

The Pinnacle of Life – Chapter 1031

When Alex finished speaking, he waved his hand hard. An overwhelming aura rose vigorously and pushed the two old men, Frederick and Zander, rolling out of the villa. They were then continuously pushed out of the Villa's gate.

When they climbed to their feet, their faces and noses were inevitably swollen.

Fortunately, Alex had used an ingenious technique in the process and did not cause any irreparable damage. Otherwise, even Mystic-ranked fighters would have been smacked to death by that blow right there and then.

“Hmph, this wealthiest man of West California still cannot get rid of his nature of being a parvenu despite his old age. His mind is full of ideas about speculation and profiteering,” Carey said as she snorted coldly.

“Mom, do you know him?” Zendaya asked.

“I can't say that I know him. I just heard your grandpa talking about this man back then. When he was young, he was a troublemaker. He came from a family of relatively low background. He's also uncultured. Later, I heard that he accidentally saved a wealthy businessman. Then, the businessman took him into the business industry. Unexpectedly, that businessman was avenged by his enemy, and his entire family was killed. In the end, he took all the advantage of it and became the current wealthiest man in West California on this basis.”

Zendaya was startled for a brief moment. “So, he had gone through such things. He really has a fortunate life.”

However, Carey only shook her head. “Not at all, there were some twists and turns as well as other internal stories only god knows, but it's hard to be told. I also heard your grandpa accidentally mentioning it on one occasion. This Frederick Duncan wasn't honorable in the annihilation case of the businessman's family back then. It seemed that he's the one who tipped the enemy off.”

“Huh?” The few of them were startled for a brief moment.

In that instant, their impression of Frederick deteriorated greatly. However, it was just a brief interlude at first, so everyone did not care much about it.

After finishing his meal, Alex looked at the damaged villa and the huge, damaged iron gate that had yet to be repaired. He said, “This house needs a bit of repair. My Rockefeller Manor just happens to be back in order already. I’ll get ready to go there and take a look. Are you guys interested?”

“Yes!”

“I want to see it too!”

The few women did not object, so they left the villa right there and then.

On the other hand, Frederick’s expression darkened like an iron cooking pot.

At this moment, he felt his stomach seemed to hurt faintly again. He turned to Zander with a vicious look, as if he were a fierce beast that wanted to devour him. “You useless thing that fails to accomplish anything, what did I tell you before this? You have stirred up the trouble and tried to show off? Oh, great now. I’ll find you and bury you along with me if I were to die.”

There was a fleeting cold light in Zander’s eyes, but there was no expression on his face. He said, “Old Fred, keep your calm. I think that brat must have deceived you. To be frank, he couldn’t be the Immortal Doctor because the real Immortal Doctor in America could only appear in our Witch Doctor Sect...”

He told him the matter of the Immortal Doctor again. In the end, he said, “If I’m not wrong, he must have used some kinds of smokescreens earlier to make us both feel that the condition had improved. But, in fact, it didn’t. It was all just an illusion... I think his final goal was to scam your money.”

Frederick coldly snorted. “How do you explain that rejuvenation pill then ? That woman suddenly became ten years younger. We both saw it with our own eyes.”

“Make-up, it must be make-up.”

Then, Zander continued, “I’ll give a call to Witch Doctor Sect to ask if he has actually seen our young master. Do you also believe such a ridiculous thing like male pregnancy ? So, this shows that those people probably spewed nonsense. Nothing that has been said could be trusted.”

Zander immediately took his phone and made a call.
