

The Pinnacle of Life – Chapter 1322

“Alright then, I’ll wait for the news from you then!”

Alex straightened Helen’s coffin once more before leaving the villa.

This time, when Aunt Rockefeller left, she gave him a phone number and said that she had just bought a phone. If there was anything in the future, he could contact her, but it wasn’t necessary that she would pick up.

This was something that Zella had once promised to do, so she naturally couldn’t go back on her words. On top of that, the reason Aunt Rockefeller took her away was to let her grow better, in order not to waste her Nine Tails bloodline. Apart from that, Alex once heard from Zella that Winniefred’s father was murdered by someone.

If she wanted to get revenge, she needed to become stronger as well.

However...

“Ah..! I want Mommy, I want Mommy!”

“Mommy, where are you, Mommy? Don’t leave me behind!”

When Winniefred didn't see her mother after returning from the kindergarten, she started bawling her eyes out immediately. Nobody could placate her until Alex hugged her and promised that she could have one chocolate ice cream every day, only then did she stop crying. She laid on Alex's arm with an aggrieved look and said, "Daddy, when will Mommy come back?"

Alex comforted her and said, "She'll be back soon. Also, don't you have a mobile phone? You can video call with your mom often!"

Winniefred said, "But, I can't hug Mommy to sleep at night! Winnie is used to sleeping between Mommy and Daddy at night now. Even though I woke up every time, you both hugged each other and kicked me to the side."

There were many people present at the scene right now, Brittany, Maya, Waltz, as well as Michelle.

When they heard Winniefred's childish remarks, all their eyes immediately widened.

"Senior, you and Zella..."

Waltz's eyes held an incomparable glint of being curious about the gossip.

Winniefred immediately covered her mouth. Her big eyes rolled as she looked at Alex anxiously. "Daddy, did I spill the beans?"

Alex had a speechless expression. “In fact, it’s not what you guys are thinking. Winniefred had a wish since she was a child, she hopes to sleep together with her parents...”

Before he could finish explaining, Waltz said, “We understand, you don’t have to explain. We trust you.”

On the other hand, Maya took Winniefred from his arms and said, “Winnie, how about Auntie sleep with you tonight? Auntie smells really good, you’ll be able to sleep well tonight!”

Winnie pointed at Alex and said, “Can Daddy come with us?”

Alex immediately replied, “Yes, of course. We’ll all sleep together tonight.”

Maya smiled and said, “Sure, we’ll let him sleep on the floor!”

Winniefred said, “Why does Daddy have to sleep on the floor? The floor is very cold, Daddy will catch a cold and sneeze!”

What a good daughter!

Just at this moment, Xyla Stoermer walked in.

Xyla didn’t usually come here. She had bought a villa in California and stayed there. Apart from that, the Southern California Business Association was also in good order under her care. Now, Lush Cosmetics was unimpeded in the area of Southern California and its series of high-end products had established brand awareness. The return of the Rockefeller Group had also brought the production of Lust Cosmetics' products to a brand new level.

And, Lush Cosmetics' series of products that were suitable for mass consumption were also on the market one after another. Some of these products were now mainly under the care of Sharpay.

It mainly relied on the network fission marketing and hierarchical agency structure model proposed by her previously... In just a short week, some results could already be seen. Because of Stephen Hendrix's incident in Lush Cosmetics last time, it had attracted enough attention from the people. As soon as the low-end products were released, countless large marketing teams joined in one after another. They even beat their brains out in order to snatch the role of superior agent for Lush Cosmetics.

The most amazing thing was that Sharpay actually called upon Claire and Dorothy to become their first tier distributors.

However, Xyla wasn't here to see Alex this time because of this.

Instead, it was because of the Sky Tower project.

She brought a message. "Something unforeseen has happened in the Sky Tower Project. Michigan's mayor, Wayne Larsen was attacked. He's seriously injured and unconscious now!"
