The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2751

Eventually, they concluded that Alex had publicized a rather high-class incantation. If they had to classify it, it would be a Divine Martial Art.

There was a universal measurement for the levels of martial arts, Royal was the lowest, Mystic came after that, Earth was second, and Divine was the highest. Many famous clans and ancient families of cultivators couldn't even produce a scrap of the Divine technique, let alone the entire thing. Hence, Alex was pleased that people were still interested in learning the art. However, teaching them one by one was way too slow and tedious.

"Everyone, quiet!"

"Hear me out. I plan on publicizing everything about this incantation on Michelle's live stream tonight. So don't worry. Just follow Michelle on SwitchTV and join the free lesson at eight."

When Alex said this, the crowd became extremely hyped.

"Really? Thank you for your generosity, Mr. Rockefeller! You're truly a savior!"

"Where's Michelle streaming again?"

"Mr. Rockefeller, I'll be donating to Michelle tonight. Thank you so much, good sir!"

Someone asked, "Mr. Rockefeller, netizens have proven that your teachings can be considered exceptionally divine. Even ancient cultivation clans never had such powerful martial arts. So why did you choose to share with the public? Anyone would keep such things to themselves, so isn't sharing it a pity?"

Alex replied. "Buddhists would help anyone that comes by, as it is fate that we met! Besides, our situation is far different!"

"You all should know that the Earth is not safe as of now! Some powerful, otherworldly beings would be paying us a visit, with bad intentions no less. We will all have to unite and protect the Earth!"

That person gasped. “Mr. Rockefeller, are you talking about... Aliens? Are there really other life forms in our universe?”

Alex replied. “Earth is a mere part of the universe. Whether you choose to believe it, time will tell.”

His words were absolutely earth-shattering, especially since his current status made him even more believable to the people. In an instant, the entire crowd fell silent, shocked upon hearing such news.

As they entered the supermarket, Beatrice held onto Alex’s arm and asked, “Alex, aren’t you being a little too nice to Michelle? You advertised her channel in the best way possible. And look, she’s trending on every social platform worldwide, although you only made that announcement two hours ago!”

Alex smiled. “Isn’t that a good thing? Many would come online just to learn the incantation!”

Beatrice felt slightly jealous. “Is it because you had quite the impression of her honey buns?”

“Uhm... Well, she’s somewhat different from the others.”

“Hey now, look at yourself. You’re practically drooling! You’re a father for crying out loud! Mind your behavior!”

“Bullsh*t Since when did I drool?”

“What is this then?” Beatrice wiped the corner of his mouth with her thumb.

“That’s...” Alex felt nervous. “I still feel a little groggy, that’s all.”

Beatrice huffed, “Liar, you haven’t slept at all.”

Alex jumped. “How did you know? I even set up a boundary just in case.”

Beatrice said, “So what? I can break into it as long as I want to... Alex, I’m just saying. You’re getting kind of weak. I don’t think you have enough stored in there. Would you like to buy some supplements?”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2752

“Supplements?”

Alex didn't know how to respond since his body was so strong that it was simply unimaginable to the average person. His bones, flesh, and soul didn't actually need any more nourishment at this point.

Beatrice took something from a shelf and threw it towards Alex. “Like this!”

“What is this?”

Alex checked the name and read it out loud, “Muir Puama-increases immunity and sper... What the f*ck?! Why would I need something like this?”

Beatrice grinned cheekily. “Like I said, supplements. You don't have enough, right?”

Alex frowned. “What do you mean by that?”

Beatrice said, “Don't deny it. I heard all about it last night. You won't have enough if you have to share it with that many people!”

Alex put the box back onto the shelf and dragged her away. “I don't want them.”

“Are they too expensive? I'll buy it for you then!”

“Stop playing around!”

Dragged away, Beatrice sighed to herself. ‘So many people are sharing this man. If this goes on, I won't even get my portion when my turn comes.’

The two then bought flour from the supermarket. Alex had initially bought more than they needed, so he just took all their stock from one brand from the shelves. He even bought some other things that weren't included in the shopping list.

When paying, Alex noticed that a few faint divine consciousnesses were watching him. They were hiding, as though scared Alex might notice them.

However, Alex's mental powers were quite strong. He was sensitive to an average person's gaze, let alone something that had locked onto him.

He decided to ignore it, for now, grabbing Beatrice's hands and leaving right after they paid.

The girl was surprised. It was the first time Alex had held her hand voluntarily.

'Has my determination finally been rewarded?'

Being in her early twenties, Beatrice would fantasize about her one true love. It would be a charming prince who loved her wholeheartedly. She despised playboys the most, viewing them as absolute b*stards.

However, she couldn't bring herself to look at any other man after meeting Alex. Every other person would have lost their chance to become her 'prince charming' before she even laid eyes on them.

She had quite a few admirers as well, but none were to her liking. Her mind would naturally compare them to Alex. He was the only man who ran in her mind on the daily.

The most unforgettable memory Beatrice had with Alex was when she nearly died, but he was there for her.

Her fingers shivering slightly, she tightened her grasp on his hand.

Beatrice felt like she was floating, as if stepping on cotton candy, giving her the sensation of flying. Her eyes were filled with joy, hope, and warmth. Even the perverted gazes felt like praises, boosting her confidence as this was proof that her life was going well.

'Ah, this is the best feeling ever! Walking down the street with a guy I like while holding hands!'

'We're walking on a path of happiness and love. When I'm tired, he can carry me on his back. And if I'd like to sleep, he can carry me in his arms...'

Beatrice smiled, her eyes curving into beautiful crescent moons. She didn't care about anything else in the world, and she wanted him be her guide as long as they could keep holding hands.

Suddenly, Alex spoke up in a cold tone. "Are you done yet?"

Beatrice was stunned and turned around with a confused expression. Her happiness faded in an instant, and her hand retracted as if she was caught red-handed.

'Is he talking about me?'

'What does this mean? Was he just pitying me? Was he trying to thank me for taking care of his kids by holding my hand for a while?'

She was heartbroken, realizing that her fantasies were really just fantasies.

'Why?'

'I don't want his pity!'

Beatrice's eyes reddened from sorrow as she bit down on her lower lip.

Just then, Alex growled again, "Get lost!"

It was an angry scowl, and Beatrice's heart dropped to the bottom of the ocean. She couldn't possibly bear such humiliation. She'd rather die than to be treated like this.

"I..." Beatrice mustered up her courage to look at him before running off to the back.

'You jerk! You heartless jerk! I don't want to see you ever again!' she cried in her heart, running far away. Suddenly, she bumped into someone. It was Alex.

Using Instant Teleportation, he blocked her path. "What are you doing?" Alex asked, narrowing his eyes.

"I... Didn't you tell me to get lost? Do you want me to crawl or something?" Beatrice started tearing up.

"Did I?"

“Don’t try to talk your way out of this...”

Before she could even finish her sentence, Alex embraced her tightly and ran miles away.

Beatrice couldn’t adapt to his erratic change in attitude.

“What are you trying to do? You told me to get lost, then hugged me for no reason. I’m not your toy, I...” She was once again frozen in place as three people rushed over towards them. They were all wearing dog masks, so they were obviously up to no good.

‘Wait, so I misunderstood?!’

‘He wasn’t talking to me after all! Ugh, you dummy! Be clearer with your words!’

At the time, Beatrice felt her cheeks burning up, and she could not look anyone directly in the eye.

In order to divert her awkwardness, she immediately yelled at the group. “What are you three trying to do? Pretending to be dogs in broad daylight?”

“We don’t have any treats for you, so buy it yourself from the supermarket! If you don’t have the money, then look for your master, not us.”

‘Damn b*stards! They made me cry over nothing!’

“Good dogs will stay in place, but those that don’t are bad. Their annoyed owners would kick them out, and they’d be homeless.”

These masked people were standing in three different points, surrounding the two.

One of them said, “Mr. Rockefeller, we mean no harm.”

“No harm?” Beatrice chimed in. Then why are you acting like you have rabies? Take your damn dog masks off. Are you that scared of showing your face, huh? You don’t even have the right to talk to us.”

Another person took a glance at Beatrice. “Don’t say such harsh things, little lady, or men wouldn’t like you. You should know this. If you don’t know basic human decency, men around you might get disgusted, even if they don't tell it to your face."

The masked person turned out to be a woman.

Beatrice opened her mouth slightly, but she glanced at Alex and dared not yell at them anymore.

"Sure, we should be decent to friends, but I don't think our decency extends to our enemies. Yelling is a gracious gesture. I prefer killing, to be honest." Alex said.

He then continued. "You people have been following us for quite a while. So tell me, what do you want?"

The first person spoke up again. "You have misunderstood us, Mr. Rockefeller, we are not your foes. We are very impressed that you were willing to share your Divine martial arts with the public too!"

"We came here to invite you to join our organization, the Supreme Protectors, as you have met our requirements."

Alex raised an eyebrow. 'Met your requirements? You're making it sound like you need to assess my powers and see if I'm strong enough to join.'

"I don't care what organization you are from, I'm simply not interested. Don't follow me anymore. Goodbye." Alex rejected their offer straight to their faces.

"Mr. Rockefeller, aren't you being a little too rash here? You don't even know anything about our organization, yet you just refused us without hesitation!" the woman stressed.

Alex chuckled coldly. "I said I'm not interested. Are you going to make me join by force? What is this? Some Ponzi scheme?"

The woman replied. "You said it yourself just now that a strong otherworldly being will come to Earth and pose a threat. We Supreme Protectors aim to protect the Earth. Since you're a Supreme yourself, you should lend a hand. Join us, and you will be able to use your powers to their maximum potential."

"I told you... I'm not interested!" Alex said and embraced Beatrice, immediately leaving.

'What kind of Supreme Protectors? Are they like that bull hom guy? What can they even do?'

However, he was stopped once again.

One of the three spoke up again. "If you insist on not joining our organization, Mr. Rockefeller, we won't try to convince you any further."

"But I hope you can hand us the complete version of Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation and the Requiem Clock. These are treasures of our planet, so if you refuse to help protect it, you should hand it to those who will."

Alex was very disgusted by their words. He felt as though he had just swallowed a fly while eating. Beatrice, too was furious. "Hand it over to you? How shameless can you be? Who do you think you are, huh? You don't even dare to show your faces! You furries should stay in your lane. What makes you think you can say such ridiculous things?"

"Supreme Protectors? More like Supreme Robbers! Hah, you're even talking about protecting the Earth! Question, what have you done to protect our planet? Have you even battled within the ancient boundary, or have you been to Mount Oro?"

The woman replied, "We Protectors are an ancient, traditional, legitimate organization. Our president is a person of status and background too."

"What status and background?" Beatrice egged on. "Do they wear masks and pretend to be dogs like you guys?"

The woman was enraged. "I'll have you know that those who insult the president are sentenced to death. Since this is your first time making such a mistake, you just have to slap yourself ten times."

Smack, smack, smack, smack, smack, smack!!!

Beatrice abruptly attacked, slapping the woman across the face repeatedly. She was so harsh that the woman's dog mask broke, only to reveal a horrendous face of a beast.

Her face was filled with fur, along with a few spots here and there. The woman didn't look human but more of a leopard demon.

Beatrice herself was stunned. She didn't expect that she could slap the arrogant woman so many times, which indicated that the woman couldn't dodge at all. This proved that these people didn't deserve to handle the incantation or their treasures. She was also very disgusted by the woman's peculiar appearance.

'This damn woman isn't even human! Yet she has the nerve to say all that to me!'

"Ah, so you're just some monster. Who gave you the nerve to try and trick us?" Beatrice confidently gloated upon her successful attack. Hence, she decided to fight the woman head-on.

She had never been quite sure about her own strength, especially since she'd never fought anyone before. Evert though Dorothy had refined her cultivation skills, she just took care of the kids as usual. In reality, however, she had achieved Advanced Nascent Soul long ago.

Thud! Thud!

Beatrice kicked the woman into the air. She fell to the ground harshly, unable to get back up to her feet.

"Haha, is this really all you've got? Yet here you are, fibbing like some big shot. If you can't even defeat me, you should go back to your president like the good little lapdog you are."

The woman struggled. With bloodshot eyes, she gritted her teeth while baring her two long fangs. A leopard's tail even slipped out of her clothes, erect, while she glared at Beatrice angrily with twisted expressions.

Beatrice furrowed her eyebrows. "So you really are a leopard demon?"

Alex replied. "She's not, she just awakened the leopard bloodline in her. I'm guessing one of her ancestors used to be a leopard."

"But since such bloodline awakenings are impure, they're slightly stronger than the average person. Otherwise, they'd be useless, unable even to maintain their human form, so that says a lot about such people."

He then turned to look at the other two masked people. As he didn't even need to use his X-ray vision to see their faces, the masks were nothing to him.

"If the organization is filled with people like you, I think you should just disband."

"Today is supposed to be a nice day, so I don't want to kill. Just go back and tell your president to stop bothering me. You'll have to face the consequences if you make me angry."

He then gestured towards Beatrice and was prepared to leave.

However, one of the men didn't want to give up. "Joy is one of our new recruits, so her powers do not define the strength of our organization. Mr. Rockefeller, you can come with us and meet the president yourself. You'd realize how strong we are by then."

"Also, the president mentioned that he would assign you as a guardian if you're willing to join. Your position would be second only to the president."

Alex was getting annoyed. "Tell him... To f*ck off!"

Despite this, the man concentrated his mental power and attacked Alex. It was as if a large hammer was being swung towards Alex's mind.

"Hmm? An awakened psychic user?"

"Is he trying to dig his own grave?"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2755

Alex was speechless. 'This man... He still tried to attack me with mental power, despite it being such a low level. They really didn't do their research on me, huh?'

'Let me show you what's a true mental attack then.'

"Mental domain, Bronze!"

Ring!

Alex immediately created a mental image of a bronze Buddha statue, taking the man's hammer head-on. A loud clunk rang within the void, a sound that normal humans couldn't hear. The hammer was sent flying back, yet the bronze Buddha statue merely moved a few inches.

Having the ability to shatter the mental images the guy just created, his awakened powers were utterly destroyed.

'How weak!'

'Their powers aren't even enough to defeat anyone from Flying Eagles Academy, let alone save and protect the Earth!'

"Let's go!" Alex grabbed Beatrice's hand and left swiftly. This time, no one dared to stop the two.

"Protectors? What garbage. They don't even have the power to take me on. Yet they lie as if they're above us."

Beatrice said on the way home, still rather annoyed.

Alex said, "Don't mind them. I'm guessing they awakened their powers during the spiritual power overflow. That's why they acted so cockily, thinking their powers made them more superior than everyone else. Such an organization would soon meet the reality of society."

The two continued to chat as they walked home.

"Admen, are you alright?"

"Admen, Admen..."

Admen was the guy who failed to ambush Alex with his mental powers. Under his mask was a face filled with wrinkles.

Joy and the other masked man called out to him a few times and managed to wake him up. However, the wrinkled-face man seemed dazed, unable to speak clearly.

"Oh no! Admen's incapacitated!" Joy shouted.

The other man was frustrated, regretting listening to his dumb teammates and challenging Alex. "I told you Alex Rockefeller wouldn't be an easy target, but you guys didn't believe me! A year ago, he killed so many people in Japan that everyone feared him."

"Even the Flying Eagles were no match for him, do you think all these were just rumors? How could we possibly take him on when we only awakened such weak powers? It's all but wishful thinking!"

On the other hand, Joy was enraged. "But how is his sister-in-law this strong too?"

The man replied, "Stop talking about that sister-in-law. Just look at what you've done! The president told us to be nice and invite Rockefeller to meet up with him. Now, it appears we've messed it all up! If Alex were to attack the organization for this, we'd be in big trouble."

"What do we do now? Should we inform the president about this?"

"Do you really think the president is that gentle and forgiving? He might even eat us alive!"

"Ah, whatever, let's just blame it on Admen. Make it seem like he was trying to get his hands on Rockefeller's incantation and treasures, and we couldn't stop him even if we tried..."

The two then dragged Admen with them and left the scene as well.

Little did they know that there was a tiny paper doll creeping out of the cracks of the wall, skipping away after their departure. It then turned into a ray of light and shot back to Alex.

Retrieving the paper doll, Alex's eyes glistened as he received the information he wanted.

"The president of the Supreme Protectors... Hmm, is that so? Then I'll just have to wait and see!"

"I hope he's not an arrogant weakling like these people."

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2756

By the shores of Darver Lake, the reluctance to say farewell was present. Next to the lake was a deserted village, where an ancient temple was located.

The temple was old, long decayed, and even the walls had fallen off. Tiles on the roof were sparse, with a few large holes visible. When it rained, the condition inside was almost similar to a waterfall cave. However, no one knew that a small secret place was located underneath this dilapidated temple.

The leopard girl, another psychic, finally came here with Senior Carter.

Here was where the Supreme Protectors were located.

“What did you say?”

“Henley asked Alex for the full copy of Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation and the Requiem Clock? Is he out of his mind?”

“He has awakened a little psychic ability and thinks that he is the Chosen One? How dare he fight Alex with such ability?”

“Stupid, trash. He deserves to be scrapped!”

The alliance leader of the Supreme Protectors, sitting high on a Grand Preceptor, was actually a beautiful woman.

Wearing a black cheongsam, she sat crossing her two slender snow-white jade legs. Her arms propped up on the armrest of the Grand Preceptor, and with her beautiful face like an ancient painting, she sported a curvaceous figure. Areas that were supposed to be voluptuous were as they were, while areas that were supposed to be slim were indeed slim. Her eyes emitted a languid charm, and even when she was cursing, there was a burning beauty.

She stood up from her seat, walked softly, and moved in style, and came to the front of the Senior Carter. Barefoot, she raised her feet gently and plucked Senior Carter’s eyelids with her toes, revealing the unfocused eyes inside. She kicked Senior Carter over and said, “This fool is useless. pull him out, and throw him into the lake!”

Then, her expression changed, “You people, all of you are the descendants of the backbone of the Supreme Protectors. I organized you to revive the glory of the Supreme Protectors, not rely on the name of the Supreme Protectors to go outside and beckon.”

“Do you guys think you can run amok just because you have awakened a little ability?”

“How naive to be thinking so! Now, you guys cannot even be compared to the previous small demons. How dare you be so bossy, thinking you are so great? You should be grateful that you are still alive! If you can’t even do such a small thing, what else can you do?”

“In the end, I still have to do it myself.”

“You might as well change the Supreme Protectors to Baby Protectors!”

No one dared to raise their heads while the woman was talking.

While she was talking, her head full of black hair was flipping around. There was a semicircle-shaped hairband between the hairs, swirling with some kind of divine glory.

At this moment. Rockefeller family.

Although it was not as lively as yesterday, quite a few guests.

It was mainly some of the closer relatives, like Alex’s grandfather’s family, Claire’s own relatives, the Stoermer family, Michelle’s family, and Dr. Cheryl’s grandparents. All of them became guests at the table.

Others found the situation a little unclear. In fact, this was a grand crowd creation welfare handout. When a man attained enlightenment, even his pets ascended to heaven. It felt too normal with a demi-god like Alex helping the people around.

Each person received a steaming bowl of dumplings.

Fresh fragrance and an immortal aura were present. All kinds of Buddhist languages were generated, even ordinary people sitting here felt like they could hear all kinds of immortal sounds, unlike on earth.

Florence smiled and said, "Thank you all for always taking care of my Rockefeller family. Today is considered Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winters' blessing. Eat this bowl of dumplings. I hope everyone has a windfall. Eat it while it's hot!"

"Okay, okay. We also wish you happiness while you growing up and being cute and smart every spring, summer, autumn, and winter, year after year."

Just as everyone was getting their chopsticks to start eating, someone's phone rang.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2757

This ringtone was in line with what was happening!

All of a sudden, the whole room paused with chopsticks midair, looking at the owner of the phone. But it was Alex's cousin... Soraya.

A weak voice could be heard saying, "Are there any mushrooms inside this dumpling?"

The whole room was pin-drop silent.

"D*mn, girl. What are you up to, using this kind of shi*ty music as a ringtone? Don't you have anything better to do? Smash the phone for me!" The one who roared was none other than Soraya's mother.

Pointing at her daughter, her face turned beet red.

Alex was not what he used to be.

He was the one that the Melvis family needed to kowtow to, so he could not bring discomfort to anyone. Soraya was aggrieved. "It's just a ringtone. Why do you want to smash my phone?"

Alex said, "Don't worry, there are no mushrooms in it!"

Afterward, everyone started eating.

The dumplings were entwined with rich fairy energy. One by one, the dumplings went down into their stomachs. Those with cultivation had no problems as their meridians were strengthened and could absorb a certain amount of medicine and energy. For ordinary people, the medication was a bit strong.

Claire's mother's family, for instance, had not been given spiritual pills before, and when a few dumplings went down, huge energy exploded in the body. It was rampant. Their meridians all felt swollen and painful, and their heads were dizzy.

"So hot!"

"I suddenly want to sleep, Alex. Are there really no mushrooms in this dumpling? Why do I feel like I've been poisoned?"

Alex laughed, "It is not poison, just that the medicine inside is too strong. If you guys can't bear it, it's okay!"

After stomping his foot, a light flashed around the table, and countless runes rose to form a remarkable spell formation boundary on the ceiling. This could help ordinary people digest the medicinal power.

A few minutes later, the person that was panting heavily, saying that he was about to be poisoned, went into a state of sedation.

Alex unfolded his divine eye and examined them one by one. He saw that their meridians were strengthening, with energy washing the flesh, washing away the decay left by the years. Their body functions rejuvenated, cell divisions accelerated, and hair growth accelerated. Grey hair also turned black.

The recipe for the meat fillings in the dumplings was comparable to the ninth-grade spiritual pill, which extended a person's life.

A bowl of dumplings would extend at least 30 years of life. Everyone was in an activated state with the assistance of the formation. Even the quadruplets were desperately absorbing spiritual energy.

Alex scanned the crowd once again before sitting comfortably and entering his own cultivation state.

Swish!

His consciousness drifted.

Here was the golden lake of Buddha power condensed by the divine power, and in the middle of the golden lake was a glorious golden Buddhist light. These were the feedback from the others who had practiced the Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation for initiation.

Alex's consciousness stood by the golden lake and looked at it for a few moments. In the next second, he directly plunged in and shot into the vortex coalescing with Buddhist light.

Buzz!

As soon as he entered, Alex felt countless golden Buddhist factors. Like snowflakes, they drifted down and covered his consciousness.

There was a shadow of a tree inside. It was gray and hazy and was not an entity.

However, these Buddhist factors, which were floating down from above the shadow of this tree, were absorbed by Alex's consciousness. He immediately felt his consciousness growing-the Buddhist factors entered the three thousand golden cores, the energy was coalescing, and something was morphing.

In each golden core, a golden dot lit up. This dot, as if it had life, was breathing.

All around, countless heaven and earth spiritual energy rushed into his body like a tidal wave.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2758

In fact, this was not the first time Alex's consciousness had jumped into this place. It had been here before.

To his surprise, he found that time passed at a different rate in this special vortex of the Buddhist Power Golden Lake. The last time he was inside this vortex space, he believed that he had been in there for a long time, at least two or three days. When he exited, however, he found that the time outside had hardly changed.

In other words, three days here was at most only a few seconds outside.

That was awesome.

The point was that the passage of time inside this vortex was not sensory but an authentic feeling.

He was sitting under the shadow of the gray tree, and he felt like Sakyamuni sitting under the Ancestral Bodhi Tree back then. There was a clear heart and a clear mind. The understanding of the Buddha's path was also remarkably close.

Alex was here to comprehend the actual "Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation" left to him by Ksitigarbha, understand the real power of the Great Mighty Divine Palm, and even to study the Byodo talisman written by the Revealer with Buddha's power. It would take a lot of time to study all these, but, outside, in reality, only a few seconds had passed.

This was all but counterintuitive. Equally, Alex had much more time than others to comprehend new techniques.

It was the same as being in the underworld.

The most crucial thing was that he was in that Buddhist vortex, receiving those Buddhist factors, flushing his three thousand golden cores, causing them to undergo qualitative changes, forming golden masses inside, breathing inside them like nurturing life. These changes, finally, could be synchronized when the consciousness returned to the physical body.

Alex did not understand how exactly this synchronization was done. However, this was undoubtedly a surprising phenomenon.

"Could it be that I still cannot get rid of the unusual path of cultivation?"

"From the golden core realm to the nascent soul realm, could it be that I have to breed three thousand nascent souls?"

This was frightening.

From ancient times until today, who had heard of a person having three thousand Nascent Souls in his body?

There was none.

No one could afford the simultaneous existence of so many first-born babies, which was fatal. A person's Chi energy was limited, it was like a small family, which at most could have two or three children. But if one wanted to raise three thousand at once, even with all the money and energy, a mother just couldn't give birth to so many.

Nevertheless, Alex, the freak, was the exception.

Inside his body, he had a Chaos Tree planted. He was constantly able to provide him with vast amounts of chaos Chi energy from the Chaos Tree. This was the fundamental reason he could conceive three thousand golden cores successfully. Now, the three thousand golden cores underwent metamorphosis at the same time.

"Is it really a firstborn?"

"For others, metamorphosing a golden core into a nascent soul required a huge amount of heavenly materials and treasures. Some even required a senior alchemist specializing in preparing spiritual pills to cross the tribulation. I materialized three thousand of them at once... What the hell? Let's see what happens."

Alex had the Chaos Tree and Ancestral bodhi tree. So, he had many sacred trees not to panic. Immediately, he sank his heart and cultivated himself in this special space.

Time sped by, and he cultivated day and night. Alex completely lost track of time here. He could feel that his golden core had been different. The core mass inside each golden core had gradually changed from a tiny dot to having the size of a sesame seed, filled with life force inside.

They were really breathing.

This, presumably, was the beginning of the firstborn!

Now, Alex comprehended the real Buddha technique, the "Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation".

Previously, he could only use the first five incantation seals before, but now, he had comprehended another one. Just when he was about to continue, he found the space shaking.

The Buddhist factor above the tree shadows thinned out.

Before this, it was like falling snowflakes, but now, it was so starry it could be counted. Then, a strong force tossed Alex's consciousness out. The special space formed by the golden light of Buddha's power could not be used.

"It's... The golden light energy fed back to me by those people practicing 'Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation! Has it been used up?"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2759

Alex stood at the edge of the Golden Lake and carefully observed his surroundings. As the golden light in the center of the lake dimmed, he felt that he'd guessed correctly.

Thanks to the golden light that was fed back to him, a secret little world like that could be formed, and he could enter it and cultivate an existence that differed from the actual time.

'Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation must be promoted as soon as possible!' Alex thought this way as his consciousness rejoined his physical body.

He clearly remembered that when his consciousness went into his head when he looked at the time. It was 12:05. The current time was 12:07. It meant that in reality, only two minutes had passed.

However, he felt that he had been there for two years.

Two hours later, Alex removed the formation. The crowd awoke from their cultivation and meditation state.

Daya, Mystic Maiden, and the others didn't react much. Even though the increase in cultivation was expected, the effect on a few ordinary mortals was pronounced.

"My hands! They're actually peeling!"

"Ahhhhh! No! It's my whole body that's peeling!"

"Holy sh*t. Why does my body stink so bad? It's like rolling in the gutter. Who put this mud on me? It stinks to high heaven!"

At first, they didn't know the real change in their bodies.

By the time they went to rinse it off, peeling the wrinkled skin from their bodies, and stand in front of the mirror, the question came to the fore.

"Is this me? How... I seem to have gone back to my teenage years."

"My white hair actually became black."

"It's like I'm thirty years younger!"

Such an effect was too obvious. More miraculous than any beauty product, even an Instagram filter would fail in comparison.

Then, it was 7:30 pm.

Michelle had long been sitting in the live broadcast room. Although she had not started the live stream, she was dumbfounded. There were too many people in the live room waiting for her to start the broadcast.

The fans were three times more than the original number of people.

It was hard to imagine!

She already had a huge number of fans, but now, a large number of foreign friends had come in. Before the live broadcast started, the sound of gifts pouring into the live room didn't stop.

Everyone was waiting for Alex to announce the Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation.

Eight o'clock sharp. The live broadcast started.

Dub dub dub dub dub dub dub!

Countless gifts filled the screen.

It was impossible to see what else was on the screen. Michelle could only helplessly close the function of brushing gifts, then played a cultivation mantra.

“Majestic Michelle!”

“Michelle’s big brother is in a ditch now because he dumped the divine force. For this, I have to brush ten space stations.”

“Michelle is opening the reward channel. Do not prevent me from gifting...”

Many people spoke and waited to be rewarded.

Michelle said, “No need to reward. My brother said he would contribute to you all for free and remotely assist you in your cultivation! Everyone, read this recipe and the main points on the screen first. I will give you half an hour to memorize it. Then, my brother will help you build your foundation with the Buddha’s voice.”

Alex was satisfied with the effect of this live broadcast. The number of online fans exceeded one billion.

Once these people had practiced Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation, he would receive a good amount of Buddhist light.

In fact, it wasn't just the ordinary who were witnessing Michelle's live room.

It had actually grabbed the attention of some senior officials, dignitaries of various countries, and even some forces of long-established sects. When Michelle presented Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation's scriptures and notes for its cultivation in a clear and understandable manner below the camera, countless people flocked to it.

In an ancient sect.

“Sect Master, it’s really been announced. Alex has announced the Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation. It wasn’t only the recipe for it, but also its cultivation method.”

“Quickly! Film it! Record the whole process. Don’t overlook half of the details.”

This master who gave the order was already gray-haired and over two hundred years old.

Seeing the scene in the live broadcast room, he sighed and said, “Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation is a divine technique. In the past, a few pages of fragmented handwritten incantations attracted sect level masters to fight for it. I still remember that scene vividly. There was killing, and heads were chopped off as several sect masters fell. I never thought it would be announced now for anyone to get it. Back then, if the sect masters’ minds were so open, why was there a need for bloodshed?”

Someone also said, “Sect Master, it is still too early to make a definite conclusion. Who knows if what Alex had taken out was true or false?”

The master pointed to the huge LCD screen and said, “Back then, I also had the privilege of taking a glance. I remembered a few passages of the incantation, which were exactly the same as the ones written on it.”

“So, Sect master, do we practice?”

“The divine technique is in front of you. Are you not going to practice? Anyway, I must try. Teaching my legacy is a scrap of earthly techniques, at most. The great war at the end of the ancient times was indeed a great loss!”

“But, by simply practicing Buddhist techniques, does that make us Buddhist?”

“I am just afraid that when the time comes, you won’t be able to help yourself...”

This master was also considered to have seen the world, knowing that one could not sit back and just enjoy. Despite being afraid that there would still be certain hidden dangers, it was really difficult to resist the temptation brought by the divine technique, as he was a person in the cultivation world.

On the other hand, several old people were sitting there in America's highest office.

If outsiders saw it, they would find them familiar. Many elementary school students could even call out their names. These were the highest level of American decision makers.

At this moment, Michelle's live broadcast was clearly playing on the large projection curtain in this office. These people were actually familiar with Alex and had a deep impression of him.

"Since this kid entered our vision, he really can toss more than once."

"You said that he put out such a big move this time, by releasing the divine techniques where the sect leaders could only dream. Besides, he plans to teach those techniques personally. The key is, regardless of nationality, anyone can learn it. What does he want? Does he really want to create a new global sect and establish the Buddhist golden-age kingdom? He wants to be Lord Buddha himself?"

"Senior Cedric, this kid's father used to be a soldier under you. Go and call this kid here and ask him face to face."

Senior Cedric shook his head, "You guys are flattering me. His father, William, does not recognize me as a superior. He dared to point at my nose and scold me. Moreover, I recently heard the news that William is still alive but is no longer on Earth."

"Not on Earth, where did he go?"

Senior Cedric pointed to the sky and uttered two words, "Fairy Realm."

Someone's eyes widened and replied, "Is there really a Fairy Realm?"

Senior Cedric said, "Senior Zenit, your ancestors at least produced immortals, but you only know to engage in GDP. Sometimes you have to absorb the wisdom of the ancients, adapt a little, otherwise how did Mount Oro appear? Is it a meteorite?"

Senior Cedric was once also the leader of the Flying Eagles. His relationship with Jade was very deep. Thus, he knew a lot of inside information.

A sharp-eyed man in his fifties was in full spirit. He clapped his hands and said blandly, "The times are different now. We also need to keep up with the times. I still believe in this kid's sense of justice. He also said today that there are strong people from outer space coming here. I'm afraid it's not a rumor! I just received a phone call from Principal Lawlor, who also talked about this, we need to prepare in advance! Senior Cedric, take a trip to California and find out what's going on."
