

Chapter 99 I Won't Have To Work Anymore

Knowing that Leon was back, Alyssa hurried out.

"You're back really early today. I prepared something delicious for you. What's in your hand? Is it food?"

Alyssa rarely saw Leon come back with food. He had little interest in food, so he rarely brought food back.

Alyssa was curious. She took the bag from Leon's hand, opened it, and saw the candy. She smiled at Leon, "How do you know I like this? I was kind of craving this."

She sat obediently and ate the candy.

Watching her little mouth bulging with candy, Leon walked over and pressed the bag of candy.

Seeing an extra hand on the bag, Alyssa pouted and looked at Leon with dissatisfaction.

"It's time to eat. If you eat so many snacks, you won't be able to eat dinner later!"

In the past, he would just take away the bag.

But now, looking at Alyssa's face, he didn't want to take away her candy.

He was afraid that she would get angry if he said too much, but he wanted her to eat more healthy things. It was a little uncomfortable for him to stand aside and control his emotions.

Alyssa simply gave Leon all the candy as she watched him stare at her. She knew how to read people's minds. She could also see that Leon was unhappy now.

"I won't eat. I'm going to have dinner now."

"Okay." Hearing Alyssa's words, Leon was finally satisfied.

This girl still listened to him. He looked at her and felt happy. He was even more surprised to see her gentle smile.

He walked forward and a small pair of hands suddenly pulled him.

He not only saw Alyssa but also saw the carton box beside Alyssa.

He didn't know what was in the box, but he knew that little duck cup. It was the one he had given her last time.

He remembered that she seemed to have taken that cup to Citic.

Why did she bring it back all of a sudden?

"Leon, I won't go to Citic from tomorrow."

"You'll be on holiday tomorrow. No one will go to work!"

"No, you misunderstood. What I mean is that I'm going to concentrate on my postgraduate studies. I have a few exams to take after the New Year. I feel like I don't have time to deal with the work stuff anymore, so I just quit."

"Is it because of what happened last time that you don't want to work at Citic anymore? Or is it because Hassan took advantage of you? Did you become resistant to it?" Thinking about what happened last time, Leon pulled her into his arms. Last time, although she didn't suffer a lot, the injuries on her body still haven't completely healed by now.

"You're right. However, the most important thing is that I want to pursue postgraduate studies."

"Really?"

"Yeah."

Alyssa nodded.

Seeing the sincerity in Alyssa's eyes, Leon was a little surprised.

"Let's not talk about it. We have a rare vacation. Forget about work. Tomorrow, we're going to celebrate New Year at grandpa's house. I haven't prepared any presents yet. After dinner, let's go choose some presents together, okay?"

Leon took her hand and looked into her eyes, only to see that her eyes were filled with him. His heart was warm.

"Why are you looking at me? What's the matter?"

"You don't have to deal with such small things. You finish eating and go to bed early. During this time, you haven't had time to rest. Tomorrow you have to accompany me to visit some elders."

After hearing Leon's words, Alyssa thought of the New Year's visit, "I forgot about it. We seem to have a lot of families we haven't visited yet."

"Yes."

"Then you can tell me later who we haven't visited. I'll make a plan."

Leon nodded and started talking to Alyssa about tomorrow's schedule.

It would only take a few minutes to finish, but he didn't stop talking until after dinner.

When they returned to the room, Leon continued saying.

"Then tomorrow I'll drive. There are places I don't know, so you'll have to show me the way. I'm still not familiar with the roads you just told me about."

"Okay." Leon hugged Alyssa and watched her yawn, "You just go to sleep if you're tired!"

"Okay, I am quite tired. Before, I've been so busy with the company that I can't even relax at night. Tomorrow, I won't have to go to the company. It's good to have no pressure."

Alyssa really relaxed at the thought that she would have nothing to worry about from tomorrow.

Leon suddenly had a sinking feeling on his chest. He lowered his head and realized that Alyssa had fallen asleep.

He felt a little bad. It seemed that she was really tired.

Leon looked seriously at Alyssa's sleeping face. Her eyelashes were still so long. He carefully put her in the right position so that she could lie down properly, and went over to kiss her forehead.

She didn't wake up. He kissed her again on the lips.

Finally, she moved slightly. Leon hurriedly lay back and closed his eyes.

After a while, when Alyssa did not move, he opened his eyes with relief. Looking at Alyssa's sleeping face, he felt very satisfied.

The next morning, they followed the route they had agreed on yesterday to deliver gifts to Kevin first. After that, they went to several uncles' houses.

Even though Leon had introduced those people clearly to Alyssa the day before, Alyssa was still a little confused when she actually saw them.

Alyssa remembered the people she visited at the beginning very well, but slowly she became a bit overwhelmed. Luckily, Leon helped her all the time.

It was dark before they returned to the Hunters' old house.

The maids were busy making dumplings.

Kevin sat and talked with George.

It was then that Alyssa learned that George loved to travel and would travel around the world every year.

Emily and Audrey sat in their red dresses and chatted about something. They looked very happy.

Alyssa felt that they were too late and disturbed the harmony in the house.

But Kevin quickly stood up and walked to them. He looked at them lovingly, "You're finally here. We were waiting for you! Sit down. I'll tell them to cook dumplings."

It was Kevin himself who made the arrangements.

Looking at Kevin, Alyssa suddenly felt that they also belonged here. Here they had a grandfather who loved them. Thinking about it, Alyssa felt very warm.

She was lost in her thoughts when she suddenly felt the large hands beside her move slightly away from her, and she immediately grabbed his hands tightly.
