The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3195

Everyone spoke their minds as they scoffed at Alex.

At that moment, Alex, controlling the spell formation, opened a very obvious exit for the force field on each immortal mountain. Alex reminded them, "The passage has been opened. You only have three minutes, or you will be trapped inside forever and can't go anywhere else."

Someone shouted, "D*mn you! To hell with your intimidation! Come and deal with me if you are capable! The treasures lie ahead, and you're trying to order us to leave?! No way! Don't you ever think of having them to yourself!"

Alex's indifferent voice rang out, "You still have two minutes and forty seconds!"

Luneth directly said, "I know about him well. He will definitely execute what he has said. His achievement in spell formation speaks for itself. We should leave this place."

Patroclus looked at Alex's figure and sneered disdainfully. "What are we afraid of? An aborigine from the Wasteland has limited cultivation. Even if he knows spell formations, he still needs cultivation to support a powerful spell formation. He is still incapable of trapping us! Luneth, don't be afraid of him. You will definitely be fine with me here."

Luneth said, "Your Highness, I'm timid. I was traumatized by the experience back in the Underworld. You have a lot of trump cards, and you can continue! I'd better give up!"

She thought, 'It'd be best if you are trapped in the spell formation just like this forever so you won't come and pester me.'

Patroclus said, "Alright!"

Luneth said, "Then, I'll wish Your Highness a great victory and huge gains in Pompeii Fairyland. I'll take my leave."

Patroclus wanted to say a few more words at first, but Luneth directly jumped into the exit opened by Alex and ran away without looking back. A laugh escaped Patroclus. 'It looks like my Lune has really been traumatized by that Rockefeller brat! Fine. I have to capture that guy later and vent anger on behalf of Lune.'

Presently, the people who were still in the force field of Pompeii Fairyland began to form different opinions. Those timid and conservative people chose to leave through the passage. On the other hand, some bold, greedy, and confident people chose to stay back and ignore Alex's warning.

"One minute is left! Do you guys really not want to go out?"

Alex's voice sounded again. However, no one from the group of people who stayed actually left.

"Five more seconds to go. Four seconds..."

"Alright! Time's up! The passage is closed!"

Alex's voice was heard again. "I'd like to express my heartfelt gratitude to all the fellows who stay behind. I thank your dedication and devotion on behalf of the universe. You guys are warriors of the universe. Your spirit will be spread widely in the universe and extolled by the future generations."

Those people were speechless upon hearing that.

"What is this guy talking about? He couldn't have gone crazy, right?"

"He even thanked us. Thank you, my a*s!"

However, it was then that they heard Alex say, "I thank you guys for being the vanguards of humanity to resist the Undying Clan. Next, you guys will be sent to the Endless Sea. That place is the weakest spot between the universe and the Undead Territory. The Undying Clan is eager for action. They are trying all kinds of methods to come through here. Your mission is to defend the Endless Sea... Fear not. This spell formation will be with you..."

'Holy crap!'

After Alex finished his speech, all the people present were stunned. They knew well about the atrocity of the Undying Clan. To their surprise, he told them to resist the Undying Clan. They were very good at dealing with their own kind, but they shuddered from the bottom of their hearts when they had to deal with the Undying Clan.

Patroclus shouted, “Just ignore him. Let’s attack the spell formation together, tear it apart and blow it up. I’ve never heard of the Endless Sea whatsoever.”
