

TOP TALENT, GAME UPGRADE

Section 3

When he saw the item of comprehension, Zhang Yuhe couldn't help scratching his head again.

Doesn't the website say that the range of players' comprehension is 1-10?

What do these three question marks mean?

"Does it mean that my comprehension has already exceeded the limit?"

You can't say that he is a fool with zero comprehension.

"Well, put aside the things that you don't understand."

Zhang Yuhe didn't get too entangled, but quickly scanned other parts of the attribute panel.

The skills are built-in. When he first entered the game, there seemed to be some strange things in his mind, telling him how to practice.

Probably this Qi-inducing Art.

Needless to say, he is still a mortal, so he naturally doesn't have any magic skills.

After a long time, Zhang Yuhe moved his eyes away from the attribute panel with a sense of satisfaction and looked at other parts of the game system.

The game system of "Yufantian" is very simple, with only four functions.

Personal attribute panel, chat channel, trading market, and another option to log out.

He clicked on the trading market and took a look. It was empty.

This was normal.

Everyone had just entered the game and was single.

There was nothing to sell, and no money to buy anything.

"Let's see what everyone is talking about."

Zhang Yuhe clicked on the chat channel.

Strings of text quickly passed by his eyes.

"Damn, are you all so excited? You're posting messages here."

Unlike ordinary games, there is only one chat channel in "Yufantian".

Unlike other games, there are no regional channels or national channels.

According to sampling statistics, there are nearly 10 million players on the entire Blue Star who have been tested for the qualifications of cultivating immortals.

With so many people crowded in one channel to chat, as long as there are a few chatty people, the information will indeed be posted very quickly.

"Damn, this isn't a game at all, it's obviously a real world."

"Indeed, no matter how advanced the technology is, it can't produce such an effect."

"Are you guys kidding me? You're already cultivating immortals, why are you still talking to me about science?"

"Since you're here, why are you talking about those useless things? How are everyone's qualifications? I only have a fourth-grade fire spirit root, wuwuwu..."

"Fourth-grade is fine, I have a second-grade spirit root, I don't want to talk at all."

"Third-grade gold spirit root is passing by."

"Fifth-grade water spirit root is passing by." Roots, it's okay."

"A scumbag with first-grade earth spiritual roots, I want to go back to Blue Star and cultivate immortals."

"Don't panic, our generation of cultivators is to go against the will of heaven."

"Go against the will of heaven, just hang in there for now, if it doesn't work, go offline and sleep early."

"That's right, it's a good thing there is an offline function, otherwise it would be a bit scary."

"Haha, I have seventh-grade fire spiritual roots, come quickly if you want to hug my thigh."

"Little brother with seventh-grade spiritual roots, where are you from, come and take me flying."

...

Chapter 3 Qi Training Fourth Level

After closing the chat channel, Zhang Yuhe thought for a while.

According to his observation, most players have low-grade spiritual roots in their cultivation qualifications.

There are also a small number of people with middle-grade spiritual roots.

As for high-grade spiritual roots, he only found one after looking at the chat channel for a long time.

Of course, there must be other low-key Lao Liu, just like him.

Just peeking at the screen silently, not saying anything.

Another thing, Zhang Yuhe found that everyone's birth point in Yufantian seemed to be similar.

Either they were born in a broken temple or a broken Taoist temple, or they were born in an uninhabited wilderness village.

Anyway, no player has come into contact with the natives of Yufantian yet.

It's really weird, how big is Yufantian, where are there so many broken places?

This made his idea of getting more information about Yufantian by checking the players' chats go awry.

"Forget it, let's see what this place is first, and then practice quickly."

Zhang Yuhe looked carefully at the broken Taoist temple where he was.

A ray of sunlight shone through several holes on the top and shone on the ground.

The walls of the Taoist temple were mottled and falling off, and the door panels of the gate had long disappeared.

Looking outside through the gate.

I saw dense forests and mountains outside the gate, and from time to time, unknown beasts roared and birds chirped.

He couldn't help but shudder when he heard it.

"It's a bit scary to stay in this ghost place alone."

There is no trace of human activity nearby, which makes Zhang Yuhe a little panicked.

"Practice first."

Strength is the courage of a hero.

Without strength, there is no sense of security in any environment. As long as you practice hard enough, you can go anywhere in the world.

Zhang Yuhe sat cross-legged with his eyes closed, and carefully recalled the Qi-inducing Art he had just obtained when he entered Yufantian.

Yufantian is different from other games.

According to Zhang Yuhe's understanding, this should be a real world in the skin of a game.

The so-called players are just collectively traveling back and forth.

If players want to improve their strength here, they can only do so through continuous practice.

There is no experience value for killing monsters, but some items will occasionally explode.

As for the explosion rate, no one knows yet.

After all, everyone has just come in, and no one should have killed monsters yet.

As the technique is running, the spiritual energy around him began to slowly gather towards him.

The spiritual energy slowly injects into the Dantian Qi Sea through the meridians along a specific route.

This feeling is very magical.

After a while, a slightly strong breath rose from his body, then spread around, blowing up the dust in the area.

"Is this an upgrade?"

Zhang Yuhe showed a surprised expression.

This speed is a bit too fast.

How long has it been?

Ten minutes or twenty minutes?

Zhang Yuhe felt that there was a breath slowly flowing in his dantian.

He threw a punch casually, and the breath in his dantian instantly passed through his fist and gushed forward.

Boom...

A rotten wooden board not far away was directly broken in half.

"Uh, so strong."

Breaking the wooden board with a punch in the air, this scene that can only be seen on TV now appears on himself.

It's very exciting to think about it.

Zhang Yuhe quickly summoned the attribute panel.

Name: Zhang Yuhe

Sect: None

Realm: First level of Qi training

Spiritual roots: Gold (Dao Pin), Wood (Dao Pin), Water (Dao Pin), Fire (Dao Pin), Earth (Dao Pin), Wind (Dao Pin), Thunder (Dao Pin), Ice (Dao Pin)

Special physique: Hunyuan Dao body

Luck: Good fortune

Comprehension: ???

Kung Fu: Qi-inducing Secret

Magic and magical powers: None

“Haha, I really upgraded.”

Zhang Yuhe was very happy to see that his realm had changed to the first level of Qi training.