Chapter 143

Thinking of this, Feng Xiaotian was extremely excited.

Zhang Yuhe ignored Feng Xiaotian's thoughts, he stretched out his hand and quickly carved in the void.

Invisible array patterns slowly appeared in the air.

All the lightning-absorbing pillars on the edge of the lake were connected together.

When the last array pattern was carved.

He quickly pinched the magic formula.

A light blue light curtain slowly rose above the lake.

The light curtain was like a giant bowl, upside down on the lake.

Seeing that the array was successfully arranged, Zhang Yuhe breathed a sigh of relief.

After many improvements, the effect of the Renshui lightning-absorbing array in weakening the heavenly tribulation must be extraordinary.

This is also where his confidence lies.

Otherwise, he really didn't dare to easily lead the heavenly tribulation to come.

Originally, the heavenly tribulation he faced every time was extremely abnormal.

Without this preparation, he would never try it easily.

After the Renshui lightning-absorbing array was arranged, Zhang Yuhe took out a jade slip, handed it to Feng Xiaotian, and then spoke.

"This records the Renshui lightning absorption array that I have improved."

"After I pass the tribulation, these lightning absorption columns will be handed over to the sect for use."

Feng Xiaotian took the jade slip and said excitedly.

"Thank you, senior brother."

"We are all fellow disciples, so you don't have to be polite, sect master."

Zhang Yuhe waved his hand gently, and then said slowly.

"I'm going to start."

"Okay, I wish you a smooth passage through the tribulation and attain immortality."

After Feng Xiaotian finished speaking, he bowed and turned into a stream of light and left.

After a while, Zhang Yuhe was the only one left within a radius of tens of millions of miles.

He took a deep breath, then slowly sat cross-legged in the center of the high platform, mumbling to himself.

"I have been practicing Taoism for two thousand years, and I will become an immortal today."

Zhang Yuhe slowly circulated the Hunyuan Heavenly Scripture, and the spiritual energy within a radius of tens of millions of miles quickly gathered towards the direction of Thunder Lake like a swarm of bees.

Soon, an amazing breath emanated from him.

The breath passed through the entire Yunmang Mountains and quickly swept into the distance.

The amazing breath was like the arrival of a true immortal, and even the prefectures hundreds of millions of miles away.

could feel this terrifying pressure.

The cultivators of the entire Yufantian could not help but look up at the sky.

They all knew that today was the day when the Taoist Patriarch Zhang would receive the great heavenly tribulation.

Perhaps after today, the fourth ascended cultivator will be born in Yufantian.

The emergence of four true immortals in one world is enough to show the prosperity of the Yufantian immortal path.

After the breath passed through the heaven and earth.

The sky, which was originally sunny, darkened in an instant.

The sky was covered with dark clouds, and the terrifying pressure enveloped the entire Yufantian world.

Everyone was so oppressed that they could not breathe, and everyone walked out of the house.

Silently looking at the sky, waiting for the news that Zhang Yuhe had successfully passed the tribulation.

Chapter 132 The World-Destroying Heavenly Tribulation

Zhang Yuhe looked up at the sky.

I saw that the dark clouds in the sky quickly gathered and gradually turned into colorful clouds.

Seeing this situation, he couldn't help but feel very surprised.

"This heavenly tribulation seems to be a little wrong."

He had previously had records of the elders' tribulation in the sect.

The great heavenly tribulation that the elders led was not much different from the heavenly tribulation of breaking through the realm at the beginning.

They all formed thunder and lightning in the dark clouds.

It's just that the power of the great heavenly tribulation is many times stronger than the ordinary heavenly tribulation.

However, what's the matter with these colorful clouds in the sky?

Is it to celebrate his immortality in advance?

Obviously, this is impossible.

Looking at the colorful clouds in the sky, Zhang Yuhe's heart shuddered.

The unknown is the most terrifying.

Before the heavenly tribulation officially came, a scene beyond his cognition appeared.

This made him a little flustered.

Suddenly, the colorful clouds in the sky quickly gathered to form a five-colored sea of thunder.

Even if the thunder hadn't fallen yet, Zhang Yuhe could feel the terrifying breath.

The five-colored thunder seemed to contain the five elements.

This was completely out of his understanding of the heavenly tribulation.

Zhang Yuhe originally thought.

The thunder that descended from the heavenly tribulation was naturally of thunder attribute.

Aren't thunder and lightning all thunder?

However, what the hell was this five-element aura that filled the sky?

The heavenly tribulation did not give him too much time to think.

The thunder in the sky was like a raging fire, and it seemed like the collapse of heaven and earth.

It rushed straight to the center of the lake.

Zhang Yuhe waved his right hand, and nine flying swords slowly rotated around him.

Layers of sword energy light curtains formed quickly.

Not only that, he also sacrificed a purple seal that floated above his head.

After he did all this, the five-color thunder had already arrived above the lake.

The Renshui Thunder Absorption Array emitted a light blue light curtain.

When the thunder touched the light curtain, it was pulled by the light curtain and quickly slid to the edge of the lake.

Boom...

The earth-shaking roar continued to sound around.

Many small thunders were pulled into the lake, stirring up a sky-high water column.

A large number of dead fish floated on the lake.

After the thunder passed through the light curtain, it quickly struck the Nine Heavens Hunyuan Sword Formation.

The sword formation made a slight vibration, and then returned to normal.

Seeing this, Zhang Yuhe finally breathed a sigh of relief.

"It's so scary."

When he saw the five-colored thunderbolt just now, he thought it was something super abnormal.

Now it seems that it is not so exaggerated.

After being weakened by the Renshui Thunderbolt Absorption Array.

The five-colored thunderbolt could not even shake a layer of sword energy light curtain.

You know, in order to deal with this first wave of heavenly tribulation.

Just now, he used all his strength to activate the Nine Heavens Hunyuan Sword Array, forming countless sword energy light curtains around him.

Now it seems that he was too cautious.

These five-colored heavenly tribulations seem terrible, but they are still within his tolerance range.

Of course.

This is mainly due to the Renshui Thunderbolt Absorption Array that he has improved many times.

This formation, which was built by Zhang Yuhe at a great cost, showed a powerful ability to resist heavenly tribulations.

After being weakened by the blue light curtain, the originally terrifying heavenly tribulation was only 20% to 30% at most.

This power could not threaten him at all.

After surviving the first wave of heavenly tribulations, Zhang Yuhe relaxed completely.

Although this is just the beginning.

The Ascension Heavenly Tribulation is also called the Nine-Nine Heavenly Tribulations, with a total of 81 thunder attacks.
