The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1610

Meanwhile, a circle with a thirty-meter radius was drawn around Alex Rockefeller and Luna Flores.

Luna glanced at Maiko Chiba. "Kill anyone who trespasses the circle without mercy!" Luna ordered.

Maiko looked at Alex before nodding.

Everyone from Floral Valley appeared terrified, their bodies trembling uncontrollably.

Back when Luna fought Herschel Lancaster, her attacks against the Nascent Soul monster seemed terribly weak. She barely left a scratch on him. Hence, outsiders thought she wasn't all that useful. However, they now understood that her level of cultivation was actually this terrifying!

Meanwhile, Herschel's capabilities were only average at best.

Right then, Jasmine Gerbera moved closer to Alcina Bela. "President, let's not offend these two people. Their methods are horrific."

Alcina laughed bitterly. "I just wanted to express my gratitude. Who knew..."

Jasmine looked down. "That's because I previously poisoned her. That's why..."

As soon as she said this, everyone who heard her opened their mouths wide in shock.

She truly was brave beyond reason.

Meanwhile, Alex's Force was automatically working to nourish his wounds with spiritual power. It was quickly repairing the wound around his abdomen. Apart from that, Alex had also taken a few big hits from Herschel. Although he managed to withstand all of them, there were still internal injuries.

"Queen, can I borrow something from you?" Alex asked after coming up with an idea.

"Do you want to eat buns? No!" Luna said unhappily. "I'm already kind enough to let you rest on my chest. It's your reward for saving me like a brave hero," she added.

"No. I want to borrow some of your Demonic Chi. Your Demonic Chi seems to be effective on me," Alex said.

Luna nodded before pressing her hand against his central energy core.

Waves of Demonic Chi gradually entered Alex's body. Suddenly, Alex felt a boiling sensation in his body. It was as if a chemical reaction was taking place with the spiritual energy in his body.

Meanwhile, Luna transmitted a message to him with brain waves. "You'd better keep a secret about me having the true legacy of Demonic Chi. If word gets out, someone with bad intentions might capture me. You won't be able to borrow my true legacy of Demonic Chi anymore."

"What is the true legacy of Demonic Chi?" Alex asked.

"This is a secret technique of the Divine Demonic Method. My primary focus of cultivation is the Cinnabar Spell. I'm able to combine Demonic Chi with the spiritual energy from Cultivation Chi," Luna explained.

"It's that good?" Alex asked.

"That's why I said you wouldn't lose out by becoming my male servant! Many men want it, and yet I've been unwilling!"

"Queen, I want some more!" Alex replied.

A few minutes later, Alex's wounds slowly recovered. He was too impatient to wait for his wounds to recover automatically. After regaining his ability to move, he immediately used his Zharvakko talisman to increase the recovery rate of his wounds until the blood dried up and came off.

'Spiritual Valley Tokens!' Alex suddenly recalled.

He quickly looked for Herschel Lancaster's corpse and dug around in his clothes. Indeed, he found twenty Spiritual Valley Tokens in Herschel's pockets.

The access tokens were actually very small, and they were easy to carry around.

When people from Floral Valley saw that Alex had acquired the Spiritual Valley Tokens, they suddenly couldn't sit still.

Someone wanted to rush over, but as soon as she arrived outside the circle, her heart pounded. She immediately stopped walking. "Young fighter, young fighter!"

"What is it?" Alex turned around and asked.

"Young fighter, those objects in your hands aren't of any use to you. They belong to Floral Valley. Herschel, that sly thief, stole them from us. Can you return them to us?" she asked.

“Do they belong to Floral Valley?” Alex asked while raising his brows. “In that case, tell me what these are called, will you?”

“These are access tokens that belong to Floral Valley’s disciples. They’re called Floral Tokens!” That person replied.

“Floral Tokens?” Alex laughed coldly. He reached out with his hand and directly grabbed the person by her neck through thin air and pulled her over. “Why was I told that these are called Spiritual Valley Tokens? Do you think I’m a fool?” Alex asked.

Luna snorted coldly. “I told you. Why bother saving these people? They are ungrateful b*stards. We should just kill them!”
