"You must not relax in your cultivation."

Zhang Yuhe thought silently.

As long as he practices fast enough and is strong enough, he can nip any crisis in the bud.

If he could deal with the evolved monsters with a wave of his hand, then Blue Star would naturally be at peace.

The world will still be beautiful, so it won't affect him.

Back home, Zhang Yuhe sat on the sofa and closed his eyes in deep thought.

It is impossible to practice cultivation now.

Without enough spiritual energy, cultivation will be completely ineffective.

Practicing for a whole day in Blue Star may not be as effective as practicing one breath at Dao Sheng Sect.

Although you cannot practice, you can recall your previous practice experiences and look for various deficiencies.

Zhang Yuhe sat on the sofa, thinking about the various knowledge he learned from the library.

...

Chapter 20 The natal magic weapon, the Nine Heavens Hunyuan Sword

As night fell, when the time came to eight o'clock in the evening, Zhang Yuhe quickly entered Yu Fantian.

Time gradually passed, and the news that Daosheng Sect had an additional inner disciple slowly spread among the disciples.

It's just that no one has seen him and doesn't know his origin. From time to time, when disciples pass by Galaxy Peak, they can't help but look up the mountain.

However, with the Galaxy Peak formation activated, nothing could be seen from the outside.

A week has passed in Blue Star time, and Zhang Yuhe has been practicing in Daosheng Sect for almost two years.

On this day, countless spiritual energy surged toward Galaxy Peak. Zhang Yuhe sat cross-legged on the training platform, looking slightly nervous.

He continuously guided the spiritual energy and injected it into the Dantian.

I don't know how much time passed, but the gathered spiritual energy slowly dissipated, and Zhang Yuhe finally let out a long sigh of relief.

"Finally we have reached the realm of golden elixir."

After nearly two years of training, he has never gone out and has been practicing at Galaxy Peak, all the way from building to the realm of golden elixir.

This kind of cultivation speed is definitely unique in the entire Yu Fantian.

Zhang Yuhe spent two years completing the journey that most monks take in a lifetime.

"Zhou Cao, what's going on?"

When he checked the situation in his Dantian, his expression became a little dull.

Only a golden bead was seen, suspended above the sea of spiritual energy in the dantian, like a golden sun.

"Am I considered to be in the Golden Elixir realm? Is this golden bead my Golden Elixir?"

Looking at the situation in Dantian, Zhang Yuhe couldn't help but feel a little suspicious.

According to his understanding, the process of monks condensing the golden elixir should be to solidify all the liquid spiritual energy in the Dantian into a golden elixir.

But his sea of spiritual energy still exists, but there is an extra golden sun.

"This should be considered a golden elixir."

Zhang Yuhe felt his own aura, which was obviously much stronger than before.

"It's true that it's the Golden Core Realm."

After repeated confirmations, Zhang Yuhe finally came up with the answer. After all, aura does not lie.

After getting up and leaving the pavilion, Zhang Yuhe waved his right hand and a purple flying sword floated in front of him.

"go."

The flying sword leaped across the sky and instantly struck the lake at the foot of the mountain.

The sword light slashed down, splitting the entire lake into two, and countless dead fish floated up.

After a long time, the lake surface returned to calm.

"Return."

Zhang Yuhe made a casual move, and the purple flying sword returned to him in an instant.

"good."

Seeing the effect of the flying sword, Zhang Yuhe nodded with satisfaction.

After breaking through the golden elixir, his strength has obviously improved by leaps and bounds.

With his current strength, if he could walk down the mountain, he would definitely be considered a master.

After all, Jindan cultivators are not weaklings no matter where they are.

And Zhang Yuhe, a golden elixir cultivator, is obviously something special.

Although he has never officially fought against anyone, he feels that he is many times stronger than the Golden Core cultivator of the same level.

"Why are you thinking about this? I don't fight with anyone anyway."

Thinking of this, Zhang Yuhe couldn't help but shook his head.

He is an otaku who cultivates immortality, and fighting prowess is not what he pursues.

He just wants to practice quietly, set a small goal first, overcome the tribulation and ascend.

Zhang Yuhe made a casual move, and the purple flying sword landed in his hand.

High-grade magic weapon, the Milky Way.

This flying sword was refined by himself. The flying sword used by the sixth son of the Wu family had already been thrown into the garbage heap by him.

In the past two years, while practicing, Zhang Yuhe also took the time to study the alchemy array talismans, and achieved some successes.

He doesn't need to go out to look for materials, he can buy them in the game system trading market.

During this period of time, the strength of other players has also gradually improved, and most players have already established a firm foothold in Yu Fantian.

Some of the players who are practicing fast have reached the fourth or fifth level of Qi refining.

This kind of cultivation is enough to support them walking in small places.

As the player's strength increases, the items in the trading market gradually become richer.

Some items are exploded by players when they fight monsters, and more are resold by players from the natives.

Doing business is the genetic instinct of Blue Star people, even in Yu Fantian.

Zhang Yuhe buys materials from the trading market, then refines some low-end elixirs and magic weapons for sale. He occasionally draws talisman paper and makes formation disks.

In the eyes of other players, Zhang Yuhe seems to be a big businessman in the world of immortality.

No one would believe that he made these things himself.

Everyone thought that he had taken advantage of some indigenous power and helped them to run their business.

"It's time to refine a life magic weapon for myself."

Zhang Yuhe put away the Galaxy Flying Sword and came to the refining room in the pavilion.

After entering the Jindan realm, a cultivator can refine a magic weapon into a life magic weapon.

The life magic weapon can be gradually improved as the cultivator's realm improves.

And compared with ordinary magic weapons, life magic weapons are more powerful and consume less.

Every cultivator above the Jindan realm has his own life magic weapon.

Zhang Yuhe naturally had to get one for himself. The life magic weapon he planned to refine was called the Nine Heavens Hunyuan Sword.

This is the method of refining the life magic weapon that comes with the Hunyuan Heavenly Scripture.

In fact, most exercises have methods of refining their own magical powers and life magic weapons.

It's just that the Nine Heavens Hunyuan Sword is a bit special, because it is a set of life magic weapons composed of nine flying swords.

The nine swords can be used together to form the Nine Heavens Hunyuan Sword Formation, which is both offensive and defensive, and extremely powerful.

Zhang Yuhe is somewhat looking forward to it. After refining the Nine Heavens Hunyuan Sword, he will see if it is as powerful as described in the technique.

Walking into the refining room, a tall four-legged tripod stands quietly in it.

Top-grade magic weapon, the Four Beasts Tripod.

Zhang Yuhe sat cross-legged and took out the materials for refining the Nine Heavens Hunyuan Sword one by one.

It took him a long time to collect these materials.

Some of them were purchased by other players on his behalf.

Because those materials are too precious, no player will sell them on the trading market.

In the past two years, he has refined pills, magic weapons, drawn talismans, and made array plates, and the spirit stones he earned have basically become these materials.

There is only one set of materials. If it fails, it will take a lot of time to collect the materials.

However, Zhang Yuhe is not worried. Since the first time he practiced refining, he has not known what failure is.

It has always been a success, without exception.

Throwing the materials into the Four Beasts Cauldron one by one, Zhang Yuhe pinched the magic formula with his hands, and a scorching flame ignited under the cauldron.

While practicing the Hunyuan Heavenly Scripture, he separated his spiritual consciousness and observed the changes in the cauldron at any time.

After all the materials melted, Zhang Yuhe kept pinching the magic formula with his hands, and used his spiritual consciousness to shape the melted materials into nine small flying swords.

After a long time, Zhang Yuhe waved his right hand, the lid of the cauldron flew up, and the nine flying swords slowly emerged.

These nine flying swords are different, but the aura emitted by the flying swords is connected.

Zhang Yuhe extinguished the flame, took out the flying swords, and picked up one of them to examine it carefully.

The flying sword is crystal clear as a whole, and the surface is like flowing water. This is a water-attributed flying sword.

On the hilt of the flying sword, three small characters "Galaxy. Water" are engraved in cursive.
