

Chapter 49 A wicked person will be harassed by another of like ilk

"Did she threaten you with this and ask you to send out the video of me and Ryan Young?"

"That's right."

May Hill looked at Alyssa Graham in a panic.

May didn't know why, but she got scared whenever she saw Alyssa Graham.

She lowered her head, "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to, but I was forced to do it. Alyssa Graham, can you not tell the police. I am less than a year away from graduation. I don't want to lose my diploma because of this. We are classmates after all. Don't be so cruel to me."

"I've told you long ago that I won't do anything to you. You just don't believe it."

Alyssa finished and turned around. She did not expect to see Emily Cole at the door.

Emily Cole looked at Alyssa Graham with both arms folded across her chest and sneered, "Miss Graham, you are really thick-skinned. You coerced May Hill and made her jump off the building. You still won't let go of her even when she is in the hospital."

"There is one person with thick skin, but it's not me." Alyssa Graham looked down at the time. Half an hour had passed. Worried that Leon Hunter was waiting for her, she raised her head and held up her cellphone with pride. "My conversation with May Hill has just been recorded. Emily, give it a try and see whether you can use May Hill to trap me?."

"What did you say?" Emily Cole was stunned.

"You listen to what I was talking about."

She turned on her cellphone. Her conversation with May Hill had been recorded word by word!

Emily's eyes turned red with anger, but she couldn't say a word.

May Hill looked at Alyssa Graham and knelt down on the ground.

"Forget it. I don't want to hear any more gossip. Otherwise, neither of you will be able to get over this."

Then Alyssa put away her cellphone, turned around, and left.

10 minutes later,

Alyssa Graham went back to the Hunter Group building.

Leon Hunter was coming out of the building.

He saw Alyssa went into the car. The car slowly moved forward.

At the red light at the crossroad, Alyssa Graham stopped and yawned.

Leon Hunter saw her yawning and asked softly, "Sleepy?"

"A little bit." Alyssa Graham smiled. She just ran around for a long time and there's no way not to be tired. But she was still smiling in front of Leon Hunter, "How about you? Are you feeling tired after a long day of work?"

Leon Hunter looked at Alyssa. She cared about him.

"Well, why are you silent? Are you tired?"

"Not bad."

Hearing Leon Hunter's low voice, Alyssa Graham looked at him and smiled. As soon as he turned his head around, the red light turned green. Alyssa Graham started the car again, and the car quickly went into the distance.

He watched her driving nicely. She had been getting better and better at driving these days. A while ago, she was still very unreliable. Now her skills were comparable to that of a driver.

10 minutes later, they arrived at the villa.

As they got a cook at home, they ate as soon as they got home.

Alyssa Graham ate fast, but still politely.

By contrast, Leon Hunter was slower. When he ate, he would look at Alyssa once in a while, which slowed him down.

After dinner, Alyssa Graham went to her room to study. When she ran into difficulties, she would call and ask Ella Lloyd.

After discussing the questions, she naturally started talking with Ella Lloyd about May Hill.

After a while, they started discussing the questions again. It took her a long time to figure out the questions.

When she remembered to serve tea to Leon Hunter, he was no longer in the study.

Leon Hunter barely went out. Why did he suddenly go out today?

Alyssa Graham was angry with herself. She should have paid more attention to Leon Hunter. She didn't even notice when he left home.

She called Leon Hunter, but Leon Hunter didn't pick up the phone.

Thinking that he would eventually come back, she waited outside with her books.

It was getting darker and darker.

Clear moonlight streamed through the window, blending into the gentle light, and turned into threads of silver softness.

Didi!

Alyssa Graham heard the sound of the car, looked up and saw Leon Hunter coming in.

She looked at Leon Hunter and said with a smile, "You're back. You still had to go out this late?"

"I left some documents in the office."

"Oh!"

Alyssa Graham felt happy. He told her where he just went and dispelled all the doubts in her heart.

It showed that he had nothing to hide from her.

He had her at heart.

Of course she was content and said nothing.

"I'll make you a cup of tea." Alyssa Graham went to make the tea, but Leon Hunter stopped her.

"Do you know what time it is? It's cold outside. Why don't you go to bed?" Leon Hunter looked at the book beside her, where she had made notes. It seemed that she was careful with the notes.

"I am studying here." As she spoke, she looked up at the time. "It's already midnight. I didn't even look at the time."

"Go, go to bed?"

Leon Hunter looked at Alyssa Graham's silly appearance and pulled her towards the bedroom.

Alyssa Graham was led into the bedroom. After the door was closed, the light was turned off.

In the dark night, two people's figures soon entangled together.

There was light snow in the city.

Alyssa Graham put on her big down jacket. When she saw Leon Hunter was still in the same outfit, she went to get him the coat she had prepared a few days ago.

The coat had been ironed by her.

Leon Hunter looked at the coat in surprise.

"What are you looking at? Put it on. You are not wearing enough."

"Yeah."

Leon Hunter answered and obediently put on the coat.

He felt much warmer with the coat. He looked at Alyssa Graham. She wore more than he did and he had nothing to worry about.

In the black car,

Leon Hunter was busy going through the documents that he hadn't finished yesterday.

The car stopped.

He looked up curiously and saw that there was a red light. While waiting at the red light, a thermos cup was put into his hand.

"This is black tea. Try and see whether you like it."

"OK."

Alyssa Graham saw Leon Hunter holding the thermos cup, went on driving, got to the Hunter Group building.

She watched Leon Hunter walk in, smiled, started the car and drove toward the school.

Today, there was a bit of traffic jam on the road. In addition, it had snowed the night before. She drove slowly. By the time she got to school, a lot of her classmates had already arrived.

She walked in the school corridor, watching the snow falling. What a beautiful scene!

The first class was self-study, so she was not worried and kept watching the snow quietly.

Noticing that there were fewer students around, she stood in the snow and saw her footprints. Suddenly, she felt that she had destroyed this beautiful snow scene.

Feeling sorry for misusing the scene, she just sat still on the side.

Her cellphone suddenly rang.

"Ella, what's up?"

"Where are you? Have you come to school? I heard the teacher will take attendance. If you're at school, hurry up and come to the study room. "

"Oh! I'm coming. I'll be right there.

1 minute later,

Alyssa Graham got to the classroom.

As soon as she sat down next to Ella Lloyd,

the teacher came in to take attendance.

After that, the teacher didn't stay any longer.
