

Chapter 83 Surprised By Her Actions

She felt that this was all her fault. It was because she relied too much on a man and didn't know him well enough that she ended up like this!

She actually didn't have no skills at all. She also used to work.

She could earn money to support herself.

She could be free.

The woman was suddenly enlightened. How could she jump off a building?

Life only came once. If she really died, what about her family?

After she figured it out, she wanted to thank the person who had just scolded her. But when she ran down the stairs, she found that the person who had just scolded her had already walked away.

In the crowd, a tall man came out and looked at Alyssa who was already far away.

The assistant had gotten the examination report of Mrs. President, but Mr. President didn't seem to want to go.

He was still a little surprised. How came Mr. President, who usually didn't like crowd watching, suddenly got interested today?

He followed Mr. President's gaze and froze for a moment. There was a woman in the distance who seemed to be Mrs. President!

What a coincidence!

The assistant just wanted to speak when he saw Mr. President turn around and walk away. He couldn't ask anything more, so he turned around and followed him.

After returning to the office, Leon asked his assistant to find the hospital's surveillance.

From the surveillance, he clearly saw that the first person who pulled the woman was Alyssa.

He really didn't think that Alyssa, who looked so delicate, could make such a dangerous move?

For a while, he was surprised by Alyssa's actions.

What if something happened to her? What if they both fall from the building?

He had always felt that she was not a person who liked to meddle in things. She didn't usually have good relationships at school either. She never seemed to do such dangerous things for anyone.

He really couldn't understand Alyssa's reason for doing such a thing.

Leon was surprised for a long time by the fact that Alyssa had saved someone's life. At noon, he calmed down a little.

He immediately looked at Alyssa's examination report and was relieved to know that there was nothing wrong with Alyssa's body.

It seemed that she hadn't come out of the bathroom that morning because she had her period.

Her pale face must be related to that.

Leon hurriedly called the chef and asked him to make some blood-supplementing porridge.

She should eat more. She had lost weight recently.

5:30 PM.

Leon saw Alyssa's car as soon as he came downstairs. He got into the car and looked at Alyssa's calm face.

Alyssa smiled at him, "You're so early today."

"You're pretty early too. Why don't you work late today?" Leon glanced at Alyssa. Probably because he knew that she was not well, he felt that she looked even worse.

Alyssa smiled and said, "The Summit Group's project has come to an end. The rest is up to Mr. Baker, and it's up to him to make the Summit Group what it will be. I can finally get some rest. I'm exhausted."

Once the project was really over and she knew her body was okay, she was finally able to relax. However, she felt that she was even more tired now than she had been before. She just wanted to go back to bed early and didn't think about anything.

When she thought that she could finally go to bed early tonight, she looked at Leon with a much softer smile, "I want to go to bed early tonight."

Leon nodded and tried to tease her, "Last time you said you would make it up to me. Since you have time tonight, why don't you make it up to me?"

"I ... will make it up to you in a few days."

She did want to make it up to Leon, but not now.

Her period never ended. Although the doctor said this afternoon that there was nothing wrong with her body, her period still never ended.

"Why?"

"I ..." Alyssa didn't want Leon to know about her medical condition. She thought for a moment before saying, "I just remembered that I'm done with the company, but I have to take my certification. I applied for so many exams when I was in school before. It seems that I have some tests to take in a few days."

She just made it up. Her exams were all scheduled after the New Year. Now there was still a month before the New Year.

She still had time to study.

But then, Leon couldn't let her make it up to him anymore.

She looked up at Leon and saw that Leon's face did not change, but she was nervous. This guy wasn't angry, was he?

What should she do then?

She pursed her lips and drove nervously. At this moment, Leon's cell phone suddenly rang.

Leon quickly answered the phone, which relieved the embarrassment.

But why didn't he make a sound when he was on the phone?

Suddenly, he hung up the phone.

Alyssa felt more nervous.

Soon Leon said, "Turn around and go back to the office."

Alyssa quickly reacted and immediately changed her lane, turned around at the intersection ahead, and accelerated her car in the direction of Hunter Group.

Ten minutes later.

Leon returned to Hunter Group.

Alyssa looked at Leon's gloomy face and asked, "Did something happen to you? Do you need my help?"

"No, you can go back first!"

"Then I'll wait for you here!"

Alyssa was a bit worried and planned to stay here and wait for Leon. He would finish his work eventually.

Leon glanced at Alyssa and said softly, "Come upstairs with me."

"Okay."

Alyssa smiled. Leon looked at Alyssa's smile and his heart warmed. How could he let her freeze here!

The company also had a lounge. She could go to the lounge to rest. And he could do his job.

Alyssa followed Leon into the office. Just as they got to his office, his assistant came in. He brought in the documents Leon needed, nodded to Alyssa, and left in a hurry.

Alyssa couldn't help Leon, so she prepared to learn English. It was good that she had gotten into the habit of studying and felt that studying was interesting.

When she finished listening to English, she looked up and saw Leon looking at his computer.

His serious look was so good.

His straight nose was so handsome.

Leon should be the most handsome man she had ever seen.

Thinking of Leon's handsome face, Alyssa couldn't help but giggle.

The sound of footsteps suddenly rang out.

When Alyssa heard the footsteps and looked up, she realized that Leon had walked to her at some point.

Thinking about how she just giggled at Leon, Alyssa was very embarrassed and smiled at Leon.

Leon frowned, "I just said we can go now."

"Huh?" Alyssa froze.

"Go home and rest." Looking at Alyssa, who was almost frozen, Leon suddenly felt less annoyed by the small problems that had occurred earlier.

"Okay."
