

HOW TO THRIVE IN THE '60S

Chapter 14 Dog Blood Plot

"Widow Wang is selfish and ruthless, she has suffered a big loss from you, and she will definitely not swallow this breath.

She can't speak, she still has brains to use, and hands to move. Many villages and towns now have literacy classes. When she can read, can you keep your secrets?

Even if there is nothing wrong with the widow Wang, it is not suitable for marriage now. You are only 5 years old, the widow Wang is married, and you can only live with Lao Yun's family. At that time, the blue brick house under your name will be empty, who doesn't want to make up your mind? Just relying on Lao Yun's nest of soft eggs, he can't save the house, maybe even you can't save it. "

If he encounters a light-hearted person, he will directly borrow a house from the Lao Yun family, and if he borrows it, he will probably not come back.

When I meet someone who is thoughtful, I go to Lao Yun's house to propose a marriage to Yun Chang. After ten or eight years, the house will be Yun Chang's dowry. In the future, even Yun Chang's house will become someone else's.

The people of the old Yun family are too weak, they can't protect Yun Chang, and they can't protect Yun Chang's house.

Yun Chang was just too well protected by Gu Shinian, not really stupid. Gu Shinian mentioned it a little now, and quickly figured out the pros and cons of widow Wang's marriage.

"Second brother Gu, I don't want to see Widow Wang's face every day."

Yun Chang's face was aggrieved, she knew that Gu Shinian was right, but when she thought of facing Widow Wang's face every day in the future, Yun Chang still felt a little nervous in her heart.

"I've made up my mind, let Widow Wang get out of the way. If the Lao Yun family can't protect me in the future, I'll go to the black market to sell grain to make money, and then go to the city to buy a house and not stay in the village."

"Then how many times do you have to go to the black market to make enough money? What if you run into a black market? Even if you make money, how can you buy a house as a child whose household registration is in someone else's house?"

Yun Chang was stunned, and only then did she realize that she thought too simply, stomping her little head angrily, and discussing ideas with Gu Shinian in her mouth:

"Second brother Gu, what do you think I should do now? I made Widow Wang so miserable today, she must want to kill me now. There is still room for things, I think Widow Wang can't keep the secret anymore. ."

Widow Wang has been kneading the original owner as a sandbag for so many years, and she can fight whatever she wants. Today, Yunshang made her suffer such a big loss, how could Widow Wang endure it.

Yun Chang originally planned to go back at night and put Widow Wang in the space, endured nausea, cut her tongue, and then waited for her to marry.

Now that he has found Gu Shinian, Yun Chang has support in his heart, and can't help but want to ask him to make up his mind.

Gu Shinian lowered his head and saw Yun Chang's clear eyes staring at him for a moment, his eyes were full of trust and dependence, he couldn't help pursing his lips, suppressing the unbearableness in his heart, and taught Yun Chang:

"A-Shang, we are different now. I can't protect you all the time. You have to learn to grow up, learn to be independent, learn to protect yourself, do you understand what I mean?"

Yun Chang pursed her lips and nodded reluctantly.

"Well, think about it now, how should you deal with Widow Wang's affairs when you go back at night?"

"First put her in the space, cut off her tongue, then go up the mountain, throw Widow Wang from the mountain, and fall half-crippled!"

When Yun Chang spoke, his small face was sullen, with a fierce look on his face. Seeing this, Gu Shinian couldn't help but bend the corners of his mouth, and raised his hand to touch Yun Chang's small head:

"The way is okay, but it's too rude. If the widow Wang is crushed and disabled, you will have to serve you for the rest of her life. If you are not attentive, it will not be good for your reputation. Besides, with the temperament of the widow Wang, even if you are paralyzed I'll try to find a way to trouble you."

"Then what?"

Yun Chang was restless in her heart, she couldn't kill, she couldn't marry, she couldn't even be paralyzed, this widow Wang has really become a copper pea now!

"A Chang, can you hold a living person in that space?"

Yunshang nodded, his mind invaded the space, and dialed the old hen who could only breathe but would not move,

"Yes, you can put it in as a living dead person, and come out alive and alive."

"What is the ratio of space to time outside?"

"5 to 1, 5 hours in space, 1 hour outside. Time in the store...is stationary."

Gu Shinian thought for a while, and said a few words against Yun Chang's ear, Yun Chang's brows and eyes were bent when he heard it, and he couldn't help nodding.

She knew that there was nothing in this world that Gu Shinian couldn't do.

"Second brother Gu, I'll do it when I go back in the evening! What about you? What's your current situation? Is your family treating you well?"

Hearing Yunshang asking about his body condition, Gu Shinian also had a headache. He never thought that the bloody episode in the TV series would happen to him.

The original owner's name was Gu Shijie, and he had an older brother and an older sister. The three brothers and sisters have been living with their mother Zhang Chunni since I can remember.

Father Gu Huaqing joined the army in the early years and fought several battles with the army. He was lucky enough to get him into the position of the regiment commander.

Like all old stories, when a man becomes a high-ranking official, he naturally wants to find a like-minded revolutionary partner. In this way, Zhang Chunni, who is still pregnant, becomes the next wife in the tenth year of marrying into the Gu family.

In order to marry another woman with a big belly as soon as possible, Gu Huaiqing disregarded Zhang Chunni's pregnancy, and swept her out of the house together with his son Gu Guangzong and daughter Gu Pangu.

After the original owner was born, Zhang Chunni was not close to him, and even named him ten years. She didn't know whether to remember her ten-year marriage with Gu Huaiqing, or to remind herself not to forget the shame brought by her ten-year marriage.

At the same time, Gu Huaiqing's revolutionary partner also gave birth to a daughter. After more than ten years, she never became pregnant again.

A few days ago, Gu Huaiqing came from the provincial capital and said that he would choose one of his two sons to take the review home. Zhang Chunni flatly refused, but Gu Guangzong, who was 17 years old and knew how to seek a future for himself, was moved.

Not only did they contact Gu Huaiqing frequently, but also in private, they often attacked their 11-year-old younger brother.

Yun Chang listened to the Gu family's bloody plot like listening to a story, then looked at Gu Shinian with sympathy and asked:

"Second brother Gu, what do you think, do you want to go back with Gu Huaiqing?"

Qinghe County is too small. Gu Shinian stayed in Qinghe County, and it was difficult to find an opportunity to make a breakthrough.

But going back with Gu Huaiqing is different. Gu Huaiqing is one of the best in the provincial military region. With the help of Gu Huaiqing's strength, Gu Shinian can easily gain a firm foothold in the military region.

Gu Shinian knew what Yun Chang meant and shook his head:

"Gu Huaiqing's character is too bad, and the matter of marrying another year was too ugly. In a few years..." Gu Shinian lowered his voice and whispered into Yunshang's ear, "Wait a few years to close the door. The object of the bullpen, we must not be contaminated."