The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3271

Presently, Rhys was still concentrating on attacking the Thousand Flag Formation. Based on current progress, it would take at least one more day to break through this barrier.

Rhys was depressed, and in a place like the Wastelands, one could actually see a formation of this degree. All the formation laws were all from the Chi universe, which could not have been produced in this diffracted universe. Thus, the magical treasure that laid this great formation had to be something from the Chi universe. This was something that even Alex had not given much thought to.

He had no idea that the item he had snatched halfway from someone else was actually so powerful and of such high quality. He would have definitely set up the Thousand Flag Formation inside the Genbu Secret Realm.

“What happened to your sister? What could possibly happen to her?”

“She has ten Undying clans in her hands, each with a throne leading the team. All the experts of this diffractive universe are out to surround her, and after three days, I’m afraid they can’t even hurt half a hair of hers.” Rhys was less than impressed.

He could sense Juvia’s feelings for him. He didn’t like her, and he thought her older sister was annoying because she was always bothering him. He would have kicked her out long ago if she hadn’t been Juvia’s sister, whom he had identified as his sister-in-law.

Juvia’s face was as dark as water, and her eyes were solemn. Rhys did not understand her sister’s connection to her, which was mysterious telepathy.

She could now clearly sense that what her sister had witnessed was extremely serious and could endanger her life. She averted her gaze.

The supreme divine thoughts were fiercely scattered. She had arrived in the wasteland, a long way from Yorkshire Palace on the other side of the ocean. It would be a fool’s errand for an ordinary person to want to cross such a long distance and reach over there to check out the reality. However, it was not too difficult for Juvia.

Buzz!

Only in a few short breaths.

Using her telepathy, Juvia arrived above Yorkshire Palace. When she saw what was going on there, she was furious. Standing at the foot of Mount Yukon, with her as the center, the temperature dropped rapidly for dozens of miles around. The sky was just shining with sunshine, and all of a sudden, it turned gray and gloomy, with gusts of cloudy wind and goose-feather snowflakes drifting down.

When Juvia became enraged, she caused a sudden change in the weather.

Anyone in this range was emotionally affected by her. Ordinary people simply could not afford such an emotional outburst from her. In just a short moment, their hearts were full of hatred, tyranny, killing intent, and destruction. All these were kinds of negative thinking. Negative emotions were magnified a hundred and a thousand times, and then they acted very irrationally.

Exactly at this time. The criminal behavior had increased. The original benevolent people had suddenly turned murderous and violent.

Rhys, Juvia's eldest search brother, was the most affected. This was because he was closest to Juvia. Fortunately, his cultivation level was deep enough, and he quickly collected his thoughts, asking, "Sister, what's wrong with you?"

Juvia's body erupted with boundless hatred. "My sister, Aria, is no longer alive!"

Rhys was stunned, "Is Aria no longer alive? What happened?"

"Go to Yorkshire Palace, kill, and take revenge," Juvia said flatly.

"Ah, but this Yukon formation will be broken soon..."

"There's no need to break it. That brat Alex is in Yorkshire Palace, and he's one of those who murdered my sister! I want to draw this person's skin, extract his soul, and refine it into my shoes."

Juvia uttered these words with venom, revealing the depth of her hatred for Alex. To be refined into the shoe, stepping on his soul daily!

Rhys was overjoyed.

“And, we’re even numbed.”

Looking at Agatha, Alex had many things in mind that he wanted to ask her, but for a moment, he did not know where to start.

Just then, Phoenix walked over. “Aunt Agatha!”

Agatha looked at her. After a long while, she said, “Phoenix, I’ve heard about your matter. Child, you’ve suffered.”

Phoenix shook her head and asked, “Aunt Agatha, where are... My parents? They..?”

Agatha knew that she would definitely ask this question. She shook her head and said, “I don’t know either right now.”

Phoenix asked, “Can you tell me what happened?”

Agatha nodded. “Yes.”

She spoke continuously.

Back when the Undying Clan was about to search control the entire diffracted universe three millennia ago, the leader of the League of Cultivators decided to seal the laws with great power. It was a method that harmed both the opponents and the allies, but it could cut off the energy supply of the blood pool. Over time, the blood pool would lose its due effect. Without the blessing of the blood pool, the Undying Clan simply would not be able to survive long at that time. Hence, the Undying Clan began to retreat starting from that time.

However, it certainly wasn’t a long-term solution.

As the duration of the sealed laws increased, the ratio of the experts in the universe also decreased. The study found that three millennia was the most reasonable duration. The deity realm would even be unavailable once the duration was prolonged. Therefore, they studied another method...

The League of Cultivators back then still had many prisoners of the Undying Clan in their hands. Through the anatomical study of those prisoners, they found that the bodies of the Undying Clan possessed a kind of strange energy.

Some powerful people sneaked into the Undead Territory with that energy from the dissection. After that, they discovered a secret, where the root of the Undying Clan was a kind of bizarre blood. The source of this blood eventually led to the Abyss.

“We formed a team and went to the Abyss! But if we wanted to go to the Abyss, we had to pass through the Undead Territory! Back then, some traitors appeared in the universe, and our whereabouts were known by the Undying Clan in advance. We were ambushed as soon as we crossed the border.”

“However, those of us who went there were experts, and we were also prepared for the occurrence of that kind of situation. Your father said that the Undying Clan invaded the universe seven millennia. Since we arrived at the Undead Territory, why couldn't we screw them in return?”

“Everyone was an expert with particularly high mobility and many magical treasures. Everyone's goal was to kill our way into the palace and kill Juvia.”

However, Agatha sighed when she said that.

“We took it for granted. That kind of environment in the Undead Territory was unsuitable for humans like us and demons to survive in it. After a while, problems showed up in our bodies. As a result, the tide turned before we managed to kill our way into the palace. Instead, we were hunted down by the experts of the Undying Clan. Eventually, we fled into the Abyss and concentrated on finding the source of the Undying Clan, that kind of blood.”

Phoenix asked, “Did you manage to find the blood?”

Agatha shook her head. “The Abyss was too dangerous. We were hunted down by an Overlord-tier creature over there. Many of us died, and even your mother was severely injured. However, a ray of hope appeared just when everyone was in despair... We encountered the legendary Ancient Path in the Abyss and hid inside.”

“The Ancient Path?”

Phoenix was unfamiliar with the term. Alex was even more oblivious.

“What’s that place?” he couldn’t help but ask

“That’s a path leading to the Chi universe.” Agatha answered, “But, that path had long been abandoned for many epochs. No one could pass that path since the unknown epoch. Those who entered the Ancient Path were all dead.”

“Ah...”

All the people exclaimed upon hearing that.

Alex asked, “Senior, how did you come out then?”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3275

As Agatha spoke, she took out a handful of Void Crystals of Annihilation. There were as many as five of them.

Alex and the others had witnessed the power of this thing. It was simply terrifying.

Phoenix asked, "What are these things?"

Agatha said, "I obtained them inadvertently in the long river of sands of time... These things originated from the bodies from some terrifying existences over there. After I killed a few of them, I obtained these Void Crystals of Annihilation from their bodies."

However, five Void Crystals of Annihilation were far from enough to deal with the crazy Undying Clan right now.

Just then, Esmeralda saw the latest news in the Divine Dreamcatcher.

The undead army left the great world of America in different directions and advanced toward the universe in all directions.

When Agatha heard that, she sighed heavily. "The Undying Clan is going to build the blood pool elsewhere. That person, Juvia, is crafty, coupled with a very great number of Undying Clan members. She also multiplied and expanded the Undying Clan in this way in the ancient era. Now, she wants to do it again for sure."

Esmeralda asked, "Is there any way to stop her?"

Agatha looked at Alex. "The answer is with him."

"Me?" Alex was startled for a moment.

"Do you think that seeds are just for show?" Agatha said, "The seed plan was the result after the Stoermer Sect joined hands with the eight mysterious astrologists in the ancient era to deduce the eight trigrams at the cost of the lives of the eight astrologists. Only this plan could save the world!"

Seemingly immersed in that radiant yet sorrowful history, Agatha said slowly, "You are the seed who has obtained the luck of the three thousand worlds in the diffracted universe. You are closely related to the diffracted universe. The three thousand worlds are being invaded and occupied by the Undying Clan, the environment is being destroyed, and the lease of life is being severed. This kind of damage will be reflected in your body."

“What do you mean?” Alex was dumbfounded. He wondered if he had gotten himself into trouble.

Agatha said, “It means that if all the three thousand worlds are occupied by the Undying Clan, your fate will follow suit! You will die immediately! Oh, I forgot one thing. The cosmic monument of the diffracted universe is somewhere in the great world of America. It is the core of the diffracted universe. Once Juvia finds this cosmic monument and refines it for herself, you will probably die.”

Alex paled upon hearing those words. He looked at Phoenix. “Did you know this before?”

Phoenix nodded. “I knew.”

“Holy crap!”

Alex instantly went through the roof and lunged at Phoenix, pinning her to the ground... The current Phoenix had a weak body and was simply not a match for Alex. This guy could wield the 9.99-million-pound Immortal Butcher.

However, Phoenix’s expression was unwavering in the face of Alex’s ferocious gaze while he was pinning her on the ground. She said casually, “Otherwise, did you think you don’t have to bear any responsibilities after reaping all the benefits? How could there be such a free lunch in the world?”

Alex said, “You should have explained this situation in advance.”

Phoenix sneered, “What kind of good ending will you get If the Undying Clan manages to refine the cosmic monument? Instead of venting your anger on me, why do you think of a way to break the predicament! You are the seed. The result of the divination, that path of survival, will be created by you. Now, all the living beings in the universe are counting on you to give them a path of survival.”

Alex said angrily, “What solution could I have come up with?”

Just then, he suddenly felt some kind of sensation. Someone was transmitting divine sense to him...

Who was it? The place he was currently located was very unique, where he basically could not detect normal divine senses, but this divine sense could come in. Who was that person?

Could it be Juvia?

After thinking for a while, he left this place via the Earth Escape Technique of the Ancestral Bodhi Tree. After that, that divine sense became clear.

Yuno, whom he had failed to contact for a long time, was calling him urgently.

'It's Yuno!' Alex was overwhelmed with surprise.

Three years ago, the ancient force field was destroyed for the first time. The demon tribe over there invaded America and massacred people in the Flying Eagles Academy, causing the students and teachers in the Flying Eagles Academy to escape far away. Yuno, who was also Phoebe Larsen, disappeared from then on.

He tried to find her whereabouts through various channels, but he got nothing. Even Phoebe's parents, Wayne Larsen and Grace Larsen, also went missing, as if they had vanished from the world.

Whoosh!

Alex directly activated another Earth Escape Technique, reaching a farther place.

This place was already in the territory of America. It was within the range of Mount Dragon-Tiger. It was also where Alex placed Senior Cedric and the others.

This place contained the anchor point of the Ancestral Bodhi Tree, which he could reach instantly from a great distance within a few short seconds. It was a little slower than Instant Teleportation, but in fact, the difference was not huge... His Earth Escape Technique was not the real Earth Escape Technique, but he escaped through the Ancestral Bodhi Tree roots.

“Alex Rockefeller, come find me...”

Alex vaguely received the message sent by Yuno. Her telepathy sounded slightly weak as if she was severely injured.

Alex’s heart immediately skipped a beat. Phoebe had an intimate kinship with him, and she was his woman. Although Yuno occupied her body, she helped him a lot. In addition, there were a few occasions where Yuno popped up when he was being attentive to Phoebe.

From that point of view, Alex already regarded Yuno as his woman. His future wife was in danger, so how could he stand by and do nothing?

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

Alex kept changing his position. He eventually reached Mount Yukon. Then, he heard Yuno’s clear Soul Calling here..

“Alex Rockefeller, come and find me at the Peacock Heavenly King’s Tomb.

“I’m in trouble.”

After that, a map was suddenly displayed in his mind. There was a coordinate on this map. That was where the Peacock Heavenly King’s Tomb was located.

He took a closer look. The coordinates weren’t in America, but in Europe!

After comparing it to the modern map, it was a coordinate in France... Alex was really surprised.

Previously, he once heard that a great battle broke out between the Peacock Heavenly King and Heavenly Emperor Xavion. No one knew where they had gone in the end, as if they had disappeared from the world. Never did he expect that the Peacock Heavenly King’s Tomb would be in France.

What should he do?

He definitely had to go there!

However, he suddenly disappeared in a hurry from the place where the Phoenix Sect was located and did not tell Dorothy, Agatha, and the others where he was going. They might think he had gone to the restroom and were helplessly waiting for him. Hence, he had to go back and give them a shout.

Whoosh!

It took Alex ten seconds to return to the Phoenix Sect. It was the place where Agatha brought them in. The spell formation here was more powerful than that of the Stoermer Sect. Therefore, the Undead Queen could not find their whereabouts even with her divine sense.

“Hubby, what happened?”

“Why did you suddenly disappear just now?”

As expected, Dorothy was distraught and came forward to pull his hand.

Not to be outdone, Esmeralda rushed over and hugged Alex’s other arm before she hurriedly asked, “Alex, nothing urgent happened, right? Why did you disappear all of a sudden? Even my master couldn’t detect you with her Chi. We were worried sick...”

Dorothy’s gaze seemed a little angry when she looked at Esmeralda.

‘How dare you come up and strive for a favor when I, the first wife, am pulling Alex?!’

‘What do you have to fall back on? Do you think you can snatch someone else’s husband as you please just because your master is a king of gods? Where is your shame?!’

Dorothy reached out and grabbed the comb on Esmeralda’s hair. Esmeralda never expected Dorothy to make that move. The comb fell into Dorothy’s hand when she was not paying attention. Without the comb restraining it, a head of black hair gushed to the ground.

Esmeralda was already quite beautiful, belonging to the list of the top-notch beauties. When she was standing next to Dorothy at first, there was not much difference between them and each of them had her strong points. Now that her hair had drooped, she exuded a more ladylike and graceful temperament all over.

Dorothy froze for a moment while looking at her. However, she didn't intend to return the comb.

"This comb looks quite pretty. How about giving it to me?" she scoffed.

Esmeralda firmly refused her. "No way. This is my comb. The comb is as important as my life. I can never give it to someone else. I can promise you if you want something else."

"You're placing such great importance on a comb? It couldn't be a love token from a certain man, right?"

Unexpectedly, Esmeralda nodded. "That's right. This is a love token. He's the one who gave it to me."

Esmeralda pointed at Alex as she said, "However, he's not your current husband. It's his previous incarnation! I had been looking for him for a very long time, and it took me two lifetimes. Therefore, Dorothy Assex, I know he is currently your husband, but I'm sorry, I won't let go of him."

Dorothy's gaze seemed startled repeatedly as she asked, "Then, do you know the name of his previous incarnation?"

Esmeralda said, "I know, of course. His previous incarnation is named Dimitri Rockefeller."

When the name "Dimitri Rockefeller" was said, not only Dorothy's body trembled, but even Alex froze.

He clearly recalled Ignatius Rowan once saying that he and Xienna Stoermer were ambushed by someone before they fell into the Pool of Reincarnation and experienced reincarnation. At that time, Xienna had a lover she pursued arduously. She was even willing to experience the Flesh Grinder to remember that man.

The man was named Dimitri Rockefeller.

"I am Dimitri Rockefeller?"

“My previous incarnation was Dimitri Rockefeller?” Alex’s expression was silly yet bizarre.

Looking at him, Esmeralda was full of tender affection.

“That’s right. You are the reincarnation of Dimitri Rockefeller. I only remembered it recently, and I could remember the memories of my past lives because of this comb on my head.

Dorothy’s expression was ever-changing in that instant. Inside her body, Xienna was even astonished. She could not believe it. She took Dorothy away and left Alex right after she was done giving birth to his children to sever the thoughts that he should never have harbored for her. Later, she even personally severed the link of fate between Alex and her.

However...

After going around in a huge circle, the man she had been looking for desperately turned out to be right before her eyes. It was the man who had personally severed their fate with his own hands.

Bleugh!

Dorothy abruptly vomited a mouthful of blood. Xienna took over the ownership of Dorothy’s body, but doing so in her current state would damage both her soul and body simultaneously.

However, she couldn’t care less about it. The man was right in front of her. She had been looking for him so hard and painfully. She finally had her wish granted, so how could she be mute?

“Darling, what’s wrong with you?” Alex immediately hugged Dorothy.

“I am not Dorothy Assex!” Dorothy said, “I am Xienna Stoermer.”

Overwhelmed by all sorts of emotions as she looked at him, she cried, “I can’t believe it’s you! It turns out it’s you!”

Alex was startled for a moment. He suddenly let go of her. “My previous incarnation is not necessarily Dimitri Rockefeller. Perhaps Esmeralda’s mistaken.”

Esmeralda was anxious. “No. You are Dimitri Rockefeller. I can be 100% sure that you are my fiancé, Dimitri Rockefeller.”

Dorothy shook her head. “You are not. He is not your fiancé. He is my fiancé. You just stole my life.”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3278

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3278

“You... You’re bullsh*tting!” Anxious, Esmeralda accidentally spewed an expletive.

Alex’s previous incarnation was clearly her fiancé. The memories inherited on the comb literally informed her that she had searched several lifetimes for his present incarnation, and she had never forgotten it for a moment. To her surprise, Dorothy said that she had stolen someone else’s fiancé...

Oh. The current Alex Rockefeller was Dorothy Assex’s husband, but Esmeralda was his previous incarnation’s fiancée. Esmeralda felt particularly aggrieved as soon as she thought about how hard the past few lifetimes had been on her and how she’d become someone else’s husband after she managed to find him.

Then, tears rolled down her cheeks as she spoke, “You’ve gone overboard! You can say that I am a shameless homewrecker who gets involved in your family, but you can’t insult my intelligence. He’s Dimitri Rockefeller in the previous life, that’s my fiancé. It has nothing to do with you. What did you mean I stole your life? What did I steal from you?”

Dorothy Assex, no, Xienna Stoermer, was squeezing the comb in her hand as she said, “You stole this thing.”

“Huh? Y-you are making slanderous accusations! This is mine! I’ve had it for several lifetimes!”

“This is mine. It’s mine in the first place.” Xienna shook her head with a sorrowful expression. “This thing originally was not a comb, but a hair stick! I was pushed into the Pool of Reincarnation back then, but I could never reincarnate. I wore out my divinity in the passage of reincarnation. I sealed my memories in this hair stick so that I wouldn’t forget these most important feelings. But later, this stick... This broke when I reincarnated. I only acquired the frontal part, whereas I lost the back part. This comb of yours is the back part.”

Esmeralda said, “Impossible. Your fabrication... Is too outrageous!”

Xienna took out a portion of something. It was really the frontal part of the hair stick. It was thin, pointy, entirely green, and its tail portion contained a clear fracture mark. After that, she took that comb and pinched it hard with her fingers.

The comb snapped in response to a sound.

Esmeralda was about to shout “no”, but the voice couldn’t fall from her lips later when she saw the scene before her eyes... It was because she discovered that the broken area of her comb turned out to be hollow. The frontal part of the comb really looked like the frontal portion of the hair stick, whereas the back portion was put on later. Even so, the material was almost identical to the original one. However, the hollow area at the interface indicated the problem.

Xienna picked up the two parts and gently aligned them. They just fitted perfectly.

“Did you see that? These two parts should have been together in the first place, but I lost it. Moreover, words are carved on this hair stick. The part you’re holding contains the word ‘Rockefeller’ and half of the word ‘Alex’, while the one I’m holding contains the other half of the word ‘Alex’ and my name...”

The crowd looked at the hair stick. It was really the case.

At that moment, Xienna’s expression seemed excited yet painful as she looked at Alex. “I didn’t know you were the man I had been looking for! I didn’t know you’d forgotten everything about me. I thought you were just an outsider who ruined my opportunity to reincarnate in this lifetime. When I woke up, I had already given birth to your four children. I hated your intervention and the fact that I woke up too late. Hence, I severed our fate with my own hands, but fate is really such a big joke! It turns out that you are him!”

She smiled and cried. A drop of tear fell right onto that hair stick.

An amazing scene appeared.

That initially broken hair stick emitted green light and surprisingly joined together again. Looking at the surface, one simply couldn't tell it was once broken.

At the same time...

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3279

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3279

A ray of silver light suddenly glowed on the green hair stick that had become intact again. The silver light became increasingly intense. Eventually, it left the hair stick and floated toward Alex twistingly.

"This is... The Divine Bead!" exclaimed Agatha.

Xienna also exclaimed, "Why was Dimitri Rockefeller's Divine Bead inside the hair stick?"

Esmeralda's current mood was extremely complicated.

Various signs indicated that Xienna did not lie, whereas she became a laughing stock. She clearly inherited this memory and feelings while working hard for several lifetimes. She kept telling herself that it was the greatest meaning of her life. However, it turned out to be someone else's memory.

Why was the half portion of the hair stick with her? Why did it become a comb and keep following her?

She couldn't figure it out. Who was she?

"Can anyone tell me what a Divine Bead is?" Alex stared at the Divine Bead before his eyes.

It seemingly wanted to burrow into Alex's mind, but he did not know what it was and dared not let it in easily. Hence, he was very resistant and blocked it firmly.

Agatha said, "You don't have to resist it. The Divine Bead is a certain supernatural power of heavenly law, meaning that a certain supernatural power of heavenly law fruit will be stripped from one's body and sealed inside the bead before it is passed on to others! This is very difficult, and no one will do something like this unless it is between the closest people...”

Such words made Xienna even more uncomfortable. The hair stick was a love token that Dimitri had given her. Surprisingly, he stripped the supernatural power of heavenly law that he acquired with great difficulty from his body and sealed it in the hair stick...

Was he a fool?

Even so, her heart hurt so much!

He was obviously right before her eyes, yet he did not remember her.

Swoosh!

The Divine Bead finally entered Alex's sea of consciousness. His body trembled abruptly. At that time, a mass of hazy information appeared in his mind. It seemed to be some information from his previous life, but it was ambiguous. Furthermore, his head hurt badly.

As for the Divine Bead quickly received intense resistance from the three thousand lotuses in his body, as if it was an absolute stance where both parties could not coexist... Finally, Alex did not accept the Divine Bead and forced it out again, holding it in his hand.

Xienna said, “Why didn't you use it? It's originally yours. The current you just happen to need it. Even if you intend to give it to me, I can't take it.”

Alex shook his head. “This wasn't for you in the first place.”

Xienna flew into a rage upon hearing that.

‘I'm already so pitiful. You've forgotten me, yet you still utter such ruthless words. Are you still a human?’

Alex rubbed his head as he said, “Although I can't remember the events from my past life, I remember some things when the Divine Bead entered my body. This Divine Bead is really not for you.”

Xienna retorted, “This hair stick is a love token that you personally gave me, yet you actually said the Divine Bead sealed inside isn't for me. Then, who is it for? Oh, you initially wanted to give this hair stick to someone else. You gave it to me after the other person didn't want it? Tell me. Who did you give it to at first?"

Alex looked at the dejected Esmeralda next to him.

He suddenly walked up to Esmeralda and pulled her beautiful hand.

"Esmeralda, this is for you. It was a gift for you back then. Now, it belongs to you as well."

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3280

Esmeralda was instantly dumbfounded.

'This was originally for me? But, why can't I understand it?'

"I... Didn't she say this hair stick was not mine in the first place? I never knew why half of the hair stick was with me. For the past few lifetimes, I always thought I had engraved in my memory an unforgettable love... Even after I died. I had searched for so long, but this is someone else's life."

"However, my heart hurts so much right now!"

Alex took her hand as his eyes were watery. "Although I still can't remember the previous memories, this Divine Bead has given me some information that should have existed in the first place. Esmeralda, do you know who gave you the name 'Esmeralda'?"

Esmeralda thought for a while. "I forgot it. It seems I was born with the name Esmeralda. It hasn't changed after reincarnation a few times."

Alex shook his head. "I named you."

"What?!"

Esmeralda was stunned. Xienna was also stunned.

Then, Alex took the complete hair stick that joined together from Xienna's hand and said to Esmeralda, "Moreover, this hair stick initially belonged to you."

The expression of the crowd present turned strange.

Meanwhile, Xienna was about to explode with rage. “As expected, you didn’t want to give this hair stick to me at first! You b*st*rd, you gave me something that someone else didn’t want! What did you take me for? A run-down trash collector?”

She screamed hysterically. She had gone through so many reincarnations and suffered various hardships to keep her memories. She had been crushed by the Flesh Grinder again and again, but it turned out to be such a broken relationship.

She harbored the thought of killing him.

Alex looked at her. He couldn’t tell whether she was Xienna or Dorothy for a moment.

“Hold your horses. I’m not done speaking.”

Alex said to Xienna. Then, he turned around and faced Esmeralda. “Do you remember it now?”

Esmeralda shook her head. “I don’t understand it.”

Alex said, “Esmeralda, you were originally a spiritual fetus born from a piece of immortal jade in the 100,000 mile deep sea that inherited the luck of heaven and earth. I found you by chance! Then, I kept nourishing you with divine power, turning the jade fetus into a spiritual body in the end.”

As soon as that statement was made, everyone was stunned again.

Staring at that hair stick, Esmeralda had a look of disbelief on her face. “Could it be that this hair stick...”

Alex nodded. “Just as you thought, this hair stick is you. You are the hair stick.”

“The Divine Bead was a gift for you so that you could bypass the restriction of races and set foot on the path of cultivation more easily. You were also determined. In just a few decades, you gained achievements that others may not have achieved in a thousand years. You took the initiative to become a hair stick and stay by Xienna’s side to protect her.”

“This is the content of the memories I acquired from the Divine Bead. If those memories are real, then I think that’s why that half of the hair stick was with you.”

Xienna froze.
