The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3231

It could both increase and decrease gravity too.

“Alex, Alex...”

When Alex’s consciousness returned to his body, he realized that someone was calling out to him. He had taken quite some time to harvest, so the others thought that something had happened to him while he was doing so.

“Oh...”

“I’m okay. I just thought of something just now. Let me try again!”

Sion said, “I don’t think you should try anymore. It would be absolutely disgusting if you end up peeing or sh*tting your pants.”

Alex shot her a dirty glare. He then placed both hands on the hilt again, activating all his powers as he did before. In the end, he used the Great Kylin Spell and the Great Gravity Spell together.

“Up!”

“Whew..?”

This time, he was able to take it out of the ground. Not just that, it even dashed upwards, bringing Alex with it. After that, he used the Great Claymore Spell as he held the Immortal Butcher in the air...

He started swinging the sword around him at high speed, turning himself into a Claymore windmill.

While swinging it about, he started dancing about as well, as if he were performing a messy sword dance, slicing the skies over and over again. He was the only one left in this world, along with the sword. The entire space shook as if the air were water, rippling gently with every swing.

Boom!

With just a slash, he could make waves that could reach the sky. Even one of the islands in Pompeii was destroyed.

Everyone was silent.

Sion opened her mouth several times yet could not utter a single word.

Phoenix had also chosen to keep quiet, as this was more than enough to prove her wrong.

Dorothy didn't say anything as well. Instead, the corners of her mouth curved up slightly. It indicated that she was proud but didn't want to admit it...

Saris smiled. "How surprising. You were able to swing this spoiled Immortal Butcher with such grace. It hasn't had any action for thousands of years after all, so it must be quite bloodthirsty. So I'll let you keep it for the time being."

She needed a lot of energy to carry it, after all. Using such a heavy weapon to kill would drain her in just minutes, hence, it was no use.

Alex was delighted to take it, as he was delighted with the sword's power.

The Great Claymore Spell and the True Martial Tyrant Sword were simply made for the Immortal Butcher. In comparison, even the thirty thousand kilogram Dao killing Sword was much lighter.

Ten minutes later, Alex opened the teleportation door towards the Genbu Dungeon. He proceeded to find and dig up the shrunken formation cube from the sewers.

The people inside were finally able to see the light again. Patroclus was especially overjoyed to see his father, Mooncrate. He then started screaming out to him. "Father, I'm here! I'm here! It's Patroclus! Father, Father..."

However, the giants outside didn't seem to hear a single word, but that didn't quite matter. Everyone within the formation was still very excited regardless. Now that the North Emperor came here to save them himself, Alex would have to grovel before him, no matter how strong he was. It seemed that Alex and his group were cowering before the North Emperor after his arrival.

Both emperors and the men in black that the North Emperor had brought along entered the formation. Their bodies had naturally shrunk as well.

“Father!”

“Ah, the North Emperor... Uncle Dusk, you’re here too!”

Right after Patroclus said that Mooncrate slapped him right across the face. “As if! I have to be in the front lines, too, because of you, you dumb child!”

“Huh... No way, right? Father, Uncle Dusk, you two are part of the three kings and five emperors. Together, no one in this universe would be able to defeat you. That brat Alex could never...”

Yet the emperors were quite down and even lacked the energy to explain.

At the time, Alex was setting up a formation with the help of Phoenix, Saria, and thousands of powerful Nagas.

Time passed by very quickly, as three days went by within the blink of an eye.

Alex and the others had finally placed the large formation in Pompeii Fairyland within the Genbu Dungeon. This formation was even stronger and more mysterious than the one back in Pompeii Fairyland. Alex had implemented many Cuneiform talismans, then merged them with the boundary that the Great Genbu had set before his death.

The Great Genbu had mentioned before that his boundary could last three years, and there were still three months left.

‘I wonder if this deadline was extended when these formations merged?’

At the same time, some strong Undead warriors noticed the sudden changes in the boundary while chewing and damaging it in the Undead territory.

“What happened? This boundary had become weaker back then, so why did it become more solid all of a sudden?”

“Boss, I think I hear something coming from the boundary.”

“What is it?”

“It’s the native language of those in the Diffracted universe. I didn’t learn any, so I couldn’t understand them... And it was just for a brief second. I couldn’t hear them after that.”

“And from that moment on, the boundary became tougher! The Gold Phagocytes can’t chew into it anymore. It looks like another law power has shown up, a type that doesn’t belong to this Diffracted universe.”

“Not from here? Could it be law power from the Chi universe? Did someone from that universe come here?”

The section leader in the Undead clan with bull horns said. “This is serious. I have to report to the queen right now.”

“Boss, please bring me alone. I’d like to see how majestic the queen is. I want to boast about it to others.”

“Sure, you heard the voices anyway. Go report it to the queen yourself.”

At the time, Juvia was sitting still on her throne, seemingly in deep thought.

The section leader and the other Undead had to go through nine doors to appear in front of the queen herself. Moreover, they didn’t have a right to speak just yet. First, they had to kneel and greet the queen as ‘Your Highness’.

Such formalities were even more strict than old traditions within the royalty on Earth.

“Your highness, these two are the subordinates who are currently breaking the barrier. They mentioned that they have something important to say.” The person who led the two in here spoke to Juvia.

This person was an actual person who came from the Chi universe, just like Juvia.

In reality, Juvia and her sister, Aria, came from a large clan within the Chi universe. They were sent here to carry out a mission, and that was to conquer the Diffracted universe. Hence, Juvia entered the Abyss and brought the Undead clan out.

She initially thought that her cultivation level, along with these Undead killing machines, would be able to conquer the Diffracted universe in a short amount of time. However, the Diffracted universe was extremely difficult, resisting all of their invasions. Many powerful cultivators teamed up together to defend. Within these people was someone with a powerful force of attraction. He gathered the entire universe together, forming an extremely strong force altogether.

Their most terrifying trait was their determination. In order to protect their home, they would fight until their last man. Their faith was simply unmovable. Sometimes she wondered if she should continue this battle, as she had spilled too much blood in her hands at this point. Many lives had been lost as well. However, she had no other choice either, especially when The Nascent Lord is missing after being badly injured within Aojo Bay. They couldn't possibly give up now.

"This is your destiny, Diffracted universe!"

"You're all lower lifeforms anyway. Your kind would just appear again in another era!"

Juvia then looked as if she had made her decision. She looked towards the two Undeads beneath her and asked what they had found out. After realizing that the boundary had stabilized again, she immediately stood up and dashed out of her palace. She was going to take a look at the boundary herself. After a brief while, Juvia's expression was as cold as ice, clearly upset.

"As expected, there are traces of law power from the Chi universe!"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3234

"First time through space?" Saria asked with a smile after she noticed Alex's expression.

Alex nodded. “Yep! Back then, I couldn’t go through voids, and now I can. But there’s been so many things going on, so much so that I don’t even have time to spend with my family. So it’s only natural that I didn’t ever consider traveling through space.”

Saria nodded as well. “There are indeed a lot of things happening in America now.”

Phoenix spoke up. “I’d say you’re just busy with your many women.”

Cold sweat trickled down Alex’s forehead as he knew well that she was right about that. It was, in fact one of the reasons why he had so little time. A while back, he had to give Ynes his attention whenever he was free. Even now, he would still need to see her once in a while so that she could recover quicker. Moreover, he couldn’t possibly ignore his other women for long periods of time either. Waltz, Maya, Cheryl, Daya, Phoebe, and Luna were all his lovers, so he had to pay attention to each of them so that they wouldn’t feel neglected.

Saris frowned. “You should be more loyal. It’s not good to be with too many women.”

She then turned towards Phoenix. “Just like your father, he had a hundred and eight women in total. What a waste of time. If he wasn’t with that many women, he might’ve achieved even more during his days. And he wouldn’t have gone missing then.”

Alex was so shocked that it left his mouth agape. “Your father had a hundred and eight wives?”

Phoenix replied. “His situation was rather different”

“How so?”

“He had a mystical tool called the Six Eternities and reincarnated a hundred and eight times. That’s how he ended up getting into a hundred and eight relationships. And in this lifetime, all of them came back looking for him...”

Alex didn’t know what to say at all. ‘Isn’t... That just too bizarre?’

“Even if he sleeps with one of them every night, it’d take at least half a year to get through all of them. Shouldn’t his wives have issues with that? Oh, wait... This question might sound a little weird, but I’m truly curious.”

“He built a manor...”

Just as Phoenix was about to continue, Saria scoffed. “Manor? It’s literally a lovenest, made to spend time with his women... There’s a specific time boundary around it too. So a month in there was equivalent to a minute in the outside world.”

Alex gasped. ‘How..? Whoa! Amazing! He was able to think of such a way just to satisfy them!’

‘Such difference in time is terrifying... Only a Heavenly Emperor like Rowan could have the power to do so, right?!’

“So... Where is this... Manor?”

After asking this, both Phoenix and Saria turned to look at Alex with odd expressions. It even seemed like they were disgusted by him.

“Uhm, why are you looking at me like that? I just want to check it out. I wanted to know what type of formation could achieve such a great time difference.”

Phoenix said, “Don’t even think about it. He brings it along with him everywhere he goes!”

Alex nodded. “Fair, it’s a survival tool after all. Of course, he’d have to bring it along.”

After that, he was once again met with disgusted stares again.

Just then, Saria lowered her voice and used telepathy. “Someone is following us. They even brought along a large group.”

These people pretended not to care but were highly alert the entire time. Those people followed them from a distance as well, not approaching them at all. Some even merely used their divine consciousnesses to tail them secretly.

A day later, the ship landed on another planet. This place was much bigger than the Earth.

Phoenix gave him a brief introduction. “This is the Chained Space, and it’s connected to seven other worlds through the Cosmic Corridor. And the Beast King Pool is in the deepest one!”

“These seven worlds are called the Hepta Beast Village altogether, and demon tribes mainly rule it. Of course, other tribes exist too, and humans are one of them.”

Alex finally understood what people meant by the grass being greener on the other side. He seemed like a little child as this was the first time he left Earth. He was extremely curious about every single new thing he saw.

“What is the Cosmic Corridor?” Alex asked.

“It’s kind of like a natural high-speed corridor in space, similar to what some scientists would call linear wormholes.”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3235

In mere moments, Alex experienced what it was to be in a linear wormhole. It looked like a white flow of air but rather faint. As the ship went through this airflow, the entire space felt as if it were warping.

When being in there, Alex sensed a large amount of space law power. All he could think was how miraculous the universe was. Such a wormhole was definitely not something that could be recreated by mankind.

Saria’s Ship was an extremely fast tool, able to exceed the speed of light. However, he realized how much more powerful the Cosmic Corridor was after entering it. Despite the far distance, they reached their destination within the blink of an eye. It was like they opened up a customizable teleportation door.

Phoenix spoke up. “Those old fellows could only gather in America so quickly because of this corridor... They could just walk through... And they’ve reached!”

Alex felt slightly dizzy as this was his first time going through a tunnel like this. He really didn’t expect them to arrive at their destination within seconds. Not only that, it wasn’t hard for the three to walk through the village, considering how strong they were.

At the time, the people following behind them couldn't bear watching any longer.

"Those three have already arrived at the destination!"

"We can't wait any longer. We must get nearer, else it'd be easy to lose track of them within the forests of Hepta Beast Village!"

"Quick quick quick! Use the mystical tool, Divine Peeper. Follow them."

"Astral projection..."

Many powerful cultivators who rushed over from the universe were now using all their skills and tools. Some were familiar with one another, bickering with each other...

"Samuel, you don't have many years left to live, yet you're here to join in on the fun?"

"That's exactly why I'm here. I have to give it a try while I'm still alive. Besides, I might break through once I get my hands on the Supreme Divine Blood. It won't even be a problem if I continue living for another tens of thousands of years."

"There are too many powerful cultivators here, Samuel. I think it's best that you go back. You won't be able to defeat a mere disciple."

"Treasure seeking requires luck, not strength..."

Some started talking about cooperating and how they would share their rewards after obtaining it. However, most were extremely quick to follow, worried that they might lose Alex and the others if they were any slower. Finally, they got nearer and were able to sense what Alex and the others were doing. Those closest could even smell the divine blood at this point.

"Such concentrated divine Chi."

"The law power inside is very pure. There seems to be something that doesn't originate from our universe too."

"I heard that the Supreme God is a being who could step into the Chi universe easily. This must be its blood, Chi. How unexpected, the Supreme Divine Blood is hidden in the Hepta Beast Village. Rowan and those others from back then sure are cunning!”

“Huh, look, right there! They opened a teleportation door. Could that be... The door that leads to the real Beast King Pool?”

“We can already feel how strong the blood Chi is at the entrance. So when we head in, wouldn't that mean we would... Wow, let's go then! I think that's a teleportation door. It might close at any moment. Get in!”

“What the f*ck? Who pushed me? I...”

Several figures dashed through as those powerful cultivators rushed into the teleportation door one by one. No one had expected this to be a trap at all.

All they could think about was the Supreme Divine Blood at the time.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3236

At this moment

Alex and others entered the portal as well, returning to the Genbu space. The point was, currently, this portal's entrance was in the mouth of the formation moved by Pompeii Fairyland, and once people entered the portal, they would escape through the formation border, a one-way tunnel with no exit.

Alex and others had been somewhere for a long time through the formation.

Swish!

The first individual was the one who rushed in. It was an instantly identifiable middle-aged red-haired man with ahead of blazing red hair as if it was a bowl of erupting noodles.

“His name is Evil Fiery Cloud God, one of those that harmed me back then!” Phoenix whispered as she looked at the person.

In fact, there were boundary shields where they were, and they were not afraid of being discovered, even if they sang loudly.

Evil Fiery Cloud God laughed as he entered, "Haha! I'm the first. Can you think of a way to block this laborious teleportation door?"

This guy was terrible because he did not want the people behind him to enter. However, just as these words were being spoken, a second figure rushed in.

"Blood-knife old man, I didn't expect this old man to still be alive after all these years. Not only has his cultivation not reduced, but he has been refined, and he is already halfway through the divine sovereign cultivation."

Phoenix recognized the second person at a glance as well.

"Blood-knife old man, you're not slow. How about we join forces, stand here, and give those people rushing in from behind a surprise?" the Evil Fiery Cloud God said with a smirk.

This was the plan-launch a sneak attack on the people who came later!

Blood-knife old man's gaze flashed with intent. However....

"Are you sure those Wastelanders aren't going to take the Supreme Divine Blood first?"

Evil Fire Cloud God's expression changed as he realized that the most important thing now was not to find Alex, Phoenix, and others but to find someone.

Several more bosses who looked familiar appeared in a flash of time.

Old Ghost, the headteacher of the Shady Decanoate Sect. Hernan, the supreme elder of the Heavenly Fiend Sect. Jochenk, the lord of the black and white technological kingdom of God...

Then, there were more and more.

Every one of them was an old guy they'd never met, and there were plenty of sect master-level big guys, some of whom had brought their favored disciples, fierce beasts, and so on.

There was soon a crowd forming.

"Now that everyone has arrived let's just talk about it."

“We’re all here for the Supreme Divine Blood. We’ll see the real thing under our hands, and whoever gets it first will be the one who gets it. Life and death will be in God’s hands.”

“Isn’t that how it is? Do we have to be so modest? Okay, let’s rely on our abilities!”

Jochenk, the lord of God’s black and white technological kingdom, had all the high-tech gizmos. He was dressed like Iron Man but with more dark technology. It should be a blend of technology and law.

He immediately chose a path and dashed over.

The result was a deafening boom.

Jochenk crashed to the ground, his head dizzy, and he couldn’t get up for a long time after hitting his head directly on the boundary. Countless golden runes lit up, and he couldn’t get up for a long time.

“What the hell is going on?”

The audience was immediately perplexed.

Why were there still boundaries here?

However, as soon as someone said, “Are you taken aback? It would be strange if there were no boundaries around the location the Supreme Divine Blood is stored!”

“Oh, yes! That’s normal, it means the Supreme Divine Blood here has to be genuine...”

He mentioned the Supreme Divine Blood as if to remind the people.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3237

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3237

“Hey, have you noticed, when you arrive, the aura of divine blood fades... No, no, it hasn’t faded, it has completely vanished! What’s going on?”

The Evil Fiery Cloud God sneered, "You are really ignorant. The supreme divine blood has its own spirituality. It has the ability to keep its talent hidden. Seeing so many of us coming in, it must have gone into hiding. It is entirely up to chance and fate whether you can find it."

The Blood-knife old man nodded, "So, we'll go look for each other! I'm afraid Phoenix and Saria, along with that kid named Rockefeller know a lot of inside information, and if we don't hurry, we won't be able to get it! "

He had just finished speaking when someone quietly touched him without saying a word as to where it was from.

The people in attendance were primarily sect master-level bosses. Even if they were unfamiliar with the formation, they would bring a few experts around it, or with some high-level artifacts that could break the formation...Who among them was not a little prepared for the fact that they were all immortals?

The people saw, and they also agreed tacitly that they would each look for a way to break the formation.

Of course, some people had long had a secret collaborative relationship and had come together to break the formation together. However, only for a short time.

These people were taken aback.

"What is the nature of this formation? Isn't it overly difficult?"

"I've never seen such a strange and difficult to break formation, which appears to be governed by unusual laws."

Ten minutes, half an hour... An hour passed in an instant. However, none of those present were able to open the boundary.

Everyone was nervous about this formation, including those who were breaking it. Those with white hair were sweating and racking their brains but were not able to open at all.

Suddenly...

Poof!

Someone pushed the formation boundary, and as a result, the mind was consumed excessively. There was no way to stop suddenly, and vomiting blood on the spot.

Immediately after that, someone with bloodshot eyes raised his hand and slapped his head, hitting it hard while shouting, "What's the deal with this? It makes no sense! It should not be like this! Can someone please tell me? Can someone please tell me??? Ahhh..!"

Ping!

The man then blew his own head off because he was pushing himself too hard, bursting like a watermelon.

It was not just one or two people who acted in this manner. There was a situation involving almost all of the formation breakers. Many people became insane.

"Everyone should not continue to study the formation, this formation is very evil. Everyone, quickly gather your thoughts. Do not be disturbed by the formation," someone realized.

Following this reminder... Everyone awoke and was no longer continuing to study. From that state of bewitchment, they got out of it. When they observed several formation masters who died as a result of breaking the formation and being carried away, they felt a chill coming from the bottom of their hearts.

It's just too evil.

A goddess in her forties had a sad expression on her face. The formation master she'd brought with her had recently died. She said with her mouth open, "In my opinion, there is no need for us to break the formation. With so many people combining strength, it is possible to forcibly blast this boundary through. Won't it be over? Look, Phoenix and others have long vanished. If you continue to consume energy doing this, you will obtain nothing."

This made sense when the crowd heard it.

"Then, let's band together to break the formation!"

Following that, these people from the universe who had been introduced into the Genbu boundary by Alex and Phoenix banded together and attacked a point of the formation together, attempting to break the formation by brute force.

The answer was discovered. All of the attacks were gone, never seen again. On the boundary, the attack had no effect. Not even a ripple surfaced.

“What exactly is going on?”

“Is it possible to cross this boundary?”

“Keep attacking. I don’t believe it If the boundary has boundary barriers, and there’s no response, it shouldn’t have reached criticality yet!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3238

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3238

Ten minutes, twenty minutes... A full half-hour of attacks yielded no results.

“Not right, at this rate, even if we run out of physical strength, there is no way to blast open the boundary, there must be some trick...” said the Blood-knife old man.

While he was saying those words. He was startled to see two figures appear in front of him. He took a look and recognized the familiar faces.

“Isn’t that the Northern Emperor and the Eastern Emperor?”

“Ah...? It’s them. But how did they get in? Wasn’t Saria responsible for the suppression of the Eastern Emperor? He should have died, so how could he have ended up in the Beast King Pool?”

These people were perplexed as they stared at the two.

“So it’s search Brother Fiery Cloud, search Brother Blood-knife, and all of you sect masters from all sects and sects in the universe, I am very relieved to see you here today. With you joining us, our vanguard force has become even stronger. Thank you for your fearlessness, for the sake of the universe, we work together!” the Eastern Emperor smiled and spoke, his countenance indifferent to boasting.

The Northern emperor's mouth twitched. He stole a glance at the pretender, the Eastern Emperor. He thought to himself, 'When he first came in, he had a grudge, and he even dared to kill himself, but now it's all good, pretending to be a decent man, what a hypocritical old thing!'

The bosses who had just arrived were left befuddled, perplexed, and overwhelmed.

With wide-eyed curiosity, the Evil Fiery Cloud God enquired, "What do you mean? What vanguard troops? Mooncrate, you old pretender, give me a clear explanation. What is going on? How did you guys also run into this Beast King Pool?"

"Isn't it?"

Something wasn't quite right, as the crowd quickly realized. Something seemed to be wrong somewhere...

"Of course not. This is the Endless Sea!" the Northern Emperor said.

He suddenly understood the Eastern Emperor's mentality. These guys were deity master-tier immortals with no interest in the emperors. Seeing them being tricked into this place made him happier than having a big universe.

"Gentlemen, remembering that we also fought against the undying clan in ancient times, and now that the undying clan will set foot again, it is truly my honor that we, the aspirants, can be together again to kill the enemy. "

The Northern Emperor also adopted the tone of the Eastern Emperor. "For the sake of the universe's long-term peace, for the sake of the people's peace and prosperity, that you can voluntarily devote yourselves to this meaningful and great cause, I thank you all on behalf of the three thousand worlds."

"F*cking Serpent. Shut the f*ck up." The Evil Fiery Cloud God couldn't take it any longer. He thought the problem was so big that it hurt his brain.

"Mooncrate, can you tell me where this place is?"

The Eastern Emperor stated solemnly, "Oh, the Endless Sea! Here is the True Martial Sovereign, who was the last to suppress the immortal race's passage. Next to it is the Undead Territory. You follow the Little Divine Phoenix to come in here, which means we are one people. We will fight side by side, drawing the sword in anger to kill the undying clan. We will fight to the end and never retreat.”

“Huh..?”

All of the bosses who entered through the portal were afraid.

At this point, if they don't realize they were duped and tricked into coming into the boundary of this Endless Sea, they weren't fit to be gods and should be headbutted to death.

“D*mn you, Phoenix!”

“D*mn you, Saria, and that jerk named Alex! You all deserve to die!”

A group of people was outraged.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3239

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3239

Horrified screams, and yells could be heard.

At this moment, Phoenix's faint voice could be heard. “In the ancient times, you people enjoyed the privileges, and with the continuous fight of our Stoermer Sect, you could survive in the universe until now. With the great enemy right in front of us, you just need to put in some effort, and you want us to die? Did the heroes of antiquity deserve to die?”

The figure of Phoenix emerged. Alex and Saria also appeared.

“It is true that you guys are the ones who made this happen. The ancient era is the ancient era,” roared the evil Fiery Cloud God. “You, Stoermer Sect, too, have won everyone's admiration and achieved the glory you desired! Furthermore, you forcefully seized the aura and Chi of the universe, leaving it without complete rules for three thousand years. Who will bear the blame for this sin?”

“You 're just talking nonsense!”

“If there was no ancient great power to change the rules, how could there be you people?” Saria demanded coldly. The entire universe would have fallen into the hands of the undying clan, and you and your sects would have been annihilated.”

Old Blood-knife said, “So you can’t mislead us into going to the Endless Sea? Fighting the Undying Clan is entirely our choice, you duped us into coming here, so do we have to battle the undying clan? They haven’t been seen in a long time, and may have long since vanished.”

The Blood-knife old man had just finished speaking. A huge noise erupted out of nowhere.

Boom! Boom!

The sound was faint but loud. It appeared as if it was rising from the ground. Everyone was stunned at this point.

Alex and the rest were among them.

“What’s going on? The Undying clan is truly coming?” The North Emperor was tense.

When Alex originally told him, he didn’t believe it because the Undying clan had been missing for three thousand years, and there had been no movement, so how could it possibly say it was returning?

However, amid the chaos underground, he calmed down.

After experiencing the ancient era, the time when the undying clan invaded, everyone who lived through it had some traumatic experiences in their hearts. It could also be the long-term effects of the war, and they had a deep fear of the undying clan.

Boom! Boom!

The constantly approaching noise became more and more intense.

“Little Divine Phoenix, you are familiar with the surroundings. You also set up the formation here. Doesn’t the Undying clan need more time to break the boundary and come over? Seeing this movement, they seem to be right around the corner. Could they be arriving earlier than expected?” the Eastern Emperor asked.

Phoenix was also taken aback. This was not at all what they had anticipated.

“Aunt Saria, what do you think?” Phoenix asked Saria.

Saria walked towards the source of the voice. She knelt on the ground and listened. Her face turned solemn, and she said, “I’m afraid you are right! The boundary down here is wearing out quickly, and I’m afraid the Undying clan has powerful magical treasures forcing the boundary here. The boundary will be drilled through in less than half a day.”

“There is only half a day left... Alex, quickly place the formation’s opening and arrange it in this position.” Phoenix yelled.

The Evil Fiery Cloud God yelled, “Are you guys insane? If we let the Undying clan into the boundary, won’t all of us perish?”
