

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2501

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2501

[Which fool has lost his mind to buy this kind of meat for one hundred million dollars per 1.1 pounds?]

The one who posted such a statement clearly did not see the professionals' analyses in Michelle's live streaming channel before and did not know this kind of immortal demon meat could cure cancers. Moreover, it could prolong one's life.

Soon, those who raised doubts in Michelle's live streaming channel received a slap in the face. Andrius spammed virtual gifts in the live streaming channel.

What?

They were chunks of meat! He had spammed ten chunks of them right away.

Then, all the fans watching the live stream saw chunks of meat filling their screens... This was the new virtual gift specially launched in Michelle's live stream for the sale of meat, which was the sale of wolf demon meat this time.

Spamming a chunk of meat would be equivalent to 1.1 pounds. 1.1 pounds were equivalent to a hundred million dollars.

How bloody! How ferocious! What a... D*mn nouveau riche!

When Michelle initially launched this kind of gift on her live streaming channel, the netizens even criticized and scolded Michelle if her brain had been damaged from a lightning strike. Which fool would buy such an expensive virtual gift?

As a result, it was a hard slap in the face.

Afterward, the system message about Andrius spending one billion dollars to slice off eleven pounds of wolf demon meat showed up on the live streaming platform. It showed up thrice.

The platform official, who was also Michelle's subordinate assistant, immediately contacted Andrius and agreed on the pickup issue of the wolf demon meat. In response, Andrius said he was already on the way to California and would be there in two hours.

The news became so popular immediately that the network media outside the live streaming platform also learned about it. Countless news platforms and individual media instantly scrambled to report this incident as if they had smelled the odor of blood and cash.

Even Andrius' identity had surfaced. However, this was just the beginning.

Soon, system messages popped up in the live streaming channel again, it was about that scarlet wolf demon meat again.

[System: Congratulations to user 'Young Master Wayne' for spending $100 million to slice off 1.1 pounds of wolf demon meat]

[System: Congratulations to user 'Clear Wind' for spending $500 million to slice off 5.5 pounds of wolf demon meat]

[System: Congratulations to user 'Houston Family' for spending $1 billion to slice off 11 pounds of wolf demon meat]

As soon as the news came out, the entire Internet was in an uproar.

Then, Andrius' identity that everyone was speculating had been confirmed, so who was that 'Young Master Wayne'? That person seemed to be that patron in Michelle's live streaming channel in SwitchTV, so his identity was clear at a glance. As for 'Clear Wind' and 'Houston Family' Well, those few top-ranked people in America seemed to have joined as well.

However, everyone soon discovered that the virtual gift 'wolf demon meat' for tipping in the live streaming channel was gone.

Someone flooded the screen. [Michelle, I want to buy the wolf demon meat. Where's that virtual gift? Why didn't I see it? Is there a problem with the system? Hurry up and put it up! I want to buy them! I want to buy eleven pounds too!]

[Look, money seems to be even cheaper than paper. $1 billion at the drop of a hat]

However, they waited for the official reply: [Sorry, all the wolf demon meat has been sold out. Users who have bought the wolf demon meat, please wait for the staff's telecommunication. Users who didn't manage to buy it this time don't need to be discouraged. Various rare items will be sold on this live streaming channel from time to time. Stay tuned!]

However, everyone saw Michelle was still feasting on the meat in the live streaming channel.

At least several thousand pounds of wolf demon meat was still placed at the site. So how could it be completely sold out?

Michelle saw the comments and apologetically said to the screen, "I'm so sorry. I acted cute like a spoiled child, but I only managed to ask Brother Alex Rockefeller for fifty-five pounds of wolf demon meat. I can only eat the rest as he doesn't allow me to sell them."

Everyone was jealous.

Michelle, can I join your party?

Michelle, I can go to your house to become a nanny too!

Michelle, please ask your elder brother if he lacks a bed warmer?

The Internet was abuzz.

Meanwhile, Alex was sitting far away by the pond. Next to him, a girl in red sighed faintly!

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2502

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2502

The little girl in red was not someone else but the tool spirit of Persephone's Folly Bridge, Shelly. She came out on her own.

Alex looked at her. "What are you sighing for? You've ruined such a good atmosphere with that sigh of yours."

Shelly pointed at Alex's nose. "How long haven't you been earning divine power?"

Alex replied, "Hasn't it been increasing all the time? When we were at the forbidden area of the Miller family, you seemed to have absorbed a lot of energy from the coffin's chains. Don't think that I don't know."

"It isn't enough. It's too little."

"You're too greedy."

"You're too stingy!" Shelly shouted angrily as she pointed at Alex's nose.

Alex promised to supply a portion of divine power that he had acquired to Persephone's Folly Bridge. Now she seemed to be complaining that it was too little. The little girl seemingly had some kind of special obsession with divine power.

Alex then asked, "By the way, what do you need so much divine power for? Are you going to eat it?"

Shelly nodded solemnly. "Yes! Can't you see I'm so small? I'm just like you. You need to consume flesh to grow up, whereas I need to consume divine power. So, Alex, why don't we go back to the Endless Sea? If we kill the undead demon beasts there, we can get a massive amount of divine power. It'll be beneficial to us, isn't it?"

Alex said, "You might as well join me in barging into the Undead Territory and killing the Undying Clan to get more divine power."

Shelly clapped her hands as her eyes gleamed. "Yes! Yes!"

Alex could only roll his eyes helplessly. "You think I'm not dying fast enough, don't you?"

Shelly pursed her lips. "I'm just worried that you'll die in Dairaionji Temple. That place isn't a place just any ordinary person could enter. Even if you've acquired Ksitigarbha's Legacy, it doesn't mean you can go in. In fact, Ksitigarbha also won't dare to say he could escape from there unscathed if he's alive."

Alex looked serious. "How much do you know about that place?"

Shelly beckoned Alex with her index finger to ask him to come closer.

"What are you trying to do?"

“I’ll tell you if you give me divine power!”

“Huh..?”

“Are you going to give it or not?”

“I have a hunch that you’ll die from divine power.”

“Why do you care? Give it, or not give it. just say the word.”

“How much?”

“Increase the ratio to half for each person!”

“Goodbye. I won’t see you out. ” Alex snappily rejected her. This little girl was mean and so daring to say such outrageous words.

“Hey, I can raise the price, but you can offer a down-to-earth price! We can negotiate this!”

“15%. Floor price.”

“You’re so stingy. What kind of lousy man are you? How mean! 45%, it can’t be less.”

“20%. Knockdown price. It can’t be more.”

“You can’t even enter Dairaionji Temple’s entrance without me. The River of Reincarnation alone can kill you ten thousand times. 45%, are you going to give it or not?”

Alex froze. “There’s the River of Reincarnation in front of Dairaionji Temple?”

Shelly arrogantly lifted her chin. “That’s right. You will reincarnate once you jump in. However, setting up Persephone’s Folly Bridge on the river can help you cross the river and reach the other shore.”

Alex muttered that Buddhism stressed the bloom of the other shore flowers on the other shore. Shelly did not seem to be deceiving him, and there was probably really such a thing. Weighing the pros and cons, he put up three fingers. “30%!”

Shelly squinted. “Deal!”

Alex's heart skipped a beat. Had he been deceived? After all, he only promised to give her 10% before.

"Can I go back on my word?"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2503

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2503

"I'll kill myself in front of you!" Shelly's eyes widened as she stared at him and looked like she was about to fly into a tantrum.

"Forget it Forget it. Look at this angry face. It's bulging into a ball." Alex reached out and fiercely pinched her delicate, smooth face.

Murderous intent filled Shelly's eyes, but she endured it for the sake of 30% divine power.

William had another onset that night. This time, he even chipped off a corner of the Immortal Locking Bed. The soul power that had been planted into his soul was visibly very powerful. Furthermore, it started to have self-consciousness.

Alex noticed that his father's eyes were full of resentment and murderous intent when he looked at him.

"We can't wait any longer!"

Alex decided to leave that night.

Before this, Alex had prepared Rockefeller Manor by turning it into an iron fortress with numerous spell formations. Whether it was defensive formation or slaying formation, he had done the best that he could do now.

There was also the help of the Mystic Maiden of the Nine Heavens during that time. Even if an Immortal Monarch were to barge in, he would suffer a defeat here.

Alex had deliberately taught the Fairy Doctor and Maya on the use of spell formations, so there should not be any problem if they worked together to operate the spell formations. Meanwhile, William, Shirley, Ynes, Daya, Channing, and Pigsy, whom the Mystic Maiden of the Nine Heavens had forcibly summoned back, were in Alex's team for this trip, including himself.

After Ancestor Miler had scared off this guy, Pigsy, in the forbidden area of the Miller family, it thought that it was finally free. However, it had arduously come to the Wasteland and had many pending things to do. Since the spiritual energy was about to be revived, it did not want to work like a horse for someone else. Moreover, Alex, who had provoked an Immortal Monarch, was not far from death, and it did not want to go back to court death.

Therefore, it just ran far away. It wanted to travel around in such a huge world.

However, just as it saw a pretty girl in the wilderness... Oh, it was a sow. It was trying to pretend to be handsome and then seduce the sow. So it never expected that the Mystic Maiden of the Nine Heavens would activate the restriction to summon it remotely.

When the contract's energy enveloped its body, it immediately rolled on the ground and yelled in pain. The frightened sow ran away frantically with its tail between its legs at once.

Pigsy even heard the sow complain. "So this guy has epilepsy. It scared the hell out of me."

And so, Pigsy obediently returned to the team.

As soon the old pig saw Alex, it flew into a rage. "Little minion, you're a d*mn scammer. Where's the peerless head that you promised? In the end, an old geezer came out. He's a peerless Immortal Monarch. Did you intend to kill me with your deception? Why aren't you dead yet?"

Alex kicked it so that it flew dozens of meters away. "Curse me? Believe me, I'll castrate you."

"Come, come. I've scared off the pretty sow anyway. My pig life is meaningless."

Alex took out the Xavion Sword and slashed at it.

When Pigsy saw that he was serious, it almost peed out of fear and quickly begged for mercy. “Brother, I was wrong! Please don’t castrate me! I, the old pig, am still a virgin pig. My mom still expects me to carry on the bloodline...”

“You have a mother?”

“I... Do you think that I popped out of a rock?”

“That’s your senior. You don’t have that ability.”

Shirley and Channing felt quite amused when they saw this man and the pig criticizing each other. However, Pigsy was really powerful with an imposing aura. So, the two people dared not say much.

Soon, the group of people arrived at the manifested entrance of Dairaionji Temple under Channing’s guidance. As a result, they noticed that they were very close to the sacred golden mountain.

It seemed to be on the same mountain range.

After Alex glanced twice at the top of the sacred golden mountain, he hurriedly concealed his aura, fearing that that ancestor of the Miller family would inadvertently discover him. He would be done for then.

Shirley said, “The entrance was at this position the last time. So once you take out the three Buddha relics, they will naturally respond to it, and the entrance will open up.”

Three minutes later, a three meter diameter wormhole appeared before the crowd. Through the wormhole, they could see a portion of the environment, it was a barren expanse without the growth of grass and trees.

At this moment, a roar sounded, “Alex Rockefeller, get your ass over here!”

Alex felt a chill down his spine.

‘D*mn! What I fear really comes after me. Isn’t that Ancestor Miller’s voice

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2504

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2504

Daya was also overwrought. “Has the old geezer regained his sanity?”

Pigsy’s limbs even gave out, and its gaze was erratic as if it was going to run away again.

The few people turned back to look and found that the voice seemingly came from the direction of the sacred golden mountain.

Alex made an immediate decision. “Enter Dairaionji Temple!”

However, as soon as he said that, they heard another earth-shattering voice that sounded like rolling thunder.

“Old geezer, what do you think this place is? Is this a place where you can throw a fit? Kneel or die!”

The crowd immediately froze.

“It looks like he hasn’t discovered you yet?” Ynes, the former Holy Maiden who was expelled from Yorkshire Palace due to rebellion, said to Alex. Then, she discontentedly rolled her eyes. “What kind of big shot did you provoke out there again? You stir up trouble all the time.”

Alex waved his hand. “Don’t worry. It’s fine. He’s just an Immortal Monarch!”

Ynes was about to stomp her foot in rage.

Previously, she ignored that peerless Immortal Monarch that Pigsy had mentioned. Never did she expect that he would be waiting here.

“Shhh. Keep it down. Don’t get caught for real,” Alex reminded her “That guy has a loose screw. He’s trying to cause trouble to the sacred golden mountain. The other voice that we heard just now also belongs to someone formidable. It’d be best if both parties suffered and died together. Ynes, don’t put too much pressure on yourself. After we enter Dairaionji Temple, you may be able to defeat an Immortal Monarch soundly when you come out.”

Ynes rolled her eyes exaggeratedly. “That is if I have cultivated at Dairaionji Temple for a hundred years.” Having said that, she glanced at Daya and suddenly looked resentful as she said, “When no one is around, you just grope me and flatter me by calling me Ynes gently. When someone is around, you call me Miss Larkin and don't even look straight into my eyes. You're heartless."

"Uh..?"

Alex's eyes instantly widened.

This woman was courting death!

He hurriedly looked at Daya, whereas Daya blinked. "What's the relationship between you guys?"

"We have no..."

Before Alex could finish speaking, Ynes Larkin chimed in. "It's nothing. He just forcefully molested me and snatched me away from my fiance. Now my fiance's entire family is hunting me down all over the world. My sect also regards me as scum and wants to put me to death. I have no choice but to follow him and am barely surviving."

Shirley kicked Alex when he was down as she said, "I can prove it. This guy is definitely this kind of person because he has also groped my buttocks several times. Mrs. Rockefeller, you should discipline him properly. He should be faithful to his wife. How could he fool around out there? How could he be worthy of becoming your lover? Don't you think so?"

What she had said was not something unreasonable.

Beating was similar to groping, right?

Pigsy would not let go of this kind of opportunity, so it patted its hoof and said, "Oink, oink. I saw someone with him all the way. I saw him molesting Ynes Larkin. He even kissed and hugged her till all her clothes were stripped. I suspect that Ynes Larkin has already..."

Ynes just wanted to cause a little trouble for Alex, but she could not withstand Pigsy adding fuel to the fire without any moral baseline. Wasn't it ruining her reputation? She was almost a person from the ancient era whose thoughts were still conservative. Being molested, even if just a little, was equivalent to the greatest self-deprecation. So, how could she withstand her clothes being stripped off?

She immediately exposed Pigsy's lies, saying that it was full of nonsense.

Alex was speechless.

Was his harem in uproar at this moment?

The problem was that Shirley and Ynes were not part of his harem at all!

He did not answer and rushed straight into the open portal.

Daya looked at the few people next to her and said, "I don't care if you people have any substantial relationship with him. But if you want to stir up conflicts and engage infightings, I can only say sorry to you then. You can't stay in the Rockefeller family. This is the first time, and it will also be the last time. The first family rule in the Rockefeller family, no inside fighting."

Pigsy was upset as it failed to provoke them. "Don't you women love to get jealous? How are you not jealous?"

Daya said, "Why do I have to feel jealous? I'm not the first wife."

Hiss!

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2505

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2505

"So, you're a mistress?"

Pigsy blurted without knowing where it heard the term from.

Daya was initially indignant, so she had said that to vent her frustration. As a result, Pigsy's words were tantamount to cursing. Anyhow, she was the Goddess of Nature in her previous life, priceless beyond words. Not to mention Daya, Channing was the first person to disagree with it.

He lifted his leg and kicked Pigsy hard in the stomach.

"F*ck!"

Pigsy screamed. Its cultivation level was higher than Channing. Seeing that Pigsy was about to slaughter Channing, Daya swung the Sacred Crown Tree of the Moon. Countless vines burrowed out of the ground and wrapped around Pigsy firmly. Those barbed thorns pierced it to the point that it squealed in pain.

Daya's gaze turned cold. "I'll roast you if you do it again next time."

She punished it as a warning to others. Then, she put away the thorny canes and followed suit in stepping into the portal.

Soon, the remaining few people entered the portal one after another.

Only then did Alex inside hurriedly activate the three Buddha relics to shut the portal.

"This place has changed!" Channing said. He had come in the last time, so he knew about the situation.

"What's the difference?" Alex asked.

He felt surprised when he came in. This place was like a barren land without any sign of life. Before his eyes was a grey-black expanse with bare and lifeless tree trunks and silent soil. Even the stones were grey without any aura of life.

Not to mention Alex, even the tool spirit of Persephone's Folly Bridge, Shelly, felt surprised as well.

Dairaionji Temple should not be like that.

"The last time I came in, the grass and trees were lush, birds were singing, and the flowers were fragrant. There was also a peaceful bell ringing in the distance... But, of course, dangers existed too. Demon beasts and strange celestial demons were scattered all over the place. It's said that these are the territories extending from the worlds that Demon beasts once suppressed," Channing explained.

Alex nodded.

That statement coincided with what Shelly had told him.

Shelly had said that there were a total of thirty three pagodas in Dairaionji Temple to suppress thirty three celestial demons. The sky here did not refer to time, but it was a world. It could be a mountain, and it could even be a small world. It could even possibly be a hole.

However, each suppressed world was atrocious.

“It looks like every time this door is opened; it won’t end up in the same place,” Alex said.

Shirley said, “Then, the experience that we went through previously is useless.”

Daya asked, “Go out or go through here?”

Shirley and Channing nodded. However, the two people were dumbfounded by what happened next.

Alex activated the Buddha relics again, but he could not reopen the portal no matter what.

“How could this be possible?”

“We could clearly open it last time, right?”

They were anxious. Wouldn’t they be in deep trouble if they could not leave?

Alex hurriedly asked Shelly, but Shelly calmly said, “The sanctuary of Buddhism has its laws. What’s the hurry? Since we’ve come in, there’s always a way out as long as we don’t die. What I’m more worried about now is that this barren land seems to be a little unusual. Didn’t you notice that life is lost?”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2506

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2506

Alex froze, instantly sensing the oddities around him. There seemed to be a mysterious force within this land, sucking the life out of him at rapid speed.

He could obviously feel his energy depleting by the second. After that, this sensation arose within every single person here.

“God, this place is weird. I can feel my life depleting... It’s being sucked away.”

“I feel it too. I feel like I’m getting older.”

“What is this? Why would something like this happen? Quick, quick, let’s leave this creepy place.”

Everyone was panicking at this point, running as fast as they could away from this place. They used every way they could think of, hoping to defend themselves from this mysterious force. However, in mere moments, everyone was met with disappointment.

No matter how much they fought, they couldn’t seem to fight back. They were even unable to slow down their aging.

Channing lost his cool, clearly freaking out. Since he was the oldest within the group, he didn’t have much life force left. At this rate, he would be drained within an hour and die.

He didn’t want to die at all. He looked at Daya and asked, “My queen, do you have any ideas? I think I’m dying soon. Help me. Please help me…”

Daya was slowly losing her life force as well. She looked around the place, yet it just seemed endless. The place was filled with a neverending silence, devoid of the slightest hint of life. The sky was grey and cloudy, where neither sun nor moon was visible. One wouldn’t even be able to identify directions here.

“Saintly Luna Branch!”

Daya stabbed the otherworldly treasure of the Pixie tribe into the ground. She intended to set up a natural boundary within this place, hoping to stop this mysterious force. However, the branch couldn’t seem to function here. It wasn’t doing anything at all.

If this were any other place, a large tree should’ve sprouted from the ground, forming a large forest boundary.

Ynes used a form of mystic art as well, but even that didn’t work either.

Alex’s Chaos tree might be able to absorb Chaos energy, but it couldn’t stop his life from being drained either. He even tried setting up boundaries and realms, yet none succeeded.

More importantly, he had lost all connection to the Cleansing Vase and all his storage treasures. He initially tried to consume pills that provided more life force, but he couldn't do so in the end. The only thing working was his mind palace.

Shelly and the Mystic Maiden were just as confounded when it came to such an extreme situation.

Thus, the group of people had become rather anxious.

"Ynes, you... Your hair is turning grey!" Shirley pointed towards her and shrieked in surprise.

"Huh? My hair is grey?"

As a woman, her hair was quite an important issue. Beauties like her couldn't accept even a mere strand of grey hair on their pretty little heads. However, as she untied her hair and looked at it herself, she realized that Shirley was telling the truth.

She felt her heart drop to the bottom of the sea. Nonetheless, she still managed to calm down after glancing at Shirley. "Yours too."

The two women looked at each other awkwardly. As their eyes locked, they felt like going insane. Not only were their hair turning grey, but wrinkles were also starting to appear on their faces.

Their life force continued draining, happening so quickly that they were starting to notice the effects with their naked eyes.

"No, I don't want to be old and ugly!"

"Alex, think of something!"

Daya and Alex's appearance didn't change all that much, but the effects were still apparent. They were aging quickly, too, just slightly slower than the others.

Pigsy screamed hysterically. "Oh my god, this place is way too ominous. There are age spots on my body too. I'm still a virgin, and I don't even have a family yet! My future son is still waiting for me, so how can I die of old age here?!"

Alex said, "Pigsy, you're fast. Carry us on your back now, then run in one direction!"

When Pigsy heard this, it wanted to escape on its own and leave the others behind. However, Daya's branch snagged it, and it couldn't struggle free. Without any other way out, it expanded its body and carried everyone on its back as it complained loudly. It then turned into a ray of lightning and decided on a direction to run in.

"Argh, argh!"

It zoomed off at ten times the speed of sound, then twelve, then twenty...

Pigsy was already at its maximum speed, but this wasn't just its power alone. Alex, Daya, and the others had used other various tools to assist, throwing in everything they had. They just used multiple talismans, spells, mystical treasures, and even divine supporting arts.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2507

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2507

However, this seemed to be a horizonless place. After quite a bit of running, probably twice around the entire Earth, they still couldn't find the edge.

"Your highness, sir. I don't think I can go any longer!"

"I'll have to go first!" Channing said in a weak voice. Focused on their surroundings just a while ago, the group couldn't watch the old man. However, they were shocked to see his current state when turning to him. His life force was nearly drained completely.

He looked extremely scrawny, as well as if he'd been dug out from a coffin. His eyes were lifeless, and his journey seemed to be coming to an end.

"Henderson!" Daya was quite sad. "I have failed you."

"Your highness, I... I'm happy enough just to have been able... To see you again!"

These were Channing's last words. Smiling faintly, he breathed his last.

“Arghhhh!”

“What is this horrible place?! I don’t want to die like this. I simply can’t!” Shirley yelled, completely losing faith after seeing Channing pass away.

Aging rapidly, she could also clearly feel that she had lost a lot of her own life force as well. She noticed that her fair, smooth hands were now riddled with wrinkles, her skin turning dull and darker as well. It was a fate she refused to accept.

Thud!

Piggy crashed hard to the ground, no longer able to run anymore, throwing everyone off its back almost immediately.

“Ugh, what did I ever do? Why do I have to suffer this? Oh god, please have mercy on me! Don’t blame this all on me. This is all Alex’s fault! You can punish him instead!” Piggy lay on the ground, panting as it wailed emotionally.

It was getting old too.

“My beloved!” Daya held onto Alex’s hands, her expression filled with sadness.

Tears began to trickle down her face. Wrinkles were showing up as well. She was growing old, just like the others.

This was also happening to Alex. He looked even older than Daya at this point

Alex was regretting all his decisions now. He cupped Daya’s aged face, his eyes filled with sorrow. “Daya, I’m so sorry. It’s all my fault. I shouldn’t have let you come with me.”

Daya shook her head. “No, it’s not your fault at all. I volunteered to come, and I only have one regret. I feel like I don’t have much life force left... I’m going to die soon. But I still haven’t gotten to see our daughter one last time. As a mother, I have failed.”

Thinking that his life was coming to an end, Alex was unwilling to accept this as well.

‘I have kids and a family! How could I just die here?’

'But I've tried everything... Nothing works.'

He hugged Daya gently. Laying on the ground together, they waited for their deaths to arrive.

At the side, Shirley said, "Alex, I'm going to die soon. I hope we don't meet in our next lives."

On the other hand, Ynes said, "Alex, you did this to me. Remember to compensate me in our next life."

After that, both their eyes turned lifeless. Alex felt his heart sink to the bottom of the sea.

'Why did it end like this?'

Then, his surroundings turned dead silent.

Just then, a voice chimed within his ears. "Huh? How a in I not dead yet?"

It was... Channing!

Having little strength left, Alex and Daya lifted their heads slowly. Their eyes, however, were met with something shocking.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2508

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2508

Channing, who had just died on Pigsy's back, stood back up on his feet, visibly shaking. Although his clothes were still on, under them was nothing but a skeleton.

Despite this, his soul was still attached to his body. Now, his skeleton was starting to fade, to the point it was now translucent.

"Channing! What happened?" Daya yelled.

"Your highness, I... I feel like..."

"It feels like... I'm going to another realm..."

His voice was becoming softer as if he was slowly getting further and further away from them. His bones were turning more transparent by the second. It didn't matter if he used the divine eye or the saintly eye. Alex still couldn't see him.

His clothes then fell to the ground, the bones were nowhere to be found.

“What is this?”

“Where did he go?”

Alex and Daya were horrified, but it seemed a tiny sliver of hope remained in their hearts.

Piggy, who had just fainted, was at its limits as well. Howling with despair, it was dead. Moreover, it had to suffer quite a lot. Before dying, it wanted to curse Alex. It went as far as to curse the Mystic Maiden.

Hence, it died while being punished by the contract. Alex and Daya hugged each other as if candles in the wind, possibly extinguishing at any time.

“My beloved, please wait for me in your next life.”

“Don't be too quick to marry another woman. I hope I'll be your one and only in our next lives...”

No woman would want to share the love of her life with another. She was just helpless in this lifetime, and she had to keep quiet about it. That's why she decided to tell him before passing.

Alex sobbed as he called out to Shelly and the Mystic Maiden, hoping they could help him out. He was willing to give up anything he had too. In the end, both women showed themselves and used their ultimate tool, bringing out Persephone's Folly Bridge.

Despite this, it was all for naught. Daya's life force was drained out of her body. She died with her hair turning entirely grey.

“Ah..!”

“How could this happen to us?” Alex knelt on the ground in great despair. Eventually, he drew his last breath as well.

“Oh no, they’re actually all dead. This place is just too weird, I’ve never heard of it before,” the Mystic Maiden said.

Shelly replied, “Every land under the Dairaionji Temple is known to be dangerous. Since ancient times, countless odd and horrifying things have happened. This is nothing. It’s just a pity, is all...”

Treating the Mystic Maiden as a youngling, Shelly acted as if she had seen it all.

She then spoke up again. “It took you a lot to achieve a human body using the Chaos tree. Now that you’ve left his mind palace, your life force is getting drained too. Why don’t you check and see if you could go back in?”

The Mystic Maiden shook her head. “I can sense a mysterious force within this place, it dictates life and death, but there’s just something about it... I can sense something sentient. So I’d like to experience this entire process.”

That indicated that she did this on purpose. She didn’t use mystic arts to fight this force, letting her perfect body age, allowing her hair turn completely grey.

Shelly was the only one who didn’t change. She was just a soul without a body, after all.

“Ah, did... Did I die?”

Alex regained his consciousness, feeling rather weird. His eyes were dry and itchy, so he tried to blink. Yet this only led to a weirder feeling. He couldn’t blink at all, as if he didn’t have eyelids.

Reaching his arm out, he was utterly shocked. “Huh? Holy f*ck!”

It was no longer a normal arm. It was just bones!

All his flesh and veins are gone, and all that was left was a whitish bone. However, he sensed that his soul was fine. It wasn’t damaged, nor did it get detached.

He wanted to blink again but started shrieking in shock. Not only did he not have eyelids, but his eyeballs were also gone.

'This is way too much.'

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2509

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2509

'How can I see, then?'

His surroundings had changed completely too. It used to be a dreary, endless pitch blackness, yet it was now filled with greenery, ancient trees that were so tall that their leaves covered the skies. The whole place brimmed with life.

"Alex!"

A voice came from behind him. It sounded familiar yet foreign at the same time. Alex turned his head around, his neck crackling from the sudden movement.

The sight of a green skeleton running towards him made him jump.

"Holy sh*t! What the hell is this?"

Alex wanted to run, but he was rather slow. He used to move around with a fleshy body, so running required muscles. Without them, his bones wouldn't move like he wanted them to. In just a few moments, someone charged at him, and he fell to the ground.

It was the green skeleton, who had lunged towards him and pinned him to the ground, sitting right on top of him...

'Oh sh*t, from its voice, this skeleton is definitely a woman. Is she going to assault me here?'

'But...' He glanced at himself. 'I don't even have that thing anymore!'

He wanted to struggle his way out, but his bones wouldn't heed his command. He panicked and started screaming. "Hey, don't... Don't be in such a rush. I don't even have the right tools to do that now. There's no use rushing me. Let's wait till I grow back out and you... You can try again!"

The green skeleton used her boney hand to cover his mouth.

“Don’t scream. It’s me, Mystic Maiden!”

“Huh? Oh hey missy, why... Why did you turn out like this? Your entire body is green, and it’s kind of... Oh, why do we look like this now? Are we dead? Are you dead too?”

“That’s Miss Maiden for you!” Mystic Maiden corrected with a lowered voice. She looked around the place to check if there was any danger around her. “Don’t speak It’s dangerous here. There’s a big guy around.”

Alex was speechless. He couldn’t see anything else except the green skeleton on top of him.

Thus, just a moment later, a roar filled the skies.

Roarrrrr!

It shook the ground, vigorously swaying the trees. With the violent winds brushing through his skeleton, Alex’s soul nearly fell out.

He then noticed a dinosaur fossil... It looked like one at least or something that came out from a museum. It rushed out of the vast forest, three hundred meters away from Alex and the others.

With an entire body pitch black, it stood dozens of meters. Each and every bone had tightly-packed mystical talismans all over. As it continued to move, the talismans would move around its bones, changing and shifting. It looked somewhat mysterious and complicated and brimmed with an unknown law power. Its aura was absolutely terrifying. Being this close to it made Alex’s scalp go numb.

After that, another roar filled the skies, so loud that the air could potentially explode.

The dinosaur looked towards the sky, yet all it saw was a large area of shimmering gold that covered the entire sky.

Alex tried his best to distinguish the large figure, but he noticed it was just the skeleton of a massive golden bird. It loomed over the entire forest, spanning its wings that were thousands of meters wide. As tall as a mountain, it flew straight down.

Thus, Alex could finally be certain that this fossil-looking guy wasn't roaring at them. It was roaring towards that large golden bird in the sky.

Boom!

The Earth felt as if it was shattering, as though a volcano had erupted. Wormholes opened up everywhere due to energy particles colliding with each other. As rocks and dust flew up from the ground, it seemed the entire world was ending.

Alex and Mystic Maiden were two insignificant skeletons compared to those beasts. Hence, they minimized their conscience and energy, staying in the same position, not daring to move a muscle or make a sound. They looked as if they were corpses of two poor paupers ditched in a deserted place after their deaths.

With this, everything turned silent.

A hundred meter deep pit lay beside them now. The 'living fossil' had been captured by a large golden bird. The bird grabbed it by its scapula and swooshed into the sky, disappearing into the horizon.

"Wh... what is this place?" Alex whispered, still shocked.

"We call this place the Afterworld," Mystic Maiden replied.

Alex took a while to digest all the information. "Then... Have you seen Daya and the others?"

"Follow me, they're all here. And we've been waiting for you for two years."

"What?"

"For two whole years?" Alex's eyes bulged.

'How could two years have passed?'

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2510

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2510

Alex could clearly remember how his life was drained out of his body, how everything was coming to an end. After that, he just died.

After that, he lost consciousness for a split second. 'But that amount of time should've been quite short, right?'

'Short...'

'Could that split second indicate two years had already passed?'

'Wouldn't this mean that... My father William, who's currently in the Cleansing Vase... Was I too late to save him?'

'Has the Soul Planting succeeded? So did he become a completely different person?'

He immediately looked for the Cleansing Vase. "Where's the Cleansing Vase? Where is it?"

"Where did it go?"

Unable to find it, Alex instantly panicked.

"Don't worry. It's not as bad as you think," Mystic Maiden spoke up.

As if able to sense what Alex was thinking, she continued, "The Cleansing Vase and every spiritual storage you brought with you has now been placed in your mind palace! Besides, time doesn't exactly work the same here. One day outside could be equivalent to a century here. Heck, it could be even longer than that."

"What about the time within the Cleansing Vase?"

"According to my speculations, I don't think time is affected by this place," Mystic Maiden replied.

"I hope you're right."

"Even if I'm wrong, there's nothing you can do. Alright then, I guess you've experienced death somewhat, now that your flesh has completely disappeared. It's good that your skeleton still remains. We're not even sure if we can get out of this realm. Let's just meet up with the others first."

Alex checked his mind palace. As expected, the Cleansing Vase and the storage ring were in there. Persephone's Folly Bridge was in there too.

Shelly was fine. When Alex 'died', she immediately rushed into his mind palace after regaining consciousness. Being a spirit, after all, she would've been left in that deserted place without an actual body.

"Let's go!"

Mystic Maiden led the way. She then stopped in her tracks and approached him once more, carrying Alex over her shoulders.

The green skeleton sped through the forest, despite the boney legs.

Since Alex's top half was currently dangling off Mystic Maiden's shoulders, his eyeless sockets stared towards the back of her thighs. Surprisingly, he found out that her legs were flowing with complicated talismans too. However, there weren't a lot, dozens at most.

"What's that on your leg? It's not an ancient talisman, that's for sure. It looks kind of weird." Alex questioned.

"We call these bone patterns. Don't ask too much about it, though, because I don't have any answers for you. I've never seen anything like this myself," Mystic Maiden replied.

"Where did it come from? What use does it have?"

"It's handy. It can improve the quality of one's bones, connecting them to the soul itself. And that increases your chances of surviving this place. You'll understand what I'm saying once you get some yourself..."

"There are lots of ways to obtain it, killing enemies, like those bone demons, for instance. And yeah, we made this name up ourselves. The two bone demons we saw just now were of a very high rank. If you can kill them and absorb their bone patterns, it'll be very beneficial. Or you could look for natural treasures."

This world was similar to the real world, with precious spiritual herbs growing around the place. Within these herbs were some mysterious energy. Eating those could increase bone patterns.

Moreover, this place was extremely dangerous. Any bone demon that roamed this place was quite strong, it'd be a pain to deal with them.

On the way there, the Mystic Maiden explained the situation around here to Alex so that he could adapt quickly to it. According to her, she came here one year earlier than Alex. She had actually watched Alex and Daya taking their last breaths. After that, she even talked to Shelly for quite a while.

Her life force was drained a few minutes later, then reviving and showing up in this realm... Despite being just a few minutes, she realized she had been a year late when she found Daya and the others. Alex, on the other hand, wasn't there yet.

A year later, the Mystic Maiden could sense Alex's presence, which was why she rushed over to look for him.

However, no one was able to explain why Alex was two years later than Daya.

The Mystic Maiden assumed that it was possibly due to the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell.