

The Pinnacle of Life – Chapter 1155

Nobody answered.

All the people kneeling on the ground were completely like deaf people without ears. They ignored the man and kneeled there motionlessly.

They were repenting.

“What is going on?”

“Get up! Who made you all kneel down? Are you all kneeling to your mothers?”

Just when the voice turned impatient and the person started kicking the kneeling people, Alex walked out slowly from the inside. He saw three people come in.

The person who was kicking other people looked like a very old man. However, this person looked rather peculiar. His hair was half-white and half-black, he looked like a intersex person.

The other two people were younger.

At a glance, Alex could tell that these two were martial artists, but they were not that great. One of them was at Intermediate-Mystic rank and the other one was at Advanced-Royal rank whom he could easily take them out with one hand.

“You’re the boss here?” Alex stood behind the group of people as he said calmly.

“Mm?”

The few people raised their head and looked toward Alex.

“You’re the one who came to my place to look for trouble? Who are you?” The black and white haired old man asked with a stern voice.

Alex replied, “I’m from Divine Constabulary in South California.”

The two younger men were the old man’s bodyguards on the left and right. As soon as they heard Alex announced his identity, they immediately moved their body and lunged towards Alex.

This was because in their eyes, Alex’s cultivation was not high, or even non-existing. For such people, if one came, they would kill one and they would kill two if a pair came.

Boom!

Boom!

In the room, two thunderclaps suddenly sounded.

Two lightning bolts that were as thick as an arm suddenly appeared in the old room of Ganoderma and struck right above the heads of the two men.

In an instant, they became two burnt corpses, still twitching on the ground.

The black and white haired old man was shocked to the core. He had never heard of such a trick. If it were to be struck above his own head, he would end up in an outcome worse than the two bodyguards!

At this moment, he nearly peed his pants out of fear.

However, Alex spoke up this time, “Don’t you worry, I won’t kill you now. Killing people like you will just dirty my hands. Wait for the people from Divine Constabulary to come here, they’ll naturally deal with you.”

When the old man heard him, he turned around and tried to run away but Alex broke his legs right away and threw him in a corner. After that, a gloomy wind blew.

Maiko Chiba appeared in front of the entrance and acted as the presence that monitored everyone at the scene. She was allowed to kill whoever tried to run away on the spot!

Clank! Clank! Clank!

At this moment, the sound of gold and iron clashing came from the room inside. Alex walked over to take a look. It was from Yasmyn, who had found an iron rod and was desperately smashing the huge lock hanging on the iron cage.

However, she was just a weak woman. She could not open it up at all.

“Let me do it!”

Alex walked over and held the lock in his hand. With a gentle twist, the lock was forcibly ripped off by him. Yasmyn immediately got into the cage and reached out her arm to her sister’s nostril to check her breathing. In the next moment, she let out a cry of anguish and pain.

She cried with tears and blood while holding her sister’s body.

Alex sighed softly. He wanted to let the women in other cages out at first but he remembered that Cheryl was still waiting on top of a certain tree in the valley. She must be worried about him anxiously. Hence, he left the former site of Ganoderma first.

Soon, he returned to the tree.

As expected, Cheryl was very worried. After seeing him returned intact, she let out a long breath of relief and said, “What took you so long? I thought something happened to you and I got so worried. Who are those people that I saw just now?”
