

The Pinnacle of Life – Chapter 1145

Soraya remained perplexed despite much thought. Unfortunately, she was unable to look up for more details about the mission completed by the other person.

At this moment, her phone rang. At a glance, it was a call from Shaun Baker, one of the four Great Guardians of Divine Constabulary.

“Bro Shaun!” Soraya picked up the phone. She sounded like she was about to cry.

In fact, at Shaun’s age, it was more than enough for him to be her father. He was even older than her father. However, as the saying went by, which girl didn’t want to be loved? There were only a handful of such young Grandmasters from Divine Constabulary in the entire America. Numerous young women liked him.

Meanwhile, Soraya was also one of the members. Moreover, she was better than other women.

Shaun said, “Soraya, I just heard about the news. The mission you accepted has been completed by the other person. What is going on?”

Soraya said, “Bro Shaun, I just received the notification too. I don’t know what is going on either! The notification showed someone named Alex Rockefeller from the South California division has completed it. But, Giovanni Winn is an Earth-ranked martial artist. There are many skilled people around him and the Golden Tower is filled with all kinds of traps. Who from the South California division is capable of completing this mission?”

After a pause, she said, “It’s not that I want the mission points. But, we’ve worked so hard to track this mission until now that we’ve lost five team members. Didn’t they die in vain now?”

Shaun frowned and said, “Soraya, take it easy for now. I’ve never heard about this Alex Rockefeller too, but maybe I could look for Zachary Xavier and ask about him since the South California division is his region! Please tell me first, was there any anomaly and any special places before this?”

Soraya thought for a while and said, “I was trapped in a room previously and an ordinary man let me out. At the time, I asked him about the situation but he wasn’t so sure either. I’ve checked the corpses outside. They were all cleanly cut like they were cut by cutting machines. The cut wounds were neat and fatal.”

“Alright, I know what to do! I’ll ask Zachary Xavier first. You should get a good rest. I’ll reach Morro by tomorrow morning.”

“Thank you, Bro Shaun!”

“You’re one of my people, why are you being so polite?”

Those words were very useful toward Soraya. It was as if all of her grievances were swept away by those words.

Soon, Shaun gave Zachary a call.

Zachary was much older than Shaun. Before Zachary’s incident and his cultivation was not demoted yet, he was like a big brother to Shaun. He had helped him a lot. At that time, Shaun used to call him “Bro Xavier”.

However, after Zachary’s incident, his attitude toward Zachary gradually became cold and there was no more respect as before.

“Guardian Xavier, do you know about a person named Alex Rockefeller from the South California division of Divine Constabulary?” Shaun asked straightforwardly.

Zachary was slightly stunned. His eyes suddenly gleamed.

Alex was his secret weapon whom he was prepared to use him as his killer weapon during the yearly ranking battle in Divine Constabulary.

When the time came, he hoped that Alex would take over his place. Moreover, he would be one step closer in becoming the president of Divine Constabulary.

Meanwhile, Shaun was the one that harbored the most unfathomable motives and ambition among the Four Great Guardians.

He was very close with Soraya at normal times. Everyone could tell that Soraya admired and adored him exceptionally. However, Shaun was nearly thirty years older than Soraya. He was now in his fifties and was almost sixty years old. According to normal people's way of handling things, one had to explain the situation to Soraya in advance, so that she would not fall deeper in the relationship. It was great for him. He played dumb and let Soraya call him "Bro Shaun" as a matter of course. He even enquired solicitously about her well-being and gave her extra attention.

‘What was this all about?’

His intention was very obvious and known to the others, he wanted to use his relationship with Soraya to get closer with the constabulary's president and even become the president's grandson-in-law.
