

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2901

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2901

He'd spent so much effort to get this supreme weapon, yet it ended up being his master's. Worse, he couldn't take it back.

Finally, they reached Terra Mountain.

Endless majestic mountains filled their sight. There was a golden platform high up among the clouds, which looked holy and magisterial.

Alex was shocked. "Is Terra Mountain that huge?"

Jade said, "Mount Dragon-Tiger has been expanded greatly. So the dojo of Terra Mountain is considered one of the best in the country. Many royals come here to pray and hold offering rituals to the heavens. It's been blessed by the royalty and is known as a holy place."

"Is that the ritual platform? Are the Rakshasa Temple and the Emperor there?"

"Nope!"

Jade glanced at the golden platform. She could only see a part of it, as the top was completely hidden within the thick clouds. "That's the legendary Fuzen Tower. Rumors are that the Fuzen ceremony was held there many years ago."

"Although Rakshasa Temple has control over Terra Mountain, it's not that easy handling a new dojo. Another reason why Rakshasa Temple wants you in exchange for the Emperor is your knowledge on formations."

"So, they're likely to keep you alive this time. That's the advantage you have while distracting them and making time for us."

Alex nodded to show that he understood.

Soon, they headed up the mountain. They met many others who had come to save the Emperor on their way up. However, Alex and Jade sped past quickly without them noticing.

When they reached the steps to the Fuzen Tower, Alex saw Gilbert, Xerxes, and the other experts in a standoff with the men of Rakshasa Temple.

“What’s the situation now?” Jade asked.

Xerxes came over. “Rakshasa Temple has just given their final warning. If Alex isn’t there in half an hour, they will chop off the Emperor’s arms. These are inhumane and cruel people, and I don’t think they are joking.”

Gilbert patted Alex’s shoulder. “I won’t say any further. The Emperor’s safety depends on you. When you’ve returned safely, I’ll hold a wedding for you and Luna.”

Alex said, “I’ll try my best.”

Gilbert nodded and secretly spoke to Alex telepathically. “Just act according to the situation. If your life is really threatened, don’t force it.”

His wish was clear. He didn’t want Alex to sacrifice his life in exchange for the Emperor. Such words, however, could only be said in secret.

Soon, a member of the Rakshasa Temple came down from the Fuzen Tower, his expression cold and fierce as he pointed to Alex, “You, follow me alone. The others aren’t allowed to come. If any of you do, be ready to catch your Emperor when he drops dead.”

The Flying Eagles were silent.

Jade said, “I brought him here, so I’ll have to go with him.”

Shocked, Xerxes quickly grabbed Jade and whispered. “Don’t make things complicated. They need Alex alive, so they won’t kill him. Once we save the Emperor, we’ll come up with another way to save him.”

The men from Rakshasa Temple rejected her request too.

Jade shook off Xerxes’ hand. “Alex is my disciple. I’ll go wherever he goes! Besides, I have the Martello Celia. Aren’t y’all looking for this? If you don’t want it, I’ll leave right now.”

She took out the Martello Celia and spun it around a few times as she spoke.

The eyes of the men of Rakshasa Temple lit up. "Alright, you can go with him."

Alex looked at Jade. "What are you doing? I'll be fine on my own!"

Jade said. "I won't let that happen. I promised your wife that I'd get you home safe. They'll have to cross my dead body if they're going to harm you. If you die, I'll have to pay for it with my life too."

The men looked at one another as they shared a cruel smile.

'You're still thinking of going home safely after following us up to the Fuzen Tower?'

'How naive!'

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2902

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2902

Xerxes anxiously watched Alex and Jade follow the Rakshasa Temple up the stairs. Despite how worried he was, there was nothing he could do.

Jade's personality was just like that. No one could affect the decisions once she had made up her mind. Even Xerxes, who used to be her husband, couldn't... That was also the biggest problem between them. Jade wasn't as obedient to him as other women.

He wanted to follow them, but he was the instrument in saving the Emperor. The golden bamboo boat was the fastest divine artifact that could save the Emperor in thirty seconds, making it the most important part of this mission.

Gilbert patted Xerxes' shoulder as he noticed how anxious he was. "Don't worry, bro. Commander Benmore is a powerful woman. She must have her reasons for making such a choice. You should have faith in her."

Xerxes sighed. "I just don't understand her anymore."

Gilbert shook his head. "You're always sleeping with other women, it'd be a wonder if you understood her."

“Relax. my son-in-law isn’t someone who dies that easily. I read the stars just now. I couldn’t tell my son-in-law’s fortune, but I could vaguely tell of Commander Benmore’s. She’ll be safe. You just have to get ready and save the Emperor now!”

Xerxes nodded, and as he looked towards the Fuzen Tower, he couldn’t help asking, “Bro, do you think that Jade has feelings for Alex?”

“It’s obvious that there will be feelings between disciple and master. My son-in-law is a talented disciple. It’s normal that Commander Benmore appreciates him.”

Xerxes muttered, “I meant love...”

“Uhm...”

Gilbert was clearly taken aback. He glanced at Alex and Jade, who were walking towards the Fuzen Tower. If a stranger looked at them, they might feel that they were a couple... After all, Jade had transformed greatly after Alex saved her when she got poisoned. She looked much younger now.

“Ahem, bro, I’d advise that Commander Benmore isn’t like ordinary people. The average man can’t attract her. You can either cut all ties with other women and stay by her side, or you’ll have to set her free,” Gilbert said.

He then put up a meaningful expression. “You’re in a relationship where your lady is more powerful than you, yet you’re still thinking of having affairs. That’d only end up badly.”

Xerxes’ expression was bitter. “And Alex can have multiple relationships? He’s even your son-in-law!”

Gilbert said, “Bro, don’t overcomplicate things. Let me put it this way, a powerful woman like Commander Benmore will never share her husband with other women. That goes for you and Alex. She and Alex appreciate each other as a master and disciple would.”

He stopped for a while then continued. “Alright, don’t overthink Get ready. We might have a rough battle ahead. The Rakshasa Temple isn’t easy to convince. They must have a reason for choosing to be at Fuzen Tower.”

***

Jade suddenly held Alex's hand and squeezed it on the way up.

"Hmm?"

"Have you noticed that your heart jumps anxiously on this platform? Aren't you an expert in formations? Quick, take a look if there's something up with this platform." Jade spoke to Alex telepathically.

Alex answered. "There is something fishy about it, but... This isn't the core of the formation, so I can't fully understand it yet."

"Just be careful and act according to the situation! Ugh, I don't understand why you, a woman, wanted to follow me. You'll just drag me down."

"Shut up! I'm your master, you disrespectful punk."

"And what have you taught me?"

"I...I've taught you how to be a decent human."

"Let me take a good look at you, Sis."

"For what?"

"To see if your face or your foot is larger."

"I... I'll kill you, you jerk!"

Jade was so mad she stomped her feet and pinched Alex's waist. She used so much force Alex cried out in pain and jumped up and down. The Rakshasa Temple man beside them was stunned, afraid that the two might be up to something.

He immediately shouted, "What are you doing? Stop now! Are you trying to get your Emperor killed?"

Jade screamed back like an insane lady. "Shut the f*ck up! We might just turn around and walk away right now, you know? We have countless more Emperors even if you kill this one, but there's only one Martello Celia from your sect!"

"If you lose it, let me see how the Rakshasa Temple would hold its place in America."

The man opened his mouth to speak, but nothing came out. Finally, they reached the top of the Fuzen Tower. Not only did they see Rakshasa Temple men, but they also saw the Returning Sword Sect's people there.

"It's Jeremy Trippier!" Jade's eyes dimmed as she whispered. "I didn't expect Rakshasa Temple to team up with the Returning Sword Sect. Turns out the six ancient sects really do love you."

Alex nodded. "They came with bad intentions!"

Jade said, "Don't worry, I'll protect you."

Alex was speechless.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2903

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2903

He was looking for the Emperor. Finally, he found the lonely silhouette of the Emperor in a corner... No one was guarding him. Like an unloved child, he was left alone in a corner.

'Then it shouldn't be difficult rescuing the Emperor?' Alex blinked as he thought.

However, just as he was thinking of how to attract the attention of his enemies, an elder of Rakshasa Temple said, "Alex, you're finally here. We've waited for a long time. Alright then, you may leave now, Emperor of America."

"Huh?" Alex and Jade were both stunned.

'The Emperor was saved... Just like that?'

'Wouldn't that... Be too easy?'

Alex and Jade didn't even have to help the Emperor up. With a wave of the hand, the elder sent the Emperor up in the air, then threw him off the platform.

"Your majesty!" Jade screamed, immediately rushing forward to catch him.

Only then did she notice that the ground beneath her feet had become goeey like mud, trapping her in. She couldn't even jump up, much less fly away.

At such a critical moment, a golden light flashed through the sky. Xerxes' golden bamboo boat had dashed here in time and caught the falling Emperor.

At the same time, he shouted loudly, "Jade, quick, run!"

Unfortunately, she couldn't escape.

Gilbert had led the Flying Eagles here. They'd prepared weapons, the latest snipers that could shoot highly destructive missiles. They targeted the people on the platform, waiting to fire upon their commander's order. However, Alex and Jade still hadn't escaped.

"I think something's wrong!"

"They seemed to be trapped. They can't move their feet!"

"The men of Rakshasa Temple are getting closer. What do we do?"

Gilbert made a decision immediately. "Use the rifles, shoot!"

Bang! Bang!

The guns were fired continuously.

The air rained with deadly bullets. They flew at great speed, spinning out of the barrels and headed straight at the enemies.

However, they stopped about five hundred meters from the top of the Fuzen Tower. It was as if the bullets had encountered significant resistance.

It was as though the bullets had landed in the water, reaching their limits and unable to proceed. The bullets then all dropped to the ground.

"There's a barrier?"

After Xerxes had placed the Emperor down, he immediately rushed over. "Use the ultimate missiles! Break open that barrier right now!"

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom...

Four missiles were shot consecutively, but the ending was still, unfortunately, the same.

The tactician, Eleanor, shook her head. “This is the formation of Terra Mountain Dojo, used to keep out experts of divinity. The weapons of mortals won’t work on it.”

Xerxes said, “Think of something else then! Are we supposed to watch them getting killed?”

The tactician was speechless. She was just a tactician, not god, and she simply couldn’t find a way out of a dead end. Thus, they could only gather around the barrier and watch the people inside.

Alex, who was on the Fuzen Tower, asked, “Who’s the master of the Returning Sword Sect? Please come out.”

After a few seconds, Jeremy stepped forward. “That would be me.”

Alex glanced in his direction. “Oh, so it’s you. I just wanted to ask, I’ve given your sect a deadline to do what I’ve asked, and your time’s almost up. Why haven’t you headed to the entrance of the Thousand Miles Conglomerate to beg for mercy?”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2904

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2904

Jeremy was silent for a few seconds, then started laughing so loudly the skies trembled. The power of the half-stepped fairy realm was revealed in the form of soul pressure.

In an instant, everyone around felt extremely uncomfortable, inflicted by painful headaches, as if they were being choked by the throat. Not only were the people within the formation affected, but the Flying Eagles watching from the outside felt unwell too.

Fortunately, Jeremy only laughed for a while.

“Kid, it’s been a really long time since I’ve seen someone as bold as you. I wonder if you truly have the strength, or are you just plain stupid?”

Alex smiled and said, “Your handicapped son knows best if I’m dumb or not! Jeremy, is it? I’ll give you one last chance. Bring everyone from your Returning Sword Sect now to the Thousand Miles Conglomerate and kneel there for seven days and nights.”

“Repent for your sins, and you might have a chance to reunite with your son, or else... Hmm, oh? Haha! Jeremy, you’d better pray that you have other sons, or it’ll be the end of the Trippier’s else with this crippled body of yours.”

He’d just found out by chance that Jeremy was infertile.

Xerxes and the others outside the barrier were dumbfounded.

They were stunned not because of Jeremy’s infertility but because of how daring Alex was. He was trapped in a dangerous situation, yet he still had the guts to insult his enemies, as if worried he’d die any minute slower.

“Master, the Martello Celia is in this woman’s possession!” the disciple of Rakshasa Temple, who’d led Alex and Jade here, said respectfully to a middle-aged lady.

This middle- aged lady was actually the sect master of Rakshasa Temple.

The lady nodded, looked towards Jeremy, and said, “Master Jeremy, we’ve caught our enemies. How would you like to punish them?”

Jeremy smiled and said, “I’ve heard about the Mantra of Intoxicated Dreams of Rakshasa Temple. I heard that you’ve reached the seventh stage of the mantra, and your powers could bring forth hell.”

“This Rockefeller kid has some knowledge on formations. Let’s see if he has the talent to work for me! As for Jade from the Flying Eagles, I’m interested in her too. Finally, Martello Celia should, of course, be returned to its rightful owner.”

He spoke rather loudly.

Outside the barrier, Xerxes’ expression immediately changed as he heard him. He shouted, “Jeremy, you old man! You can’t even have sex at such an age, so what do you want a woman for?”

Jeremy looked outside. “Principal Lawlor, I heard Jade used to be your wife. What a pity that a weakling like you wasn’t good enough for her. I naturally have my reasons for bringing her away. I want her naked and bathes me every day. Do you have an opinion about that?”

His words disgusted Xerxes. However, as he considered Jeremy’s powers carefully, he knew that he couldn’t stop him even if Jeremy had such thoughts.

Suddenly, the elder beside Jeremy, Ash Sandoval, sneered and said, “Principal Lawlor, I’ve heard that you’re a lady killer and countless beautiful women surround you, including teenagers, widows, and people’s wives.”

“You’ve had so many already. If you’re smart enough, leave right now, or I’ll ensure you live the rest of your life alone. Do you believe me?”

Xerxes opened his mouth to speak, but he was speechless.

Alex hadn’t noticed him before. He had both his primordial and divine eye activated and was fully focused on investigating the barrier. However, seeing Xerxes’ reaction, he couldn’t help feeling surprised.

He asked Jade casually, “Is what that old guy said true? Did Principal Lawlor really have that many women?”

Jade said grumpily, “His entanglements in his youth were much more than you could imagine.”

“Uhm... Then, wasn’t that fun?”

“Oh, come on, look at the situation we’re in, and you’re thinking about fun? If you can walk out alive this time, I’ll bring you a hundred ladies of all sorts, okay?”

“A hundred? Where’d you find them?”

“As long as you have enough money, aren’t living women very easy to find?”

“Uh, save it. My vital energy is worth a lot of money!”

Jade rolled her eyes and telepathically said to Alex, “Have you found out anything yet? We’re running out of time. I heard that Jeremy is a half-stepped fairy. Not to mention how cruel the sect master of Rakshasa Temple is, if we make even a single mistake, we’d actually die here.”

Alex replied, "I've finished examining the formation, but... I'm afraid a battle is required. I need some time to break the formation because the cores are separated in different places."

"What can we do then? We're stuck here... We can't even move!"

"That won't be a problem."

The 'mud' trapping them was actually a restriction formed by some sort of law. Logically, the restriction of laws worked on people below Incarnate Deity.

Unfortunately for them... Alex was born to break the rules. The Ten-Point Forbidden Spell allowed him to ignore such laws.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2905

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2905

At the same time, Ash came in front of Alex, his eyes filled with hatred. Alex had killed his son.

"To be honest, I'd love to skin you alive right now, then drag your soul out and tie it on a filthy pig for thousands of years. You better pray that you can help us break the formation, or I'll make you regret you were born."

Alex beckoned with his finger and said, "I'll let you in on a secret."

Ash was stunned for a moment, but he immediately put on a cynical expression.

Alex and Jade were stuck in a forbidden place on the platform used to imprison demons. Even the sect master of the Returning Sword Sect would be helpless in that place, what more himself.

He approached them. "Don't try any tricks. It'll be useless. You're now as easy to kill as livestock."

Alex whispered, "Sometimes, livestock kill people too."

His voice too indistinct and fuzzy, Ash hadn't heard a single word. "What did you say?"

“I said,... You can just go ahead and die! ” Alex roared, an illusion of stars falling appearing from his invincible mental world. It smashed onto Ash as another killer attack followed.

“True Martial Tyrant Sword!”

“First form, Void Slasher!”

This sword was the supreme weapon robbed from Julian, the Dao Killing Sword. Weighing a massive hundred and fifty tons, it was five meters long. A large and heavy sword like this appeared awkward to use, but Alex swung it like he was born to use it. It was as if Alex was the Dao to the sword. The sharpness of the blade was beyond imaginable.

Slash!!!

The sword sliced through Ash with ease. Continuous explosions came from his body. It was his defense treasure being broken and cut in half.

“What?” Ash couldn’t believe the truth before him.

He was an Immortal Monarch, but he’d been slashed apart by a native.

However, he seemed fine. The body of Immortal Monarch could recover even if it were cut in half. He just needed some time. But he soon let out a despairing shriek.

There’d been two forms of energy of the sword. The first was a destructive force that broke down his Immortal Monarch’s powers and foundation, that trickled his life away. The second force was an icy cold power.

It was Alex’s ice element that was freezing his body.

“I... I’m about to die?” Ash couldn’t believe it. He felt extremely weak, and darkness flickered before his eyes. He looked towards Alex. Yet, Alex had moved his eyes away right after he’d cut Ash in half. He immediately sent out a wave of Raging Frost Arrows and conjured Persephone’s Folly Bridge at the same time.

Whoosh!!!

The bridge was set upon the forbidden land. The chains instantly locked onto Jade and pulled her out. At the very same time, the men of Rakshasa Temple and Returning Sword Sect took action.

“How dare you!”

“Capture them!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2906

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2906

No one, including Ash, could have predicted that the Grand Elder of the Returning Sword Sect would be killed in an instant. This was because no one could have predicted that the sanctuary for imprisoned demons was ineffective against Alex and his Dao Killing Sword, an extreme Daoist weapon that could directly take an Immortal Monarch’s life.

“Die!”

Jeremy was enraged and retaliated personally.

In front of half-stepped deity incarnate, all efforts were vain and ineffective, no matter what level one was.

“D*mn!”

Alex was actually out of breath as he faced Jeremy’s angry strike because the sword move of the True Martial Tyrant Sword was so domineering that half of the three thousand cores’ surging Chi was drawn away. It would be strange if Ash did not die as a result of such a sword strike!

“I’ll get it done!” Jade exclaimed as she leaped down from the Persephone’s Folly Bridge with a huge hammer in her hand. It was Martello Celia. With the hammer three times bigger than Jade’s head, she looked even more exaggerated than Alex’s Dao Killing Sword.

However, it was as light as air in her hands. It was as if the hammer were a part of her.

“It’s the Martello Celia!”

“You have no self-respect! ”

Jeremy was a half-stepped deity incarnate, and he was in a greater realm than Jade. Even if one had extreme weapons in his hands, Jeremy could snatch it away in a blink of an eye.

This was what he believed and did.

Faced with the Martello Celia’s hammering, he directly stretched out his phantasm, and the phantom of a large hand appeared in mid-air, wrapping itself fiercely around the hammer.

“Yaa..!”

Jade let out a delicate cry as her body transformed in mid-air. The Martello Celia swung higher, and with her waist bent like a big bow, her entire body displayed incredible flexibility and explosive power. At that point, a dark golden pattern appeared on every side of Martello Celia, like some strange totem.

Even Jade didn’t notice that she had an identical totem at her brow.

The Martello Celia’s speed increased instantly.

“That’s...What is it?”

“How did such a pattern light up on the hammer?”

“For thousands of years, our Rakshasa Temple has mastered the Martello Celia, and we’ve never found anything like that, huh?”

The Rakshasa Temple’s personnel, particularly its leaders, were all taken aback.

When the Martello Celia lit up with the totem, Jeremy felt tremendous pressure, and his eyes became round and incredulous. The Martello Celia collided with Jeremy’s large palm in the air, and a tsunami of energy exploded instantly.

Jeremy’s eyes widened, and he quickly retreated. He was an expert, half-stepped deity incarnate, but he was forced to lead a retreat by a woman who had only recently reached Immortalization, and it made him feel incomparably humiliated.

However, Jade's attack also topped out at this point, and the moment he landed on the ground, the rest of the Rakshasa Temple experts' attacks arrived in front of him.

"Be careful, Jade!"

"Commander Benmore, please retreat as soon as possible..."

One by one, the people on the other side of the force field reminded each other.

Alex cast the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell's Great Icebound Curse. A thin ice wall instantly blocked Jade and him at this critical moment.

At most, it was half a meter thick.

The hearts of Xerxes and the others were in their throats after witnessing such a scene. People were going insane.

Could such a thin ice wall be blocked by the expert immortals of the Rakshasa Temple and Returning Sword Sect?

Most importantly, Alex also pulled Jade over, and the two of them hid behind the ice wall.

"Isn't that Alex kid insane?"

"What can such a thin wall stop?"

Xerxes jumped to his feet and frantically attacked the boundary, but it was doomed to fail.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

All of the attacks were directed at the ice wall.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2907

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2907

A strange scene unfolded before them.

The ice wall, which appeared to be very thin and was crystal blue in color, surprisingly blocked all the attacks, only allowing a few gaps to be hit. It caused the attackers to become disoriented, and at this time, Alex carried the killing Dao sword. He shifted to the front of the ice wall, and a bone-chilling light appeared from the sword, along with the Raging Frost Arrow that shot out.

The following second.

Buzz...

Alex was approached by a sphere of frost.

This was at the formation's eye that he needed to break here. The frost sphere was equivalent to a fortress. Later, he would need to rely on this fortress to protect himself and Jade, and this was the best way he could think of right now. However, he had already tried it just now, and he knew the half meter ice wall wouldn't be holding up for long and that everyone would be able to break through in two strikes.

There was still a gap between the effect of his ice wall and the one naturally formed by Ice Mother Chaos.

It had to be thicker, its standards had to be raised.

"Ten- Point Forbidden Spell, Icebound, Icebound!"

Alex's output was out of control.

At this time, the people of the Returning Sword Sect struck once more.

This guy, Jeremy, was a rather sinister and despicable person. He had just suffered a loss on top of the Martello Celia, and without clearly seeing the actual situation, he actually stopped striking but allowed his men to test it instead. The Returning Sword Sect's expert immortals combined to strike, then went up against Jade, protecting Alex.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Like a flea, Jade darted left and right around the entire Fuzen Tower carrying a massive hammer several times her size. It was so powerful that several people were smashed. They vomited blood and flew backward...With such results, Jade already felt like a god.

She had previously fought with the people of the Returning Sword Sect but was humiliated. Her strength had actually increased significantly now that she had the Martello Celia.

Suddenly, a faint voice, full of rage and disdain, reached Jade's ears. "Is this some sloppy hammer technique? It doesn't follow the rules and regulations. It's nonsense, and it's a disgrace to your forefathers!"

"Who is speaking?" Jade froze.

"Naturally, it's your Grandpa Hammer," said the voice.

"Martello Celia? You're able to communicate?"

"Oh, I'm not deaf! However, I haven't said anything in 100,000 years."

"Huh..?"

At this point, the Zen master of the Rakshasa Temple made a sudden move. She was fast, her body ghostly, and she was dragging a golden Buddha statue behind her... This wasn't like any other statue, though. It emanated an evil aura and had a hideous face.

Ping!

She slapped her palm on Jade's back, avoiding the hammer.

Bleugh!

Jade vomited a large mouthful of blood on Martello Celia.

Alex's heart shook as he struck a holy mark, and a chain shot out from the Persephone's Folly Bridge, rushing towards the Rakshasa Temple's sect master. This time, Persephone's Folly Bridge's chain, which had always been invincible, unexpectedly failed when it met the sect master.

Clang!!!

The chain was actually severed, evidenced by the crisp sound.

A large scimitar appeared in the sect master's hand.

“Bring it on! ”

The sect master struck again, this time seizing Jade's Martello Celia.

When Jade swung the hammer, the stone shattered the sky.

The sect master, however, was too quick and only destroyed the corner of her coat.

“I can't stand it. Is this your hammering technique? This is a child playing with mud. Look! This is the real hammer technique- Divine Heaven-Splitting Hammer, the essence of your clan's hammer technique for millions of years. I'll allow her to slice her belly open with one hammer.”

Roar!

“A hammer is about to fall from the sky!”

“Let Grandpa do this!”

At that moment, Jade could only feel the hammer in her hand come to life. She applied no force, but the hammer carried her movements.

The void coalesced, the rules trembled, and the totem on top of the hammer seemed to have imprisoned the sect master.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2908

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2908

“What kind of power is this?”

The sect master's heart was shattered as overwhelming binding force rippled from the Martello Celia, encircling it with a slew of rules. Her face changed dramatically, the seal between her brows shone brightly, and the evil Buddha behind her roared angrily and struggled violently.

When she saw the hammer about to fall on her, she seemed to see herself being smashed into pulp but how could that be?

The Martello Celia had been in her hands for a long time, and she was intimately acquainted with it... There had never been a more terrifying moment than this!

Poof!

The sect master bit through the tip of her tongue and spit blood into her mouth. She stiffly broke free of her bonds before the hammer landed on her body, utilizing her full potential at the cost of self-inflicted injuries.

Boom!

A loud noise could be heard.

Jade landed on the ground with the hammer, blasting a large hole into it and blowing through the tough sealing platform...The formations were all over this area. Many places were protected by formations, and the broken area was not very large.

The sect master's face was flushed, and her breathing was labored. Although she wasn't under attack this time, she had been injured. What silenced those around her, however, was that the sect master only broke free with her flesh and not her clothes.

It was a bizarre scene, to say the least.

The sect master, the head of the Rakshasa Temple's six ancient sects, transformed into a shelled flesh body, standing in front of the crowd in white. It appeared that even she didn't notice it herself.

"Sect master, sect master..!"

"Your clothes," someone said softly.

The sect master looked down, her clothes strewn on the floor. She was about to put them on, but Jade did not stop there.

Grandpa Hammer expressed his dissatisfaction, "I have been asleep for 100,000 years. The world is changing so quickly. Have The Path of God's rules become unpopular? Why is The Path of God so weak here?"

"So it's not Grandpa Hammer's fault. I'm not weak! It's my surroundings that limit my abilities!"

“Again!”

Martello Celia spun up, forming a tornado ball, enveloping the sect master’s body. It was more powerful than before. The sect master felt herself being sucked by a strong force and actively moved towards the hammer. But, the Martello Celia held even more amazing power.

Each punch was more powerful than the one before it. Grandpa Hammer missed his first punch, so his second one was to save face. He was much more serious than before as he used the origins.

“Ah..!”

The sect master yelled, “Kill this woman right away! This woman must be strangled, or we will all perish!”

She even yelled at the Returning Sword Sect’s leader, Jeremy, to hurry up and deal with Jade.

However, Jeremy was a person with a complicated mind. He had just seen with his own eyes the sorry state his sect master was in, and the Martello Celia gave him a particularly terrifying feeling.

Wouldn’t it be foolish to step forward at this time?

Thus, not only did Jeremy do nothing, but he took a step back!

“Kill!”

On command, the people of the Rakshasa Temple attacked!

Numerous attacks were launched at Jade’s body!

However, they had no idea that the current state of the Martello Celia was not Jade’s fault!

“Second punch, shatter the sky!”

Boom! Boom! Boom!

When the punch landed, the sect master relied on the assistance of her disciples and was not hit directly in the face, but the group who rushed up weren’t so lucky, at least a dozen experts were instantly killed.

Furthermore, the sect master felt bad. Despite the fact that her life was saved, she lost her leg. Despite being highly educated, it was insufficient when facing Grandpa Hammer's masterstroke.

The people outside the ancient boundary were all stunned.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2909

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2909

When did Jade grow to be so powerful?

Xerxes was stunned. Even Gilbert was perplexed.

How did America get so tangled with the six ancient sects if Jade was so powerful before?

Dang!

Jade took deep breaths as she put the Martello Celia on the ground. She had used a little too much energy, which drew the grandfather hammer's wrath. "Is there an error? Your strength is insufficient. Only have this ability. How did your clan let you out to play? Even if you practice for another few hundred years, you might not pass the clan trials, right? It is difficult to make people more capable in the absence of the necessary conditions!"

Although the old grandfather used his own origin, the power on Jade was also limited. It was because of this small amount that Jade could not take it.

"It's killing me. I'm dying!"

Jade was taken aback. "You mentioned my clan. What clan am I a member of? I'm just an ordinary American!"

"Nonsense!" the grandfather hammer sneered dismissively. "Can you have golden blood in you if you're a regular person? Can ordinary people use blood to reawaken me? That is impossible, I assure you. It's because you are from the most powerful Titan Tribe in the universe!"

"Ti... Titan?" Jade opened her mouth so wide that an egg could fit into it.

At that precise moment...

Jeremy appeared to see the point of interest again because Jade had been off the force, and he saw that the Martello Celia was a lot more divine than he imagined. This Supreme Chi weapon appeared to hide a profound secret, so... Taking advantage of the Rakshasa Temple's incompetence, it seemed plausible that they could seize the hammer on their own!

Swish!

Jeremy opted for a surprise attack

The people of Flying Eagle were furious, reminding Jade and cursing, "Jeremy, a sect leader, actually used a sneak attack! Do you have any dignity left in you? Your Returning Sword Sect can rename itself the Baby Turtles Sword Sect!"

"I'm your opponent!"

Alex reappeared at this point.

The Dao killing sword waved a bone-chilling light across the sky, blocking Jade's front. On the other side, on Persephone's Folly Bridge, Shelly's gaze was like a full moon, staring straight ahead, unwavering.

Alex and Jeremy exchanged hundreds of strokes at once. Alex's advantage was the weight of the Dao killing sword, which was 300 tons. Coupled with his strength and the power of the sword, he was over ten times more powerful.

However, Alex's body, too, was constantly injured.

In the expert duel with the half-stepped incarnate deity, Alex had experience fighting with Julian. There was a large number of Ice Mother Chaos to help that time, so it was non-frontal sparring. But now, there was a gap in strength, one as great as heaven and earth!

Fortunately, he had a powerful physical body, or he would have died by Jeremy's sword... But Jeremy's expression was even more surprising. Alex could last a few hundred moves in his hands and still not die. He was simply a demon. The key was, Alex's recovery was simply too swift!

Alex's hands and feet had horrible injuries, but in the blink of an eye, he recovered.

'Is he still human?'

"I'll help!"

Well rested, Jade carried the hammer and went back into battle.

Jeremy's army was now afraid of the Martello Celia in Jade's hand.

As soon as it was locked, Jeremy immediately disengaged from the search battl Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2910

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2910

Alex and Jade slid into the portal and disappeared into the darkness, almost simultaneously with Jeremy's harsh attack.

A cold and gleaming flying sword slashed fiercely on the portal.

Immediately after, a large barrage of attacks came from the Rakshasa Temple and the Returning Sword Sect in the back. They all fell in the portal, but all attacks appeared to be going in one direction, with not even a single wave splashing out.

It appeared to be a bottomless pit within the dark portal.

At that precise moment, the sect master of the Rakshasa Temple yelled, "That kid named Rockefeller may have unlocked the banned area leading to the Fuzen Tower! Hurry up and enter! The Terra Mountain is the foundation of our Rakshasa Temple. Sect masters, please take your disciples and leave. I will pay you a visit later."

Jeremy's eyes were constantly flashing. Of course, he didn't want to leave.

Although the six ancient sects occupied a Dao Field, everyone had only made minute gains so far, and no one could enter the true core area. Now that the portal to Terra Mountain's Dao Field was wide open, how could he not burn with envy?

There was another aspect.

It turned out that only Alex could really unlock the core area of the formation at this stage. If he died inside, Rakshasa Temple was poised to become the big boss among the six ancient sects, while the other sects could only swallow their envy. Alternately, if Alex fell into the hands of the Rakshasa Temple, they might capture him and announce that he was already dead.

Such a situation was definitely possible.

“Sect master, Alex and Jade’s tactics were beyond imagination, especially the Martello Celia, which was very powerful. Sect master... Now that you have a broken leg and your mobility is limited, I’m afraid you can’t deal with them. My Returning Sword Sect has always been passionate. We can’t just watch you all in danger and do nothing. So I decided to find out what’s going on on behalf of the sect master.”

After Jeremy finished speaking, he bid his disciples goodbye and prepared to enter the portal.

Undoubtedly, the Rakshasa Temple people were bound to be furious. Attempting to take away Terra Mountain’s by force... This was simply despicable and shameless.

A Rakshasa Temple elder was filled with righteous indignation. “Jeremy, don’t be too shameless. This is Rakshasa Temple’s territory, and inside is Rakshasa Temple’s forbidden land. What qualifications do you have to enter? Lead the people of the Returning Sword Sect and leave Fuzen Tower immediately, or you will be at war with Rakshasa Temple.”

The conversation had not yet come to an end.

Jeremy abruptly struck out and placed his palm on the elder’s brow. The elder’s head split open like a watermelon in an instant.

”Your sect master did not say anything. Your gibbering simply disrespects the superiors. The sect master is too badly wounded to move, so clean up the portal. Sect Master, you don’t have a problem with that, right?” Jeremy, who had just killed someone, asked.

The sect Master of Rakshasa Temple was so enraged that her eyes were on fire.

What a jerk!

However, when the sect master met Jeremy's gaze, her heart was immediately stirred. That gaze obviously had an intention to kill... Jeremy wanted to kill her and was looking for an excuse, so once he decided, he would not hesitate to carry it out.

Jeremy was a fearsome wolf!

In fact, Jeremy had taken the initiative to come over and say that he wanted to deal with Alex together. The sect master was suspicious of his motives at the time, but it now appeared that he was simply waiting for an opportunity to hunt.

Thus, she immediately gathered her chi and surrounded herself with sect experts.

"The sect master is so chivalrous and courageous. This sect is very grateful," she said with a leathery smile.

Jeremy grinned.

A hint of regret donning his smile, he led the Returning Sword Sect's people into the portal.

Naturally, the Rakshasa did not want to be left behind, and after leaving a group of people behind, he hurriedly pursued them.

Those outside the boundary could only look at each other in a stupor. They were under the impression that they were watching a show.

efield and did not hesitate to use his disciples as shields.

"Hold on a little longer. Keep your strength!"

Jade was reminded by Alex.

He had been embellishing the formation, and the others were not entirely clear and couldn't see. Now that he only had one last formation eye left, he could break the formation once it was broken.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Jade held on to the hammer like a fierce tiger out of her cage, a mighty mess she was.

Xerxes saw this and wanted to fight alongside her, but he could only watch her and Alex. It appeared that they were the real combination.

Finally!

Alex shattered the final formation eye.

Initially, he thought the formation had punctured, allowing help to come in, but the formation appeared to have a different effect. A portal had actually appeared in the prisoner demon forbidden place. There was a dark silence inside, and Jade's potent force had been depleted and could no longer function.

Alex clenched his teeth, grabbed Jade, and dashed to the portal.