The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2471

Sister Skyward looked at the screen of her phone. It turned out to be a message from SwitchTV's administrator, stating that they would pin her livestream and that Michelle's unilateral decision to stop the broadcast had greatly angered them. It was because the resources that they poured to promote her as the top anchor in SwitchTV all seemed to be in vain!

Now, they were desperately looking for a new anchor to replace Michelle. Hence, the administrator informed her in the message that SwitchTV's throne for the top anchorwoman would be hers as long as she did a good job in this time's livestream.

Sister Skyward almost screamed after seeing such a message. She really wanted to hug Vaan next to her and screw him on the spot. She worked even harder at once.

The surroundings around Rockefeller Manor were now equivalent to a catastrophe. A casual stomp from the white wolf could trample a tall building, what more the cars. Dozens of vehicles burst simultaneously under the gargantuan stomp. It was a scene no different from Armageddon.

Countless cars and people frantically evacuated the area.

Vaan, however, went against the flow, driving Sister Skyward through the back lanes before reaching Rockefeller Manor. Everyone had escaped, and there was already no one else in this area. Sister Skyward, on the other hand, had to strive for the sake of network traffic and popularity!

Her fans seemed to be increasing at an unbelievable rate each second, especially when she especially looked at the number of viewers right now.

One hundred thousand... One million... Ten million... It even reached hundreds of millions!

Sister Skyward was unable to hold it in. She felt that she had succeeded.

She had successfully taken over the position of Michelle, the little devil. If it weren't for the windfall, the three million virtual items wouldn't have spammed her channel.

She saw a few people chatting...

[Isn't this Rockefeller Manor? The house of Michelle's elder brother.]

[Oh god! This huge wolf is here to give Michelle's elder brother a hard time. It can't be the divine envoy from the sacred golden mountain, right?]

[Someone just discovered that Sinister Spirit had announced online that the divine envoy of the sacred golden mountain has gone to kill Alex Rockefeller. It looks like she wasn't lying this time!]

[Huh? Who is that?]

[Sister Skyward, please get closer and aim the camera at the entrance of Rockefeller Manor... That woman, isn't she Michelle? Michelle is riding on a pig?]

[F*ck! I seriously want to turn myself into that pig!]

[No, did you guys see that? Michelle is holding a cell phone and seems to be live-streaming too, but where is she streaming? It's so close, so it must be very clear! This is the firsthand scene!]

[She didn't broadcast it on SwitchTV! I looked it up! She didn't!]

Sister Skyward saw the contents of the chat on the channel and discovered something wrong as the discussion went off- topic. 'How can these guys do this? Discussing another streamer on my channel... Oh, not only are they discussing her, but they're looking for her.'

Soon, a message appeared on the channel.

[Michelle posted on Instagram! SwitchTV didn't allow her to broadcast content related to the conglomerate. Hence, she quit SwitchTV and acquired a live-streaming platform called Michelle's Livestream. The address is under her Instagram post. Click it to access her channel. The scene is d*mn exciting! I'll take my leave now. Bye!]

Afterward, Sister Skyward discovered that the number of viewers on her channel had plummeted!

At this moment, even SwitchTV's technicians and management personnel following Sister Skyward's channel were unable to react for a while. How could such a thing happen?

Moreover, this message did not just appear on Sister Skyward's live-streaming channel.

Michelle's former fans on several other channels also scrambled to relay the message.

Within a few minutes, the number of viewers on SwitchTV declined rapidly!

Sister Skyward could no longer bear it. Seeing the huge wolf five or six hundred meters away, she said to herself, "If Michelle Yowell can do it, I can do it too!"

After shouting on her channel, she ran toward the white wolf phone in hand.

Whatever viewers that remained on her channel admired her courage.

The white wolf ahead, however, let out a roar.

The soundwave swept over the area like a massive tsunami.

Unable to resist such shock, Sister Skyward let out an "Ah!" and fell to the ground. The cellphone's camera pointed right at the ground. The screen was now pitch-black and nothing was visible.

[Hey, Sister Skyward! Wake up! Wake up! Don't sleep, okay?]

[Wake up! Hurry up and show us the livestream!]

Comments of all manner brushed over the screen of the live-streaming channel, but Sister Skyward was just an ordinary person. The wolf demon's furious roar was like rolling thunder, and she was so close to it. It was fortunate that she did not die from the shock, so how was she still capable of getting up?

Soon, the people in the live-streaming channel left one after another. They went to Michelle's newly formed live-streaming platform.

An astonishing scene appeared upon clicking open the address...

"Where's the ancestor of our Miller family? Where's the princess of our Miller family, Josephine Miller? What have you people done to them?"

"Hand them over right now! Otherwise, all of you in the Rockefeller family shall die today!"

The live-streaming scene was extremely vivid, and even the sound was clear.

Among the people who had just rushed in, the majority came from Sister Skyward's channel as they could only see the side view of the huge wolf's appearance faraway in the livestream over there. Not only could they see its frontal view here, but they could also see in greater detail. Under the huge white wolf's feet, a group of Miller family members was talking to Alex harshly.

A woman who took the lead particularly looked frigid.

The next second, Alex acted.

However, the live-streaming scene could not capture his true course of action at all. They just felt that once when the screen briefly flickered, Alex, who was still in front of the camera earlier, moved his body slightly.

However, if they took a closer look, they would notice that the person talking earlier had disappeared, leaving only a pool of flesh and blood on the ground.

Alex soundly defeated the woman with a punch. The Miller family members gasped...

"How dare you, villain?!"

"How dare you act so recklessly before the divine envoy?!"

"Lord Divine Envoy, please kill this villain right now! He's the one who has captured Josephine Miller. Shirley Hancock is in his hands too!"

Following the Miller family's livestream, the words of their members reached countless people's ears.

The first livestream began on Michelle's channel to day. So far, the number of viewers had surpassed three hundred million. Tens of millions of users had registered a minute before she posted the message on her Instagram... Those were all Michelle's fans who had come over after following the address in her Instagram.

The bustling live-streaming channel earlier had now abnormally quietened at once. The atmosphere seemed bizarre.

Who would have thought that the divine envoy of the sacred golden mountain was not human but such an enormous wolf demon?

Alex sneered. "This kind of beastly lapdog is something worse than sh*t. How dare you people say they are divine envoys and even worship them like your ancestors? I really feel sad for you people."

Such words were too direct and grating.

How could the white wolf divine envoy, usually lofty and believed itself to be incomparably noble, bear it?

It immediately howled to the sky and let out an earth-shattering roar. "Lowly ant, how dare you insult the Olympus Tribe and a divine envoy like me? You're a heretic against the will of God, the source of evil among humans. I shall land the punishment on behalf of God so that you will never make a comeback again."

"Hahaha! Do you really think you're God's messenger?" Alex burst into laughter. "The Olympus Tribe is just a bunch of cowards that knelt before the Undying Clan, betrayed the Alliance, the universe, and themselves. You people dared not fight against the Undying Clan, yet you backstabbed your alliance allies. Is this God you speak of? You're just a bunch of human traitors! How hilarious!" Alex ridiculed mercilessly.

The wolf demon was dumbfounded.

Those were the secrets of the Olympus Tribe.

These were scandals that couldn't be exposed to the public. Once they were known to the world, the Olympus Tribe would no longer be able to deceive people with their acts, and it would cause terrible consequences for their subsequent ambitious goals.

Thinking of this, the white wolf king looked at Alex, revealing a hint of ferocity. It must never allow this person to live.

“What do you know?” the wolf demon asked. Then, it abruptly sensed Michelle sitting on Pigsy’s back. She was aiming her cell phone at itself and live-streaming...

Although it was a wolf demon, it was a great learner and had long learned a lot of things from the living environment of mankind.

“How dare you broadcast me?”

“You die!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2473

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2473

The wolf demon attacked by spitting with its open mouth. It spat a ray of white light, and like a long flying sword, targeted Michelle to decapitate her.

However, Pigsy bolted and fled to the side while carrying Michelle. As soon as its body turned into a stream of light, it was already a hundred meters away.

“Watch out!”

Alex’s face sank. He then got abnormally serious.

Daya’s previous analysis was a little incorrect. These divine envoys that had come out of the Great Curtain bypassed the restrictions of Earth’s laws and entered the Wasteland weren’t as weak as what she described... According to Daya’s analysis, the creatures that had crossed the Great Curtain would receive extremely strict baptism by the laws the moment they crossed the realm.

It would be difficult for any foreign creatures whose cultivation levels were beyond Tribulation Crossing to escape the inexorable fate.

Even if they managed to cross over, their cultivation levels would plummet or be ruined.

However, from the current situation, the laws that the ancient Supremes had laid were not entirely flawless. Although these creatures' cultivation levels would be ruined when they crossed the realm, they could carry some precious items that included Fairy Medicine, divine pills, and resources for cultivation.

As long as they did not die after crossing the realm, they could rapidly utilize these resources and enhance their cultivation level. If that was the case, they did not have to bother with the laws.

This was the loophole!

Alex looked cold as the crisis of the Wasteland on Earth was getting more severe. He had to go all out and keep this wolf demon alive today so he could ask for something useful.

“Take Michelle and leave first, Pigsy!”

“I’ll handle this dumb white wolf!”

Pigsy stared at the huge white wolf demon, but it did not forget to urge him.

“When you kill it later, it’d be best that you don’t destroy the snow-white fur. I think it’s of value and it can be turned into my clothes. Also, white wolf meat is very delicious too. This wolf can already transform, and its body emits powerful spiritual energy of heaven and earth. It’d definitely be a great tonic after eating it. Remember, leave a leg for me!”

Pigsy said as its mouth watered.

The people watching Michelle’s livestream were all stunned. It was already a blessing to be a talking pig, yet it still yearned for the wolf demon’s fur and even threatened to eat its leg. How much more arrogant could it be?

Roar!

The wolf demon roared. It was so infuriated that its white fur stood erect, unleashing overwhelming mental coercion all over the place.

As soon as Alex opened his mouth, a Buddhist chant rushed out... A swastika symbol!

“卍!”

This unique symbol of Buddhism glittered with golden light and immediately turned into solid form after rushing out. It abruptly slammed into the wolf demon.

At the same time, the phantasm of a golden Buddha abruptly stood up behind him.

One split into two, two into four, and four split into sixteen.

A total of sixteen golden Buddha phantasms abruptly soared into the sky and surrounded the white wolf demon. They then unleashed a series of magnificent Buddhist chants in the air and formed even more sound waves in the form of a '卍' imprisoning the white wolf demon firmly as if they were an interwoven net or a cage.

The livestream was in an uproar.

[He caught it!]

[Michelle's elder brother is really awesome! Michelle's elder seems to be using a cultivation technique of Buddhism, right? Is he a monk?]

[No way! I haven't borne a child for Michelle's elder brother!]

It was then that the wolf demon laughed heartily. "How dare you stop me with such a petty skill? Shatter!"

Boom!

The golden cage of Buddhist chants shattered instantaneously.

The wolf demon waved its huge hand and immediately defeated half of the golden Buddhas.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2474

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2474

"F*ck! It's so powerful?"

The ones who witnessed this scene were all stunned. Those people, especially in Michelle's live-streaming channel, were all dumbfounded. The technique that Alex had just displayed was shocking enough as he could instantly manifest sixteen golden Buddhas and envelop the wolf demon with countless 卐 symbols, suppressing it on the ground. They did not expect that it would break free with ease, going on to defeat half of Alex's phantasms in return.

Even Alex was slightly shocked.

What shocked him even more was that the wolf demon later shrank its body to a height of ten meters, and a white wheel appeared around its body, slowly rotating about it.

"What is this?"

"This can't be... The Immortal Wheel of Life, right?" Alex was dumbfounded. This discovery left him stunned. It was not because of the wolf demon's strength, but it should not have possessed such a cultivation level.

"Mystic Maiden! Sis Mystic Maiden! Come out quickly and look at the hula hoop!"

"What the heck did you call for? You're disturbing my sleep!"

The Mystic Maiden of the Nine Heavens, who poked half of her head out of the mind palace, saw the wolf demon before her and the Wheel of Life on it.

"What hula hoop?"

"Is that round wheel on it the Immortal Wheel of Life?" Alex hurriedly asked.

"That's right!" The Mystic Maiden nodded after looking at it. "However, something is wrong with this Wheel of Life. It looks too weak and a little too pale. Its level is so low that it hasn't even reached the standard."

Alex said, "But, you are certain that this is the Immortal Wheel of Life, right?"

The Mystic Maiden admitted and said yes.

Alex said with a smile, "In that case, the time has really come! The spiritual energy of heaven and earth has recovered, whereas the heavenly laws and sentiment are all recovering. Otherwise, its cultivation level would decline when it crossed the realm, and it would be impossible to possess the Immortal Wheel of Life! But, I wonder how it managed to achieve immortalization.”

The Mystic Maiden said, “Wouldn’t we know if we capture it and ask about that? However, I feel that the power of laws in this world is gradually recovering. This is just the beginning. Clearly, you have obtained the correct information. Someone in the ancient times once made a great arrangement to this world so that the Wasteland would not be ruined, but it was the reversal of all the starting points and hope.”

Alex got all worked up as this was the best news.

As he stared at the white wolf demon, passion filled his eyes, as if he had seen his kin... He just had to pry the reason for its immortalization out of its mouth. Even if the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell were burdensome, Daya would successfully achieve immortalization.

Then, they would be able to enter the Naga Tribe’s secret realm and find their daughter.

When he thought about it, a smile appeared on his face.

Not far away, many Miller family members not far away who caught a glimpse of this expression felt disdainful. “He’s still laughing without knowing his demise is approaching. I think the divine envoy’s ability must have stunned this guy silly.”

Even Michelle was a little worried and whispered, “The wolf demon’s ability is so strong. Alex won’t be in danger, right? Can you go help him, Pigsy?”

Pigsy snorted. “Hmph. I’m not going there. This guy is a scammer. Whoever encounters him will be unlucky.”

Why was Pigsy willing to carry Michelle?

It was because Michelle had inadvertently revealed that she had a vast knowledge about a precious medicinal field specially prepared for alchemy, and Alex was an alchemist who often worked with her.

Michelle initially meant that she just accompanied Alex in alchemy as a bystander, the kind that would not understand alchemy. She was only responsible for accompanying him to relieve his boredom, but Pigsy had taken a flight of fancy and blindly guessed that Michelle was the alchemy master. Alex, on the other hand, had learned all his alchemy techniques from Michelle.

Afterward, it pondered for a while, thinking that she was the real hidden big shot.

It had also particularly catered to its taste by slightly understanding the livestreams Michelle engaged in, only to find that she had a massive following of billions, and they kept giving her money to spend for no reason. In its eyes, those people must have wanted to ask Michelle for the pills. Otherwise, why would they be like that?

Hence, he decisively gave up on Alex, the 'alchemy apprentice', and rode on coattails of Michelle, the 'alchemy master'. It even went hat in hand to become Michelle's mount without hesitation.

However...

If it were to know that Michelle did not know alchemy at all someday, it would've probably passed out.

At this moment, Michelle heard Pigsy's words and said, "Look at this sulky face of yours. You must have been scammed, right?"

Pigsy instantly replied, "That's right! He has scammed many spiritual herbs out of me! They were all rations for me, the old pig!"

Michelle shook her head. "If you consume the spiritual herbs directly, wouldn't they go to waste? The effects would be better if you extract them, then concoct them into pills before eating them. A pill's effect may be on par with dozens of your spiritual herbs!"

Pigsy shuddered upon hearing it 'A pill that was on par with dozens of spiritual herbs?'

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2475

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2475

This was too awesome a ratio. As expected, it was a statement that only the alchemy master would make. Never did it expect that Michelle couldn't understand alchemy, and she had blurted out the ratio on the fly.

There might be an error, a difference dozens or even hundreds of times.

The woman and the pig were in a conversation.

The battle between Alex and the wolf demon began to heat up as all of Buddha's golden phantasms disappeared.

Although very effective against the undead demon beasts, he realized that the Buddhist cultivation technique seemed ineffective against the divine envoy. This thing had extreme physical strength, but it also had a weakness, it was afraid of thunder!

Alex's attacks had combined multiple attributes.

He even incorporated the thunderous might from the Buddhist cultivation technique. As a result, he discovered that the wolf demon could endure the other attacks but deeply feared the thunderous might. It tried hard to dodge it and would scream horribly once it touched the thunderous might.

"Ant! You've successfully angered me!"

Suddenly, with a roar, the wolf demon took out a bottle of blue potion and threw it into its mouth.

It even devoured the bottle along with the potion.

"Uh..?" Alex froze for a brief moment and did not continue his attacks.

In fact, Alex didn't unleash full power to deal with this wolf demon. But he had been testing... If he really wanted to fight to the death, he was confident that he could deal with it within ten seconds. After all, it wasn't like he hadn't killed Immortals, not to mention that he was the one who had killed the two Immortals from the Peacock Tribe and even consumed them.

This guy's strength was inferior to that of the Peacock Tribe!

He just wanted to understand the Olympus Tribe's fighting system a little more.

He saw that after the wolf demon consumed the potion, the hair on its body grew rapidly. The Immortal Wheel of Life surrounding it was constantly solidifying, its aura rising steadily, and its eyes were blazing with a scorching red glow...

“Is this... Berserk Potion?”

Alex quietly looked at it without interruption.

On the other hand, Michelle’s viewers on her livestream channel shuddered from the sight and desperately flooded the screen with comments...

[Hurry up and do something!]

[Don’t wait for it to restore its health! Just kill it right away!]

[Michelle’s elder brother, what are you waiting for?]

[Michelle! Ask your elder brother to act now, Michelle! Oh gosh. I’m so anxious! Isn’t this a template for digging your own grave in a TV series? Don’t let the other party seize the opportunity!]

Michelle’s fans were in a frenzy. She, however, didn’t realize that that wolf demon had already attracted all her attention. This was because it was an extremely rare sight.

Not only did the wolf demon enlarge its body, but ghastly-looking bone spikes even sprouted out of its back.

The wolf demon’s eyes gleamed as it stared at Alex and said, “If my cultivation level hadn’t been ruined when I crossed the realm, I would have been able to kill an ant like you with my spit. However, you’ve forced me to use this precious potion. You should be proud of yourself. Now then... Just die!”

An apparition manifested behind it, it was a hundred foot tall wolf ancestor.

A smack struck down.

All eyes were fixed on the scene, and the crowd went dead silent.

Even the hearts of the people at the Rockefeller Manor skipped a beat at the sight. Meanwhile, Alex’s expression changed little. He suddenly stomped his foot on the ground, enveloping his body with lightning before fiercely intercepting it.

Wham!

The blow instantly pierced the towering wolf demon.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2476

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2476

“Ah...”

“How is this possible?”

“The Divine Envoy was actually punctured! I can’t believe it. The current Divine Envoys are powerful demon immortals. Their power exceeds most Immortal masters! So how did that Rockefeller guy defeat him? What tricks did he pull?”

The Millers shrieked, their eyes widened, unable to believe what they were witnessing.

This result was way too unexpected. They brought the Divine Envoy along to take Alex’s life, yet the Divine Envoy was injured because of this.

“Mr. Divine Envoy, are you... Alright?” An elder of the Miller family looked at the wolf demon, seemingly concerned.

“Argh!” The wolf demon howled, but his voice broke off suddenly right after he opened his mouth.

Due to his enraged howls, large amounts of blood flowed out of the puncture on his stomach. Despite already taking a blue drug to become a demon immortal, such an injury was still too heavy for him. All his wolf organs were badly damaged at this point. More importantly, he was still in grave danger.

On the other hand, the chat of Michelle’s live stream was extremely hyped up.

Many donations started popping up on the screen.

[Michelle’s brother is so powerful!]

[Divine Envoy my ass! They’re all just weaklings!]

[Michelle, can you ask your brother if he’s taking disciples?]

[Michelle, can you ask your brother if he'd like a new girl? A girl who'd love to bear his children...]

It would seem that the tables had turned.

Michelle let out a sigh of relief and patted Pigsy on the back. "Pigsy, can you handle the Millers? Beat these traitors to the ground. They disgust me! How could they team up with the Olympus Tribe to fight their own kind? That's a new low!"

To impress Michelle, Pigsy immediately lunged toward the Miller family.

The Miller family who came by were no masters, since all of their powerful members had been captured by Alex.

In just a few moments, Pigsy defeated the entire family. None of them could stand back up at all.

Alex ignored Pigsy and punched the wolf demon several times instead, causing him to yelp in pain.

At first, he thought he could survive this, thinking that Alex's previous attack was possible because he had pent up his powers for quite a long time. Then, figuring that Alex couldn't attack with such power again, the wolf demon thought he could escape.

In just a few moments, he realized that he didn't stand a chance against Alex at all. 'This human hasn't even used his full power. He's playing me like I'm just a toy!'

Yet now, each of Alex's punches felt as if it was as heavy as boulders, paired with massive amounts of law power. 'He's even fiercer than when I'm at my full power!'

'F*ck, where did this cruel person even come from?'

'Didn't they say that there were no Immortals in the Wastelands? Who said this? Were they lying?'

With this, the wolf demon was beaten to his original form. All his bone spurs shrunk as well. However, his original form was still quite big. The wolf demon's corpse spanned over a hundred meters, laying flat on the ground. It looked absolutely terrifying. Although Rockefeller Manor wasn't small, they would still have to move the buildings if they were to drag this big guy in.

Alex then set up a soundproof formation around them and asked, "You guys crossed realms using the tomb in Mount Oro, so your cultivation level should have been cut down to Tribulation Crossing. How did you get back up to Immortalization in such a short amount of time?"

The wolf demon chuckled coldly. "Do you really think I'd tell you?"

Alex nodded. "You will."

"You can try!"

"Alright then!"

Alex summoned a sword in his hand, the Sword of Universe of the Dragon's Bane of Thirty-Six.

This was originally a family treasure of the Rockefeller family, but it seemed weaker and weaker after Alex collected more treasures along his journey... The main reason for this was because he hadn't looked into the formation blueprints of the rest of the thirty two swords.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2477

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2477

"Kill me all you want. I wouldn't even bat an eye!" The wolf demon huffed coldly, seemingly unafraid.

Slice!

Alex swung his sword and chopped off one of its large legs. Blood poured out of the wormd immediately.

"Awooooo..!"

The demon wolf was tough, but he was still shivering from the pain of having one of his legs amputated.

He tried his best to struggle free, but Alex immediately held him down. Alex pinned the demon wolf to the ground using ten or so swords, drenching the floor with wolf blood completely.

However, Alex then used the divine power of Zharvakko, which stopped the bleeding.

‘This...’

The demon wolf lay on the ground. He couldn’t even end his own life. All he could do was wait for his fate to be decided. Moreover, he noticed Alex bringing out a barbeque grill, lighting it up, and started roasting the wolf’s leg.

‘That’s brutal. I’m still alive!’

“After training the breathing method, I’m becoming more interested in feeding on blood.” Alex sighed.

“I’m not going to be addicted, right?”

He then asked the Mystic Maiden, who was currently in his mind palace. ‘How long would this last?’

The Mystic Maiden replied, “As your body improves, you’d need to feed on more blood energy, which means that you’d be required to eat higher class flesh. At this moment, these immortal demon beasts can still satisfy your needs, but this won’t be enough later on. You’d have to find even higher-ranking beasts.”

“Like some ancient Supremes, their bodies would be so powerful that they’d have to eat phoenix flesh and drink dragon’s blood. So they treated Kirin scales as snacks, and they didn’t even want golden wings or large birds.”

Alex was shocked to hear this, but he was rather fascinated as well.

‘So those Supremes are probably what people call true Supremes!’

Crackle crackle!

The wolf demon’s leg looked quite juicy, shimmering with oil; it smelled amazing as well. Although the formation Alex set up could block noise, it couldn’t do the same for the smell.

Pigsy, who had also trained in the Old Cow's Breathing Technique, immediately started drooling. It hoped to do the same as Alex, only to realize it was blocked out of the formation. Hence, all it could do was glare at them in frustration.

The people watching the stream were extremely excited at this point.

[Oh my god, he's such a legend! He just chopped off some fresh meat from the wolf demon and barbequed it while it's still not even dead yet!]

[That's a powerful demon from Mount Oro, did you guys see the circle around it just now? That's the Immortal Wheel of Life. According to ancient records, only beings who have succeeded in Immortalization can form that. That means this wolf demon is an Immortal! Its meat will definitely be nutritious!]

In Michelle's live stream, a guy with the ID 'SaintOnEarth' analyzed everything thoroughly, describing his theories as if they were facts.

After that, some people, who were possibly involved in cultivation, commented to confirm his theories even further.

[According to records, such demon meat would strengthen the body and cure all diseases! Because it's immortal, its body is filled with refined Earth essence. Ordinary people can't absorb pure Earth essence, but they could absorb Earth essence if it were in such meat. So that's basically the ultimate medicine!]

[Eating some of this meat would definitely be able to cure cancer!]

[Holy sh*t, for real? You lot aren't scammers, right?]

[What can we even scam you of?! That meat belongs to Michelle's brother! We can't sell it even if we wanted to. All we can do is watch.]

However, the live stream was already too fired up to calm down. Some people, who were very rich and also suffering from cancer, started sending multiple rockets as donations to Michelle. They didn't have any other way to cure their sickness after all.

Especially this one guy with the online name 'Andrius'. He kept sending rockets as if his life depended on it. The large amount of noise coming from her phone caught Michelle's attention. Taking just one glance at it, she was instantly stunned. It would seem that this 'Andrius' had donated two thousand rockets at once.

'Is this guy this rich to just waste his money like that? What does he want?'

She then noticed a message attached to the donation.

[Miss Yowell, can I buy a few pounds of meat from your brother? I'll offer a billion for each pound, and the price I offered is negotiable.]

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2478

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2478

'A billion for each pound?'

Michelle took a glance at the wolf demon lying on the ground. 'The total weight of its meat is probably a hundred tons at the very least. If we really did sell it with this price, we'd become the richest people in the entire world.'

"What are you going to do with this meat?" Michelle asked. She didn't note any of her fans' comments earlier, so she didn't quite understand.

Andrius replied almost immediately: [I heard Immortal demon meat can cure cancer. And I'll be honest with you, I have been diagnosed with stomach cancer a while ago...]

'Uhm...'

Michelle was once again stunned. She didn't think this meat could cure cancer. She had never heard of this, so Michelle felt the need to verify this with Alex to stay true to her fans.

After replying to Andrius this way, she also asked for his true identity.

[My name is Jin, I'm from Hong Kong]

"Andrius Jin?"

Michelle froze. Although she was young and uninterested in business, she still knew well about this man due to his status and power. Despite the Yowell family's power growth, their business was still far less successful than this man's.

"I understand!"

However, she couldn't help but feel another sense of pride arising within her heart. 'So what if you're Andrius Jin? You'd still have to beg me for a cure when you're terminally ill.'

'My brother is Alex Rockefeller. He's what we call a true master.'

Pigsy was extremely frustrated, watching as Alex chow down on the juicy wolf thigh, yet all it could do was watch. It was drooling so much that its saliva formed a puddle on the ground.

However, Alex still refused to let it in. He was worried that the pig would just gobble this entire wolf up in one sitting. Moreover, he needed to gather the information he wanted from the wolf demon.

Despite this, he still allowed Michelle in after she gestured at him.

Pigsy yelled, "Hey hey! Hey! What about me? Little minion, little minion... Miss Yowell, please get me some meat! I'd like to have some!"

No matter how much it screamed, it didn't receive any response. Michelle couldn't hear anything from outside of the formation after entering. It was completely soundproof after all.

"I'll remember that, little minion!"

"Miss Yowell is definitely the little minion's master. Why else would he be so obedient to her orders? He's such a frugal punk after all..."

Michelle then told Alex about Andrius' request, causing him to freeze a little. He was also surprised that someone would want to buy Immortal demon meat to cure cancer.

However, he realized that this theory wasn't entirely wrong after putting some thought into it. Since Immortal demon meat contained large amounts of spiritual energy, it would be easy to cleanse one's body and purify the cancer cells from within.

Yet after hearing that Andrius was asking for it, he turned to Michelle with a smile. “Immortal demon meat can indeed cure cancer, but its main function for normal human bodies is to cleanse the mortal body.”

“It would make one feel as if they had been reborn, and it’d prolong one’s life. One pound could at least prolong one’s life for six months. And yet he still wishes to buy one with just a billion? Tell him that I’d buy all his stock if he has any.”

Michelle was speechless. She initially thought that Andrius was silly. Since it was just wolf’s meat, she didn’t think it’d be expensive. Yet now, Alex didn’t even agree to sell it.

“Is this meat really that miraculous?”

Alex dumped a large piece of meat in her hands. “Your powers are probably at their limit now, right? You’ve been live streaming so much that you’re wasting your powers away! Just look at the people around you. Everyone’s cultivation rank is higher than yours. Aren’t you embarrassed that you can’t even beat Beatrice now?”

Michelle pouted. “How can you compare me to her? She’s the mother of your four children, so you must’ve secretly helped her train. And her sister is so powerful. She’s literally the reincarnation of a Supreme. As long as she left some power for Beatrice, others wouldn’t even be able to catch up with her progress no matter how many lives they have.”

“Hey, don’t say that. She’s my sister-in-law.”

“She’s going to become your wife sooner or later anyway!”

Michelle was still holding onto her phone, and she hadn’t ended the live stream yet. So this information made everyone watching the live stream feel mindblown.

‘Michelle’s brother has kids now, four of them even. And the mother of his children is his sister-in-law?!’

'Oh wait, no, that's not the point. More importantly... Immortal demon meat is so beneficial that it could prolong one's life!'

'Consuming a pound of it could extend one's life for six months, so eating ten pounds would extend five years!'

'I wish... I could get my hands on that!'

Michelle's live stream was once again hyped up as multiple donations flooded the screen, causing the phone notifications to chime rapidly.

Only then did Michelle realize that her stream was still ongoing. Then, turning her phone screen on, she was shocked to see this many people rushing to buy some meat.

The most shocking one was the message from Andrius. [Miss Yowell, I am talking about dinars here, a billion euros for a pound of meat.]

The live stream chat was filled with interested buyers too.

Michelle reported this to Alex, making him smile faintly. Although they were offering a lot, he hadn't been interested in money for quite some time already.

"We'll see. It's not like we lack money anyway. The most valuable thing in our current world is probably money! Have some meat first. You could probably break through your limit after eating. Then, you'll just have to cross the tribulation. I'll be here to watch over you, so don't worry!"

Michelle immediately did as he said and chomped down on the grilled meat.

"Oh my, it melts in my mouth! It tastes so good."

"It smells nice too, kind of like beef. But there is a fresh fragrance of some sort of herb. I feel the energy flowing within my body. It feels so good."

"Ah, Alex, my appetite isn't all that big, right? But why don't I feel full even after eating this much? I won't get fat from this, right?"

Michelle was eating while live streaming the whole time, which made her look as if she were an eating broadcaster.

However, a normal eating broadcaster ate ordinary food, but she was eating the meat of an Immortal demon, who was alive no less. This truly showed the difference between her and the norm.

The viewers could only watch as she ate, gulping with sheer envy.

Alex said calmly, “This wolf demon’s class isn’t all that high, but it is a being that achieved Immortalization. Since it’s not of this mortal realm, its flesh was already refined and filled with pure blood energy. So it is turned into energy as soon as you consume it, it doesn’t stay long in the stomach too, let alone turn into fat...”

“Have some more. I think you’re almost there. I won’t get involved unless your life depends on it. But don’t worry, I’m here for you. Just go for the tribulation.”

Alex didn’t want to get involved because he spoke from his own experience since his lightning tribulation.

When he used the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell to block it off, he lost the opportunity to transform even further, despite not crossing the tribulation. This would not be beneficial to oneself. Hence, it was best to cross the tribulation on their own.

However, these words reassured Michelle quite well. Quite a few cultivators watching the live stream were rather jealous to hear Alex say that as well.

Whoosh!

The sky soon turned cloudy in an instant. Michelle was slightly nervous because her cultivation level wasn’t high. She had only achieved Divine Transcendence, so this was the first time she had to cross a tribulation after reaching Core Formation.

“Alex, would the lightning strike my head? I won’t get a concussion, right?”

“Don’t worry. Any injury can be healed as long as you’re still alive. Including dementia!” Alex comforted her, making her very speechless.

Seeing that her legs were going kind of weak, Alex was helpless and threw a golden shield to her. “If you’re really that scared, just hide under this shield then!”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2480

Boom!

A white light flashed through the sky, landing on the shield above Michelle's head lightly but let out a loud noise.

Her phone was struck by lightning, too, causing sparks and smoke around it.

The live stream ended right there and then, but Michelle couldn't possibly care any less about that now. She had seen tribulations quite a few times. The women of the Rockefeller family would somehow frequent the tribulation. For example, Waltz, Maya, Beatrice, and Brittany had crossed their tribulations already.

Maya had especially crossed a few tribulations at this point in time... That was because her powers were now as strong as the Fairy Doctor now. She had achieved Spirit Severing.

That was considered relatively quick for cultivators, after all. Without any other factors helping her, Maya was still able to improve at such an incredible speed. Her potential was simply too great.

If Maya were to be admitted to some ancient clans, she definitely would've been nurtured and taught as if she were a legend. Many saintly sectors would want her to join desperately as well.

However, comparing her tribulation to the others, Michelle wanted to cry.

'Isn't my lightning tribulation a little too much?'

'Why is there fire too?'

Still holding the shield above her head, she felt as if her arms were going to break. Moreover, metal was conductive, so it seemed that it didn't help take such lightning.

"Alex, help! This shield is conductive. It's useless!" she screamed.

“Who said so? Just look at the lightning. It’s bouncing off of the shield. There’s not much left for you to take on anyway. Hold on. It will pass soon enough,” Alex said, yet still secretly frightened.

‘Why would a Core Formation tribulation involve divine fire? What did Michelle do to deserve this?’

However, he understood the situation in just a few seconds. It was all down to one thing that they thought could help.

The golden shield might be strong, but its extremely defensive nature made the tribulation much stronger than usual.

Despite knowing this... Alex could never bring himself to admit to his mistakes. He didn’t want to lose face one bit.

There were nine strikes of lightning in total within the tribulation of Core Formation. Since Michelle’s powers were average, she fell into a weakened state after taking the lightning strikes. Her clothes were torn, her entire chest was nearly exposed as well...

It was fortunate that her phone broke. Otherwise, she would be the highlight of the live stream.

As Michelle basked in the Golden Light of Lightning Tribulation, Alex lifted his sword again and questioned the wolf demon.

Two minutes later, Alex cut the wolf demon’s other leg off.

“Awoo...” The wolf howled and vomited a mouthful of blood.

Alex was annoyed too. He didn’t want to see such stubbornness, he only wanted some intel.

Just then, the Mystic Maiden spoke up. “Aren’t you just trying to fish out some information out of it? There are so many easier ways, you know?”

Alex wanted to give up. “If you think you can do it, then go for it. Can you not tell that it wishes to die? Why don’t you come out and seduce it, like how you winked at me last time. It’d definitely be quite effective. Maybe it’d be entranced and spill everything it knows.”

The Mystic Maiden kicked him in the nose. "I'm your master. If you dare to disrespect again, only punishment awaits. None of my servants are reliable, urgh, and it gets worse with every generation. It's like I'm a nanny here."

"Mmh..." Alex held his nose. A sharp pain shot right into his brain. "How many servants have you had in the past? Besides, how old are you even?"

The Mystic Maiden huffed coldly. "How can you simply ask a goddess about her age? The only answer is that I'm a young maiden."
