

The Pinnacle of Life – Chapter 1161

After assessing the situation inside Ganoderma, Zachary Xavier went to check the riverside. Then, he came back and said to Alex with a smile, “Alex, you did a great job this time. You’ve given a great boost to California’s Divine Constabulary this time!”

“Did this case cause a great sensation?” Alex asked.

“It’s a shocking case. Not only within America, but innumerable crimes have been committed in entire Southeast Asia. It has already affected our America’s reputation.”

Anna chimed in. “Because of our strict local security and strong crackdown on crimes, the frequency and scope of criminal activities are quite limited. But, in small countries in Southeast Asia, it’s an entirely different story. The harm of the venom in those countries is ten times greater than in America, or even worse.”

Alex nodded.

Following that, a few people came to ask about the condition of the black and white haired man. Alex only explained to them briefly. He didn’t need to worry about what came after.

However, at this moment, a helicopter came nearer from a distance. It was a rare sight in the depth of Puerto Rico Rainforest.

Sky raised his head and squinted, before saying, “Uncle Xavier, an old friend is here!”

Zachary also naturally saw it. He smiled gently and said, “It looks like Shaun is here! I knew that the guy’s nose is better than a dog. The moment our plane arrived, he’d definitely be able to sniff it out and find this place.”

This was obviously sarcasm. In actuality, Shaun had eyes and ears everywhere.

The helicopter hovered above everyone. When it was at a height of about thirty meters from the ground, a figure jumped out directly from it.

It was one of the Four Great Guardians of the Divine Constabulary, Shaun Baker, followed by Soraya Melvis.

With Soraya's capabilities, even if she didn't die, her skin would be peeled off from jumping down at a height of thirty meters. However, she had a rope tied around her body and used it to fall down. Although her speed was considered fast, she had an elegant posture.

However, she actually saw Alex and Cheryl among the people gathered there. She was instantly stunned.
'Why are these two people here?'

She really couldn't figure it out.

At this time, Zachary smiled and said, "So, it's you, Shaun. What has brought you here today?"

To his surprise, Shaun had a hostile expression on his face as he said in a harsh tone, "Guardian Xavier, isn't it inappropriate for your people to do this? The mission about the venom was assigned to Soraya first, and her team had put a lot of blood and hard work into it. She even lost five team members. Now, your people have taken the credit. You're clearly just bullying the weak by doing this."

When he said this, Zachary naturally got unhappy.

Sky opened his mouth to say, "Guardian Baker, what you've said is wrong. It doesn't mean that others can't do the mission from Divine Constabulary once one has accepted it."

"Hmph!" Shaun snorted coldly, and the coercion of a Grandmaster suddenly surrounded Sky.

Sky trembled from the sudden feeling, with cold sweat breaking out profusely. His legs were about to give away, and he felt that he would kneel down at any time. After using great perseverance to resist the pressure, only then did he not kneel to the ground.

“I’m talking to your boss, when did it become your turn to interrupt us? Knee! down and repent!”

Shaun’s aura rose higher once again.

Zachary was furious this time.

He quickly put his hand on Sky’s back and continuously injected inner force into Sky’s body to help him resist Shaun’s coercion. He shouted, “Shaun, stop this right now! You’re the one who’s bullying the weak now for using this method on Sky! Are you trying to destroy his cultivation?!”

Not only did Shaun not stop, but he even continued to increase the coercion that he was puffing on Sky.

He coldly said, “I’m just punishing him for a little mistake so that he won’t make a bigger mistake next time. Soraya is the granddaughter of the constabulary’s president. Whoever bullies her is also my enemy.”

“Ugh..?”

Sky was practically being attacked by two masters from both sides. His body had become a battlefield. How could he endure this?

All the organs inside his body seemed to have been shifted around. At this moment, he opened his mouth to spat out a stream of blood.

Alex’s brows jumped wildly as he watched the scene in front of him.

Zachary had indeed told him to endure silently because if he was exposed now, he was worried that he would be unanimously targeted by the other three Guardians.

However, seeing the overbearing Shaun who acted completely without the style and moral that a Guardian of Divine Constabulary should have, he instantly couldn't hold it in anymore.
