

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2201

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2201

Hiss!

The frigid aura also contained extreme fear.

Not to mention that they were just Puppet Immortals. Even if they were the real Immortals, they probably could not bear the Icebound Curse too... This was an existence that could even defeat the Undead Queen.

Although Alex could cast the Icebound Curse currently, its power was worlds apart from that time. If the great Genbu had helped him cast the forbidden spell of level ninety nine that time, then the one he cast now was at level one.

But it was enough.

None of the thirty or so Puppet Immortals could escape from it.

Neela, who had transformed into the human form, was astonished when she saw her master cast such an attack. She asked in surprise, "This can't be... The Icebound Curse in the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell, right?"

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The Puppet Immortals that the Icebound Curse had frozen exploded one after another, turning into a pile of ice slag on the ground.

However, thirty three pieces of Law Stones in different shapes and colors also appeared on the ground, glowing with different luster and aura of laws.

Thud!

Alex knelt to the ground at once, panting in exhaustion.

Even if the Chi capacity of the ninety nine golden cores that he had developed was now far more significant than those in the Immortalization stage, he was dead beat as the consumption of the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell's usage was just too much. It almost depleted the golden cores' energy at once, causing him to have a splitting headache.

“My lord!”

Neela rushed over and hugged Alex. “Are you fine? Are you alright?”

Alex said with a smile, “I’m alright. It’s just the consumption was too great. I’m a little weak! Neela, you came out so fast. Have you inherited all the Ancestor Dragon’s Legacy?”

Neela nodded with a smile. “It’s almost done. It’s not considered the Ancestor Dragon’s Legacy, but the Ancestor Dragon’s life source. After I absorbed all the Ancestor Dragon’s essence, the Spiritual Realm of Dragons disappeared completely too. I was a bit drowsy previously, drifting in the void without knowing where I was. Then, unexpectedly, I suddenly felt my lord’s aura, and then I met my lord here.”

Neela briefly explained the situation. Then, she hugged Alex hard with her voluptuous body close to him as she beamed with joy.

“My lord, I missed you so much!”

He held that soft, warm, and fragrant body in his arms. Alex was a little reluctant to let go of her as well, mainly because his safety level skyrocketed with Neela’s help. After a few minutes, Alex collected the thirty or so Law Stones.

Since he came into contact with such things for the first time, naturally, he had to study them when he held them in his hand.

Neela said, “My lord, these are the Law Stones that the Supremes had condensed with their power of laws so that you can treat them as a kind of energy. They’re good items. I remember that the Brahman Sect seemed to have researched these things in creating puppets specifically to deal with the mind-charming monster of the Undying Clan. But, unfortunately, they failed in the end.”

Alex was startled. “They failed? What do you mean?”

Neela said, “The Brahman Sect’s puppetry was the best in the world, but the Puppet Immortals are a kind of law-breaking existence. Perhaps it’s inherently intolerable in the world, so when the Brahman Sect manufactured these puppets, something wrong happened, causing the Puppet Immortals to go out of control.”

“Out of control?”

Alex thought about the rebellion of future robots that he often saw on television. Was it a similar scenario?

Neela nodded. “Yes. The original purpose of the manufactured Puppet Immortals was to fight against the Undying Clan. Who would have thought these tools developed self-consciousness? Some of them rebelled, and then the Brahman Sect was gone just like that.”

“Then, here..?”

“Here... If I’m not wrong, this might be the Infernal Realm that the Grand Emperor Rowan had opened up with three fragments of Six Eternities for imprisoning the Puppet Immortals specifically. But.. It’s strange. We shouldn’t be here.”

While talking, some figures flashed. Someone came, it was none other than Donovan and the others.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2202

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2202

Whoosh!

A total of seven figures stood in front of Alex and Neela in the blink of an eye. The leader was none other than Donovan Orlando of the Sun Shrine.

Once the man saw Neela, he could not look away.

It was a Benares Dragon!

It was a real Benares Dragon. Moreover, after turning into a human, her beauty was indescribable with an unparalleled look, a voluptuous body and a pair of fair, long legs seducing his soul... The dragon tribe initially possessed an extremely rare physique and beauty in the world. The dragon males were peerlessly handsome, whereas the dragon females were devastatingly beautiful. It had always been like that.

‘Mine! This female Benares Dragon must belong to me!’ Donovan even thought that his child in the future, born from the bloodline between him and a female Benares Dragon, would be the sole inheritor of the Benares Dragons. And, he could logically acquire all the treasures of the ancient Benares Dragons.

It was a miracle from Heaven!

As for Alex sitting next to Neela, Donovan Orlando paid no attention to him at all. What qualification did a man that had not reached the Imminent Immortal realm have to snatch away the only Benares Dragon from him? It was blasphemy just to have such a thought.

“You’re a Benares Dragon?” Donovan asked bluntly.

“Right. What about it?” Neela rolled her eyes as she could tell what Donovan wanted at a glance. Those unconcealed eyes and longing expressions hinted at Donovan’s desire for Neela.

Neela was not a girl who was wet behind the ears.

Phaseless and the others previously thought Neela was a juvenile dragon of the Benares Dragons, but it was utterly wrong. Neela was not a young dragon. She had been sealed for three thousand years since the beginning of ancient times. Her cultivation base had regressed as she went without eating and drinking in the past three thousand years, so her body looked like a young dragon.

But, she was not. She had experienced countless wars during ancient times. After going through countless events, she was still a young girl in the end.

But, how could she lack experience?

Donovan lauded. “It’s really an ancient dragon! It’s so shocking to see one today! Let me introduce myself. I’m Donovan Orlando, the young master of the Sun Shrine. My talent is unprecedented in the past and the present. I’m a peerless genius once in a lifetime. I’ll definitely become an Immortal in the future. It’s only a matter of time before I become the Heavenly Emperor.”

Alex snorted.

‘He has the guts to brag. Does he think that the Heavenly Emperor is some cheap cabbage on the ground?’

Neela asked, “So what then?”

Neela’s every expression excited Donovan’s mind to the core. The more Neela showed this kind of disdainful expression, the more he wanted her. He was a peerless genius and a target of special care for the elders in the sect, so he could get whatever he wanted easily.

Neela’s disdain aroused his ambition instead.

“I want you to follow me!”

“It’s a kind of investment if you follow me now. When I become the Heavenly Emperor later, your value will naturally rise with that too.”

“How about it? Are you willing to follow me?”

Neela looked at Alex.

Donovan immediately asked, “Why are you looking at him? This guy’s talent is mediocre, and his cultivation base is too weak. He’s not even worthy to hold your shoes. It’s even an insult for him to sit next to you.”

Neela rolled her beautiful eyes. “Indeed, his cultivation base is a little weak, but your cultivation base doesn’t seem to be the highest either. Look, someone more powerful than you has come!”

As Neela finished her words, another group of people arrived. Of course, it was Phaseless and the others.

When everyone saw Neela in human form, desire filled their eyes, especially the green-eyed men.

“A Benares Dragon!”

“It’s really a Benares Dragon!”

“So beautiful...”

Just then, Neela chuckled. “Indeed, I need to choose a human that I can follow, preferably a man. But, the man that I’m going to follow must be the strongest! So, who has the strongest combat power among all of you here? Come forward and sign a contract with me!”

“What?”

“So soon? So straightforward!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2203

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2203

A person from some unknown sect said, “I heard that the Benares Dragons respect the strong, so she does that in compliance with the rules.”

Phaseless immediately took a step forward. “My cultivation level should be the highest among the people here!”

It was the final Benares Dragon in the world, the symbol of the dragon lineage.

Who would not want it? What a godsend!

Someone instantly jumped out. “Phaseless Dweller, it’s a bit early for you to say those words. Your cultivation level isn’t the highest. Besides, she just said that only the one with the strongest combat power would Sign a contract with her. So why don’t we fight for one round?”

The Phaseless Dweller snorted coldly. “You’re a helper whom I found, yet you want to fight me?”

That man refused to give in. “Cut the crap. Are you going to fight or not? If you don’t dare to fight, just get lost. This contract with the Benares Dragon belongs to me, Wanson Sibley.”

“I’ll fight!”

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Soon, the Phaseless Dweller fought with Wanson. He never expected that Wanson’s cultivation level would be high, so the strength he had displayed before was totally fake. However, at a glance now, he had the cultivation level of the eighth realm to Imminent Immortal and possessed a mystical tool that increased his strength significantly.

However, the strength that Phaseless had displayed previously was not all of it. A few seconds later, the Phaseless Dweller lashed out with a sword. Unexpectedly, this sword contained a portion of the power of laws.

It shook off Wanson's attack abruptly and then pierced his throat in one blow!

"Ahh!"

Wanson screamed horribly and died.

Phaseless retracted his sword and kicked Wanson away before sweeping a cold glance. "Does anyone else want to come out and try?"

Some people frowned, some people retreated.

After all, Phaseless displayed his strength before their eyes. Even Wanson, who had the cultivation level of the eighth realm to Imminent Immortal and possessed a mystical tool, had died. So, the people who went forward without any trump card would just dig their graves.

However, so many people were present, so there were always some people who had a trump card and refused to concede defeat.

Another woman jumped out immediately. "I'll try it! We'll conclude the fight with a touch on the opponent!"

The woman was a rogue cultivator, but her origin was very mysterious.

She said that the fight would stop with a touch on the opponent. However, when she started fighting, she was fierce and ruthless with all her moves attacking Phaseless' vital areas. She had a kind of Mind Control ability to control one's mind by surprise during battles.

Like now, she suddenly shouted, "Look behind you!"

Phaseless was in a daze for a brief moment, yet he quickly returned to normal. However, the woman almost killed him because of the brief distraction.

After a few seconds, the woman shouted again, "Look to the left. Your wife is here!"

Poof!

Unfortunately, Phaseless did not freeze and pierced the woman's heart ruthlessly with his sword at once. Phaseless spat a mouthful of saliva. "Humph, if you want to control my mind, practice it for another few centuries! I don't even have a wife!"

"Is there anyone else?"

Alex stood in the distance and watched coldly.

At this moment, Neela's temptation was greater than anyone else. So, why would anyone pay attention to a minor character like him?

However, no one knew that Neela was Alex's servant. She had long signed the contract with Alex. Hence, this inexplicable slaughter now was a troll that Alex and Neela had thought on a whim.

To their surprise, almost everyone fell for it.

Then, the fight continued for another few rounds. No one else came forward after Phaseless killed five people consecutively.

Neela glanced at Donovan and said to Phaseless, "Indeed, you're the strongest. Not bad, now come forward and sign a contract with me!"

As she raised her hand, a contract seal appeared in the air.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2204

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2204

"A contract!"

"She really wants to sign a contract!"

At this moment, all the people held their breath in disbelief.

Earlier, some people doubted Neela's intention, and even Phaseless once wondered if Neela wanted them to kill each other. After that, however, the temptation of the contract with a Benares Dragon was so great that almost no one could resist it.

But now, Neela had taken out the contract for real, shocking the people greatly.

When Phaseless saw the contract seal floating and spinning slowly in the air, his eyes sparkled.

“It’s real! It’s really a contract!” He was too excited. Unfortunately, he did not know that Neela had long signed the contract with Alex. Alex was not dead yet, so the contract seal would be invalid.

Just as Phaseless was about to go forward, Donovan finally said, “Phaseless Dweller, have you forgotten me? In terms of strength, the strongest person here is not you, but me, Donovan Orlando!”

When Neela heard him, she instantly revoked the contract seal and looked at Donovan.

Phaseless’ hand was about to touch the contract seal, but now it was gone all of a sudden. One could hardly imagine how terrible that vexation and furious emotion was.

“Donovan Orlando, do you have a death wish too?”

“I don’t want to fight you for the sake of the Sun Shrine, so get lost right now!”

“And you guys, get out of here for ten miles. Otherwise, don’t blame me for being rude!”

The Phaseless Dweller initially gathered so many people to enter the Puppet Dungeon together with a certain purpose, but the plan did not change fast. He never expected that a Benares Dragon would appear here, so this was the most important compared to the previous purpose.

Many tactful people left after Phaseless had driven them away furiously, including Hermione.

However, Donovan did not leave. He seemed to have decided to have a showdown with Phaseless.

The Phaseless Dweller sneered. “Donovan Orlando, since you’re so ungrateful, don’t blame me then. Even if the seven of you attack together, do you think I’ll be afraid of you?”

“Kill!”

The battle broke out.

Donovan moved alone, whereas his subordinates did not move.

Buzz!

Once Donovan made his move, there was a drastic change in the environment, with the balance of Yin and Yang turned upside down.

On the other hand, the Chaos Tree inside Alex’s mind palace moved rhythmically at once, and the several Chaos Beads glowed brightly. Alex sensed a very familiar aura belonging to the aura of a Chaos Bead.

‘It’s a Chaos Bead!’

Alex stared at Donovan, watching him striking out four beads with a wave of the hand. Indeed, they were the Chaos Beads. These four beads were connected into a square and just happened to encircle Phaseless, trapping him with boundless pressure from all directions.

‘D*mn, he has four shattered Chaos Beads!’ Alex was shocked yet excited.

Only four shattered Chaos Beads were hanging on the Chaos Tree inside his mind palace. If he could acquire Donovan’s shattered Chaos Beads, it would be perfect then.

In this way, he would have eight beads right away.

Yuno had said that if he could collect the thirty-six shattered Chaos Beads, it would be a piece of supreme treasure. He also wanted to know how supreme it would be.

“Chaos Beads?” Phaseless was instantly stunned and recognized them.

The four shattered Chaos Beads formed a spell formation in the air connected by light as if it were a constellation in the deep sky. It covered the Phaseless Dweller at once, making Phaseless unmovable.

“Phaseless, I didn’t expect that you would know about the Chaos Beads!” Donovan said with a smile. While talking, he glanced at Alex inadvertently... This glance held a certain intention.

Alex knew it.

This person most likely had sensed that he possessed the Chaos Beads.

People who possessed the Chaos Beads could sense the Chaos Beads' location with ease, especially within a certain distance. So, generally, there would be a bit of mutual attraction.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2205

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2205

'Interesting! I want to see who will emerge as the victor in the end then!'

Just as Alex thought about it, Phaseless struggled for a few seconds, but he could not free himself from the spell formation of the shattered Chaos Beads. Then, finally, he exploded with rage.

Roar!

The clothes on his body were torn into pieces, showing a sturdy figure inside.

The people were in slight disbelief at a glance. The Phaseless Dweller's outer appearance was of an old man in his fifties or sixties. But now, this flesh did not look old at all, with healthy, lustrous bronze skin. The muscle tones were perfect and there was even an Adonis belt.

Looking at his figure alone, it was reasonable to say that he was just in his twenties. When they looked at his face again, they were shocked at a glance.

Phaseless' facial appearance changed abruptly. He was still an old man before, but now he had turned into a young man with an extremely familiar face... Wasn't that the man's face in the mass grave behind the mine's wall earlier?

Hence, it turned out that the Phaseless Dweller was also a Puppet Immortal.

Once Alex figured it out, his expression seemed bizarre.

Earlier, Neela had even told him that there was something wrong with the Puppet Immortals that the Brahman Sect had researched, and a portion of them had gone out of control... Hence, although both the Phaseless Dweller and Mask were Puppet Immortals, they belonged to two different factions.

Donovan saw the current changes in Phaseless as well. Of course, he could tell Phaseless' true identity at a glance.

“So you're a puppet too!”

“You're a puppet, yet you still want to snatch the Benares Dragon's contract from me. You have a death wish!”

Donovan activated his power once again, causing the four shattered Chaos Beads to change again, beaming with radiance. Just then, the two puppets of a male and a female Phaseless Dweller had brought with him, rushed over and surrounded Donovan.

Then, they self-destructed!

Bang! Bang!

They exploded the formation blueprint that the shattered Chaos Beads had formed with two loud bangs.

Afterward, the Phaseless Dweller hurriedly seized the opportunity to escape, reluctantly abandoning the contract with the Benares Dragon.

“Hahahaha!” Donovan laughed.

At this moment, the people of the Sun Shrine went forward to congratulate Donovan.

Donovan ignored them and stared at Neela intently. Then, he walked toward her and said with a smile, “What do you think? See? I'm the strongest here, but my cultivation level isn't as high as Phaseless' because I'm a genius. I can bypass the ranks to defeat others, so my future is boundless!”

Neela nodded. “Not bad.”

Donovan grew even happier. “So, can we sign the contract now?”

Neela smiled softly. “Of course, there's no problem. As you wish.”

The contract seal appeared once again. Without saying a word, the excited Donovan immediately let go of his divine sense so that Neela's contract seal could merge with his.

However, he felt something was wrong after three minutes.

"Why can't this contract seal fuse with my soul?"

"Perhaps, your soul power is too little. Please release more of it. You're incapable of signing a contract with the Benares Dragon with such a puny soul."

Once Donovan thought about it, he felt that it made sense. This was a Benares Dragon after all!

He immediately increased the output again, but there was a sudden change the next second. He suddenly felt the soul that he had released received unprecedented severe damage.

"Wow!"

Donovan spat a mouthful of blood. He looked at Neela dumbfoundedly. "How could this happen?"

"That's right. How could that happen?" Neela seemed to have remembered something abruptly and said, "Oh, I suddenly remembered that I'd signed a contract with someone else. So, you can't sign it with me. Sorry!"

"What did you say?"

"I said, you can just die!"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2206

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2206

As soon as the words left Neela's lips, she slammed a fierce punch onto Donovan Orlando's chest.

Neela was a true Benares Dragon and not the so-called bloodline of a Benares Dragon. There was a vast difference between the two. Those of the lineage only had a little bit more edge, while Neela had all the inheritance and bloodline of the Benares Dragons. She was also part of the royal family!

A dragon was the divine beast of heaven and earth. The punch came down with an unimaginable force.

Clang!

Loud echoes rang in the air.

Donovan had already suffered significant damage to his soul because he had been tricked. Now, his entire head felt like it was about to burst open from the pain.

How could he have defended against Neela's attack?

He was instantly blown away by the force of the punch. However, the sound that rang out was wrong.

It was the piercing sound of gold clashing against iron.

Neela's fist was covered with dragon scales, and it sounded as though she had punched a heavy, bronze bell. She felt the tremendous recoil from the blow. A sharp pain shot all the way into her bones, and it felt like it had fractured.

"Young Master!"

"B*tch, you dare to make a move against our young master! Kill that b*tch!"

The people from Sun Shrine drew their weapons one after another in anger, surrounding Neela as they protected Donovan. However, these people had severely underestimated Neela's strength. After receiving the Ancestor Dragon's essence, her cultivation had recovered massively.

Though it wasn't comparable to before, and a single punch from her wasn't enough to kill Donovan, protected by a magic treasure, who then were the others?

Boom!

A fist directly pierced through the chest of a Sun Shrine disciple. Three seconds later, another kick shattered another male disciple. The attacks of such ferocity overwhelmed everyone present.

“Retreat! Hurry and retreat!”

“Protect the young master! Evacuate immediately!” The old woman finally opened her mouth and shouted.

If it weren't for that male disciple who had jumped in front of her to protect her, Neela's punch would have killed her instead.

Spitting out a mouthful of blood, Donovan looked coldly at Neela as he said, “Very good! This is the first time that I, Donovan Orlando, have suffered such a disadvantage. You're not bad, and I will remember you. One day, I will take you as my pet and have you kneel at my feet, calling me master.”

Upon saying that, he didn't flee immediately. Instead, he let his gaze wandered to where Alex was standing, not far away.

Because he had felt it in Alex's body, the Chaos Bead's aura was also fluctuating. The heavens were really helping him!

He now possessed four Chaos Beads, and each one of them had brought him tremendous benefits. It allowed him to advance his cultivation by leaps and bounds. Now, it was possible to have one more...

‘No!’

‘Based on the amount of chaos chi energy around his body, there should be more than one!’

‘The gods are really helping me! Father said that I am the child of destiny and have the chi of heaven and earth in my body. Looks like he really was right!’

Kicking off violently from his position, he brought out all four of his Chaos Beads and formed a formation.

It was a cage, one that could form a secondary space by itself. He was going to lock Alex inside it and take him back with him.

Whoosh!

The Chaos Bead formation ensnared Alex immediately.

“Haha! I’ve got him! Let’s go!” Laughing loudly, Donovan retracted the Chaos Bead formation and intended to flee the place.

As for Neela, just as he had said, he would come back for her later.

Whoosh, whoosh!

With Donovan in the lead, he brought the Sun Shrine disciples away, running into the distance as fast as they possibly could.

But in the next second, Donovan felt that something was wrong. The Chaos Bead formation he used to ensnare Alex hadn’t actually been retracted, and Alex wasn’t trapped inside the secondary space. He was still standing there, and the four Chaos Beads were also stationary, as though frozen solid.

“What’s going on?!”

“Hell no!”

He focused on the Chaos Beads and willed them back, but they didn’t budge an inch.

In fact, it seemed the beads weren’t listening to his commands anymore.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2207

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2207

‘This...’

Just then, Donovan Orlando saw Alex move, reaching out and absorbing the Chaos Beads one by one. It looked effortless to Alex, as easy as picking rocks up from the ground.

When all four Chaos Beads were in his hands, Alex looked over to Donovan and smiled, revealing a white row of teeth.

“Thanks a lot! You’re such a good person, giving me all the shattered Chaos Beads like that. I’ll definitely make good use of them.”

Alex's words immediately caused fury to surge through Donovan's mind.

But in the next instant, Alex directly retracted all four shattered Chaos Beads into his mind palace.

"Blargh!"

Donovan violently coughed up a mouthful of blood.

The divine soul connection between him and the shattered Chaos Beads was severed abruptly and forcefully.

"I'll kill you!" Donovan rushed back in, intending to snatch back his shattered Chaos Beads.

But Neela instantly appeared in front of Alex with a smile on her face. "My Lord, not only does this guy have shattered Chaos Beads, but I can see that he has great defensive treasures in his body. It's of reasonable quality, so let's grab that too!"

'Holy sh*t...'

Donovan and some others from the Sun Shrine opened their eyes wide with incredulity.

'My Lord...'

What did she mean by that?!

In other words, Alex was the one who had signed a contract with the Benares Dragon. So, it was them who had dug their own graves, and foolishly killed each other because of that?

How sinister!

How could this guy be so sinister?!

Alex laughed and said, "Sure. It just so happens that you lack defensive treasure, and I've seen it in his body. It looks like an ancient bronze bell. Let's take it and study it."

With that, he and Neela darted forward...

“F*ck!”

Donovan weighed the pros and cons, before choosing to run away.

Sh*t! This wasn't worth losing blood over!

Alex had thought that his teleportation was already considered fast, but he didn't expect Donovan to be like a child adorned with jewels. There was no shortage of treasures on him, and he actually pulled out a flag that had blood-red embroidery of strange symbols on them.

He then waved it with a strong force. In the next second, he and his subordinates disappeared without a trace!

“Uhh..?”

“Neela, what kind of magic treasure is this?”

Alex was baffled. It was even more awesome than his instant teleportation.

Neela furrowed her brows. “It's a little like prehistoric legendary Innate spiritual treasure, the Five Elements Flag.

Alex froze for what seemed like half a day, before asking with deep sorrow, “Do you think we can still do anything? Are we going to just let Innate spiritual treasure disappear in front of our eyes?”

Neela shook her head slightly. “The Five Elements Flag is capable of breaking through the void and vanishing without a trace. We won't be able to find them.”

Alex let out a sigh and dwelled on it no more. To have obtained four shattered Chaos Beads was already a great harvest. Now, all eight shattered Chaos Beads hung above the Chaos Tree, emitting a faint light.

With the eight beads gathered together, the aura they emitted changed greatly.

They seemed as though they were breathing.

Neela had said that this was the Infernal Realm.

It was created by an ancient emperor with three fragments of Six Eternities. Alex remembered what the Phaseless Dweller had once said, that what he wanted was the Jade of Six Paths, so it was probably that.

With neither of them having any idea, Alex decided to continue heading eastward. He had a feeling that the clue the old man's puppet gave before it died must have some significance.

Thus, he headed all the way east.

On the way, he encountered many puppet immortals, but with Neela's help, these were all basically law stones that delivered themselves into his hands.

An unknown amount of time passed, and when Alex entered a stone ruin, he saw a woman, covered in blood, lying on the ground.

It was Hermione Yggdrasil!

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2208

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2208

“Uh-oh...”

Alex looked over Hermione Yggdrasil's condition.

Her injuries were somewhat severe. She had a wound on her chest, one that had been decapitated horizontally, and it looked like her sternum had been severed. The towering female assets adorning her chest looked like they had been paid no mercy, left half exposed in the open.

Her wounds were too severe and too bizarre. Hermione, however, was still alive.

At her heart area, there was a white light that leaped around gently and had protected her pulse. Now, this bright light was slowly repairing Hermione's wound.

“It feels so familiar!” Alex murmured because of the familiar feeling the white light gave him.

It was Xienna's aura.

“She’s not dead yet, but this life-saving white light is also not enough to save her life,” Neela said. “My lord, do you wish to save her?”

Alex had previously told her that everyone here was out to kill him. So, as Alex’s benefactor and faithful guardian, Neela naturally regarded every single one of those people to be enemies.

Alex furrowed his brows. “She’s my wife’s disciple.”

Neela was aware of who Dorothy Assex was. But as far as she remembered, Dorothy wasn’t a very powerful person. How could she have afforded to take in a disciple?

This was also one disciple that was in the second realm to Imminent Immortal.

Alex could see her doubts as clear as day. He finally relented and told her the identity of Dorothy’s reincarnation. Neela, who had seen a lot, pondered a little. Then she said, “Reincarnating with her memories, as well as hiding her soul in the Reincarnation Stone... This wife of yours is not at all ordinary, My Lord!”

Alex smiled bitterly. “Who says she is? If she was, could she have stolen my wife from me? I don’t even know what to do now.”

Neela thought deeply again for a moment and said, “Actually, it’s not like there’s no way out of this.”

“What, you have a solution?” Alex got excited and took Neela’s hand.

“Well, sort of, but it requires us to return to the ancestral land of the Benares Dragon. It also requires Xienna to cut out that part of her personality willingly...”

That was too difficult.

Forget about finding the ancestral land of the Benares Dragon, would Xienna be even willing to do so?

“It appears Xienna places a significant importance on this disciple of hers, though I’m not sure which part of this girl is valuable.”

“In order to probably have a favor from her in the future, I better save her!”

The moment Alex said that he saw that the white light in Hermione's heart was getting weaker and would soon be extinguished. He immediately moved, transferring a stream of his chi into her body.

He made a seal and drew a formation. The Zharvakko Blessed Reversal formation was quickly activated.

However, half a day passed, and the wound on Hermione's chest was healing too slowly. When it looked like it was going to heal completely, it seemed to be destroyed by some sort of force that ripped open her wound once more.

Alex was torn.

Initially, this was an awkward matter. However, half a day had already passed, yet the wound refused to close. It was odd.

"There is the power of laws at the location of her wound. It's impossible to heal unless it's removed," said Neela after she studied it carefully and squeezed the wound.

Unexpectedly, the squeeze woke Hermione up.

Her eyes snapped open, and she saw Alex, who was leaning extremely close. It caused her to freeze for a moment. "What are you doing to me?!"

She was severely injured and had bled quite a lot. The floor was stained red, and even moving a finger was filled with agony. However, it didn't mean that she had lost all her senses. Women were most sensitive at that particular part, and Neela had squeezed it quite hard, so it was apparent she had felt it.

Alex blinked. "What do you see me doing to you?"

Hermione was embarrassed and anxious. "You... Shameless!"

Alex deliberately scared her. "Call out and curse however you want. You're like a dead fish right now. I can do whatever I want to you, and you'll only be able to watch."

"You..."

Alex laughed and ignored her.

The power of laws wasn't something he could fully control as of now, making dealing with the one in Hermione's wound without hurting her pulse a little difficult.

Finally, he shook his head. "Sorry, I can't save you! I've tried my best. If your master wants to blame me when the time comes, there's nothing I can do."

A bitter expression crossed Hermione's face, and she seemed to break down a little. "I shouldn't have come here. I was just too greedy."

Alex was speechless.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2209

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2209

On the other hand, Alex felt no regrets. He had managed to gather many rewards from this place, after all. This was especially for the four shattered Chaos Beads, which was practically a dream come through.

"What was it that cut you up this badly? Was it a Puppet Immortal?" Alex asked.

"They... They were ghosts... Ghosts! There are ghosts here!"

Hermione Yggdrasil seemed distracted and incoherent.

Alex bristled, wondering if he should just leave her here to fend for herself.

Just then, among the ruins, a slender looking woman walked out.

"Puppet Immortal!"

Alex had killed hundreds of such puppets on the way here and was naturally no stranger to them. Every puppet looked exactly the same.

Alex drew his Dragon Bone Sword and waited for the Puppet Immortal to approach them.

Strangely, this female puppet did not immediately rush up to fight and kill them, unlike the others that Alex had decimated before her.

'Alright, I'll make a move first. I can save some energy by doing so anyway!' Alex thought to himself and concentrated his energy.

However, the female puppet stood still and looked at him. Then, she said, "Dummy, why did you save her?"

Alex froze.

"You're..?"

"I'm Mask!" the female puppet said.

"Huh..?"

Alex looked at the female puppet in a daze. He felt a little uncomfortable. Mask had saved him before, but Mask had clearly been a man. So why was Mask a female now, all of a sudden?!

"You're Mask? Which one is your real body? Are you a male or female?!"

The female puppet laughed lightly, her voice chirpy like a bird. "Since I'm a Mask, how can you distinguish between genders?"

Alex glanced at Neela. Alex couldn't understand this person called Mask.

Mask then said, "Follow me. Time is running out."

Alex hesitated slightly, but he still pulled Neela's hand and followed after Mask. As for Hermione, he had already tried his best. Whether she lived or died now would depend on her destiny.

Hermione, too, was upset after getting abandoned like that.

"Hey, are you going to leave me behind just like that? Didn't you say you're my master's husband?"

"You didn't believe it."

"If you take me with you, I'll believe you. "

"I killed your entire family, aren't you going to avenge them?"

"I... I'm not of the Yggdrasil bloodline. They don't count as family."

Mask, who had been walking in front, saw that Hermione called Alex back halfway. She had really no more time, so Mask simply walked back and threw Hermione over her shoulder. "Let's go!"

Even with the added weight of Hermione on her, she still moved extremely swiftly. She navigated the stone ruins with familiar ease, as though she knew the place like the back of her hand.

***

At this time, the sun had set, and the full moon could be seen high in the sky. The moon was particularly round, but it didn't look quite the same as the regular moon one would see.

Alex truly had doubts on whether this was the same moon as its Earth counterpart.

At this time, the ruins in front of them suddenly changed, and a strange scene appeared. The ground which they were walking on was rapidly evolving. Like how the river, the sea, the grass, and trees had gone through a long history of change, the pile of stone ruins was suddenly gone, replaced by a solemn sunset sanctuary.

The moment of sunset was when the sanctuary came alive.

Alex and Neela felt a deep shock running through. Following behind Mask, the two stepped through the doors of the sanctuary. They were met with the sight of a throne with a tall back.

On the throne, was a woman with her eyes closed.

Alex felt that this woman was unusually familiar, as though he had seen her somewhere before. Then, he became flabbergasted.

"She's..?"

"F*ck, that can't be possible, right?!"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2210

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2210

Alex looked at Mask and then towards the woman who was sitting on the throne. Then, he asked, "Who is she?"

"A deity," Mask replied.

It surprised Alex even more, and he asked again more tentatively, "Athena?"

There was no mistake. The woman on the throne looked similar to the sculpture that Alex had seen, especially the shape she took. She looked exactly the same.

The long spear. The golden shield. The precious crown.

The corner of Mask's lips curled up slightly. "I didn't expect that you would actually know my name from ancient times."

Alex's jaw dropped open. It was actually really Athena!

But wasn't Athena a character from Greek mythology?

How could she appear in this place?

And this sanctuary, it was clearly just some stone ruins before this. But, as soon as the sun had set and the moon rose, it instantly changed into this western styled Sunset Shrine.

Alex also made a point to touch the buildings. They were all very real. None of them were illusions.

"So, you're really the goddess of wisdom and daughter of Zeus, Pallas Athena? One of the twelve major gods of Olympus?"

"It seems that you're quite well versed with the rumors and legends about me. But, some of those are true, and some are false. Listening is fine and all... But now, I have to ask you for one thing..."

Before she could even finish, the deafening sounds of battle came from outside the doors of the sanctuary. It sounded like people were trying to break in!

Alex had not closed the doors after he entered the sanctuary, and the doors had automatically closed behind him.

“Who’s out there?” Alex asked.

“The puppet army that Phaseless has brought!” Mask... Well, Athena said.

At the entrance of the sanctuary, countless puppets were frantically attacking the gates. Loud, earth-shattering noises thundered out from their assaults.

However, the structure of the sanctuary was strong, the two massive bronze doors alone hundreds of meters high. The doors had an unimaginable thickness and weren’t made out of any ordinary bronze material.

Divine power swirled on them, and they were carved with mysterious and complicated patterns. Images of the sun, moon, stars, mountains, and rivers, as well as the brilliance of gods leading through the ages, were also on them.

“Who the hell is Phaseless?” Alex felt it a little strange.

“He doesn’t seem that particularly strong in combat, right? Even Donovan could beat him before this. Miss Athena, with your ability, how can you not beat him?”

Athena shook her head. “There’s not only one ‘Phaseless’, it’s just one of the thousands of forms that Phaseless has.”

“So, just like how you’re Mask right now,” Neela said.

“They’re all clones? Is there something more powerful behind them?”

“You can put it that way,” Athena replied. “Those are all Puppet Immortals that have been contaminated.”

At this moment, the sounds of the assault were getting louder.

Neela could stand still no longer and rushed to check it out. On top of Sunset Shrine was a transparent window made from unknown materials. Tougher than the bronze doors, some puppets were also trying to break through it from the outside. However, they failed to breach it and turned back to attack the gates instead.

Neela stood at the window and looked down.

It was pitch black, and it was all people.

Neela could feel the fear and frustration creeping up on her. It felt like the time before she fell into a deep sleep, the scene of the Benares Dragon falling into despair.

She ran back and said to Athena, “Is this the Internal Realm created by Grand Emperor Rowan before he used fragments of Six Eternities? Didn’t you say that the puppet army inside it had been divided into two factions? Why are all the puppet immortals here and attacking this shrine? What do they want?”

Athena waved her hand, and a mechanical sound echoed from behind her. A door appeared from where the sound came from. However, there was another layer of glass on the inside of it.

Through the doorway, Alex and the others could see rows upon rows of puppet immortals, standing silently in a densely packed manner, their massive numbers countless to the naked eye.

“This is...”

“This is what they’re after! Uncontaminated puppet immortals!”

Athena glanced at the door, then waved to close the door behind her, shielding the puppet immortals inside. “Time is running out. The puppet immortals outside are monsters that have been contaminated by the Undying Clan, and they must die! This shrine is no longer stable, and it will collapse very soon... The puppet immortals behind me are the future of world peace. I promised the old founder that I would protect them until the day the Phoenix Empress and the king returns.”

Phoenix Empress?

Alex thought for a while. Could she possibly be talking about that ancient emperor’s partner, Grand Emperor Rowan?

The puppet that used Athena as her body had a graceful face and a determined expression. She moved her slender thighs, and stepped slowly towards the deity sitting on the throne. She then lifted the crown from the top of the deity’s head, which had olive branches wrapped around it.