The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2661

The emperor was furious. "You're too weak to lock me down!"

Boom!

A white ball of flames was ignited on every strand of hair. The flames then slid down and were directed towards the iron chains.

The emperor clearly wanted to melt the chains of Persephone's Folly Bridge, killing both Alex and Shelly in the process. However, the current Shelly was obviously stronger than before.

"Come to me, Five Flavored Tea of Forgetfulness!"

Splash!

A large amount of tea fell from the skies, landing on the emperor's flaming hair, instantly extinguishing the fireballs. Even his hair was starting to corrode, releasing green smoke as each strand evaporated into green smoke...

The emperor had fairly strong hair, even the white flames couldn't burn it off. Yet it stood no chance against the Five Flavoured Tea of Forgetfulness.

Shelly was merely returning the favor, letting the tea corrode his hair.

The emperor's eyes reddened, but could only cut his newly grown hair out of desperation.

He howled, "Why do you have the Five Flavored Tea of Forgetfulness? I've already killed Old Lady Meng! Who are you? Why... Why do you look so familiar? Have I seen you before..."

Shelly was obviously the subject of his questions. She adjusted her hair stick and said, "If you still have the Palatial's memories, you'll probably realize who I am!"

The emperor stared at her for quite some time.

His eyes lit up brighter than the stars as he blurted out.

“You... Are you Rachel?”

Shelly nodded cockily.

Alex was silent, and his eyes darted around the two as confusion filled his mind.

He couldn't help but think. 'Don't tell me... Was Shelly romantically involved with the Palatial? Dang. Now that's scary.'

The emperor was utterly shocked. “Why are you here?”

Shelly pointed at Alex. “I'm his guardian. So I go wherever he goes.”

Upon hearing this, the emperor widened his eyes. “You? You, despite your status, became his guardian?”

'Huh?' Alex froze. 'What does that mean?'

'Is Shelly really strong? You're just underestimating me, aren't you?'

Shelly looked straight at the emperor. “Oh, Little Palatial, have you been studying Buddhism to the point it fried your brain? Just let it go. If you're not going to follow Buddhism to its fullest, you will become a demon. Now that you've kept your promise, why don't you hand your mission over to someone more suitable?”

The emperor seemed to be at a loss for a second there. However, his expression became determined once more, his eyes reddened as well. “So what if you're Rachel? Buddha may have been cautious around you when you were the Starlord of the West, but you're no longer that person!”

“Besides, even if Buddha showed up now, he wouldn't be able to stop my legacy! My legacy, my beliefs, would soon be known within all Buddhists in the Siddhartha realm!”

“If you dare to get in my way, I'll kill you regardless!”

“Rise, Tomb of the Corpse King!”

After the emperor declared war, there was no way of convincing him any further. All they could do was battle.

At the same time, there was a casket right underneath the largest tombstone within the Underworld Tomb. It was filled with carvings of a dragon and phoenix. The bronze casket shot out of the ground as the lid opened in midair. A male corpse of six foot five then jumped out of it, lunging towards the bridge.

“Argh!!!”

With a loud howl, corpse energy exploded in the air. It was the Corpse Princess’ father, the Corpse King.

They didn’t expect him to show up at all.

“Kill them!” The emperor ordered.

After receiving orders, the Corpse King immediately took action.

The chains of Persephone’s Folly Bridge flew out once more. However, the result was rather disappointing. The bridge didn’t seem to like beings like the Corpse King. Hence, the rusted chains gave up entirely, not doing their job anymore.

“Get lost!” The Corpse King roared, struggling out of all the chains by throwing them off.

A pale white sword appeared in his hands, filled with corpse energy as it swung down towards the two.

“Oh my god, he actually clocked that attack? Have his powers exceeded the gods? Is he Acro Divine now?!” Xerxes couldn’t help but blurt. He could not find the words to express his shock, knowing that he himself wouldn’t have been able to take that attack head-on.

However, the others had no idea that Shelly was mocking Alex in his mind palace. “Look at you cowering. What are you even scared of?”

Alex was furious. "What do you think? Can you not tell that this guy is at least five major stages stronger than me? Why don't you have a turn then? Even if I'm Acro Divine, I still wouldn't be able to fight this big guy here, right?"

Shelly didn't care. "That's your problem."

Frustrated, he yelled at her out of rage. "Ugh, f*ck you!"

Shelly was annoyed. "I'll f*ck you, you coward!"

"What?!" Alex froze up.

Nonetheless, his attention was drawn towards the Corpse King's attack pattern. Since this was a tough battle, he couldn't possibly let his guard down. He was putting his life on the line, after all.

"Argh..!" The Corpse King seemed angry that Alex didn't die from his attack

Shouting, the king continued to swing the corrupted Corpse Sword towards Alex, attacking him furiously.

Clank! Clank! Clank!

Their weapons clashed with each other, filling the air with the sounds of metal. In the end, the golden spear was broken in half by the Corpse Sword.

Despite this, he noticed that the corroded sword was still unscathed. It remained rusty, with green, oxidized matter around it. Looking at it, one would think it would break from chopping wood, let alone clash with a divine weapon.

Reality was just that cruel. Despite being something that many would deem trash, that disgustingly corroded sword managed to break Athena's Golden Spear.

This spear was her staff as the Goddess of War.

"Die!!!"

Alex was stunned, grabbing the broken spear with both his hands. Seeing this, the Corpse King took the chance and attacked once more, hoping to kill Alex in one go.

On a matter of life and death, Alex's potential exploded, instantly activating the furnace of forbidden spells, attacking with the Great Icebound Curse.

Swish... Bzzrt...

As the sword swung downwards, the Corpse King felt a strong force bouncing back. The Great Icebound Spell first affected the Corpse King, freezing it completely.

Then the king's body as well.

"Huh?"

"Could that be... The Ten-Point Forbidden Spell?"

The emperor was rather shocked when he noticed the curse Alex cast. Upon closer inspection, Alex's attacks managed to slow down the Corpse king, too, stiffening him up by the second.

Nonetheless, the shock only lasted for a short while, and he was able to calm down right after. He didn't lend the king a hand, nor did he use the power of the tomb to pressure Dorothy and the others. It felt as if he turned into a bystander, watching Alex and the Corpse King fight.

He would take a few glances at Shelly from time to time, clearly filled with mixed emotions.

'Rachel, you were a legendary prodigy back then. You even looked down on Buddha!'

'Yet now, you're willing to be a mere tool spirit and this brat's guardian. I'd really like to see what's so special about him.'

'If he just knows a few spells, then I'll do you a good deed and kill him off. You won't have to waste any more of your time too. I, the Palatial Bodhi, am still merciful at heart.' The Corpse King thought.

The next second, he was so appalled that his eyeballs looked like they were going to pop out.

That was because of a bunch of old branches coming out of Alex's forehead. They wrapped themselves around the Corpse Sword, dragging it in. Hence, Alex managed to steal the weapon successfully.

“That tree branch... What feeling is this? Could that be... Is that the Chaos tree?”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2664

The emperor jumped when he realized Alex could control a Chaos Tree. He thought what would happen if he were to receive recognition from the Chaos Tree. He then imagined this scenario but shook his head right after.

‘Even if I did get the tree, it wouldn’t be of any use to me. It’s not aligned with my strong beliefs, so it would just lead me down another path.’

‘As the Palatial, the Emperor of the Underworld was just a shell that I lent.’

Everything he did was to bring the Siddhartha realm back up. It’s just that his journey was different from the old Buddhist ways. Hence, he calmed down but felt rather disappointed upon realization. He still insisted that Rachel chose wrongly.

Alex possessed the Ten-Point Forbidden Spells and the ability to control the Chaos Tree. Even then, these powers would not be able to further his path in Buddhism.

On the contrary, these powers would only distract him from his main path, which would turn into obstacles in the long term.

‘Rachel, you should have chosen me!’

Just then, the broken spear disappeared into thin air, replaced by the corroded sword that once belonged to the Corpse King... Within seconds, the Chaos Tree was able to take the sword as its own, even wiping the Corpse King’s mental mark off.

“Looks like he’s one of his kind. He received the Chaos Tree’s recognition after all,” the emperor said softly to himself.

He noticed Shelly looking at him as she stood on Persephone’s Folly Bridge.

He grinned. “Rachel, this guy you found is pretty lucky. But that’s all he is. It’s impossible for him to be the leader of the Buddhists, turning us into the strongest clan in the universe. Buddhists need someone who truly understands Buddhism. However, he has learned such random skills, which just makes him impure.”

“So, Rachel, why don’t you join me instead?”

“Do what with you? Be a traitor, a villain against Buddhism? Or worse, a demon king?”

Shelly’s words were as sharp as needles, piercing right through his heart. In an instant, he was aggravated, screaming hysterically. He wanted to make Shelly regret saying such things to him.

At the same time, Shelly was observing the Soul Collection Coffin closely.

The gravitational force was digesting the trialists and bone demons on top of the Underworld Tomb. At the same time, the ones possessed by the weird energy started coming back to their senses.

Upon waking up, everyone was horrified to the point it made them sweat cold bullets. Their own two feet were standing inside of a coffin, next to a grave dug out just for them.

Many started shrieking in fear as if this situation was a nightmare to them... Some were actually sleeping at the time, yet summoned by the emperor while being asleep.

One couldn’t possibly stay calm after waking up to this.

“Where is this?”

“Where am I?”

“Who am I?”

Every person started asking themselves such questions after being awakened.

“Ahhh!!!”

“Why am I here? This is a graveyard! Have I died?”

Just then, a loud, clear female voice rang through the crowd. “Chase, aren’t we going to the foreign divine mountain to look for Lunafreya? We’re not even at the shore yet, so why are we here?”

This woman wasn’t just anyone. She was Luneth’s best friend, Cecilia.

‘Huh, I didn’t expect them to be summoned here either. And they were saved by Alex’s Soul Collection Coffin by coincidence.’

Shelly’s calm voice echoed within the tomb. “You all have been held captive by the Emperor of the Underworld. His goal was to borrow your lives to gain power. But the catch is... He’s not returning what he borrowed. Just look around...”

Her voice sounded mysterious, chiming in all the trialists’ ears, and hearing this right after waking up only confused and frightened them more.

‘Using our lives... Without returning them too. Isn’t that equivalent to killing us?’

Moreover, the emperor was personally participating in this battle.

‘F*ck. Is anyone going to tell us what we’re supposed to do now?’

Shelly continued. “Do you guys see that sea of tombstones? Yeah, that’s what would happen to you all. If you die here, you will turn into a tombstone, with nothing of you left in this plane.”

“Impossible!”

“I refuse to believe this. Why would something like that happen?”

Some didn’t want to believe her, their expressions turning cold.

Moreover, that person even attacked the trialist next to them a few seconds after voicing their opinion. They cut off the trialist’s head right off. After the man lost his head, he obviously couldn’t survive any longer. However, his soul was still not dead yet, expressing his rage.

Just then, something odd happened. When the person died, the coffin under their legs created some sort of mysterious energy. The energy restricted his body and mind, dragging him into the coffin.

Later on, the lid to the coffin closed on its own.

Splash!

The mud next to them seemed to be controlled by some type of law power, making it sink into the pit. In the blink of an eye, that person's casket disappeared, but a tombstone somehow rose from the ground.

There seemed to be some words carved on it as well. 'Here lies Benedict Marlenis, the disciple of Cloud Atlas clan from Galaxy Nova.'

In an instant, the people who saw this were insanely stunned. The rumors were true after all, those who died did have, in fact, turned into tombstones.

"That... She was telling the truth?"

"Would we end up like him too? Is there no way to survive?"

Everyone wanted an answer right there and then. They definitely didn't want to just die in this realm. No one wanted that.

Shelly's mysterious voice chimed into everyone's ears again. She told them that they had to unite forces and defeat the emperor if they wanted to survive. However, first and foremost, they had to kill the Corpse King off.

Shelly could only speak to those trialists on top by inserting her divine consciousness into the tomb. Her methods were quite thorough, and even the emperor didn't realize her tricks, despite controlling this entire realm.

"Kill the Corpse King?"

"Where is the Corpse King anyway?"

Some trialists weren't all that bright, unable to understand Shelly's words.

Everyone only realized that someone was fighting the king when Shelly pointed towards Alex. That fierce aura that courageous and determined attitude fired everyone up for this.

“Attack!” The people who woke up from the tomb rushed out.

With the help of the bridge, the trialists were able to leave the tomb with ease. Watching Alex and the Corpse King fight, everyone was shocked and helpless. It was because they couldn't help at all.

However, Alex had just set a formation down, cooperating with the trialists' positions, gathering everyone to kill the Corpse King together.

Boom!

Three minutes later, the king resigned to fatigue. When he had fallen from multiple long ranged attacks, Alex used his own weapon, The Corpse Sword and aimed it towards his neck.

The Corpse King then died under the fists of numerous trialists.

“Yay!”

“Haha! Oh my, that was the Corpse King, yet he still died with our combined forces!”

“Then would it be any harder to defeat the Emperor of the Underworld? I feel like we could totally do that with our current condition!”

“Where's the emperor, huh? Where is he? Has he run away like a little coward?” The crowd was starting to get hyped up. Some even shouted cockily.

Despite this, the emperor huffed coldly, “You peasants, how dare you speak such foolish words? I'm not even interested in flicking my fingers in your direction. One spit from me is enough to drown all of you. Got it?”

Even if all the trialists gathered their strength and took out a corpse king, it was obviously not enough in the eyes of the Grand Bodhisattva.

It was why he had given such a bold statement, a mouthful of saliva that drowned everyone. However, the trialists had just killed a corpse king and were in high spirits. They were very confident. This was because the existence of the corpse king was not by infamy, but in the past period, it had been a nightmare for many trialists, such as Daya and Shirley. They personally experienced the horror of that city. It was difficult to run out of it, and Channing stayed there forever...

“Hahaha! A mouthful of saliva to drown us? Are you daydreaming?”

“I’ll drown you with pee, do you believe it?”

“Look at him, guys, isn’t he the little dune inside the monk’s temple? Now that the Western Buddha Sect has been exterminated, here he is, still pretending. I think he is a pretender. Can such a person be the Supreme Emperor of the Underworld? I don’t even believe it. He must be an impostor. I don’t know what he’s trying to do.”

“Come on. Come on, guys. Let’s do this together. Regardless of whether he is real or not, first, give him a break. Let him drink, eat meat and play with women... Any women here who have a special taste towards men? A female demon would do fine. This guy looks okay, so let’s give him meat Let him understand how beautiful the secular world is. Do not waste time in the monk temple, or you’ll end up being irresponsible to your parents.”

The group was in an elated mood, and they were not afraid of the Supreme Emperor.

After all, the Grand Bodhisattva’s current appearance was far worse compared to the corpse king.

Not to mention that there was no semblance of fierceness. He still looked very tender, delicious, and easy to bully.

“Me!”

In the crowd, there was really such a person. A woman wearing red clothes came out. One could not see how she looked, but she was certainly not a human but a female demon.

It had a tail!

She took a few steps forward, staring at the Grand Bodhisattva. With a curvaceous body, she shyly spoke, “Then, let me, a slave, try giving this little monk a taste of what is called unforgettable youth. Then, you will thank me for letting you know the feeling of a man. I guarantee you will come back in the future.”

She saw the Grand Bodhisattva with the face of a young boy with clear eyes. There was no danger at all.

So, her courage grew, and her pace increased.

Alex was speechless. This would really cause death. If the Grand Bodhisattva was seen as a harmless Buddhist teenage boy, one was very wrong.

Soon, Alex’s view was confirmed.

Poof!

The Grand Bodhisattva did not even look at the female demon.

Flexing his fingers, a breeze that did not feel particularly strong shot at the woman’s body. The next second, the woman let out a scream, her entire body was burning violently, fiercely like gasoline. The bystanders simply could not put the flames out, and there was no need to anyway-after just three seconds, the female demon’s entire body was burned away.

“F*ck!”

“Why is this fire so strange? Is it the legendary flame of the Buddha’s wrath?”

All of a sudden, the trialists who were just laughing and teasing the monk were shocked, and their faces changed considerably.

Someone shouted, “The little monk is powerful... We’d better run first!”

Among the trialists, some people quickly backed up and wanted to escape. However, the Grand Bodhisattva directly opened his mouth and literally spat out a mouthful of saliva. A modest mouthful of spittle was accompanied by a dotted splash, which landed on the crowd. In the next second, a strange change emerged.

The saliva that the Grand Bodhisattva spat carried some kind of law power. It glowed at this moment, illuminating a large area of trialists gathered there. In that one moment, the trialists who were enveloped by the light were immediately unable to breathe. Their souls were bound as if they were drowning.

They opened their mouths and breathed heavily. However, that feeling was as if a fish had gone ashore and couldn't breathe the oxygen they needed even if they opened their mouths.

"Ahh!"

"Help..! Help!"

Those who were affected by this symptom wave pinched their throats. It was very difficult to call for help. Those who were not enveloped by the light retreated in fear.

"Chase! Chase! What's wrong with you?"

"Come over! Come over!"

A woman's voice called out anxiously. It was none other than Cecilia.

Unfortunately, the man with her, Luneth's bodyguard Chase, was enveloped by the glow of the Grand Bodhisattva's saliva, and as a result, there were signs that he was going to drown.

Chase had saved her several times, and she couldn't abandon him. So, she reached over and tried to pull Chase over. However, to her surprise, just as her fingers touched the light, her body went out of control and immediately followed Chase, showing symptoms of drowning and suffocation.

"Cecilia, Chase!"

A voice woke Alex up.

He knew it was Luneth's voice, so it was Luneth coming over.

Then the others...

Sure enough, everyone had come. Xerxes drove the golden bamboo boat, rushing to the shore long ago.

Dorothy and the others came over to help in case Alex had an accident because Luneth happened to hear Cecilia shouting and saw with her own eyes that she was affected by the light waves. Her body was in an uncomfortable condition.

She also wanted to go to help, but was pulled back by Mystic Maiden, who said, "You better save the trouble. If you go, you will die."

Xerxes, who was next to her, asked, "Is she the Peach family heir who can lift the witch's curse, as you said?"

Luneth nodded her head.

Xerxes immediately said, "I'll go save her!"

Cecilia was his only hope, so he had to save that woman even if it was hazardous. He rushed over but did not approach the glow created by the saliva.

Instead, he used the secret technique of the Maiko Sect and threw out a thousand paper cranes, which flew into the air and changed into a five meter tall giant crane that rushed towards Cecilia.

The result was unexpected. The moment these thousand paper cranes were touched by the light, they fell, and nothing was saved.

"So evil?" Xerxes was surprised.

At that moment, the Grand Bodhisattva spat out another mouthful. This time, it was even more potent than just now, almost enveloping all trialists.

Xerxes was also hit.

Alex rubbed his browbone, and suddenly he had a headache.

Dorothy, Daya, Shirley, and Ynes, had already rushed to Alex's side.

"What are you guys doing here?"

“We came to help you! Are we supposed to watch you fight to the death while we eat melons and watch the show from the back?”

Alex immediately said, “That aside, the Grand Bodhisattva’s spittle is a medium that carries law power. It is imperative that we break this rule and save Cecilia.”

“I’ll try!” Dorothy opened her mouth.

”You...?”

Dorothy’s was indeed not weak. She hit a “Beauty’s Heart Sutra” and shot an arrow to test.

Not only did this not break the laws of the Grand Bodhisattva, but it attracted his attention. He pressed a palm over.

Seeing this, Alex also slapped his palm over.

Great Mighty Divine Palm!

Boom!

There was a loud sound, and Alex thumped back five steps.

However, the Grand Bodhisattva did not do anything. Instead, he turned his hand and grabbed Dorothy and the others over, which were also exposed to that cloud of light.

Up to this point, Alex once again had to fight alone, and time was once again running out.

“Ah...It’s really going crazy!”

Alex was bewildered. Couldn’t anyone see the strength of the Grand Bodhisattva? They were here to mess things up. How could he rectify this situation?

The Grand Bodhisattva shifted his attention on Alex as well. Nonetheless, the last one to look at was Shelly.

“Shelly, can you tell me the reason why you chose him in the end?”

“I don’t see any future in him.”

Shelly stood on the Persephone’s Folly Bridge. It was actually raining on the bridge, and she didn’t know when she had an extra umbrella in her hand as if she had come out from the painting of Elliot, one that possessed an extremely characteristic classical beauty.

“My mind, you do not need to guess.” As Shelly lightly spoke, there was a breeze blowing through the rain curtain, blowing her shoulder length black hair, which was poetic and long, “But your mind, I do not need to guess. In my opinion, although he is also not the best candidate, compared with you, he is obviously ten times to a hundred times stronger.”

“Stronger than me by ten times to a hundred times? Are you kidding?” Grand Bodhisattva’s expression went cold, ready to turn against Alex. “I can destroy him with one hand.”

Shelly nodded. “In terms of current strength, you do crush him, but in terms of potential, you are far inferior. With the Buddhist sect relying on you, you will only die faster. Grand Bodhisattva, you’d better wake up. The suppression of the Supreme Emperor by the Dairaionji Temple is the best evidence. Instead, you want to become the Supreme Emperor, which is putting the cart before the horse.”

The Grand Bodhisattva smiled and became emotional. “That’s because the Dairaionji Temple can’t work anymore and can’t recognize people.”

Shelly said, “It’s you who are obsessed and discredit the Buddhist Sect.”

“Bullshit!”

“Refuse to believe, and you will be forgotten. Anyway, his potential is far above yours.”

“Indeed, I don’t believe it.”

“You can have a contest, a contest of the Buddha’s heart. Only then will you understand who is the way out of the Buddhist sect.”

The Grand Bodhisattva snarled, “Come on! But, I have to set the rules.”

Shelly said, “Whatever.”

Seeing Shelly’s face full of confidence, the Grand Bodhisattva looked at Alex and could not help but beat the drum in his heart... ‘Shelly’s words were so sure, so certain. Could it be that this person’s Buddha heart was really more powerful than mine?’

This, of course, was because Shelly’s identity was more special.

After a while, The Grand Bodhisattva said, “In that case, I will have a contest with him for the Buddha’s heart, and if I win, from now on, you become my protector of the way and serve me.”

Alex hurriedly transmitted his voice towards Shelly, “Hey, you won’t agree to that, right? I can’t win in a test of Buddha’s heart.”

However, Shelly only gave him a reassuring look and said towards The Grand Bodhisattva, “What if you lose?”

The Grand Bodhisattva said, “Then I will give up my identity as the Supreme Emperor of the Underworld and convert from now on.”

Shelly said, “Good!”

The Grand Bodhisattva closed his eyes and let go of his mind.

It took a good while before he said to Alex, “Begin! But I will only give you as long as it takes for a stick of incense to burn. Look, your wife and friends can last another stick. If you can’t defeat me within that, then sorry. Your wife, friend, will stay here forever.”

“You...”

Alex was about to speak.

However, the Grand Bodhisattva no longer wanted to give him any chance to speak. His hand raised, and heaven and earth changed.

This was the spiritual realm of the Grand Bodhisattva.

Alex was dragged in.

“Within the span of an incense stick, if you can break through my spiritual realm and find your way back, then I will be considered the loser!”

The Grand Bodhisattva’s voice echoed in his ears.

“One incense stick!”

“That’s really harsh!”

Alex spat, but he also understood that this was the only way to save Dorothy, Daya and the others. Once he failed, the odds were that he would die within this spiritual realm first.

Knowing his spiritual realm, the unparalleled spiritual vision that appeared, Alex had infinite hope again. He did not think his spiritual vision was inferior to others. On the contrary, his spiritual vision was a strong existence that could cross the level to kill the enemy. If it was the competition of the spiritual field, he felt that breaking the spiritual field of others should not be difficult!

Unfortunately, the truth hit him with a stifling blow.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2669

Within the spiritual domain of the Grand Bodhisattva, everything that had nothing to do with Buddha was blocked. This rule was like a super cheat code.

If a trialist who did not follow the Buddha’s path entered into such a spiritual field, the trialist would become a lamb for slaughter and be unable to move. Even Alex himself could not use non-Buddhist abilities. Such a rule also applied to the Grand Bodhisattva.

“In that case, I will have to rely on divine power!” Suddenly, Alex took out a wooden bell, the very same one that he snatched from Shirley.

This wooden bell was from the Dairaionji Temple... It once existed in another heaven and earth. As a result, it was taken out before changing hands to Alex!

He had seen the power of the wooden bell. With the sound of the wooden bell rising and falling, Alex's spirit in this spiritual realm also got better, and his mind was clear.

"This wooden fish, it's terrific!"

"The Buddha's heart is the Buddha in my heart. Do I have Buddha in my heart?"

When it came to that, even Alex could not say.

The process of inheriting the Ksitigarbha's heritage was completely passive. The Ksitigarbha was actually long gone.

Was it really because he had Buddha in his heart that made Ksitigarbha choose him?

Not necessarily!

If one really wanted to count from among the devout Buddhist disciples, Alex would not make the cut. Any faithful Buddhist man or woman could crush him on the ground. Now, he was fortunate. However, he believed that the Ksitigarbha must have its purpose.

At the same time, when he received the inheritance, what Ksitigarbha said to him was still vivid in his mind.

Several masterpieces were also circling in his mind.

"Buddha's Heart!"

"Breaking the domain open!"

"Forming a domain... Domain collision..."

Alex's brain was spinning at high speed, deducing how he could break open the Grand Bodhisattva's spiritual domain within the time of one incense stick.

One minute, three minutes, five minutes...

An incense stick would take about half an hour to burn down completely.

Time was getting shorter, and he was getting more and more nervous.

Fifteen minutes, twenty minutes.

Alex always knocked the wooden bell while sitting on the ground. He was not moving.

Only the last three minutes were left. Alex still did not move, nor did he break the domain.

The Grand Bodhisattva's expression became relaxed, feeling there was no suspense in such a contest. Before this, Shelly scared him. When he really faced Alex, however, he was only a little bit bigger than a mole.

The thought of the Starlord of the West serving himself and becoming his own Daoist protector made him smile.

However, just at the last minute, the situation changed entirely. Alex rose. Taking the wooden bell in his hand, he struck out the last loud wooden bell sound.

After this, it came to an abrupt end. However, the spiritual domain of the Grand Bodhisattva collapsed at the sound of this one wooden bell.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2670

Those trialists who had just been tortured to death by the mysterious field in the light of the Grand Bodhisattva's saliva were almost literally drowning without water. Now, it was as if their tightly clenched necks had loosened, and all of them breathed heavily.

In fact, this was an illusion on the soul. It was actually the soul that was being held tightly, not the physical body. However, it was also hazardous.

The Grand Bodhisattva was not fear-mongering. Having been enveloped by that mysterious field power just now, it would create a drowning feeling, which was very real. Once one really could not support this illusion, one would really die... A soul death.

His time limit was an incense stick. In fact, some people couldn't last that long.

There was, for example, a time-sequence for the people covered with light, roughly divided into two waves... The first wave of trialists was the worst because they were immersed in the drowning state for the longest time. At least eighty percent of the three hundred people and bone demons had soul death.

The Grand Bodhisattva was right. They were really drowned by his mouthful of saliva.

The second wave was going to be a little better, as the proportion of deaths dropped significantly. However, due to a large number of bases, a total of over a hundred were dead. For Dorothy and the others who were the last, their lives were unhindered, although the previous process was still unbearable.

“Cecilia, Cecilia... Wake up, wake up!”

Luneth’s voice rang out in the crowd. Cecilia was drowned as well because she saved Chase’s life and ended up being irradiated by the light.

Now, the spiritual domain was broken by Alex, but Cecilia did not wake up immediately.

“Second brother, second brother! You died so horribly!”

”Wife... What am I going to do when you die? You promised me that when we leave the underworld, we will have children. Without you, I will have to have children with other women!”

“Ruth, Ruth, my good granddaughter...”

Among the crowd of trialists, countless people came with cries of sorrow. This was because many of the deaths consisted of their brothers and sisters and partners.

It’s all over.

There was no pill that could cure regret to buy in this world.

At the same time, the Grand Bodhisattva froze for a while. He was a bit unable to accept such a fact. In the Buddha Heart contest, he had actually failed.

Alex had not only broken his spiritual domain, but more importantly, he found that the moment his spiritual domain was broken, it had actually reduced his spiritual power. His spiritual domain had been severely damaged... No, not hurt, but swallowed up. A large piece was missing.

Alex's spiritual domain opened up and actually swallowed a large portion of his spiritual domain.

"How is this possible?"

"That spiritual domain of his, what the hell is that thing?"

The Grand Bodhisattva looked at Alex. Then, he found that he had long since rushed to the crowd and checked Cecilia's condition.

Luneth had said that Cecilia was probably the key person who could lift the Witch Curse. Not only did Xerxes have the Witch Curse, but Jade also had it. Then, her middle school classmate, Hayley, who was once a childhood friend, seemed under a curse that was also the Witch Curse.

To undo this, Cecilia could not die.

"I'm afraid this situation is bad luck!" Xerxes had already checked Cecilia's situation. He shook his head and said he was also a doctor and could see the soul, but Cecilia's soul was obviously dead.

As for Chase, who put Cecilia in this state, his soul had unfortunately perished entirely.

"Cecilia, don't die! Don't leave me behind!" Luneth cried out Her sisterly love was too deep to accept this situation.

At this time, Alex came over and hurriedly said, "Let me take a look."

He opened his divine eye and looked down at Cecilia's mind palace and consciousness. A moment later, he shouted, "Back off, everyone back off, she can still be saved."

"Really?"

"Cecilia is not dead? Can she still come back to life?"

Alex nodded his head, "Don't worry. It. Not will be possible!"
