The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2151

“Sit down and face me! A bit closer!” Alex instructed again and waited until the high priestess had sat down. This time, he did not ask if he could touch the area around her heart. Instead, he made his move without a word and pressed it right away.

Gasp!

The high priestess jumped in shock. That was too direct. Even she would be flustered!

But soon, she knew that Alex did not deliberately molest her but he was helping her lift the curse. In her eyes, Alex was guiding the cursed power from her body into his own.

“Lord Saint, you’re so great!”

“Even if I have to sacrifice my life, it’ll be difficult to express how moved I am right now.”

‘For a moment, I actually had a thought, if Lord Saint was trying to molest me, I really deserve to die a thousand deaths. How could I tarnish the holy heart of the Lord Saint? If he grabbed that side of mine, I should offer him the other side, right?!’

The high priestess was overwhelmed with self-reproach.

Alex let go of her five minutes later.

He had successfully condensed the ninth golden core as well.

“Alright, next!”

“Lord Saint, don’t you need to rest for a while?” the high priestess said anxiously. She could feel that her curse had been lifted. It was simply amazing.

“No need. Hurry up, go call the others to come in line,” Alex said. “It’d be best that there are no delays in between. It will make me waste a great amount of Chi.”

Soon, all the people in the village came over. A rather long queue had formed at the building’s entrance.

Alex got faster in dispelling the curse. He was slowest when dispelling Lena’s curse previously, but he got slightly faster when it was the high priestess’ turn. However, he got much faster later... It was because realized that the initially condensed golden lake in his golden core now seemed to have split into an estuary connected to the open sea.

A giant, great lake of golden light was condensed at the location of his sea of Chi.

The divine power no longer resided in the golden core.

The divine power inside the great lake of golden light that the nine golden cores condensed, forming a vortex that generated a suction force that absorbed all curses and evil Chi in the Naga tribe members into the golden lake.

His speed got much faster than before. Ten people, twenty people... Fifty people, one hundred people...

Alex did not remember the number of curses he lifted. Anyway, the divine power in his golden lake got increasingly enormous. Now that he already had two hundred million points of divine power, he could even use the Persephone’s Folly Bridge twice.

However, Alex no longer planned to use her.

The high priestess walked in again from outside holding a plate of attractive red fruits. She looked at Alex and said in a grateful yet distressed tone, “Lord Saint, you should rest for a while! I beg you! You can’t exhaust yourself! Lord Saint, take a break and eat some fruits to recover your Chi.”

Alex looked at the plate of fruits. The next second, he was stunned!

‘Is this real?’

Weren't those the heavenly law fruits for the concoction of the heavenly law pill?

This was a holy artifact that even the big shots from those sects would beat their brains out to get their hands on. To his surprise, it seemed to be a tomato like ordinary snack in the high priestess' mouth.

'Listen, just... Just eat a few fruits!'

'Is this a fruit?'

'You're showing off your fortune to me, right?!'

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2152

'Heavenly law fruits? That many heavenly law fruits?'

Alex was about to drool as he looked at the fruits on the plate.

With a single whiff, he seemed to have sensed a gush of colossal cultivation of heaven and earth. As the scent emanated around the entire room, Alex felt goosebumps all over his skin. After looking at the heavenly law fruits, he turned to the high priestess again and asked, "You guys... Call these fruits? Are there a lot of them?"

"There are a lot," said the high priestess. "They are everywhere in the forest behind the village. They improved our cultivation base when we first consumed them, but we felt nothing after we ate them again. Then, everyone ate them as a snack or plucked some when they were thirsty. There were many more we couldn't pick up in time, so they were ruined when they fell on the ground."

Alex clenched his fist over his chest and felt... A heartache!

When he was in America, he once heard his master Jade mention that the few big shots, whose cultivation base had reached the Tribulation Crossing stage, were searching the heavenly law fruits all over the world.

Some of them had even gathered a tremendous amount of manpower to look for the fruits in various secret realms but failed to find anything ever since they found a dried heavenly law fruit. Inside the ancient force field, he also heard his senior Frostine mention that even if there were heavenly law pills, they were extremely rare. It was because of the heavenly law fruit's creation that seized heaven and earth's fortune. Few alchemists could concoct these heavenly law pills.

Hence, the heavenly law pills were something that could only be found serendipitously in the entire great world of America because ancient sanctuary's sects controlled most of them.

But, one should observe and listen.

Not only could the Naga tribe consume the heavenly law fruits anytime and anywhere, but they even treated them as unsalable, worthless objects that no one would pick when they fell to the ground.

What a reckless wastage of natural resources!

'Uhh... Could I have been mistaken? These aren't heavenly law fruits?'

Alex hurriedly grabbed one fruit and stuffed it into his mouth, bursting juice as he chomped on it.

A gush of energy immediately rushed into his body, activating all his meridians.

It was real. It was definitely real.

Buzz!

The golden lake vortex of divine power that had just formed in his body immediately spun faster as if it had sensed something. It seemed it wanted to make the heavenly law fruit's energy its own. However, at the same time, all the acupoints' golden cores that he had just successfully developed, twenty-eight cores in total, also moved in accordance. The twelve ancient, forbidden runes inside glittered and joined the formation in plundering the resources.

Clearly, the twenty eight golden cores couldn't beat the golden lake vortex of divine power that was gradually growing stronger at this moment. The golden lake had plundered the majority of the energy.

This time, the formation of golden cores departed.

‘D*mn, is my Ancient Forbidden Spell just for show?’

Whoosh!

All twenty eight golden cores leaped out of the acupoints.

After entering Alex’s cardiac acupoint, all the golden cores arranged themselves into a cryptic, unfathomable spell formation and flashed like bright stars in the night sky. Once the spell formation was closed, the twenty eight golden cores suddenly jumped and formed a huge furnace. The twelve runes of the Ancient Forbidden Spell on the furnace emitted a bizarre red glow.

A sudden change occurred at once. As soon as the furnace appeared, it instantly squeezed the golden lake of divine power to one side.

The furnace plundered almost all the remaining energy of the heavenly law fruit.

But, it was too little!

How much colossal cultivation of heaven and earth one fruit could contain? The consumption was insufficient at all.

This desire had reached Alex, so he immediately grabbed another fruit and swallowed it.

Wham!

The furnace spun. The golden lake whistled. Both parties began plundering again.

The golden lake was completely defeated and cornered this time, so the acquired resources were less than one-tenth of their original amount.

As for the furnace of forbidden spells, it instantly converted the energy and continued to break through the acupoints in Alex’s body after acquiring the heavenly law fruit’s energy. Previously, Alex had expanded the golden cores to twenty eight after gaining the evil Chi from the curses of hundreds of Naga tribe members. However, it became more difficult later and it almost stopped moving... But now that he had the help of the heavenly law fruit and the furnace of forbidden spells, the speed soared once again.

One, two, three... The acupoints developed rapidly.

The newly formed golden cores merged into the furnace once again.

The heavenly law fruit's energy was not as simple as mere energy, but the power of law and colossal cultivation of heaven and earth contained inside were something that could perfect the previously incomplete rules.

The plate of heavenly law fruits disappeared in the blink of an eye.

Lena blinked. "Lord Saint, this fruit has a little side effect. If you consume too many of them at once, you will feel a bit dizzy. Are you alright?"

"I need more of these fruits," Alex said.

The high priestess was worried. "Lord Saint, are you sure it doesn't matter?"

"No. I'm simply struggling a little as I refine the curses from your people. These fruits contain only helpful elements and won't harm me..."

"Fine, I'll go get them right now!"

She then instructed the villagers. "Shado, Chelly, take a few people with you to the ancestral forest of the back of the village and pluck some wild fruits. Let's pluck ten baskets of them!"

Shocked once again, Alex's hand trembled.

She just casually said ten baskets of fruits. How many heavenly law fruits were actually inside?

After a short while, the heavenly law fruits arrived. They had really plucked ten baskets, with at least several hundred fruits in total. Alex thought he must be dreaming when he saw so many heavenly law fruits.

The next second, the furnace of golden cores in his body suddenly flew out of the cardiac acupoint and appeared above the basketfuls of heavenly law fruits.

The brilliant light the furnace emitted fiercely enveloped a basketful of heavenly law fruits, dragging all of them into it before starting refinement.

Buzz!

As space shook, the rules of heaven and earth poured out, forming a stream of power of great ancient cultivation invisible to the naked eye. When it rushed into Alex's body, his acupoints continuously emitted fried-bean-like explosions and continued the development.

Ten, twenty, thirty...

Ninety nine!

Once the developed acupoint in the body had reached the ninety ninth, the breakthrough stopped.

Or rather, there was no way out.

The one-hundredth acupoint was on the other side of the formation of acupoints, so it was no longer possible to break past it.

Soon, the furnace was dissolved on its own. The ninety nine condensed golden cores returned to Alex's body and quieted down. Only then did the golden lake of holy energy somewhat timidly reappear.

Unfortunately, Alex was, at this moment, already immune to the heavenly law fruits. No matter how many fruits he ate, it showed no effect on him.

"Brat, you've got lots of guts! Out of the many heavenly law fruits you have, you didn't even share one with me!"

A voice suddenly rang in Alex's mind. Persephone's Folly Bridge that he had previously failed to contact popped up all of a sudden.

Alex scoffed and gave her the cold shoulder.

When he fell into the swamp, he had called on this ancestor, but she refused to come to his aid. Thus, he made up his mind that he would ignore her in the future. She was all but a troll! Who could afford to use this expensive and arrogant thing?

"Hey, I'm talking to you! Are you mute?"

“I don’t want to talk to you. I can’t afford to serve you!” As Alex said that, he deliberately channeled a large portion of his divine power into the injured Requiem Clock.

“Oh my, Bro Requiem Clock is still much more reliable. Bro, just tell me if you need any divine power. I’ll prepare as much as possible for you!”

At first, he just wanted to trigger the tool spirit of Persephone’s Folly Bridge. To his surprise, Requiem Clock said, “Thanks!”

It sounded like a real dude.

Persephone’s Folly Bridge screamed... “Rockefeller! Have you forgotten how I saved you before this?”

“I’ve saved you many times. If it weren’t for me, you’d have died ages ago!”

“You’ve embezzled my rations now. Do you have any humanity..?!”

Alex dug his ears and sealed his divine sense, so he could no longer hear the ancestor’s cursing.

When he opened his eyes, a shocking scene greeted him. Without knowing when it was, his daughter Bubbles was sitting in a basket of heavenly law fruits, gobbling them down till her mouth was full of juice.

“Oh, my goodness!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2154

“F*ck! Daughter! Oh, Daughter! You can’t eat these things!”

Jumping in shock, Alex immediately went to stop her. However, he saw her eating till her body was full of juice. Apparently, she had eaten at least a dozen of them.

“Shoot! Shoot!”

“Our daughter is precocious, Daya. So, don’t you ever blame me! Just how old is this child...”

He hurriedly took the wimpy brat out of the basket. At this moment, he heard her burp and call out in a shrill voice.

“Daddy!”

Alex froze on the spot.

A bolt of lightning seemed to have struck him, causing gushing currents to flow in his heart. A happiness called blood connection and something called fatherly love arose spontaneously.

“Haha...”

“Good girl, you can call Daddy already! Say it again so I can hear it! It sounds so nice!”

Bubbles started drooling as she looked at him.

***

“Ah! Lord Saint, what just happened?”

“Oh my, what’s in Little Princess’ mouth? Little Princess, you can’t eat these fruits. You will be precocious if you eat them...”

At this moment, the Naga tribe members seemed to have woken from a dream. A tremendous energy had dragged all of them the moment the furnace of forbidden spell appeared earlier, causing them to fall into a bizarre state. Hence, they had not realized Bubbles’ unusual condition.

Upon hearing it, Alex attempted to weep but failed to shed a tear.

He heard that kids with premature growth wouldn’t grow tall, but his daughter was less than two months old. If she were to grow into a dwarf, Daya would beat him to death.

Some Naga tribe members exclaimed, “Oh, Lord Saint hasn’t lifted my curse, but why do I feel the temperature?”

“Yeah, me too. Has my curse been lifted?”

“Oh gosh, what’s going on?”

“I’ve lifted the curse from you guys. The furnace just now was a useful tool to dispel curses,” Alex said.

The furnace of forbidden spells could refine evil curses, so Alex was quite surprised.

This forbidden spell seemed to be getting stronger. Seeing that there were remaining two baskets of heavenly law fruits, Alex put them away discourteously.

“Lord Saint, you’ve worked all day. Hurry up and get some rest!”

Then, Alex went upstairs with his daughter in his arms. Lena personally served them and even turned her lower serpent half into a pair of snow-white, beautiful legs. She also put away the dorsal fins and whatnot. At a glance, she looked identical to a beautiful human.

Alex was quite satisfied after seeing Lena busy as a bee, meticulously caring for Bubbles. He needed someone slightly older with experience to take care of his child... Like the previous maid Dory and his senior Frostine, they were all people who had never borne a child. How would they know how to take care of children?

Alright, it was just that she was of ancient age.

“Chief, may I ask you a question?”

“Lord Saint, please say it. Oh, don’t call me Chief. Just call me Lena.”

“Alright, Lena!” Alex looked at Lena while sitting on the stool. At this moment, she was bending over to rub Bubbles’ body with her back facing him. More importantly, she was just wearing a set of bizarre tight bikinis, looking as seductive as possible.

Impulse really had nothing to do with race...

Alex looked at her several times. Only then did he ask, “Is this expanse of Nirvana really inside the great Genbu’s body?”

Lena turned around and said, “That’s right. It’s inside the great Genbu’s body, but this place has turned into another world. The space is extremely huge and boundless. According to my ancestors, the great Genbu was the True Martial Sovereign in ancient times. After the invasion of the Undying Clan, it had followed the Grand Emperor Rowan in expeditions for seven thousand years. In the end, it got severely injured and suffered a kind of curse. It has been guarding this place ever since.”

“What has it been guarding?”

“The Undying Clan’s exit!” Lena said.

Alex was taken aback for a moment.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2155

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2155

Alex looked at her in surprise.

Just then, a series of violent tremors rocked the building, and it shook so bad as if it was going to collapse. Even the people standing inside it were a little unstable.

Lena hurriedly held Bubbles in her arms, protecting the infant. She tried to back off at the same time, almost falling to the ground.

Alex instantly rushed over and held her in his arms. “What’s going on? Did an earthquake occur?”

Solemnly, Lena said, “Lord Saint, the great Genbu has made its move. There must have been a major change in the frontline battle. Our Naga army is unable to defend successfully... The great Genbu’s condition keeps worsening, and greater injuries are inflicted every time it makes a move. I’m afraid... It won’t last any longer.”

Alex seemed even more astonished.

According to her, the wonderous land of America was safe now because the great Genbu and Naga tribe had been guarding the exit here... They had simply turned the tables around on the brink of collapse, the saviors of mankind!

Alex suddenly remembered that he was the inheritor of the Ultimate Book of Medicine and wondered if he could treat the great Genbu’s curse and injuries.

However, the more he thought about it, the more impossible he felt it was. The great Genbu was the True Martial Sovereign and Great Being that had fought alongside the emperor of the universe, so how could there be no decent doctors by his side?

It would have been cured ages ago if it was curable.

Alex had not even reached the Immortalization realm, yet he dared think of treating True Martial Sovereign's injuries. He had really bitten off more than he could chew.

Fortunately, the tremors only lasted a while. It calmed down soon.

Lena left Alex's embrace embarrassedly and said, "Lord Saint, you should rest early! The villagers have spread the news of your descent to the Naga tribe through the Aqua Mail. More people will come over tomorrow to meet... Lord Saint, it's great that you can lift our people's curses. We have been waiting for this day for so long."

***

Alex could not sleep well that night for a long time.

He thought about a lot of things... Could the Usoro family in Misty Swamp escape the Plenilune Sect's pursuit successfully? Would the Undying Clan's exit that the great Genbu had been suppressing collapse because of him? Would he and his daughter also die here in the end?

Or rather, what should he do if the great Genbu could not suppress the exit either?

Eventually, he lay beside his daughter but did not manage to fall asleep. It was late at night.

The earth shook violently again. This time, it was much more vigorous than the one during the day. There was even an overwhelming feeling, so Alex hurriedly picked up his daughter and left the building via Instant Teleportation.

Wham!

The stilt building collapsed completely. A few people lumbered out of it.

Alex saw that Shado was the most wretched one, unable to crawl out after a wooden beam pinned her down. Alex overturned the beam easily with a grab in the air to save Shado.

“Lord Saint, how are you? Is Little Princess fine?”

Lena rushed over. Presently, she had transformed into her combat state. Her pair of fair, long, beautiful legs had turned into a thick snake body covered with green scales, and there was a row of sharp fins and bone spurs on it. She also had silver armor put on, turning herself into a goddess of war brimming with power.

Alex shook his head. When he looked around, he realized that there was something wrong with the situation. Almost the entire village had been destroyed, as though the whole land had been swept up high into the sky before smashing to the ground hard.

Alex also saw the crisscrossing rifts in the void.

“Chief, something terrible has happened!”

“The space of Nirvana is unstable. Nirvana might collapse!”

The high priestess, the astrologist, and various Naga members in the village gathered and came over. Most Naga members consisted of women, followed by children... There were no elderly people since the Naga tribe could live to old age thanks to the curse.

Meanwhile, several Naga members rushed over from the river at the village’s entrance and shouted, “Chief, the Undying Clan is coming cover. The force field on our side has been broken.”

Water was the home of the Naga tribe.

The speed of the two Naga women in the water who alerted the others, clad in scale armor and fully armed, were comparable to a moving car.

This type of scale armor made them faster.

“The Undying Clan is coming!”

“There are so many of them!”

“Some are coming along the river, and they are just one minute away. Go to the battlefield immediately!” Village chief Lena immediately ordered, “Retreat toward the back of the village, enter Arakan Lake and prepare for battle.”

A group of people, probably about two hundred, all ran to the back of the village. Why was it in Arakan Lake? It was because the Nagas were strongest when fighting in the water.

Lena then turned to Alex, “Lord Saint, you come with me. Even if we fight to the last person, we will still protect you and the little saint.”

After she spoke, she flung out a dozen light shadows with her bare hands that subsequently fell into the water. That was the Aqua Mail, a distress signal sent to the other villages and tribes of Nirvana, and even the city, with the words to come and protect the Lord Saint.

Ahead of the river, a heaven-shaking sound was heard, a sound that Alex was very familiar with because he had been chased by this undying monster more than once after entering the territory of the Undying Clan.

He rubbed his chin. It didn’t seem too difficult to deal with this Undying Clan.

He immediately checked the reserve of the divine power and found that after giving a wave to the Requiem Clock before, there were still about 150 million now, which was enough. He knew that it was only tens of millions when he was fleeing in the Undying Clan’s territory before.

Moreover, as long as the Naga tribe’s curse was not lifted, his Golden Lake of divine power would not run dry.

“Lord Saint, go quickly!” Lena’s face changed, and she urged Alex.

“Lena, you help me take care of the child. I’ll help you hold back the Undying Clan!”

“Lord Saint, don’t be reckless. Be careful!”

“Can the two hundred or so of you hold off the Undying Clan?” Alex did not delay any longer. He directly handed Bubbles to Lena. He swiftly reached the mouth of the river as dozens of ancient runes popped out. Each one was a formation.

A group of weird-looking, undying demons were closing in! In pieces, they rushed over like a tidal wave. These guys were all black, with double horns on their heads and long tentacles. Their arms, like swords, were born sharp, formidable weapons for killing.

The continuous roar trembled the hearts and guts of the people.

Seeing thousands of undead rushing up, Lena's eyes turned bloodshot. Hugging Bubbles, she shouted, "Lord Saint, run! Lord Saint..."

The high priest, who initially led dozens of heavily armed Naga toward the Arakan Lake, returned and asked, "Village head, what's going on? Quickly let Lord Saint escape. Bring the Lord Saint and the little lord to other villages, here...We can hold back for a while."

The latter sentence seemed very pretentious.

Due to the disparity in numbers, some of the juniors in the village, who had never witnessed something so large, became scared and started crying.

"Lord Saint said that he would hold back the undead..."

"Nonsense..."

However, the distance was now less than a thousand meters, only a breath away, and it was simply too late to escape. She even saw the cruel gazes of the Undying clan.

"It is finished!"

Alex was hovering over the water. He stomped his foot fiercely as if the river beneath his feet was a piece of earth. A golden light shone in. Countless ancient runes were reflected and spiraled around, covering a one-mile radius, exactly the gap where the river flowed. Now, the path was blocked.

"Mighty Sky Dragon, come!"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2157

Roar!

A giant dragon covered in complicated, arcane Buddhist patterns and shining golden light violently rushed out from the center of the formation diagram. It could be 500 meters tall, with three heads and six arms. Its eyes were wide open in anger, and a mighty roar swept through the entire village.

“What is that...” The high priest was stunned.

Lena was also dumbfounded, looking at the massive heavenly dragon. She was speechless. Those Naga tribes who had rushed to Arakan Lake all tilted their heads to the sky and were stupefied.

Even the Undying Clan froze for a moment.

In particular, a minor chief who was leading at the front of the pack stopped and said incredulously, “It’s that damn human! How did this guy appear here?”

Actually, this guy had once seen Alex in the Undead Territory. Last time, Alex almost killed him.

However, the Undying Clan behind him was rushing so fast and screaming so loudly that it was impossible to hear What he was saying. With such a lurch, he was instantly trampled by countless of his kind.

Roar!

“Don’t step... Don’t step on me, you bunch of stupid..!” The minor chief did not expect that after escaping from Alex in the Undead Territory, he arrived here, only to see Alex again. Before the fight had begun, he was already trampled to death by his own kind.

Could there be anything more tragic than this?

The last thing he saw was his own kind covered in Buddhist patterns of Mighty Sky Dragon’s breath. Then, his body seemed to melt like snow, turning into a pile of rotten white bones in the blink of an eye.

“Hey, it’s better than being trampled to death! ”

He was dead. Nonetheless, the killing continued.

The power of the Mighty Sky Dragon was great, but it had its shortcomings. It was unable to keep up, and many had escaped. It required Alex to constantly help out and get rid of the escaping Undying Clan.

As Lena and dozens of Naga saw how furiously Alex killed, they were so amazed they could not close their mouths.

It was so bad that when the Undying rushed up, they were so overwhelmed that they could not react on time.

“Careful!”

Three Dragon Bone Swords came through fiercely, hunting down seven or eight Undying. “What the hell? Go as far as you can!” Alex exclaimed, extremely dissatisfied.

Only then did the group of people react.

The high priest shouted, “Everyone from the Naga tribe, come over now to kill the enemy. Kill the enemy!”

In the middle of Arakan Lake, the Naga tribe snapped from their dreams and hurried over. They never thought they would witness such a scene, where the enemies were killed in front of their eyes. They never even dared to think about it before. This was a happy moment, okay?

It was good having Lord Saint around!

Meanwhile, the tribe closest to this village, called the Nine Heavens Tribe, was also the tribe with the strongest combat power near this area, and the tribe leader was called Nyx.

At this time, the eldest elder of the Nine Heavens Tribe rushed over and shouted, “Chief, I have an urgent report!”

“What urgent report? Have you found out the cause of the great tremor just now? And how is the battle on the battlefield ahead?”

The Grand Elder shook his head, “No news has come from the front for a while now, but I’ve just received an urgent report from Lena. The boundary of their village broke, and a large number of Undying entered the area. Also, the Lord Saint has come. He is now in their village. She asked us to their side immediately to support and protect Lord Saint after we receive the Aqua Mail.”

Nyx was silent for three seconds. Then, he hummed, “Lena has always liked to engage in this kind of bluff. Whether the Lord Saint is real or not is not yet definitive. She is desperate, that’s why she deliberately said that the Lord Saint has descended. The purpose is to ask me to go and rescue her... But, their small village is dominated by women. By the time we go over, it would have been annihilated. Ignore her. Pay attention to the situation at all times and strengthen our defense.”

“Yes!”

Right after he spoke, another person rushed in. “Chief, a large number of Undying has appeared in the southwest. They will soon attack us!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2158

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2158

“What? The Undying Clan has come here too?”

“The tribe is in ruins. This is not a place to stay for long. Immediately organize everyone, retreat while fighting, and go to the main city!”

Nyx immediately ordered. However, he didn’t expect that the Undying Clan emerged even faster than he thought. Before anyone could react, an army of Undying appeared.

“Kill!”

“Kill, kill, kill!”

“Retreat, retreat to the water, quick!”

Now, the Naga tribe of the Nine Heavens Tribe suffered heavy casualties, and many people simply lacked the courage to fight because they were so scared. All of them fled.

The Grand Elder sighed.

He now believed Nyx's words, that the small village Lena was at was definitely not capable of supporting itself in the face of an attack of this magnitude. It was a pity.

The descendants left behind by Grand Emperor Rowan were all gone. He even once wanted to marry Lena!

He did not know.

At this moment, Lena was not even in danger as she held Bubbles. Alex grabbed the Reflective Eye that he had snatched from Hermione. This magic treasure was quite powerful.

Normally, the Chaos Tree would capture the magic weapons and suck one's essence until all that was left was a pile of slag. However, it did not do all these. Instead, it just erased the soul imprint on it, and now it became Alex's item.

Hmph! Dorothy's things would be considered as husband and wife property. One thing shocked Alex, though. Previously, Dorothy's former self, Xienna, came into the body of the great Genbu through virtual projection. She actually had the ability to take away Hermione, which showed that she was much stronger than usual.

The Reflective Eye turned. A total of nine mirrors were split.

This was the limit.

Not only was it related to the strength of the soul, but it was also related to single combat power. In addition, he found that the mirror image and the real body still had a difference. The mirror image of vitality had a weakness, it refused to fight... The means of attack was also relatively simple. There was only one kind of reflection, but as to which one could be controlled freely during the manufacture of the mirror image.

In the end, Alex's actual body was at the forefront, while the mirror image was used to control the formation. The Naga tribe also had a flesh shield system, such as Shado Rivers. She was a female type with a super flesh shield. She stood next to Alex and was stronger in defense by the looks of it.

The Undying Clan's natural hand sword couldn't even cut through her defense.

“Alex, do you want to take a break? Let me take care of this place?” Shado said with a relaxed expression.

Alex looked at the opposite side of the formation and shook his head, “Let’s end this battle swiftly. I’m afraid that other races’ armies will be coming after the Undying Clan. I’m going to see whether I can fix the boundary.”

“Good. I’ll listen to you.”

“Kill!”

With the help of the Mighty Sky Dragon, this battle was a lopsided victory. The Undying Clan was actually afraid of death. After being swept by the arcane Buddhist patterns, they died a horrible death.

Five minutes later, the Undying Clan retreated. The ground was full of white bones, and so was the entire river. The river then flowed outward and flooded the village.

“I’m going to check out the front!”

“Everyone be on guard!”

“I’ll go with you!” Shado said.

No one died in the small village. It was undoubtedly a miracle. The villagers all cheered loudly and sang hymns to celebrate their victory and being alive.

“It’s as if I’m seeing my ancestor, Grand Emperor Rowan!” Lena murmured.

The high priest said, “He is very strong indeed.”

However, compared to Great Emperor Rowan, there was still quite a gap. The realm was at least a hundred thousand miles different.

***

At the river’s mouth, Alex found that the boundary was so badly broken that the formation base was cracked. More importantly, the formation base here was not some ancient rune, but more like the backstroke on the great Genbu.

“Can it be repaired?” Shado, who was next to him, asked.

Alex frowned, "It's a little difficult. I'll see if I can fix it using runes..."

However, Alex soon found that the ancient runes simply could not be imprinted on the original formation base. After being carved for a moment, some kind of power quickly erased it. Nonetheless, Alex realized one thing, the patterns underneath the formation base of this boundary were very similar to his hands.

At the time, while tracing information to find William, the so-called Holy Book was found... At the time, it was proven to be a stellar map, but looking at it again now, there were too many similarities, right?

That Holy Book was in his possession. He immediately found it and made a careful comparison. The texture was not only consistent but even the many strange and bizarre runes on it were the same.

This meant that the Holy Book turned out to be something of the great Genbu?

Buzz...

Right at that moment...

The Holy Book actually lit up like a ray of light in the early morning. Then, it blazed like the sun, with countless strange symbols circling and runes spinning around in the sky. Not only that, it was as if the formation base of this area also resonated with a linkage. It was originally as dark as ink. Suddenly, a pillar of light shot out to the sky.

"Alex, what is this?"

Shado cried out with a face full of surprise, "What kind of magic treasure is in your hand?"

Alex did not answer. Instead, he gazed inside the pillar of light. He felt a null flowing in the pillar of light, the feeling of something wanting to come out of it.

Buzz...

A breath later, a divine thought projection followed as the pillar of light descended. The pillar of light disintegrated and turned into a giant turtle.

This giant turtle looked peculiar, with an exceptionally long neck. It was very different from a normal turtle, like a synthesis of a snake and a turtle.

“This is the great Genbu!”

“Oh my god, the great Genbu has manifested here!” Shado shouted loudly.

At the same time, Lena, the high priests,, and others stopped the action in their hands. They were dumbfounded as they looked on. Although they all knew that this was inside the body of the great Genbu, the True Martial Sovereign, it was the first time seeing the True Martial Sovereign’s projection descend with their own eyes.

All of them knelt down, their attitude was incomparably pious.

At this moment, Alex got more information. The great Genbu had transmitted a true divine thought to him. However, this divine thought could only be received by himself.

Soon, that projection disappeared. The pillar of light also disappeared.

Alex knew that it was completely impossible to repair the boundary now. The great Genbu told him that he would soon get sick and die and that the pure land inside this boundary would collapse at the slightest inadvertence. However, the Holy Book in Alex’s hand brought hope... The great Genbu asked Alex to send the Holy Book to a certain place. This Holy Book was derived from a piece of his turtle shell. After synthesis, it became one. He could use the complete turtle back to preserve Nirvana.

“Where is the end of the Dead Zone?” Alex turned and asked Shado.

The latter was stunned, and fear manifested on her face. “You...Why are you asking about that place?”

“The great Genbu asked me to go over to him,” replied Alex.

Shado was stunned.

There was no way to get past that place!

Soon, the village people all gathered around. Hearing Alex explain what had happened, everyone's expressions were the same as Shado's.

"Did the great Genbu really say so?"

"The end of the Dead Zone..."

Lena and the high priest looked at each other and slowly said, "If you want to go to the end of the Dead Zone, no humans can ever reach it. There is only one feasible way, Lord Saint. Come with me!"

Alex could see that Lena's expression was a bit odd. The high priest next to him also seemed to know the inside story. In the end, he still followed Lena to the side.

"Lena, do you have something to say in private?" Alex asked.

"Lord Saint... Do you know the origins of the name of the Dead Zone?" Lena asked.

Alex did not know and naturally shook his head.

Lena explained, "That an area forbidden to humans, and is also the lair of the Undying Clan during ancient times. The sea there is at a very frightening depth, something not easy even for our Naga tribe to reach, especially in the present. Nagas over a thousand years old do not exist, but my physique is relatively special. Probably, only I can take you to that place."

"So that's how it is, eh? That's fine then."

"Lord Saint, I'm not done yet, if I'm going to take you to the end of the dead zone, I need to make you a part of me."

Alex froze for a moment, not understanding what she meant. "Then what would it take to make me a part of you?"

Lena blushed slightly and said, "You need to... To leave your breath inside me."

“Uh... Do you mean chi?”

“No, it's the bloodline.”

Alex understood and smiled. “Isn't it just blood? No problem, I am a person who may not have much, but one thing I have is thick blood. Take as much as you want.”

‘With the Ultimate Book of Medicine in hand, I have the world, what more blood. I will make it for you.’

However, Alex had misunderstood. Lena shook her head and blushed even more. Even her neck was a little red. “It's not your blood. It's your bloodline, your... Kind...”

Could you believe it?

A basilisk level thousand year old existence would actually utter such words filled with bashfulness as if a virgin.

Alex froze as he looked at Bubbles, who was in Lena's arms. This was a really awful question to answer. “Isn't there any other way? I... My children, there are already quite a few. I'm afraid I can't afford to raise anymore!”

Lena shook her head. “This is because the existence of the dead zone had been opened up by Grand Emperor Rowan, who simply did not want other humans to appear in that kind of place. I am the descendant of Grand Emperor Rowan. Only with this method can you get through me and be immune to the pressure of the dead zone. Otherwise, that place can even crush a planet.”

Alex was dumbfounded as he listened. Even the planets could be crushed. How pressurizing could this be?

It was unimaginable.

At this time, Shado rushed over. “Grandma, Alex, over at the boundary, there are new Undying coming over. This time, they are bigger and seem to be a little more powerful. What should we do? Should we continue to kill? Everyone's passions are still high; they want to destroy all those guys. Anyway, with Alex around, we are invincible.”

Lena scolded, "Shado, you must show respect. You have to call Lord Saint."

"It's okay. I'm not used to being called Lord Saint, Lena," said Alex. "You don't have to call me Lord Saint either. Just call me by my name."

After saying that, Alex immediately ran over and looked at it.

The next second, Alex became nervous. He knew this guy. This species in the Undying Clan was considered difficult to deal with. In the past, he was unfamiliar and suffered losses in their hands. He almost lost his daughter's life too!

This species had one ability, and that was to make people worry and stir up their nerves.

Shado still wore a very relaxed expression. It was probably the big victory just now that gave her a huge misperception.
