Section 121

We can't let the demon army attack all the way to the defensive formation of the Demon City.

Although the Sealing Heaven Forbidden Formation has strong defensive capabilities.

But facing the attacks of so many demon armies, it's hard to say how long it can withstand.

Thinking of this, Zhang Yuhe's expression moved slightly.

Avatars flashed around him.

He stretched out his hand and waved.

“Go.”

Three thousand avatars quickly spread to both sides of the city wall, distributed on the city wall that was hundreds of thousands of miles long.

Zhang Yuhe pinched the magic formula.

These avatars attacked the demon army outside the city at the same time.

Blazing Flames, Galaxy Dragon Fist, Thunder Shining in the World...

Three thousand magical powers covered the demon army outside the city at the same time.

“Ahhh...”

“Uh uh uh...”

Facing the attack of three thousand refining virtual avatars, the demon army outside the city was instantly wiped out.

Except for a few demons in the refining virtual fusion realm, a large number of demons fell in this wave of attacks.

Chapter 113: Demons temporarily retreat

Seeing the large number of demons falling, Mo Yuetian quickly adjusted his strategy.

He reorganized the demon army.

Each army was led by a virtual or combined demon, and they kept a distance from each other.

To avoid being killed too many in one wave.

After the adjustment, the demon army continued to attack the Demon City.

It was just that the intensity of the attack was far less fierce than at the beginning.

The monks on the city wall were very easy to deal with.

Everyone either used magical weapons or controlled the demon-killing crossbow and the god-breaking cannon.

They focused their fire on those demons who tried to approach the city wall.

The offensive and defensive situation was reversed instantly.

Facing the fierce attacks of the monks on the city wall, the demon army was exhausted.

They almost had no chance to take time to attack the defensive light curtain above the town demon city.

Occasionally, some demons attacked the city light curtain, but they were basically intercepted by the monks.

If it weren't for the fact that there were still ten Mahayana realms outside, everyone would have wanted to rush out and kill them fiercely.

The battle lasted for sixteen days.

In the past sixteen days, the demon army has launched countless attacks on the Demon City.

However, the defensive light curtain above the Demon City has been as stable as Mount Tai.

There is no sign of shaking.

At the end of the battle, Mo Yuetian had no choice but to order the troops to retreat.

In this battle, the demons lost a large number of elite forces and even seriously injured a demon guard.

As for the results of the battle?

It can be said to be zero.

Because the cultivators stood on the city wall and were protected by the defensive formation, they would not be hurt at all.

And the Sealing Heaven Forbidden Spirit Formation did not suffer too much consumption under the brave resistance of the cultivators.

As time goes by, it will soon recover.

Seeing the demon army retreat, Zhang Yuhe flew to Feng Xiaotian and said to him.

"Master, there should be nothing here for the time being. I will go back to practice first."

"Okay."

Feng Xiaotian smiled and nodded in response.

In today's battle, Zhang Yuhe's strength shocked him greatly.

Even the middle-stage Mahayana Demon Guards could not block Zhang Yuhe's punch.

As for the early Mahayana demons, they dared not approach at all.

Although they were standing on the city wall, they had the blessing effect of the formation.

Everyone's strength will be improved to a certain extent.

But this improvement is more of a quantitative improvement, and there will be no qualitative change.

It is completely impossible to rely on the improvement of the formation to fight across levels.

If this is possible, he will not be arguing with Mo Yuetian.

Instead, he will turn around and think of a way to defeat other Demon Guards.

However, this is impossible.

Feng Xiaotian knows his own strength.

With the blessing of the formation, he may be able to fight against the middle-stage Mahayana Demon Guards.

But he will definitely not take any advantage.

So he chose to delay Mo Yuetian to prevent the late Mahayana Demon Palace Master.

from causing too much damage to the defensive formation of the Demon City.

However, Zhang Yuhe was able to severely injure the middle-stage Mahayana Demon Guard with one punch.

This shows that Zhang Yuhe's strength is much stronger than his.

Thinking of Zhang Yuhe, he had just been promoted to the Mahayana realm for less than a year.

He has such strong strength.

If he is given more time to practice.

Once he practices to the middle stage of Mahayana, the demons outside may not be a concern.

Feng Xiaotian believes that with Zhang Yuhe's talent, it does not take too much time to practice to the middle stage of Mahayana.

Maybe in a few hundred or a thousand years, Zhang Yuhe can break through.

What he has to do now is to delay the demons as much as possible and buy more time for Zhang Yuhe to practice.

Feng Xiaotian plans that as long as there is no major change, he will not let Zhang Yuhe come out to support.

Zhang Yuhe flew back to Yinhe Peak, and he kept the three thousand incarnations on the city wall for defense.

But the original body returned to Yinhe Peak and planned to practice in seclusion.

Unless the demons can really threaten the safety of the Demon City.

Otherwise, he would continue to practice until the middle stage of Mahayana before coming out of retreat.

Zhang Yuhe threw out the Gathering Spirit Tower, and then stepped into the nine-story practice platform.

The demon army retreated, and the entire Demon Suppression City was boiling.

With everyone's brave efforts, the fierce tide of the demon attack was finally repelled.

After this battle, the majestic image of Patriarch Zhang became more deeply rooted in people's hearts.

In this battle, many cultivators saw that Zhang Laozu severely injured the Mahayana demon with one punch.

He also transformed into three thousand incarnations, each of which had the strength of the Refining Void Realm.

The three thousand incarnations were like three thousand mighty artillery platforms, beating the demon army into dust and making it impossible to get close to the city wall.

Zhang Laozu's strong strength and magical incarnation skills made everyone admire him.

In everyone's opinion.

Even without the help of other cultivators, Zhang Laozu alone could firmly defend the Demon Suppression City.

Zhang Laozu was so powerful, so what did the demons have to fear.

...

Compared with the Demon Suppression City, the cultivators were excited.

There was a dead silence in the Demon God Palace.

After a series of battles, they did not get the desired results.

Although everyone was mentally prepared for the defense of the Demon Suppression City.

After all, the Demon Suppression City was a fortress that Dao Shengzong had worked hard to build.

It was indeed not that easy to break through.

What no one expected was that after a series of battles, they didn't make any progress at all.

If they continued like this, how long would it take for them to break through the Demon Suppression City?

Can they still break through the Demon Suppression City?

The Demon Guards were completely unsure.
