

Chapter 50 Mock Contest

Alyssa smiled gratefully at Ella Lloyd, "Thanks to you."

"Hey, you! Why are you late today? "

"It's snowing. There was a traffic jam."

Ella Lloyd nodded, "Have you the teacher's message in the group chat?"

"What?"

Alyssa asked while she took out her cellphone. She read the message, which was looked at a contest notice, a cooperation project competition of securities companies.

"Is participation mandatory?"

"Yes. Besides, I think this contest is very good. If your score is good, it can be counted into credits. If the score is not good, it won't hurt anything. Isn't it good?"

"But I don't have time for that now."

"How about I go with you to ask?"

Ella Lloyd knew that Alyssa was very busy with the certification exams. She had to remember a lot of stuff. She was indeed busy.

"All right." Alyssa grabbed Ella Lloyd's hand.

They were just about to leave,

when they heard a few female students talking.

"I heard that our department is holding a contest again. How can there be so many contests in our department recently?"

"Would you like to join?"

"I didn't want to, but I heard it was mandatory. Anyway, the last place had been taken and I don't need to worry about the score."

"Who will be at the bottom? I'm also worried that I get bad grades and it will look bad."

The girl next to her laughed, "Alyssa Graham will be at the bottom for sure! What does she know? This contest is different from the exams we had before. This is actual practice. We, who came from the poor had internships during vacation time. Miss Alyssa Graham surely does not have any work experience."

"Now that you say it, I feel like we can give it a try." The girl smiled contently, and said confidently, "OK, let's go sign up. No matter what, we will do better than Alyssa Graham."

"Yeah, let's sign up."

The two girls left.

Ella Lloyd looked at Alyssa and held her hand. "Alyssa, don't mind them. Just tell the teacher that you are busying with the certificates and have no time for the contest. I'm sure the teacher will understand. We will have many opportunities for actual practice in the future. Most importantly, we have to prepare to get a decent job in the large corporations."

"No, Ella. I suddenly find the actual practice contest interesting."

"Alyssa, your certificate exams will consume a lot of time. Can you manage it?"

"No problem, but sometimes I will need your help. With your help, I'll be fine."

Ella Lloyd laughed and nodded, "It's good that you have become so positive now. I'll help you."

Alyssa and Ella Lloyd signed up together.

The contest would be held next month.

Alyssa was not worried at all, and her mind was on reciting for the tests.

For quite a while,

Alyssa Graham was very busy.

Ryan Young would occasionally bother her for a while, but Alyssa always managed to get him away skillfully.

After she met with Emily Cole in the hospital last time,

Emily Cole was a lot quieter.

As for May Hill, she was always an unnoticeable existence in class. After last time, she barely spoke and her sense of existence was even less.

She studied without any distractions. She studied whenever she could, even after she got home. She made the most of her time. Even when she was on her period, she would read in the bathroom.

Only to Leon Hunter, she was very attentive. She still spared no effort to take care of him just like before.

Very soon, it was time for the contest.

The contest lasted for 3 days.

Contestants will be randomly assigned to a project.

Alyssa got an exercise on asset management.

Half a year ago, Harvey's Technology had a debt problem. Since the composition of its shareholders was complex, it could not declare bankruptcy.

Liam, chairman of Harvey's Technology, had entrusted CITIC assets, a local investment management company, to dispose of the company. Without declaring bankruptcy, Harvey's Technology could still go on.

Investment companies randomly picked suitable banks. First of all, confirmed the ownership of Harvey's Technology as soon as possible, and then carried out asset restructuring.

A series of plans such as debt distribution was arranged after restructuring.

Originally, the project had already been started, but one of the shareholders was not satisfied with the debt restructuring, and insisted that he did not agree to the asset restructuring.

What she had to do was to persuade that shareholder to complete the asset restructuring.

Only after the completion of the asset restructuring can the following plan be carried out smoothly.

The project that Alyssa got was pretty challenging.

Ella Lloyd looked at Alyssa, "Why is yours so difficult? Look at my project. I just have to create a plan. Yours seem to require communications with the other party."

"It doesn't matter." Alyssa smiled, "It's not a bad thing to be challenged. I may not come to school these days. Call me if needed, I'm leaving."

"Good." Ella Lloyd was a little worried about Alyssa. She looked at Alyssa and said, "Alyssa, if you have anything, please call me. I will help you if I can."

"Don't worry. I will go work on it."

Alyssa took her belongings and was about to leave, when she saw the classmates who had been talking behind her back a few days ago.

She walked away in front of them. The two classmates looked at Alyssa Graham and said nothing.

After Alyssa left, they started talking, "She also participated in the contest. I just saw that her project was very difficult."

"It's very difficult. I saw it, too. Look at it! She certainly can't do it well. This project has been deadlocked for more than half a year. Many skilled people have participated in the project of the Harvey Group, but they couldn't finish it. What can she do as a student who hasn't even graduated? "

"We'll see how she messes it up. She can't make it."

Although Alyssa Graham left, Ella Lloyd didn't. She heard the words of the two female students and walked over, "You two, it's time for class. If you don't go to class, you'll be late."

"What's the big deal? Your good friend can't do it. I advise you not to speak for her."

"She'll try her best."

"Hard work doesn't help! How cruel this society is! Can hard work lead to a deal? Alyssa Graham is a young lady. She can't make any achievements at all. How about this, if she can do well in this project, I will buy her. "

"Me too. If she can really do this project well on her own, I will buy her."

"Well, I just believe in Alyssa. Alyssa will surely do a good job in this project. Now she is different from before. She knows what she wants and the fact that she has to work hard."

The two girls couldn't help laughing at Ella Lloyd's words.

Ella Lloyd watched the two female classmates leaving. She was more worried about Alyssa.

This project was not just hard for Alyssa. It was hard for all of them at this stage.

Even if she failed, it wasn't a shame.

But she needed to have faith in Alyssa.

Even if Alyssa failed, she would support her.

Ella Lloyd wanted to message Alyssa to encourage her.
