

Chapter 48 Alyssa, I was wrong

The woman's voice was so harsh!

Alyssa's ears hurt!

"I'm May Hill. I'm sorry, Miss Graham. I really know I'm wrong. Can you forgive me? I really don't want to be taken away. I'm really wrong."

Alyssa Graham frowned. They found her?

Emily Cole is quite capable. Whether she framed May Hill or persuaded her to plead guilty, she was very capable.

She must be all prepared.

If May Hill wanted to be Emily Cole's scapegoat, Alyssa was fine with it.

Thinking for a moment and listening to the cry on the phone, Alyssa whispered: "Now that you have admitted that you did it, you have to pay for it. May Hill, although I mocked you before, I didn't do anything to hurt you, let alone destroying your reputation with false information. I am telling you that I will pursue it to the end."

"You... Alyssa Graham, I'm really wrong. "

"You have made the wrong choice."

She finished and directly hung up.

May Hill heard the phone had been hung up and looked at Emily Cole nervously, "Now, what should I do now? She said she would pursue it to the end. Does that mean I'm going to jail? I don't want to go to jail. Have I known this before, I won't help you."

"It's too late for you to say you won't help me now!" Emily Cole was angry when she heard May Hill wanted to retreat. She was worried that she would eventually tell Alyssa. She pressed May Hill's collar and looked down at her. "I warn you that you are the one who released these videos. Even if you don't want to admit it, you have done it. Remember?"

"But it clearly wasn't me. It's not me who put together those fragments. Emily Cole, you can't be irresponsible like this. I don't want to go to jail. Really, I don't want to go to jail."

"Cool! If you identify me, I'll tell everyone that you stole my money. Who would believe a thief's words?"

"You..."

When May Fu heard Emily Cole's words, she was stunned and didn't know what to do next.

The sound of the police car started ringing outside. May Fu ran to the corner in fright. Emily Cole looked at the lighted police car outside and knew that she couldn't stay here. She ran away in a hurry.

After she left May Hill's house, she didn't leave and just hid in the corner.

Soon, she saw the investigators going upstairs.

When she was still worried that May Hill would tell her secret, she suddenly saw big crowds outside and the investigators also came down.

She went out curiously, raised her head, and saw Emily Cole standing on the balcony.

She lived on the second floor of a six-floor high old building.

Emily Cole saw May Hill standing on the balcony and found her funny. Why didn't she run to the top of the building and stand there?

So stupid.

She chose the wrong teammate this time.

She heard people around her talking about May Fu. There were so many voices that she didn't want to listen to them. She turned and stepped away.

If she wants to die, nobody can stop her. It's meaningless for her to stay. If people notice her, she might be criticized.

It's better to get out of here now.

Bang!

She heard a loud sound from behind out of a sudden.

She realized something went wrong, and when she turned around, she saw May Hill fallen from the upstairs.

At this moment, the investigators had pulled her up.

As soon as the ambulance arrived, May was quickly crammed into the ambulance.

Emily Cole saw May being put onto the ambulance. Her face was greedy. This fool won't talk nonsense after she arrives at the hospital, will she? Thinking of her nonsense, Emily Cole dare not go home. She followed them.

Alyssa Graham heard from Ella Lloyd that May Hill jumped off the second floor from her home.

Ella Lloyd nagged her on the phone, "I don't know what happened. Even if she sent the video, it won't be a huge deal. Even if you were angry and called the investigators, it was reasonable. If she apologizes, you'll forgive. Why did she jump off the window?"

"Was she alone when she jumped out of the window?"

Alyssa Graham felt something was not right. It really shouldn't be a big deal.

As Ella said, although she was angry about it, they were classmates after all, and she would not do anything about it. She was just bluffing May Hill.

But May Hill's attitude was not right. If she actually got so scared that she wanted to kill herself, she wouldn't have jumped off the second floor. Therefore, she asked Ella whether she was with someone when she did it.

"I really have no idea. Only May Hill would know. I don't expect her to do this. It sounds scary."

"Well, if you know anything about this, contact me as soon as possible. Thanks, Ella. Please keep an eye on this for me."

"It's all right. I will let you go back to study. Anyway, it has nothing to do with you."

Ella put down the phone and she still didn't understand this whole thing. May Hill was so petty. She just jumped off the building for this?

Alyssa Graham put down the phone and found the whole thing unusual.

There must be something else about May Fu's jumping off the building.

Intuitively, she felt that it had to do with Emily Cole.

Other people might have no idea, but Alyssa knew that Emily Cole was the manipulator behind the scenes from the beginning.

There might be something unspeakable between May and Emily Cole.

Alyssa Graham thought she needed to see May Hill to figure out what had happened.

She called Leon Hunter and knew that Leon Hunter couldn't come down at the moment. She started the car and went directly to the hospital.

Ten minutes later, she saw May.

May didn't expect to see Alyssa Graham in the hospital.

Thinking of what she had said to Alyssa Graham on the phone. She subconsciously grasped the corner of her blanket and watched Alyssa walking toward her. She panicked and tried to step back.

Alyssa Graham noticed there was nothing wrong with May's feet and pulled the corner of her mouth.

"You...What are you laughing about? Are you here to laugh at me again? "

May lowered her head and retreated nervously to the wall. Thinking of being ridiculed by Alyssa Graham and coerced by Emily Cole, she felt humiliated and her tears suddenly came out.

"I'm not here to hear you cry. I'm here to solve the problems. Why did you jump off the building? Even though I called the police, I didn't ask them to pursue your liability. How stupid you were! I didn't want to do anything to you and wasn't trying to send you to prison. Why did you jump off the building?"

"I I don't know. I don't want to talk to you. You go away. I don't want to say anything to you. "

May looked at Alyssa Graham and kept retreating.

Just now Emily Cole's warning was still in her ears. She shook her head and had no intent to say anything.

"It doesn't matter if you don't say it. Let me help you. You and Emily Cole colluded with each other before..."

"No."

Without waiting for Alyssa Graham to finish, May immediately stopped her.

Alyssa Graham raised her head and her big eyes looked at May's face, "What are you nervous about? You are lying!"

"I..." May panicked for a moment and knelt down on the ground immediately. "It's all Emily Cole's idea. I didn't want to do this. Alyssa Graham, I had no choice. I stole Emily's money before. I didn't mean it. I..."
