

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2451

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2451

Her precious umbrella was given away to someone else just like that.

“You... Give that back!” She growled resentfully, even though she knew that it was impossible to retrieve it now.

“Even you are in my possession now, so this umbrella belongs to me as well. Don’t even think about taking it back.” Alex said with a smile.

He stroked his chin as he thought more about it. ‘An ancient family sure has valuable stuff!’

In a span of less than half a day, the treasures he snatched from the Hancock family had increased his powers considerably. The Tom Kasaya, Sakyamuni’s Wooden Fish, and now this Whispers of Water Umbrella were all rare possessions.

He had spent half a year in the great world, facing numerous dangers, yet he could only attain a few decent treasures, each of which he risked his life for. It was way easier robbing the rich.

‘Even though it’s kinda immoral, in order to face the disaster in three years, this is inevitable!’

The way Alex stroked his chin seemed scary in Kerry’s eyes. She thought Alex was thinking about something sexual, like penetrating her. She wanted to run away immediately.

However, Alex sent her to the ground in one hit, causing her to be unable to get up.

When Shirley woke up, she felt her head ache. It was the after-effects of getting hit unconscious. She rubbed her temples but immediately became stunned.

She noticed that her family, Kerry, Samuel, and Freesia were all captured in a room. They were all tied up tightly and thrown on a bed.

The two meter wide bed seemed quite crowded.

“What happened?”

“Aunt? Samuel? Freesia?”

Kerry and Samuel were still out cold, especially Samuel, who Pigsy had hit real hard. His face was full of bruises, and he had no one to tend to his broken bones.

Kerry’s face was quite bruised, too, as if it had been trampled. And the footprint looked like... A pig’s trotter.

Freesia was in the worst state. Her face was full of... Hoof prints.

It was her own fault that she’d wanted braised pig trotters. Pigsy was someone who held onto grudges, and although Alex wanted her alive, that didn’t keep him from letting out his anger.

So, the pig stomped on Freesia’s face, especially around her mouth, which had hundreds of marks. The marks overlapped one another, leaving no spot on the skin unharmed.

If it weren’t for the defensive treasure, Freesia might’ve been kicked to death.

Even so, her face swelled to the size of a pig’s head. She looked completely different. If Shirley wasn’t that familiar with her sister, she might not have recognized her.

“Freesia, Freesia, wake up! How are you feeling?”

“Oh god, who beat you up like that?”

Freesia woke up to a mirror on the wall right in front of her. She immediately saw how she looked and was instantly aghast with terror.

“It must be that pig head! That damned pig head! Ouch, it hurts! Sis, could you get my brother-in-law over and release me? I want to go home!”

Shirley was speechless.

After quite some time, Kerry and Samuel woke up as well. The family whimpered and sobbed upon reunion. Samuel even shed some tears. His heart ached at his sister's encounter. Surely, she had him obsessed.

Just then, Freesia said, "Look, guys, there's a phone. Let's use it to call grandpa!"

Samuel said, "We're all tied up, and we can't even move. How do we dial the phone? With our tongues?"

Kerry, on the other hand, had suspicions. "This phone Why is it left here?"

Shirley hadn't noticed before as well. There was indeed a phone on the bedside table, and it was placed in such a position...

She had a bad feeling about this. 'Could the line be live?'

"It... Can't be that bad, right?"

At the same time, on SwitchTV's live streaming channel, Michelle's live stream had blown up once again.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2452

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2452

"It's the Ancient Moon Conglomerate. The whole family has been captured!"

"Even Shirley's aunt has been caught."

"Oh god, Michelle's brother... is too talented."

Some livestream viewers knew a bit about the Ancient Moon Conglomerate and could at least recognize Kerry.

Shirley mentioned that other viewers of a higher social status, such as the Millers and Hendersons, had also received news of this very stream. The Millers seemed to be gathered at their place.

"This Alex is kinda eerie. Kerry had a treasure, an umbrella, and it was very powerful. The Divine Envoy couldn't even break through it. How was she even captured?"

“The main concern is how Alex learned to defy age and time. This is too important a secret to keep. If our ancestors could learn about this secret, they could be revived from their tombs and join the revolution. We wouldn’t have to be afraid even if we were going up against Olympus Divine Tribe.”

“But, what can we do?”

The main Miller family members were having a discussion in the main hall. In the middle of the hall was a large screen that played Michelle’s live stream. However, no sound came from it as Michelle had muted the stream.

As for the reason why the Hancock family didn’t turn off the live stream... They simply couldn’t.

Alex had set up a barrier before the bed. With his current abilities, not many people could break through those.

“Someone call that psycho from the Hendersons. We need him to come along so that we don’t lose!” a lady of the Miller’s said with her eyes lit.

Not young, she was an old lady of the Miller family and had lived a long time. If she couldn’t achieve a major breakthrough in the coming few years or find a way to extend her lifespan, she would soon meet her end. However, it was apparent that she did not want to face death.

“Fine!”

“Contact the Henderson family now.”

Everyone at the Miller family nodded in approval. They did in fact want to learn Alex’s technique in achieving eternal youth.

Old Lady Miller said, “I’ll personally contact the head of the Hendersons.”

Old Lady Miller immediately made the phone call. The master of the Henderson family wasn’t asleep as well, their family rife in discussion.

They too had noticed Alex’s change in age. Moreover, they were ahead of the Miller family and had already investigated more about Alex, his upbringing, family members, current situation, and the people he knew, placing a lot of effort, especially into Alex’s true identity.

Just as Old Lady Miller called, a core member of the Henderson family had rushed in and handed a document containing detailed information of Alex to the old master. The old master of the Henderson family, Channing, was in a similar state as Old Lady Miller.

To be fair, he was even more afraid of death than she was. That was because he didn't have much time left. Left with numerous injuries from past practices that affected his lifespan, he knew that he would die if he didn't find a solution within a year.

When Old Lady Miller called and explained her intentions, Channing agreed with her.

"Heidi, I've just investigated Alex. He's gone through many things. It's rumored that he was once sent to the Undead Territory through a dimensional tunnel. I'm not sure if it's true or not, but one thing's for sure. This guy must have a trump card, and it's dangerous."

Channing had always been a cautious person after all.

Old Lady Miller, who was really called Heidi Miller, sighed. "Channing, we're in a similar situation. To be honest, if we don't strive harder now, the thousands of years of hard work of both our families would be wasted."

"In my opinion, the people from the sacred mountain up north aren't good. If our descendants were to marry the Divine Heir, it'd only be a temporary solution to buy more time. Who knows what'll happen in the end!"

Charming nodded. "I agree. It's just a temporary plan! So it's decided. It's midnight now. Let's meet in California in two hours!"

The storm was about to come.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2453

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2453

At the same time, things weren't peaceful with the Rockefellers as well.

Alex had finally arrived home, only to meet such a situation. He never got the chance to talk with his family. That was until now. Many friends, hearing the news, rushed over. Some who couldn't come called him as well.

Hailey, Alex's godsister who owned the spa, for instance, rushed over during midnight. Alex's classmate, Nicholas, came as well.

Then, Azure of Thousand Miles Conglomerate, his ex-colleagues from Divine Constabulary, his grandfather, Geronimo, and cousin Soraya. Even Nora, Danseur, and the entire Michigan Stoermers came.

The scene was crowded and lively.

Beatrice, Claire, Florence, and Maya each held onto a child. They were Alex and Dorothy's quadruplets.

Even though the four were not even a year old, they'd received divine power from their mother, making them taller than the average infant.

They looked like they were already two, able to walk and jump and even speak quite well. Their comprehension skills were far more developed than children of their age.

They were finally reunited after so long. Alex sighed in his heart, especially when he thought about Dorothy, whose whereabouts were unknown. More importantly, the kids had grown so quickly. Within just half a year, the four of them looked very different from what Alex remembered. He couldn't even tell them apart.

Hailey teased him. "Brother, you've been gone for so long. Do you still remember who's the eldest and who's the youngest?"

Alex felt embarrassed. Even if he had the divine eye and even x-ray vision, he really couldn't tell the eldest and youngest apart.

In an instant, the crowd erupted into laughter.

Only Ynes was shocked. "You really have four kids?"

Alex corrected her. "Not four, but five!"

Hailey hadn't met Ynes before, but she was a socialite and was good with people. She immediately came over and spoke to Ynes. She thought that Ynes was Alex's girl, causing Ynes to end up blushing.

Even after clearing things up, Hailey rolled her eyes at Alex, thinking that they'd get together sooner or later. After further continuing their conversation, the two became so close as to call each other sisters.

It was already late into the night, but nobody felt like sleeping.

People who practiced cultivation had no issues with having less sleep. Everyone wanted to know what Alex had gone through during that period of time.

Alex brought out the body of the Peacock clansmen. They had barbeque and alcohol while they chatted. Everyone listened intently to Alex's mysterious journey. Alex obviously picked some parts to tell since he couldn't tell the whole story truthfully.

When he'd roughly explained his journey, the topic of the conversation turned to discuss the recent trends on Earth. Naturally, Mount Oro and the ancient conglomerates were mentioned, which led to talking about Michelle's livestream.

Geronimo said, "My dear grandchild, I know the Ancient Moon Conglomerate quite well. They have strong powers. Our Divine Constabulary is like a feeble ant that can be easily killed in their eyes. The powers they possess are enough to ignore the laws of the country."

"Not to mention they have Mount Oro backing them up. What you're doing now is equivalent to declaring war with the Ancient Moon Conglomerate. Is that really fine?"

Alex smiled. "I'm doing this on purpose. I want to meet the famous Divine Envoy."

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2454

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2454

"Alex, about this... I think you should handle it cautiously." The one who spoke up was Nora.

She frowned, clearly worried. “My sister once met the Divine Envoy of Mount Oro. The Divine Envoy wanted her to be his spokesperson in the mortal world, but the truth was he wanted her to be his slave. My sister obviously refused. They even had a huge battle, and my sister... Was at a disadvantage.”

Nora’s sister was Alex’s master, Jade. Jade’s ability, in Alex’s opinion, was definitely one in a million.

‘Even Jade lost to the Divine Envoy?’

“Is the Divine Envoy of Moruit Oro that strong?”

“Even Commander Benmore isn’t his opponent? Where’s Commander Benmore now? Is she hurt?”

Jade’s definitely had a strong identity and status amongst commoners. If even Jade was defeated, then this issue had become scary.

‘If this were true... Alex actually attracting the Divine Envoy of Mount Oro to find him... Isn’t it a death wish?’

Nora said, “My sister’s fine. She fled with her supernatural powers in the end, but in bad shape.”

“Where is she now?” Alex asked.

Nora said, “My sister felt immense pressure. The people who came down from Mount Oro had evil intentions. And now the comers are still the supposed messengers of god. If the god of the mountains descended, a disaster would be inevitable!”

“So, my sister brought a troop of elites and entered the ancient boundary. They discovered a secret dungeon. If they had good luck, they could find the opportunity. Even if they couldn’t break through their current strengths, they would achieve something.”

“The damned Olympus Tribe!” Alex shouted.

“Alex, do you know something about this?”

“I do indeed. Mount Oro originated from another planet in the universe. It was part of the universe during ancient times. Once a member of the Ancient Alliance, but in the end, it betrayed the humans and stabbed them in the back, which is why the humans are in such a poor state now.”

Whenever Alex was reminded of the hardships in Atlantis, he felt immense hatred. An alliance that stabbed their comrades in the back was a truly disgusting existence.

“And now, they’ve landed on Earth. You all have to know that this is a critical time for Earth to recover.”

“They didn’t come to repent their sins. They came here to finish their killing.”

Hearing these words, everyone was furious.

Geronimo slammed his palm on the table. “How dare they! The Olympus Tribe is atrocious!”

Soraya said, “Everyone’s guessing that Mount Oro and Mount Olympus are nearly identical, but you’re saying that they’re called the Olympus Tribe? Doesn’t that make them the same?”

“The ancient Greek Mythologies... Could it be that they’re actually real? Zeus, the sun god, the moon goddess, Athena... They all truly existed. I’m... Speechless. If these powerful gods came, we normal humans wouldn’t have the strength to fight back.”

Everyone was sad. The humans didn’t die at the hands of the Undying Clan during ancient times, but they were now going to be destroyed by traitors.

Just then, Daya said, “Don’t worry. The god of the Olympus Tribe can’t come here yet.”

Everyone looked at Daya.

Daya said, “I’ve been at the passage of Mount Oro before.”

Hearing her words, everybody immediately took a deep breath.

It was because foreign Supremes had stepped onto the golden stairs of Mount Oro. As they tried to enter the mountain to search for the opportunity, but they all failed halfway.

“How far up were you on the stairs?” someone asked.

Daya said, "I didn't count... But I was at the end of the stairs, and I saw a golden bridge. The so-called golden stairs are just a road leading down to that bridge."

"What's on the other side of the bridge?" Waltz asked.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2455

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2455

"I don't know, the bridge had been cut in half when I got there. There was also a large barrier blocking my way. If my assumptions are correct, that barrier was a formation boundary placed by ancient, powerful beings... To protect this world."

"This barrier was very strong, even stronger than the one in the ancient boundary. That's why the Olympus Tribe got blocked out."

Daya paused for a moment.

"The barrier was blurry, but I managed to see the people inside when I stood on the bridge," she went on.

"What?"

"Someone's beyond that barrier?"

"Are they gods?"

Even Alex's face was plastered with curiosity.

Daya shook her head. "Nope, they're demi-demons."

Everyone fell silent.

Daya smiled faintly. "Actually, the so-called Divine Envoys are demi-demons too! Their true forms were that of demon beasts, and they aren't from the true Olympus Tribe. I'm guessing that these beasts were domesticated by said tribe, so they currently serve them!"

“More importantly, it would be quite difficult for these demi-demons to cross the barrier. Even if they did, they’d have to make big sacrifices. Higher-ranked demi-demons would be in more danger if they tried crossing worlds.”

“How are you sure about that?” Alex asked

Daya replied, “When I got up there, the demons in that barrier wanted to attack me. I’m assuming that they didn’t want me telling anyone about this secret, and they wanted to shut me up by killing me.”

“But then... When five of those demons rushed over, four of them died from a lightning strike, and another was so badly injured that it returned to its original form and I ate it.”

‘Uhm...’

Everyone looked at the peacock meat in their hands, thinking it was only reasonable to do so. Demon meat was just too nutritious. Some of them were unable to control their powers from ascending after eating this peacock meat.

Alex turned to Daya. “I’m not sure if the barrier’s effects would wear off with time, so I’d like to take a good look at it.”

Daya nodded. “Alright, I’ll go with you tomorrow then!”

It was already 2 am at the time. Regular folk like Hailey were starting to feel sleepy, yawning repeatedly. Hence, Alex suggested ending this meeting, for now, so everyone could go home and rest. The others who lived far away were invited to stay at the manor as well.

Just as they were about to leave, another incident occurred. The Millers and Hendersons had arrived.

As extremely wealthy ancient families, they never saw Alex as an equal from the start. Not feeling the need to sneak in, they walked right in as if they owned the place.

“The Millers and Hendersons are here to pay a visit! Mr. Rockefeller, I know it’s late, but if you would please, come out here and have a talk with us!”

The voice was as loud as thunder, causing a slight earthquake around the Rockefeller manor. Everyone inside was shocked.

Soraya whispered, “The Millers and Hendersons? Are they the allies of the Hancocks?”

Geronimo replied, “I’m afraid they’re the only ones who’d do this.”

Alex raised an eyebrow.

He was waiting for the Divine Envoy of the Olympian Army, yet the Millers and Hendersons came by first. From what Shirley told him, these two families were important factors to enter the Dairaionji Temple as well. He couldn’t proceed without both of them.

However, he didn’t expect them to appear right now before he could even go looking for them.

Before Alex could speak, Geronimo spoke up. “If you know how late it is, wouldn’t you know that it’s disturbing our rest? Come again tomorrow if you have something to say!”

An old woman’s voice came from outside. “I’m rather old, and it’s not easy for me to travel this much. Please just come out here, Mr. Rockefeller, or we’d have no choice but to force our way in.”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2456

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2456

The people who came did not have good intentions.

“Mom, Beatrice, you guys take the kids into the house first. Don’t worry. Nothing bad will happen.” Alex comforted Brittany and the others. Seeing several children’s nervous expressions, one seemed to tell the mood inside the Rockefeller family estate.

A group of people who had not yet left heard the sound coming from outside and knew that the visitors did not have good intentions.

Divine Constabulary’s Sky told Alex, “The Miller family and Henderson family are not simple people. They and the Hancock family are a legacy of the ancient times of an ancient clan. They have so much power. Before this, the three families hid behind the scenes, not showing their faces. But now, they couldn’t resist and had to reveal themselves. The Hancock family established Homan Technology, the Miller family also chaos creatures, and the Henderson family created a group called Six Paths Chemicals, all in the light of the huge developments. In fact, it is the equivalent of plundering...”

Listening to Sky’s introduction, Alex became speechless.

Homan technology, chaos creatures, Six Paths Chemicals. What were these names? One was more badass than the other. These were names that could make anyone blush.

But Sky’s message was clear, the opposing parties were not to be messed with. Even fat Gordon leaned forward, frowned, and said those were not good to deal with. The atmosphere around the middle of the night was forceful. Everyone’s hearts were unhappy with the visitors, and they all had a plan.

Brittany nodded and instructed him to be careful.

Alex smiled. “Don’t worry. I guess those guys outside wouldn’t be able to beat a pig.”

Pigsy was unhappy. “Hmph! Alex, what do you mean by that? Looking down on pigs, are you? I dare say. All of you here, all of you cannot beat me.”

The crowd looked at Pigsy in complete disbelief.

It was just a pig. It wasn’t like they hadn’t eaten it before.

Pigsy could not stand the gaze of everyone, feeling that his pig’s pride had been hurt. Furious, he wailed, “You don’t believe me, do you? Well, then I will let you see what crushing is!”

After saying that, it rushed out. This time, many people from the Miller family and Henderson family came.

In addition to Old Lady Miller and her husband Channing, there were also a lot of experts, such as those enticed by the Miller family and psychopaths from the Henderson family... Of course, they were not really psychopaths, but one of Channing’s grandsons. At nearly two hundred years of age, he certainly wasn’t young, but he still looked 30 or 40.

Cultivators did indeed have longevity when compared to the average person.

“Heidi, we are here to ask for something this time. Be humble. Discuss nicely and avoid fighting. This Alex is a rare talent.” Channing said to Old Lady Miller. “Now, the earth needs a young man to stand out. He is a good seedling. In the past, he might’ve even oppressed the son of God. I have a feeling that his future glory is still on us, the old antiques. At most, we are cheerleaders.”

The Miller family had a young woman. A natural beauty, she came dressed in ancient clothes. If a classic movie were to be made, she could properly crush many gorgeous female artists.

She was the youngest in the Miller family, named Josephine. She was extremely talented and was the leader of the younger generation of the Miller family. Many of the older generations were not her rivals.

Similar to Shirley, she was fancied by Mount Olympus’ divine son. She was given the magic treasure and selected as one of the candidates. Another one, a woman from the Henderson family named Marilyn, was also one of the competitors. Once Mount Olympus’ divine son descended, one of the three would be chosen to get married according to their respective performance.

However, Marilyn did not come today.

Josephine looked at Charming and said, “Senior Miller, you think too highly of that dude named Rockefeller, don’t you? A native of the present era has never had a foundation for cultivation and has only risen in recent years among the general population... The way I see it, he experienced strange encounters mostly by happenstance. There is nothing remarkable about him. How can he be compared with a family with thousands of years of heritage like ours?”

Channing said. “Don’t be proud. Stay humble.”

Josephine sneered. She wasn’t one to admit that anyone was better than her, especially within the younger generation.

After being told by Mount Olympus’ messenger that she would be among the candidates for the divine son’s wife, she eliminated Shirley and Marilyn inside her heart, feeling that only she could be worthy of the divine son. Anyone else was out of the question. Only she could be the future wife of the divine son, in line to develop the divine race.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2457

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2457

At this very moment, the gate of the Rockefeller family's manor opened.

They saw a hairless pig running out.

Someone was surprised, "This Rockefeller family is really thrifty. They actually raised a pig at home. It's fat, white and looks so good. It's feeding it all the leftovers they can't eat every day. The key is that it does not have hair!"

Another person said, "You don't understand, do you? There is a kind of pig called the pet pig. It looks like a mangy dog, but it grows big. Since it emits an ornamental aroma, it must be that species. As for why it can grow so big... It probably eats too much every day. Pigs have greedy mouths, after all. It's their character."

When Pigsy heard this, he was so angry his lungs almost exploded.

He stood up, pointed at the two, and cursed, "You are the ones who eat leftovers! You are the ones who look like mangy dogs! Idiots! You don't even know who Grandpa Pig is, and you have the nerve, coming to the Rockefeller family and behaving like barbarians? Are you here to seek death?"

The people from the two families suddenly had constipated faces. Here they were, actually getting scolded by a pig.

The key was that he didn't stop. Instead, he cursed constantly and in a rather unpleasant manner.

Being the future wife of the divine son, Josephine could not afford such reprimand. She could not tolerate being insulted by a pig. With a scream, she rushed over to the pig to kick him to death.

However, she found something amiss.

Pigsy was extremely dextrous, managing to evade Josephine's attack. After going around her, he aimed at her butt and kicked its hoof viciously. It all happened so quickly before the eyes of some could even turn.

Boom!

The self-defensive treasure on Josephine's body kicked into action, emitting a red burst of light to block the attack.

Unfortunately, Pigsy was of very high-level cultivation. When he was at Sun Shrine, he had a good battle with Alex. Recently, he received Mystic Maiden's Old Cow's Breathing Technique, yet again improving its strength.

Josephine, on the other hand, was just a Tribulation cultivator.

The self-defense treasure could not completely block Pigsy's attack. The two hoofs still managed to stomp Josephine's butt, leaving two very deep and dark hoofprints.

Worst of all, Josephine couldn't withstand such a strong thrust from Pigsy. She actually fell to the ground on her face!

The Miller family, Henderson family, and the crowd were petrified.

This was too magical.

Everyone thought that for a while, they were hallucinating, the young genius girl of the Miller family was actually kicked by a pig... And she landed on her face. It would be hilarious if news of this leaked.

Josephine actually lost half a big tooth.

After she got up and found herself in a miserable state. Simply unable to accept it, she declared, "Fat pig. I must kill you today!"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2458

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2458

Pigsy was quite naughty himself. Using its fast speed, it did not kill Josephine- Instead, it went around her and attacked her up and down.

Pigsy constantly harassed Josephine with its front pig hoof while also saying sarcastically, "Little pu*sy, don't be so fierce. If you are not careful, you might not get married. I just touched your ass, and it is not missing a piece of meat. Look, it's still so round, just like a burrito."

"Hey! It's still quite elastic. I heard that humans have a saying-women with big as*es are good at bearing children. How about this, you marry me and give birth to a litter of tiny piglets. Seeing Alex having four kids makes me want to try. He can produce quadruplets, so you have to provide me with quintuplets just to outnumber him. Rest assured, I have the strength!”

Pigsy was frantically circling around Josephine while chattering. It was so fast.

At a glance, it was as if Josephine was surrounded by a circle of light.

As a result, the hoofprints on Josephine’s body kept increasing. She clearly wore a white dress as she came. Now, it was full of dirt and filled with the hoofprints of a pig.

Josephine was about to explode with anger, but she had no idea how to cope with Pigsy.

The self-defense treasure given by Mount Olympus was indeed a magic treasure for defense. Unfortunately, her cultivation level wasn’t high enough. Unable to use it, she could not make the self-defense treasure function as it should.

Alex and the others also arrived at the door.

Michelle, in particular, deliberately ran to the room where the group of people from the Hancock family was imprisoned and brought her cell phone. She intended to have another hot live broadcast to give Alex a good publicity campaign.

But when she looked at the live broadcast, it was actually... Cut again. The screen showed that she was offline.

She was forced offline by the system administrator. She also saw a backstage SMS. It was the official notification sent by SwitchTV, telling her very simply that: “All live broadcasts about the Hancock family are no longer allowed, otherwise, be ready to face the consequences of a one-month ban on your account; as punishment.”

This made the little devil very angry.

How dare they do this?

“SwitchTV, you son of a bitch. You have taken advantage of me by earning through my live streams. Now, just because the Hancock family’s company building was blown up, how could you actually do such unprincipled things and be so irresponsible?”

“Where is the promised freedom to broadcast? The promised righteousness of the world? The promise of freedom to broadcast and bringing relationships closer is pure f*cking bullsh*t!”

“SwitchTV, you are just like those bugs who bully the weak and are afraid of the strong, no backbone!” Michelle was furious.

Even though there was wonderful content in front of her, she could not stream it live. She looked at her live room and noticed countless fans asking questions.

“Michelle, what’s going on? What about the promised overnight live broadcast? How did it go offline?”

“I still want to see the thighs of Homan Technology’s boss. Why can’t I see them now?”

“Hey, where is my reward? Without a live stream, can I get back my reward?”

Without a live stream, the room had become a chat room.

Michelle even saw an official from SwitchTV actually clarifying for her in the chat room, saying that this dropped line was because Michelle’s network was bad and something might have changed.

“Nonsense! What do you mean by a poor network?”

“My aunt’s phone network is still good!”

In a fit of anger, she posted a message on her microblog, “SwitchTV has no backbone. Great aunt is not serving anymore. Starting today, my SwitchTV account is sealed forever!”

After typing this, she sent it.

Once the microblog message was sent, she closed her phone screen and stopped paying attention to things on the internet. She now turned her attention to facing the Miller and Hancock families.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2460

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2460

The key to Dairaionji Temple?

As soon as Alex said this, both Charming and Heidi showed momentary panic on their faces. Although they quickly hid it, Alex, whose spiritual power was incomparably strong and possessed the divine eye, quickly caught this change.

'Panic?'

'What's the situation?'

'This kind of emotion... Was it too abnormal?'

"Do you have it?" Alex's spiritual realm was released, enveloping Channing. The enormous spiritual pressure made the old man almost kneel on the ground. His head was sweating, and his face was pale as if in great pain.

There was, however, a glowing green mist appearing on his forehead, resisting the spiritual impact.

Alex once again increased his energy and shouted, "What are you hiding? Tell us all!"

Seeing that Channing could not hold on, with his spirit beginning to drift off and his five senses bleeding, the old lady of the Miller family shouted, "What are you waiting for? Kill!"

The old woman's voice was not as fast as her movements.

Before she finished speaking, she had already arrived in front of Alex, and at some point in her hand, had clasped a short knife with a black light shooting out.

Without hesitation, she slashed at Alex's neck.

At this time, she no longer seemed to be thinking about why Alex had turned into a teenager. She only wanted to kill him.

“There really is a problem!”

Alex’s spiritual realm remained there. As long as one was within the range, the slightest change would be detected. The old woman’s slight movement was captured too.

Alex’s spiritual realm was focused on the attack. He flung something at the old lady, so she would halt her movements. In the next second, there was a flash of golden light.

A golden lance violently stabbed at the old woman.

“Block it for me! ”

The old lady had all kinds of defensive magic treasures on her body, such as clothes, pants, belts, even the hair ornaments on her head. Even her pants had defensive functions. A treasure light shot out, reflecting the old lady’s body colorfully.

However, it was useless.

Alex held Athena’s golden spear in his hand. It was absolutely sharp. With the Path of God added, it had a self-made divine ability. No matter how many defenses one had, they could be pierced as long as they were not ancient!

Boom... boom... boom... boom... boom!

“My lord!”

“Grandma!”

“Monster! How dare you!”

The Miller family members shouted as if they were the only ones who could while getting bullied was treason. The Miller family members yelled and cried as they rushed towards Alex. All kinds of weapons and magic treasures rushed out like raindrops.

It was then that a woman flew out. It was Daya.

Her expression was cold and indifferent, but she did not show any mercy in her hands. She grabbed a tree branch in her hands, and the treasure light shone. A glazed divine aura swirled around. There were even myriad sounds and runes.

Swish!

With a wave of the branch, the Miller family experts' sacrificed magic treasures were covered by a divine aura. Then, as if without power, everything smashed on the ground with loud crackling sounds.

Some flying swords were still bouncing on the ground. They struggled to die but finally lost their movement. "How is it possible?"

The people of the Miller family were all stunned in disbelief. Everyone's intrinsic magic treasures failed and lost contact.

"Want to bully the few with the many? My Rockefeller family has never been afraid!"