

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2351

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2351

“It’s the Stardew Fruit! It’s definitely the Stardew Fruit!”

“Work harder, everyone! Don’t slack off! Launch all the attacks that you can use! Blast this d*mned mongrel till there’s nothing left of him! ”

The one who said that was other than the Sun Shrine’s main character, Gabriel’s concubine, who had a birthday today. Once she was done speaking, she ordered the Sun Shrine’s people to unleash their attacks desperately.

Clang! Clang! Clang! Clang! Clang! Clang!

Athena’s large golden shield was sturdy, but Alex could not hold it up to defend himself for a long time. That shock alone could cause his purlicue to crack and bleed. Moreover, there was also the area where the huge shield could not defend.

“Old Pig, you’re done yet?” Alex urged the pig demon below.

“Oink, Oink Hold on for another three minutes.”

“You still need three minutes... D*mn it! I’ll have to fight!”

As all the golden cores in Alex’s body shook, the furnace of the forbidden spell appeared.

‘Great Icebound Spell, activate!’

“Ah! I’m frozen!”

“Ah! I’m frozen too..!”

Once the excellent killer weapon came out, an expanse of at least a dozen people was frozen solid, including the old birthday lady today. Once the people at the rear, who did not understand the situation at the front, made a forceful impact, the frozen people were instantly broken into pieces.

Colette paled as she looked at the icy chunks of blood and flesh before her.

Just now, she was almost frozen as well. The weapon in her hand came in contact with the Great Icebound Spell, and then it froze rapidly. If she had not let go of it quickly, her hand would have been frozen.

And, it turned out that her weapon shattered from the freezing.

This was no small shock.

“Heavenly Mirror!” she shouted. There was a soul-linked relationship between her and the Heavenly Mirror so that she could summon it back for her own use.

However, just as the Heavenly Mirror turned into a stream of light and flew out of Alex’s body, he grabbed and squeezed it hard, erasing the soul restriction on it.

“Hmph. I borrowed the Heavenly Mirror with my ability, so how could there be a reason to return it?”

“If you want the Heavenly Mirror, ask for it again in another hundred years!”

Alex squeezed the Heavenly Mirror. At this moment, it was already an ownerless object. After he immediately charged it with his Chi and swept it with his divine sense, the Heavenly Mirror belonged to him. He turned around the situation by shooting an attack at Colette.

The Heavenly Mirror could shoot out a massive laser-like attack at a breakneck speed. The blow hit Colette in the intact chest on the side.

Poof!

It exploded again.

Colette was furious and hysterical. “Rockefeller, you’re my sworn enemy!”

Alex was a little surprised as well, so he said, “I’m sorry. I’m sorry. The aim was too accurate. But by the way, those two areas of yours aren’t fakes, right? Why was there a difference between the two sounds?”

Colette almost fainted out of rage.

‘It exploded once after it was slapped, and it exploded again after getting shot by the Heavenly Mirror. Could it be the same sounds?’

'This b*stard did it on purpose!'

Presently, the holy hymns surrounding the inside of the mountainside had finally subsided. The silver light all over the sky also abruptly retracted, as if it never existed. Alex turned around and happened to see the Treasure-hunting Pig put away all the seven stone boxes.

It looked at Alex with a pair of pig eyes.

It was thinking, 'How am I going to escape from here?'

Unexpectedly, the earth trembled, and the air shook vigorously. There was some massive commotion in the distance, so someone looked to the east. For a moment there, they were all dumbfounded.

They only saw something enormous breaking through the void above the sky, rising gradually between the clouds. It was... A sacred golden mountain!

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2352

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2352

"W-what sort of existence is that?"

"Oh my god! The divine golden mountain is so far away, yet I could feel its holy intent."

"I suddenly felt an impulse to rush toward the sacred mountain and kowtow before it."

Countless people present were stunned. This was a huge incident, a tremor of momentous scale. Not only the Sun Shrine, but almost all the people on the land could see that sacred golden mountain at this moment. It was enormous and towering with steep cliffs as if floating in the air... Below the cliffs were clouds and the sea but separated from the continental horizon as if another dimensional space had suddenly revealed a corner of its picture scroll, exposed before everyone.

At this moment, the Sun Shrine's people almost forgot about Alex and the pig demon that had plucked the Stardew fruits from the mountainside. It was because of the extremely powerful holy aura surging out of the sacred mountain.

“This is... Some type of mental infiltration!”

The Chaos Tree in Alex’s mind palace shook, and the golden lake that the divine power had formed roared to drive the rush of holy intent away.

He was also astonished that this kind of change would happen for no reason. What the heck was that?

However, the most crucial thing was to leave the Sun Shrine now. Just as the crowd was still immersed in the mental infiltration of the sacred mountain’s holy intent, Alex turned around to look at the pig demon. To his surprise, this furtive guy seemed utterly unaffected by the mental strength and was preparing to sneak away.

The shock of the silver tree earlier formed a massive crack in the mountainside, so it wanted to run down the mountain through the crack.

“Pig head. Where are you going? Stop right there!” Alex shouted.

Once the pig demon heard it, it did not even turn around. Instead, it fled even faster. As its body turned into a stream of light, it ran as fast it could.

While running, it even sneered. “Dumb brat, Grandpa Pig acquired the Stardew Fruits with its ability. How could it give them to you? Keep on dreaming!”

It spread its four hooves and ran like a lightning bolt. However, it crashed into someone just after it made a turn in the corner.

It looked up. Wasn’t that Alex?

Oh, it was Alex’s mirage.

“Oink, oink..!”

The pig demon screamed strangely.

Bam!

The mirage directly moved and landed a punch on the pig demon’s eye socket, giving it a black eye at once.

“Oink, oink, oink!”

The pig demon wailed miserably. It turned around and headed to the other side, but another mirage blocked it. No matter how fast it was, it could not run away. So, it was instantly beaten to a pulp.

“Big Bro, stop the beating! Ouch! Grandpa Pig’s old nose is going to be broken!”

“Let’s have a good talk! A gentleman should reason things out rather than his fists!”

Alex’s real body arrived and kicked it with a series of ‘bam’.

“Who’s going to use fists on you? I’m using my kicks on you. You wanted to run away after taking my Stardew Fruits. What were you thinking? Take them out.”

Alex searched its body to find out where it could hide things.

Then, he saw it was wearing an earring on the tip of its ear. What a fashionable pig! This was the only place on its body that could hide things.

Whoosh!

Alex pulled off the earring with a grab.

This was equivalent to having stepped on the treasure-hunting pig’s tail. It flew into a rage. “It’s mine! It’s mine! You thug. If you dare to snatch it, I’ll fight you with all my might!”

Alex ignored it and erased the brand on the earring with his divine sense, forcefully taking out the Stardew fruits inside. However, he was stunned the next second.

The earring’s space was enormous!

It could be as huge as a gymnasium. All sorts of precious species were piled inside. Dragon Horn Powder, Heavenly Chrysanthemum, the Eight-petaled Immortal Orchid, the Cockscomb Phoenix Sunflower, and even the Earth Orchid for the concoction of Supreme Chi Rejuvenation Pill. It had everything one needed.

It was just like portable storage for medicine. As expected, it completely deserved its ‘treasure-hunting pig’ moniker.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2353

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2353

It came as a surprise either since so many precious items were inside. If he were to snatch them away, it would be strange the pig demon was not pissed.

Alex immediately put away the earring and said with a smile, “Old pig, your strength is too low. I’ll take care of the items inside the earring for you. Don’t worry, it’s free of charge.”

“Free my *ss. Think I can’t take care of them by myself? You wretched man, this is robbery.”

“If you insist on saying so, I have nothing else to say then. You must have consumed countless heavenly treasures to make that pig’s body of yours emit a fragrance, right? What a first-class ingredient.”

“D*mn! You... You have snatched my property, and you even want to consume my flesh? Do you still have any conscience? Do you have any humanity?”

“The desire for sustenance and sex is a part of human nature. Food comes first for the people as it’s human nature to eat. You should be beautifully fragrant after being boiled. Add in some salt, and put in some star anise and soy sauce.”

“Big bro! I beg you for mercy! I’m the only treasure-hunting pig in the world! I can find all sorts of immortal herbs for you, but please don’t eat me!”

“It’s a deal.”

Alex agreed so readily that the treasure-hunting pig was stunned for a brief moment

“Then... My earring...”

“I’ll keep it for you! The materials inside are the best home for alchemy. You cast pearls before swine, and it’s useless even if you consume any more of them. Don’t worry. I’ll give half of my concocted pills to you.”

“You’re an alchemist?” The pig demon was shocked.

“A supreme alchemist!”

While talking, the Stardew Tree in the mountainside combusted spontaneously all of a sudden. In the blink of an eye, the fire rushed to the sky, leaving nothing behind.

Alex thought it was a pity. If he could transplant it next to the Chaos Tree, he wondered if it could produce a few Stardew fruits every once in a while.

The pig demon looked at the cave’s entrance and discovered those people. Many of them were kneeling on the ground and prostrated to the far side. “What are they doing?”

Alex replied, “Something abnormal has emerged out there. A sacred golden mountain suddenly popped up, and it possessed a powerful mental bewitchery. While they’re still immersed within it now, hurry up and leave. Otherwise, we won’t be able to leave even if we want to!”

The man and the pig immediately rushed out of the mountainside.

When the pig demon saw the sacred golden mountain, it was shocked as well. “Holy sh*t, where did this sacred mountain come from? I feel it’s hazardous!”

Alex nodded. ‘As soon as it appeared, it emanated such a powerful bewitchery. It’s definitely not a good thing. It’s most likely for... D*mn it! It couldn’t be that it wants to collect believers to gain faith, right?’

Having an epiphany, such a thought came to him.

In fact, it was similar to faith, just like his divine power. Just then, the sacred mountain’s mental bewitchery suddenly vanished without a trace, so the group of people from the Sun Shrine immediately came to their senses. When they saw Alex and the pig demon standing aside, they immediately yelled and rushed up to them.

“Run!”

Alex instantly jumped onto the pig demon.

The pig demon let out a loud oink as if very reluctant to be ridden by Alex. However, it also knew how bad the situation was, so it spread its four hooves and fled frantically.

“Paper Doll Curse of Three Realms, go!”

The three paper dolls that Alex threw out turned into a hundred foot tall giant, stopping the crowd in their tracks. Because of this time difference, the pig demon immediately fled down the mountain at ten times the speed of sound.

Along the way, he saw throngs rushing in the direction of the sacred golden mountain. However, it felt far off.

Just then, Alex once again received Cheryl’s telepathy. “Alex, can you hear me?”

“Cheryl..?”

Before this, he had not contacted Cheryl for some time. He even thought the mysterious sense was disconnected entirely for some reason.

“Alex, a sacred golden mountain has appeared on our side. They said it’s Mount Olympus in myths and legends!”

“What? This mountain is Mount Olympus? I saw it too.”

“Huh? You saw it too? There’s one more thing I need to tell you. Your father is back.”

“Huh?”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2354

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2354

“My dad? William Rockefeller? Are... You sure?!”

Alex was really shocked this time.

He found his senior, Frostine, and his father’s tracks on this side of the ancient force field, but the trail clues had long been lost, so no one knew where he had gone to. However, he had returned home on his own after a detour.

Cheryl replied, “It’s absolutely true. Your mother also confirmed his identity, but... Something’s wrong with his condition.”

“Huh? What’s wrong? Is he hurt?”

“I think he seems to have been poisoned. Toxins have invaded his brain, and he doesn’t recognize anyone. I’ve tried my best to detoxify him, but... I don’t know alchemy. Alex, you have to figure out a way to come back. I don’t know how long he can last. I think he only has three months at most...”

Alex was dumbfounded.

To his surprise, his father returned home with great difficulty but had only less than three months to live.

“Where’s the Fairy Doctor? Is the Fairy Doctor there?”

“You should find the Fairy Doctor for help. She may have a way,” Alex hurriedly said that to Cheryl.

Cheryl said, “Sis Winslet is here. But Sister Winslet has no way either. The potent antidote pill that she could concoct was ineffective at all... Also, the Limit Breaking Pill you left behind didn’t work either.”

“Even the Limit Breaking Pill didn’t work?” Alex was really stunned this time.

The strongest antidote that he could present was the Limit Breaking Pill.

“Sis Winslet said that she read the ancient books and knew there’s a pill called the Ternary Divine Antidote Pill that could cure any peculiar poison in the world,” said Cheryl. “However, she has just heard of this pill. She doesn’t know how to concoct it and doesn’t even have the recipe.”

Quick witted, Alex immediately said, “I know how to concoct the Ternary Divine Antidote Pill. I’ll tell you the recipe now. The base ingredient is... Hello, Cheryl... Cheryl..?! D*mn, what’s going on?”

Alex was irritated.

Just as he was about to tell Cheryl the recipe, the connection between the two sides was unexpectedly severed.

More importantly, Cheryl had always been the one who unilaterally contacted him for a connection between the two of them, but he had no way to communicate with her.

“I have to go back! I need to hurry back!” Alex said that with a firm gaze.

After hearing his words, the pig demon carrying him asked, “You want to go back? Where are you going?”

Alex rolled his eyes and said, “Old pig, don’t you want to pluck the Heavenly Gourd? I know a place. There’s not only the Heavenly Gourd but there’s also the great tombs of Emperor Xavion and Peacock Heavenly King. Do you want to go excavate them?”

The treasure-hunting pig squealed and stopped in its tracks with its eyes wide.

However, the Mystic Maiden’s delicate foot emerged from his forehead first, hooking Alex’s nose with those crystal-clear toes. Hence, it was this foot that repulsed Colette earlier.

“Little minion, you know about the tomb of Emperor Xavion?”

At this moment, the pig demon just turned its head and stared at him! As a result, it just happened to see that woman’s tiny foot.

“A demon!” the pig demon shrieked. It was clearly the demon, but it had never seen such an absurd thing.

Alex said, “Yeah, it’s in my homeland. But, my homeland is located on the other side of the ancient force field... Oh, tunning White Lotus Master, may I ask how do I go back?”

The Mystic Maiden answered, “I need to think about it for a while!”

At the same time, Donovan Orlando’s mother, Dolores Orlando, had long since departed from the family. When she descended using the projection before this, she had used the Peacock tribe’s unique imprint and placed a soul imprint on Alex that only she knew. With this imprint, she would be able to find Alex easily.

Donovan was her only son. Once she had rescued Donovan, she heard from him about what Alex had done. Of course, Donovan had said all of it with exaggeration. With Donovan’s domineering and unreasonable personality, she flew into a rage on the spot. After settling Donovan down, she immediately took three experts of the family to chase after Alex.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2355

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2355

However, the extraordinary incident of the birth of the sacred golden mountain occurred right after they embarked on their journey.

“That is...” The few people were quite shocked.

“It’s the sacred golden mountain. Could it be that some reclusive sanctuary has emerged? Many hidden sacred mountain sanctuaries have been lurking around since ancient times. They are basically deserted, but the sects, legacies, sacred trees, and cave dwellings should have been left behind. If we can get there before the others, there will be a lot of benefits.”

The few people from the Peacock tribe all looked at Dolores. It was because Dolores was the queen. She was the decision-maker in the group.

When the current Dolores appeared via projection, she was even more demure and beautiful, looking as if she was a bit younger. Earlier, she appeared as a young woman, but now, she looked like twenty five or twenty six.

One could only say that the people of the Peacock tribe were lady killers and beauties after taking on human forms. Even all her subordinates looked gorgeous.

Dolores’s eyes burst with colorful lights as she looked at the sacred golden mountain in the distance. There was also a frantic look on her face, so she immediately nodded. “Fine. That Rockefeller abomination, I’ll let him live for another two days. This sacred mountain belongs to our Peacock tribe. Whoever dares to snatch shall have his family obliterated. Let’s go!”

She was the excellent peacock demon of the Golden Immortal realm with a profound cultivation base and could fly. She immediately manifested her peacock body, took the three subordinates, and turned into a stream of light before rushing toward the sacred golden mountain.

Mighty rapid they were, an undoubted talent they possessed. This was also their talent

Loud air bursts rang behind them after they flew out far away. Along the way, they encountered many people who were also flying toward the sacred mountain.

Seeing their four domineering streams of light, all the people avoided them.

Someone perspicacious was slightly dumbstruck. “Four streams of colorful light at such breakneck speed! Some amazing big shots must have rushed over there. They seem to have surpassed the ninth realm to Imminent Immortal!”

“Just now, I even saw a dragon flying over there. That aura was simply terrifying.”

“Even someone from Southland is coming over. Just watch it. There’s definitely going to be a great battle this time. Even the people from a few reclusive supreme sects won’t be able to sit still.”

“Anyway, it has nothing to do with us. We’re just heading there to join in the fun.”

Two days later, Dolores and the others arrived, but at the sacred golden mountain. Instead, they flew to the edge of the Endless Sea.

A black peacock screamed, “What the hell? So this sacred mountain is on the other side of the Endless Sea? How are we supposed to get there?”

The Endless Sea was the region that the Undying Clan had initially occupied.

Even until now, the sea held countless dangers. There were many great undead demons that the Undying Clan had assimilated in the sea. Rumor had it that the realms of the undead demon beasts were not subjected to the restriction of laws. Their strength may far surpass humans. It was just that they could not go ashore due to the limitation of environmental factors.

It was hard to say if some other species were to enter the sea.

The more important point was that deadly poison hovered in the sky of the Endless Sea all year round, and even air travel was forbidden in some regions. No one was uncertain if they would suddenly fall when they flew somewhere.

Presently, the golden sacred mountain in Wasteland on the other side of the ancient force field looked much gigantic than the one seen in the Endless Sea. The entire world began to be stirred up. Countless news reporters rushed to the vicinity of the sacred mountain. An uproar even broke out on the internet. Even the national-level people moved out.

The United Nations urged the people. Under the circumstance of an unknown situation, individuals and civil organizations must not privately approach the mountain.

Satellites, drones had been sent to the sacred mountain, and various live videos appeared on the internet

California's Little Devil happened to be one of the more popular channels. The streamer was none other than Michelle Yowell, as known as the Little Devil. At this moment, Michelle was live-streaming, and she was already standing at the sacred golden mountain's entrance.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2356

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2356

Michelle had a hobby, traveling. She would always go to someplace whenever the school holidays arrived. With the Yowell family's wealth and the fact that she was a martial artist, it was pretty easy to travel alone.

This year, she could travel even more.

With Alex's help, her martial arts have significantly improved. As Alex was being sucked into the Undead Territory, she had officially become a grandmaster. Moreover, she was even favored by Dawn, the Fairy Doctor, as well. After the Rockefellers introduced them to each other, Dawn personally guided her to start cultivation. Hence, she had managed to achieve Divine Transcendence.

At this point, the secret of the ancient boundary had already been publicized. Many secret organizations all over the world had started promoting themselves as well.

For example, the Mountain Warriors, the Yukon sect, the Hidden Sword Pavilion, and other ancient clans had started recruiting new disciples in America. On the other hand, several authorities from Asia had hired spies to investigate the secrets among the westerners and about the ancient boundary.

Everything was tied to technology in the current society. One could easily search for any news all over the world on their phones. If one were to upload a video about something interesting, it would spread through the nation within minutes. Some compelling figures were replacing celebrities, becoming worldwide superstars.

This was... An era of the warriors!

Due to this, Michelle's young heart wanted to show the ambitions of influential figures around her to the public. Hence, she became a gorgeous streamer. Michelle would usually stream on SwitchTV, a streaming platform created by an American entrepreneur, Erick Shear. The best thing about this platform was that streamers were able to stream worldwide with it.

Over 180 countries were able to access the software simultaneously, and they have gained exposure with the help of certain government policies. Many were introduced to the platform within an instant. As soon as SwitchTV was launched, many streaming platforms were overtaken. Erick managed to do this within a day, despite many other digital companies struggling to do so even with decades of work.

After that, someone found out that Erick Enterprise was the most prominent company out of the five most successful companies in the world. They kept a low profile in the business field, but their capabilities were simply extraordinary.

Besides foreign companies, Erick Enterprise had even worked with quite a few rich martial artists within America, like Jake, Martin, Wayne, and Houston. SwitchTV was mainly created to support streamers who were travelers of the extraordinary realms, like Michelle.

Michelle was currently so famous that she gained over a billion fans, which most celebrities couldn't achieve. However, Michelle only took three months to become viral. That was because she did one thing, secretly film the Fairy Doctor's daily life.

The Fairy Doctor was a master who had achieved Spirit Severing and ranked third strongest within the Flying Eagles Academy. She was most definitely extraordinary, an unimaginable legend. With this, Michelle became extremely popular. She was even sponsored by Switch at some point, becoming the top streamer on the platform.

Many followed Michelle just to have a look into the Fairy Doctor's daily life... Moreover, Michelle would sometimes bump into Waltz, Beatrice, or even Daya during her streams. They were all ethereal beauties, every man's dream girl.

It was a pity that all these women were Michelle's sisters-in-law, which meant that they were taken, so many could only watch them on a screen. However, no matter who her fans were eyeing, Michelle had already gone viral, yet she didn't disappoint either.

She had shown them the Fairy Doctor's research lab, the Flying Eagles Academy, and the other side of the ancient boundary. She even went to the Spiritual Valley Dungeon, introducing her fans to the mysterious, exciting world.

Right now, she was standing in front of Mount Oro, pointing her HD camera at the endless Golden Sky Stairs. She was stunned upon seeing this, as were most of her fans.

"Oh my god, is that the entrance to Mount Oro?"

"It's made out of gold, right? Can y'all mine it or something?"

"Mine yourself!"

"I think it's like those stairs that lead to the sky. Could it reach the heavens? Would you like to try and walk up, LD? I'll donate ten wishes if you do!"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2357

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2357

The commenter was a loyal fan of Little Devil. His online name was 'Son_of_Clouds'. He was quite wealthy too. So he would donate the exact amount he promised in the chat.

In just a few seconds, a notification for his donation popped up on the screen. These were all bought with actual money. Each wish cost ten thousand dollars, which meant that he had donated 100 thousand dollars to her.

However, Michelle did not need money. She didn't even react to the donation one bit. In actuality, she wasn't the only one standing at the foot of this mountain. Quite a few officials have arrived as well... News reporters, streamers, the natives of the area, even powerful cultivators from overseas had come by...

From its appearance, it was almost equivalent to how people describe Olympus. Someone had managed to make a professional analysis on this and mentioned that it was mainly similar to Olympus, at around 95 percent similarity.

However, the mountain was much bigger than the Olympus. From satellite footage and data, Mount Oro was a thousand times bigger than the Olympus. Moreover, the foot of the mountain was connected to seas, reaching toward the horizons.

The empty horizon was covered in a thick fog, not even a satellite could tell what was within.

Michelle didn't rush up the stairs, staring at it intently. Instead, after expressing her shock, she looked to the other side. It seemed that some supremes were approaching. As she turned toward them, the camera that she was wearing aimed at them as well.

The stream chat seemed psyched up in an instant...

"LD, look up ahead at two o'clock, that cute Asian guy. I think it's Thomas Khan!"

"Yeah yeah! I see him too. He's currently one of the most powerful supremes in America. He's even more powerful than Spiderman!"

"What is he doing here? Oh sh*t, he's going to walk up the stairs!"

After that, Michelle was able to see even more of its contents. She continued telling her viewers all about it. "It's not just Thomas Khan. Behind him are the famous supremes, Flamma Leo, Dennis Mizu, Bullseye Anthon. They're all from Noah's Ark Co., so it looks like that organization couldn't wait a minute longer to take a peek into the wonders of Mount Oro. They might've used some sort of technology and found something within these mountains."

Michelle had said that because she had proof of it. Some had tried walking up the stairs in the past, but they all failed to do so.

Ordinary people couldn't possibly hike here. A mysterious force had blasted away some who tried to force their way up there, some even died on the spot. That was why no one dared to rush up the stairs, despite it being right before their eyes.

Thomas was the strongest within Noah's Ark Co. Not only did he know how to generate spider webs, but his abilities were also quite similar to that of Spiderman's. His body recovers rapidly, his strength and speed were simply unimaginable for the common folk as well...

People like them were referred to as awakened by many western cultivators.

Captured by Michelle's camera, the four awakened of Noah's Ark Co. started their hike. They looked relaxed compared to those who have been blasted away before. They walked up the stairs slowly and steadily, skipping steps whenever they wanted as well. It was as if they were walking on flat ground.

Dennis even did a backflip on the stairs, showing off to those who were still at the foot of the mountain. "It's not as hard as they all say. It's like walking home! So be patient, everyone. We'll tell you how it looks when we come back."

After saying that, he continued skipping his way up as if it were a walk in the park.

The viewers in Michelle's stream were convinced that this was all too simple as well. Many even started flooding the chat, telling Michelle to hike up there before anyone else gets to take all the goods.

Son_Of_Clouds commented, "LD, you're just as strong as Thomas Khan, so you can go up there too! It's alright! I'll head there right now. I'd like to take a look too."

Someone followed up with another comment, "Count me in!"

"Same!"

"Double same!"

Just then, the situation changed drastically right after they said that.

“LD, turn your camera! Look up there. I think I see something?”

“Oh god! I see it too. It looks like a storm cloud!” Michelle turned the camera to the golden stairway. Just then, everyone witnessed a shocking sight.

Something that looked like a giant storm cloud rushed down the golden stairs as if it were a waterfall. With this, it clashed with Dennis, who was at the forefront.

Boom!

Dennis' body exploded instantly.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2358

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2358

The eyes of everyone who witnessed this in Michelle's stream widened, expressing sheer shock and horror. The chat fell silent as well. No one even tried to say a single word.

Dennis was also a very powerful person. It was rumored that he could flip an entire aircraft with his strength alone and that he was quite a brutal person. Yet this brutal person had exploded into pieces on the stairway to Mount Oro.

However, this was just the beginning of this horrifying event.

The three other supremes behind Dennis felt their scalp go numb.

“Run!” Thomas yelled and started sprinting down the stairs. He ran at a relatively fast pace. It was twice the speed of sound. His body looked as if he had turned into a ray of light.

Anthon was even quicker, letting out a roar as he rushed down on all fours as if he had turned into a bull.

In comparison, Flamma was the slowest among them. Hence, he ended up with the same fate as Dennis since the cloud caught up to him.

“Oh sh*t. Flamma has exploded too!”

“What even is that dark cloud?”

“Run, oh god, just run!”

Several viewers within the stream and the people at the scene were screaming hysterically. Everyone’s heart clenched as they watched the dark cloud approach the other two supremes.

It was fortunate that Thomas and Anthon were slightly quicker than the dark cloud. After that, it looked like they could escape.

Just then, another weird incident happened again. On the top of the stairs, a bright golden light suddenly shone down, releasing mysterious symbols that were the size of tadpoles, forming a tightly packed talisman formation.

Thomas and Anthon, who were running at high speed just a while ago, seemed to have been restrained by some sort of force.

They abruptly came to a halt and were held in place. The two were shocked, panicking and struggling with all their might. They watched the dark cloud inching closer, but they couldn’t seem to break free of their restraints at all.

“Ah! Those weird symbols trapped them!”

“F*ck, they’re goners for sure.”

“I can’t bear to watch this any longer!”

Just as these comments popped up in the chat, Thomas and Anthon let out a scream.

Boom boom!

With two bloody veils of mist exploding in the air, the two supremes died as well.

Everyone gasped in horror. Their eyes widened and mouth agape, fearing Mount Oro even more now. Someone at the scene started yelling. “Everyone, run! If this cloud gets out of this passageway, everyone will die!”

This scream was as impactful as a lightning strike, awakening everyone from their daze.

‘Oh yeah, what if the cloud actually came down here?’

No one thought about this issue at first. As someone reminded them, everyone started making their escape.

Michelle’s viewers started spamming the chat, telling the little devil to run.

She didn’t stay any longer as well, running with all her might immediately. Three seconds later, she heard someone screaming behind her.

Looking back, the dark cloud had rushed over as expected, drowning a large number of people. Hundreds of bloody mists exploded in the air, which meant that there were more than a hundred people who died from the cloud as they were too slow.

Yet the screaming continued. This time, there were thousands of people in front of the stairs. Hence, the chaos befell within this entire area.

Everyone wished they had more legs to run faster as painful screams and wails filled the air. All these living people were blasted into tiny little pieces.

At this very moment, Michelle sensed the incredibly strong threat as well. A few strong cultivators leaped into the air as they ran past Michelle, escaping as fast as light.

However, she could only watch as the dark cloud came closer and closer toward her.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2359

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2359

The viewers witnessed this as well. Everyone’s chest tightened. They didn’t want to see Michelle exploding after getting in contact with the cloud.

“Quick LD! Quick!”

“Come on. You can do it! We still want to see your streams, and we want to see more of the Fairy Doctor. Please don’t die!”

“Hurry, please, hurry...”

Just as the dark cloud approached Michelle, she let out a scream. Suddenly, the jade pendant she was wearing shattered into pieces, forming a force field around her. She then turned into a ray of light and zoomed across the sky.

“Oh my stars, what was that?”

“Does LD have some sort of protection talisman? Did LD awaken some kind of power within her and manage to escape at the very last moment?”

Michelle was slightly sad. “This was the mystical tool Alex gave me, it can save my life, but it’s also the most precious thing I own! But now it’s gone!”

The chat fell silent once again. Many knew about Alex after all.

He was the one who managed to sink Mount Fuji with his powers alone. He also managed to chase away a large number of demons back at the ancient boundary as well.

Moreover, it was rumored that the Undead would invade America at one point, and Alex used all his might to close the passageway. Despite this, he had been sucked into the passageway, entering the Undead Territory. No one knew what happened to him after that.

With this, Alex became a savior within people’s hearts, yet everyone assumed he died a heroic death.

Someone tried to comfort Michelle. “It’s alright, Michelle. If your brother knew that his mystical tool saved your life, he would’ve been more than happy.”

At the time, Michelle had already left the passageway toward Mount Oro. A few people managed to escape as well.

The dark cloud didn’t continue to rush out as well. Instead, it seemed that it would retreat after it had reached a certain limit. However, no one noticed a large, white wolf walking down the golden stairs slowly.

***

On the other side of the ancient boundary, there were many people gathered at the edge of the Endless Sea. It was so crowded that only heads were visible, along with different types of beasts.

All of them were interested in venturing upon Mount Oro, but they had all been blocked out by the fish within the Endless Sea.

“Mount Oro... Could it be within the Endless Sea?”

“What do we do then?”

“Is anyone willing to go out to sea as a group?”

“Hey, do you have a death wish? That’s the Endless Sea. You won’t be able to come back once you try getting in.”

Just then, someone noticed something floating at the horizon of the Endless Sea. Upon closer look, it was a big group of Undead Sea Demons. They were all standing in a row, staring at the people on the shore silently.

There were way too many people at the shore, which included quite a few strong cultivators. Hence, the Undead Sea Demons misunderstood and thought they couldn’t bear any longer and wanted to wage war. However, the people and beasts on the shore retreated not long after.

No one dared to wage war with the Undead Sea Demons. Even Dolores and the three other members of the peacock tribe backed away quickly as well.

“Mount Oro... I don’t think the location is quite right. It doesn’t look like it’s at sea. I think it’s on the other side of the Endless Sea, or... Wven further than that!” Dolores said.

“Further?”

“If we went any further, we’d end up on the other side of the ancient boundary. That’s the wasteland, somewhere no cultivators could survive.”

Dolores said, “It’s been three thousand years, so no one knows what happened there. But don’t forget this, everyone. The wasteland is the very core of this world. Even the worldly tabloid is there! Alright, now, we have to discuss more at another time. I can sense that Rockefeller bastard coming toward us, so let’s hunt first!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2360

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2360

Alex was indeed heading nearer to the Endless Sea. He originally wanted to take this road, after all, since he'd like to take a look at Mount Oro as well...

'That so-called Olympus mountain thingy... What is it all about anyway?'

On the other hand, the Mystic Maiden promised Alex that she'd think of a good route for the Wastelands but still couldn't come up with any ideas.

Most importantly, her soul wasn't complete, so she had limited powers for now. However, she already used her trump card when slaying the Yadav Akaaran Buddha as well. Her remaining energy had been entirely used to refine the Chaos Leaves to form a new body for herself.

This was why... Her current state was relatively weak. She couldn't possibly handle the great Golden Immortal demon from the Peacock Tribe, let alone forcefully break the void and pass through the overlapped space to the Wastelands as Crazy Crone did.

Basically, it just meant that she was currently just a weakling. She was only able to handle insignificant people like Colette. She'd need quite some time before she could handle anyone stronger.

"Urgh, what a scam!" Alex sobbed. "I was just tricked into signing a contract, and now I have to take care of you in the end!"

The Mystic Maiden paid no attention to his sorrows but seemed quite proud of this instead. "Oh, little servant, hide your happiness all you want. So many wish to become my servant, yet I didn't choose any of them. As long as you're following me, you'll have a bright future ahead of you."

"You're just a big scam! You scammed me for my body. What else do you want from me?"

"Hey, don't say it like that. When have I ever scammed you for your body? Just look at how weak you are. I really am not interested in it one bit. All my subordinates back then were a hundred times stronger than you. Anyone could defeat you by just achieving a Golden Body!"

"And just think about it, didn't you become stronger after I taught. You the breathing technique to train your organs? Since you don't have a master, I can teach you something now and then."

Alex pondered and couldn't help but admit that it was the truth. Without her help, he wouldn't have been able to break the Fire Tower of God back in the Plenilune Sect

"You can take this chance to use the Stardew Fruit to train your organs again before the great Golden Immortal Demon finds you. I think you can manage to merge your soul and body as one this time, which means your body would be as strong as steel."

Alex replied, "Strong as steel? I think I've already achieved this a long while ago, though?"

The Mystic Maiden scoffed. "As if, sh*t head!"

Alex was speechless. "Hey, you're a goddess. How could you be so vulgar and scold me like that?"

The Mystic Maiden looked at him with a straight face. "I didn't scold you. I'm just telling the truth. You're not even anywhere near as powerful as my sh*ts back then, let alone rue."

Alex was taken aback. He just couldn't imagine just how strong a piece of the Mystic Maiden's crap could be.

The Mystic Maiden then urged him, seeing that he wasn't moving. "Hey, what are you standing there for? Come on now, move! What are you even thinking?"

Alex replied to her honestly, "I was just thinking how powerful your crap could be."

This time, the Mystic Maiden was taken aback. She reached her foot out to his forehead and kicked him by the nose.

"Stop thinking about such nonsense. Train your organs right now. Don't die because of that wild chicken. I can't afford to lose face as the Mysterious Maiden of Nine Heavens."

After that, Alex followed the Mystic Maiden's orders and ate the Stardew Fruit raw.

He then sat on the pig demon's back and headed west. Taking a bite into the fruit, Alex felt all the flavor bursting within his mouth. The smell was so fragrant that the Treasure-hunting Pig started drooling.

It complained out loud. "Oh, hey! Give me one too. Oink, I should have two of those too. It's mine, mine..."

"Patience, Piglet. I'll give it to you once I'm done. Just keep walking."

The Treasure-hunting Pig huffed. "Who are you calling Piglet? That sounds ridiculous."

"So let's just call you Peppa Pig then."

"Urgh, that's such a bad name. Are you brain dead to have come up with a name like that?" The pig demon huffed once more.

"Okay then, I'll give you a unique and impeccable name, Pigsy!"

This time, the pig demon stopped talking. It felt that the name was quite suitable for his status, and it sounded rather cool as well. It liked the name a lot since it fit its criteria, a smile plastered across its face as its eyes curved up into a fine line.

Alex decided not to pay any more attention to it and finished his fruit in a few bites.