The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2631

Whoosh...

Alex quickly stepped back and stared at that eerie ball of flame.

‘This used to be Dorothy’s consciousness.’

“The flame was so aggressive and violent that even the soul of someone as powerful as the princess got burned just like that in a matter of seconds.’

‘Then, has Dorothy’s consciousness been burned as well?’

Worried, Alex stared unfazed at the flame. Then, he found out that as soon as the princess died, the golden flame instantly extinguished. Not even a spark was left, and none remained on the ground of her consciousness.

“What was that then?”

“How did it light up?”

Alex still felt lingering fears. When he was facing that ball of fire, he knew that he would likely perish if he were to be burned to death as well.

‘How did the fire start out of nowhere?’

‘Could it be some sort of flame of inhibition? Her final words were about the Emperor... Could she have found out some truth at the end of her life?’

‘Was it an attack by the Emperor of the Underworld?’

Alex could only guess, but he had no answer to it.

The Emperor of the Underworld referred to an invincible demon that strayed from the River Styx and started his own crew, then finally was suppressed by Dairaionji Temple.

The corpse princess was dead. Other than a little spooked, Alex felt nothing else. He immediately went over to observe Dorothy’s sealed soul.

A few minutes later, he realized that the seal wasn't too secure. With his abilities, he could definitely unseal it. Nonetheless, he needed some time.

Whoosh.

Alex's soul returned to his body.

After explaining the situation to Xerxes and Pigsy, he returned, getting ready to unseal her.

Outside, the skies had darkened, and it was breezy. The seas were quiet.

Xerxes and Pigsy sat facing one another, in between them a huge pile of bones with gold bone patterns. These had been picked up from the battlefield before. They were the dark golden bone demons killed by Alex.

Pigsy was touched, it felt like crying. "I've been in the Underworld for some years and strayed everyday, but I've never had a full stomach."

"And don't even mention these dark golden bone patterns. Even if they were red, it was never my turn to consuming them. I'd have never thought I'd have the chance to eat all I want!"

Xerxes was moved. "You're a treasure hunting pig. How did you get so poor? That's rare to see."

Pigsy said, "I... I am a little unlucky."

Xerxes gestured his hand at the bones. "You start first!"

If Pigsy were in his flesh right now, he would've long been dripping in saliva. When he heard Xerxes' words, he no longer held back. He grabbed the biggest bone and took a big bite.

Then, in the next second, another tragedy broke out.

"Arghhh!"

With a painful scream, Pigsy was sent flying by those dark golden bone patterns.

"What's with this?!"

“Why can’t I swallow them?”

Xerxes’s hand went to his head. “Oh, I remember! These bone demons belonged to the princess! She had her demons processed, so they contained a special energy of the Underworld. Generally, trialists can’t eat them, and they would be harmful to those who try.”

“Huh?” Pigsy put on a face. “Then why did we go through the hard work of collecting the demons? Isn’t it a waste?”

Xerxes said, “Well, it’s not. There’s still some use. I can eat them.”

Pigsy was excited again. “How? Teach me!”

“I can’t. I’ve swallowed the princess’ Spiritual Corpse Core. That’s why I can eat them,” Xerxes sighed.

“F*ck this!” Pigsy threw the bones on the ground. It felt like crying, but no tears came out.

‘Damn it! I sure am one unlucky pig!’

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2632

Within Dorothy’s consciousness, it appeared like an actual sea. The sea sparkled under the sunlight, and steam rose up in the air. There were even Regulation Runes flowing within it.

Never noticing it before, Alex had just realized now how special Dorothy’s consciousness was. It had a huge difference with his.

“Is this because of the reincarnation?”

Alex was stunned, jealous even. Such a rare consciousness was one in a million.

‘So, these were the changes to Dorothy that came with Xienna’s awakening...’

‘What a scary woman!’

However, the thought of part of her soul being destroyed made Alex wonder if she'd already noticed. If she had, Alex knew that she'd be outraged, which made him feel quite joyful.

Finally, he was close to where Dorothy was sealed. He didn't act immediately, afraid of causing a bad reaction. He had to be very careful. He used his soul power to feel and touch the space.

In the next second, he was absorbed into a dimension of thought.

It seemed to be Dorothy's thoughts. To be exact, her current thoughts...

"I can't die!"

"I must be strong. I can't fall asleep..."

"My children, I haven't even seen them for myself. I definitely musn't shut my eyes!"

"I miss them so much. I wonder how they are now... Who do they resemble more?"

"Honey, I miss you. But do you still feel the same? Or have you long forgotten me...? Are you with another woman now..."

Feeling such emotions, Alex's heart shuddered.

This was Dorothy's will. She's had forcefully supported her mentality because she knew if she stopped fighting, she'd be fully sealed into hibernation. Even if she did wake up, she'd most likely lose her memories.

"They resemble you more," Alex spoke softly.

The soul's thoughts stopped abruptly. Everything went silent.

She'd just been mumbling to herself, like a mantra, just now, then she suddenly became speechless. After a while, a trembling voice said, "Is... It you?"

It was followed by a sad laugh.

'I'm hallucinating again!'

‘Am I about to lose my memories?’

“Hmph... ” Finally, there was a long sigh.

Alex almost cried hearing that “It’s not a hallucination. It’s real! I’m here!”

His soul power vibrated, pushing in with full force. With force, a hole was punctured through the seal, and he went in...

The inside looked like a flipped bowl, a large and tall space. Dorothy’s soul was shrunk up in a corner, her hands hugging her knees as she looked up to the sky. Heavy fog surrounded her, clouding her view, but she knew that the voice had originated from there.

Just then, something smashed downwards through the mists like a worn sack, landing right by her feet. Startled, Dorothy kicked it away.

Thud!

Alex’s soul had left his body to come here. Now that it was sent flying into the air, he almost shattered to pieces, causing him to vomit blood. “Do you want to murder your husband? You almost kicked me to death!”

Alex stood up and walked out from the mists. He appeared in front of the woman.

“Hon... honey?”

“Are you surprised? Are you shocked?” Alex held out his arms and gave her his brightest, most sincere smile. Here, he wasn’t in skeleton form but in human form. Dorothy quickly got up and rushed forward.

However, she paused for a moment, looking uncertain, afraid it was simply her imagination. She even asked Alex about a few secrets only they knew, like where they had their first night together, who took the lead, and the details of their first date.

She was then sure that it was actually him, as Alex managed to answer every single one of those questions accurately. She pounced onto Alex and cried out loud. She sobbed for a long time.

Alex’s soul comforted her gently and said, “I’ll get you out of here and you’ll regain control of your body.”

“What about her? She won’t agree to this, right?” asked Dorothy.

At the mention of Xienna, all positive feelings ceased to exist in Dorothy’s heart, and all that was left was hatred.

Xienna had suppressed her while she was in a weak state after giving birth. She gave no bother and locked her up in the corner of her consciousness like a lab rat, waiting for her to lose her memories of this life, to forget about the people she loved most.

‘What was the point of having such a past life?’

Alex told her about everything that happened in the Underworld, it was a rare chance to regain control of herself again, as long as they could break the seal. Later on, they could come up with a plan to fight Xienna.

“Don’t speak, just kiss me!”

“I need your love!” Dorothy suddenly said.

The two souls embraced and started making out, it just happened naturally.

Five minutes later, Alex let go of her. The comfort and understanding between two loving souls were indescribable. Unfortunately, this wasn’t the right place for them to act lovey-dovey, there could be danger in the outside world at any second.

“Break!”

Alex’s soul and body combined once again.

After quite a bit of grinding, the seal was finally broken. Cracks began to Spiderweb on the large flipped bowl until it finally shattered into pieces.

Alex grabbed Dorothy and took a step out.

“Uhm, there’s one thing you need to know ahead.” Alex gave an early warning. “Trialists who enter this land are deprived of their flesh... There’s only the skeleton and soul left, so don’t be afraid when you see how I look.”

Dorothy nodded.

When her soul had sunken back into her body, Dorothy felt a long lost feeling of calm. She almost felt reborn. Nonetheless, she still shuddered when she saw Alex in his skeleton state.

It took her a good while to get used to it.

Dorothy had heard of him before, so she didn’t give many reactions, but she was very interested in Pigsy. On the other hand, Alex hadn’t forgotten his initial goal, which was to search for Daya and the others. He immediately dragged Felicity over and asked about their whereabouts.

“Heh! the ones you mentioned are dead!” Felicity said viciously.

Her brother was dead, and she was just about as equal to a vegetative state. Hence, the last thing she’d do was cooperate with these people. She was even ready to face the worst.

Alex shook his head. “You’re lying!”

With that, he slapped the top of Felicity’s skull. He was going to search her soul.

The results weren’t all that bad.

The people of Silent Hill didn’t kill Daya and the others. They simply had the intention because they had their eye on Daya’s treasure and wanted it for their own.

Luckily, Daya and the others got away in time, but they weren’t in a good state. Daya was severely injured, and it was unknown if she was still alive at this point.

“Damn it!” Alex was furious and killed Felicity with a mere slap.

“The magic mountain on the sea?”

“Or should we go find Luneth and Immortal Bird?”

He turned to ask Xerxes, “Principal Lerwin, could you contact your wife?”

Xerxes nodded. “She’s already here.”

Alex fell silent. Only then did he know that Xerxes’ soul was connected to the golden boat, and he could control it from a long distance. He could even see the surroundings around the boat.

While Alex was freeing Dorothy, Xerxes had also contacted Mandy and guided the boat here.

Three minutes later, the boat was still not there. Instead, the levitating tomb arrived. It looked like a majestic mountain, and its aura was distressing.

The past dangers flashed before their eyes.

Alex subconsciously reached out for the Bodhi statue, but he was surprised to find it gone. It had become a tiny 5 foot tall monk.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2634

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2634

An actual 5 foot tiny monk. He was short, with the face of a young teenager of around fourteen. Despite his innocent looks, his entire body radiated with holy light, with thousands and thousands of Buddhist talismans around him. There was even a golden halo behind his head.

That was the symbol of a golden body of a Bodhi. Within the halo was some pattern of a flower.

Upon further inspection, it was actually a spider lily.

“Oh my lord, who is this? Where did he come from?” Pigsy jumped and blurted out from shock.

The little monk solemnly clasped his hands. "Amitabha!"

"That... Bodhi statue?" Quick witted, Xerxes realized where the monk came from.

In actual fact, they shouldn't be calling it a little monk. It was a small Bodhi, after all. Apart from his innocent face, everything else was there. He looked somewhat similar to a Bodhi statue.

The little Bodhi nodded. "I am... The Palatial."

Alex had heard of this title quite a while ago, but Xerxes and Dorothy had not. They both expressed their confusion towards this situation.

The Palatial Bodhi said, "It's unsurprising that you've never heard of me. I haven't left the Underworld since I became a Bodhi, after all. I'm the guardian of the Dairaionji Temple and have been guarding this entire world against the start."

"Huh?" Alex was shocked. "You're the guardian of this temple? Aren't you supposed to be at Shoraionji Temple?"

The Palatial Bodhi grinned. "It would seem that you have been to Shoraionji Temple, good sir."

Alex rubbed his nose, admitting to it with his silence.

"If you've been to the Shoraionji Temple, that means Buddhism must be in your destiny. You might even become one of us in the future..."

"It's not hard to explain, really. The Shoraionji Temple is placed on the axis of this place, and it's directly connected to the Dairaionji Temple."

"And I, myself, am the God that rules over the Underworld. I guide the evil to good, as I should!"

"Oh..!" Pigsy's mouth was agape from the sheer shock.

'This is the god who rules over the Underworld, so that must mean he is truly a powerful being!'

Alex immediately paid his respects, placing both hands together as well.

"Thank you for your help. We wouldn't have been able to escape otherwise."

Everyone witnessed this, and they all saw how the Bodhi statue turned into a ray of light and was shot right into Alex.

Alex could slaughter their enemies after that as if the God of Death had possessed him. Yet all this was because he received the help of the statue.

Piggy was slightly upset. "Awh... If I had known that earlier, I would've become a Buddhist before coming here! Having a powerful Bodhi as my teacher might grant me quite a few benefits."

The Palatial Bodhi smiled. "It's not too late to become one of us!"

Piggy instantly raised the question. "What's in it for me?"

The Palatial Bodhi said, "We Buddhists are merciful, hoping to help every single being achieve peace within themselves. If one were to join our forces, they would be recognized by the Bodhi as well."

Piggy shook its head. "I'm a pig, so my comprehension is limited. I don't understand what you mean. Just tell me, would we be able to take that floating mountain there?"

Dorothy was most shocked, however.

Her soul had just returned not long ago and her current knowledge and skills were far behind Alex. She wasn't used to this at all.

She had received lots of information before Xienna was awakened, but she was still anxious about the presence of such a powerful being- the Underworld Tomb.

Unexpectedly, the Palatial Bodhi asked, "What's so difficult about that?"

"I am the god who suppressed the Emperor of the Underworld, guardian of the Dairaiionji Temple. It would be more than simple to handle a tomb that's nothing but a shell."

Upon hearing this, everyone was finally able to relax.

However, as the tomb continued to approach slowly, Xerxes suddenly shouted. "Crap, something's gone wrong."

"What is it?" Alex asked.

“Mandy and the others are up there!”

“What?” Alex was stunned.

Activating his divine eye, he noticed that the tomb actually looked like a large, diamond shaped mountain. It had two sections, with the top a regular mountain, filled with forests and rivers. Some even saw streams of waterfalls crashing down the mountainside.

It looked like a beautiful painting, surrounded with divine energy that would attract many.

As for the bottom part, it seemed to be an underground mountain rock, but many pitch-black caves also dotted it.

The millions of tombs that appeared just a while ago had emerged from those very caves.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2635

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2635

At the time, one of the caves was brimming with golden light. There was something in there. It was Xerxes’ golden bamboo boat.

“There’s something off about the tomb. I’ve lost contact with my boat,” Xerxes said.

His senses were not the type that allowed him to see it with his own eyes, else he would’ve been able to feel the oddities long ago.

Alex nodded since he had also lost contact with the Mystic Maiden, despite their contract. However, he was able to see her clearly. She was currently stuck within that cave.

“We’ll be relying on you then,” Alex turned to the Palatial Bodhi. “Once we get back, I’ll definitely build a large shrine for you so that we can worship your statue.”

The Palatial Bodhi smiled. “Amitabha, but I still need to borrow some of your holy powers.”

Since lives were at stake, Alex gave a portion of his divine power to him without any hesitation. The Bodhi seemed quite satisfied with this. Suddenly, he turned into a ray of golden light, flying straight up and completely ignoring the physics of this realm.

Boom.

A mere punch was enough to shake the entire tomb, causing the mountains to rumble. The impact spun the tomb, and it backed away from the Bodhi in mid-air.

With another punch, the tomb completely shattered under his fist. This made everyone on the boat widen their eyes in disbelief as they continued watching this from afar.

Pigsy's jaw dropped. "That's insane. This Bodhi's powers make me feel like I'm seeing Buddha himself!"

Xerxes nodded. "He's so strong that no one would even dare to say anything negative about him."

On the other hand, Dorothy frowned slightly. "It just feels oddly unreal. This Bodhi... He just feels kind of weird."

Alex replied. "It's probably because he looks too young, an innocent minor. But everything in this place is pretty weird anyway. So a strange, tiny Bodhi is just ordinary at this point."

In just a few moments, the Palatial Bodhi dragged the golden boat back to them. Xerxes ran over immediately, embracing Mandy tightly with his arms.

The Mystic Maiden rushed over and caressed Alex gently. "Did anything bad happen to you?"

Alex shook his head, then introduced Dorothy to everyone with a bright smile.

After that, he took out the Chaos Bead that he snatched from Freeborn Garredib, handing it to the Mystic Maiden.

"Another Chaos Bead?!" she exclaimed.

"Is it of any use for your body?"

“Of course! With this Chaos Bead, the effects would be greater than having ten dark golden bone demons. And it’s the most compatible with my body too.”

“That’s good, then use it quickly!”

“Alright!” The Mystic Maiden didn’t mind and took it right out of his hands.

Seeing this, Dorothy became tremendously upset. ‘That’s a Chaos Bead we’re talking about here. It’s such a legendary treasure, yet he just... Gave it away to another woman, no less?’

In that instant, the Shura Field was so silent that one could hear a pin drop.

She approached him, expressionless. “Darling, where’s my Chaos Bead?”

Alex froze, not knowing what she meant by that.

Dorothy mouthed out the following words. ‘Matrimonial properties.’

“Uhm, this...” Alex was dumbfounded, not knowing what to say.

The Mystic Maiden took a few steps forward, visibly confident as she stood in between the two. She then took her stand and announced shamelessly. “The Chaos Bead is mine, and so is your husband and all his assets. Even you are mine!”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2636

The sudden declaration made Alex want to instantly switch souls, for he did not know which side he should be on. After looking at this and that, Alex was left in a dilemma.

Xerxes, who was next to him, smiled affectionately at him, like an aunt.

Shura’s field was a horrible and familiar image because the relationship dispute never left him. That was an unforgettable experience. It was nerve-racking whenever he thought about it.

The Grand Bodhisattva’s cry helped Alex to relieve the situation.

Alex hurriedly grasped his hand. "Bodhisattva, thank you so much. If it weren't for your hand just now, we would have all died here. When we go back later, I will definitely make a statue of you... a huge one, so that many will offer you incense."

Alex said all this while walking in the distance.

Shura field was not a place for people to stay long!

The little Bodhisattva smiled. There was a certain special affinity, perhaps due to being close to the cultivator of Buddhism. She said, "I see that you have the root of wisdom, a small seedling in Buddhist cultivation. It is fate that we met. I have a welcome gift for you."

"Oh? A welcome gift?" Alex was naturally happy.

Last time at the Shoraionji Temple, when he met the Maha, he received a large pool of Yin Yang Chi Water, which could be considered great serendipity. So, one wondered what he could get this time?

"What is it? The Great Buddha fruit, Holy Water, the Divine Emperor's blood... Do you have any of these? It is urgent. Give as much as you can."

Despite saying these words, Alex didn't really expect the Grand Bodhisattva to take them out. He just saw Dorothy and the Mysterious Maiden of Nine Heavens looking at him as if they were going to come over and continue to pull him into the Shura field, so he casually spat a few words out.

The ones he mentioned were all heavenly treasures, which were hard to find on earth.

Where to look for them?

When the Grand Bodhisattva heard his lion's demand, she was also frightened, and his face was trembling directly.

After hesitating a while, he shook his head and said, "I'm really sorry. Whether it's the Great Buddha Fruit or Holy Water, I don't have any in my hands, and in the whole world, I don't think many can take them out. And the divine Emperor's blood you mentioned... That's even more impossible to have."

Alex was only joking when he said, “So that’s how it is... Haha! Then, forget what I said! I thought that if you are such a badass, the welcome gift must also be very badass. After all, in the hands of a badass, one should not take out a child’s plaything. That would be a disgrace to the Bodhisattva, right? Haha... It’s okay. It’s okay. It’s okay not to have a welcome gift. It can only mean that we have deep love for each other.”

Not far away, Dorothy was listening to it!

At that moment, it felt particularly embarrassing. How could a big man talk to a little monk about deep love?

Was he going to make a mess?

However, in the next second, the Grand Bodhisattva said again, “Although I have none of those that you said, my welcome gift will not be bad. It is a piece of divine devil crystal I got when I suppressed the Yin Emperor. ”

“Divine devil crystal?”

When the Mysterious Maiden of Nine Heavens heard it, she became excited.

“Is there really such a thing as a divine devil crystal?”

Dorothy pulled her back. “What are you excited about? That was a gift from Little Bodhi to my husband. You don’t want to take it for yourself again, do you? I don’t know what your status is, but wouldn’t doing that look disgraceful?”

The Mysterious Maiden of Nine Heavens lightly hummed. “You can ask your husband who I am to him. Believe me. My status is definitely higher than yours.”

Dorothy was a jealous person. It took her a lot of effort to regain the freedom to see the man she had been thinking about, one she was willing to stick with all day long. Now, a woman had appeared out of nowhere, provoking her sensitive nerves again and again.

It really drove her crazy. However, she finally held back

At home, behind closed doors, she could ask Alex anything. But outside, she had to keep her dignity intact.

Xerxes asked, "What is a divine devil crystal?"

The Mysterious Maiden of Nine Heavens replied, "The divine devil crystal can be considered the life essence of a divine devil."

"This... Can this be treasure? Isn't it disgusting?" exclaimed Mandy as she covered her mouth.

Mystic Maiden was amazed. "You actually said that the life essence of gods and devils is disgusting?"

Mandy glanced towards the location of Xerxes' lower energy core and said, "No one knows who the gods and devils are. If it is someone we know, then it is fine. If it is a stranger, however, won't you feel disgusted? What's the use?"

Mystic Maiden answered, "To eat, of course!"

"Eat? Oh...My god!"

Xerxes hastily pulled her and whispered, "Mandy, don't talk anymore. The life essence she's talking about is definitely not the same life essence you understand."

Mystic Maiden said, "The divine devil crystal is the divine demon soldier's reincarnation. It leaves behind not only huge life essence, but also the will of the martial arts sect when the divine devil was alive. If one is lucky, one might get part of the inheritance. It is one of the many heavenly treasures belonging to the upper tier of treasures."

Mandy suddenly realized and felt a little embarrassed. "So, it is this type of essence!"

Mystic Maiden was curious, "What is the essence of divine and demonic life that you understand?"

"I..."

Mandy couldn't say anything. She kicked at Xerxes and said something baffling, "It's all your fault, bad guy!"

On the other hand, the Grand Bodhisattva had already handed a divine devil crystal to Alex

The crystal body was reddish purplish and irregular in shape and was not much bigger than an adult thumb. At first glance, it was nothing special. But, when one looked at it for a long time, there was an illusion of the soul getting sucked into it.

Weird!

Mysterious!

Powerful!

It was like a bottomless black hole, constantly devouring the will of people.

"Good stuff!"

The first time Alex got it in his hand, he knew he had picked up a treasure. The life essence on it was so huge that it was shocking. Just holding it in his hand, he could feel the kind of life nourishing comfort.

The Grand Bodhisattva continued, "But for now, you can't use this divine devil crystal because it belongs to the underworld, stained with its demonic origin. With your current cultivation level, you can't filter the demonic origin inside. Once it is stained, the consequences are unpredictable."

Alex said, "Bodhisattva, can you help me filter and purify it?"

The Grand Bodhisattva shook her head, "I can't, but there is a place that can, Shoraionji Temple."

Alex said, "But Shoraionji Temple has already disappeared into the void and cannot be found."

The Grand Bodhisattva laughed. "What's so difficult about that? I am about to go to Shoraionji Temple to get something, so if you come with me, you might just solve it."

“Uh, I’m afraid I can’t I have to go to save my companions. They may be in the Sea Immortal Mountain!”

“Amitabha Buddha, the monk has a destiny with my Buddha. There is a way to send the Buddha to the west. I can go with you to the Sea Immortal Mountain.”

Alex was overjoyed. Having such a strong bodyguard accompanying him was something he couldn’t even dream of.

The group did not get off the ship but directly followed the road map provided by Luneth to the Sea Immortal Mountain.

As a result, they unexpectedly met a hijacker halfway. He was Prince Baton of Galaxy Nova.

“Hahahahaha, kid, it is a small world! God doesn’t want you to live!”

“Yo, there is also a little baldy who walks the Buddhist path. We are more confident this time!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2638

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2638

Prince Baton was elated!

He had been looking for this kid for several days, and the trialists under him also suffered many losses, which made him very cranky this time.

Alex’s body was in possession of the ancient holy Buddhist relic! It was the key to him leaving the underworld, so he absolutely couldn’t miss it.

In the past few days, he even spread the news to all the trialists who came from Galaxy Nova and even to some trialists from other galaxies which had interactions and had done transactions with Galaxy Nova. He offered sky-high prices.

However, no one knew where he was. It was as if he had disappeared from the face of the earth.

Thus, no one expected to meet him here.

The Grand Bodhisattva had a strong ancient Buddhist aura emanating from her body. That was more than satisfactory, just like a wolf grandmother seeing the cute little red riding hood.

The Grand Bodhisattva was not happy, "Who are you? You will be punished by the Buddha for insulting this throne with your words."

Prince Baton was in a good mood. Standing on the deck of a huge sea ship, he smiled and asked, "It is kind of me to call you a baldy. If you continue to gibber, I'll rip your head off and use it as a night pot! You and your Buddha discipline nonsense. Buddha is dead, where is Buddha?"

The Grand Bodhisattva put her hands together, "Namo Amitabha!"

Prince Baton couldn't wait any longer. There were still many male trialists on his boat.

Immediately, he gave a greeting. In the next second, dozens of experts among the Trialists rushed out from their boats and jumped onto Alex and the others' boats, surrounding Alex and the others.

"To die, or to live?"

Prince Baton stood on the side of the boat and roared. His dozens of men also followed suit and yelled, "To die, or to live?"

The sound shook the heavens. Everyone's aura radiated, and they grabbed their weapons.

The battle was about to start.

The Grand Bodhisattva folded her hands, closed her eyes, and softly uttered the phrase, "Bodhisattva lowered her eyebrows, so she is compassionate; Vajra's eyes are angry, so he subdues the four devils."

Buzz!

The Grand Bodhisattva's joined hands exploded with ten thousand Buddhist lights. These Buddhist lights, in the end, actually transformed into a golden sword, shooting like electricity.

"Be careful!" Prince Baton shouted.

However, it was too late. The Grand Bodhisattva was a true mighty bodhisattva. With unparalleled special attributes among the underworld suppressed by the Dairaionji Temple, this strike could be called a thunderbolt.

The golden lightsaber shot through many trialists, happening all at once with only one sound. Dozens of trialists instantly fell.

Prince Baton was stunned, and his mouth was wide open. It was too unexpected.

A young monk who seemed to be a minor actually had such overwhelming strength?

This time, he really kicked an iron plate.

Who the hell was this monk?

He had been here for thousands of years and had taken many turns, but he had never heard of such a strong and overwhelming existence among the underworld.

"Run!" Prince Baton instantly made the choice.

Then, he fiercely jumped into the sea vertically. He wanted to just take the sea route, to escape for his life. The idea was well developed, but the reality would turn very tragic.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2639

Prince Baton had only escaped a hundred meters before he was grabbed by the Grand Bodhisattva.

Ping!

Prince Baron's soul was extinguished and flew away. After thousands of years of manual reincarnation here, he finally came to the end of his life.

There were still a dozen of Prince Baton's trialists on the boat who had not rushed out, and when they saw that Prince Baton, whose existence rivaled an old ancestor, had been exterminated, their scalps all went numb, their arms and legs withered, and they could barely stand.

“Dead!”

“We’re dead this time. What kind of existence have we provoked here?”

Everyone’s face was ashen. With their originally skeletal appearance, they looked even more deathly. However, they soon discovered that Alex and the others did not come on board to check after killing Prince Baton. They no longer cared about these small minions and instead, drove the ship straight away.

Killing Prince Baton seemed to be as simple as stepping on an ant.

These people exhaled a long breath of relief and regained their souls after Alex and others left.

“What kind of person is that little monk?”

“How should I know?”

“I heard that this underworld is suppressed by the Dairaionji Temple and that the monk is not a senior monk from the Dairaionji Temple, right?”

“Dairaionji Temple?”

Initially, this group was also on the way to Overseas Immortal Mountain. Prince Baton once said that the mountain had traps and great opportunities, and for the truly powerful trialists, it was a place to be visited. As for those people who spread this news everywhere, they were just clowns. So, there was no need to pay attention to them.

With the powerful Prince Baton around, this group of people certainly had nothing to worry about. But, now that Prince Baton was dead, they were a bit afraid to go.

Apparently, that terrifying monk, Alex, and the others were also heading in the direction of the Overseas Immortal Mountain.

Thus, they decided to turn around and go in another direction. This was the best decision.

At the back of the boat, Alex and Dorothy leaned on each other. The only fly in the ointment was that Alex had a skeleton body, so relying on him was a little uncomfortable. Alex, on the other hand, hadn't touched the body of pure flesh and blood for a long, long time.

Hugging Dorothy's delicate body, he sighed.

"Dad is back?"

"And a big shot did soul plating on him?"

When she heard the news of William from Alex's mouth, Dorothy was shocked.

Alex did not know about soul planting before. Still, Dorothy had received all kinds of information from her previous life and happened to know what soul planting was, "Dad, I don't know what he endured, but he actually suffered this inhuman torture. There really aren't many great people who can plant a soul!"

Alex sighed. He had said a lot.

There was his own entry into the incredible world of America, as well as what he had seen after returning, the current situation of America today, and of course, most importantly, the children at home.

When it came to the Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter quadruplets, Dorothy rolled her eyes. "How can you be such a father? The name is too casual. Have you ever paid attention? They are your own flesh!"

When talking about the children, Alex was also embarrassed.

"Speaking of which, I'm really not a good father. Having borne so many children, I haven't had much time to spend with them, especially Bubbles, who followed me into the undead territory. She suffered a lot, and I do not know if she's dead or alive."

"Bubbles? Which one? Whose nickname is that besides Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter? Alive or dead? What's going on? Tell me quickly. You're killing me!" Dorothy was anxious when she heard it.

Before this, Alex described his experience in America but, he did not mention the daughter he had with Daya.

“Uh, this...”

Alex suddenly remembered that after Dorothy had given birth, she had her soul sealed by Daya and had no idea that Alex had another child.

However, it was impossible to hide it at this point.

“Bubbles, not any of the ones in Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter.”

Dorothy sighed with relief but immediately came back to his senses. “Not Spring, Summer, Autumn, or Winter? Then who is it? Did you later have a child with someone else?”

“Uh, not later, it was... Before.”

“Before? Before I gave birth to your child, you already had a child with another woman?”

Dorothy glared with her beautiful eyes and was furious all of a sudden.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2640

The seas surged, and the rain was heavy, causing a thick mist to descend.

Above the sea, the rain had started falling suddenly, snapping on the sea. The rain got heavier and heavier, and in a moment, a storm had whipped up. There was lightning and thunder, and dark clouds rolled by.

“Get in!”

Alex pulled up Dorothy and retreated into the cabin. The awkward question about who the first child was was temporarily relieved.

“Why is it suddenly raining so heavily?”

“Just now, there was a clear blue sky with direct sunlight, and in an instant, it’s become like this. This sea weather is really baffling,” Mandy spat breathlessly.

"This rain is indeed odd," Xerxes said.

Dorothy looked back and frowned. "Look behind. There is a kind of eerie feeling. The color of the sea has changed."

Just now, the sky was blue, and the sea was peaceful. Now, darkness had engulfed the area as if it was in the deep of the night. The sea raged with impunity, rocking the boat violently back and forth. When encountering big waves, people were tossed around.

Luneth said, "I have heard that the surrounding of the Overseas Immortal Mountain has had thunderstorms all year round. There are monsters. The place is full of danger."

The crowd heard this, and their hearts sank.

Just then, a deafening roar of thunder shook the boat. The lightning was like a knife in the sky, coming straight down from the heavens. The pitch-black heaven and earth showed a glimpse of light.

In the direction of the sea ship's path, a distant and misty place appeared. There were black shadows silently present.

Boom!

This was the last lightning bolt.

After that, it was like entering a special and weird place again. The thunderstorm that rang through the ears disappeared and was replaced by extreme silence... It was a state that completely silenced body and spirit. It was pitch black, and nothing could be seen. They could not even see and touch the people around them.

"Wifey? Dorothy, Dorothy!"

Alex shouted a few times. But, there was no response. He even felt that the sound he made disappeared into nothing and could not be transmitted.

"This is a natural force field?!"

Alex tried divine thoughts, soul power, spiritual eyes, and divine eyes. All were unable to break through this barrier. It was like being caught in some horrible dream world where all the senses of the body were deprived.

It was a claustrophobic fear.

Buzz...

At this very moment, he felt a tremor in his divine soul. Something in the sea of consciousness rushed out, like a ray of light, and ruthlessly split forward.

"This is... That ax?" Alex was shocked.

This ghost axe absorbed much of his soul power previously. Each time, it absorbed 90%, leaving him with the remaining 10%. It was really greedy. Also, it did not give a response whenever Alex tried to use it. This axe had been very ungrateful all these while. Alex did not expect it would take the initiative to appear this time.

This chop instantly split the enormous black curtain and opened a gap.

In the next second, Alex's entire body was stunned.

"What is this thing?"

What had split open was not a giant curtain but more like a shell.

He made a strong effort to get out of the gap that split, and found that there was no such thing as a big curtain.

The outside was still stormy and windy, and the waves were so heavy that the reason why nothing could be seen or heard was because everyone's body was wrapped in a weird kind of membrane, like a one by one human-shaped shell.

"What the hell is this?"

Alex felt a kind of creepiness and was shivering. This feeling was so bad that he felt hysterical fear from the heart. He saw a black shadow engulfing Dorothy, too, a human shaped black shell.

He hurriedly grabbed out his Xavion sword, intending to split it open. Just as he raised his sword and was about to do it, he suddenly had a powerful feeling of chills down his spine. He turned around violently, and the next second immediately his soul was scared out of him.

Behind him actually appeared hundreds of pairs of eyes with a fierce, green light.
