Chapter 931: Mysterious Little Black Eggs

They sailed on the sea for a few days. The heavens were on their side and everything had been calm.

Yan Jiuchao, Yu Wan, and the others boarded a huge ship the size of three to four pleasure boats. They sailed on deep water and sailed steadily. This was undoubtedly a good thing for the pregnant Yu Wan.

If it was too fast and bumpy, she would get seasick.

The weather gradually became a little hot, but the sea breeze was very comfortable. Yu Wan stood on the deck and looked at the endless deep sea.

“Madam, it’s too hot here.” A maidservant walked over with an oil paper umbrella and placed it on Yu Wan’s head.

This maidservant was called Ping’er. She was brought up by the three bosses before she boarded the ship. They said that her body was inconvenient and it was good to have another maidservant serve her.

Ping’er was petite and could barely be considered delicate and pretty. In the crowd, she might not be noticed at a glance, but she was an expert. Other than Fu Ling and Zi Su, she was the most suitable maidservant she had ever used.

“How old are you this year?” Yu Wan asked.

“I’m seventeen,” Ping’er said.

Yu Wan murmured, “Seventeen, it’s time to get married.” Fu Ling and Zi Su were also seventeen. When they returned to the Helian Manor in Nanzhao, she would arrange a marriage for them.

"I'm not getting married," Ping'er said.

"Huh?" Yu Wan looked at her in confusion.

Ping'er whispered, "I want to serve Madam for the rest of my life."

Yu Wan burst into laughter.

Ping'er was a little stunned. She had really not seen a little fatty that was so beautiful for a long time. However, her words just now were sincere. Her family was poor and she had been sold to the docks to work since she was young. She had done all kinds of dirty and tiring work. She had served several masters, but none of them was as good-tempered and temperamental as Madam.

Madam was generous and the clothes she rewarded her were all new.

Occasionally, when she did something wrong, Madam would not beat or scold her. It would be best if she could serve such a master for the rest of her life.

"You..." Yu Wan smiled and looked at the endless sea. "I came from a very far place. If you follow me, you won't be able to go home anymore."

If not for the sake of finding the whereabouts of the Sorcerer King, she would never have passed by the Jade Nation in her life.

"Ah..." Ping'er was shocked.

Yu Wan smiled and untied her cloak. "It's hot from the sun. Let's go back."

"Yes, Madam!" Ping'er changed the umbrella in her left hand to her right and supported Yu Wan towards the room.

After taking a few steps, Yu Wan heard a row of familiar laughter, as if someone was laughing like a pig with their hands on their hips. She stopped in her tracks.

That laughter was gone again.

“Madam, what’s wrong?” Ping’er sensed her strangeness and asked with concern, “Are you feeling unwell? Do you want me to invite Doctor Cui?”

“There’s no need,” Yu Wan said. She wasn’t feeling unwell. Moreover, even if she was feeling unwell, she was a doctor herself. There was no need for Divine Doctor Cui to treat a small illness.

Yu Wan looked in the direction of the laughter. It seemed to be coming from a room at the stern.

“Who lives there?” She pointed to the room.

“Madam, which room are you asking about?” Ping’er said as she looked in the direction she was pointing.

“Just... those rooms.” She couldn’t tell which room the laughter came from.

Ping’er stood on her tiptoes and looked around. “A few of them are for guests. The few rooms Madam pointed at seem to belong to the first, second, and third bosses. ”

“I’m thinking too much.” Yu Wan sighed and thought to herself that she had probably been blown by the sea wind for too long and had an illusion. How could her Mom and the three little fellows follow her to the sea? They and her great-grandpa had gone to Nanzhao. At this moment, they had probably already moved into the Helian Manor to share the joy of family with Old

Madam, Eldest Uncle, Aunt, and Cousin Sheng.

“I miss them too much,” Yu Wan said.

Pinger blinked in confusion. What was Madam talking about? Who was she thinking about?

Yu Wan did not say anything else. She walked towards her and Yan Jiuchao's room. However, after taking a few steps, she heard that sound again. This time, Yu Wan could not take it anymore. She turned around so quickly that Ping'er broke out in cold sweat for her!

Madam! You're pregnant! Can you not be so agitated!

When Yu Wan arrived at the rooms, the sound was long gone. She pushed open the door of the first room and the third boss looked at her in confusion. She pushed open the door to the second room and Second Boss looked at her in confusion.

There was only one room left.

Yu Wan took a deep breath and reached out to push the door open. In the end, she saw the boss sitting on a stool, holding a half-eaten chicken drumstick. In front of him was a large table of delicious food—red braised pork, braised pork knuckle, braised duck, crispy chicken, steamed crab... There was everything.

The boss swallowed his saliva, grabbed an untouched drumstick, and handed it to Yu Wan. "W-want one?"

"Sorry to disturb you." Yu Wan bowed slightly and left. As soon as she left, three chubby hands reached out from under the table and grabbed three drumsticks!

Boom!

The door opened again!

The Boss was still holding a half-eaten drumstick, but there were a few drumsticks missing from his plate.

Yu Wan's strange gaze landed on the plate that was mostly empty in an instant. As if sensing Yu Wan's suspicion, the Boss immediately grabbed a braised chicken finger that was stewed until it was mushy and performed a show for Yu Wan.

Yu Wan cleared her throat. "Sorry to disturb you."

"Madam." When she saw Yu Wan come out of the Boss's room for the second time, Ping'er's expression was even stranger than hers. Those who didn't know better would think that Madam wanted to capture the Boss.

"Let's go." Yu Wan completely gave up this time. She must have missed Mom and the little fellows too much that she had heard wrongly. It was impossible for them to follow her here, let alone let the bosses cover for them.

Although Yu Wan returned to her room with all her heart, she could not return in the end. Just as she walked out of the aisle, a figure suddenly rushed towards her. Seeing that he was about to collide with her and Ping'er, she pushed Ping'er to the side and used the force to lean against the wall on the other side.

The figure bumped between them.

"Madam, are you alright?" Ping'er, who had dodged a disaster, immediately reached out to support Yu Wan. Unexpectedly, a few more figures bumped into her.

"Ah—" Ping'er screamed and let go of Yu Wan's hand, taking a few steps back.

When the group of people whistled past, Ping'er stomped her feet angrily. "What are you doing? Aren't you afraid of bumping into people when you barge around on the ship? Madam, are you alright?" She held Yu Wan's arm.

Yu Wan shook her head. "I'm fine, but—"

As she spoke, she looked at the group of people running towards the deck.

"That kid seems to have something on."

"Which kid?" Ping'er asked in confusion.

As soon as she finished speaking, there was a loud thud. Right on the heels of that, someone shouted, "Someone fell into the water! Stop the boat! Someone fell into the water!"

Shadow Thirteen and Shadow Six jumped into the water. The two of them grabbed a pair of arms underwater and rushed up! When they placed him on the deck, they realized that it was not Yu Wan, but a handsome young man.

"Ah..." Shadow Six was stunned.

The place where the young man fell into the water just now was where Yu Wan often went to bask in the sun. When the two of them heard the sound of water, they flashed out immediately. Those who did not see Yu Wan thought that she had fallen into the water.

"Hmph." Shadow Six let go of the youth's arm in disdain.

Shadow Thirteen stood up expressionlessly. This commotion attracted many guests to watch. Everyone surrounded the three of them and sized them up curiously.

"Madam, Shadow Thirteen and Shadow Six," Ping'er said as she pointed at the two handsome men.

"Let's go take a look." Yu Wan walked over indifferently.

She had been taken care of by the bosses on the ship, and the sailors already understood that her identity was not simple. The moment she appeared, the crowd automatically made way for her.

When Shadow Thirteen and Shadow Six saw her, they cupped their hands and bowed. "Young Madam."

"Mm." Yu Wan nodded and looked at the unconscious young man.

Shadow Six muttered, "We were scared to death. We thought Young Madam fell into the water... Where did this kid come from? Why did he fall into the water?"

Pinger recalled and said, "Someone seemed to be chasing after him just now. He fell into the water because he was frightened, right?"

The men at the back of the crowd exchanged glances. They suppressed their desire to kill and turned to retreat into the room.

Yu Wan retracted her peripheral vision that was paying attention to them. She reached out and tore the young man's clothes. She pressed her hands on his chest and hydraulic pressure accumulated in his chest.

After spitting out a few mouthfuls of saliva, the young man opened his eyes weakly. He had tender skin and delicate features, making him look like an elegant and beautiful young man.. However, when they saw his eyes clearly, the surrounding sailors all gasped!

Chapter 932: Fierce Rakshasa King! (1)

They were shocked when they saw it. This handsome young man actually had a pair of yin and yang eyes!!!

“It’s Yin Yang Eyes!” A burly middle-aged boatman was so shocked that his voice changed. He staggered back a few steps and bumped into the railing. If someone hadn’t grabbed him in time, he would have fallen into the sea.

Even such a fat and strong man was so frightened. Needless to say, the remaining sailors all looked at the wet young man on the deck in fear, as if they had seen a plague, and retreated in unison.

Other than Yu Wan, only Shadow Six and Shadow Thirteen stopped moving. The three of them took in the reactions of the sailors. They exchanged strange glances and looked at the wet young man in unison.

The young man had probably had many such experiences. He did not even bat an eyelid when he was ostracized by everyone. On the other hand, Yu Wan, Shadow Six, and Shadow Thirteen looked calm, surprising him.

“Okay.” Yu Wan squatted on one knee and pinched her chin as she looked at him. One of his eyes was amber, but the other was blue. Was it these eyes that frightened the sailors out of their wits?

However, Yu Wan felt that these eyes were quite beautiful.

“Miss! Stop looking! It’s a Yin Yang Eye! You’ll be blind if you look at it too much!” An old man kindly reminded Yu Wan.

Yu Wan turned around. “You’ll be blind?”

“Yes, blind! Stop looking! Hurry up and leave!” Another burly man advised.

Everyone thought that something had fallen into the water. If they had known that it was a Yin Yang Eye, they would not have come to join in the fun.

Speaking of which, these people seemed to be the guests on the ship. The three bosses were all very polite to them. If not for that, someone would have jumped out to blame them for saving a Yin Yang Eye and interfering.

The boatmen dispersed.

Although the young man was used to such treatment, his heart wasn't that calm, especially when Yu Wan stared at him without hiding anything. His ears turned red. His eyes flashed, hiding the embarrassment in his heart. He turned his face away and said in a deep voice, "Aren't you leaving?"

Shadow Six said angrily, "Kid! We saved you! How can you talk to my Young Madam like that?"

"Who asked you to save them?" The young man said angrily.

Oh, it was still a little hedgehog. Yu Wan touched her chin, turned her head slightly, and carefully sized up him. He felt uncomfortable under Yu Wan's gaze and turned his face away.

Yu Wan glanced in the direction where the young man had come from. "Was it because of this that the group of people wanted to capture you just now?"

The young man understood what she was referring to. He lowered his eyes and whispered, "No."

His tone when he spoke to Yu Wan was not as aggressive as when he spoke to Shadow Six.

Yu Wan nodded and still had no intention of leaving. The young man had never seen someone who was willing to stay by the side of a Yin Yang Eye for so long. He could not help but glance at Yu Wan.

Yu Wan was already eighteen years old after the New Year, but her face looked like she was fifteen. Not only was her face fair and rosy, but there was also a little baby fat on her little face. Her facial features were exquisite like a painting, and her temperament was as calm as a poem. She was already nearly six months pregnant, so it was difficult not to notice her stomach.

The moment he saw her pregnant, the young man's eyes widened. When he widened his eyes, his strange pupils appeared especially prominent.

It's so beautiful... Yu Wan sighed inwardly

“You’re not from the Jade Nation?” The youth suddenly said.

“Huh?” Yu Wan was immersed in his beautiful eyes and did not hear what he said.

The young man glanced at Shadow Six and Shadow Thirteen and said, “You’re not from the Jade Nation.”

If he was still a little uncertain before, then this time, his tone was firm.

“How do you know?” Yu Wan asked.

The young man said indifferently, “I knew it. How can there be anyone in the Jade Nation who isn’t afraid of me?”

“This isn’t Yin Yang Eyes.” Yu Wan pointed at his eyes and said, “It’s different pupils, also called heterochromatic disease. It has nothing to do with blinding others. You know this yourself, right?”

The young man was silent. So what if he knew? Would anyone believe him?

Shadow Six had done a lot of homework on the way to the Jade Nation. He had more or less heard about the Yin Yang Eyes. He bent down and whispered into Yu Wan’s ear, “It’s said that the Yin Yang Eyes are people with ominous births. They will bring bad luck to the family and have the same fate as the jinx of our Central Plains..”

Chapter 933: Fierce Rakshasa King! (2)

"I see." Yu Wan nodded. If there was really such a thing, the reactions of the sailors would not be strange. As for herself, she did not believe such nonsense. She thought about how her mother had been forcefully sent out of Nanzhao because she had the fate of a jinx. She had grown up alone in a place like the Ghost Clan. Although she did not know what had happened to this young man, she thought that it would not be too easy.

Yu Wan took a deep look at the young man. Seeing that he did not have any intention of saying why he was being chased, Yu Wan did not force him to ask anymore. She stood up and said to Shadow Thirteen and Shadow Six, "You don't have to guard me here. I'll be fine. Hurry up and go back to your room to change."

The two of them fell into the sea, and their clothes were drenched. Although the weather at sea was hot, it was still uncomfortable to stick to their bodies.

"I have Ping'er here. You guys go," Yu Wan said.

The two of them hesitated and did not move. At this moment, Yan Jiuchao strolled over.

"Young Master!" Shadow Six turned around and bowed. Shadow Thirteen also bowed. "Young Master."

"Mm." Yan Jiuchao nodded indifferently. "What happened?"

Shadow Six said, "Someone fell into the water. We thought it was Young Madam, so we jumped down and saved him."

Yan Jiuchao glanced at the young man. When he saw the strange pupils, he did not have much of an expression.

"Young Master." Ping'er also bowed.

Yan Jiuchao's gaze landed on Yu Wan's face. "Yu Ah Wan, you're tanned." "Huh? Is that so?" Yu Wan hurriedly touched her cheek.

Pinger muttered to herself, How is she tanned? Young Madam is still fair and tender, okay? Although she thought this in her heart, after hearing Young Master's words, Ping'er immediately opened the umbrella over Yu Wan's head.

"No need for this anymore. I'm going back to my room!" Yu Wan did not want to become a black fatty!

Yu Wan held Yan Jiuchao's hand and rushed to the room. When he brushed past the young man, the young man looked up at Yan Jiuchao. It was definitely a face that could not be forgotten, but it was too cold, like a huge iceberg guarding behind the little fat girl.

Not long after the couple left, Ping'er, Shadow Six, and Shadow Thirteen also returned to their respective rooms.

On the deck that was burning from the sun, only the young man was left. Not far away, a few bold sailors looked over curiously. The young man ignored them and stood up with his hand on the deck.

He walked to the left and saw the group of men who wanted to capture him. He stopped in his tracks. He clenched his fists and took a few weak steps back. The group of people was in the shadows and took a few steps towards him.

His throat moved, and he inadvertently glanced at a silk handkerchief on the ground.

He picked up the handkerchief and thought for a while. He mustered his courage and chased in the direction where Yu Wan and the others had left.

The room where Yu Wan and the others were staying was separate from the guests' rooms. There were guards arranged by the three bosses to guard it. When the young man walked over with a handkerchief, he was stopped by two guards on duty.

One of the guards asked, "What are you doing? This is not a place you can go!"

The young man lowered his eyes, not letting them see his eyes. He handed the handkerchief in his hand forward. "I fell into the water. That Madam's subordinate saved me. Her handkerchief fell on the deck. I want to return it to her."

The guard glanced at his companion, who nodded.

The two of them went forward and searched his body. After confirming that he did not carry any medicine or weapons and that he did not have any martial arts, they let him in.

The young man walked forward with the handkerchief. He did not know which room was Yu Wan's room. He saw that the doors of the other rooms were tightly shut, but the door at the top was open. He came to the door, composed himself, and said softly, "Madam, you dropped your handkerchief. I brought it back for you."

What answered him was a banging sound, as if someone had fallen. The young man's eyebrows twitched and he stepped in. In the end, what did he see? Three black eggs!!!

"Ah... You guys..."

The young man had never seen triplets before, let alone such dark and beautiful triplets. He was immediately stunned. He felt that the triplets looked familiar, but before he could remember where he had seen them before, light footsteps came from outside the door. The three little black eggs stepped on the stool, climbed up the window, and rolled down.

The young man looked at the door and then at the window. The triplets were long gone..

Chapter 934: Fierce Rakshasa King! (3)

“Eh? It’s you? Why are you here?” Yu Wan lifted her skirt and crossed the threshold.

“I...” The young man opened his mouth. He was still immersed in the huge surprise brought by the triplets. His mind short-circuited and he did not know how to answer.

“Ah, my handkerchief fell off.” Yu Wan’s sharp eyes saw the handkerchief in his hand. She walked over with a smile and reached out to him.

The young man was stunned.

“Huh?” Yu Wan gave the handkerchief a look.

“Ah!” The young man came back to his senses and quickly returned the handkerchief to her. “You dropped your handkerchief! I... I’ve brought it to you!”

Yu Wan smiled faintly. “It’s just a handkerchief. I thought you were here to take refuge.”

“I...” The young man was speechless.

Yu Wan looked at the chair behind him and gestured for him to sit down. The young man sat down uncomfortably. Yu Wan poured him a cup of hot tea. The young man picked up the teacup and smelled it. He frowned. “What tea is this?”

Yu Wan closed the teapot. “Chameleon grass can clear heat and detoxify poison.

Your country doesn’t have it. I brought it from afar.”

“Your hometown?” The youth asked.

Yu Wan nodded. 'Yes, you can say that.' It was true that she was the daughter and Commandery Princess of Nanzhao. However, she was born and raised in the Great Zhou, so the Great Zhou could be considered her hometown.

The young man pinched his nose and took a sip. It was so disgusting that he frowned.

Yu Wan was amused by his expression. "My husband wasn't used to it the first time he drank it."

The young man asked, "Is your husband... the man who left with you just now?"

Yu Wan asked, "Otherwise, can I still hold another man's arm?"

"That's not what I meant." The young man lowered his head uneasily. Suddenly, he thought of something and looked up. He looked at the window where the three little black eggs had climbed out and then at Yu Wan. "You..."

"Huh?" Yu Wan looked at him in confusion, as if asking him what he wanted to ask her.

"Nothing." Why would an outsider like him complain when someone's children were making a fuss in the room?

The young man wanted to stay in the room for a while more. Even though the Chameleon grass tasted so bad, he still braced himself and finished it bit by bit. After drinking this cup of tea, he had no reason to stay any longer. He put down the cup and said, "Thank you for the tea. I'll leave first."

Yu Wan looked at him in amusement. 'You're such a strange person. My guards saved your life, but you're not grateful. I only gave you a mere cup of tea, and you thank me. Why? Is your gratitude based on others?' "I..." The young man choked.

"I was just joking with you," Yu Wan said with a smile.

The young man's expression relaxed. He nodded at Yu Wan and walked out of the door. The moment he was about to cross the threshold, Yu Wan said indifferently, "Speaking of which, are you really not planning to detoxify your

Gu poison

The young man staggered and almost fell!

"You..." After he stabilized himself, he turned around in disbelief.

Yu Wan sat on a chair and looked at him with a faint smile. "The Snow Domain's Heavenly Silkworm Gu is almost equivalent to half a Ten Thousand Gu King. You were actually poisoned by this Gu. It seems that your background is not simple."

The young man's expression changed as he looked at Yu Wan. "You're... a Gu Master?"

Yu Wan shook her head.

"Gu Lady?" The youth asked again.

Yu Wan continued to shake her head.

The young man subconsciously covered his chest, and a trace of vigilance appeared in his eyes. "Then how did you know that I was poisoned?"

Yu Wan shrugged and spread her hands. "I just know. Let me ask you, do you want to solve it?"

The young man sneered. "Although I don't know how you can tell, I advise you not to overestimate your capabilities. Even the Lord Gu Venerable can't do anything about this kind of Gu. How can a weak woman like you resolve my Gu poison?"

"Of course I won't detoxify you for nothing." Yu Wan automatically ignored his doubts. "Tell me your background and who those people chasing after you are.

I'll take it that you paid the consultation fee."

The young man frowned again at Yu Wan's words.

Yu Wan said slowly, 'Why? Is this consultation fee very expensive? Or would you rather walk out and let that group of people arrest your

The young man said in a daze, "You... you can really cure my Gu..."

Before he could finish speaking, Yu Wan's fingertips moved and a white light flashed into his heart. In the next second, he felt a pain in his heart. The white light flashed out again and threw a black Gu worm on the table! Yu Wan picked up the Gu worm with her slender fingers..

Chapter 935: Fierce Rakshasa King! (4)

"Be careful!" She was neither a Gu Master nor a Gu Lady. How could she touch a Gu King without warning?

However, not only did Yu Wan touch it, she even pinched the Gu King. The Gu King opened its mouth to bite Yu Wan, but it was slapped obediently by Little Gu. Yu Wan looked at the little fellow in her hand and praised, "Tsk, tsk, tsk.

Such a high-grade Snow Domain Heavenly Silkworm Gu. It's really generous."

The young man held his chest and looked at Yu Wan in disbelief. He rolled up the sleeve of his left hand and saw a red line that was about to spread to his palm disappear at a speed visible to the naked eye.

He finally believed that the Gu worm in his body had been taken out. "How did this happen? Who are you? You..."

Yu Wan smiled and said, "I've already cured your Gu poison. It's your turn to pay the consultation fee. Of course, you can choose to refuse. At most, I'll plant the Gu poison back for you."

"No!" The young man took a big step back in resistance.

"Then..." Yu Wan smiled at him.

The young man took a deep breath, clenched his fists, and made up his mind. "I'm a sorcerer!"

Plop.

Yu Wan's Snow Domain Heavenly Silkworm Gu fell.

"Say that again. What are you?" Yu Wan looked at him without blinking.

The heat in her eyes made the young man suspicious, but since this was the consultation fee she had asked for, he could only continue. "I'm a sorcerer," he said.

She had searched high and low for it, only to find it without any effort. She had yet to leave the Jade Nation and she had already picked up a sorcerer.

Yu Wan narrowed her eyes. "Are you sure you're a sorcerer? If you dare to lie, I'll plant a hundred Gu worms that are even more ferocious than the Snow Domain Heavenly Silkworm Gu in your body!"

The young man trembled in fear from this ruthless threat. He thought that she was a gentle and kind woman, but it turned out that she was even more terrifying than those bastards when she was ruthless!

However, he was not lying. He was a real sorcerer. Otherwise, he would not have been chased by that group of people.

“This is my sorcerer’s token. If you don’t believe me, look!” The young man took out a black iron token with a black light and a small Sorcerer Stone embedded in the middle of the token.

Yu Wan took the sorcerer’s token and looked at it without batting an eyelid. She asked, “You’re from the Sorcerer Clan?”

The young man shook his head. “My master is.”

Yu Wan remembered that Grandma had said that the inheritance of the Sorcerer Clan did not rely on bloodline. In other words, the people from the Sorcerer Clan might not be able to become a sorcerer, and a sorcerer might not be a member of the Sorcerer Clan.

Sorcerers were very good. Unfortunately, what they needed was not ordinary sorcerer tears, but the tears of the Sorcerer King.

“Who is chasing after you?” Yu Wan asked.

“They’re from the Sacred Clan,” the youth said coldly.

“The Sacred Clan?” She thought that the last descendant of the Sacred Clan was from the Lan family. It seemed that this race had not really been destroyed a thousand years ago, but had retained the core power and passed it down in a distant place. This discovery surprised Yu Wan because if the Sacred Clan had been passed down, then the possibility of the Sorcerer Clan still existing was higher than she had imagined.

“Why did the Sacred Clan capture you?” Yu Wan touched her chin and asked.

The young man said disdainfully, “Hmph, the Sacred and Sorcerer Clans have been incompatible since a thousand years ago. What’s so strange about the Sacred Clan capturing sorcerers? Almost all the sorcerers in the Jade Nation have been captured by the Sacred Clan.”

Yu Wan raised her eyebrows. “Doesn’t the Emperor of the Jade Nation care?” The young man said coldly, “His Empress is from the Sacred Clan!”

Since ancient times, no man could resist the charms of a beautiful woman. Yu

Wan tapped her fingertips on the table. “Are there many people from the Sacred Clan? Are there only a few, or...?”

The young man said gloomily, “No, they won’t kill us sorcerers quickly. In the early years, it wasn’t so overboard. Ever since the Sacred Clan had an Empress, the status of the sorcerers of the Jade Nation has plummeted. They all say that we’re charlatans who deceive the public. They want to arrest us and not let us deceive others anymore!”

“Then did you swindle them?” Yu Wan asked.

“Of course not!” The young man said excitedly. “My master said that we practice sorcery to benefit the common people, not to harm the common people. If anyone uses sorcery to commit crimes, and he finds out, he will definitely punish them according to the sect rules.”

Yu Wan continued, “Then where’s your master?”

“He passed away in the Heavenly Prison.” The young man’s voice became low and his entire body was enveloped in a sorrowful aura. “He wanted me to escape, so he went to lure the Sacred Clan away. In the end, he was captured and imprisoned. When I wanted to pull strings to save him, I received news of his passing..”

Chapter 936: Fierce Rakshasa King! (5)

“After that, did you decide to escape on this ship?” Yu Wan looked at him and asked.

The young man nodded, then shook his head. “I did think of escaping. I heard that there’s a place... that’s the territory of the Sorcerer Clan. There are no Sacred Clan’s members there, so the sorcerers won’t be persecuted. I wanted to bring my senior brothers and the others away, but I was captured halfway and only I escaped. I boarded this ship to save them, but I didn’t expect to be targeted by the Sacred Clan.”

Yu Wan exclaimed, “What a twisty story.”

The young man did not refute, nor did he immerse himself in sorrow for too long. He looked up and looked at Yu Wan with a complicated expression. “The heads of this ship are very afraid of you. What are your identities?”

“There’s no need for you to know about this,” Yu Wan said calmly.

The young man’s eyes became shrewd in an instant. “You’ve asked so much about the Sorcerer Clan. Do you want to go there, too?” This kid was not stupid. The young man struck while the iron was hot and said, “I know the place. I can bring you there, but I have a condition.”

Yu Wan smiled. “You know the place, but don’t I? Do I need you to bring me?”

The young man sneered. “Do you know that not just anyone can enter the territory of the Sorcerer Clan?”

'What do you mean?' Yu Wan asked.

The young man raised his chin and said, "If there were no sorcerers traveling with you, you wouldn't be able to enter at all."

Yu Wan smiled. "Can't I just kidnap you?"

The young man did not expect her to say this. The corners of his mouth twitched fiercely and he said, "I'm only a small black-rank sorcerer. My junior brother is different. He's talented and intelligent. He's already an earth-rank sorcerer. With him around, your chances of entering the Sorcerer Clan will be much higher."

Yu Wan smiled faintly. "In the end, you just want me to help you save your junior brothers."

The young man swept away the aloofness and arrogance on his face and cupped his hands piously. "If you're willing to save us, we'll definitely repay you!"

Yu Wan was not in a hurry to agree to him. Instead, she went to Grandma's room and told him what the young man had said and gave him the sorcerer's token.

"This token is real." Grandma nodded.

"What about his words? Are they also true? If we don't have the Great Sorcerer to travel with us, we won't even be able to enter the territory of the Sorcerer Clan?"

"I'm afraid it's true," Grandma said. Along the way, he had read many books about the Sorcerer Clan. The more he read, the more he realized that the trip to the Sorcerer Clan was not as easy as he had imagined. If he could have a few sorcerers accompany him, it would not be a bad thing for them.

Yu Wan sighed. "Since Grandma said so, it seems like we have to make a move."

At dinner, Yu Wan put the rescue on the agenda.

Yan Jiuchao took a sip of tea. "Where are they locked up?"

Yu Wan spread out a map of the Jade Nation and pointed at an island drawn with cinnabar. "On this island. Our ship will pass by there in the middle of the night and purchase the necessary supplies there. It'll leave in two hours."

Shadow Six said thoughtfully, "In other words, we only have two hours to save them. Did he say the exact location of the prison?"

"Here." Yu Wan pointed at a forest on the map. "There are probably a few courtyards in this place. I just don't know which courtyard his senior brother, senior sister, and junior brother are locked in. However, they've also been poisoned by the Snow Domain Heavenly Silkworm Gu. We can find them according to this clue."

Shadow Six said seriously, "Alright, after the ship docks, I'll go with Thirteen!" "This is their portrait." Yu Wan took out the portrait drawn by the young man.

"There's a child?" Shadow Six's eyes widened.

The man in the portrait was less than twenty years old, and the woman was about sixteen or seventeen years old. The child looked to be no more than eight or nine years old. He could not believe that such a little fellow had inherited all of his master's mantle and become a Great Sorcerer who surpassed his senior brothers and sisters.

Yu Wan said, "He has such wisdom at such a young age. It's said that his strength has been underestimated. Perhaps he's even stronger. In short, our hopes of entering the Sorcerer Clan are all on this child!"

Shadow Thirteen said, "Don't worry, Young Madam. We'll bring them out safely."

“I’ll go with you!” Yu Shaoqing said.

Yu Wan opened her mouth. “Dad.. ‘

Yu Shaoqing waved his hand and interrupted her. “Aren’t we going to save three people? How can two be enough? Your Dad’s martial arts are so high. I can help them if they encounter any danger.”

“This...” Your martial arts don’t even seem to be able to defeat Shadow Six...

Yu Wan was about to refuse when Yan Jiuchao said, “Let Dad go. With Dad around, it will definitely be foolproof.”

After interacting with his son-in-law for so long, this sentence was the most pleasant! Yu Shaoqing valiantly went to pack his things!

Yu Wan muttered, “Can my Dad really do it? I’m very worried about him.”

In the middle of the night, the ship sailed towards an island. The boatmen stopped the ship at the docks. There were already people waiting at the docks with lanterns. When they saw familiar faces, they politely greeted them.

The storeroom was not far. Two hours might not be enough to save three prisoners, but it was more than enough to transport supplies.

“Let’s go and have a drink!”

The group left laughing.

Yu Shaoqing, Shadow Thirteen, and Shadow Six changed into their night clothes and silently alighted.

Shadow Six gestured to the east. The two of them understood and used their qinggong to flash into the forest.

After entering the forest, Little Gu jumped off Yu Shaoqing's shoulder and began to sense the aura of the Snow Domain Heavenly Silkworm Gu.

"Squeak!" Little Gu cried out excitedly and ran towards a small straw hut.

"Wait!" Shadow Six was about to follow when he was stopped by Shadow Thirteen. Shadow Thirteen's expression was not good.

"What's wrong?" Shadow Six asked softly.

Shadow Thirteen lowered his voice and said, "There's a very powerful aura in the forest."

"How powerful?" Yu Shaoqing asked.

"The Rakshasa King," Shadow Thirteen said.

The two of them paused when they heard that there was a Rakshasa King in the forest. The journey was so calm that they almost forgot about the danger of the Sorcerer Clan. Now, they had encountered the Rakshasa King when they casually saved someone!

"We've only reached Jade Nation, but we've already met the Rakshasa King. In the future..." Shadow Six did not dare to think further.

Shadow Thirteen said, "Don't use your qinggong. Put away all your internal energy. The Rakshasa King doesn't care about a few people without martial arts."

The three of them restrained their auras and tiptoed over.

The place where Little Gu stayed was the courtyard guarded by the Rakshasa King. Even the Rakshasa King was mobilized, so it could be seen that the child was indeed extraordinarily noble.

The three of them carefully walked in. They found the young man's senior brother and sister, but they could not find the child.

Little Gu jumped on the ground and pointed at the innermost room. Shadow Thirteen's expression changed. That was the Rakshasa King's room!!! That child was actually locked up there?!

Shadow Thirteen handed the unconscious woman on his back to Shadow Six. "Shadow Six, you and Master take them away first. I'll go save that child!"

Before he could finish his sentence, he saw Yu Shaoqing walking towards the room.

Shadow Thirteen's expression changed. Master!

Yu Shaoqing did not know that this was the Rakshasa King's room. He took out his dagger and gently pried open the door. An eight or nine-year-old child was curled up on the carpet. It seemed like he had fallen asleep.

This should be that little junior brother, right? Yu Shaoqing walked over in two to three steps and picked up the children.

The moment he turned around, the child in his arms suddenly opened his blood-red eyes and bit at his neck!

Chapter 937: Mighty Jiang Batian!

Yu Shaoqing was neither a sacrificial soldier nor a disciple of the Chaoyang

Hall. His senses towards the Blood Rakshasa were not as sharp as Shadow

Thirteen and the others, but even if he sensed the Rakshasa King's aura, he would not have expected it to be the eight or nine-year-old child curled up on the ground.

When that child... No, that was not a child, but the Rakshasa King!

When the Rakshasa King opened his bloody mouth and revealed his sharp fangs to bite at Yu Shaoqing, Yu Shaoqing was so frightened that he hurriedly threw that thing out. However, it was too late. That thing seemed to be stuck tightly to his arm and could not be thrown out no matter how hard he tried.

Just as the thing was about to bite his neck, a petite black shadow suddenly flew over and flashed behind the Rakshasa King. It reached out with its slender hand and grabbed the Rakshasa King's neck, pulling him off Yu Shaoqing's arm. Then, it ruthlessly threw him to the ground!

The Rakshasa King was caught off guard and was thrown firmly. He immediately let out an ear-piercing scream.

Yu Shaoqing did not react at all, but the scream hurt his eardrums. He subconsciously covered his ears and turned around. At the same time, Shadow Thirteen and Shadow Six rushed to the room.

The two of them were carrying two unconscious young men on their backs. They were tied up with ropes, so they did not have to worry about people falling even if they ran violently.

When they rushed to the door, they also heard that ear-piercing scream. Shadow Six felt his scalp go numb. "Heavens, why is someone's scream so piercing?"

Shadow Thirteen gasped. This was not an ordinary scream. It was the howl of the Rakshasa King. It carried the pressure and internal energy of the Rakshasa

King and could shock the opponent.

The Rakshasa King of the Sang family did not have such a skill. Moreover, there was no thick blood smell in the air.

This was not the Blood Rakshasa King!

Shadow Thirteen could not answer what it was.

At this moment, he only wanted to quickly save Yu Shaoqing. Although he didn't understand why Young Master agreed to let Yu Shaoqing travel with them, he was sure that they couldn't let anything happen to Yu Shaoqing. Otherwise, it would be difficult for them to answer to Young Master and Young Madam!

"Master!" Shadow Thirteen quickly entered the room and saw Yu Shaoqing, who was covering his ears. He strode over and helped Yu Shaoqing up. Then, he glanced around and saw the Rakshasa King who was thrown to the ground.

That Rakshasa King was actually a child?

But soon, Shadow Thirteen thought differently. With a few cracking sounds of bones, the "child" -like Rakshasa King gradually unfolded his body. In the blink of an eye, he became another person!

Yu Shaoqing was stunned. "What's going on?"

"It's the Bone Shrinking Technique!" Shadow Thirteen said solemnly.

The Bone Shrinking Technique was a legendary evil technique. It could shrink one's bones through a small area of strength and was mainly used for escape. Shadow Thirteen had also seen the Bone Shrinking Technique when he was in the Central Plains, but that was only a little shrinking. It was definitely not like the Rakshasa King in front of him who could disguise himself as a child.

This strength was really terrifying.

Shadow Thirteen said seriously, "Master, let's go!"

Upon hearing that the two of them were leaving, the Rakshasa King in the room was furious. His eyes flashed with a bloodthirsty light as he suddenly pounced at the two of them!

Shadow Thirteen pushed Yu Shaoqing out, intending to use his body to block this attack for Yu Shaoqing. However, no sooner said than done, a shadow flashed and punched the Rakshasa King away!

Shadow Thirteen was stunned.

What was going on? There was actually another person in the room? As a sacrificial soldier with extraordinary five senses, he actually did not notice this at all!

If the other party wanted their lives...

Shadow Thirteen shivered!

Fortunately, not only did the little black shadow not seem to plan to take their lives, but it also used its internal energy to escort them out.

The Rakshasa King caught up several times but was knocked down by the other party with his fists!

Shadow Thirteen:

Why do I feel that this scene is familiar...

Since the other party was not their enemy, there was nothing to worry about. Shadow Thirteen rushed into the room and found the real young sorcerer under the cover of the little black shadow. He carried the young sorcerer out of the room.

Yu Shaoqing wanted to enter the room to investigate, but Shadow Thirteen stopped him.

“Master, let’s go!” Shadow Thirteen said.

Yu Shaoqing hesitated. “Ah, but... can Shadow Six stop them alone?”

“Master, you called me?” Shadow Six ran over with someone on his back.

“Eh?” Yu Shaoqing looked at Shadow Six and then at the little black shadow in the room who was fighting the Rakshasa King. “It’s not you?”

“No.” Shadow Six shook his head in confusion and looked into the room curiously. “Oh?”

Shadow Thirteen cleared his throat. “Stop looking! Perhaps it’s their own enemies!”

Shadow Six nodded in agreement. “That’s true. There are so many sorcerers locked up here. They must have many enemies!”

“Why do I feel that...” Yu Shaoqing’s gaze landed on the mighty little figure in the room and he frowned strangely.

Shadow Thirteen coughed lightly and took a big step forward, blocking his vision. He handed the sleeping child to him. “I’ll leave this child to you, Master!”

“Oh, okay.” Yu Shaoqing’s thoughts were successfully interrupted. He carried the child and boarded the ship with Shadow Thirteen and Shadow Six.

The Rakshasa King wanted to chase after them several times, but he was ruthlessly beaten back by that small fist.

The Rakshasa King was much more resistant than the Blood Rakshasa.

The longer the ship stopped on the island, the longer the Rakshasa King was beaten up. It could be said to be extremely miserable.

On the other hand, after Yu Shaoqing and Shadow Thirteen brought them back to the ship, they immediately went to Grandma and Old Cui's room. Yu Wan and the young man were also there.

Yu Wan had already learned his name from the young man. He was called Mu Qing and was seventeen this year. His senior brother, Mu Ting, was his biological cousin. The two brothers had met their master together during the famine. Mu Qing's potential was even higher. Their master originally only planned to take him in, but he begged his master bitterly and his master reluctantly agreed to let Mu Ting stay.

Mu Qing's senior sister's name was Zhou Yuyan. She was his master's biological daughter. It was said that Mu Qing's junior brother had some background. His master valued him more than his biological daughter. Otherwise, he wouldn't have carefully nurtured him and passed down his mantle to him.

"What's his name?" Yu Wan asked as she took his junior brother's pulse.

Mu Qing said, "My junior brother takes my master's surname. He's called Zhou Jin. Is he alright?"

Yu Wan clapped her hands and stood up. "He was drugged by that group of people. He's fine. The Gu worms in their bodies have been taken out. They'll be a little weak in the short term. Remember to let them take the pills I gave you on time."

"I will. Thank you..." Mu Qing struggled with his words." Mrs. Yan."

Yu Wan replied indifferently, "You said that your junior brother is very powerful. How powerful is he?"

"I also happened to hear Master's conversation with someone. He said that Junior Brother had great potential and was smart. He is far from what ordinary disciples can compare to. Unfortunately, Master was too weak to protect him, so he asked Junior Brother not to show his strength in front of others."

Yu Wan took out a sorcerer's token from Zhou Jin's waist. "In that case, he's not just an Earth-rank sorcerer."

“That’s right,” Mu Qing said proudly.

Yu Wan asked, “How are the levels of sorcerers divided?”

Mu Qing patiently explained, “Heaven, Earth, Black and Yellow. Once you reach the Earth-rank, you can be called a Great Sorcerer. I think my junior brother should be the youngest Great Sorcerer in the Jade Nation. I dare to guess that his strength might have long reached the Heaven-rank or even above.” Yu Wan touched her chin. ‘What about the Sorcerer King?’

Mu Qing originally thought that she would ask how powerful a Heaven-rank sorcerer was. Was there a lot? He did not expect her to ask about the Sorcerer King. Her appetite... was actually so big?

Mu Qing could not help but be stunned for a moment before saying, “The Sorcerer King is above the Heaven -rank. However, there’s no Sorcerer King in the Jade Nation, and I’ve never heard of any Sorcerer King. That’s just a legendary existence.”

Yu Wan played with the sorcerer’s token in her hand and said, “Is it possible that your junior brother is the Sorcerer King?”

“This...” Mu Qing was stunned. He had heard and seen his junior brother’s talent, but he had never dared to guess that he was the Sorcerer King.

Yu Wan turned to look at Grandma. “Grandma, is there any way to know if he’s the Sorcerer King?”

Grandma slowly walked over and held the child’s palm. He closed his eyes and carefully sensed it. He opened his eyes and said, “There’s a very powerful sorcery power in this child’s body, but it’s sealed by another sorcery power.

When the sorcery power sealing him is unlocked, we’ll know if this child is the

Sorcerer King..”

Chapter 938: Domineering Brother Jiu, Wife Protection Maniac (1)

Yu Wan left Grandma's room. Mu Qing's senior brother, Mu Ting, and junior brother, Zhou Jin, were left in Grandma's and Old Cui's room to make it convenient to take care of them. Although Zhou Yuyan was also a patient, men and women should not touch each other. She was carried into Ping'er's room.

When Yu Wan returned to her room, Mu Qing followed her. "Mrs. Yan!" "Huh?" Yu Wan stopped in her tracks and turned to look at him.

"Huh?" Yu Wan stopped in her tracks and turned to look at him.

At this moment, the ship had already slowly sailed away. A sea breeze slowly blew over, and Yu Wan's black hair and robe fluttered in the night wind.

Mu Qing panicked for a moment. He did not have any blasphemy towards Yu Wan, but he was purely stunned by her appearance and temperament. How could anyone eat until they were fat and so beautiful that they looked like immortals?

"What's the matter?" Yu Wan asked with a faint smile.

"Ah..." Mu Qing's consciousness returned. He blinked his sparkling eyes and said, "You seem to be asking about the whereabouts of the Sorcerer King?"

"Yes." Yu Wan did not deny it.

Mu Qing asked, 'Why are you looking for the Sorcerer King?'

Yu Wan said indifferently, "This is our own business. You don't have to know so much. In fact, I won't blame you even if there's no Sorcerer King. You just have to lead the way for us obediently."

Mu Qing said seriously, "I've interacted with the people of the Sacred Clan. You have the aura of the Sacred Clan on you. You said that you're neither a Gu Master nor a Gu Lady, but you know the Gu poison like the back of your hand. Are... are you the Saintess?"

Yu Wan raised her eyebrows. "This... doesn't seem to be your business."

Mu Qing clenched his fists. "I was born with a pair of yin and yang eyes and have been bullied. If it weren't for Master, I would have starved to death by the roadside. My master was killed by the Sacred Clan, so if you're also from the Sacred Clan..." At this point, Mu Qing didn't continue.

Yu Wan looked at him in amusement. "What are you going to do if I'm also from the Sacred Clan? Kill me? Or leave with your unconscious senior brothers and sisters? Can you kill me? Or can you escape?"

Her unhurried words made Mu Qing choke.

Yu Wan was right. There were four of them from the same sect, and three of them were unconscious. Although he was a sorcerer, this group of people did not look like they were easy to deal with at all. He was not their match at all.

Yu Wan smiled and said, "I won't stop you if you want to escape, but let me remind you that there's sea on all sides. If you want to escape, it's best if you escape yourself. Don't bring three burdens!"

Mu Qing blushed with excitement. "I never said that I wanted to escape! I just want to know your background and your goal of finding the Sorcerer King..."

Yu Wan smiled faintly. "Do you know that curiosity killed the cat? I'll tell you what you need to know. If I don't, you better not ask around."

The young man lowered his eyes. He looked like a little wife who had suffered a huge grievance. Yu Wan was amenable to persuasion but not coercion. He retorted fiercely to her, so she could scold him back. Looking at his current state, she felt that she was bullying the little flower of her country.

Yu Wan sighed softly. "Alright, alright. Don't feel wronged. I don't have any ill intentions towards you, nor do I have any ill intentions towards the Sorcerer King. Even if I go to the Sorcerer Clan in the future, I won't make a fuss with them."

Mu Qing raised his head and revealed a young and bright smile that belonged to his age.

Yu Wan's mood instantly became extremely good. She almost couldn't help but reach out to rub his head. "Now that's more like it. Go back to your room and rest early."

At night, there was unprecedented rain at sea. The next day, the weather was good again. The wind was gentle and the sun was bright.

Mu Qing's senior brother, Mu Ting, was the first to wake up. When he woke up, he found himself in an unfamiliar room. The room was swaying, and he could hear the sound of waves. He was shocked. Fortunately, Mu Qing was guarding him.

"Senior Brother, are you alright?" Mu Qing asked with concern.

Hearing the familiar voice, Mu Ting turned around and looked at Mu Qing in shock. "Why are you back? Didn't I tell you to escape?"

Mu Qing smiled slightly. "Senior Brother, look again. This isn't the prison of the Sacred Clan.

When Mu Ting heard this, he sized up his surroundings again. The room was dim, and only a few spots of light landed on the damp floor through the gap in the window. He walked over and pushed open the window. A blinding light shone over, and he blocked his eyes.

The sound of the waves became clearer.

After adapting to the light, he looked over and saw an endless sea. His body paused.. “Qing’er, this is...”

Chapter 939: Domineering Brother Jiu, Wife Protection Maniac (2)

Mu Qing smiled brightly and said, “We’re on a ship. We’ll be able to leave the sea of the Jade Nation in two days.”

Mu Ting frowned and said, “I don’t understand. Qing’er, what’s going on?”

Where are Junior Sister and Little Junior Brother? Where are they?”

Mu Qing poured him a cup of tea made from Chameleon grass. “Don’t worry, Senior Brother. They’re also on the ship. You woke up first. Junior Sister and Junior Brother are next door. Eat something first. I’ll bring you over to see them later.”

“Oh.” Mu Ting was still a little stunned. He took a few steps in a daze and sat down on a stool. He picked up the cup of Chameleon grass tea and took a sip. It was so bad that he almost vomited. “What tea? It’s so bad!”

Mu Qing was laughing uncontrollably! The first time, he was also in such a sorry state. However, after drinking a few times, he felt much better. Even his dry throat did not feel uncomfortable anymore.

“It’s good stuff. Drink it, Senior Brother,” Mu Qing said.

Mu Ting was indeed thirsty. He pinched his nose and finished the tea in his cup.

Mu Qing handed him another plate of snacks. It was a very exquisite pastry. It was small, yellow-orange, and emitted an alluring crispy and milky fragrance. Mu Ting swallowed his saliva and tasted one under Mu Qing’s instructions.

Before their master’s sect was destroyed, they were considered to be living in luxury, but they had never eaten such exquisite and delicious snacks. When they took a bite, they were crispy and soft, with a hint of sweetness in the saltiness. It was sweet but not greasy. Mu Ting felt like he was about to ascend to heaven.

“What is this?” He ate several in a row.

“Crab roe crisp,” Mu Qing said. “It’s a snack from the Central Plains. The chef on the ship learned it from the Central Plains people. They made it quite well.”

Mu Ting nodded, not fully understanding. In the end, he did not forget the serious matter and asked Mu Qing, “By the way, what exactly happened? Why are we on the ship?”

Mu Qing told his senior brother about his experience after escaping. “...I originally wanted to take a boat back to save you, but who knew that the Sacred Clan would target me? Fortunately, Young Master Yan and the others saved me...”

“The Young Master Yan you’re talking about is from the Central Plains?” Mu Ting combined Mu Qing’s words and guessed.

Mu Qing said, “That’s right. They also want to go to the Sorcerer Clan, so I’ve agreed to them. As long as they can save you, Senior Sister, and Junior Brother, we’ll bring them to the Sorcerer Clan.”

Mu Ting frowned and said, “You don’t even know what their goal is and you agree to bring them to the Sorcerer Clan? What if they have ill intentions towards the Sorcerer Clan...

“Don’t worry, Senior Brother. They’re not evil people,” Mu Qing said. She looked at the hourglass on the wall. “It’s time for Senior Sister to wake up. I’ll go see her. Senior Brother, eat the snacks first. I’ll get the kitchen to make something else later.”

Mu Ting looked at the exquisite snacks on the plate that he had never eaten in his life and deeply felt that the other party’s background was not simple. Was it really not like asking a tiger for its skin to make a deal with such a group of people?

While Mu Ting was deeply worried about his and his junior brothers' situation, Mu Qing came to Ping'er's room. His senior sister, Zhou Yuyan, was temporarily staying here.

As soon as he arrived at the door, she heard a rude shout. "Where is this? Who are you?!"

Right on the heels of that, it was Ping'er's soft voice. "Miss Zhou, you're awake? I'm Ping'er. This is my room. My Young Madam instructed me to take care of you. You've been unconscious for the entire night. Are you hungry? I'll go get you something to eat."

"How do you know who I am?" Zhou Yuyan glared at Ping'er warily.

"I..." Ping'er was stunned by her question. You're who Young Madam said you are. Is there a need to ask?

"Miss Ping'er, go busy yourself first. I'll take care of my senior sister." Mu Qing appeared in time and helped Ping'er out.

Ping'er carried a bunch of clothes and left.

Zhou Yuyan had been locked up in the prison for so many days and was already in a sorry state. When she was unconscious, Ping'er had changed her clothes. She could not wear Yu Wan's clothes and was wearing Ping'er.

Zhou Yuyan looked at the coarse linen clothes and frowned in disdain!

Mu Qing glanced at her and walked over with a smile. He sat down by the bed. "There aren't many female guests on the ship. It's the middle of the night, so we can only find Miss Ping'er's clothes. Make do with it first."

This set was new to Pinger. She couldn't bear to wear it the first time.

Zhou Yuyan finally had a good expression when she saw Mu Qing. “Qing’er, where are we?”

Mu Qing explained what he had explained to Mu Ting to Zhou Yuyan. Zhou

Yuyan’s reaction was also very surprised. “What? You agree to bring them to the Sorcerer Clan just like that? You don’t even know what they are.. What if they kill us when we reach the Sorcerer Clan?”

Chapter 940: Domineering Brother Jiu, Wife Protection Maniac (3)

“You’re thinking too much, Senior Sister. They’re good people,” Mu Qing said confidently.

Zhou Yuyan curled her lips. “You’ve been deceived since you were young. How can the good people you’re talking about be good people? How about this? They saved us. We’ll tell them the map to the Sorcerer Clan and let them go themselves.”

Mu Qing said, “But without the Great Sorcerer, they can’t enter the territory of the Sorcerer Clan.”

Zhou Yuyan snorted. “Aren’t they very powerful? They can just go to the Sacred Clan’s island and catch a few powerful sorcerers!”

Mu Qing said seriously, “Senior Sister, I’ve already promised them. I can’t back on my word.”

Rumble

Zhou Yuyan wanted to refute, but her stomach growled.

Coincidentally, at this moment, Ping'er came over with a plate of snacks. Other than the crab roe crisps in the morning, there were two other things that had just been baked. The rich fragrance of food filled the room.

"Miss Zhou, please enjoy." Ping'er placed the snacks on the stool by the bed and turned to leave.

Zhou Yuyan was the biological daughter of Mu Qing's master and the eldest daughter of the sect. Her days were naturally much more luxurious than Mu Qing and Mu Ting. She originally thought that it was not something that could enter her mouth, but who knew that after taking a bite, it was so delicious that she almost cried.

She was dumbfounded. "What... What kind of ship is this? The food is so delicious

Mu Qing smiled and said, "Mrs. Yan taught the chef to make it."

Zhou Yuyan noticed that when her junior brother mentioned that woman, his eyes were so bright that they seemed to be glowing. One had to know that in the past, her junior brother would only show such an expression when he mentioned her.

"Why? Do you like that Mrs. Yan very much?" Zhou Yuyan said sourly.

Mu Qing nodded frankly. "Mrs. Yan is beautiful and good-hearted. She's the most perfect woman I've ever seen! Unfortunately, she's married. Otherwise, I might really like her!"

Zhou Yuyan was so angry that she lost her appetite. She threw the snacks back onto the plate!

Mu Qing and the others stayed on the ship since then. The few people from the Sacred Clan had already been thrown off the island by Yan Jiuchao when they stopped to replenish their supplies. There were no more hidden dangers on the ship, and even Mu Qing was much bolder.

Although it was a deal, it still saved them. Mu Ting personally thanked Yan Jiuchao and Yu Wan.

Mu Qing's senior brother was not difficult to get along with.

The difficult thing was that little senior sister.

Perhaps it was because she was the daughter of the sect master, but she had been spoiled since she was young. Now that she had nothing, she still had the temper of a young lady. At first, she was not satisfied with wearing the clothes of a servant. Yu Wan asked Ping'er to make her clothes smaller and bring them to her. Then, she was picky about her residence and thought that she, a young lady, should not squeeze in the same room as a maidservant.

Ping'er braced herself and waited for Yu Wan's instructions. That young lady was so good at causing trouble. Young Madam must be furious, right? Young Madam was still pregnant. She couldn't let such a thing affect the fetus.

Yu Wan was not so easily agitated. She lay on the deck and basked in the sun lazily. She said to Ping'er, "Go and ask around if any shippers are willing to give up their rooms. The price is negotiable."

"Yes," Ping'er replied and left.

In the end, they spent ten times the money to rent a boatman's room. However, when it was time to move, Zhou Yuyan changed her words. "That place is too far away. I'm not moving. Let them move! I'll stay in their house!"

The corners of Shadow Six's mouth twitched.

Shadow Thirteen looked at her expressionlessly.

Ping'er thought to herself, It's over, it's over. She actually touched Young Master and Young Madam's personal guards. Young Madam is going to sentence her to death!

Yu Wan smiled. "Alright, as you wish."

Zhou Yuyan lived in the room she liked as she wished. When Mu Qing and her senior brother cleaned up the room for her, they said earnestly, "Senior Sister, you should stop when you can. Don't go overboard."

Zhou Yuyan snorted. "How did I go overboard? Don't think I don't know that these rooms are the best for lighting. The guest rooms they bought are just for low-grade shippers. Do you think I'm a beggar?"

"Our current situation is no different from a beggar..." Mu Qing muttered softly. Mu Ting gave him a look, indicating for him to shut up and not anger Zhou Yuyan.

They had only survived until today because their master had taken them in, not to mention that their master had died to lure away the pursuers for Mu Qing. Logically speaking, they should take good care of their master's only flesh and blood in the world.

"Sigh." Mu Qing sighed helplessly.

Mu Ting patted his shoulder and whispered, "Junior Brother, don't worry too much. We made a deal with them to begin with. We don't owe them anything.

The higher the price they're willing to spend, the more dangerous this trip is. We're risking our lives to lead them.. What's wrong with letting Junior Sister live comfortably? Is there anything wrong?"
