

TOP TALENT, GAME UPGRADE

Section 7

After the giant tiger fell to the ground, two boxes flashed in front of him.

One was a wooden box like the previous one, and the other was shining with golden light.

"Haha, a golden treasure box, this time I should be able to open something good, I hope to give me a foundation-building period technique."

Seeing the golden treasure box appear, Zhang Yuhe was very excited.

He now especially needs a foundation-building period technique. Without a technique, he can't practice, and he will always be in the Qi training stage.

After Qi training, it is foundation building.

Although it is said that in the native city, you can also buy a technique.

But that costs money, and he doesn't know when he will earn enough money to buy a technique.

If a technique is directly exploded, wouldn't it be better?

The rhythm cannot be interrupted, it will be very uncomfortable if it is interrupted.

Zhang Yuhe opened the golden box with excitement.

"Uh, it's not a secret book."

A black token lay quietly in the treasure box. At first glance, this thing has nothing to do with secret books.

Zhang Yuhe picked up the token in disappointment. He saw the words "Yufantian" written on the front of the token, and "Daosheng" written on the back.

"Daosheng? Could it be related to Daosheng Sect?"

According to the descriptions of the players who arrived at the city, in the world of Yufantian, the indigenous forces exist in the form of families or gangs.

As for the sect, there is only one sect in the entire world of Yufantian, and that is Daosheng Sect.

Daosheng Sect is the heaven of Yufantian, and it is the one and only existence.

If other forces want to establish a sect, they will be immediately destroyed by Daosheng Sect.

It is very domineering.

Any item related to Daosheng Sect will not be simple.

Zhang Yuhe carefully looked at the token in his hand, but he could not see why.

I don't know what this thing is used for.

"Is it an identity token left behind by a disciple of Daosheng Sect after his death? Or is this an exchange voucher, and I can find Daosheng Sect to exchange items with the token?"

Zhang Yuhe held the token and scratched his head.

It was awkward to hold a treasure in hand but not know how to use it.

He tried to input spiritual energy into the token.

Suddenly, a message appeared in his mind.

[The token of Daosheng Sect, you can join Daosheng Sect with the token. ]

"Fuck..."

Zhang Yuhe was completely stunned.

This token turned out to be a token, and you can join Daosheng Sect with this token.

The huge surprise knocked him out.

Originally, if they wanted to survive in Yufantian for a long time, they had to find a way to join the indigenous forces.

After all, all resources are controlled by the indigenous people, whether it is spiritual veins or secret manuals of exercises.

If they want, they have to find indigenous forces, and some things can't be bought by earning spirit stones.

After all, not everything can be bought.

Joining the indigenous forces is the best choice for players.

Since you want to join the indigenous forces, of course you should find a stronger force.

In the world of Yufantian, is there a stronger force than Daosheng Sect?

The answer is no.

This is a super big and thick leg. As long as you hold it firmly, you can practice safely in the future.

As for the resources of the skills, there is no need to worry at all.

If the Daosheng Sect can't get something, there is no need to work hard in other places.

It's just that the Daosheng Sect generally does not recruit disciples publicly, so even if they want to join, they have no way. Now he can join the Daosheng Sect directly through the token.

Thinking of this, Zhang Yuhe couldn't help but be very excited.

Hurry up and set off, find a city first, and then ask how to get to the Daosheng Sect.

Chapter 7 The first close contact with the natives

Zhang Yuhe carefully put the token into his trouser pocket, and then opened the wooden treasure box.

There was only one spiritual stone.

"It's really stingy. Such a fierce monster only gave one spiritual stone."

But he didn't care. With the Daosheng Sect token, what else do you need a bicycle?

Zhang Yuhe put away the spiritual stone and continued on his way, leaving two monster corpses on the spot.

He didn't know in which direction there would be a city of natives. He had been active in this mountain forest for a month and didn't even see a single person.

He couldn't find anyone to ask, so he could only roughly judge the direction based on the mountain terrain.

As for whether he would go the wrong way, only God knows. We should be brave enough to try and make mistakes.

Let's try running in one direction first.

Zhang Yuhe quickly shuttled through the mountains and forests, and avoided monsters when he encountered them.

He was not interested in monsters now. He just wanted to find the native city as soon as possible and then ask how to get to Daosheng Sect.

For him, nothing was more important than going to Daosheng Sect.

Zhang Yuhe didn't want any accidents to happen. What if he died accidentally and dropped the token?

It was uncertain whether the player would drop items when he died.

He didn't want to take any risks.

Running steadily to Daosheng Sect and then joining the sect was the top priority.

As long as he could join Daosheng Sect, with his extraordinary talent for cultivating immortals, he would have a chance to ascend.

This was an opportunity that should not be missed.

Zhang Yuhe ran all the way. After about two hours, he found that the trees around him didn't seem to be as tall as before.

And the mountains began to become gentle.

"Are we about to get out of the forest?"

According to common sense, this should be a sign that we are about to get out of the deep mountains.

"I hope I can meet the natives as soon as possible and ask for directions. It's really frustrating to run around aimlessly like this."

After running for a while, Zhang Yuhe suddenly stopped.

"It seems there is someone."

He listened carefully, and heard the roar of beasts and the sound of fighting in the distance.

The distance was a bit far, and he almost didn't notice it.

"Haha, there is really someone, go and take a look."

Zhang Yuhe restrained his breath and quietly moved towards the direction where the sound came from.

He didn't rush over stupidly, who knows what the fight over there is like.

What if he ran into a hot-tempered native who thought he was stealing monsters and came up to him and stabbed him, wouldn't that be nonsense.

After a while, Zhang Yuhe saw the source of the sound.

I saw a young boy in white, who was controlling a flying sword and fighting a huge wild boar monster.

Behind the young man in white, there was a middle-aged man in green.

It looked like a bodyguard.

Zhang Yuhe roughly imagined that this was a young man, who should come out with guards to experience, but he didn't know if there were other companions nearby.

Looking at the young man in white, he controlled the flying sword gracefully, his body kept dodging, and occasionally shot out small fireballs from his hands.

Zhang Yuhe couldn't help but envy, this is the real cultivation of immortals.

Like him holding a long sword to chop monsters, there is no beauty at all.

Zhang Yuhe sensed the breath of the two people from a distance.

The young man in white was only at the fourth level of Qi training, and he fought the wild boar monster on equal terms.

And the middle-aged man in green was at the sixth level of Qi training.

"Very good, the strength of these two people is not strong, you can contact them with confidence."

Only when you meet someone who is weaker than him can you deal with him with confidence.

If he really meets a native whose cultivation level is hard to see through, he will definitely turn around and leave.

In this desolate mountain and wilderness, if he is chopped by someone, there is no place to complain.

The main reason is that he is carrying the Taoist Token, for fear that it will fall out if he dies.

Otherwise, he doesn't need to be so cautious.

Anyway, his identity is a player, if he is really chopped to death, it will only reduce his training period.

But it's not possible now. He has to stay safe and be cautious.

Zhang Yuhe did not show up immediately, but hid behind a tree and quietly observed the room, because the battle of the young man in white was at a critical moment.
