

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2561

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2561

Alex froze for a brief moment. He was a little uncertain as he asked, "How long has it been?"

The Mystic Maiden put up three fingers.

"Three days? D*mn!"

Alex immediately became anxious. Since he had not gone out for so long, Daya and the others must have been overwrought, thinking that he and the Mystic Maiden had died in the dilapidated temple!

Unexpectedly, the Mystic Maiden shook her head. "That's not three days!"

"Three hours? Oh, that's still fine."

"How can it be three hours? It's been three years! You've been here for three full years!"

Alex was completely dumbfounded.

"Three years? Are you sure? Within three years, there would have been many variables in a place like the Underworld and many dangers in this world. Daya and the others wouldn't have encountered any dangers, right?"

He jumped up, distressed, and wanted to leave.

Then, he seemed to have remembered something and asked, "Have you ever gone out? Have you contacted Daya and the others?"

The Mystic Maiden waved her hand as she said, "I couldn't go out."

"Huh..?"

Alex then learned that the incarnation of the old monk, Revealer Maha, walked into the Buddha body and never came out again as he immersed himself in the cultivation of the Yin-Yang Chi.

The old monk told the Mystic Maiden that he was the guardian here and could not leave this place. After he gave the water of Yin-Yang Chi to Alex, the golden Buddha statue was now in some peculiar state, and there was no way to open the Shoraionji Temple. She could only open the gate and go out after Alex ended his cultivation.

Alex was stunned. He was still immersed in the joy of skyrocketing battle power earlier, but he seemed to have received a bolt from the blue.

“Go! Go! Go! Go right now!”

“It’s been three years! No accidents will occur, right?”

The Mystic Maiden had waited for three years, and her mind had long been calm, so she slowly said, “Take it easy. Daya Stoermer, Ynes Larkin, and Shirley Hancock are quite powerful and have a lot of resources in their hands. Before you came in, they managed to survive safely for two years. Now that they are several times more powerful than before, it shouldn’t even be a problem for them.”

Having said that, who could guarantee that no accidents would occur.

Alex glanced at Revealer Maha a few times and sincerely bowed to him. “Sir Monk, thank you for giving me Yin-Yang Chi. I’ll give a bit of my divine power in return!”

He reached out and placed his hand on the golden body, pouring in divine power continuously. That golden body instantly glowed brilliantly.

Alex heard Revealer Maha’s voice. “Well done. Well done. You’re an heir of Ksitigarbha and not an outsider, so I should help you. I hope you will grow up rapidly to attain bliss early. Amitabha!”

“D*mn!”

Alex shouted strangely, “You’re trying to ask me to die early!”

“This bliss is not the other bliss. Go!”

Revealer Maha gently waved his golden palm. Alex and the Mystic Maiden immediately went out the entrance of the mist filled Shoraionji Temple like riding on clouds.

Thud!

The temple's dilapidated doors banged shut. It still looked like a small dilapidated temple.

"Go! Let's head back to the cave and look for them!" Alex said to the Mystic Maiden.

"Wait a minute! Look, there are words here!" the Mystic Maiden said as she pointed at the ground.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2562

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2562

Alex looked down and saw some kind of scarlet writing on the green slab of rock at the Shoraionji Temple's entrance...

[Alex, it's been a month. You have been missing for a month. None of us knows your situation, but I believe you are undoubtedly still alive. The neighborhood of the small temple is no longer safe. Some trialists appeared and targeted us, so we plan to return to our previous residence first. If you see this message, come and meet us quickly.]

In other words, this writing was left behind one month after Alex and the Mystic Maiden entered Shoraionji Temple, and it had been two years and eleven months since then. It was too dangerous for them to be targeted by the trialists at that time. So, he wondered how they were now.

Anxiety overwhelmed Alex.

However, some other writing appeared on the green slab of rock.

[An entire year has passed. Are you still fine? I miss you so much! The trialists destroyed the cave and hunted us down for a whole year. Fortunately, we all are still alive. Those trialists who hunted us down are dead. We plan to head south. I heard that an ancient city with countless opportunities has appeared in the south. When I get a little stronger, I'll definitely come back to demolish this ruined temple]

[Hubby, I'm here again. It's been two and a half years since your disappearance, but I still couldn't break open the door of this ruined temple.

Many powerful corpse soldiers appeared in the ancient city in the south, and each of them had bone patterns other than red ones. Lowe Henderson is dead. He died because of me. I'm ashamed to face the Henderson family. Shirley is gravely injured and lost one hand. This place is no longer safe. The corpse soldiers of the ancient city have come out, so we plan to head east. If you still can come out and see these words, be extra careful... I'll be waiting for you, Daya!]

There were three messages in total. The most recent one was written half a year ago. Then, there was no further message.

Those fonts were of the recent American fonts. They had also used phonetics and abbreviations in some critical areas. This was also the Internet habit of modern American society. Even if the trialists looked at these words, they would surely fail to understand them.

"Charming Henderson died!"

"Shirley Hancock lost a hand!"

Alex and the Mystic Maiden looked at each other for a while and could not help feeling heavy-hearted.

What on earth were corpse soldiers?

Just as the two were heavy-hearted and looking at each other, the small ruined temple behind suddenly glowed brilliantly as countless Buddhist texts and wonderful melodies appeared. Even light beams rushed out of the entire small temple.

Immediately afterward, Shoraionji Temple disappeared into thin air under Alex and the Mystic Maiden's astonished gazes. Only an expanse of sandy rubble was left on the original site.

"This is..."

"He has probably gone into seclusion. Revealer Maha's strength has somewhat declined. I think that it's difficult for him to suppress this Underworld alone. He most likely still has to rely on the Dairaionji Temple's ability, so he's just some sort of spokesman." Alex agreed with the Mystic Maiden's guess.

Just then, the two sensed something. It was as if something was staring at them.

“Is there someone nearby?”

The two immediately became vigilant. They soon discovered that bushes were swaying with surging Chi in front of the lush greenery. At least six people rushed out of the bushes at breakneck speed, besieging Alex and the Mystic Maiden at once.

Judging from the outfits, they were neither the Olympus Tribe people nor the trialists of Galaxy Nova. Everyone wore the same battle robes, distinguished by only black and white.

There were four black and two white outfits among the six people. From the differences in their actions, the ones in black outfits should be males, whereas those in white outfits were females. Underneath the battle robes, they were the same as them—they were all skeletons.

Whoosh!

Alex took out his Athena’s Golden Spear.

Meanwhile, the Mystic Maiden held the Arash’s Bow in her hands.

The two faced the incoming enemy back-to-back.

“Wait a minute! Don’t attack!” Just as both parties were about to attack each other, someone in a white battle dress suddenly spoke. Unexpectedly, Alex found that he could understand this person. It was a common ancient language belonging to the universe. When Alex received the legacy of the Ultimate Book of Medicine, he had already learned it.

The Mystic Maiden also heard that, so she coldly asked, “Who are you people?”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2563

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2562

Alex looked down and saw some kind of scarlet writing on the green slab of rock at the Shoraionji Temple’s entrance...

[Alex, it's been a month. You have been missing for a month. None of us knows your situation, but I believe you are undoubtedly still alive. The neighborhood of the small temple is no longer safe. Some trialists appeared and targeted us, so we plan to return to our previous residence first. If you see this message, come and meet us quickly.]

In other words, this writing was left behind one month after Alex and the Mystic Maiden entered Shoraionji Temple, and it had been two years and eleven months since then. It was too dangerous for them to be targeted by the trialists at that time. So, he wondered how they were now.

Anxiety overwhelmed Alex.

However, some other writing appeared on the green slab of rock.

[An entire year has passed. Are you still fine? I miss you so much! The trialists destroyed the cave and hunted us down for a whole year. Fortunately, we all are still alive. Those trialists who hunted us down are dead. We plan to head south. I heard that an ancient city with countless opportunities has appeared in the south. When I get a little stronger, I'll definitely come back to demolish this ruined temple]

[Hubby, I'm here again. It's been two and a half years since your disappearance, but I still couldn't break open the door of this ruined temple. Many powerful corpse soldiers appeared in the ancient city in the south, and each of them had bone patterns other than red ones. Lowe Henderson is dead. He died because of me. I'm ashamed to face the Henderson family. Shirley is gravely injured and lost one hand. This place is no longer safe. The corpse soldiers of the ancient city have come out, so we plan to head east. If you still can come out and see these words, be extra careful... I'll be waiting for you, Daya!]

There were three messages in total. The most recent one was written half a year ago. Then, there was no further message.

Those fonts were of the recent American fonts. They had also used phonetics and abbreviations in some critical areas. This was also the Internet habit of modern American society. Even if the trialists looked at these words, they would surely fail to understand them.

“Charming Henderson died!”

“Shirley Hancock lost a hand!”

Alex and the Mystic Maiden looked at each other for a while and could not help feeling heavy-hearted.

What on earth were corpse soldiers?

Just as the two were heavy-hearted and looking at each other, the small ruined temple behind suddenly glowed brilliantly as countless Buddhist texts and wonderful melodies appeared. Even light beams rushed out of the entire small temple.

Immediately afterward, Shoraionji Temple disappeared into thin air under Alex and the Mystic Maiden’s astonished gazes. Only an expanse of sandy rubble was left on the original site.

“This is...”

“He has probably gone into seclusion. Revealer Maha’s strength has somewhat declined. I think that it’s difficult for him to suppress this Underworld alone. He most likely still has to rely on the Dairaionji Temple’s ability, so he’s just some sort of spokesman.” Alex agreed with the Mystic Maiden’s guess.

Just then, the two sensed something. It was as if something was staring at them.

“Is there someone nearby?”

The two immediately became vigilant. They soon discovered that bushes were swaying with surging Chi in front of the lush greenery. At least six people rushed out of the bushes at breakneck speed, besieging Alex and the Mystic Maiden at once.

Judging from the outfits, they were neither the Olympus Tribe people nor the trialists of Galaxy Nova. Everyone wore the same battle robes, distinguished by only black and white.

There were four black and two white outfits among the six people. From the differences in their actions, the ones in black outfits should be males, whereas those in white outfits were females. Underneath the battle robes, they were the same as them—they were all skeletons.

Whoosh!

Alex took out his Athena's Golden Spear.

Meanwhile, the Mystic Maiden held the Arash's Bow in her hands.

The two faced the incoming enemy back-to-back.

"Wait a minute! Don't attack!" Just as both parties were about to attack each other, someone in a white battle dress suddenly spoke. Unexpectedly, Alex found that he could understand this person. It was a common ancient language belonging to the universe. When Alex received the legacy of the Ultimate Book of Medicine, he had already learned it.

The Mystic Maiden also heard that, so she coldly asked, "Who are you people?"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2564

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2564

Johann Wilderman's body stiffened abruptly. Immediately afterward, he spat a mouthful of soul blood, and the aura on him instantly withered.

To an Immortal ranked cultivator, the Immortal Wheel of Life was his foundation, the base of all Chi, cultivation techniques, and laws that he had to rely on. Although he could still condense the Immortal Wheel of Life after it exploded, the damage he received was definitely not minor and was enough to be fatal.

He had to spend at least three months condensing the Wheel of Life again.

Furthermore, the Wheel of Life that had exploded before would be defective.

Just like a shattered vase, it would have cracked texture after it was glued back. It could never be repaired unless it was all crushed and turned into powder before it was glazed and fired again... However, it would no longer be like the vase it was before.

Hence, one could imagine Johann's current mood.

Shock! Anger!

And, there was even despair.

The expressions of those few people with him all changed drastically as they never expected such a result.

“Ahhh..!”

Someone screamed. It was that lady with a crisp voice who just said that Johann was all brawn and no brain. She was now screaming in shock and terror that her voice reached the sky like piercing through the clouds.

She was slightly disoriented. “How is it possible? Johann Wilderman is half step to Heavenly Immortal and possesses over a hundred green bone patterns. How could anyone bare-handedly shatter his Wheel of Life? Isn't he naked? Isn't he a weakling?”

At the same time, those few people retreated, heavy hearted.

Two people who had unleashed their Immortal Wheels of Life hurriedly put them away. They would be in deep trouble if their Wheels of Life were shattered like Johann's.

Lunafreya, who just said they should subdue the enemies without fighting, received a slap in the face on the spot. She hurriedly said, “Don't spread out. Everyone, stick together. Johann, back off and heal yourself on the spot.”

Alex shook his hand and felt a little pain. He was shocked yet amazed at this result.

He did not use his full strength during that blow earlier.

It was just a tentative blow with 50% of his strength. He wanted to test that person's capability, but he did not expect that he would shatter the Wheel of Life with a slap.

“This Wheel of Life of yours is a fake, right? It's so fragile, yet you still want me to kneel and beg for mercy?” Alex said that as he walked forward.

“Who among you guys here has the real Immortal Wheel of Life? Let me try and slap it to find out whether it's as fragile as his!”

“Hey, why don't you say something? Why are you so petty? I'll call the shots then! You over there!”

Alex pointed at Lunafreya.

She was wearing a white battle robe and was five foot seven tall. She was just a skeleton anyway, so Alex did not need to know what she looked like before he grabbed her.

“Die!”

It was unknown if the silent guy at the back was Lunafreya’s boyfriend, but he suddenly had an overwhelming murderous intent as he slashed at Alex’s wrist.

At the same time, the other few people all lashed out. Someone spat thunderous white light.

Another waved his hand and sent out a phantasm, it was a scorching firebird.

Lunafreya did not hesitate either. She instantly howled with stunning soul power. This was a mental attack. Furthermore, she had also comprehended the visions of laws in the mental domain and summoned a sea of flowers, flying toward Alex.

Seeing Alex suddenly facing such a dangerous situation, the Mystic Maiden of the Nine Heavens did not seem to care about him at all. She vaguely looked into the woods out of the corner of her eye. Compared to those people before her, she cared more about those people’s movements.

At his moment, Alex’s face sank.

Wham!

He stomped his foot on the ground and roared. An even larger mental domain instantly condensed with continuous visions on the ground. Tens of thousands of towering and huge immortal mountains and thousands of endless spiritual lakes poured out to crash ruthlessly into Lunafreya’s domain of flowers.

“What?!”

“What mental visions are these?”

Lunafreya was immediately astonished and felt as though she was being trampled by 10,000 alpacas. The fragrant and colorful sea of flowers that had been crushed by the enormous mountains and baptized by the flood rapidly fell apart and withered, causing the entire mental domain to be broken at once.

At the same time...

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2565

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2565

Alex curled his fingers and flicked the chaperone's approaching sword's back with a 'ding'.

2,999 golden cores in his body slowly rotated and provided energy to him. Black and white runes enveloped his fingers as well. This flick was absolutely exceptional.

The chaperone's heart skipped a beat as his hand holding the sword's hilt trembled. To his surprise, he almost failed to keep the blade stable, and a mighty force spread from it, hitting him. He felt like a meteorite from the sky had struck him, causing him to back off consecutively.

His stomps formed a few deep craters, and he only stopped in his tracks after taking five steps backward.

Crack!

A slight cracking sound unexpectedly came from his blade. At a glance, the flick had formed a crack on the blade. This was too outrageous.

The man was dumbstruck, let alone the other few people with weaker cultivation levels.

Alex shattered that fire bird's attack with a slap. As for the thunderous white light, Alex even swallowed it with a gulp as tonic under the other party's dumbfounded gaze.

Dead silence filled the scene once again.

However, just as Alex had domineeringly resolved this wave of attacks and during the gap before the second wave of attacks, the people hiding in the woods attacked. An otherworldly streak of light, a blue feathered arrow with the aura of laws of death shot through the woods at Alex's chest.

Swoosh!

At the same time, the Mystic Maiden of the Nine Heavens made her move. She unleashed a red glowing streak with her Arash's Bow to intercept that attack.

Wham!

The two arrows met in the air. Surprisingly, an explosion with the emergence of black light beams almost tore the surrounding void.

The enemy's green arrow sniped, but the arrow from the Mystic Maiden's Arash's Bow was still powerful. The fired arrow fiercely entered the woods and generated an even louder explosion, blowing up an expanse of plants and revealing a person's figure.

That was a man wrapped in a green battle robe. His face was covered in dirt and looked extremely wretched from the Mystic Maiden's arrow shot, but he stood still and did not run away. Instead, he was astonished as he looked at the arrow of Arash's Bow between his ribs.

This was because he saw the red arrow dissolving rapidly as if it was not a real object.

He reached out to grab it, only to be more shocked. He could not touch it at all as his fingers passed through the arrow's body.

At the same time, a feathered arrow with a faint red glow rapidly manifested in the Mystic Maiden's quiver.

The moment the feathered arrow on that man completely disappeared, the feathered arrow in the Mystic Maiden's quiver also completed its manifestation.

"That magical arrow is alive and can return on its own after it's been shot?!"

The man was astonished, but greed appeared in his eyes after that.

Alex stepped on Lunafreya's sternum with one foot and said coldly, "Call all your companions over. I'll settle them once and for all."

The Xavion Sword in his hand lurched up to Lunafreya's neck. If he exerted force with his hand now, he could decapitate her right away.

Lunafreya fell to the ground, and her body stiffened. She was ingenious and had a dignified identity, an extraordinary background, and exceptional talent. She had never been treated like that, so she was about to explode with rage. She, however, knew it was useless to be infuriated, so she immediately said, "We have no one else. Those in the woods aren't our people."

She was quick-witted and instantly continued, "I can tell that we belong to the same world and universe. Why don't we cooperate and fight the foreign enemies together? We harbor no ill intentions toward you."

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2566

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2566

"Work together?"

"You guys are just too weak!"

Alex stared at those people. It was apparent that they were scared out of their bones. Despite multiple people attacking, he still managed to defeat them. Moreover, he had the Mystic Maiden by his side since the arrow she shot was just too frightening.

Whoosh!

Suddenly, ten people or so rushed out from the forest. They were all in colorful clothing of various styles. All of them seemed to have clothes on, and their style was similar to the Novians they encountered before.

Judging by how they spoke, Alex was sure that these people were, in fact, trialists from Galaxy Nova.

"I want her bow!" Someone pointed towards the Mystic Maiden and yelled.

"I want that sword!"

"These two came out from the broken temple, so don't kill them. Kill the rest."

These Novians had surrounded them, each holding different weapons. Not only were cold weapons there, but even hot weapons. Since they had locked in their targets, these people attacked without hesitation.

Boom!

The ones with hot weapons immediately fired explosives towards Lunafreya and her group.

It was apparent that the hunter had become the prey. Lunafreya's team had been waiting here to ambush Alex and the Mystic Maiden, yet the Novians were also right behind them.

These Novians were even stronger than Alyssa, their weapons quite exquisite too. In just a few moments, at least ten light bombs were shot toward the 'hunters'.

Johann was the unluckiest of them all, his Immortal Wheel of Life shattered from the impact, causing a drastic drop in his strength. He was also badly wounded and being the tallest and bulkiest in the group, several bombs locked him as a target.

These hot weapons might've looked modern, but they were activated by Earth's essence. It was simply extraordinary power.

"Be careful!" someone yelled, eyes widened.

Yet it was all too late everyone here had been locked as a target. Hence, all had to face at least a bomb or two. They wouldn't be able to save themselves even if they wanted to Johann's body was instantly smashed. His skeleton broke into small pieces, which were sent flying into the air. His soul had been destroyed in an instant as well. The rest didn't die, but they were currently in a poor state.

Lunafreya's white battle suit was torn, and some of her bones were fractured.

This was because Alex had instinctively used his Xavion Sword to partially block out the attack. She would've ended up worse otherwise.

The most powerful out of the group was another woman. She wasn't quite strong, but her treasures were immaculate.

A bright red fireball surrounded her as if a phoenix wrapped itself around her skeleton. This bird obstructed all the light bombs aiming for her, but she was not hurt one bit.

“Lune!” After seeing her friend getting injured, the woman rushed over, hoping to protect her companion with the phoenix.

However, her treasures were only meant to protect its wearer and would take nobody else into consideration. So even if she embraced Lunafreya tightly, she would only be able to protect her front, not her back.

Since she was unable to move freely, however, Lunafreya’s got bombed at her back

She let out a painful wail as her bones fractured.

It was fortunate that she was wearing some decent defense treasures. Along with her own mystical defense skills, she managed to partially cancel the attack. She would’ve died otherwise.

“Lune!”

“Are you okay?”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2567

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2567

A chaperone rushed over, standing right in front of the two women, taking the attacks head-on.

His deep, black sockets seemed to be glaring at Alex with malicious intent. “Are you not going to fight back? These people are here for you. We’re being dragged into this for no reason.”

Alex shrugged. “Thanks, I guess. Want a medal for that?”

These people were here to give him trouble, too, so he obviously had no intention to save them.

Frustrated and annoyed, the chaperone had no choice but to face Novian’s hot weapon attacks. He knew that one sword wasn’t enough, so he took out another. Placing both swords in front of his body, he managed to flick the bombs away.

Alex and the Mystic Maiden, on the other hand, had been treated like mere ornaments no one paid attention to.

With that, Alex went to the Mystic Maiden's side, disappearing from behind Lunafreya. He then hugged her tiny, boney waist and said, "I don't think we're needed here, so ciao!"

Lunafreya had been staring at Alex this whole while. So she was surprised, least expecting him to use Instant Teleportation.

'Oh no, they're going to run.'

"Wait, I know something about your companion!" she abruptly called out to Alex.

'If I can't find any other way around this, we'd definitely die here today.'

'What?' Alex froze, not activating Instant Teleportation just yet.

"You know my companion?"

At the same time, the Novians were relieved as well. When they noticed Alex using Instant Teleportation, they knew that something wasn't right.

'The two most important people here must be trying to escape...'

'Huh.. Yet again, they have exceeded our expectations.'

In reality, this group consisted of the first four trialists who first appeared in Galaxy Nova. When Alyssa died, they summoned someone capable and found out that some natives had likely mastered the power of ancient Buddhism. After hearing that, these people were shocked to the core.

They all thought that only those who had mastered the powers of ancient Buddhism could genuinely enter the Dairaionji Temple.

As it'd been many years since anyone with ancient Buddhist power showed up, they figured that this was a rare opportunity. They then proceeded to look for whatever information they could find on Alex and his group.

It was a pity that Alex and the others set their hearts on researching bone patterns after obtaining Alyssa's ring. Locking themselves up in the cave for three months, the Novians couldn't find any clues on them at all.

Later on, the group left the cave and found the Shoraionji Temple.

However, as Alex went deeper into the temple, Daya and the others went back to the cave so they could hide. Yet the Novians found their tracks, which was why Daya left a message and told him that they had been chased down by the Novian trialists for a year.

It was fortunate that these people weren't all that strong, so their ambush ended up in them being defeated instead.

Yet this team was clearly stronger. They knew that the dilapidated temple was special since they were unable to break the door open despite using every way they could think of. It was simply unusual...

After that, they even found out that Daya had left a message around, so they figured there must be some sort of big secret hidden within.

Despite this, Daya was just too tremendously strong. She had lots of miraculous skills up her sleeve as well. They couldn't get a hold of her, so they could only stay here and be on standby.

Now that Alex and Mystic Maiden had shown up, they didn't expect Lunafreya's surprise attack, let alone the fact that Alex knew about Instant Teleportation.

"Theela, seal this space!" someone shouted.

Just then, some person in a purple suit grabbed more than twenty flags and stuck them into the ground at the speed of lightning. Placed in an odd formation, the flags glistened with a mysterious glow. Energy flowed about, shooting rays of light as the flags burrowed into the ground.

With this, this place was locked down. Alex couldn't continue teleporting. Alex glanced at the flag, then at the formation on the ground. He couldn't help but smile smugly, his eyes tinted with disdain.

"These formation flags are pretty good, but your formations are just puny. What trash!"

After making this remark, he waved to Lunafreya. "Do you really know information about my companion? Then come over here and seal off your powers. I will ensure that you don't die."

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2568

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2568

“What? You want me to seal my powers?”

“No way!” Lunafreya shouted so hard that she didn’t even sound like herself.

To her, sealing her powers in this situation was no different than committing suicide. Her companions were yelling back as well, saying that this was wishful thinking on Alex’s end.

This was especially true for the chaperone, who has been quiet this whole time, Alex’s words formed thorns in his heart, causing him to glare at Alex with sheer rage. “In your dreams! How dumb can you be? These outsiders had set up a formation, they’re here to capture you! Not only do you refuse to cooperate with us, but you want us to seal our powers? What are you? A twat?”

“Awh... You even know how to call us twats. Very good! Then just treat me like a twat. If you’re that smart, then go fight them yourself!” Alex shrugged nonchalantly.

“You think I’d be scared? I just don’t want to take the fall!”

“Then leave. No one’s stopping you.”

The chaperone was so angry that he nearly vomited blood.

They couldn’t escape, and the Novian trialists were treating them like weaklings. They wanted to kill them off as a threat to Alex.

‘F*ck. There’s nothing worse than this.’

Despite this, Alex stood still, neither helping nor running.

If the Novians hadn’t set up the flag formation, he wasn’t sure that he could turn this around. Yet, the circumstances had changed. He realized that those formation flags were a wonderful set of mystical tools.

However, the formation setter wasn’t quite familiar with formations. They were wasting all potential of this treasure and only managed to set up a trashy formation. Alex was able to break out of this within seconds, and he had taken the set of flags as his own. With these formation flags in hand, he would be even more powerful within the Underworld.

Mystic Maiden was interested in the flags as well. She asked Alex telepathically to snatch it over.

“Don’t worry. I was just going to!” Alex responded.

He had inserted his divine conscience into the ground, using the Chaos roots to burrow further. He then managed to surround all twenty-four flags. Hence, he would be able to activate them whenever he wanted to.

He would break through this formation, plus he could take this mystical tool as his own.

The battle was still ongoing at the time.

Even though the chaperone was quite strong, he still couldn’t handle this many Novian trialists at once despite using all his treasures. Within minutes, his defense broke through. With dozens of fractured bones, that significant impact nearly killed him.

He fell next to Alex’s feet with a loud thud, unable to crawl back up no matter how much he wanted to.

“Is that all you’ve got?” Alex lowered his head to meet his gaze, shrugging.

Ring...

The chaperone felt immense embarrassment within his soul. Unable to bear the humiliation, he fainted instead.

“I agree!”

“We agree to seal our powers!”

Suddenly, Lunafreya’s best friend rushed over and hugged her tightly, yelling, “Okay, we’ll seal our powers away and join your team! But you have to keep your word and protect us then we’ll tell you information about your companion. Don’t worry. We won’t disappoint you.”

Lunafreya was obviously unhappy with her best friend's decision. She wanted to struggle free.

"Lune, just listen to me! Surrender when necessary. You might even get rewarded in the future, right?"

"Surrendering would only make us losers." Lunafreya sighed. She was a prideful woman, so she didn't want to plead in such a manner to anyone. To her, it was equivalent to being a beggar.

Her best friend, however, seemed quite open minded and whispered, "Don't be so pessimistic. You're a gorgeous beauty! So you're definitely not a loser. Besides, you won the lottery at birth with your big Lunafreyas..."

"That guy is pretty strong, and he might be handsome. As long as you surrender today, you might actually seduce him with your beauty. You can have him at your beck and call."

She wasn't speaking telepathically, having already sealed away her powers.

Hearing this, Alex was quite stunned.

'Is Lunafreya not her actual name?'

'It's...'

'Using the moon to describe her chest...?'

'Luna... Freya... A woman with two full moons?'

'I guess it's somewhat accurate.'

However, as they were all skeletons, whatever 'moons' she would have had were more like craters now. It was then that the trialists realized something was wrong. The two groups were fighting not too long ago, but they seemed to have agreed now, cooperating.

It was unfortunate that they couldn't understand what Alex and the others were talking about.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2569

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2569

“Theela, activate the formation flags! This is going to be an easy harvest!”

“We can interrogate them after we’ve captured them,” a male trialist shouted out.

“Alright!” The female trialist who set up the formation immediately tried communicating with it. She wanted to change the positions of the flags.

However, Alex used his divine consciousness and tangled the Chaos roots around the flags. He could make them his by wiping away the soul imprints on them.

“Ahhh!” The woman screamed. She froze, realizing that she had lost contact with her own flags.

Someone asked, “Theela, what’s with you? Can’t you be a little quicker?”

Theela replied. “I... I can’t sense my flags anymore.”

“What?!”

Just then, all twenty four formation flags popped out of the ground, floating in mid-air. Fluttering in the wind, they radiated with a bright light.

Theela was overjoyed. “My flags appeared!”

Alex spoke up indifferently. “No, they’re mine!”

This time, he spoke in Novian to them.

“Huh?”

“You can speak our language? Are you not natives? Could you be from Galaxy Nova too?”

“It’s possible that he’s someone from the previous rounds, and he might’ve stolen someone’s chance...”

The trialists froze, making assumptions amongst themselves.

In just a few moments, someone yelled at everyone. “Stop guessing blindly. Have you all forgotten that those punks back in Purple Cloud Academy have mentioned that the daughter of the Huffman family has been killed by them?”

“As a Huffman, she must have brought along a communication scripture. If they obtained that, it would be normal for them to have learned our language.”

That person then turned to look at Alex. “Am I right about that, huh?”

Alex nodded. “Bingo!”

Theela, however, only cared about her flags. That was because these flags were worth a lot, and they were vital to her. She couldn’t afford to lose them, so she used all her mental power this time, hoping to take the flags back.

To her demise, the flags didn’t respond to her powers one bit. It was as if they were no longer hers.

“You... What did you do to my flags?” Theela shouted, seemingly panicked.

“I said... This is mine! Don’t you dare try to steal it!” Alex couldn’t stress enough, visibly annoyed.

Enraged, Theela turned to the person next to her. “Brother, capture him now and help me get my flags back! If I lost them, grandpa would kill me!”

That brother of hers immediately signaled to his group. “Attack!”

Suddenly, the twenty four formation flags were activated once again, forced into the ground at the speed of lightning. However, the positions were completely different from before.

Whoosh!

Rays of light shot into the air as the flags brimmed with an aura a hundredfold stronger. It was as if every one of those formation flags had turned into ancient spiritual gods, looming over the entire formation.

All the trialists were trapped within the formation.

“Ahhh, what is that?”

“What’s happening? Where did these damn things come from?”

The people inside were screaming as their voices trembled with absolute fear.

Alex replied. "This is the correct way to use the twenty four formation flags. You people have been limiting its potential. That's why you don't deserve to own such a treasure."

Lunafreya and the others were utterly shocked as well.

"This guy is also a master of formations?"

"Lune, don't you admire these people the most? This must be fate! Come one now, show him your big Lunas, conquer his heart!"

Lunefreya was extremely mad and embarrassed. She wished she could tear her best friend's mouth off of her face.

On the other hand, Alex decided to ignore the trialists and dragged Lunafreya aside. "You said you knew something about my companion. Then tell me, what does she look like? If you were trying to trick me, I'd be sure to make you into a piece of mooncake!"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2570

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2570

Lunafreya felt like she was going to die from embarrassment. Her name was never Lunafreya, to begin with, her actual name being Luneth Mueller. Yet her best friend was simply shameless, she started calling her a 'Luna Freya' in private due to her well-developed chest. After that, this nickname accidentally leaked to everyone they knew, turning into her actual pseudonym.

At this point in time, her real name wasn't used as often, yet this odd nickname spread across her nation like wildfire.

Now, this disgusting man was claiming that he'd turn her into a mooncake.

'Doesn't that mean he'd flatten me?'

"It was a woman in a red battlesuit! She had a pig demon following her too, and it's super fast!" She decided to describe how Daya looked so Alex could clear his doubts about her.

She then added, “These outsiders were trying to capture your friends before, but they managed to escape.”

“Is that all?” Alex asked coldly.

‘What use is this information?’

Luneth stared back at him, knowing that she wouldn’t be able to escape in one piece if she didn’t give him anything useful. In the end, she blurted, “Your friend encountered a bunch of people; I know who they are too. They’re infamous for resorting to extremes as long as they achieve what they want.”

“I heard they set up a trap in the east to lure in trialists, so they’d jump into the pit out of their own will. Your friends may have been tricked. If you want to save them, I’ll lead the way.”

Alex felt his heart drop after hearing this. Thinking back to the message Daya left, she did, in fact, mention that she was heading towards the east. He used his divine eye to check Luneth’s attitude. Since they were mere skeletons, it would be hard to properly gauge her sincerity but she seemed trustworthy for now.

“The east? Where exactly?”

Luneth started negotiating. “I can tell you, but you have to let my people go.”

Alex didn’t really care about these people’s lives, he was just very worried about Daya and the others. He didn’t feel the need to negotiate further.

“Alright, I can accept those terms, but you have to come with me.”

Luneth nodded. “Deal!”

Her best friend immediately spoke up as well. “No way. Lune, we’re supposed to stick together! How could I let you venture on your own? If you’re leading the way, then count me in! Even if we’re going to be slaves, we’ll be by your side. Am I right? Chase, Kai, Serpent?”

Chase was Luneth’s chaperone. At the time, he had already woken up from his unconscious state. Hearing the woman’s words, he nodded immediately.

“That’s right. We should stick together through thick and thin, even if we’re servants.”

The two men, however, remained silent, clearly having their own opinions on this matter.

The woman was unhappy. “Kai, Serpent, what’s with you guys? Why aren’t you saying anything? Don’t you think likewise? Are you saying that you’d rather Luneth sacrifice herself to save you two?”

Luneth said, “Cecilia, don’t say that. You guys don’t need to stay with me...”

As she said that, Kai immediately spoke up. “Lune, take care!”

After that, he ran off into the forest as if he were a ray of light.

Serpent was quick to catch up as well. “Lune, we’ll be sure to thank you greatly after we head back to the Great Northern!”

As the words “The Great Northern” could be heard, that man disappeared into the woods as well.

Cecilia Fox shouted to them in her high-pitched voice, “Kayden Morrith, Serafin Godwin you two cowards, unloyalty traitors! From this day on, I’m through with the both of you! I’ll just pretend that I met two b*tches!”

Luneth added, “You and Chase should leave too. And I mean now.”

Yet Cecilia refused. She even mentioned how she’d like to die on the very same day as Luneth...

Alex didn’t care much about all this, currently focused on the situation within the formation. The formation he did with the flags was a variation from the Seven Death Formation Diagram. He had used this formation before, but this flag set gave him quite the surprise.

It would seem that he had underestimated it, despite being rather impressed by its powers already.

All the formation flags have been fully activated, turning into the phantoms of twenty four giant spiritual gods. They surrounded the Novian trialists, attacking them ferociously. It seemed as if they wanted to slaughter every single person within the formation.