

The Pinnacle of Life – Chapter 1308

At this moment, another woman said, “Madame, I just found out the information. Many products of Lush Cosmetics are developed by Alex Rockefeller. Moreover, he’s a major shareholder of Thousand Miles Conglomerate. the CEO of Thousand Miles Conglomerate, Waltz Fleur is his girlfriend... Whereas, the wife of Waylon Realty’s boss, Charles Carter, is Alex’s godsister. Alex once rescued their daughter, Zoey Carter.”

This woman was called Jen, who was an expert specialized in gathering intelligence. Whatever she said basically could not go wrong.

The women of the Melvises were shocked at once.

Lexia said, “This Alex Rockefeller is certainly not a person of no particular talent! Just think about it, he could cure Nickolas’ late stage cancer. With this technique alone, he could become the best miracle doctor in the world if the news is spread! Sadly, Brittany doesn’t want to return to the Melvis family. Otherwise, a blessed child will truly descend upon our Melvis family and our family will soar high! Oh, I wish the old man would persuade them after he comes out of the meditation.”

Meanwhile, there was only one person amongst the crowd who was absent minded, the person was Soraya Melvis. She constantly pressed on her stomach with her hand.

In her mind, she kept recalling the experience of making out with Alex at Moonlight Lake. Her whole body became soft. She never knew that it was just an illusion. She thought she really did the deed with Alex, and she even thought that she had a high chance of getting pregnant.

After leaving Moonlight Lake, she wanted to buy an emergency morning after pill quietly at first. However, she did not take it for some reason.

Now that she heard all kinds of information about Alex, it turned out that she was slightly excited.

‘What’s going to happen if I really get pregnant with his child?’

‘Will he accept this child?’

As for the previous worry that the child might be brain damaged or something had been put to rest. This was because she now knew that Alex’s grandmother was not her grandmother, but it was somebody else... He was an offspring of another woman that her grandfather married. She even specifically investigated the information, showing that the deformity rate of children under such circumstances was not high. It could even be pre-screened.

What kind of thought would Alex have if he found out that his cousin had such a thought after being trapped by himself? Perhaps, he would be too shocked to sleep.

It was three o’clock in the afternoon.

Azure gave Alex a call. “Bro Alex, Norton Cambell said that he already atoned for his own crimes and he has made up for it by doing good deeds. Can the heart scratching parasitic disease of a hundred days be removed from him?”

Alex scoffed. “He has made up for his crimes by doing good deeds? He can never make up for the crimes that he had committed in this lifetime. Let him emerge and perish in his own ways! Just tell him that he has to suffer more when he’s alive, so that Hades may be more lenient to him after his death and let him reincarnate into a human being again.”

Azure laughed. “Bro Alex, I think so too. The death of such a person shouldn’t be pitied at all.”

After a pause, he continued, “That Nanny Kim committed suicide. But before she died, she revealed that a sect behind her called the Witch Cult may come and avenge her.”

“Witch Cult? Have you heard of it before?”

“Never.”

“Then, let’s leave it for now. You should pay attention to improving your cultivation. I’ll send you a set of secret manuals regarding martial arts in the coming few days.”

“Huh? Thank you, Bro Alex!”

“We’re allies, so there’s no need to be polite.”

After the call was hung up, Alex received a call from Dorothy. “Hubby, my mom wants to treat your mother and you to a meal!”

For a moment, Alex was too shocked to speak a word.
