Chapter 471 [V327] Love Sun Kuangmo, peak acting skills

On this side, Yu Shaoqing taught Nangongli a lesson, and on the other side, Yu Wan carried the "frightened and fainted" aunt into Concubine Yun's meditation room.

Little Black Jiang was lying on the bunk with two extra mattresses, Yu Wan and Concubine Yun were sitting on a stool no more than three feet away from the bed, and in front of them was a small and simple square wooden table.

Little Black Jiang opened one eyelid from time to time, glanced at it, and closed it again.

Yu Wan lit a dim yellow oil lamp.

Because A-Niang was asleep, she didn't turn the wick too bright. With the dim light, she began to look at Concubine Yun's appearance.

It is rare for an ordinary daughter to stare at the elders so brightly, and it will be regarded as rude. Yu Wan did not take into account these false courtesy, and Concubine Yun did not mind. Concubine Yun straightened her back and let Yu Wan look at it generously.

Concubine Yun is really old, and her eyebrows and eyes are not as delicate as when she was young, but she is still good-looking, even the wrinkles around her eyes and her forehead seem to have a trace of beauty that has been washed away.

It is said that beauty is in the bones but not the skin, this is true or not.

Yu Wan felt that Concubine Yun was really beautiful, even more beautiful than many girls with cardamom youth. She had the charm deposited by the years and the tenacity of the baptism of wind and frost. Yu Wan never thought that a woman with wrinkles could be so beautiful. People are amazing.

When Yu Wan looked at Concubine Yun, Concubine Yun also looked at her.

Yu Wan's facial features have grown longer than when she was in Lotus Village, and the baby fat on her cheeks is much less, but it is not without her oval face with a big palm, tender cheeks, thick eyebrows and big eyes, inherited from her mother. Delicate, and also inherited her father's heroic spirit, it is really a face that is satisfied no matter how you look at it.

Concubine Yun was very satisfied with the appearance of her little granddaughter.

When I first saw Nangong Yan and Nangong Li, I felt that God was unfair, how could a * like the queen have such a pleasing heir, but now seeing her daughter and little granddaughter, Concubine Yun began to pity the queen.

After all, compared with them, Nangong Yan and Nangong Li are really ugly...

"I heard that I also have a very beautiful grandson-in-law?"

The number one beauty list, used to be Nangongli, but now it is Yan Jiuchao. Concubine Yun has never been out of the palace again, and she has heard the name of Yan Jiuchao.

Yu Wan nodded, her eyes sparkling: "His name is Yan Jiuchao, he is prettier than me!"

Concubine Yun: Suck~

I want to see my little grandson-in-law!

Yu Wan smiled slightly and said, "He's in Sishui Street. I didn't have time to inform him about tonight's events. I'll go back later, and I'll take it to see you."

I didn't know Concubine Yun was so pitiful before, thinking that she, like the monarch, disliked her grandmother, but now that I saw it, I realized that Concubine Yun was different from the monarch.

"By the way, grandmother, do you still recognize this bead?" Yu Wan took out a beautiful Dongzhu from her purse, "This is the night before my big wedding, and my mother gave it to me, saying it was you before her big wedding. given to her."

Concubine Yun of course recognizes this bead, it was brought to the Great Emperor Ji by Nei Shi Li before she went to the ghost clan for her marriage.

She bears the name of Concubine Yun, but she doesn't have much savings. She used the monthly money to inquire about the news of the Great Emperor Ji.

She pulled Dongzhu out and asked Li's servant to hand it over to the Great Emperor Ji.

Concubine Yun actually didn't know whether Li's servant was handed over to her, because on the way back, Li's servant contracted a serious illness and died before returning to the palace.

"I thought it wasn't delivered." Concubine Yun sighed with relief.

Yu Wan curved her lips and said, "Auntie has always carried this bead by her side. Auntie likes this bead very much, and because of this bead, she also fell in love with other beads." Yu Wan seems to understand why her mother Each pair of embroidered shoes is studded with a bead.

She loves beads.

Because the beads were the first gift her mother gave her.

The little black * who was lying on the bed and pretending to be dead pouted.

Little stinky fart!

Guru~

Concubine Yun's stomach growled.

After tossing for most of the night, the physical exertion was too great, and the hare that Concubine Yun had eaten was gone.

Yu Wan's eyes lit up: "Are you hungry? I'll make you something to eat!"

Yu Shaoqing, who returned from the torture of Nangongli, heard her daughter's words, her scalp went numb, and she had to lift her feet out.

Yu Wan stopped him with a smile: "Dad! You're back? I'm about to make dinner. Come and chat with your grandmother for a while, and we'll eat together later!"

Yu Shaoqing hurriedly said: "No no no, you still accompany your grandmother, I will do it!"

Yu Wan said: "Then how can you do it? You haven't eaten dinner, you must be starving, I'll do it!"

"No no no, I will do it!"

"I'll do it!"

"Let Awan go." Concubine Yun said, the little girl has the heart to honor her, how could she not give her face? Also, she did have something to ask her son-in-law alone.

Yu Shaoqing took a deep breath: "Okay, since Mother said so, let Awan go!"

You cry for a while, but don't blame me!

There is a small kitchen in this yard. There are not many ingredients, but two bowls of Yangchun noodles are still enough.

Yu Wan quickly cooked two large bowls of Yangchun noodles and carried Concubine Yun's meditation room.

From Yu Shaoqing's mouth, Concubine Yun learned a lot about the past of Emperor Ji, such as how she met him at the beginning, and how she married a poor country like Lianhua Village, a poor country boy who actually kidnapped Emperor Ji of Nanzhao. I'm afraid no one will believe me when I go out.

At the beginning, he didn't know she was Di Ji, and she didn't know he was Helian Beiyu. The two people who had given up their identities seemed destined to meet like that.

In addition to fate, I don't know what to say.

Concubine Yun lamented the injustice of fate, but now she begins to feel the magic of fate.

For the Great Emperor Ji, just grabbing a poor boy turned out to be Helian Beiyu of Nanzhao.

For Helian Beiyu, the girl in distress that happened on the street would actually be the Emperor Ji who was guarded by Helian's family.

"I still remember your father."

That was the one with the fiercest opposition. Everyone scolded her for being brazen, climbing on the dragon bed, and giving birth to a disaster star. In the future, Nanzhao would definitely be destroyed by their mother and daughter. towards?

"Grandma, Daddy! Yangchun noodles are ready!" Yu Wan walked in with two bowls of steaming noodles.

Yu Shaoqing's eyelids jumped fiercely.

Concubine Yun was really hungry, and the noodles were good looking, and the chopped green onion and sesame oil were fragrant enough. She was greedy and couldn't wait to taste it.

Then, she paused.

Yu Wan widened her bright eyes, looked at her without blinking, and said with some anticipation and some anxiety: "I used to be not very good at cooking, but they all said that I have made great progress recently."

It's time to test your acting skills.

Concubine Yun's acting skills that she hadn't been able to fully develop for most of her life were finally brought into full play at this moment.

"It's delicious." Concubine Yun said with a look of enjoyment and emotion.

Yu Shaoqing was stunned, not only with the expression of enjoyment, but also with moved tears, the mother-in-law is really superior!

"Dad, what do you think?" Yu Wan looked at Yu Shaoqing.

"Of course it's delicious, and it really has grown a lot." Yu Shaoqing said with a pair of bull's eyes rounded.

Yu Wan was extremely happy, and there was nothing more gratifying to her than her cooking skills were praised: "Then eat, don't just look at me."

The two finished the Yangchun noodles without changing their expressions.

"And soup." Yu Wan said.

also, want, drink, soup? !

The two took a deep breath, held the bowl, and finished drinking!

"I'm going to wash the dishes!" Yu Wan's mood was so excited that she took the empty bowl to the kitchen to wash it.

Hearing the sound of running water coming from the kitchen, Concubine Yun and Yu Shaoqing dashed towards the window, pushed the window lattice open, and lay on the window sill, sticking out their tongues and rolling their eyes.

When Yu Wan finished washing the dishes and returned to the house, the two of them had already sat back on the stool, looking like they were sitting upright.

Concubine Yun was still elegant and out of the way, but Yu Shaoqing didn't have the same enthusiasm for her. He was like eating a big bowl of yellow lotus, and his face was wrinkled with bitterness.

"Why didn't you say that her cooking is so bad?" Concubine Yun didn't move her lips, she only whispered a word from between her teeth.

Yu Shaoqing also said without moving his lips: "I said I will do it, you won't let it."

Concubine Yun closed her eyes, took a deep breath, and when she opened her eyes to look at Yu Wan, her eyes were full of enjoyment and joy after eating and drinking.

It turns out that my grandmother likes the noodles I made so much!

This is the third time someone truly loves her cooking skills after the Great Zhou Emperor and Yan Jiu Dynasty.

Yu Wan feels that her life has been sublimated!

She leaned over with a smile and said to Concubine Yun, "You like it so much, I'll make it for you tomorrow morning!"

Concubine Yun's smile froze.

Hemp eggs!

Acting skills are overdrafted, not enough!

Chapter 472 [V328] Pour out the truth

"Cough cough! No need, daughter, you are working so hard, so you should rest well. Dad will make it for breakfast tomorrow."

The son-in-law cleared the siege in time, and Concubine Yun gave her son-in-law a teachable look, stroking Yu Wan's head incomparably doting, and said, "Your father is right, listen to your father, you can accompany your grandmother and talk to her. ."

Although Yu Wan was more willing to show her increasingly sophisticated cooking skills than talking, but since her grandmother spoke up, Yu Wan happily agreed.

Fei Yun heaved a sigh of relief.

Cherish life and stay away from granddaughter's cooking skills.

It was late at night, but Concubine Yun and Yu Shaoqing were too full to sleep, but Yu Wan was excited when she saw Concubine Yun, but she didn't feel sleepy, so they sat around the table and talked.

It was the first time we met in so many years, and there was no embarrassment and embarrassment as imagined. Everyone made the other feel comfortable. Yu Wan liked Concubine Yun very much, and Concubine Yun of course liked her more. As for Yu Shaoqing, she was dumbfounded. The point is that she looks good, and she is considerate and filial, which will hurt others. Concubine Yun is not dissatisfied.

More importantly, Concubine Yun remembers Niudan well, and treats Niudan's son even more differently.

There was no tea leaves in Changting Temple, so Yu Shaoqing boiled a pot of water and brewed a pot of red jujube tea with the dried dates in the meditation room.

The three were drinking tea.

The night was quiet.

Yu Wan suddenly said, "Grandma, tell us about the past."

She didn't specifically point out what happened back then. First, she was not sure if Concubine Yun was willing to bring up the past. If she was unwilling, she could skip it herself and pick a few things she could talk about. Second, she In fact, there is no way to ask myself.

After all, too much news is just hearsay, what is the truth, I am afraid that even the parties are kept in the dark.

Concubine Yun said: "Awan wants to ask me how I became a concubine in the first place?"

Yu Wan thought about it, this is fine too.

Yu Wan nodded.

Concubine Yun faintly sighed: "There are some things that shouldn't be said in front of you, but since you ask, it's okay to tell you."

Yu Wan and Yu Shaoqing listened carefully.

Concubine Yun hated and resented what happened back then, but now she's relieved. People are born with fate, and my fate is up to me. How can I know that God has not opened his eyes? Take the experience of the Great Emperor Ji as an example, the hardships she suffered in the early years, God seems to be slowly repaying her in another way.

Therefore, when it comes to the matter with the monarch, Concubine Yun is no longer as angry and troubled as before.

she asked calmly, "What are the rumors you heard?"

The father and daughter looked at each other.

Yu Shaoqing didn't have the guts to say those bastards.

Yu Wan is Concubine Yun's careful heart, and only she can bite the bullet.

Yu Wan said: "It is rumored that the Queen and you were close friends in the boudoir, you have a fiancé, and before the wedding, your fiancé eloped with your cousin, the Queen was very angry when she heard about this, not only decreed your fiancé, but also eloped. After questioning your cousin, in the end, that marriage didn't happen, but your marriage has become difficult since then."

Yu Wan said as she looked at Concubine Yun's expression, and saw that every time Concubine Yun listened to a sentence, the sarcasm on the corner of her lips increased.

"What else? You go on." Concubine Yun said.

Yu Wan could only go on and say: "The queen saw that you were unhappy, so she brought you into the palace and held a banquet for you, and the result..."

"As a result, I didn't like the son of an aristocratic family she chose, but turned around and climbed on the king's dragon bed, right?" Concubine Yun finished Yu Wan's indescribable part.

Yu Wan defaults.

Regardless of the truth, the rumors she heard were indeed the case. The queen was selfless and sympathetic to Concubine Yun, but Concubine Yun betrayed her former good sister and seduced the queen's husband, which made the remarks that Concubine Yun gave birth to a disaster for the country and the country spread. At the time, almost everyone believed it.

In the whole incident, whether it was the Great Emperor Ji, who was abandoned since childhood, or the Concubine Yun, who stayed in the palace, they were all cast aside.

Everyone has selfishness. No matter whether the rumors are true or not, she will stand on the side of Concubine Yun. She is not a heroine, nor is she a master of the sky, she is an ordinary woman who can no longer be ordinary. not come out.

Yu Wan looked at Concubine Yun and said, "Grandma, are you and the queen really good sisters?"

"Good sister?" Concubine Yun smiled coldly, "I am a concubine in the family, a daughter of a direct descendant, how could she possibly look upon my background? She is just using me to spread her name. Be kind to concubine daughters. , It seems that she is very educated, do you know when she first met the monarch?"

Yu Wan shook her head.

Concubine Yun said sarcastically: "During the heavy snow, I was bullied by a few sisters in my family. She took ice cubes to cover the swelling and pain in my forehead, and she also stood up for me. She reprimanded my sisters for the passing monarch to see. Now, the monarch admires her for her talent, beauty, and virtue, and she is so in the eyes of the monarch.

The monarch had not yet ascended the throne at that time, just a prince, but the monarch's voice was very high, everyone knew that he would be the future prince, and the sisters in the family wanted to be favored by the monarch, but let the queen steal the limelight. , had to take anger at me. Every time they get angry at me, the queen will stand up for me, but when the queen leaves, who can protect me in the cold house?

The appearance of her standing for a concubine was highly appreciated by the monarch. The monarch said, "If you are a concubine, if you are the mother of the country, all the people will be fortunate." "

Yu Wan frowned and said, "What a blessing to the people, she is clearly pulling you to be a charity blogger!"

This is new. Concubine Yun heard it for the first time, but she understood it. She smiled and said, "She treated me well back then, but it wasn't completely false. At least it was the first time she stood up for me, I never thought about it. Use my blog..."

I wanted to learn and use it, but found it stuck.

"Beautiful eyeballs." Yu Wan said.

"Yeah." Concubine Yun nodded, "It's just that after tasting the sweetness, her relationship with me turned sour."

Yu Wan took it seriously. Everything the queen did for Concubine Yun seemed to be for Concubine Yun, but the ending always made Concubine Yun worse. The only one who gained fame and fortune was the queen herself, who tore open Concubine Yun's wound. She did not hesitate to expose her pain to others, and then use the power of the queen to seek justice for her. Everyone in the world praised her as a mother in the world, and envied Concubine Yun for climbing on such a high branch as her. No one asked Concubine Yun if she was willing or not. .

It was the same in the palace over the years, because there was a concubine Yun like a mad woman, which made the queen more dignified and dignified.

Yu Wan felt sorry for Concubine Yun, paused, and said, "Then...you and the monarch..."

Concubine Yun said: "No matter how much I don't like her, I won't be tempted to seduce her man. It's really an accident. The alcohol is so strong that I don't know where I am after a drink."

It's hard to tell the details in front of the juniors.

In short, in the beginning, she never had the heart to seduce the monarch.

As for entering the palace, she does have expectations for the monarch.

She did this kind of "shameless" thing, which ruined the family's face. She was abandoned by the family and moved into the dormitory like a cold palace alone. At that time, she was just a little girl who didn't know much about the world. That's all, she will also feel frightened and helpless, and will develop an attachment to the man who is her husband.

He is the only support for her and the child in her womb, she thought, so be it, since she is already his woman, then do her duty obediently.

She used to stand at the door of the dormitory like every wife who is looking forward to her husband's return, expecting him to come and see her every day, but until the child was born, he never appeared in front of her again.

When he finally appeared, he wanted to take away her child.

Her heart has never been so painful.

She was also a naive little girl, and she once gave her heart to the high-spirited young emperor, but since then, her heart has become cold little by little, and now she is facing that man, except for Disgust and nothing else.

Concubine Yun raised her head and let out a breath of turbid air, only to find that her son-in-law had fallen asleep on the table, and Yu Wan had also fallen asleep on her lap.

Concubine Yun touched Yu Wan's face lovingly.

Yu Wan slept soundly, and she felt a hint of sweetness in her heart.

It turns out that not only sadness will make people cry, but they will also be moved.

Concubine Yun's eyes suddenly turned red, she sniffed and raised her head to force the tears back into the corners of her eyes.

It's almost dawn.

She is leaving.

Concubine Yun put Yu Wan on the table, gave her a pillow, and made her lie down comfortably.

She herself came to the bed and stroked her daughter's face.

I loved your father when I was pregnant with you, so you are a child born with great joy and anticipation, don't feel sad.

Concubine Yun touched her daughter's forehead, turned around and opened the door, and walked out facing the morning light.

"Sleeping" Jiang Shi opened her eyes and watched her disappear into the morning light.

Chapter 473 [V329] The little black egg enters the palace and gets the monarch

Concubine Yun's disappearance caused a huge storm in the harem. It's not like she's been playing a moth once or twice, but she was not favored in the past, no one cared about her, and no one was pulling her braids. In comparison, the little Dijji was on the decline, and the Great Dijji line became famous among the people, and even the palace servants began to pay attention to her.

If there is attention, there will naturally be hostility, but no matter what the thoughts of the palace people are, the night has passed, and no one has found the shadow of Concubine Yun.

"Could it be that he threw himself into the lake?"

"How is that possible? In my opinion, it's more like throwing into a well."

"Her daughter is about to be recognized, why is she so upset?"

"That's right....."

Concubine Yun, who was passing by outside the palace wall, accidentally listened: "..."

The old lady is not dead yet! ! !

The Nanzhao Palace has four gates and eight alleys. Concubine Yun went to the North Gate, which was closest to the direction she was walking from. The guards at the North Gate were watching closely. She only had to walk more than ten steps, and the North Gate was on her left.

She rolled her eyes, and when she was only two steps away from the North Gate, she suddenly turned and ran back, dancing and shouting, "Haha! Come out! Come out!"

The two guards guarding the gate were agitated, what happened? Who is out?

The guards glanced inside the palace in disbelief, then came out and looked to the right, and saw Concubine Yun running forward happily.

The two of them were so frightened that they broke out in cold sweats!

It was a * of a day, they were guarding so well, how could Concubine Yun beat them and run out under their noses?

The two really don't understand how all this happened, but what is certain is that they can't tell Concubine Yun to escape from the palace like this, otherwise the monarch will ask them, and they must be punished for a crime of dereliction of duty!

The two of them couldn't care about anything else, and hurriedly captured Concubine Yun back.

The news that Concubine Yun had been found quickly reached the monarch's ears.

The monarch was dining with the queen in the middle palace. He heard that Concubine Yun almost escaped from the palace.

"It's all taken away." The Queen said lightly.

"Yes." The palace servant removed the unfinished meal.

The monarch went to Concubine Yun's bedroom with a pale face.

At this time, Concubine Yun was lying on the rattan chair in the yard, and asked the maid to cut a few slices of cucumber and stick it on her face for maintenance. Package awareness.

The monarch entered her courtyard.

"Your Majesty!" When the palace servants in the courtyard saw him coming, they were all terrified, and knelt down in unison.

"All retreat!" The king ordered coldly.

The people in the palace looked at each other in dismay, glanced at Concubine Yun at the same time, and stepped back tremblingly.

The monarch is quite good-natured, but for some reason, he can't control the anger in his heart every time he comes to Concubine Yun. Ordinary people fleeing back to the palace and being arrested are so scared that they kneel on the ground in fright. She looks like her ancestors!

No, where would ordinary people escape from the palace?

Emperor's concubine, suicide and escaping from the palace are both serious crimes of looting and annihilating the family!

But the monarch seems to have seen the reaction of Concubine Yun when he said these words——

"Copy copy! You copy! Copy and kill those bastards!"

Such a possibility flashed through his mind, and the monarch felt his head hurt.

He seriously suspected that Concubine Yun did it on purpose, deliberately mad at him, and deliberately used his hand to harm her family.

What a vicious woman!

"You can't learn from the queen, don't make me so much trouble?"

The monarch didn't ask her why she did this at all, because it was unnecessary, he had already seen it, and she was a person who was afraid that the world would not be in chaos, so it would be * for her to obediently study the female virtue and the female ring in the harem.

Concubine Yun didn't say that she was kidnapped by Nangong Li. After all, Nangong Li's injuries and the death of his subordinates made it more like she kidnapped Nangong Li...

Although she does not have this ability, the person who has this ability is the person she wants to protect.

As for the indiscriminate questioning of the monarch, she might have been able to poke her heart in the early years, but not now, she just thought he had farted and the stink was gone.

She had two large cucumbers stuck to her eyelids, she didn't take it down to open her eyes, she just lay on the wicker chair, ignoring people lazily.

The monarch made her toothache with anger: "Concubine Yun! Do you still look like a concubine!"

Concubine Yun said casually: "Oh, it turns out that Your Majesty still knows that the concubine is your concubine, and the concubine thought that your majesty only has the queen in his heart, and he doesn't remember the concubine at all. Your majesty should be the concubine and die. There is no need to come to Suzaku Palace, after all, you didn't come when you were young, and now that you are old, it is useless to come."

No, useless? !

The king's face turned green.

Concubine Yun took off the cucumber slices on her eyelids, opened her eyes, and glanced at the waist of the king: "Huh? Can it still be used?"

The monarch's face turned from green to red, and he was so angry that he was about to explode: "Shen Yun!!!"

As soon as the queen walked to the door of Suzaku Palace, she heard a thunderous roar from the monarch. She was stunned. Strictly speaking, the monarch was not an angry person, otherwise he would not have been called a smiling tiger. Only Yun The concubine could arouse all his anger, and towards Concubine Yun, he always seemed to have endless anger.

What's so irritating? Just a mad woman, a dignified ruler of a country who can tolerate courtiers and chaos in the party, can't tolerate a concubine who is a demon?

The Queen did not want the monarch to care about Concubine Yun, even in the most unpleasant way.

The Queen calmed down, took a deep breath, and walked over calmly. Along the way, a palace servant saluted her, but she raised her hand and waved it back.

She walked over dignifiedly and gracefully, looked at the monarch who was about to go berserk, and then looked at Concubine Yun who had no image, her brows frowned: "Concubine Yun, your majesty is down, you are disrespectful, and you are so disrespectful. What kind of body does it look like?"

Concubine Yun snorted softly and put the cucumber slices back on her eyelids: "Since the queen is here, hurry up and take your man back, there is no room for two big Buddhas under the Suzaku Palace temple of the concubine."

The Queen said again: "Concubine Yun, do you know that your Majesty and Ben Gong were very anxious the night you disappeared?"

Concubine Yun sneered: "What are you worried about? Are you worried that there will be no one for you two to bully anymore? Or is there no one to set off the gentle and virtuous image of the Queen?"

The monarch said coldly: "How did you talk to the queen? Don't think that I made you a noble concubine, so you can ignore the queen, believe it or not..."

Concubine Yun interrupted him lightly: "Revoking the title, dethroning the concubine position, and demoting it to a talented person, all the ministers and concubines understand that your majesty can decree."

"you!"

"Your Majesty." The Queen took his hand and shook her head gently at him, "Forget it, you don't know what her temperament is. She doesn't commit big crimes and keeps making small mistakes, so why bother with her? You don't have to hurt yourself. body."

The monarch said coldly: "She is not a small mistake this time! She has escaped from the palace for me!"

The queen looked at Concubine Yun, and said earnestly: "Concubine Yun, you are too rambunctious. You can do anything in the palace. Why are you making trouble outside the palace? Isn't this a deliberate attempt to bring shame to the royal family? For the sake of Your Majesty, and also for your Empress, you don't want her to have a troublemaker."

Concubine Yun fell silent after hearing what the Queen said.

The monarch snorted coldly: "You are here to reflect, without my will, you must not take a step outside the Suzaku Palace!"

After saying that, the monarch left with the queen.

Before leaving, the queen called the maid in charge of Suzaku Palace: "You must not treat the imperial concubine harshly for food and clothing expenses."

"Yes." The envoy in charge respectfully responded.

"It's like this, you still protect her."

Concubine Yun heard the monarch's murmur, and then Concubine Yun heard the empress say: "However, it is your majesty's concubine, the concubine treats her better, and it can make your majesty feel more at ease. In the future, majesty will no longer go to her to look for anger in front of her, anger is bad. I'll be worried."

The monarch sighed: "She's just too noisy. If she knew half of you, I wouldn't have such a headache. Don't worry, I won't go to Suzaku Palace again."

The Queen got the assurance, her expression was slightly stern, and then she said: "She is angry that His Majesty sent away the Great Emperor Ji and caused their mother and daughter to divorce. If it were me, I would be angry too."

King said: "But you won't embarrass me in front of people."

The Queen was stunned for a while, then smiled bitterly: "That's natural."

Everyone knows that the Queen is dignified and knowledgeable, so the monarch punished the little Diji, and she could only close the door to be angry with the monarch. What would Concubine Yun do? She would make a scene in the court, scolded the king with blood on his hips, and then sat down on the golden palace, asking the king to return the position of queen to her daughter.

Because she is the empress of a generation, she cannot do this.

Thinking of the little emperor who gradually lost the favor of the monarch, the queen squeezed her fingers.

But she said that Yu Wan opened her eyes and woke up and found that Concubine Yun was gone. After asking her mother, she found out that Concubine Yun was going down the mountain. Yu Wan guessed that she had returned to the palace. She cleaned up and returned to the mansion with her parents. .

She went to pick up the three little black eggs first, then went to Sishui Street and told Yan Jiuchao about Concubine Yun. She was not sure if Concubine Yun had returned to the palace and wanted to find out the news.

"Back." Yan Jiuchao said.

"How do you know?" Yu Wan asked.

Yan Jiuchao rubbed a handful of dull hair on the top of her head and said, "Concubine Yun was only promoted to be a noble concubine, and she was banned today. The news has spread all over the streets, why? I didn't hear it on the way back. Is it?"

Yu Wan frowned and said, "We were on our way in time, but we didn't go down to find out the news. Why were we grounded? Is it because of leaving the palace? That's what Nangong Li did!"

"It shouldn't be this." Yan Jiuchao came from a royal family and knew the palace rules better than Yu Wan. If the monarch punished Concubine Yun for leaving the palace, it wouldn't be as simple as banning her feet. It was more like Concubine Yun angered the monarch. , was attacked by the monarch.

"I'm going to see my grandmother!" Yu Wan stood up abruptly, and the tuft of hair on top of her head that Yan Jiuchao had managed to rub down rose up again.

"You can't go." Yan Jiuchao said, staring at her little dumb hair.

"Why?" Yu Wan asked in confusion.

Yan Jiuchao put two drops of water into his palm, and pressed it on Yu Wan's head with a snap: "You don't even admit that you are the owner of Nanzhao County, so how can the monarch admit that you are Concubine Yun's granddaughter? Unless... You recognize him."

"I don't recognize it!" Yu Wan was so angry that her hair curled up again.

"Alas." Yan Jiuchao covered his eyes.

...

Although Yu Wan cannot enter the palace, some people can.

In the evening, the monarch was reviewing the memorials in the imperial study, when suddenly a royal guard came hurriedly: "Your Majesty, there are a few people outside, who say they are relatives of Concubine Yun!"

Does Concubine Yun have any relatives? Didn't her relatives cut off contact with her sooner?

The monarch continued to write hard, and was about to send people away, but suddenly thought of something, and smiled coldly, afraid that it was not the Great Emperor Ji and her daughter who came to the door, and refused to admit him, but wanted to see Concubine Yun, how could it be so easy thing?

"Let them go back!"

"I can't go back." The guard scratched his head and said.

The monarch frowned.

The guard said shyly: "You, you should go and see for yourself."

Lai didn't leave at the gate of the palace. Could it be that he figured it out and decided to bow down to him?

The monarch put down the memorial at hand and walked to the gate of the palace.

The twilight was dark, and the palace cavity was majestic.

The three little black eggs sat pitifully on the small stone outside the door with their own small bags on their backs.

The monarch's eyes suddenly widened.

The guard bit the bullet and said: "The person who sent them said they were relatives of Concubine Yun, and they left after sending them off. Look... Did you send them to the yamen..."

The eggs that I finally got are sent to the yamen like this, how can it be done! ! !

You can negotiate terms with adults, but not with children, but he wants him to send them back to Helian's house—

The three little black eggs looked at him with cute faces.

The monarch's heart softened.

"Cough! No need." The monarch cleared his throat and said solemnly, "It's a relative of Concubine Yun, bring it in."

The guards were startled, does Concubine Yun really have relatives who can move around? Doubt returned to doubt, he still led the three little guys in.

The three little guys walked hand in hand to the king.

The monarch looked at them, and then looked at the stunned guards: "All retreat."

Then, the monarch took Dabao's little hand and a bunch of little black eggs and went to Concubine Yun's Suzaku Palace!

Chapter 474 Black Egg and Concubine Yun

At this time, Concubine Yun did not know that Her Majesty, the monarch who boasted in front of the queen that Haikou would never come to Suzaku Palace again, came to her bedroom with a few little black eggs at the risk of slap in the face.

She didn't sleep well last night, she slept well in the afternoon, and just woke up now, she had already ordered the small kitchen to cook for her.

While waiting for dinner, she went to the bathroom to take a flower bath.

Shaohua is fleeting, but no one has stipulated that an elderly woman cannot treat herself well. Concubine Yun has no power and power in the harem, and it is true that she has no money, but she has never lived as an indifferent woman. .

Even if she dies, she will die beautifully.

She was soaking comfortably when the maid in charge suddenly came over.

The look of the female envoy in charge was a little flustered: "The noble concubine!"

"What's the matter?" Concubine Yun dipped in the tub and glanced at her casually, "Did you deduct my food again?"

"No." The maid in charge shook her head.

Concubine Yun said: "Then what's the matter with you looking like you've seen a ghost? Who do you show it to?"

The maid in charge touched her face, she didn't want to look like a ghost, but the problem is, the monarch has come to Suzaku Palace!

There was a lot of quarrel in the morning, and now he came to the door again. Who can say that it is not the monarch who wants to deal with his mother-in-law?

Just now, there was the queen who stopped her, but now that she is gone, the imperial concubine is afraid that it will be more fortunate and less fortunate!

Concubine Yun closed her eyes: "If you have something to say, go out if you have nothing to do."

The envoy in charge slammed her heart and said, "Your Majesty is down! Please pick me up!"

What is that old thing doing in her bedroom again?

Concubine Yun slowly changed her clothes and went unhurriedly. She didn't want to see the monarch, so naturally she wasn't in a hurry, but if she had told her early that her three precious eggs were here, she would definitely fly out in a second. .

The monarch stood in the yard full of begonia flowers, waiting unhurriedly.

Concubine Yun walked down the steps without a good face, walked up to him, and gave a perfunctory salute.

He knew that Concubine Yun would come slowly, and he deliberately didn't tell Concubine Yun that the three little guys were coming, just to see the regretful expression on Concubine Yun's face, but unexpectedly, he didn't see this expression, but was caught by Yun first. The concubine commanded the first army.

Concubine Yun said slowly: "Didn't your majesty say that you will never come to the Suzaku Palace where your concubine will never come again? What is this now? Doesn't your majesty feel a pain in your face?"

The King's expression was stiff.

I was so happy to see a few little black eggs that I forgot about it!

"Your face hurts?"

said a small voice.

"Why does your face hurt?"

said another little voice.

Hearing this soft and cute voice, Concubine Yun felt her heart agitate, and she looked behind the king!

One, two, three!

Three round little heads poked out from behind the monarch, widened their black eyes, and looked at Concubine Yun without blinking.

"This is..." Concubine Yun was stunned.

"You are..." Xiaobao thought about it, how did the mother teach them? Oh, got it!

"Are you grandma too?" Xiaobao asked.

is Awan's child!

Concubine Yun's eyes lit up instantly, she walked over excitedly, shoved away the monarch, squatted down, and hugged the three black little black eggs into her arms.

The three of them were so fat that they couldn't hold their hands together, and their faces were squeezed out of shape.

The monarch who was caught off guard almost stumbled!

He never knew that a weak concubine could have so much strength, and he was able to pull away this big man with one hand. It wasn't because he was quick to respond, and he was already planted in a ditch!

Concubine Yun has no martial arts, nor extraordinary strength, but when she saw the little guy suddenly, she was so excited that she spent most of her life.

Not to mention that there was a man standing in front of her, she also swung a mountain! ! !

"Too...too grandma..." Xiaobao's face was shrunk by the faces of his two older brothers.

"Hey!" Concubine Yun responded excitedly.

Xiaobao said with difficulty: "Tuan (gasp)...Tan (gasp) can't breathe..."

Concubine Yun hurriedly let go of the little guy in her arms, and looked at them with great excitement. The black is a little dark, but the facial features are really good. I thought Di Ji and A Wan were beautiful enough, but the three little guys were just as good as each other. They are still beautiful, and the three of them should look like they are following their grandson-in-law.

"Suck~" Concubine Yun wanted to see her grandson-in-law again.

"Let Grandma Tai take a good look at you."

Concubine Yun has spent most of her life in the deep palace. Although she has no chance to see children outside, Nangong Yan, Nangong Li, and Nangong Xi have all been raised in the palace. Concubine Yun has seen their appearance, so she is not as cute as her little black egg. !

Of course, Concubine Yun also likes Di Ji and Yu Wan, but they have passed the most lethal age. They are nothing like these cute little black eggs. melted!

The three little black eggs did not come to visit Concubine Yun empty-handed, they prepared gifts for Grandma Tai!

I saw three little black eggs took off their small luggage, opened it, took out a brocade box, opened it again, and took out a bunch of fresh roses from the brocade box.

The three held roses in one hand and the other behind their backs, and bowed very gently.

This is the first time that Concubine Yun has received a gift from a "man".

The three little gentlemen not only presented the flowers to Grandma Tai, but also held Grandma's hand and kissed her reverently on the back of her hand.

Concubine Yun was so happy she was about to cry!

Xiaobao raised his head, raised his chest, and said solemnly, "We will protect the rest of your life!"

The monarch's eyelids jumped fiercely!

Who did you learn this ability to coax people? Concubine Yun is old, can she still be coaxed by such rhetoric?

"Woo-" Concubine Yun cried out, "It's so touching..."

The speechless monarch: "..."

Concubine Yun was immersed in the joy brought by the little guys, completely ignoring the monarch beside her, but because of this, her undisguised appearance fell into the eyes of the monarch.

The monarch looked at the high-spirited woman in front of him, and for a moment he almost thought that he was dazzled. Is this still the concubine Yun who only scorns people? Will she laugh too?

It is undeniable that Concubine Yun was beautiful from a young age, even more beautiful than the Empress. When the monarch met the Empress and Concubine Yun for the first time, the first object he saw was by no means the Empress, but the Empress moved him with her kindness and kindness. .

Concubine Yun has always been beautiful, but she is as beautiful as a lifeless silk flower.

Right now, this silk flower seems to suddenly come alive.

It blooms.

At an almost old age.

"I'm Xiaobao."

"I am Erbao."

"Is this the big treasure?" Concubine Yun looked at the big treasure.

Dabao nodded.

Xiaobao explained very intimately: "Dabao can't speak yet."

Concubine Yun had already learned about the situation of the little guys from Yu Shaoqing. The little guys were late and only spoke when they came to Nanzhao. Dabao was a little late, but she believed that Dabao would speak up one day.

Concubine Yun quickly recognized the three little guys. The one with a swirl of hair on the top of the head is Dabao, the two with swirls of hair are Erbao, and the youngest is Xiaobao. .

The most honest is Dabao, the softest is Erbao, and the most eccentric is Xiaobao.

Concubine Yun's eyes are much better than the monarch's eyes. The monarch has been in contact with him several times and has not been able to accurately identify who is who.

"Who sent you here?" Concubine Yun asked softly.

The monarch was stunned for a second. Could she, her voice be softer than the queen's? It's not like her at all.

Xiaobao said: "Uncle Thirteen and Uncle Six sent us here!"

is their father's two secret guards, but I heard it mentioned by my son-in-law, but I didn't have time to say too much.

Guru~

The stomachs of the three little guys growled.

The triplets are like this, they are hungry together, and they are thirsty together.

Concubine Yun wiped the tears from the corners of her eyes and said, "Look at me, I was only talking to you, but I forgot to take you to dinner, come."

Concubine Yun stretched out her hand to the three little guys.

Xiaobao grabbed her hand, and the other hand held Erbao, Erbao went to hold Dabao, and Dabao took the monarch with him.

The monarch was suddenly at a loss for what to do. He had only set foot on Concubine Yun's bedroom several times, let alone dining, which was never before. Leaving aside the meal itself, he was worried that Concubine Yun would retort, in front of several children. face fell to his face.

He didn't want to lose his dignity in front of the children, and he didn't want to quarrel with Concubine Yun in front of the children.

Just when he was feeling uneasy, Concubine Yun said with a smile: "Your Majesty didn't eat, did you?"

The monarch was immediately taken aback.

Concubine Yun said with a smile: "There is a new cook in the small kitchen. I heard that the cooking skills are good. Your Majesty will not dislike it, so let's stay and accompany me and a few children for dinner."

After suspecting that he had read it wrong, the monarch began to suspect that he had heard it wrong. Concubine Yun could speak in such a gentle tone.

Concubine Yun is as gentle as his wife who has been with him for many years: "If Your Majesty has official business..."

"No! I have no official business." The monarch interrupted her immediately, as if saying that she would regret it if she was one step later.

Concubine Yun covered her face and smiled, and led a bunch of little black eggs into the house.

King didn't regain his senses from her smile, so he let Dabao lead him into the house.

"Niangniang! Niangniang!"

In the middle palace, the queen was sitting in front of a large table of dazzling meals waiting for the monarch to come to eat, when suddenly, a servant came in hastily: "Qiqi Niangniang, Your Majesty has sent a message so that you don't have to wait for him. Dinner."

A trace of disappointment flashed across the Queen's eyes: "Is it the court that is on official business again?"

The chamberlain lowered his head and said, "I didn't come to work in the previous dynasty."

The Queen wondered: "What's going on? Your Majesty has something to worry about and doesn't want to eat anymore?"

The head of the waiter dropped lower.

The Queen's eyes narrowed slightly: "If you have something to say, it's okay to say it."

"Yes." The inner waiter said in a low voice, "Your Majesty has gone to Suzaku Palace."

The Queen's expression changed: "What did you say? Where did your majesty go?"

The inner servant was so frightened that he stammered: "Zhu, Zhuque Palace, Concubine Yun's bedroom."

The Queen's eyes were slightly cold, and she asked strangely, "Why did Your Majesty go there?"

In the morning, he promised her that he would not go to see the imperial concubine again, so why did he break his promise when he turned around?

Although the relationship between the monarch and the concubine is mostly not about reminiscing about the old feelings, but as long as the monarch appears in the palace of the concubine, it always makes people feel uneasy.

The waiter said: "It seems... relatives came to the house of the noble concubine, and the monarch took them to visit the noble concubine."

The queen said lightly: "The Shen family has long since cut off contact with her. Where does her relative come from?"

Besides, what relatives can ask the monarch to send them over in person?

In the blink of an eye, the queen realized something, she clasped her hand, and asked, "What kind of relative? How old is it? What does it look like?"

The waiter thought for a while and said, "Three children, they look like two or three years old."

The Queen closed her eyes, the young son of the Helian family, the little old Gu Palace, and the great-grandson of Nanzhao! It really is them!

Suzaku Palace, the food was presented, the monarch and Concubine Yun sat down with three little guys.

This was the first time that Concubine Yun had dinner with her family since she entered the palace, and it was also the first time that the monarch had dinner with Concubine Yun.

What made the monarch frown was that all the vegetarian food served on the table, and it was obvious that the little guys didn't like vegetarian food.

They are not picky eaters, they eat everything they put in their bowls, but there is a difference between eating happily and frowning.

The monarch put down his chopsticks and called the cook in the small kitchen: "So it's all vegetarian?"

The cook threw himself on his knees, kowtowed, and said, "Hui, Hui, Hui... Your Majesty's words, the lady's health is not good, and the meat and fish can't be cured, so the servants specially made vegetarian food for the lady to take care of her body."

The monarch looked at Concubine Yun, who was eating vegetables silently, and the little black eggs who tasted the same, and said to the cook, "Let's make some meat dishes."

"Yes!" The cook went in a hurry. He didn't expect the monarch to eat here, otherwise he would not dare to give him a vegan banquet if he had a hundred courage!

The monarch said to Concubine Yun: "What do you want to eat, just tell them that your body is important, but you don't need to embarrass yourself too much."

Concubine Yun secretly rolled her eyes, she has the ability to tell your Empress Bai Yueguang, let her not ask the imperial doctor to check my pulse, and don't let anyone deduct my meals!

The monarch personally ordered, and the chef did not dare to neglect, and in a short while, he made delicious dishes such as braised pork, white braised mutton, steamed sea bass, steamed eggs with scallops, and crab roe tofu.

"Suck it~" Concubine Yun's eyes glowed green.

She thought she was covering it up well, but she didn't know that she had already fallen into the eyes of the king.

The monarch gave the three little guys the braised pork in turn, and when the fourth piece was the fattest piece, Concubine Yun's saliva dripped down.

The monarch's hand trembled imperceptibly. He calmed down and put the braised pork into Concubine Yun's bowl.

Chapter 475 Black Eggs Abuse Queen

Concubine Yun has been in the palace for many years, and she has not eaten much meat. Even if she has one or two meals occasionally, it is not an excellent dish. This plate of braised pork is specially cooked for the monarch to enjoy, not only using the best three-line meat, He also took out the most technical heat. Every piece of meat is shiny, trembling, soft and glutinous, and melts in the mouth. Simply not too tasty.

This craft is much better than the roast rabbit last night.

Concubine Yun was so delicious that she cried.

The three little black eggs are also sucking and sucking, and their little mouths are too busy.

The monarch was always not picky when it came to meals. Often, he would eat whatever the queen asked him to do. For the first time, he had the urge to swallow, and the greediness of several people made him use more chopsticks.

The braised pork was so delicious that Concubine Yun and a few little black eggs were still smug about it, but it was gone, even the youngest Xiaobao was clamoring for another bowl, and they ate the rice in the bowl obediently.

The monarch pondered, and asked people to make two big bowls of braised pork.

The whole room is filled with the sound of little black eggs sucking and sucking.

The monarch saw that they seemed to be able to eat more than ordinary children, so he ordered the kitchen to prepare more ingredients, so as not to starve the little boys.

The cook did not dare to go down, so he went respectfully.

Concubine Yun also enjoyed her meal very much, and even burped temporarily.

The three little black eggs also touched their chubby little belly and burped a few times together.

Afterwards, the little black eggs took Concubine Yun and the monarch for a walk in the yard. This was a habit developed by Yu Wan. They were brought to Lianhua Village from the Young Master's Mansion, and from Lianhua Village to Helian Mansion. When you enter the palace, you are not lazy.

The monarch is busy with his official business, and he rarely has such a comfortable moment. Walking under the begonia tree in the Suzaku Palace, the night wind is blowing slowly, and the autumn night is quiet and graceful.

"Come, come, catch me!"

Xiaobao started flirting again.

The three little black eggs filled the yard and went crazy, and the black and white days in the deep palace seemed to have a different color overnight.

Concubine Yun has never raised children, so it is inevitable that she does not know how to take care of them. Fortunately, the children are very good, and will remind Concubine Yun that they are going to change their clothes, they are going to take a bath, and they are going to brush their little teeth.

Concubine Yun was very skilled and could finish things in half an hour. She did it for a whole hour, and finally, she put Dabao's clothes upside down.

Dabao looked down at his little nightgown, and always felt that something was weird!

Er Bao pointed to the seam of his clothes and said, "It's the other way around!"

Yun Fei Sansan.

"I'm coming." The monarch stretched out his hand, took Dabao into his arms, gently took off his shirt, and put it on for him.

This scene naturally fell into the eyes of the palace servants who were guarding.

Several people exchanged glances, and they all saw indescribable shock in each other's eyes.

The monarch is also very kind to a few young sons, right? He even dressed himself. I wonder if the little emperor Ji and the little county master had received such treatment?

Naturally there is no.

The queen is virtuous, she can do this kind of thing, the grandma she hired is a veteran who takes care of people, the little emperor Ji and the little princess whom the monarch saw, and even Nangong Li who only returned to the palace when she was a few years old, at any time They are all neat and tidy.

"Pants! Pants! Oops!"

But Concubine Yun put on trousers for Xiaobao, and put two little fat legs into one trouser leg. Xiaobao took a step and fell down with a bang.

The bed was soft, but it didn't hurt, but Concubine Yun blamed herself.

She was in a hurry, and her face was flushed.

The monarch took Xiaobao over again and put on his trousers.

Everything was tidy up, but the three little guys didn't sleep, laying on the bed, holding their little feet with both hands, looking innocently at Concubine Yun and the monarch.

"What's the matter? Are you hungry?" Concubine Yun asked.

The three of them looked at them cutely.

When asked what the three of them were going to do, the monarch immediately ordered someone to find a milk-producing ewe, milking the goat's milk, and boiling the goat's milk, and they were busy for most of the night.

When the three little black eggs finally fell asleep holding the baby bottle, the gates of the palace were locked.

The noisy Suzaku Palace suddenly fell silent, and the three people were breathing evenly on the bed.

Concubine Yun looked at them, the thousands of gullies in her heart were gradually being filled, but at the same time, she also hated the monarch more and more.

It turns out that raising a child is such a happy thing, she could have all this, but let the dog force the monarch and his Queen Bai Yueguang to ruthlessly deprive her! ! !

The monarch brushed off his sleeves and stood up. Thinking of Concubine Yun tonight, he was still somewhat satisfied. This is what a concubine should look like. What are you talking about all day long?

It seems that it is right to put the children in the palace.

Now that Concubine Yun has changed her mind, she said, "The child is sleeping, I..."

Before he finished speaking, Concubine Yun raised her leg and kicked him out!

The child is asleep and the play is over, so why don't such a big smelly man drive away and keep it for the New Year?

The monarch, who finally had a better impression of Concubine Yun, let this kick make his eyes stare. He got up in anger, got up and looked at Concubine Yun on the bed.

"Hu~hu~" Concubine Yun hugged a little black egg, closed her eyes and snorted~

The monarch with nowhere to vent his anger: "..."

The monarch looked at Concubine Yun coldly for a long time. As long as he watched, Concubine Yun kept snoring. In terms of acting, she was serious!

The monarch seemed to feel the torture from his soul. He clenched his fists, took a few deep breaths, and suppressed his anger.

In the end, he limped back to the bedroom, supporting the dragon's belly, who was being kicked by Concubine Yun.

"Niangniang, Your Majesty is back."

In the middle palace, the queen put her head on one hand and leaned against the table, squinting. When she heard the report from the chamberlain, she suddenly opened her eyes and said in a hoarse voice, "Your Majesty is back?"

"Yes, Niangniang." The waiter said.

"He didn't come to the Central Palace?" the Queen asked unexpectedly.

Husband and wife have been together for many years. Although they have their own dormitories, the monarch will come to her side most of the time.

The inner servant hurriedly said: "It is estimated that it is too late. Your Majesty is afraid to disturb your rest."

This is not the first time. In the past, when government affairs were busy until midnight, the monarch would not come to the Central Palace, but unlike tonight, the monarch would send someone to inform her in advance that she would not have to wait for her to rest.

Tonight, the monarch made a few little guys entangle and forget, finally the little guys fell asleep, and let Concubine Yun kicked him, whether intentionally or unintentionally.

The fact that the monarch did not come to stay overnight was a trivial matter, but what the queen thought was that he had stayed in the Suzaku Palace for so long.

The Queen of course would not think that it was Concubine Yun's credit. If Concubine Yun had such means, she would have turned over many years ago, why did she sit on the cold bench until now?

must be the three little guys.

Seeing the Queen's silence, the inner servant guessed the Queen's concerns, and said: "The maiden need not worry, the reason why Your Majesty treats those little things well is just to win over the forces behind them. Their father is the Da Zhou royal family, and their mother is the Da Zhou royal family. It was the Helian family who gave birth to the daughter, and the three of them are the seven-zhang Gu elders of the Gu Palace. The forces of the three parties are twisted together, enough to shake half of Nanzhao."

The Queen was noncommittal and said, "I heard that the three children are indeed very attractive."

Let's not talk about anything else, it's too uncommon to have a third child alone, not to mention that the monarch likes it, she herself is curious.

It's not the relationship of the Great Emperor Ji, she wants to bring a few little Gu Laos into the camp of Nangong Yan and Nangong Li.

The chamberlain smiled and said, "No matter how popular you are, it's not the child that Your Majesty puts in his heart. Your Majesty has only you in his heart, and your heir is the one he cherishes the most."

Queen sighed: "It's a pity that Li'er didn't get married and has no children."

No, I heard Lier mentioned earlier that he is about to have a child, but when he mentioned it again for some reason, he said that the child was gone.

His Majesty is getting old, and his heart is not as cold as he was a few years ago. Children can touch the soft part of his heart the most. If Lier also has children, it would be great.

These words cannot be answered by the servants. The Nanzhao people become parents later than the Central Plains, and the royal family is even later. The two emperors and concubines are special cases, and the grandsons are not so anxious.

Besides, I can't make it in time now if I'm in a hurry. I'm pregnant for ten months, and when the child is born, I don't know what the situation in Nanzhao will be like.

The waiter advised: "Niangniang, it's getting late, you should rest first, just a few milk babies, you can't make a big wave."

The Queen nodded. The monarch had been in love with her and his wife for most of his life. If he didn't believe it, he would not be able to match a few children who appeared out of nowhere.

The Queen stopped.

The next day before dawn, the monarch went to the morning court. The queen ordered people to make a large table of the monarch's favorite meal, and waited for him to go to court and then have breakfast in the middle palace. Who knows, wait for the left and right, wait until the food is cold, No one came.

"Go and ask what's going on." The queen instructed the chamberlain.

The maid has gone.

After about a cup of tea, the waiter came back with a wry smile: "Qiyi Niangniang, Your Majesty has gone to Suzaku Palace."

"What?" The Queen's expression changed, "Why did you go again?"

The maid said bravely: "At the court meeting this morning, I don't know which minister presented a Costco. His Majesty saw that the Costco was very beautiful, so he personally sent it to the young master of Suzaku Palace."

Everyone passed by, so naturally we stayed there for breakfast.

The queen pinched her fingers and instructed the maid in a calm tone: "The small kitchen has made a few meals that your Majesty likes to eat, and send them to the Suzaku Palace, and also, make a few snacks that children like to eat, and give them away together. In the hands of Your Majesty and Concubine Yun."

"Yes."

The maid went according to the words.

At this time, the monarch was sitting in the Suzaku Palace to accompany Concubine Yun and several children to have a meal. He sent a beautiful cub Hai Dongqing. The little black eggs liked it very much. In order to express their gratitude, they left him with him. meal.

How Concubine Yun slapped him in private, and in front of the children, she looked like a guest.

So, the monarch saw another gentle and virtuous concubine Yun.

He secretly said that the kick last night was probably unintentional, she was asleep, and she didn't even know what she did.

At this point, the monarch decided to forgive Concubine Yun.

Thanks to a few little black eggs, Concubine Yun no longer has to be a vegetarian. For breakfast, there are mutton buns, green onion and duck pancakes, red dates and longan porridge, and dozens of exquisite court snacks.

The monarch unexpectedly found that his appetite was better than before, and even the king's servants could see this.

The king's chamberlain was genuinely happy for the monarch. The queen's rules were rules, but they didn't taste like human fireworks. It was still better at the concubine's place. It was like living in a common people's house.

"Your Majesty, the Empress brought meals here." The maid in charge of Suzaku Palace reported.

The monarch nodded: "The queen has a heart, please present it."

"Yes." The maid in charge put the meals sent by the Queen on the table one by one. The dishes in the Middle Palace were much more refined than those in the Suzaku Palace.

Concubine Yun is not so stupid that she can't live with her stomach, she dares to give it away, she dares to eat it, and eat it!

If you want to use this to answer her, it is really a miscalculation.

Concubine Yun was full.

The three little black eggs also have a round belly.

The monarch was very satisfied, and said to Concubine Yun: "Last night was too late, it's not convenient, today you take your child to the middle palace to greet the queen and let her meet them too."

The three little black eggs looked at Concubine Yun cutely.

Concubine Yun rubbed their little heads: "Want to go?"

Three little black eggs thinking.

The monarch said gently: "The queen is very nice. She will definitely like you when she sees you later."

The three little black eggs nodded.

After breakfast, the monarch went to the imperial study to handle official business, and Concubine Yun took three little black eggs to the middle palace.

The Queen has received the news, knowing that Concubine Yun and the child will come, she dresses up carefully, and sits on the phoenix chair dignifiedly and gracefully.

Soon, Concubine Yun brought her children to greet her.

Both are old and diligent in maintenance, but Concubine Yun looks younger than the queen.

The queen didn't care about this before. After all, no matter how beautiful Concubine Yun was, the monarch never looked at her directly, but today, for some reason, the queen started to care.

Concubine Yun looked like she was in her early forties, maybe even less than forty, and even the lines on the corners of her eyes were beautiful and elegant.

Concubine Yun gave a polite salute: "Greetings to the Empress."

A few little guys didn't show any respect, just stared at the queen with wide black eyes.

The Queen smiled kindly and waved at them: "Come, come to this palace, let this palace take a look."

The three of them walked over.

There is no stage fright, nor does it appear perverse, and Queen Rao has to admit that they are indeed very lovable children.

The three walked up the steps, went around the golden nanmu wood desk, and came to the queen.

The Queen beckoned, and a chamberlain brought a big basket with all kinds of gadgets in it.

The Queen smiled and said, "Whatever you like, take it, this palace will give it to you."

The three little black eggs looked back at Concubine Yun.

Concubine Yun nodded slightly, and the three of them politely extended their hands.

Xiaobao took a wooden bow and arrow, and Erbao took a rattle.

Dabao didn't ask for anything in the basket. He tilted his head, turned around, and lay on the queen's desk. Then he stood on tiptoe and grabbed the shiny golden thing with one hand.

Everyone's complexion changed, that, that is the Queen's phoenix seal! ! !

"Your Majesty! Your Majesty!"

Outside the imperial study, the inner servant of the middle palace walked over in a hurry.

The king's servant was at the door, and a whisker stopped him: "What are you doing? Is the imperial study a place where you can shout? Didn't you see your majesty busy?"

The servant also knew that he was reckless, but he couldn't control it!

"Out, something big!" He whispered a few words in the ear of the royal servant.

"Is this true?"

The servant patted his thigh and said, "Really! Your Majesty, please let your majesty go down and take a look!"

The servant of the king entered the imperial study room and informed the monarch.

The matter has to start with Dabao grabbing the Queen's Fengyin. The Queen said that she would give them toys, but she didn't say that she would give them the Fengyin.

Concubine Yun also persuaded Dabao to put down Fengyin, but Dabao did not.

A palace maid couldn't see it, and quietly reached out to grab it, but it hurt Dabao, and Dabao grabbed her hair out of self-protection.

The queen thought that her mother was in the world, and the children would like her and listen to her. She laughed and broke Dabao apart, but Dabao also scratched his hair.

When the monarch arrived at the Central Palace, the queen's hair had already been caught by Dabao.

However, some palace officials tried to separate them, but Dabao held them too tightly. When they pulled, it was the queen who hurt.

The monarch's eyebrows jumped! Three steps and two steps walked over, softly coaxing Dabao: "Good, you let go first, I won't let them steal your things."

Dabao did not move.

The monarch said again: "I am the monarch of a country. I will do what I say. You let the queen go first."

Dabao let go.

The queen is also bald.

The Queen was so painful that she burst into tears, aggrieved and heartbroken, angry and annoyed, but she is a generation of sages, she can't have any seizures!

The monarch hurriedly asked the palace servants to help the queen down to rest, and along the way, asked an imperial physician.

Dabao still held his phoenix seal.

The monarch said, "This thing is not fun. There are many treasures in my study. How about you choose a more fun one?"

Dabao thought for a while, but didn't nod but didn't object.

The monarch took Dabao to the imperial study, where there are many strange things, such as swords, daggers, bone carvings and jade, all of which are good things collected from the people.

But Dabao didn't like it either.

Just when the monarch was having a great headache, Dabao finally lost the phoenix seal in his arms.

When the king heard the click, he was overjoyed and relieved, but he would not be able to laugh in the next second.

Dabao took his imperial jade seal in his arms,,,

Chapter 476 The mighty treasure

In order to get back a phoenix seal, the result is a jade seal, which can be said to be very uneconomical.

If someone else spread the jade seal of the country, the monarch would have been dragged out and chopped, but this is a great treasure, his little great-grandson.

Maybe it was as the Queen said, he was past the hardest age, or maybe the child was too lethal, in short, the monarch didn't have the heart to deal with him.

"Dabao, this is not fun, how about changing it for you?" The monarch coaxed softly, and picked up a beautiful little golden bow. This bow and arrow are made of pure gold, small and delicate. Although it is a decoration, the string is real. Yes, archery can also shoot.

Such a beautiful thing, the monarch was not willing to take it out when Nangongli was a child, but now he doesn't want money to give it to Dabao, who knows that Dabao doesn't want it, Dabao hugs the jade seal tightly with one hand, and pushes his hand away with the other small hand. , there is absolutely no room for negotiation.

The monarch tried a lot of other stuff, but Dabao didn't even take it with him.

If this is Xiaobao and Erbao, maybe you can ask them what they like, but Dabao can't speak, so there is no way to communicate with him normally.

The monarch can't be hard.

Dabao's innocent eyes couldn't hold him back, and all his thoughts turned into a helpless sigh.

"Wang Dequan."

The King's Chamberlain came in: "Your Majesty."

The monarch ordered: "Go and call Concubine Yun."

"Yes." Wang's inner servant looked at the big treasure holding the jade seal in his eyes, and thought that one thing would come down to one thing, and the monarch finally met someone who could cure him.

Wang's Chamberlain rubbed his old hands and went away.

Concubine Yun brought Er Bao and Xiao Bao together. The two were very satisfied with their new toy, but after seeing the golden bow, the new toy could not enter their eyes.

Of course, the two of them didn't quarrel, cry or make trouble, just opened a pair of black eyes and looked at the monarch innocently and cutely.

Concubine Yun did not convince Dabao to hand over the jade seal in the end, but the monarch put on a golden bow again...

On the other hand, the inner servant led the imperial doctor to meet the queen who was bald by Dabao.

The queen has been in the palace for many years, and she has never suffered such a serious injury. She didn't even lame a small fingernail, but now she is almost half bald.

The imperial doctor took a daring look and almost fell to his knees in fright.

It's not that her injuries are hopeless, but that she is the queen and the monarch's favorite. Who would dare to hurt her like this? Or did she suffer from incurable diseases and went bald overnight?

The imperial doctor hurriedly gave the queen a pulse.

The pulse is fine!

is the anger attacking the heart, and the anger is not light.

"Royal doctor, how's the maiden's injury? Is it serious?" the servant asked worriedly.

The Queen also looked at him worriedly, but was embarrassed to ask if she could still grow her hair.

I'm a lot of age, and it's good to have hair. What's the matter? Even if you're bald, you still want to grow vigorously like a little girl and a boy?

The imperial doctor did not dare to say what was in his heart, but only said: "Miss, please rest assured, the injury is not serious, Wei Chen will mix up an ointment for the maiden to prevent infection, and then use * juice and He Shouwu as medicine to keep the maiden warm and healthy. send."

It can only be like this now, the queen can't really put the knife on the neck of the imperial doctor, and cut off his head if he doesn't come out.

"Send the imperial doctor." The queen ordered in a kind tone.

"Yes." The servant respectfully sent the imperial physician out.

The imperial doctor secretly sighed that he was worthy of being a queen, and he could still do his due diligence.

The Queen was once a bright and beautiful woman when she was young, but as her face grew old, she gradually lost her former beauty, and suddenly she went bald, making her look more and more ten years old.

"Remove!"

The Queen threw the bronze mirror in her hand.

The envoys hurriedly removed all the mirrors in the bedroom.

The queen is blocked, but what can I do? Her hair was not scratched by any servant, nor was it by Concubine Yun, but a child less than three years old.

What does a child so young know?

Could it be that she could really deal with him because she was angry with him?

He is the heir of the monarch, the blood of the little county lord and the Dazhou royal family. Not to mention how much noble blood flows in his body, even if he is really a child who was just caught on the street, she can't punish him.

A generation of virtuous empresses, if a three-year-old child can't get along, how can a mother behave in the world?

What would you do if you changed Concubine Yun?

She would probably pick up the child and beat him hard.

She doesn't care what others think of her.

Xian Empress, sometimes it's not so easy to do...

The Queen did not suspect that Concubine Yun had instigated it, but she doubted and couldn't say that the monarch could, but judging from his appearance, she did not doubt Concubine Yun at all.

The Queen's heart was even more blocked.

She applied the ointment, put on a hair cover made of a veil, and stayed quietly in the middle palace waiting for news from Fengyin.

Not long after, the servant of the king sent Fengyin back.

Seeing Fengyin's moment, the queen let out a long sigh of relief, and the monarch was finally not confused enough to let the child take such an important thing.

What the queen didn't know was that the monarch did not let Dabao take the phoenix seal, but Dabao took the jade seal.

The monarch tried his best to "spooof" the jade seal from Dabao, but Dabao ignored him and hugged the jade seal tightly.

"Go ahead and grab it." Concubine Yun said.

"Then...you come?" said the king.

Concubine Yun snorted: "I won't come! It's not that I was full of guns and promised treasures!"

In Concubine Yun's opinion, this is not Dabao's fault. If the queen didn't slap her face as a fat man at first, and didn't take out the phoenix seal to put on face, she wouldn't let Dabao take the phoenix seal, and then there was a backlash. A series of changes.

How could such a small child know that this is a jade seal? He felt that he liked it and held it in his hand. Anyway, the monarch also said that as long as the phoenix seal is put down, he can choose the things in the imperial study.

Isn't this a pick?

Just ask if you can give it!

Concubine Yun did not care about jade seals, nor did she weigh its value. In her eyes, this was something that could please Dabao. She could make suggestions for the monarch, but she was not happy to let her rob Dabao's beloved little things.

The jade seal is of great importance. If it is accidentally lost, the entire royal family will become a laughing stock.

The monarch cleared his throat and decided to grab the jade seal.

He stretched out his hand to get the jade seal in Dabao's arms.

As soon as he moved, Dabao's eyes turned red.

Dabao looked at him aggrieved, and his heart was broken!

Concubine Yun pulled out the veil, wiped her tears, and said, "The three of them didn't grow up with Awan and Jiu Chao before. They suffered a lot, suffered a lot of abuse, and were forced into the cold weather..."

Don't say it, I don't want to grab it, okay? !

The monarch pulled his hand back!

Concubine Yun took the veil and said lightly, "Your Majesty, when Dabao falls asleep, maybe let go!"

The monarch gave her a cool look: "..."

So, where are you from?

However, this is indeed a good way. No matter how rare Dabao is, can he still hold it when he falls asleep? After he fell asleep and let go, he brought the jade seal over. Of course, to prevent Dabao from crying, the monarch asked the craftsman to carve a fake one.

The monarch who is a fake jade seal has never been seen since ancient times.

The monarch took Dabao back to his bedroom, guarded him without leaving an inch, and looked at him without blinking after taking a shower. Such a small child, playing around all day, would fall asleep a lot, but no one Unexpectedly, the monarch fell asleep, and Dabao was still awake.

The next day, when the monarch woke up from his sleep, Dabao was already sitting cross-legged beside him and playing with the jade seal.

This, this child!

The monarch is about to collapse!

However, more collapse is still to come.

Dabao had established a good friendship with the monarch, and now the monarch gave him such a beautiful thing, so Dabao liked him even more.

When the monarch went to the study, he also went to the study.

The king went to the garden, and he also went to the garden.

The monarch has a little black tail behind him.

Finally, when it was time to go to court, Dabao still followed him perseveringly.

"Can Dabao go to Concubine Yun's place?"

Whenever he said this, Dabao would look at him with a pitiful look of abandonment.

Those eyes were so lethal, the monarch took a deep breath: "I really owe you, come on, come on."

Dabao changed his face in a second and happily followed!

So on this day, all the civil and military officials in Nanzhao witnessed the legendary picture of the monarch carrying a little black egg to the court. Behind.

The monarch walked up the steps, and the little black egg also climbed up the steps layer by layer.

The monarch sat on the dragon chair and asked the servant to carry a small chair for the little guy.

Dabao looked at his small chair, then looked at the monarch's golden chair, walked over with the jade seal in his arms, and sat on the dragon chair!

The civil and military officials took a deep breath!

It turns out that His Majesty is here today to establish a reserve? ! !

The monarch trembled in panic!

No no no, you think too much! I didn't come here to make a deposit! I don't! ! ! Not really! ! !

Chapter 477 Pet Sun Kuangmo, slap in the face

Not to mention that the relationship between the monarch and the mother and daughter of the Great Emperor Ji is so stale, he has no idea of establishing this line as the reserve at all. baby girl!

The monarch supported his forehead.

He has a headache.

It hurts!

It hurts more than my face!

His face hurts because he vowed not to go to Suzaku Palace, but he went to Suzaku Palace again and again, and he went there more than once.

It wasn't enough to rob him of the jade seal, so he came to sit on his dragon chair. Can you sit on the dragon chair? ah?

The monarch looked at the big treasure beside him resentfully.

Dabao felt that he was looking at him, and turned his head cutely to look at him.

Monarch: "..."

The monarch was full of anger and fell down instantly. He was sad and helpless and covered his eyes, regretting, why did he take this little thing into the palace...

The civil and military officials did not know what wasted and tormented the monarch's heart. Many of them recognized the black and lily little black egg-since the ceremony of offering sacrifices to the heavens, the seven-zhang little Gu was always Helian. After the young son of the family, the portraits of the three people spread like wildfire among the people.

The three of them are really easy to recognize. After all, there is no fourth person in the world for such a black little guy.

I don't know which of the three was brought to court by the monarch.

But no matter which one is, it is much prettier than the portrait. Look at those * eyes, small nose and small mouth, a pair of heroic little eyebrows, two chubby cheeks, and a small round belly.

A voice flashed in everyone's heart - Omg, I want to pinch!

There are many people from Nangong Yan's line in the courtroom, but they were the ones who wanted to reach out to steal this little black egg after seeing it.

As the saying goes, a country cannot live without a monarch for a day. The monarch is old and the position of the prince is vacant. This is not a good thing for Nanzhao, which is already precarious. Delaying a decision will lead to random speculation. Is it true that Jiangshan has no successor?

What Xiaodiji did was disappointing.

And although the Great Emperor Ji possessed holy objects and Gu Lao, but after all, it was the fate of the disaster for the country and the star, is it that the monarch himself is not very satisfied with these two people?

The people who had speculated that the fate of the Great Emperor Ji might be wrong, gradually became shaken in the shadow of the monarch's delay in recognizing her.

How do the people know that it is not that the monarch does not want to recognize it, but that they cannot recognize it.

In short, when the monarch took a little great-grandson to the Golden Palace, the civil and military officials were excited.

"I..."

"Long Live My Emperor Long Live Long Live!"

The monarch was about to explain something to everyone, but before he could speak, the civil and military officials knelt down in unison, and the monstrous sound of long live resounded through the entire Golden Palace, almost penetrating the roof and rushing into the sky.

The monarch supported his forehead: "No..."

"Long Live My Emperor Long Live Long Live!"

"My dear gentlemen..."

"Long Live My Emperor Long Live Long Live!"

After three rounds of long live calls, the monarch no longer wanted to speak.

"Yeah." Dabao sat upright and nodded.

Everyone was stunned, and so was the king.

Is this kid still on the hook?

Hooray to me, what are you doing? ! !

The thoughts of the ministers are different from those of the monarch.

Dabao's serious expression like a little adult, and his particularly serious "um" made the ministers amused.

How can there be such a cute child? I want to take it back!

Dabao's expression was too serious.

The ministers wanted to laugh and didn't dare to laugh, they were all suffocated.

A doctor from the censor's desk took courage and said tentatively, "Then...the ministers are equal?"

Dabao nodded solemnly: "Yes."

Hahahahahaha! What a fairy boy! ! ! He also knew how to flatten them!

Everyone burst out laughing in their hearts!

Dabao can't speak, only um, ah, and occasionally laughs with his younger brothers, but the ministers don't know it, they all feel that this child cherishes words like gold, it is too aloof and too cool!

Dabao sat for a while, and felt that it was not fun here, so he jumped to the ground with the jade seal in his arms.

The people who were already flat saw him walking towards them, and hurriedly knelt down again.

Dabao glanced at them strangely, walked up to the doctor Censor who had just said a word to him, raised his meaty little hands, and patted the other person's shoulder seriously.

Doctor Censor shivered with excitement.

This is high expectations for him!

Dabao said, you have ashes on your shoulders!

After Dabao left, Doctor Censor Station burst into tears, turned around on his knees, and kowtowed in the direction where Dabao left: "Respectfully send your Highness—"

Everyone followed him and turned around, kowtowing in unison: "Respectfully send your Highness—"

The monarch is shocked!

What Your Highness?

I canonized?

I promise?

You have arranged this? ! !

The monarch spent the most depressing court meeting in history. From beginning to end, he never had a chance to speak. When he finally could speak, no one believed a word he said.

"I didn't plan to set up a reserve."

Yet you gave him the jade seal.

"I didn't say which Highness he was named."

But you gave him the dragon chair.

"Children are playing around, you don't have to take it to heart."

has played on the Golden Throne Hall, do you think we are blind? ? ?

The monarch severely experienced the feeling of suffocating his internal injuries, and he went down to the court with a painful description.

He swears that he will never deal with this bear child again!

This matter quickly reached the Queen's ears.

When Nangong Yan was firmly seated as the queen, the queen never cared about the government, because no matter what happened, Nangong Yan would inherit the throne, so what else should she worry about? But since the Great Emperor Ji's family fought against the female prince's mansion, the queen had to put a pair of ears in the courtroom.

When the chamberlain reported to her the various reports that happened in the Golden Palace, her face changed in shock: "What did you say? Your Majesty took him to court? He also gave him a jade seal and let him sit on his dragon chair. ?"

This this.....

How on earth did this happen? He only entered the palace on the second day, so he was so pleased with His Majesty? Then what are Xi'er and Li'er who she has raised for many years?

The Queen was so angry that she felt short of breath, and even seemed to be unable to breathe.

The maid hurriedly told the queen what he had inquired about from the imperial study: "It wasn't your majesty who gave him the jade seal, but he took it himself. The seal has been brought back, and the child has taken a fancy to the jade seal again."

"Absurd!" The Queen slapped the table with a slap, "Can the jade seal be moved casually? He said he would take it! Your Majesty doesn't care about him!"

The inner servant said, what should I do? Didn't I care when I took your phoenix seal? His Majesty has been fascinated by those little things.

The Queen's impression of the King is still on the matter of the King's abandonment of the Great Emperor Ji. From the Queen's point of view, the King can even say no to his own daughter, and he will naturally not have many great-grandchildren after two generations. important.

The Queen ignored one thing. The monarch sent away the Great Emperor Ji because he believed the prophecy of the old national teacher. He chose the latter for his own flesh and blood and the rise and fall of the entire Nanzhao kingdom.

Of course, the hard-heartedness in his youth is also true. He wants to revitalize Nanzhao, wants to be a good emperor, is full of ambition, and is full of enthusiasm, all at that high-spirited age.

Today's monarch is old.

The ambition that should be exerted has already been exerted, and he can't do it if he is allowed to run rampantly, ignore it, and serve the country like he was when he was young.

Countless nights where he dreamed back at midnight, he would think of those innocent eyes, the baby girl he sent away on a snowy day.

These, he never mentioned to the queen.

The queen's self-paralysis over the years also made her unable to think of this level.

She felt that the monarch's kindness to a few little guys was simply inexplicable, and the monarch's soft-heartedness was completely unnecessary.

"Where's Your Majesty?" In the past, monarchs would come to the Central Palace for breakfast when they came down to court. Yesterday, they went to Suzaku Palace. Could it be that they also went today?

The servant said: "Your Majesty has returned to his bedroom."

It's not just about going to see Concubine Yun. The Queen looked a little bit dazed, but she wasn't happy for a long time. After all, the monarch didn't set foot here for two days in a row, which made her feel a little uneasy.

"Prepare the sedan chair, I'm going to visit Your Majesty."

"Yes!"

The queen got on the traveling luan car and set off for the monarch's bedroom. Halfway through the journey, she met Concubine Yun who had returned from picking tangerines.

There is an orchard in the palace, and the tangerines planted in it are fully ripe. Concubine Yun planned to pick a few for the little guys to try, but as soon as she came out, she ran into the queen.

Concubine Yun gave a polite salute: "Niangniang Jinan."

The queen was angry when she saw her perfunctory appearance, but she didn't show it on her face, she only let people stop the car, she sat on the car, glanced at Concubine Yun condescendingly, and said: "Yun Concubine is really a good means, in order to win favor, even a few innocent children have used it."

Concubine Yun smiled lightly: "The queen has broken the concubine. In terms of means, where is the concubine's opponent? I think that the old national teacher made a prophecy and sent the child of the concubine away. The concubine is incompetent, otherwise it's not like you haven't maddened you to death for so many years."

The first few sentences are not painful to listen to, but the last sentence really almost made the queen angry.

The Queen squeezed the veil tightly: "Concubine Yun! Don't rely on His Majesty to support you now, the more you will not take this palace in your eyes!"

Concubine Yun sighed in a low voice: "The queen is wrong, the concubine didn't look down on you any more, and the concubine never looked down on you from the very beginning."

The Queen fell down in anger!

The Queen said coldly, "You... you're not afraid that this palace will deal with you?!"

Concubine Yun sighed again: "Alas, the concubine is not so reckless and rude as the first day. The queen is magnanimous, and she will definitely not be punished for this trivial matter."

This is not a lie. After Concubine Yun entered the palace, she did not get into trouble for a day, but the queen always tolerated her to the greatest extent possible. Naturally, this is not because the queen is really open-minded, but because she is a mad woman who can perfectly set off the virtuousness of the queen.

how?

Is the old lady serving you as a foil for so many years?

It's time to charge some interest too!

"The empress didn't give any orders, so the concubine resigned. The queen only had to take care of a sleeping emperor concubine, but the concubine had to guard three children who were alive and kicking. The concubine worked hard."

Concubine Yun finished showing off, and walked away without looking back with the basket.

Listen to what she said? Di Ji, who can't wake up, is this cursing Nangong Yan that he will never recover? Thinking of the withered Nangong Yan, the Queen's heart was cut like a knife, and then thinking of the child who was brought to the Golden Palace by Her Majesty, the Queen almost couldn't hold back a mouthful of old blood.

"You stop for this palace!"

Concubine Yun turned around and said, "Does the Queen have any orders?"

The Queen suppressed the anger that was rolling in her heart: "Did you instigate it?"

Concubine Yun thought for a while: "Well, what does the queen mean?"

The Queen said in a cold voice, "Don't pretend to be this palace! That child took this palace's phoenix seal, and then took His Majesty's jade seal, and even pestered His Majesty to bring him to court. How dare you say that you didn't instigate it?"

Not really.

Concubine Yun had never thought about these things, but since the queen asked, she naturally couldn't let the queen down.

Concubine Yun smiled: "Yes, it was instigated by the concubine, and the queen came to punish the concubine!"

The child had just entered the Golden Throne Hall, when he punished Concubine Yun, was he not beating the child openly?

The queen is not so stupid yet.

But the queen is really angry, she has never been so aggrieved.

She is not feeling well, Concubine Yun is feeling better.

Concubine Yun carried the basket and left with a smile.

The inner attendant advised: "Niang Niang, don't be angry, don't be angry, your heart will ruin your body, everything has to do with Your Majesty. Your Majesty has been your husband and wife for many years, and the person he cares about most is you."

The Queen sighed in relief and nodded: "Go to His Majesty's bedroom."

She didn't believe that a few children who suddenly appeared could be worth the long-term relationship between their husband and wife. In the king's heart, she was always the most important person.

How can a few children from the concubines compare to her, the orthodox queen?

The thought of flashed past, and the Queen finally felt better.

The queen has privileges, and there is no need to notify the monarch's palace.

She walked in unimpeded, only to hear a row of laughing pigs barking.

She hurriedly crossed the Chaoshou Corridor and took a closer look, only to see the monarch who had vowed to ignore Dabao a second ago, and now he was kneeling on the ground with his hands and knees, and three little black eggs were riding on his dragon on the back.

Monarch: "Sit tight!"

Queen: "...!!"

Chapter 478

The monarch is also a father, but he is different from all fathers in the world. He is a monarch first, and then a pro. In the decades of years, the queen has never seen such a monarch who ignores his image.

How could he be so used to these children?

Even at the beginning, I never spoiled Nangong Yan or Nangong Li so much!

Click!

The old waist of the monarch flashed.

"Your Majesty! Your Majesty!"

The King's Chamberlain took a big step, and took a few little black eggs off the back of the monarch. These little guys looked heavy, but they were actually heavier when they were hugged. Strangely, His Majesty even flashed his old waist.

He just hugged him like that, his arm was about to break, okay?

"Your Majesty, are you alright?" The palace servant put the little black eggs on the ground and asked anxiously.

The monarch was speechless in pain.

Xiaobao came over, bent down and looked at him with his head tilted: "Does it hurt?"

was originally quite painful, but when he asked about it, it seemed to be less painful.

The king laughed dryly and said, "I'm fine."

As soon as he finished speaking, he suddenly felt two lines of sight that could not be ignored. He turned his head subconsciously and slammed into the Queen's line of sight.

The Queen was full of shock, and there was still a hint of hurt and disappointment. His heart tightened and he said hoarsely: "Queen..."

The Queen left without looking back.

The monarch did not care about the injury on the old waist, and instructed the king's servant to call Concubine Yun and let her take care of a few children, and then went to catch up with the queen.

The Queen was not walking fast, so she naturally heard his orders.

Even at such a critical juncture, he did not forget to place several little guys, and even let Concubine Yun come to his Dragon Palace. When did he become a place where Concubine Yun was also qualified to set foot?

The queen sat on the chariot: "Go back to the palace!"

The monarch did not stop drinking in public, but sighed helplessly, called the sedan chair, and followed him to the queen's middle palace.

The palace people saw the emperor returning to the palace one after the other, and their faces were not very good, and they retreated wisely. Soon there was only one confidant in the queen's bedroom, but this waiter was also receiving the eyes of the monarch. After signaling, he stepped back sullenly.

The queen wanted to ask someone to serve tea, but in a blink of an eye, the bedroom was empty.

The monarch coughed lightly and walked over with his old waist in pain: "Queen."

"You still know that I'm your queen." The queen turned her face aggrievedly, not looking at the king's heavy eyes that almost crushed her.

The monarch is a man, but not a fool. He naturally understands that his preference for Suzaku Palace will make the queen unhappy, but after all, those children have the blood of the Nanzhao royal family in their bones, so he can't really ignore them.

"Queen." The monarch sat down beside the queen.

The Queen turned sideways and ignored him.

She is a virtuous queen, and she can make a small person normal in front of her husband.

The monarch pulled her sleeve: "Are you angry with me?"

The Queen said lightly: "How dare the concubine? The child of the concubine has fallen out of favor. The concubine will have to live by the looks of the majesty and those little guys for the rest of her life. The concubine has no courage to be angry with the majesty."

The monarch felt guilty and didn't know how to say to the queen: "... Yan'er's matter is related to the national system. She is indeed too much before I punish her. You took her out of the dungeon of Dali Temple, didn't I say nothing? "

The queen turned around angrily, choked up and said, "Then Your Majesty remembers how long it has been since you have seen Yan'er? Is she still His Majesty's flesh and blood? The middle fetus is gone, and half of her life is gone, does Your Majesty have to let her die to be reconciled?"

The monarch was silent.

Nangongyan was the child he loved, but as long as he thought about the unforgivable things she had done, he really didn't want to see her again.

The monarch deliberately changed the subject, looked at the hair cap on the queen's head, and asked, "Is the queen's injury better?"

It's okay not to mention this, but when I heard that the queen was even more angry, she even let that little thing grab her bald head. Not only did His Majesty not alienate him, he even brought him to the Golden Palace.

"Your Majesty." The Queen said, "I heard that you took the child to court, and introduced him to the civil and military officials, and even gave him the jade seal."

It's really a sad thing that the monarch can't easily forget. He asked the empress to reveal it. He reluctantly touched his forehead and said, "It's just kidding, the empress doesn't have to take it seriously."

"Then what is your majesty's plan?" the queen asked.

"What's the plan?" The king was puzzled.

The Empress said bluntly: "In the matter of the Crown Prince, why don't your Majesty give the ministers and concubines a treat, do you really want to establish a concubine?"

The monarch frowned and said, "She doesn't even want to recognize me."

The Empress asked reluctantly, "What if she and His Majesty recognize each other? Will His Majesty pass on the crown prince to him?"

"I didn't say that." The monarch finished speaking a little impatiently, realizing that his tone was not very good, he sighed, and held the Queen's hand, "I still have a few years, and I can still walk with you for a few more days. , I promise you that no matter who becomes the Crown Prince, you will not be wronged."

You also promised me that you would not recognize that child, but what happened now?

The Queen pouted, but did not express the question in her heart. It's okay to be petty, but if the monarch is annoyed by the quarrel, she will not be smart.

The Queen changed the subject and said, "Hasn't Your Majesty considered Li'er? He is also the flesh and blood of King Yan, and the nephew of Emperor Da Zhou. He has the blood of the royal families of the two countries flowing in his body, and he is also extremely noble."

"I will consider it," said the monarch.

The queen and the monarch have been married for many years, and she can understand what he is thinking with just one look. When it comes to Nangong Li, he is obviously not in high spirits. Zang Nangong Li was also affected by the fish pond.

When his anger towards Nangong Yan subsides, Nangong Li will be able to return to his favor, but the problem is, no one knows how long this process will take. .

While she was thinking about it, the monarch said, "It's getting late, I'll go back to the bedroom first."

The Queen was taken aback: "Your Majesty...Aren't you going to accompany your concubines to dinner?"

"I..." Thinking of the little guys in the palace, the monarch felt a little uneasy.

The Queen's heart was slightly blocked, but she said with understanding on her face: "I see, Your Majesty is worried about a few children, let's go, and the concubine also chooses a few capable concubines to send to Concubine Yun."

The monarch nodded: "It's so good, Concubine Yun has never raised children, it's not as good as you have experience, you have nothing to say to her."

"I see." The queen smiled and sent the monarch out of the central palace.

The monarch left a little fast, showing how anxious he was to see those little things.

The Queen couldn't hold back her smile any longer. She slapped the pillar beside her with a slap, and the armor snapped off with a screeching sound.

The maid stepped forward in a hurry, picked up the broken armor on the ground, and said to the queen: "Miss, please calm down!"

The Queen is not a violent temper. After she took a deep breath, she suppressed the anger in her heart and said firmly: "You said, is this palace falling out of favor?"

The waiter hurriedly said: "What is your mother talking about? You are His Majesty's wife, and His Majesty has only favored you for so many years. How could you fall out of favor? You were angry just now. Didn't you see His Majesty being so nervous about you?"

The queen snorted coldly: "He is nervous about this palace, and even more nervous about those little guys."

The maid said: "Those children are indeed lovable, but such young children always have their naughty moments. When His Majesty's freshness wears off, they will be annoying."

"Really?" the queen murmured.

The servant smiled and said, "Of course, the servant heard that the children were making a fuss. In a few days, His Majesty will be unable to bear it."

The queen didn't want to keep arguing with people about this, she paused and asked, "Where's the prince? Why haven't you seen him for two days?"

When Nangongli was in the imperial capital, he would come to greet the empress every day, which is why he could still walk freely in the palace after Nangongyan's accident. .

The waiter took a breath of cold air in puzzlement: "Yes, there has been no news from the prince for two days. Even if the prince can't come to greet you, he will always send someone to deliver a message."

The Queen said with a headache: "You go to the Emperor Ji's mansion to see Li'er and Xi'er for this palace."

"Yes." The waiter got off, and went on a carriage without having lunch.

Nangong Li was sent back to Di Ji's mansion this morning. He first let Concubine Yun's mother and daughter ravage him for a while, and then he was repaired by Yu Shaoqing. He fell down the hillside and was in a coma for two days in the grass. two nights.

Fortunately, there are no beasts haunting there, otherwise you would not know if you were taken away.

A passing woodcutter found him, recognized the token on his body, and sent him back to Di Ji's mansion.

Nangong Li was beaten so badly, her mouth was swollen, her tongue was knotted, and the waiter listened to it for a long time and couldn't hear who he had caused misery.

The servant had to go back to the palace and truthfully reported the situation of Nangongli to the queen.

Queen's face sank: "Li'er was hurt by someone? Who did it?"

"No, I don't know." The servant shook his head in embarrassment, "The servant has already hired a royal doctor for the king, so please don't worry about your body. When the king is better, the truth will come out."

The Queen stood up: "No, Ben Gong is going to see Li'er."

The chamberlain dissuaded him: "Niangniang, you can't do it! You are the queen, you are not allowed to leave the palace without permission!"

The Queen's eyes turned cold: "Then I will go and beg Your Majesty!"

The queen made up her mind to visit Nangongli, but it was useless to persuade her. She went to the monarch's bedroom, but no one stopped her, but at this moment, she would rather have someone stop her in advance, so that she wouldn't see it. This dazzling scene.

A few little guys were playing in the garden. There were several swings, a large group of Trojan horses, countless gadgets, and three little black eggs playing with this. Playing with that, the King and Concubine Yun sat under the porch and watched them.

Both of them had smiles on their faces.

Concubine Yun smiled because the little black eggs were very good.

The monarch smiled because the little black eggs and Concubine Yun were very good.

This happy appearance, as if they are the original family.

The queen felt her eyes sting.

She suddenly forgot that she was here to ask the monarch to grant her permission to leave the palace. She felt uncomfortable staying for a moment longer, and left without looking back!

And this time, the monarch did not find her.

Since when did this man no longer have only her in his heart?

Empress didn't ride in a chariot or let her servants follow her. She just walked in the harem in despair. I don't know how long she had gone, and she was startled by a string of young voices.

"Two treasures and two treasures are here for you!"

Xiaobao waved the towel in his hand and shouted to Erbao anxiously.

Er Bao obediently walked over: "Then you cover me."

Xiaobao covered Erbao's eyes with a towel.

Er Bao began to arrest people.

Dabao didn't speak, but Xiaobao could. He hid behind Dabao: "Come, come, catch me!"

Erbao caught Dabao.

Xiaobao rolled on the ground with laughter: "Hahahahaha!"

Now it's Dabao's turn to catch him.

Er Bao put the towel over Da Bao's eyes: "You... can you see?"

Dabao shook his head.

Er Bao explained: "Don't cheat, don't peek, count to ten, and then you will come to catch."

Dabao nodded.

Little Treasure and Er Bao exchanged a small glance, and ran away quietly!

Dabao grabbed and grabbed, but he couldn't catch it for a long time.

This is a small garden that is a full quarter of an hour away from the monarch's palace. To the east is a lake of living water, but there are fences around the lake to prevent children from falling.

Dabao stretched out his small hand and walked towards the fence.

This is the child who can't speak. It was he who caught the queen bald and took the monarch's jade seal and sat on the dragon chair of Nanzhao.

Although he is only three years old, he is already Nangong Li's greatest enemy.

What if he had an accident?

Can Concubine Yun still laugh?

The Great Emperor Ji Ke died of her grandson, does she still have a chance to become the queen?

Countless thoughts flashed by, and the queen stretched out her hand and gently pulled open the fence.

Dabao walked over unimpeded.

Plop!

Dabao stepped on the air and fell into the icy lake!

Chapter 479 [V335] Dabao was rescued

"Big Treasure!"

In the courtyard of Sishui Street, Yu Wan woke up from a nap.

"What's wrong?" Yan Jiuchao sat beside her, saw her sitting up in shock, put down the book in her hand and looked at her, "Dreaming?"

Yu Wan wiped the cold sweat from her forehead in shock: "I dreamed that Dabao fell into the water, you know, I never dream, I don't do it at night, let alone during the day."

Yan Jiuchao didn't say anything perfunctory, "You miss your son too much", he turned his head and looked in the direction of the door: "Ying Shisan."

Shadow Thirteen dodged and two people: "Young Master."

Yan Jiuchao said: "Go to the palace."

Ying Thirteen understood and went to perform Qinggong.

Ying Six is a scout. He is much more skilled than Ying Thirteen in inquiring about news, but the palace is heavily guarded. Once Ying Six's martial arts are discovered, it may be difficult to escape. Furthermore, the news of several children is not a secret. Ying Ten You can easily see them when you go to three.

Yu Wan sighed: "Do you think I'm making a fuss?"

Yan Jiuchao rubbed the top of her hair, and without the little dandruff, it was really pleasing to the eye.

"No," he said.

Yu Wan took hold of the front of his shirt and gently leaned into his arms to find comfort.

The dream was too real, she couldn't come back to her senses for a while.

Among the three babies, Xiaobao was the most pitiful at first. He was the youngest, and Yan Ruyun bullied him the most. As the three of them grew up slowly, they forgot the unbearable past, and they all walked away from the huge shadow. When they came out, they lived happily ever after.

It's just that Xiaobao and Erbao both spoke one after another. They chatted all day long, but Dabao was always silent. That kid was honest, and he wouldn't complain if he was really bullied. Yu Wan remembered him most at the moment.

Yan Jiuchao rarely said anything against her, patted her on the shoulder gently, comforting her silently.

At this time in the palace, by the sparkling lake, the queen nervously opened her eyes wide and stared at the chubby little thing as it sank. She felt that her legs were not hers, and her mind went blank. .

Countless emotions flashed through her heart, intertwined into a dense net, which trapped her and made her breathless.

Not her fault.

She was not such a vicious person.

All belong to the Great Emperor Jiek.

That's why she lost her nature and started to attack an innocent child.

"It's not Ben Gong's fault...it's not...it's not..."

She staggered two steps, staring blankly at the child who sank without struggling in the water.

"What do you think of this? Will the young master like it?"

"Too small, not as big as what I picked."

The two little palace maids walked towards this side chatting and laughing. The two were palace maids in the fruit garden. Since Concubine Yun went to pick tangerines once, they knew that the little prince liked to eat the fruits they planted. Everyone picked up a basket and planned to send it to Suzaku Palace. Unfortunately, they passed by here.

The queen frowned, looked at the empty garden, and then at the palace maid who was approaching, she gritted her teeth and jumped into the water with a plop!

"Oops! I think I saw someone fall into the water!"

"Really? Go! Go over there and take a look!"

The two palace maids came to the lake with baskets. At this time, the queen had already fluttered in the water several times. When the two of them saw the face that appeared out of the water, they were so frightened that they knelt down with their legs soft: "Emperor, Empress?"

The Queen ignored the panic of the two and continued to sink to the bottom with a big breath. When she surfaced again, she had a child in her arms.

What happened by the lake was quickly spread to the imperial study. The monarch was so frightened that his face turned white. He went to the lake without saying a word. The queen had already been pulled ashore by the palace maids. She was holding the coughing big treasure in her arms. , it is not difficult to guess what happened just now.

The monarch took a stride forward and took the soaked child into his arms.

The first person he was nervous about was not himself. The Queen's heart froze, but she did not show any disappointment on her face.

"Da Bao choked on the water." The Queen said breathlessly.

The monarch then looked at her worriedly: "Is the queen alright?"

The Queen shook her head and said, "I'm fine with the concubine, so let the imperial doctor show Dabao a look."

"Where's the imperial doctor!" The king was furious.

The waiter of the king hurriedly went to pick up the imperial doctor with the whisk, and when he walked halfway, he ran into the imperial doctor who came in a hurry with the medicine box, and the waiter of the king took his medicine box: "Give me the box, hurry up and go! Your Majesty I'm in a hurry!"

The boss of the imperial doctor is not too young, and a pair of old legs almost broke, and finally stumbled to the monarch and the queen.

"Your Majesty!" He saluted.

The monarch interrupted him impatiently: "Okay! Hurry up and show the children!"

"Yes!" The imperial doctor took the child over.

The king's servant hurriedly pulled out his coat and spread it on the lawn.

"Ah, no need," said the imperial doctor.

The imperial doctor turned Dabao over and put Dabao's head down and his stomach was lying on his knees. After a while, Dabao spat out a few mouthfuls of water.

"It's all right, Your Majesty." The imperial doctor wiped the sweat from his forehead and said, "Take off your clothes."

The king's chamberlain went to pick up the great treasure.

The monarch said: "I'm here!"

The monarch took off Dabao naked, untied his dragon robe and held him in his arms.

Nanzhao's winter is not as cold as Dazhou's, but it is also chilling. Dabao is so cold that his body is shivering.

The clothes of the slave should not be on the body of the master, but isn't it time to take care of it?

The monarch did not refuse, and wrapped Dabao in another layer. He looked at the child in his arms distressedly, and instructed the imperial doctor: "Hurry up and show the queen."

"Yes!" The imperial doctor hurriedly went to ask for the Queen's pulse.

The queen did not choke on the water, she was conscious, and the problem was not big, but she was there at her age, and suddenly immersed in the icy lake water, it was still easy for cold air to invade and evil energy to enter the body.

The Queen said thoughtfully: "Your Majesty, please take Dabao back to the bedroom quickly."

The king said: "You also come together."

A palace maid brought the sedan chair, and the monarch took the big treasure and sat on the sedan chair with the queen. It was not until the three arrived at the Dragon Palace that Concubine Yun came late with Erbao and Xiaobao.

A few children can really go to heaven and earth when they are skinned. Dabao "accidentally" fell into the water, and Erbao Xiaobao climbed up and down the tree and couldn't get off the tree. .

Concubine Yun never expected that something would happen to Dabao. Dabao is the most honest of the three children, so he will not look for any stimulation.

At this time, the monarch and the queen have changed into two dry clothes, and Dabao's clothes have also been changed, and they are being protected by the monarch in his arms.

The monarch had already learned the incident from the palace servants. It turned out that the three little guys didn't have a lunch break and wanted to go out to play. Concubine Yun took them there. Concubine Yun had to go to the toilet on the way, so the two palace maids kept watch over the children. As an ordinary child, I didn't stare too hard, but in the end, the person disappeared.

Concubine Yun met Erbao and Xiaobao who were hanging from the tree and couldn't get down on the way back. When she rescued them, she heard that something happened to Dabao.

Concubine Yun was more confused than anyone else.

The empress said solemnly: "Concubine Yun, this time it's not this time that this palace wants to talk about you. You don't have to adjust it on weekdays. Now you're a grandma, so you should be more restrained, don't think about running around all day. You should take care of the children. Do you know how urgent the situation just now is? If Ben Gong is half a step late, Dabao's life will be lost!"

Concubine Yun's beauty is pale!

She looked at the queen and then at the monarch. The monarch's face was icy cold, as if what the queen said was true, and Dabao's situation was indeed very dangerous.

She blamed herself.

But now no amount of self-blame is useless, not to mention that even if she does it all over again, she may not be able to do better. Could it be that when she hears Dabao fell into the water, she doesn't care about the two little black eggs hanging from the tree that may fall at any time? already?

"Your Majesty..." Concubine Yun wanted to hug the frightened Dabao.

The monarch rejected her with his eyes: "Needless to say, Shen Yun, I am very disappointed in you."

The queen said with a sad face: "This is His Majesty's first great-grandson, do you know what he means to the whole Nanzhao? Concubine, this time even Ben Gong can't stand it anymore, Ben Gong is fighting to let the world go. The risk of being criticized, I can't forgive you generously!"

She had only been a concubine for less than ten days, and was stripped of her by the monarch. She was beaten back to the concubine position, and she was banned from Suzaku Palace.

The three little black eggs were taken to the queen's central palace, where they were taken care of by the queen and the monarch.

The queen said warmly: "The concubines will treat them as if they were their own."

King patted her hand and said, "I believe in you. You took Dabao's life back. Apart from you, I can't think of anyone in the harem who can take care of them with all their heart."

The queen smiled softly: "Your Majesty, don't be too angry with Concubine Yun, just because the concubine was angry, she just let her down, but if you think about it carefully, you can't blame her entirely, she has never raised children, It is inevitable that there will be some omissions, please don't blame her too much, and when she realizes her mistake, she should return the position of the concubine to her."

"That's how you've been persevering with her, which made her even more unruly. I've seen her change in the past few days, and I think she's really reformed." The monarch said, and sighed helplessly.

"The country is easy to change, but the nature is hard to change..." The Queen paused and said apologetically, "This concubine is a bit too much, the concubine does not mean to slander Concubine Yun, the concubine just thinks that Concubine Yun may not be suitable for raising child."

The monarch was silent.

When the queen clicked, she didn't convince the monarch to agree with her own views. It didn't matter whether the monarch was disappointed with Concubine Yun or wanted to beat Concubine Yun, the important thing was that the monarch would not easily hand over his children to Concubine Yun. on hand.

Even if the child is really set up as the heir, he will be brought into the palace, and the queen will take care of him in person.

Ying Thirteen informed Yan Jiuchao and Yu Wan about the news from the palace.

Yu Wan frowned: "What did you say? Dabao fell into the water? Was the queen rescued?"

Ying Thirteen did not add his own subjective judgment: "The palace said so, the monarch moved to anger Concubine Yun and deprived her of the position of noble concubine."

"Absurd!" Yu Wan slammed a small fist on the table.

Shadow Thirteen said again: "The monarch sent Dabao and the others to the Queen's Middle Palace, and now the Queen is taking care of them."

My father and mother are all here, even if I don't take care of Concubine Yun, it will not be the queen's turn to intervene!

Yu Wan always felt that there was something tricky about this matter. The queen was able to calculate even the baby emperor Ji, so would she be merciful to Dabao?

Yu Wan said: "Ying Shisan, you take me into the palace."

Ying Thirteen nodded and took Yu Wan into the palace to perform light work.

The two first went to the Central Palace to see the three children. The three were already asleep, and they were carefully guarded by a few capable nanny. Since the Queen dared to accept these little guys, she would definitely not treat them badly, otherwise Whatever happens in the future, the monarch will be counted on her head.

Yu Wan and Ying Shisan went to Concubine Yun's bedroom again.

Concubine Yun blamed herself so much that she couldn't sleep, she sat in a daze by the window, and suddenly there was a small round head outside the window.

"Ah—" Concubine Yun leaned back in fright, and fell to the ground with her chair.

"Grandma, it's me!" Yu Wan pulled down the veil, stepped over the windowsill with one leg, and climbed in neatly.

"Awan?" Concubine Yun.

Yu Wan was dressed as a night walker and covered her face again, no wonder Concubine Yun couldn't recognize her.

Yu Wan walked over and helped Concubine Yun up.

At this moment, Ying Shisan also dodged in, pulled down his hood and bowed.

Concubine Yun looked at the handsome face and took a deep breath: "Is this my son-in-law?"

Ying Thirteen hurriedly said: "My subordinate is the young master's shadow guard, Ying Thirteen."

The dark guards are all so handsome, what does a son-in-law look like?

Concubine Yun almost sucked another hand, but thinking of Dabao, she couldn't get out.

Yu Wan said a long story short: "Grandma, I came tonight to inquire about news from you. I heard that Dabao fell into the water. Did the queen rescue him?"

Concubine Yun sighed helplessly: "This is what the palace maids saw with their own eyes. They heard a voice and saw a figure fall into the water. They walked over and saw the queen rescue Dabao with their own eyes, and the monarch asked Dabao if anyone was there. Push him? He said no."

Yu Wan touched her chin: "Can the queen distinguish the three children?"

"She..." Concubine Yun thought for a while, no, the queen couldn't tell!

According to the explanation of the palace staff present, as soon as the monarch came, the queen said to him: "Dabao choked on water!"

At that time, Erbao and Xiaobao were not around, how did she know that it was Dabao?

Unless...she has seen Erbao and Xiaobao and is sure that they have left.

Erbao and Xiaobao didn't hear the sound of plopping into the water, which means that Dabao fell into the water after they had gone far away, which took a long time.

The queen has been standing nearby for so long, if this is the case, then she is watching the big treasure fall into the water!

Concubine Yun told Yu Wan of her speculation.

"One more thing." Concubine Yun said, "I remember that the fence there was closed and there were locks. I was worried that they would come here and specially checked every lock."

Yu Wan thoughtfully said: "So, someone opened the fence and let Dabao fall into the water himself."

It is self-evident who this person is.

Chapter 480] The White Lotus is exposed

Yu Wan knew that the queen was not a thing, but she didn't expect her to be such a thing, even a three-year-old child could do it, isn't this a beast?

But thinking about it, it doesn't seem too strange. After all, this is not the first time she has attacked a child. When her aunt was still in a baby, she was calculated by the queen to leave the palace. The upper beam was not right and the lower beam was crooked. Being so ruthless and cruel to the young Yan Jiuchao is hereditary from the mother's womb.

Since she knew that Dabao was murdered by the queen, Yu Wan would not let several children stay in the middle palace.

Yu Wan asked Ying Shisan to return first, while she went to the Central Palace in an open and fair manner.

The monarch became more and more interested in several children. In order to take care of them, he had all the memorials moved to the study of the Central Palace.

"What's the matter?" The monarch said without raising his eyes as he reviewed the memorial.

The royal servant paused for a while, then said shyly: "The little princess is here."

"Here's Xi'er?" The monarch hummed, "Let her go to the queen first, I still have some official duties in hand."

Wang's inner servant coughed lightly: "It's not the county lord of Xi, but the lord of Wan county."

The monarch paused when he was reviewing the memorial. He did not refute the name given to Yu Wan by the imperial servant, but asked, "Is she coming to the palace?"

The king's chamberlain smiled awkwardly: "It's not the palace, it's the middle palace."

The monarch shook his hand: "Who let that girl in?"

The king's chamberlain was also puzzled. The moment he met Yu Wan at the door, he thought he had seen a ghost. He was very sure that Concubine Yun did not have a token to freely enter and leave the palace, so how did the Princess Wan come in?

"Nonsense!" The monarch whispered, but did not mention the investigation, and said to the king's servant, "Let her come in."

"Yes!" The royal servant respectfully responded and led Yu Wan in at the entrance of the Central Palace.

Outside the small study, the waiter of the king stopped: "Your Majesty, Princess Wan is here."

"Ok."

The monarch's deep voice came from the study.

Wang's inner servant bowed, pointed to the study and said, "Master Wan, please."

Yu Wan didn't accept this title, but the palace servant was a good person, she didn't embarrass him, she nodded slightly and went in.

The monarch sat behind the desk with a serious look, glanced at Yu Wan, and said lightly, "Don't you refuse to recognize me? Why did you come to my palace?"

Yu Wan didn't come to quarrel with him today. The fiercer the quarrel, the further he would be pushed. Although there is no such thing as a grandfather, but if the queen is cheap, it will not be worth the loss.

Yu Wan said with a good temper: "I'm here to pick up the child and return to the house."

It was rare for the monarch to see her well-behaved attitude, and her tone softened a lot: "The queen takes good care of them, you don't have to worry about them, and let them stay in the palace for a few more days."

Blind old man, my son has only lived in the palace for a long time, and your Queen Bai Yueguang has been killed. I am afraid that I will live forever in the future.

Yu Wan is not in a hurry to argue with him, anyway, after seeing her sons later, they will stick to her and want to go home with her.

"I'll go see them first." Yu Wan said.

The monarch nodded and put down the memorial in his hand: "I will take you there."

The royal servant pouted, when you heard that the county lord of Xi was coming, you didn't put down your official duties in such a hurry, because you were afraid that the young masters would not want you to be a grandfather and run back to the house with your mother?

Don't say, the monarch is really so worried.

When he walked out of the small study and passed the king's servants, the monarch calmly cleared his throat and instructed in a voice only the two of them could hear: "Bring me my jade seal."

King's Chamberlain: "..."

The scheming emperor!

The three little guys woke up when they slept until dinner. When they opened their eyes, they found their mother sitting next to them. They were stunned for a while, and then they rushed into Yu Wan's arms.

"Mother, mother, Xiaobao misses you so much!"

"Er Treasure also misses my mother!"

Dabao nodded.

means he wants his mother too.

Yu Wan hugged the little guy in her arms and kissed their foreheads: "Mother misses you too."

The three of them lay in their mother's arms, cuddling and kissing, completely ignoring the monarch beside them.

The monarch shook the jade seal in his hand very deliberately.

Dabao does not ignore him.

Who cares about that stuff when a mother kisses her!

The monarch's heart is jammed, and the jade seal is no longer attractive, and it seems that the little guys can't keep it.

The queen went to the orchard just now, and personally selected tangerines for the little guys. When she returned to the Central Palace and heard that Yu Wan was coming, she went to the wing with a smile on her face.

Yu Wan just dressed the little guys, and the little naughty * who kept making a fuss all day long, but in front of Yu Wan, they were very obedient - the three of them grabbed the small bottle and sat on the stool to drink milk. From time to time, she glanced at Yu Wan with her * eyes, as if she was afraid that she would go away.

The quiet and well-behaved appearances of several people have melted the hearts of all the people in the room.

King Rao already liked them very much, but now he couldn't help but like them a little more.

But all this is not so pleasant in the eyes of the Queen. The cuteness of a few little guys makes Nangong Li more and more unpleasant.

Not to mention that Nangong Li is old now, even back when she was a child, these little guys are definitely not liked by people.

One can beat Nangong Li in seconds, let alone three?

Empress had a taste in her heart, but she didn't show it on her face. She set her eyes on Yu Wan.

She has seen Yu Wan's portrait, but she is prettier than the portrait. If you want to say that she looks like Dadiji, she does, but she has a more quiet temperament than Dadiji.

is a girl who is pleasing to the eye, and the strange way can enter the eyes of the prince of the Dazhou royal family.

Compared with her, Nangongxi was almost blind.

The Queen closed her eyes, suppressed the shock in her heart, squeezed out a gentle and amiable smile, and stepped into the room: "I heard that Awan is here, is this Awan? She looks so good."

She looked at Yu Wan generously.

Yu Wan also looked at her.

After seeing such beauties as Concubine Yun and her own grandmother, the dignified beauty of the queen was somewhat unattractive to Yu Wan.

Yu Wan stood up lightly and greeted: "Queen."

The Queen smiled and said, "This child, don't be too polite, sit down."

Yu Wan sat down.

The three little guys looked at the queen, and then at their mother, and continued to gag gawking at the milk.

The monarch saw that Yu Wan did not target the queen as he did to himself at first, and felt a little at ease. It seemed that in order to bring the two closer together, the monarch took the initiative to mention the incident of Dabao falling into the water: "...Thanks to the queen who passed by and rescued Dabao, otherwise it would be really More bad luck."

At this time, Yu Wan could have said, how did the queen go there? It's not close to the Central Palace, and it's not the only way to go to the Dragon Palace, but Yu Wan didn't ask anything, just took a box of ointment from her purse and handed it to the Queen: "This is the ointment prepared by Dr. Cui, saying yes Wipe the child after falling into the water, it can prevent the cold, just wipe the forehead, there is a mother."

she said, and handed the ointment to the queen's hand.

The Queen paused for a moment.

The three children are dressed exactly the same, even the little expressions of drinking milk are exactly the same, which one is the big treasure?

"Dabao, come here." The queen had an idea and beckoned to the three of them.

However, Dabao was busy drinking milk and didn't move.

Erbao and Xiaobao glanced at her curiously, but they didn't move.

Yu Wan smiled apologetically: "Ah, I forgot, Empress doesn't recognize which is Dabao."

"I know what I know!" The waiter in the king made up for the knife, "When the niangniang rescued Dabao, she even said to His Majesty, 'Dabao is choking water'!"

The queen broke out in a cold sweat.

Yu Wan said with a look of surprise: "Really? I don't think Empress can't tell them apart. How could Empress know that it was Dabao who fell into the water?"

Naturally, it was because she saw Erbao and Xiaobao, and heard them talking, but she couldn't admit it, because once she admitted it, it meant that she didn't happen to pass by, but secretly observed them for a long time, and she had enough time to stop her. Dabao, instead of watching him go to the lake.

The Queen regretted that she had left a flaw in a sentence.

Now what is she going to do?

Said that I recognized it just now, but I forgot it after a few hours?

The queen looked at the monarch and decided to take a gamble: "I was also blind, guessing that it was Dabao who fell into the water."

Fortunately, she won the bet.

The monarch really did not doubt her.

But the queen suspected Yu Wan. Yu Wan deliberately caused the monarch to think about the flaw in the whole thing. Nine times out of ten, she heard something from Concubine Yun, and she suspected that she had brought Dabao into the water.

This little girl is smarter and trickier than she imagined.

But so what? The king believed that it was enough for her.

The Queen showed a gentle smile: "Awan rarely enters the palace, let's have dinner together."

Yu Wan smiled: "Okay."

The Queen ordered the imperial kitchen to prepare an exquisite meal. While waiting for the meal, Yu Wan found a corner where no one was around and whispered, "Ying Thirteen!"

Shadow Thirteen descended from the sky: "Prince Prince, are you going to leave the palace?"

"No." Yu Wan shook her head, "I decided to stay."

"What?" Ying Shisan was stunned.

Yu Wan stared and said, "I want to live in the palace's bedroom, and I also suddenly made a decision. You go to the National Teacher's Hall and find someone for me."

"What is the princess going to do?" Ying Shisan asked.

"Naturally, it is to deal with the queen." Yu Wan said.

The queen is so fascinated by the monarch that no one can bring her down unless she admits it, or the monarch sees it with his own eyes. That woman is too virtuous, and it is almost impossible for her to admit it herself, and let the monarch catch her. The handle is not easy, but they can stage a trick.

Shadow Thirteen asked, "Does the princess want me to find Wanfeng?"

Yu Wan nodded: "That's right, after a while after dinner, I tried to give Nangong Yan some medicine to make her condition worse. It was the medicine of old Cuitou, and the imperial doctor could not diagnose anything. At that time, the monarch You will definitely ask the National Teacher Hall for help, and you tell Wanfeng to let him come."

"Can he come?" Ying Shisan expressed doubts, the monarch invited him, and the one who was invited should be the national teacher.

"He will find a way." Yu Wan had confidence in Wanfeng.

"After you come?" Ying Shisan asked.

Yu Wan weighed the ointment in her hand: "After she came, she made a divination for Nangong Yan and said that the fate of one of us collided with her."

After saying this, Ying Shisan understood: "Princess Shizi wants to lead the queen...do you want to do it again?"

Yu Wan sighed: "She is too much of the emperor's heart. If you don't arrest her, it will be difficult for the monarch to suspect her."

Shadow Thirteen looked solemn: "I understand, please rest assured, Concubine Shizi, I brought the words to you."

This was originally a seamless plan, but to the unexpected, Wanfeng was taken by the national teacher to retreat.

Yu Wan is going to die of anger!

Shit national teacher, I don't retreat early and don't retreat late, but I retreat at this juncture, and I also bring a wind together! It's not enough to make her want to play some nonsense!

Yu Wan returned to the wing in a heartbeat.

Since the plan cannot be implemented, there is no need to stay. She is too lazy to eat dinner, and plans to bring a few little guys back to the house.

She entered the room, but the little guys were not there. She asked the maid who was swayed, and learned that the three of them went out for a walk.

The palace maid said, "Please rest assured, Princess Wan, there will be no accident for the young master with the mammoth following him."

Mamma, it's no wonder she can see her son!

Zhizi Mo Ruomu, the grandmothers did follow closely at first, but somehow, in the blink of an eye, a few eggs disappeared!

The grandmothers were so frightened that they were in chaos!

A few little black eggs wandered around the middle palace, wandered around, and entered a room with aloes and medicinal scents.

A person was lying in the room.

Several people sauntered to the bed and looked curiously at the unconscious woman on the bed.

This is Nangong Yan.

The three of them had seen Nangong Yan, but at that time Nangong Yan was dazzling and dazzling, but Nangong Yan in front of him was like withered, completely different, and the three of them didn't recognize her.

The three of them blinked at her.

Suddenly, a small mosquito flew to Nangong Yan's face.

The enthusiastic little treasure snapped it down!

Nangong Yan's half face was swollen, but unfortunately the mosquito didn't kill it, it flew up and landed on the other half of Nangong Yan's face.

Snapped!

Er Bao made a slap!

At this moment, the queen led the maid who was carrying the medicine over. As soon as she entered the room, she saw two bear children slap her daughter's face. At that moment, she became angry and lost her sense. She made two steps in three steps. He walked over, grabbed Er Bao rudely, and shouted angrily, "What are you doing!"

"Ah, it hurts me!" Erbao burst into tears.

"Don't bully Erbao!" Xiaobao stomped his feet and was about to hug her hand, and she slapped her.

Dabao blocked for his younger brother.

The slap didn't land on his face, it landed on his shoulder, but it hurt enough.

Little Treasure was furious: "You...you bastard! You bullied Erbao, and Dabao! I...I...I'll let Gu Gu bite you!"

Little Treasure finally remembered that he still had the little Gu Gu given by Master A Wei, and he didn't care what kind of Gu he was, he just threw it out!

"Ah—" The queen screamed and fell to the ground.

But he said that the monarch had not come to visit Nangongyan for a long time. This time, the queen saved Dabao. Seeing the queen's face, he decided to come and see this unfilial daughter, but as soon as he walked to the door, he heard the queen's screams.

"Queen!" He suddenly changed color, and stepped into the house.

The queen was hit by Gu, and her whole body was itchy and painful, and her whole face was swollen.

The monarch said distressedly: "What happened to you?"

The queen grabbed her throat, she seemed to be blocked here, and she couldn't say a word.

She gave the palace maid who was carrying the medicine a wink, and the maid understood, and knelt down with a plop with a tray in hand: "If you go back to your majesty, just now the queen came to deliver medicine to the emperor, and when she entered the room, she found that several young masters were slapping the emperor, The queen persuaded them to stop, but they didn't listen, and even let bugs bite the queen!"

The monarch frowned, looked at the three little guys with big heads and big heads, and then looked at Nangong Yan with a slightly swollen face on the bed, his eyes sank.

What kind of temperament is the queen, he knows very well, she is virtuous and virtuous, not to mention that she will not frame a few little guys, even if she is serious, she will not use her daughter as a raft, she will never be willing to hurt Nangong Yan. hair.

So what the maid said was true? Nangong Yan was slapped by a few little guys?

The monarch said solemnly: "Why do you do this? Erbao, tell me!"

Erbao didn't say anything.

Xiaobao said: "We are fighting mosquitoes!"

The palace maid said: "Nonsense, where are the mosquitoes now?"

The monarch glared at the palace maid.

The maid bowed her head.

"It's really fighting mosquitoes." Xiaobao said.

The monarch frowned: "Then the Queen advised you to stop, why didn't you listen? Also let insects bite the Queen?"

Xiaobao pointed with a small hand: "She bullied Erbao and Dabao! Erbao was hurt by her! She even beat me! Dabao was hit!"

A child's words are not as logical as an adult's, but it doesn't affect the meaning he wants to express.

In all fairness, Thaksin believes in the queen, but he doesn't want to doubt a few children.

"Did you say so, Bishop Wanjun?" the palace maid said.

The monarch frowned, was Awan asking them to bully Nangong Yan and the queen?

In all fairness, the monarch believes in the queen, but at the same time, he is not very willing to doubt a few children. There may be some misunderstanding among them.

The monarch looked at the empress who was suffering and said, "Xiaobao said you bullied them, is there any misunderstanding?"

The concubines did not bully them!

The concubine tried to persuade her with good words, but they pushed the concubine down, and even put strange bugs to bite the concubine!

The Queen thought so in her heart, and said the same thing, but in the moment of opening her mouth, all her words changed: "Yes! It was the concubine who bullied these little beasts!"

The Queen was taken aback!

The monarch was also taken aback: "What, what did you say? What are they?"

The queen is going crazy, what happened to her just now? How could you say such a thing?

Your Majesty, listen to the concubine's explanation, this is not the case, the concubine did not scold them!

"Little bastard! What? Are you deaf and can't hear? Dare to slap Ben Gong's daughter, what if he kills her!"

The queen trembled in panic!

How could this be? That's not what she said! Although she thought so in her heart... but she didn't intend to say so! ! !

"Concubine... Concubine..."

love them!

"Want to drown them!"

After the queen said this sentence uncontrollably, the whole face of the monarch changed.
