

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2301

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2301

Alex let out a sigh of relief.

'It looks like the great Genbu is really reliable. It doesn't matter who you are, not even this Yavda Akaaran Buddha, the great Genbu would make your attacks seem feeble.'

However, just as he was about to smile, the monk vanished from the carriage, appearing right in front of Alex in a blink of an eye. Then, with a dark golden fist, he swung harshly toward them.

It was way too fast for the naked eye. This was, in fact, the power of regulation.

Before Alex could realize it, that strong wave of power landed right on his Mystic Armor.

Clang!

It didn't break.

Clang!

It still didn't break after the second punch.

'Nice.'

'But... This is just so frustrating. Why is this happening? Apart from blocking him with my armor, I really don't have anything else or energy left to fightback with.'

"What a tough turtle shell. Let's see how many more times you can take my attacks!"

Boom boom boom!

"Oh, and call that lady in your head to come out here! What? Is she cowering from seeing my true form?"

“Come out, come on! Come out and fight me if you dare!”

Boom boom boom boom, boom boom boom...

Back then, when the monk's divided soul had been destroyed, he was still able to hear the lady telling him to get lost at the very last moments. Hence, that was why he knew that there was a soul of a powerful woman within Alex's body.

Alex finally understood that he was utterly helpless under the monk's attacks. This was his domain, after all.

His fists were hard and heavy as if he had turned into the Hulk. Every punch felt like a large boulder crashing down, making Alex feel as if his organs were about to burst, giving him tremendous pain.

All his 110 golden cores were quivering from the impact, forced to retreat. The divine power within his core was frozen in place as well.

As blood kept spilling out of his mouth, he thought. 'How frustrating!'

Since he hasn't achieved Immortalization, the Genbu turtle shell wasn't enough for him to bring out his trump card. His powers were nothing compared to that of an Immortal Monarch.

'Am I going to die?'

'I was too self-confident! I should've run just now!'

Many members of the Plenilune Sect were watching Alex being beaten up outside of the scaffold, his blood drenching his clothes.

“We're done for!”

“This monk is too strong. He doesn't stand a chance!”

“Hermione, your master's husband is at his limit. He's going to be beaten to death...”

Hermione couldn't say a single word. 'Oh no, my only hope is going down.'

On the other hand, Neela was surrounded by all the corpses, lying flat on the ground. She was even being stepped on, unable to lift her head.

Seeing her master being beaten up like this, she couldn't help but cry due to their helplessness. She thought they wouldn't survive.

Some were starting to whisper amongst themselves, not knowing what was going to happen next. Yet a ray of purple light radiated from Alex's chest as a woman's voice filled the air.

"If you want to see me that much, then I shall grant your wish.

"Uhm..."

Alex was able to hear it very clearly. This voice was the same as that woman before, calm yet cold and indifferent towards everything.

"You're... My past self?"

'Couldn't you have been of another gender?' Alex was slightly conflicted.

He had hoped that he misheard last time, but now it was clear that the person inside him was a woman. The soul in his chest did n't reply. Instead, a ray of light rushed out of Alex's body.

The light was merely a figure, wrapped in a divine glow. Hence, no one was able to see their real face. Despite this, their presence was enough to show how powerful they were. It felt invincible, infinite and unexplainable. However, it was apparent that this wasn't a man.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2302

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2302

"Who are you?" The monk stared back at the phantom, his chest tightened.

'Her aura is way too strong.'

"Who am I?" The woman then said coldly, "That's not important!"

The phantom lifted her head and scanned her surroundings. She then stomped on the ground harshly.

Boom boom, crash...

The entire scaffold cracked with one stomp from this woman. Even the nine dark, resentful pillars were shattered instantly.

All nine pillars were crushed by some kind of incomparable power, turning into dust in mere seconds. The ashes were then blown out by a gust of strong wind, flowing out toward the cliff.

Alex was extremely shocked to witness this. 'My past self was this powerful?'

He had tried breaking the pillars with his Seven Blades of Death. Hence, it was clear how tough they were. Yet his past self managed to take everything down with one mere stomp, let alone the resentment of the dead within the chained altar.

Rocks and dust flew up into the air as the ground rumbled yet again. The entire mountain was shaking, causing many to lose balance.

What was weirder was that the scaffold split right in the middle as larger boulders fell right into the crooks of the mountains. After that, rays of yellow light shone from within the ground.

The Yavda monk was shocked as well.

'What's underground?'

'I've been here hundreds of times, yet I never knew something was buried down there.'

Just then, another mystical thing happened right in front of their eyes. The phantom stomped once more.

Boom!

Along with the loud noise, the entire scaffold and cliff looked as if they had been knocked down by a giant hammer, collapsing.

Alex immediately rushed over to get Frostine, then toward Neela...

"Ah, what's happening?"

"The mountain is collapsing! Get back! Everyone, get back!"

The members of the Plenilune Sect screamed hysterically as the ancient buildings around the scaffold came crashing down. Everything started slanting, even the gigantic tree nearby was uprooted. Some unluckier people had fallen into the crack as well.

The scaffold was tilting downward, crumbling into pieces.

Suddenly, Alex noticed that the ground beneath his feet was shaking vigorously. The light shining from below was incredibly radiant, brimming with ancient energy. This land was slowly blinding with light, rocks falling into the crack as the underground item slowly showed itself.

Alex then saw the light form into some kind of writing...

'Xa...'

With the earthquake continued, more words formed in the air. '...vion.'

'Xavion?'

'What does that mean?'

'This word is hidden under the scaffold... Could this have something to do with Emperor Xavion back in ancient times?'

His questions were answered as soon as the phantom gestured toward the words. The ground below the altar let out a long cry as the scaffold was completely separated from the mountains. Something was being drawn out of the ground slowly.

At that very moment, Alex finally could see what it was. There was a large sword hidden underneath the Plenilune Scaffold.

'It's... The Xavion Sword!'

This sword had been securely placed within the mountains, entirely covered by the ground.

The very scaffold was built on top of the hilt of the sword. No one could've expected a legendary weapon to be hidden underneath with the thick mountains surrounding it.

"The Xavion Sword!"

The Yavda was so shocked to see this that it left his mouth agape. He took a glance at the phantom, surrounded by divine light, and immediately tried to grab the sword with his dark golden hand.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2303

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2303

However, he didn't seem to have the strength to take it.

The phantom said in her calm voice, "I didn't expect this sword to be hidden in such a place."

After that, the woman grabbed the sword and turned it into a three feet blade. It was ancient yet simple, a rather magnificent design. There were odd carvings on the side, which made it look even cooler. It even sounded quite pleasant as it slashed through the air.

"Ah... What a pity..." The phantom sighed as she looked at the sword.

The monk asked, "What's a pity?"

"The fact that it would have to slay a piece of trash moments after it was brought to light"

'Uhm...'

'Is she referring to me?'

The monk froze, then felt extremely insulted. After all, he was one of the famous powerful gods back then. He had even become an Immortal Monarch at present time. Not many could stand a chance against him.

"Such big talk. Aren't you just a mere wandering soul? You don't have any roots, let alone a body. Yet you dare to speak to me this disrespectfully? Alright then, I shall swallow you whole!"

"Yavda Dragon God, swallow!"

A black dragon tattoo appeared on the monk's back, along with a faint form of an actual dragon behind him. Then, the entire area started shaking as a black hole formed before him, swallowing everything in its way. However, the phantom swung the sword lightly, shattering all this as if it were just a dream. The monk died instantly.

After that, the phantom brought the sword with her and turned into a ray of light, dashing through the thirty-six corpses swiftly.

Peace was once again restored in this world.

The monk died, whereas the corpses returned to being mere corpses.

On the other hand, the phantom was still holding the sword. She was floating silently in the air, staring into the distance. No one knew what she was looking at, nor what she was thinking about.

As Neela returned to her human form, Alex held her and Frostine in his arms, slightly worried.

'My past self is way too strong. Would I become like Dorothy and turn into their husk? She might take over! A woman in a man's body... She might make changes to my body to best fit herself!'

'She's... Really your past self?'

Neela had received a telepathic message from Alex a while ago. Alex sounded like he was writing a will, telling her to help take care of his family if she ever returned to America.

Alex replied. 'Yes, Daya mentioned this to me before. Our past selves are tragic lovers. We were reborn at the same time, and my past self was hidden in my chest. But she never told me that my past self was a woman.'

Neela narrowed her eyes slightly, not daring to look straight at them.

"Idiot!"

Suddenly, the phantom turned around. No one could see her face, but one could assume that she was staring at Alex.

After saying that, she turned herself into a ray of light and rushed into Alex's chest, retreating inside once again. This time, she even brought the Xavion Sword with her.

Five minutes later, Alex touched his face, exclaiming. "I think... I'm okay."

Neela hugged him. “That’s great, Sir! Since your past self is a woman, she might not be interested in your body, so she probably wouldn’t take over. When she comes out next time, we can look for a suitable body for her.”

“I think yours is pretty fine. Would you like to lend me that?” A voice chimed in their conversation, who was obviously Alex’s past self.

Upon hearing this, Neela shut her mouth up and fell silent.

Alex had quite a lot of questions as well. However, he was worried that she might change her mind and take over his body. Hence, he decided to leave her be to give himself one less thing to worry about.

“Sir!” Hermione rushed over, visibly excited. “I knew that you could change our fates, Sir! You’re invincible after all!”

‘My hope didn’t die out. I can still rely on him!’ She thought.

The members of the Plenilune Sect viewed Alex as some type of god as well. Since the phantom came out of his body, they naturally thought she was just one of his skills.

“Senior, our sect has three treasuries. We’ll bring you over to them now!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2304

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2304

Alex wanted to check out the Yavda monk’s corpse to see if there’s anything useful on him.

Considering he was an Immortal Monarch now, he might’ve been even stronger back in his days. He was most likely quite powerful back when the power of laws was still perfectly balanced.

If Alex could get his hands on his storage ring, he knew that he’d gain quite a few powerful items. However, Alex scanned the area with his divine conscience repeatedly, yet still couldn’t find anything related to the monk. It was as if the phantom managed to wipe the monk’s existence off of this world, along with all his things.

‘Uh..?’

‘And the way to enter the Phoenix Sect Sanctuary...’

That was out of consideration as well. Hence, he figured that it was best to find the teleportation circle himself. It was fortunate that he wasn't in a hurry to enter the sanctuary. With the Chaos Tree, he seemed to have found another way instead. The Chaos Tree was able to purify the impurities within the power of laws, turning them into completely pure energy... Using this, he wouldn't need to find the sanctuary.

Besides, the people around him could give a hand in this as well.

Alex then followed the members of the Plenilune Sect to the treasuries, only to be disappointed.

The most valuable item in the treasuries was just some herbs with spiritual energy. Although he still managed to obtain quite a few rare herbs from this, nothing else in the treasuries could excite him at all.

The manager of the last treasury was an old lady who had a hunched back.

She sighed. “We, the Plenilune Sect, used to be a traditional herb business. Our business was bustling and earning quite a lot of profit as well. We never had to worry about spiritual stones.

“Some of our elders even mentioned that our founders had the power to understand heaven and earth. All of them had the blood of mythical beasts as well. Some awakened the supernatural power to smell. They were able to identify spiritual herbs that were within a hundred-mile radius too.”

When the old lady said this, she seemed pretty proud, but this expression did not last long.

“It's a shame that the Plenilune Sect started worsening ever since ancient times. We had fewer and fewer people that had the blood of mythical beasts. In the end, they became extinct as well. Hence, no one was able to master the martial arts of our sect.”

“The Plenilune Sect went from being an elite clan to a complete joke now. A joke, really! We can't even keep our treasury safe now...”

Alex frowned. “You know quite a lot, huh, old lady!”

She held her chest then let out a few coughs. Turning toward Alex, she shook her head and said, "It's alright, this will happen sooner or later anyway. If you didn't take those herbs, they'd end up rotting in here. Take them, take them all away. I don't want to get any more annoyed than I already am when seeing them."

In the end, she even reminded Alex. "Don't ever waste these precious herbs. Only let skilled alchemists handle them too. Else it would surely be an insult to the herbs!"

Seeing just how sad she was about his place, Alex couldn't help but ponder to himself.

'The old lady's actions indicated that she had quite the history. She's not just a mere treasury manager that leeches off of the sect.'

"Granny, you're quite attached to the Plenilune Sect, right?" Alex asked.

"Attached? This is my home, for god's sake. It's a pity that they've worsened with every generation..."

Her words seemed to have confirmed his assumptions further.

"Granny, how long have you been living here?"

"... Are you trying to guess my age? Humph, I won't be revealing anything to you. Take the herbs and leave. Don't act all nice when you're just trying to benefit from this place. Back in my day, I could've squashed you younglings with one hand alone..."

Alex was stunned by her response. 'Old lady, you're boasting a little too much there.'

'If you really were that powerful, why would the Plenilune Sect end up like this? Not only was the sect master killed, someone had to substitute as a fake while keeping this from everyone else.'

Just then, Neela rushed over with Frostine in her arms. When Alex was checking the treasuries out, he told Neela and Hermione to watch over Frostine.

“Sir, Sir, please take a look at her. She seems a little off. It’s like her blood is boiling like hot water. She even has steam coming out of her nose and mouth. This is probably the consequence of bloodline induced blood sacrifice.”

“She’s in critical condition!” Alex instantly felt his chest tighten.

He immediately picked Frostine up and swept the porcelain tea set off the table before carefully placing Frostine down.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2305

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2305

Frostine’s body was burning hot, and she was sweating profusely. Her face and body were extremely red as if she was being steamed alive. Her breathing was rather rapid as well.

The old lady frowned as she watched Alex sweep her porcelain collection off to the floor. She was about to snap when they shattered into three small pieces but then noticed Frostine’s white, long tail.

In that instant, the old lady’s eyes lit up, seemingly excited. After that, she couldn’t care less about those porcelain sets anymore.

“She... She is...” Her voice was trembling as she reached out, trying to touch Frostine’s tail. However, Alex blocked her hand with his body.

Seeing just how critical Frostine’s condition was, he didn’t dare to hesitate any further and inserted some of his Chi into her. Hoping that this would soothe her current symptoms for now.

Just then, the old lady yelled at him fiercely. Her voice sounded like thunder. “Stop it! Are you trying to kill her?”

Alex jumped from surprise. He didn’t expect an elderly to be able to yell at such a loud volume.

Smack!

The old lady rushed over and slapped Alex’s hand off harshly, scolding him. “You have no idea what you’re doing, so stop trying to make things worse!

What would you do if you killed her or disable her bloodline entirely? She's the hope of our sect!"

"She is my godsister."

The old lady huffed coldly. "She's not your godsister anymore. She's the sect master of our Plenilune Sect."

Alex fell silent then asked, "Granny, do you know something?"

The old lady replied, "Her bloodline has been forcefully activated. Her blood has been forcefully fused with her bone marrow, which is an extremely cruel method... This is like pulling out the petals of a flower so it'd bloom faster. This will bring extreme consequences."

"How serious is it?"

"If she's lucky, she'd become disabled. If not, dead."

Alex was shocked. "I'm the descendant of the God of Medicine. I can cure her, so please step away now."

"Buzz off! So what if you're the descendant of the God of Medicine? You'd just make things worse!" Pausing, the old lady then continued, "Leave her to me. You guys can leave now!"

Alex didn't want to oblige.

'Are you kidding?'

'Would Frostine even end up like this if it weren't for your sect?'

The old lady noticed that Alex was unwilling to leave Frostine here and let out a sigh. "Alright, you can come with me. As for the rest of you, do not follow me."

The old lady then walked toward the back of the place.

One of the elders of the Plenilune Sect seemed to have realized where she was heading off to. "Madame Coufal, that is a sacred area of the sect You're not ranked high enough to enter."

'So the old lady's name is Serene Coufal.' Alex thought.

However, she huffed once again and wiped her face clean. “What about now?”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2306

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2306

“Oh, my god!”

“She’s a changed woman from an old granny to a pretty woman!”

Alex was dumbfounded.

Just a few moments ago, she was an old lady with a head full of silver hair and wrinkles crawling all over her face. Now, after a sudden change, she had become a poised thirty year old with a beauty of incandescent quality.

Her femininity and beauty made the moon and flowers shy. Even the emperors would die for her looks. She was no longer hunching, so she was taller now at about 1.7 meters.

Was this a disguise?

Why would a pretty woman disguise as a hunchbacked old lady? It was really puzzling.

As a result, the Plenilune Sect elders were surprised. They looked at her and exclaimed with a little bit of uncertainty, “You... You, you are the seventh generation of the Plenilune Sect’s headteacher, Coufal, Coufal...”

They did not dare to continue the real name at the end.

The Plenilune Sect had a shrine. In addition to the fallen inside the shrine, some people had outstanding contributions to the Plenilune Sect. Portraits of successive generations of headteachers and biographical events were hung on the ancestral wall. The portrait of this person in front was hung on the wall of the ancestral hall to be remembered by future generations.

It could be said that all the senior members of the Plenilune Sect had seen the portrait.

She was called Serene Coufal. However, Serene disappeared two thousand years ago. According to various speculations, this seventh generation Sect leader had fallen two thousand years ago due to an accident. Her spirit plaque was in the ancestral hall!

That was why the people of the Plenilune Sect were so surprised when they saw her face.

“That’s right. It’s me. I’m not dead!”

Serene looked at the elder and said, “So, are you going to stop me now?”

The elder was incomparably shocked. After a while, she finally came back to her senses.

When she wanted to answer, she saw that Serene had no intention of waiting for the elder’s answer and pulled Alex and Frostine along with her and quickly walked to the back hall.

The elders of the Plenilune Sect had mixed feelings in their hearts, more than anything else, they were excited.

Admittedly, just as Serene said, the Plenilune Sect was getting worse than the previous generations. Since the end of the ancient period, the so-called New Era, the Plenilune Sect began to go downhill. In the three thousand years of the New Era, the seventh generation Sect Leader was an absolute legend. Back then, she had trampled on the other five super great sects of the golden era all on her own.

The sect heads of all the great sects came to the Plenilune Sect to flatter them.

That was the peak and final glorious moment of the Plenilune Sect in the New Era. However, one day Serene suddenly disappeared.

The Plenilune Sect had collapsed.

Now, Serene had reappeared and had been pretending to be an old woman, guarding a treasure trove... But, no matter what reason she gave, the return of this legendary figure, Serene, was really a shot in the arm to the present day Plenilune Sect.

So, this elder hurriedly ran back and informed the rest of the Plenilune Sect to get everyone to come to welcome her.

Perhaps, the Plenilune Sect was about to rise again.

”Are you surprised at my identity?”

Inside the back hall, Serene looked at Alex and asked this. She could see Alex’s doubts.

“At one time, I was indeed the Headteacher of the Plenilune Sect, and I was invincible everywhere. However, that was all based on the premise that the ancient period was far away, the gods had disappeared, and no real experts existed, moreover, now, I have lost all my fighting power, and I am no longer the old Serene.”

If at this moment, the senior members of the Plenilune Sect, who had just heard the news, could hear what Serene said, they would be incomparably disappointed.

They had just received hope, and it turned out that this hope had to be scattered before it was even warmed up.

This place was one of the halls in the back hall.

Squeak!

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2307

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2307

A long rattling sound was heard.

Inside the apse, a heavy door slowly opened.

While walking inside, Serene said, “Nowadays, the only way to save her life is to rely on our Nine Tails Clan’s legacy tablet. The legacy tablet is inside.”

Soon, Alex saw the legacy tablet that Serene mentioned.

It was very tall. It could be a hundred feet tall.

A huge nine-tailed fox was carved on the stone monument, with nine tails that were as vivid as life. Each tail was a different color and glowed with a strange luster. There was a lush jungle with countless demons kneeling to the nine-tailed fox, listening to the heavenly truth and understanding the impermanence of the world.

However, Alex realized that he could not walk further when he reached a hundred meters in front of this stone monument. No matter what, he could not get closer.

“There is no need to try!” Serene said to Alex, “You are not from the Nine Tails Clan. You are created to be able to walk up to this point. Just leave the new sect leader to me. With me here, she will be fine. ”

Alex refused to go.

Although he could see that Serene was not lying, he likewise did not dare to take it lightly and did not dare to walk away.

Serene’s mouth was chanting at this time, and the aura on her body had a seismic change. If she was like an ordinary old lady before this, then now she had released the aura of a leader in a sanctuary. That was not all. Something was bulging behind Serene, ready to come out. It swelled as the energy converged.

“Tails?”

‘She’s going to grow a tail?’ Alex secretly thought to himself.

This was because that location was exactly where Frostine grew a tail.

Serene seemed to be in pain and was trying extremely hard to endure the pain.

“Phew!”

Alex guessed correctly, a tail had really appeared. There was more than one. She had actually grown five fox tails one after another.

However, Serene's tails were different from Frostine's, both in color and in the fineness of the hairs. There were a lot of inadequacies compared to Frostine's. These hairs were a little dull, without essence and had lost their fighting spirit.

"This is the reason why she lost her fighting power?"

However, the next thing Alex saw was an explosion of light. There were energy bursts on Serene's tail. At this moment, it was as if a dead tree had blossomed and spring had returned to the earth, and the five dull tails had become incomparably flamboyant and dominating again.

With these tails, Serene created an unbreakable boundary. The light shone brightly.

The last thing Alex saw was that Serene had placed all of her tails onto Frostine's body.

An even more blinding light swept through. An unknown force pulled the Nine Tails Clan's legacy tablet.

There was white light breaking through the stone. The room in this apse was illuminated like a star.

This time, besides being unable to see the picture inside, the light stung his eyes so much that he could not open them, and he ended up being shaken away by force.

"Legacy?"

"I wonder what will happen in the end!"

This wait was three days and three nights.

When the light on the legacy tablet was completely extinguished, and the blinding beams of light began to dissipate, Alex saw Frostine suspended in front of the stone tablet, quiet as if she had fallen asleep, but there was mysterious energy in her body that was constantly circulating and changing, signaling that she had inherited the Nine Tails inheritance on the stone tablet.

Serene, the previous stunning sect leader, had become an old woman. She looked much older than the previous disguise.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2308

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2308

Alex looked at Serene in front of him. Just now, she was still a gorgeous woman. Now, she was full of silver hair, with a declining Chi and blood. Her aura was all destroyed. Even behind the buttocks, there was a bloodstain. Despite appearing as an old woman before, now she had really turned into an old granny!

What exactly happened inside?

“Granny, how did you...”

Although Alex did not see the process, right now, just by association, he knew she must have sacrificed a lot just now to save Frostine.

Frostine was currently still suspended in front of the stone monument, but she was far from the danger of death. Her body aura had also changed a lot, giving others a feeling that she was slowly regaining her superiority.

Serene walked out from inside step by step. She moved very slowly, as if taking a step took a lot of her strength.

Just by walking to Alex’s side, she was at the brink of collapsing.

“Help me up!” Serene rolled her eyes at Alex as if to say, why do you not have foresight despite being a grown man?

Alex smiled and held her arms with both hands, “Granny, how is my senior sister?”

“You don’t have a sister.”

“What?!”

“She is the pure bloodline inheritor of our Nine Tails clan. Therefore, you are not qualified to be her brother.”

“You old vixen. You can’t even walk on the road, and you’re still trying to be dominant here?” Alex immediately flung her away.

Serene immediately fell to the ground, and her face was full of anger. But, Alex no longer helped her, “Do you believe me, I will take my senior sister away right now? The Plenilune Sect and Nine Tails Clan have nothing to do with us. Let’s see if she listens to you or me.”

“You...”

Serene stared at Alex. “Do you know that she has a great future? She has a pure bloodline. Her future achievements are far above mine. If you take her away, you are destroying her! How can you be so selfish?”

Alex put his hands to his chest and said indifferently, “Far above you? Ah granny, look at your virtue now. Your tail is gone, your Chi and blood are almost defeated. A relic like you can’t even protect your sect. Any random person can pretend to be your sect leader. What is the meaning of a life which others have surpassed?”

“You...”

Serene pointed at Alex, her chest heaving vigorously, almost vomiting blood to death.

‘Who am I doing this for?’

‘I became this way because of your senior sister, and you actually attacked me with this?’

‘Are you still a human?’

“What do you want to say? I’ll call out my senior sister now and ask her to stay away from the Plenilune Sect in the future. Otherwise, I’ll cut off her tail and destroy her Nine Tails bloodline. Those who like to be a vixen, feel free. We don’t do it.”

After Alex had spoken, he returned and opened his mouth and roared to wake Frostine up.

Serene's face turned pale with fear, and she hurriedly ran over with all her might, "No, I apologize, I tell you I'm sorry, you don't wake her up, I'm begging you, please?"

Alex bristled. Of course, he was just scaring Serene. He would not interrupt the state Frostine was in. He knew it was impossible to cut off the tail. At this moment, it was definitely the most critical moment for Frostine, a life changing one.

Alex was unusually uncomfortable when he saw the granny speaking as if she was superior.

"That's right, talk properly, or I can wipe out all of your Plenilune Sect right now!" Alex said viciously.

Serene's eyebrows twitched wildly for a while. Her heart was sad and bitter, but also emotional. The Plenilune Sect, which was in a good state originally, had fallen to this extent, to be trampled over by a little known kid. It was really saddening. But, she could not do anything. If only during that year...

Forget about it. A truly successful person would not brag about past achievements but be able to maintain a humble attitude and the enterprising spirit of always moving forward. However, she looked at Alex and coldly snorted in her heart.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2309

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2309

'I'll let you be complacent for now. Later, when the strength of the grandmaster has reached an unprecedented height, you would have no choice but to look up.'

Meanwhile, in Starborn City, the Sun Shrine's people had finally arrived.

Donovan was determined to get the Chaos Beads, Chaos Bell, and especially the Chaos Tree on Alex's body. He was not the only one, the Sun Shrine Sect Leader, Gabriel, and the twelve Peak Lords, all wanted Donovan to get the Chaos Tree immediately.

With the Chaos Tree, it was like having an unprecedented treasure mountain. When a person became an official, the people he had a relationship with would also gain powers.

Everyone would be able to benefit.

“We have finally arrived here, but that b*stard has been here for three or four days. At this time, I’m afraid he has long fled to who knows where.”

The person who spoke was Mica, who had also followed him over and hated Alex to the bone. Alex dressed up as her senior brother and took advantage of her. She felt humiliated like never before.

However, she took a look at the real senior brother Donovan and could not stop feeling sad deep down. After what happened that night at the auction, where she had a romantic entanglement with the fake senior brother, she did not doubt the senior brother’s identity, especially at that moment. It was too beautiful, especially when a teenage girl’s affection was willingly given, with that kind of heart-racing romantic taste. However, encountering the real Donovan, she found that he once again was the same person he was before.

He was serious in speech and manner. He was indifferent to her intimate actions.

She was even disgusted with herself for touching him. The cold vibe and act of rejecting people were so different from that exquisite taste of love before this. She even had a little doubt about the master’s sexual orientation. Did he like males?

“Since he ran to Starborn City, someone must have seen him. Let’s ask carefully and see what happens,” Gabriel suggested.

“Now go over to the teleportation circle immediately. He destroyed the teleportation circle, I don’t believe no one found out.”

These people here first teleported to another city called Blue Lake City through the long-distance teleportation circle from Raze City. Blue Lake City was not that far from Starborn City. They originally wanted to teleport to Starborn City through Blue Lake City, but when they asked, they learned that there was only one teleportation array in Starborn City, which went straight through Raze City.

This was a liver ache.

Without a choice, several people could only cross the wilderness on foot to come to Starborn City. They were on the road for a full three days.

In Donovan's hand were memory crystals about Alex. Immediately, he ran over to the teleportation circle to find him.

Donovan was rich and generous. He had a few hundred spirit stones as a reward.

"Oh, you're talking about this guy. I remember him very well, obviously a man, but wearing a woman's clothes, ouch, I almost threw up my overnight meal." A middle-aged man guarding the teleportation portal saw Alex's appearance from the memory crystal and immediately yelled out loud. After receiving the spirit stone, he simply knew everything.

Finally, when he heard that Alex had deliberately broken the teleportation circle, he immediately became furious, "What? So it was that guy who deliberately broke the teleportation portal. How dare you!"

But on second thought, "No, the teleportation circle was not broken!"

After that was said, a middle-aged man came out of the portal.

When he saw Donovan and the others surrounding him, he got nervous. "What do you want? Is this a robbery? Money or sex?"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2310

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2310

The crowd looked at the middle-aged man, who was not only bald but also had a large, long-haired mole on the nose. His face seemed very lewd.

Mica, in particular, almost vomited when she saw his face as if he was afraid of being robbed.

'Come on, aren't you too confident in yourself?'

"Where did you teleport from?" Donovan asked.

“Where did I teleport from?” The middle-aged man touched his balding top and rolled his big white eyes, his face full of euphemism, as if he was looking at fools. “Where else can I come from? Can’t you see such big words?”

He pointed to the sign next to the portal. The sign clearly stated that this portal could only teleport to Razor City.

“So, you really teleported here from Razor City?”

The middle-aged man couldn’t help but look over at the people watching the teleportation circle, “Who are they? Looking all human-like, do they have a few screws loose in their heads?”

“ ... ”

After the man finished speaking, he hurriedly left this place of trouble.

The man also murmured, “There are strange people every year, but there are unusually more this year”.

The person in charge of guarding the portal looked at Donovan and others. “So, did you find the wrong person? Let me declare in advance, the gift of spiritual stones will not be returned.”

Gabriel, Donovan, and the others were so angry that they almost vomited blood.

Mica was incomparably annoyed and said, “What a strange thing. The portal is clearly broken and not working. How can it work again? But, then, we’ve worked hard for nothing these past few days, rushing through the work, day and night.”

A Peak Lord suddenly said, “I remembered something. I once heard an old man say that the three thousand worlds of the portal are more than ten thousand years ago in the past. The Stoermer family of the golden age was responsible for the construction. The person, who was a divine array master, was very famous. The portals have their recovery ability, so...”

Alex, however, did not know this.

At that time, he also destroyed the ancient runes on the formation blueprint in a hurry because he also had to guard against being discovered by the watchman. His action was very subtle, and the trace of that rune that was erased was not deep. After a short time, it was back to normal.

Thus, even the caretaker did not find out that the portal had been broken.

However, in the end, Donovan and others got a message from this watchman. "In Starborn City, there are many famous people. I do not know the man you speak of, but the woman with him is the Yggdrasill family's young lady, Hermione Yggdrasill. Her cultivation talent is outstanding, and she joined the Plenilune Sect a long time ago... But some time ago, something big happened to the Yggdrasill family. Many people were exterminated overnight."

"The Yggdrasill family, the Plenilune Sect?!"

At this moment, Alex did not know that Hermione had exposed his whereabouts.

According to Serene's intention, Frostine would need to continue to remain like this for at least a week or so before she could finally consolidate the Nine Tails inheritance that she had received. Earlier, Serene passed all of her bloodline energy to Frostine, using such a way to lift her crisis and successfully activate the legacy tablet.

This point still moved Alex.

"So, if you lose all your bloodline energy, won't your life span also be cut short?"

Serene answered, "It's nothing terrible. I should have died a long time ago anyway. Keeping this life and seeing the complete defeat of the Plenilune Sect is something I could not bear. Now, I finally found a suitable inheritor. As long as the Plenilune Sect can survive, what's wrong with giving up this life of mine?"

Alex saw that she was now struggling to walk. Finally, he was moved after hearing her explanation. He took out a fruit. "For you!"

Serene took it, looked closely at it, and was shocked. "This is, the heavenly law fruit?! Where did you get it from?"

“I picked it up.”