

The Pinnacle of Life – Chapter 1163

“H-He knelt down?!”

At this moment, not only was Soraya Melvis shocked, but even Zachary Xavier had his eyes popped out of his head.

Shaun Baker was the strongest Grandmaster among the Four Great Guardians now, so he dared to compete for the position of constabulary's president. As far as he knew, Shaun once had a chance encounter and had inherited the legacy of the great Divine Sword Grandmaster from a hundred years ago. Since then, he became a master in swordsmanship and a Grandmaster in one fell swoop, reaching the top and surpassing all the other Guardians later.

However, such a strong man actually knelt down at the roar of Alex's words.

How strong in the world was Alex?

However, Shaun only knelt down for three seconds. Then, he let out a burst of loud roar.

The full inner force of a Grandmaster exploded inside his body, especially on his head. There was a visible strong howling wind and steaming white air around him. To everyone's surprise, he forcefully broke free of Alex's mental powers.

However, there was also a repercussion.

After forcefully resisting the mental powers, Shaun's spirit was greatly impacted, resulting in two lines of blood flowing down from his nose.

At this moment, the murderous intent on Shaun's body soared. His clothes moved by itself even though there was no wind around. His cold, hard gaze bored into Alex as he gritted his teeth and said, “Alex Rockefeller, right? A psychic user? How dare you disrespect your superior, and conspire to go against a Guardian? Now, let's see what else you have up your sleeves! Die!"

He thought that he had completely broken free of Alex's mental powers, so he did not have to be afraid anymore.

In an instant, Zachary stepped in front of Alex. "Shaun Baker, enough. Alex is an elder of Divine Constabulary, he didn't have any intent to conspire against you. You're just talking nonsense."

Whoosh!

Shaun made his move. With his fingers acting as a sword, a sharp blade aura emanated from his fingertips, forming a blade of light and slashing toward Zachary.

Zachary was no longer the Grandmaster that he used to be a long time ago.

How was it possible for him to block this attack?

In that instant, he was slashed by Shaun and sent flying through the air.

If it weren't for him to still have the strength of a half-stepped Grandmaster, this one blow would have killed him without leaving a trace behind.

Barf!

Zachary spat out a mouthful of blood.

Sky's eyes were red with anger as he roared, "Shaun Baker, what the hell are you doing?! Could it be that you are really trying to start a rebellion? Lashing out with such a heavy hand towards Uncle Xavier, who's also a fellow Guardian, what right do you have to be a Guardian of Divine Constabulary?! Not to mention that you're still delusional about the position of the president, you're simply a lunatic talking about dreams."

"Impudent!" Shaun was seething with rage.

He looked at Sky with eyes as cold as a venomous snake. He actually wanted to ignore Alex and turned to kill Sky instead.

The thought was already cemented in his heart that all the people here were rubbish. What was their use if they refused to listen to his orders? It would simply be better to just kill them all. Death ended all troubles, anyway! If it was done in the barren mountain and wild forest of the Puerto Rico Rainforest, who would know? As for Soraya, he was well aware of the lady's thoughts. As long as he seduced her a little, he would be able to completely have her under his thumb, becoming his own woman.

However, he was still mindful of the prestige and authority of the constabulary's president at the moment, so he hadn't really made his move yet.

"Kill!"

Alex roared again at this moment, "Knee! down!"

Buzz!

In an instant, Shaun felt a dull and severe pain in his mind, as though someone had hammered his head. His ocean of consciousness felt like it had been blasted by a hammer.

His body refused to listen to him and fell heavily to the ground. His killing blow toward Sky was naturally halted in that instant.

"How is this possible?!"

‘How could it turn out this way?’

‘How strong is this brat’s mental power? Haven’t I already broken the mental coercion just now?!’

Shaun simply could not believe what he had gone through.

He roared frantically, trying to once again break Alex’s mental coercion. However, he found that this time was more difficult than before, as though thousands of mountains were pressed on top of his head, making him almost to be out of breath.

“Brat! I will definitely kill you, I will definitely kill you! Break it already!” Shaun bellowed.

Splat! Splat! Splat!

Blood gushed out of his nostrils and both ears at this moment. He had reached his limit.
