The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2611

“Otherwise, I’ll draw your souls and refine them. I’ll find the Pool of Forgotten Love even if I have to search in every nook and cranny of your sea of consciousness,” the Grand Preceptor firmly said in a sonorous voice.

“Don’t you dare!”

Just then, the loud voice of a woman rang in his ears. It was the Corpse King’s daughter. The princess had arrived.

Almost everyone saluted her respectfully and shouted...

“All hail, Your Highness!”

“Long live, Your Highness! ”

The tall princess wore a long scarlet robe this time. Her outfit was quite seductive, but her face was still the same as before, like a sun-dried toad. It was pitch-black, turning off anyone who saw it.

Overbearing, she lifted her leg and kicked the Grand Preceptor in his gut as soon as she came up. The old Grand Preceptor immediately stumbled from her kick.

She chided, “Bast*rd Grand Preceptor! Who the heck do you think you are?! How dare you show such insolence to Prince Consort?! I think you’re courting death!”

Once the princess became infuriated, all the corpse soldiers shuddered with fear. It could be seen that this woman was usually extremely majestic. However, she was extremely protective of Xerxes.

Alex whispered to Xerxes, “She’s okay. This princess seems to treat you real well and covers up for you well. She looks fairly decent in the wedding dress. It will be the same once you close your eyes, so you shouldn’t be conflicted and just become carefree Prince Consort here.”

Xerxes gritted his teeth. “Get lost, brat!”

The Grand Preceptor said, “Your Highness, they have dug up the Pool of Forgotten Love.”

The princess snorted. “If they have dug it up, so be it. What’s so strange about that... Hmm? What did you just say? What has been dug up?”

“The Pool of Forgotten Love.”

“Oh my...” The princess’ eyes widened as she looked at Xerxes. She then stared at Alex and said, “Needless to say, this brat must have done it. Guys, take him away and torture him. You have to get him to hand over the Pool of Forgotten Love before he dies. As for the Prince Consort, he’s demure like a pure little girl. How could he possibly steal the Pool of Forgotten Love?”

“Do it!”

Swoosh!

Alex directly threw out the Eclipse Stone that he long had prepared in his hand without a second thought. It was not a piece, but a full ten pieces with not a single piece left.

Then, he yanked Xerxes and teleported to hide in a gap. He set up Medusa’s Aegis Shield, the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell, the Mystic Armor, and finally the Chaos Bell on the two of them.

Wham! Wham! Wham!

A series of huge explosions occurred not far away. It was truly a complete mess as if the world was falling apart.

Alex threw out ten Eclipse Stones, but the real explosions happened in succession at least a hundred times. Countless Eclipse Stones laid into the stone wall were detonated, submerging the entire imperial palace in the huge explosions.

Boom!

The imperial palace collapsed.

Alex put away the Chaos Bell. After climbing out of the ruins, he and Xerxes were astonished when they saw the scene before them.

The entire imperial palace vanished from the explosion.

“Ahem! Ahem! Pooh!”

“Which d*mned bast*rd dared to blow up the imperial palace at this critical moment?”

A voice entered Alex’s ears. He was shocked after turning around to take a look.

“D*mn! Why are you here?”

It turned out to be... Pigsy!

Pigsy was also wide-eyed, still desperately spitting dust in its mouth. The imperial palace of the Corpse King’s daughter collapsed and stirred up endless dust, causing heaps of pebbles to fall into its mouth.

It suddenly heard Alex’s voice, but it was a little confused at first.

It only came to its senses two seconds later. “Alex Rockefeller? You... You came out of that ruined temple?”

As soon as it said that, Xerxes’ expression instantly changed...

“Huh? Alex Rockefeller?”

“Aren’t you York Hancock? How did you become Alex Rockefeller?”

“Alex Rockefeller? You’re that cheap apprentice that Jade Benmore took in?”

‘Holy sh*t!’

That makes sense. His spell formation level is so high, and he can piss people off with his speech. So, he’s venting anger on behalf of Jade Benmore!

Xerxes said, “D*mn brat, so it’s you!”

However, Alex ignored him.

At this moment, he suddenly saw Pigsy. After leaving Principal Lawlor behind, he immediately rushed over and asked, "You're here. Where's Daya? And where are the others?"

Pigsy shook its head. "I don't know."

"What? You don't know? How could you not know?! Weren't you guys together?"

Alex grabbed Pigsy and shook it forcefully. He almost broke its bones.

His current strength was no longer what it was about three years ago. He had undergone a drastic change and attained the perfection of three thousand golden cores!

Moreover, the ax fluorescence in his sea of consciousness suddenly exploded after he absorbed the energy of the water of the River Styx.

That ax had just suspended in his sea of consciousness, floating and sinking without going anywhere. It hung suspended in the air and radiated light like a crescent moon, illuminating the entire sea of consciousness. However, it no longer absorbed Alex's soul power. He could feel that his soul power was increasing rapidly.

This was Xerxes' perception toward Alex earlier.

His soul power had increased. His mental strength had become more powerful.

Moreover, they were continuing to become stronger. His soul power had now recovered to only 60%, but he could already suppress Xerxes' soul.

"Oww! Alex Rockefeller, you little minion! You're hurting me. I'm going to fall apart!"

Pigsy screamed in exaggeration. Then, it told him about Daya and the others.

They encountered some people on the way. Of course, they were the people of the Hawkgirl Galaxy that Luneth had mentioned. She told them about some secrets in the Underworld. She said that there was an immortal island in the depths of the Eastern Sea, where a grand opportunity of becoming an immortal or deity existed. Most importantly, there was also a passage to leave the Underworld.

When Daya and the other few people heard about it, Alex was still in Shoraionji Temple.

However, Shirley's arm was broken, and bizarre energy from the fractures kept destroying her body functions, preventing her from regenerating her broken bones. Hence, she could only maintain a one-armed state with her strength significantly reduced. Eventually, they decided to set foot on the immortal island in the depths of the Eastern Sea.

Alex asked, "You're saying that this place is the immortal island of the Eastern Sea?"

Pigsy replied, "Yes. Don't you know that? How did you come here then?"

"He was captured to become a bed-warmer for the Corpse King's daughter," Xerxes next to him said, helping Alex to explain the issue.

Earlier, Alex kept annoying him with the Prince Consort's affair. Now that he had this opportunity, he certainly had to fight back.

Alex was instantly distressed.

As expected, Pigsy burst into laughter. "A bed-warmer? Hahaha. Allow me to laugh thrice first."

"Laugh, my a*s!" Alex snappily kicked Pigsy. "Continue. What happened next?"

When he mentioned that, Pigsy gritted its teeth and said, "Some bast*rd out of nowhere called me out. They even said that if they managed to find me, they could find the Pool of Afterlife to reform themselves completely and return to the mortal realm! I wanted to condemn him so badly. He just opened his mouth without taking any responsibility. If I were to know the location of the Pool of Afterlife, I would've jumped in on my own. Do I even have to wait to be hunted down?"

Alex did not want to hear its complaints, so he interrupted it. "Omit the unimportant parts. Tell me the key point."

Pigsy said, "The key is that someone tried to work me and even injured your wife! In order to give them a chance to survive, I took the initiative to leave the main force and fled to lure the enemies away. After some narrow escapes with thirty-six great and seventy-two small tribulations, I'm back today at last."

Alex instantly frowned. This was not a piece of good news.

However, he knew that the great and small tribulations that Pigsy had said were all made-up nonsense. He knew that pig's virtues well. It was timid and cunning. He had lost count of the times this guy escaped during critical moments, so it was most likely the same this time.

As for the imperial palace of the Corpse King's daughter, this guy probably upheld the philosophy that 'the most dangerous place was the safest'.

However, the fact that Daya was injured still worried him greatly.

"Take me to them, right now!" Alex said.

"But, I don't know where they are!"

During their conversation, Xerxes warned them. "Someone is coming."

Alex quickly checked the incoming people and thought that they were the corpse soldiers at first. Subsequently, he found that it wasn't them but some trialists. The incoming people wore all kinds of outfits and were clearly not from the same group.

Those people had come from the outside.

The imperial palace of the Corpse King's daughter on the immortal island was originally heavily guarded with numerous corpse soldiers, so all the trialists did not dare to get close. Even if it was rumored that amazing treasures and opportunities were hidden in the imperial palace, everyone could only covet and stare at them from a distance. They even had to guard against the corpse soldiers from attacking them all of a sudden.

However, the imperial palace had now blown up. Even the people could hear the ruckus made by such a violent explosion a thousand miles away and saw the flames soaring into the sky as well as the overflowing mysterious energy from afar.

“The Goddess’ Palace has been blown up.”

“There must be treasures within a mysterious expanse of such luster!”

“Grand opportunities! Rush for them! They belong to whoever that obtains them!”

The trialists were out of their minds. Many people knew about the existence of the Goddess’ Palace, but it was mystifying. Previously, the spirit was willing, but the flesh was weak. They did not even dare to sneak into the imperial palace, but now, it was different. The entire imperial place exploded into ruins, and all the corpse soldiers inside were most probably dead. So, this was a golden opportunity!

At this moment, Alex glanced at the crowd from afar and immediately remembered something. He instantly searched the same spot, looking for the Corpse King’s daughter and that Grand Preceptor...

Subsequently, he found the Grand Preceptor. He was undoubtedly dead, so Alex threw him into the storage ring. The Grand Preceptor’s corpse was of great use as well.

As for the Corpse King’s daughter, he did not even see her figure. However, he managed to find several bodies of powerful corpse soldiers before throwing them into the storage ring. It was then that someone rushed forward, pointed at Alex, and shouted, “Who allowed you to steal here?! What did you just steal?! Hand them over to me, right now!”

Alex was furious and wanted to beat someone up. As a result, someone who deserved a beating just came. He was about to move and kick this person right away but changed his mind on second thought.

Now his soul power’s increment seemed to have reached a bottleneck without new replenishment of bone patterns. He had recovered to 70% of his soul power at best and stopped.

He needed more bone patterns and quick.

Weren’t they akin to the bone patterns that came to him on their own?

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2614

The speaker earlier was a man who looked well, there was nothing to be described. They were all skeletons, a pile of ribs wearing various strange outfits, and spoke the common language of antiquity. It indicated that they hailed from the same realm and same universe as Earth.

It was worth mentioning that the man's team comprised thirteen people. It was to be considered a powerful force for thirteen trialists joining forces in the Underworld.

Alex, however, activated the X-ray vision of his divine eyes. When he saw through their clothes, battle robes, helmets and the bone patterns, he instantly shook his head in disappointment.

More than half of them had green bone patterns. The two strongest people among them had red bone patterns.

They were insufficient to satisfy the current Alex. He would've rather picked up a few bodies of the corpse soldiers as they also possessed bone patterns. Moreover, most of their bone patterns were red.

Seeing Alex shaking his head slightly, the man who just spoke immediately became furious. "Brat, you better be smarter. You can't keep the treasures with just the two of you. Instead of getting killed, why don't you hand them over obediently? I promise I won't lay a hand on you."

Alex indifferently replied, "You can't get them because your team isn't strong enough."

"To hell with you!" that man cursed and was about to attack Alex.

Just then, someone said, "He's right. You trialists from the Heavenly Ship are at the bottom of the entire Perseus Galaxy, not to mention you now face powerhouses of all manner in the universe. No matter what he acquired his hands on, you people from the Heavenly Ship won't be able to get your hands on them. You wouldn't be able to keep them even if you acquired them. So, get lost now. I'll pretend that you never appeared," the person growled in a discourteous and harsh tone.

He clearly knew about those so-called Heavenly Ship trialists and used to have conflicts with them. However, he was not on any team. He was alone with a bone demon bear.

As a result, the Heavenly Ship trialists really retreated from the battlefield and left in less than three seconds after hearing a few words from the man.

How much fear did they have for him?

Xerxes talked to Alex via divine sense. “Brat, that guy and that bear aren’t difficult opponents. Just let me deal with them. Don’t stall for time. The longer you stall, the more the people will rush over! You have to be careful... Also, I’ll settle with you later for deceiving me about you being York Hancock.”

“Huh..?”

‘Well, who wanted to become my relative shamelessly just now?!’ Alex complained in his heart.

At this moment, many people had actually gathered around him. Some were close to him, while some were further away. More people were watching him, trying to sit back and reap the benefits from the tussle.

‘Sigh! Forget it! These trialists are weak, and their bone patterns are inferior to those from the corpse soldiers, so I don’t have to lure them here!’

While Alex was thinking about that, Xerxes had already made his move.

Roar!

He screamed.

Bone spines popped out of his back, and he turned himself half-dragon.

He instantly rushed toward the enemies to kill them.

“Huh? This ability is rather powerful!”

Alex was surprised. He was facing Xerxes’ real combat power for the first time, and it was much stronger than he expected. Previously, he heard Jade mention about Xerxes’s cultivation level before. At that time, it was said that he was inferior to Jade and was at Advanced-Tribulation Crossing at best, but his current combat power was on par with a Golden Immortal.

No. He might simply be slightly stronger. It was because the dragon horn in his hand could double his lethal power.

Swoosh!

The dragon horn in Xerxes' hand clashed with the opponent's long sword. It was undoubtedly a whitewash. The long sword severed easily and broke into half.

The man was shocked as that was definitely beyond his expectation, his sheer might making his hair stand on its ends, if only he had hair, especially those bone spines emerging from his back.

What the hell were those?

Roar!

That man's companion, the bone demon bear, came forward to help him. However, Xerxes's flying sword blocked it.

That flying sword's power was Xerxes' true ultimate skill. It was a certain kill with one blow!

Alex was relieved when he saw that.

On the other hand, those onlookers around him gasped as Xerxes' combat power was a little too strong. Thus, many people began to flinch and retreat involuntarily. However, some powerful people were reluctant to do so

They especially saw that the naked Alex seemed to be an easy target, but he was some distance away from Xerxes at this moment. He was choosing and picking some corpse soldiers with advanced bone patterns on the ground before putting them into the storage ring.

“Huh. The items he just picked up are stored inside the ring, right?”

“Will that half-dragon man catch us if we run right after snatching his ring?”

“Hmph. The success rate is 70%...”

Someone pondered secretly and then made a move.

Swoosh!

A figure flashed and rushed toward Alex. That person reached out to snatch Alex’s ring. It was then that a rush of peerless power slammed on his soul like a huge hammer.

His soul was instantly destroyed.

Alex swiftly threw that man’s corpse bones into the storage ring in passing.

“D*mn. What’s going on?”

“Am I short-sighted?”

“That person just rushed over and then... Vanished?”

Someone keen-eyed opened his mouth and explained the actual situation, “who vanished? He’s been killed. It was an instant kill and his corpse bones were put into the storage ring.”

“Wow..!”

“D*mn..!”

“We’ve hit a brick wall!”

The crowd was shocked, and then more than half of the people were scared off. They had absolutely hit a brick wall!

Soon, Xerxes came back.

Both the man and bear were dead.

“Come on! We can’t stay here long!” Xerxes came over and said.

Alex nodded and glanced at ten or so trialists who were still unwilling to leave and watched him from afar. Some of them had decent bone patterns and even golden ones.

Nevertheless, Alex knew that he was not a mass murderer, and everyone was considered a traitor after searching his soul. He truly could not do it if he had to take the initiative to attack the others and go on a killing spree before they proactively came to attack him.

“Wait a minute!” Pigsy, however, shouted.

“Anything else?” Alex asked.

“Yes!”

Pigsy glanced at Xerxes and trusted him little, so it mentally transmitted a voice to Alex that there was an incredible treasure under the imperial palace. Since the treasure-hunting pig said that there was a treasure, Alex would never doubt its authenticity.

“What kind of treasure?”

“A treasure that can save your father.”

“What?!” Alex was instantly shocked.

As for his father’s condition, William, Shelly had said that he needed the divine Bodhi Tree’s natural holy energy to freeze his Soul Planting state. Pigsy knew about this point.

After confirming this matter from Pigsy’s mouth, Alex was overwhelmed with excitement.

“Where is it?! Take me there!”

“Oink, oink...” Pigsy was active and elated.

Why was it here? First, it was indeed because it was safer hiding here. Secondly, it also sensed that there was an incredible treasure here. Incredible treasures were fatal temptations that this pig could not abstain from.

Five minutes later, Alex found that incredible treasure that Pigsy had mentioned.

It was not the Bodhi Tree, but it was a bodhisattva statue from the Bodhi Tree.

Alex attempted to stimulate it using his divine power. The next second, the bodhisattva statue abruptly dashed out of the void, and towering holy light sprang up and shot right into the sky. He could not stop it even if he wanted to.

“Oh crap!”

“Something terrible is... about to happen!”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2616

What was this place?

It was the Underworld, suppressed by Shoraionji Temple.

What did the trialists come here for?

They overcame the trials in the Underworld to enhance their root bones. Then, they would find the Pool of Afterlife to leave the Underworld and reform their flesh. This, by itself, was a process.

However, a risk existed, the Pool of Afterlife was not something that one could have if he wished for it. On the contrary, it was the most challenging section in the entire process.

Someone once did statistics. Among one hundred trialists, only nine people could successfully find the Pool of Afterlife to recover their flesh and reform their root bones.

Was it perilous? It was!

Even so , why would so many people still come in?

Of course, they had the reasons to come here, for the sake of their root bones, to become stronger, to... They were neither willing to become ordinary nor remain stagnant, so all of them were determined to risk their lives.

However, there was something that could save their lives. It was the holy relic or cultivation technique imbued with ancient Buddhism.

Presently, the boundless energy of ancient Buddhism gleamed like the sun, rushing right into the sky. This ruckus was so great that even Alex was so stunned he stepped backward. Then, he thought that this bodhisattva statue was too high-profile and would attract countless people's covetousness, driving them crazy.

At this moment, the people who wanted to retreat previously regathered.

Furthermore, he could see a few the aura of a few powerhouses surging from afar, desperately rushing over here.

Xerxes also dejectedly said, "This is forcing us to have a bloody fight!"

After a pause, he became excited again. "But, it's a windfall this time. This Buddha statue carved from a tree turns out to have such a powerful attribute of ancient Buddhism. It will be no longer a luxury to enter Dairaionji Temple with it."

It was a luxury.

Alex thought, 'No one can enter Dairaionji Temple without the token from Shoraionji Temple.'

"Alex, you're more familiar with Buddhism than I am. As for the task on how to capture this statue, I'll leave it to you!"

"I'll deal with those people." He rushed out right after he spoke.

The battle broke out because someone had already made a move.

Alex looked around and became anxious as well. In just a moment, he saw energy collisions in at least dozens of places and layers of Immortal Wheel of Life, all rushing toward the bodhisattva statue as well.

"I'm determined to get this thing!"

Alex made a determined effort because he might not be able to find the real Bodhi Tree.

Even if he possessed the token to enter Dairaionji Temple, he may not be able to enter it. He still had to find the divine Bodhi Valley Tree in Dairaionji Temple later, but this was all unknown. So, he should get this thing in his hand first as it was likely to freeze his father's state or slow it down, at least!

“Divine power, go!”

Alex unleashed his divine power. He condensed a huge palm using divine power and grabbed the bodhisattva statue.

To his surprise, a peerless force blocked the palm just as it approached the statue. It was protected by a force field.

“What the hell? Since you’ve been activated by my divine power, you’re considered as recognized in our relationship. We are from the same sect, more or less, so why keep resisting me?”

Alex saw more and more people rushing over. While fighting the enemies, Xerxes shouted, “Alex, hurry up!”

His situation was getting difficult. Even if he was powerful, he could not defeat the increasingly strengthening enemies. The opponents who came this time were a lot stronger than the previous two.

“Pigsy, go help him!” Alex insisted.

Pigsy, however, refused to go there. The pig’s behavior was like that. If it could do nothing, it would definitely not contribute. If it did not have to risk its life, it wouldn’t bother an inch, and someone else’s life and death had nothing to do with it.

Alex furiously growled, “Don’t regret not going. Look, what is this?”

He took out that Yellow Obsidian Crystal and waved it in front of Pigsy.

Pigsy’s sensitivity toward heavenly treasures was definitely ten times that of anyone else. It became almost instantly excited when Alex took it out.

“This is... Could it be the... Yellow Obsidian..?”

“That’s right!”

After getting a firm reply, Pigsy was instantly filled with beans. It instantly rushed out.

However, within a minute, it ran back, squealing. It had been wounded. In terms of strength, when compared with Xerxes, Pigsy was just a weakling. In the face of so many powerhouses, it only stood to get beaten up.

“D*mn. You’re just terrible compared to the others, aren’t you?” Alex was left speechless. “You’re such an awful pig. What reason do you have to enjoy the Yellow Obsidian Chi?”

Pigsy was unconvinced. “One might be a master in his own specialized field. I’m not a combat pig. I’m a treasure-hunting pig. I’m a skilled worker, alright?”

Then, it pointed at Xerxes. “Who is this guy? He’s too overpowering!”

As soon as it finished speaking, it squealed in shock and pointed at the sky. “D*mn! These guys are here too.”

“Who are they?”

Alex looked over and found it to be a chariot pulled by flying bone demons that looked to be steadily coming from a distance, but in fact, it was lightning fast. The most shocking thing was that each of the four bone demons that were pulling the chariot was full of golden bone patterns. They were almost on the same level as the golden eagle that Alex had devoured before. However, there were four of them.

Furthermore, three people were standing on the flying chariot, a male and two females. The three people exuded an overwhelming aura and were considered the absolute upper-class among the trialists.

Alex’s soul power shook, and he instantly felt tremendous pressure due to the sudden appearance of opponents on such a level.

Pigsy, however, gritted its teeth and cautiously told Alex, “It’s that man on the flying chariot. He injured Daya Stoermer and even almost abducted Ynes Larkin.”

It turned out to be them.

Alex looked at the murderous intent exuding from them.

It was then that he saw the man on the flying chariot point at Pigsy and say, “Haha! So the treasure-hunting pig is here. It looks like this cunning thing has been hiding the imperial palace of the Corpse Princess. Thanks to it, we had to look all over the world for so long.”

Meanwhile, the other lady pointed at Xerxes. “Look, that’s the guy who snatched the Fruit of Eight Legions.”

Right after she said so, a murderous aura immediately exuded from the man.

“If he dares snatch my Fruit of Eight Legions, he must have an awareness of being disemboweled.”

Alex was a little surprised upon hearing those words. Never did he expect that those people, too, would have conflicts with Xerxes.

At this moment, Xerxes also discovered those people coming from the sky. He secretly yelled ‘crap’ before hurriedly telepathizing with Alex.

“Alex, my nemeses are here, so I can no longer stay. We certainly won’t get the bodhisattva statue today. It’s more important to save our lives first. Let’s split up and escape. Don’t follow me. You’ll just court death if you do.”

After explaining, Xerxes said nothing further.

He immediately unleashed his strongest attack, rushing out of the crowd, and was about to escape. Unexpectedly, two bone demons with golden patterns blocked his way.

They were none other than two flying bone demons pulling the flying chariot.

“Kill!!!”

Xerxes was desperate.

On the other hand, Alex could not progress further at his side. The man on the flying chariot attacked Pigsy.

“Oink! Save me, Alex Rockefeller!”

Piggy screamed, but it was motionless on the spot as if its body had been shackled.

“Treasure-hunting pig, just come with me! It’s your blessing to follow me!” the man indifferently said. His hand turned into a worldly cage, enveloping Piggy’s from head to toe.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2618

Alex, who was standing next to Piggy and thinking of a way to deal with the bodhisattva statue, could not help but make a move. He unleashed an expanse of divine power.

Here, the energy of ancient Buddhism gained a bonus effect.

The divine power turned into a giant spiritual God’s hand and grabbed Piggy before dragging it over. Immediately afterward, a loud boom rang out. The worldly cage of that man on the flying chariot descended and did not cover Piggy. It caught nothing and blasted a huge crater into the ground.

“Hmm?”

The man was not disappointed. Instead, his eyes gleamed while looking at Alex.

“You’re quite intriguing! So you’re someone who walks the path of ancient Buddhism! No wonder you could activate this bodhisattva statue!”

“Not bad. Not bad. You’re qualified to become my lackey, so I’ll give you a chance and take you under my wing with this treasure-hunting pig. You won’t regret it.”

The man gloated pompously as if just announcing a result.

At the same time, Alex also heard some next to him whispering among themselves...

“This guy is so arrogant. Where is he from?”

“You actually don’t know him? These few people have powerful backing. Do you know Silent Hill? That’s where they’re from.”

“What? One of the three ominous places in the Underworld, Silent Hill. It’s the only ninth-grade secret realm occupied by trialists. Could he be the... Carefree Immortal King, Freeborn Garredib?”

“No. The two ladies beside him aren’t simple either. They all have seven layers of Immortal Wheel of Life at the level of Immortal Empress... Not everyone can join Silent Hill. This naked kid has a stroke of luck. The Carefree Immortal King has taken a fancy to him. He can do whatever he wants in the Underworld in the future...”

Alex was shocked when he heard the surrounding people gossiping behind his back.

Freeborn naturally could hear them as well. He looked satisfied and gently lifted his chin as if he was enjoying such opinions.

At this moment, the battle between Xerxes and the flying bone demons with golden patterns reached its climax.

After the bone demons were wounded by Xerxes’ dragon born, they wailed and their bodies even slammed to the ground with one of their arms removed. Furthermore, he took them away and certainly wanted to take time to eat them.

“That d*mned thief’s combat power is getting stronger!” On the flying chariot, a lady next to Freeborn angrily said, “I’ll go deal with him personally! I have to make him pay!”

Before the lady could finish, she had already soared from the flying chariot and rushed toward Xerxes.

After Xerxes succeeded, he stuck up his middle finger at the woman going after him. Perhaps that woman didn’t understand his gesture, but she could definitely tell it was no greeting.

Someone asked, “What is this guy gesturing? Is he scolding the people of Silent Hill? Oh my god! He has a lot of nerve! This lady seems to be the Carefree Immortal King’s cultivation partner, Fairy Fay! He’s really not afraid of death!”

Someone answered in a low voice, “I’ve read history, about the antiquity of a certain world. I think his gesture is similar to something extremely insulting.”

“Huh..? What?”

“It seems to mean... ‘F*ck.’”

“F*ck? What does ‘f*ck’ mean?”

“This... I don’t know much either, but I’ve heard of an explicit phrase called... ‘Go f*ck you b*stard.’”

Fairy Fay from Silent Hill was also puzzled when she heard the onlookers’ words.

At this moment, Xerxes proactively explained, “Stop the blind guess. You guys are really a group of ill-informed, ignorant people. You don’t even recognize this standard gesture of mine. I’ll tell you then. This is the iconic language handed down by the Ancient Alliance’s leader, Heavenly Emperor Rowan.”

As soon as he said that, many gasps were let out. It turned out to be a gesture left behind by Heavenly Emperor Rowan! Then, it must be something very profound, right?!

“What exactly does it represent? It must be some extremely awesome existence, right? Could it be some kind of divine law?” someone asked.

As the woman seemingly looked like she wanted to know more, Xerxes smiled. “I suppose it won’t hurt to tell you guys. The meaning of this gesture is to sleep.”

“Sleep?”

“That’s right.”

“Did you mean... You’ve slept with Fairy Fay?”

“D*mn! For real?!”

The people exclaimed as the news was too shocking.

Fairy Fay was the Carefree Immortal King's cultivation partner. Rumor had it that the Carefree Immortal King doted on her and brought her along everywhere he went. She was also a mighty existence, but now, someone had slept with her.

It simply made people engage in flights of fancy, didn't it?

Fairy Fay exploded with rage as she roared, "How dare you spew such nonsense?! I shall pull out your tongue."

Xerxes looked at Alex. In fact, he was a little nervous as the Carefree Immortal King surprisingly did not come after him in that case. He knew that Alex was Jade's cheap apprentice, and Jade still thought quite highly of him. He could not let Alex die here at all costs, so he just said such insulting words to Fairy Fay and the Carefree Immortal King at this moment to attract aggression.

After he clenched his teeth, he simply went the whole hog and said, "Fay, you can't go back on your word. You're likely to be pregnant with my flesh and blood, so you can't be so heartless to me, the father of this child. I even thought about our child's name. Let's call him Ethan so that he will grow up striving unremittingly. What do you think?"

"Wow!"

The eyes of all the gossipy trialists widened as they watched the show. They were indulging in gossip!

The Carefree Immortal King, being a cuckold, was simply an earth-shattering scoop that could be a mouthpiece among the people for years to come.

"Ah!"

Fairy Fay was about to lose her mind. She had never seen such a shameless man before. He was overtly brazen, despicable, and should be hacked into smithereens.

The Carefree Immortal King was infuriated as well. He was an Immortal Emperor who believed that he was the most overpowering existence among the trialists, but now he suffered the most disgusting and detestable slander.

“Just go to hell!” Freeborn roared.

The voice was accompanied by a thunderclap, and as soon as his figure flashed, he rushed toward Xerxes, overwhelming murderous intent about to freeze the spatial expanse around him.

Some weak trialists on the ground immediately became enervated, and their soul power suffered severe injury.

Xerxes sent a mental voice transmission to Alex. “Brat, I can only go this far. It all depends on your fortune now if we both end up dead or alive.”

At that moment, Alex unexpectedly felt a little touched.

‘But it seems that I don’t need you to do that, do I?’

Whoosh!

He teleported and blocked Freeborn while wielding Medusa’s Aegis Shield in one hand and Victory Goddess’ Golden Spear in the other. Alex looked at him out of the corner of his eye with disdain and a boiling fighting spirit. “Hey, I think you have quite a knack too. How about this? I’ll give you a chance as well. Kneel and become my servant.”

The crowd was speechless. Many jaws dropped.

Freeborn’s murderous intent was imposing. “Are you sure you’re talking to me?”

Alex shook his head.

Just as Freeborn smiled contemptuously and thought that Alex had conceded, he indifferently said, “Forget it. My wife will surely complain if I accept a servant like you. So, you better just die!”

“Kill!”

Alex instantly broke into battle.

What Carefree Immortal King? He would just kill an Immortal King for his feast today.

Meanwhile, Xerxes, who was preparing to escape, was dumbfounded when he saw this scene. He went to great lengths to taunt them at the expense of self-deprecation. Alex, however, attracted all the aggression back to him in a single sentence.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2620

“You’re biting off more than you can chew!”

“Ungrateful bast*rd!”

Freeborn was upset mainly because of Xerxes. As for Alex, he did not intend to kill him because he needed his protector to be someone who had walked the path of ancient Buddhism.

At first, he did not pay much attention in the face of Alex’s incoming spear. However, his expression soon changed.

Alex directly activated his mental vision with an overwhelming murderous aura: immortal mountains, spiritual lakes, the great sun hanging in the sky, and ferocious birds flying.

The mental vision gradually engulfed Freeborn from above like a spread-out picture scroll.

“What?!”

“Such a complete mental vision?” Freeborn exclaimed. He had a mental vision as well, but it was definitely not as detailed as Alex’s. When the mental domain enveloped him and clashed with his mental power, he seemingly saw the cultivation myth in the ancient era.

“Break it!” Freeborn roared. He had also spread out the vision of his mental domain, which impacted Alex’s vision.

His vision was an expanse of sword mounds that contained tens of thousands of divine swords. A huge 328 foot tall sword with a full silver body was inserted in one of the giant sword mounds.

He wanted to sever Alex's mental domain with the suddenly appearing sword light. However, in the next moment, he was shocked again. The mental domain that Alex had activated was so sturdy that he could not sever it with his divine sword.

He felt as though his sword had cut into a viscous paste, or rather a pool of glue. Not only did his attack power disintegrate, but he was also trapped within it.

The clash of mental vision occurred just in an instant. Because of this momentary distraction, Alex's Golden Spear arrived in front of Freeborn and hit right at his forehead.

Freeborn was furious.

Alex was naked, yet Freeborn suffered a setback as soon as they exchanged blows.

In the first round of mental domain attacks, he was soundly defeated!

'Is he a monster?'

'His cultivation level is clearly so low, but he actually possesses such powerful mental domain?'

Fortunately, Freeborn was not some ordinary person and was also mentally prepared in the face of such a killing move. A ray of dazzling light instantly rushed out of his forehead. It turned out to be a fluorescent bead.

As soon as the bead came out, it seemed to form a defensive layer in front of Freeborn's head. It forcefully blocked Alex's divine spear attack outside the defensive layer.

"Chaos Bead?!"

Alex froze for a brief moment. He was then overjoyed. Without a second thought, he retrieved the Golden Spear and grabbed the Chaos Bead.

"You're trying to grab my Chaos Bead with your hand?" Freeborn cracked up.

How confident was he in his hand?

Did he really think that his Chaos Bead was some sesame rice ball?

Controlling the Chaos Bead with his divine sense, he wanted to blow up Alex's palm to pieces. Unexpectedly, his expression drastically changed in the next second. To his surprise, he could not sense the Chaos Bead's existence, as if it had completely disappeared from the world.

Even the soul link connection was broken!

Meanwhile, Alex attacked Freeborn's forehead with his lightning-fast fist.

The Carefree Immortal King was instantly infuriated. Never did he expect that he would suffer such a great loss right after the fight began.

'This guy's strength is not the least inferior to Xerxes...'

"Die!" he roared and also lashed out with his fist.

He still wanted to keep Alex alive, but now, he was infuriated and couldn't care less about him. There was still a bodhisattva statue next to him anyway. If he killed this guy before him, so be it.

Wham!

Freeborn, however, immediately screamed upon the fist collision.

He just flew out. Then, he burst into pieces in the air!

"What?!"
