday not enough?"

"No, Alyssa, I know I was wrong. I deserve to be beaten. It was all my fault. I'll take you away now. I really like you. What happened before was just all misunderstanding."

"Misunderstanding? I don't think so. If you want to be beaten again, I can beat you again. "

Alyssa Graham raised her foot, and Ryan Young quickly held his head and squatted down.

"Get out of my face. I don't want to see you again. Or else I'll beat you whenever I see you until you can't stand up anymore!"

Ryan Young immediately grabbed Alyssa Graham's thighs and said, "Alyssa, you can't be so cruel to me. I really like you. In fact, I want to take you away, but I have no money. You know my family is different from yours. Alyssa, why don't you give me some money? I'm going to buy a ticket now. We're leaving now. "

Thinking that this was Leon Hunter's place, Alyssa kicked Ryan Young, "Go away! Can't you hear me?"
